MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1811-"Of course...a little." Gary embarrassedly replied.

Nicole put on a wicked smile, remained silent, and continued sipping on her coffee.

At that point, Ryder was standing next to Nicole. Noticing that Nicole was taking sip after sip of her drink, Ryder thought that he had finally challenged her.

Thus, he purposely teased her, "Why? Is the question too difficult today?"

Hearing that Nicole was finding it difficult to solve the question made Regina smirk. Initially, she thought that Nicole would be leagues above her. Yet, it seemed that she was in the same position as Regina.

What Regina did not know was that Nicole's question was a lot more difficult than hers.

Nicole noticed how provocative Ryder was, and so, she playfully smiled. "It's not hard. I don't even have the urge to solve it."

Once those words exited her mouth, the whole room fell silent in shock.

Previously, everyone had witnessed Nicole's ability with their own eyes, so much so that even Ryder could not defeat her. However, Ryder was the teacher's assistant, as well as a senior. With his reputation at stake, he could only force himself to come up with more difficult questions for Nicole. What they did not see coming, however, was that Nicole would be so candid and tactless with Ryder.

This, in turn, made Ryder feel really embarrassed.

Seeing that his crush was being bullied, Regina became furious. 'Nicole is such a shameless person! It's obvious that she doesn't know how to solve it, and yet she's being all smug about it.'

With that in mind, Regina had to help herself to a sarcastic remark. 'If you don't know how to do it, just admit it.'

Bragging will only lead one to embarrassment."

That comment proceeded to shock everyone even further.

'Who is she?'

'Is she out of her mind?'

'How dare she challenge a genius like Nicole?'

Nicole fixed her eyes on Regina with a smirk. She did not wish to start an argument with the latter, but as of now, she had to wonder if Regina was trying to play the role of the white knight.

With a snort, Nicole mocked, "I think those words would better apply to you. You don't even know what coding is, and yet, you had the temerity to register for a computer competition. Who gave you such courage? Was it Celine Dion?"

The instant those words left Nicole's mouth, everyone looked at Regina and erupted into a fit of hysterical laughter.

"Who is she?"

"I heard she's the new kid.'

As everyone had begun chattering about her, Regina became furious and replied, "If I don't know, what makes you think that you do?"

Ryder frowned and looked at Regina, 'This girl is new here. No wonder she has no clue about what Nicole is capable of.'

At that moment, Bradley decided that he would no longer tolerate the aspersions from Regina. "Nicole is the computer genius of the school! Of course she would know. You, on the other hand, most likely came from some backwater town. So, it is better for you to sit down. Don't embarrass yourself."

Sarcastically, Wayne added, "That's right. Why are you appearing at every corner?"

This new kid was not only brainless; she was also ruthless.

Regina did not expect anyone to stand up for Nicole, let alone refer to her as the 'computer genius'. She could not bring herself to believe any of those words.

At this point, the teacher could not stand it anymore." Enough. What is there to argue about? Quickly solve your questions and get out of here."

Seeing this, Regina could only behave herself and turn around.

Not wanting to beat around the bush anymore, Nicole coldly said to Ryder, "Although you've put in quite a lot of effort in creating this virus, they all seem pretentious."

After she had said her peace, Nicole plugged her own USB in. In an instant, the computer virus had been cleared off.

“D*mn!” Jack exclaimed, having witnessed the entire scene as he was behind Nicole the entire time.

He was taken aback at once. “Gosh! She actually wiped the virus out in a second!”

“That’s out of this world!” Wayne was surprised too.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1812-Gary instinctively pinched his forehead, for his prediction had come to life, as expected.

At that moment, Ryder’s face was brimming with embarrassment and shock, “H-how is that possible?”

Nicole stood up in an instant. “Senior. Can you please set a harder question for me the next time?”

Then, she raised her hands and said to the teacher, “Maam, I’ve completed my task. I’m leaving now.”

Not expect Nicole to complete the assignment quicker than she had during the last session, the teacher frowned at Ryder in annoyance.

‘He’s a senior, and yet, he could not even give his junior a run for her money,’ the teacher thought, wondering if she should ask Nicole to set the questions for the training program instead.

Seeing that Nicole had just walked out, the entire class was shocked, with Regina so taken aback that her jaw dropped.

‘That b*tch, Nicole Riddle! She could actually solve such a complex task?’ she asked herself. ‘Were they really telling the truth when they referred to Nicole as the computer genius?’

Before Regina could get the answers to her questions, Nicole had already left. Regina was left sitting there, stupidly staring at the symbols on the computer screen. She did not know what to do.

Bradley, who was sitting two rows behind, mocked Regina,” Why? Weren’t you the loudest just now? If you’re so capable, why don’t you sort your code out and quickly leave? Nicole’s task was a lot harder than ours!”

Regina became embarrassed at once. What was she supposed to solve? She did not even understand a thing!

It was then that Regina regretted registering for such a thing. She had truly ruined her family name!

'That b*tch, Nicole Riddle!' she seethed. 'So, she has been hiding her skills this whole time! No wonder these people are so fond of her.'

However, in Regina's eyes, those were merely computer skills. She was confident that if she had been at San Joto for two months, she could do the same with a little bit of learning.

At that thought, Regina calmed down significantly. "She entered Royal Creek before I did and she had already learned these things longer than I have. I'll definitely reach her level of proficiency within a few months of learning!"

It was totally normal for people to meet a confident person, but no one had ever met one as shameless as Regina herself.

With that said, Gary could not help himself from giving Regina a few more glances. 'How could such a foolish person exist on earth? Nicole is the world's best hacker.

Does she really think that she would be able to reach her level in one- or two-months' time?'

"What a shameless individual." Wayne looked at Regina, thinking she must be crazy.

Jack followed up by throwing a glance at Wayne and Gary." She can't be this dumb, right?"

The boys then chuckled.

Bradley could not help but laugh out loud as well, after which the other boys around them began to guffaw hysterically.

The second Regina heard them, she was on the verge of finding a hole to hide in. She had only been there for a day, and everyone had already treated her like a fool.

"H-how dare you look down on me!" she yelled.

Regina was so furious that she stomped her feet and left the computer lab immediately.

The teacher could tell that Regina would not be able to solve the question even if she had stayed. Therefore, the teacher did not stop her.

Instead, she spoke to Gary. "She's the new kid from your class, right? Go back and tell Ms. Emerson that she need not pull any random kid in to fill in the slots. Your class has got enough representatives already."

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1813-“Alright,” Gary nodded in agreement.

With gloomy expressions on their faces, Wayne and Jack said, “How could this b*stard drag Ms. Emerson down?

She’s ruining our class reputation.”

“Exactly! I have never seen someone so irritating before!”

Gary did not react well to this situation at all, since it was his own class being raked over the coals. He was not pleased that such a person had ruined his reputation.

Unfortunately, they had to endure it, as they had sworn not to abuse women.

Nicole walked out of the computer lab and spotted the duo of Lulu and June with a bunch of other students who were standing at the door, watching the drama.

Nicole frowned at the sight right away. “What are you doing here? Shouldn’t you be in class?”

Lulu chuckled while covering her mouth. “Nicole, We all saw what happened. You were amazing!”

“That’s right. You even solve Ryder’s task!”

Initially, they were all there to witness Regina’s failure. Who would have known that they were able to watch such a scene with Nicole in the picture?

Nicole raised her eyebrows. “Yeah, he sucks.”

The crowd could not help but look at her in a different light. Everyone knew that the Finley brothers were very talented in regards to computer systems. They were the ones in charge of the school’s forum and security cameras. Yet, Nicole’s rightful comment about how mediocre Ryder’s skills were was a testament to how talented she was in turn.

Not wanting to dwell on the topic, she said to them, “Hurry up. Go back. Class is about to start. Aren’t you scared of being caught by the teacher standing here?”

June laughed. “Can you believe that the rube went to meet the teacher to register for the competition? We couldn’t resist the urge to follow her and see what she could do.”

Lulu chimed in, “I didn’t expect her to be so shamelessly confident. She really thought that her computer was broken moments ago. Hahaha!”

Apparently, everyone saw everything that had happened just now. Nicole recalled the scene where Regina was fumbling with her computer and found it interesting too. Ryder might have never encountered such a person before, as his face had turned green from frustration.

“Alright, you’ve seen enough of the drama. Let’s go back,” Nicole said.

Just as the crowd was about to leave, they heard the computer lab door swinging open and Regina rushing out. There was still loud laughter emanating from inside the lab.

Lulu and the others outside immediately realized that Regina was escaping the mockery she was being subjected to. “Oh look, isn’t that our computer genius?” Lulu sarcastically remarked.

Then, June chimed in at the side. “I wonder, who was the shmuck who thought her computer had broken down? Hahaha!”

Regina was already subjected to a great deal of ridicule inside the lab, but now, she was mocked again as she came out.

Unable to take it anymore, she angrily turned to Nicole. “Nicole Wallace! Were you the one who said something to them!?”

Nicole narrowed her brows. No one here had ever called her by that name before.

At that point, her voice instantly deepened. “Regina, you were the one who embarrassed yourself by overestimating your abilities. Don’t make a fuss here.”

Refusing to heed Nicole, Regina retorted, “I’m the one making a fuss? You know what I think? You’re singling me out! You’re doing that because I used to be better than you in every conceivable way!”

As soon as Regina said this, the crowd’s expressions were marred with confusion and anger.

“Pfft hahaha!” Lulu was the first who erupted into a fit of laughter. “Hey, girl. This is your first day. We initially wanted to cut you some slack, but aren’t you a little too full of yourself? You, a country bumpkin, who couldn’t even understand computers, dare to compare yourself to Nicole?”

June, who could not bear to listen any longer, stepped forward. “Our class president is truly talented. She achieves full marks in every exam. She’s the well-deserved top student in our grade. Last semester, she even got first place in the Math Olympiad. She’s elected as the student council’s president this semester! How dare you compare yourself to her?!”

June's every word struck her like thunder, leaving Regina in shock.

"First place in the grade... president of the student council...?" Regina said slowly.

'How is that possible? She was just here a few months earlier than me. Although I knew she had good results, I didn't know she was good enough to get first place in Royal Creek Institute,' Regina thought.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1814-"In addition to that, Nicole is the school babe. She was also chosen as the lead actress for the production crew of Lukewarm and has acted alongside Lloyd, the movie star! Who gave you the confidence to compare yourself to her!?"

Regina's expression turned pale white after those words had been uttered, and she looked at Nicole in shock.

It was only after a while that she could muster enough courage to say, "How is that possible? I don't believe it..."

However, Nicole had no intention of engaging with her. She stepped forward with a cool expression and in nonchalant fashion, she said, "It matters not whether you believe those claims or not. One thing is true, and that is, you better behave. Or else, I'll crush irritating people like you in no time. It

Regina began sweating profusely, as she had never seen Nicole with such a scary expression on her face.

Nicole fell bored at the sight of a frightened Regina at once.' With all that false bravado, why would she even bother to create a mess for me to deal with?"

Nicole turned away, tired of bullying the weak. "Let's go back to class."

Everyone obediently followed Nicole by marching off to their classroom while Regina kept staring at Nicole's back as the latter led the other students away. She snapped back to reality after a while, shocked and in utter disbelief of how powerful Nicole had become.

Indeed, the students in Royal Creek Institution were all sons and daughters of well-known figures, and yet, they were all following Nicole's lead. 'I have no choice but to buy what they've said! I waited so long to prove myself against Nicole, but I did not know she has already surpassed me by miles. And gosh, I've stupidly offended the class president, the school babe, and the president of the student council on my very first day of school! I feel like I've made a complete a*s out of myself!

Regina gritted her teeth and hurried to catch up with the others, afraid of being left behind.

In her heart, she was wondering about her future. 'I offended someone I shouldn't have offended on the first day. Dad is going to kill me if he finds out. It's unfair how Nicole is doing so well in spite of the fact that the both of us came from the same high school in Great Oak. I have to work hard as well. I can't let Nicole surpass me. Wait till I work my way up again. I'll definitely get my revenge on Nicole.'

In the blink of an eye, school was over. Jared was busy today, so he did not show up to pick Nicole up. Meanwhile, Samuel and Spencer were waiting at the school entrance for Nicole since they knew she was going home with them today.

"Nicole!" Both of them waved their hands when they saw her.

Having spotted them, Nicole walked over with a smile.

Behind her, Regina watched as she entered the car with two handsome guys surrounding her. Regina's eyes widened in surprise at that sight.

Just this evening, Regina was so afraid of Nicole that she did not dare to say a word after the self-study class. She was thinking about what to do in the future, hoping that she would be able to get some dirt on Nicole. One of the last things she had expected was that, as soon as Nicole finished school, she would get into a luxury car with two guys.

Nicole has such a big appetite. She's actually seducing twin brothers!' she thought.

With that in mind, Regina took a picture, planning to post it on the school forum.

However, it was then that Lulu stepped forward and snatched her phone. "What are you doing?"

Regina panicked after seeing Lulu. She had already realized today that Lulu and June were Nicole's confidantes and followers.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1815

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1815-Things would not go well if they catch me!' Regina thought. "It's none of your business! Give me back my phone!"

In response. Lulu snapped in anger. "Don't you know that you're violating the person's right to privacy by secretly taking pictures without their consent?"

“That’s right! Delete it right now!” June added.

“No way! Give me back my phone!”

Nicole and her brothers overheard the commotion as they were waiting for Lulu and June, and that was when they turned to look at the scene.

Noticing that Regina was there, Nicole walked back around and asked, “What happened, Lulu?”

Lulu immediately took Regina’s phone out and replied, “She secretly took a picture of you!”

Nicole narrowed her brows. Seeing the angle and gesture captured by Regina’s camera, it seemed that there was an ambiguous, romantic atmosphere when Samuel was helping her out by carrying her backpack.

Nicole instantly understood what Regina was trying to do.” Regina. It seems to me that you have not learned how to behave.”

With that, Nicole angrily took the phone and smashed it onto the ground, shattering it into pieces.

“Hey! What did you do?! You owe me an Apple phone!” Regina cried out.

When Regina saw that the Apple phone that her father had bought for her in order to uphold her reputation in Royal Creek had been destroyed, she was on the verge of breaking down in tears. Sadly, Nicole paid no attention to her, and in an effort to rub salt into the wound, she stomped on the phone with her foot a few more times until it was completely destroyed.

Nicole withdrew her feet only after she was certain that the phone could not be fixed. “Regina, I can let you off for secretly taking a picture of me. But, you should not have brought my family into this. I’m not that forgiving.”

“F-Family?” Regina froze with tears in her eyes.

She could not process what Nicole had just said.

Lulu sneered. “Or else? You took that ambiguous romantic picture just now, but you didn’t even know what their relationship was? These two people are Nicole’s fourth and fifth brothers! Even the entire school knows it! It would be useless even if you had taken those kinds of pictures and spread them everywhere. It would only make you look like a fool!”

Regina's expression instantly turned green with shock. She initially thought that she had gotten hold of some of Nicole's dirt. She had never expected those two handsome men to be her brothers.

As she was processing the revelation, she thought, 'Even though Nicole is back in the Riddle family, she was still a country bumpkin, and no one would have cared about her! Who knew that both of her brothers are extremely goodlooking dudes who cared so much that they refused to let her carry her own bag?!

This realization made her green with jealousy. At this moment, Samuel and Spencer realized what Regina was about to do. Not only had she taken pictures of Nicole and them; she even wanted to use the aforementioned pictures to slander them.

Samuel looked at Regina with a hint of disgust. "Who is this troglodyte? Why have I never seen her before in school?"

"She dared to screw with us? Does she even know who we are?" Spencer sneered with mockery in his expression, thinking that Regina was quite dense.

June proceeded to explain. "She's new here. I think she was in the same high school as Nicole back in Great Oak."

Lulu snorted. "She thought that Nicole was still the same old Nicole back in Great Oak. However, the current Nicole is way out of her league!"

Every word from them felt like slaps in Regina's face, making her cheeks burn red hot. "Enough! You are all taking Nicole's side! She's the real country bumpkin back in Great Oak!"

During that time, Regina was the Wynn family's princess while Nicole was the orphan raised by her grandmother. But as the tables had now turned, Nicole had now become the center of attention, while Regina remained the country bumpkin, the laughter stock for others. With that said, Regina was in denial, refusing to accept the truth for what it was.

Samuel and Spencer had never seen such an evil person before, someone who would slander Nicole like this.

Just as they were about to speak, a bucket of water came pouring from above.

"Ahhh!!!" Regina let out a scream of horror.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1816

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1816-Lulu and June were shocked and they stepped back to avoid the poured water, but Regina was completely drenched. Her phone was smashed prior, and now, she was splashed by water too. Regina was about to go crazy as she cried out, "Who did it?"

On the floor above, Austin and his friends laughed and made fun of Regina, "Haha! Look at the drowned rat!"

"Serves you right! Who told you to have such a foul mouth and slandered our boss!"

Regina was stunned into silence. She thought to herself, 'These people are the school bully for sure! I could never afford to offend them!'

She immediately softened her tone when she saw Austin, "W -Why did you pour water on me? I don't even know you, and I have never offended you either!"

Austin said coldly, "You didn't offend us, but no one is allowed to bully our boss!"

Regina was even more surprised. She would never offend them, let alone their boss. "It seems to be a misunderstanding! I have no idea who your boss is, let alone offend him!"

Upon seeing this scene, Lulu could not resist but laughed, 'Regina had no idea who Nicole was yet she dared to provoke her!'

"Regina, don't tell me you didn't know that their boss was Nicole?" Lulu said.

"Huh?" Regina widened her eyes. She had suffered too much shock in a day. The titles of the class monitor, the school babe, and the student council's president were already shocking enough to be attached to Nicole. She did not expect her to be these school bullies' boss as well.

'How is that even possible? We're both from the countryside. What made Nicole so special to be the boss of these school bullies?'

"Why her? What abilities does she have?!" Regina felt like everyone was playing tricks on her today. Nicole was attributed with so many titles by everyone, which seemed impossible in Regina's opinion. Regina thought, 'How powerful is she to be able to get so many titles? If she was really that talented, why didn't I notice it back then?'

Austin was offended by Regina's words and raised his voice angrily, "Our boss has the best agility! We could not beat her even if we gang up on her yet you dare to ask what ability she has?"

"Agility? S-She knows martial arts?!" Regina was shocked. 'H- How is that possible?' Regina strongly suspected the Nicole she knew was not the same person in front of her. She could not believe Nicole knew martial arts and even defeated the school bullies.

Nicole shook her head helplessly with a bitter smile as Regina's expression turned unpleasant and surprised. It seemed that she pretended too hard as a country girl back then, which made Regina thought she was a doormat.

Stepping forward, Nicole's aura condensed and she looked coldly at Regina in the eye, "Regina, I just didn't want to scare my grandma back then. Besides, I had no intention of talking with a stupid fool like you, so I didn't bother with you. Did you really think I'm a sick weakling you can manipulate?"

Nicole's voice was so cold and sharp that made Regina feel inexplicably chilly all over her body. "Let me tell you this. I'm not as patient as I was back then. You better avoid provoking me again or else I won't spare anyone. I don't mean just you but the entire Wynn family. You better look out for yourself."

The last few words had Regina's legs go weak that she dropped and sat directly on the ground. Nicole was like a demon, towering above her. It made her scared and fearful.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1817

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1817-Nicole left Regina alone as she curled up into a ball before she led Lulu and June away, saying, "Let's go. We still have an event to attend."

It was not worth wasting so much time on Regina.

"Alright!" Lulu happily followed suit and June stopped paying attention to Regina and left with Nicole.

Austin, still on the floor above them, heard about the event and delightfully asked, "Boss, there's an event? Can we go?"

Nicole gave him a disdainful glance, "Go home and study. There's a monthly test coming up."

Austin felt inexplicably aggrieved when Nicole did not want to bring him along, but he nodded at her instructions, "Alright..."

Austin took his underlings back home in frustration while the students in the institution gradually dispersed and ignored Regina. Regina sat on the ground for a long time, unable to calm down. 'The Nicole today is no longer an attainable or provokable existence for me.'

Regina looked at her smashed phone that was stepped on but hesitated to ask Nicole for compensation. She picked up her phone and ran home, deciding to figure things out later.

Inside the Lincoln car that drove away into the distance, Lulu and June were still indignant. "Regina was so scared just now that her face turned green."

"She should have been put in her place a long time ago. I can't stand looking at her," June added, looking frustrated. Samuel slowly turned to Nicole. "Nicole, were you really classmates with her back then?"

Nicole nodded. "That's right."

Samuel's eyes turned icy cold. "It seems that she used to bully you a lot. She probably thought you were still an easy target now."

Nicole could sense Samuel's worry, so she comforted him, "She didn't bully me. She had just, at most, showed off her family's wealth and bribed the teachers."

Samuel was furious after hearing this. "People like her deserve to be taught a lesson."

Nicole laughed, "Don't worry. I had always made her bedridden for a few days when she upsets me although she didn't know I was the mastermind."

Regina had horrible stomachaches every now and then since tenth grade. Besides that, she could not move for several days as she would be suddenly hit by a stone that would injure her knee and ankle. Until this day, Regina had no idea why all these situations happened.

Spencer pitied Regina for a moment, knowing Nicole was capable of doing those things. "It seems like she doesn't know it was you or she would have never dared to provoke you. She's really going further from the path of selfdestruction."

"Haha, to think Nicole had to lay on the bed for several days makes me feel so satisfied," Samuel said, feeling much better. Looking at the charming smile of the two brothers, Lulu and June fell silent and watched them sneakily.

Nicole could not help but tease Lulu, "Lulu, why are you so quiet? Why are you staring blankly at Spencer?"

Lulu's expression instantly turned awkward after being exposed by Nicole. "S-Says who? I just thought what they said made sense."

June was afraid of being exposed so she quickly added, "That's right."

Nicole smirked and looked toward her two brothers. They were both acting a little more constrained after she teased Lulu and June. Spencer cleared his throat and said, "Um, thank you for being my partner previously."

Lulu blushed a little while looking at Spencer, "I-it's nothing. If it weren't for you, I would have never attended Riddle Corporation's event. The food there was amazing."

When Lulu mentioned this, Spencer recalled how Lulu loved to eat. "I recall you seem to have a love for sweets. I'll ask the servants to prepare some. You can try them when you come to my house later."

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1818

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1818-June could not resist herself but felt envious of the scene. Samuel unexpectedly spoke up, "I remember that you liked milk tea. I've had the servants prepare it today too."

In Samuel's heart, he was thinking, 'What a joke. How could I possibly lose to Spencer?'

Samuel naturally overheard Spencer's conversation when he called the servants, so he asked them to prepare something as well. They had rejected thousands of love letters before and had no plans of having a girlfriend but if Spencer was planning to pursue Nicole's classmate, Samuel had no intentions of backing down.

Spencer lowered his voice and asked Samuel after noticing his intentions while Lulu and June were chatting excitedly with Nicole, "What are you trying to do?"

Samuel put on a fake smile, "What do you think? I won't let you beat me."

"I wasn't competing with you," Spencer felt ridiculous. "Aren't you? If I hadn't noticed you secretly trying to impress the girl, I'd be the laughing stock for being single when you have a girlfriend." Previously, Samuel would often be left behind by Spencer on many things, but he had learned to be more attentive and vigilant this time.

"Why you..." Spencer was absurd in his behavior. Nicole saw the both of them whispering and jokingly said, "Spencer, Samuel, what are you talking about?"

They came back to their senses and awkwardly replied, "I-it was nothing. I was complimenting Samuel for being so attentive this time."

Understanding Spencer's mockery, Samuel retorted, "I thought Spencer had also put in some effort this time."

Nicole smiled playfully, 'Are they helping each other out?' She continued, "That's right. Both of you did put quite some effort into this. I had never seen you prepare these things for other girls."

Lulu and June were even more embarrassed as their faces slightly flushed after Nicole teased them.

"Nicole..." Spencer was so awkward that he did not know what to do. Nicole smiled teasingly and stayed silent.

Soon, the car arrived at the entrance of the house. Sean was waiting for Nicole at the doorstep. He was a little disappointed when he saw Nicole bring two friends home. He pulled Nicole aside as Spencer and Samuel took Lulu and June inside. He asked in a low voice, "Nicole, did you not receive my message?"

Sean was trying to find someone to help him out. Nicole replied, "I got the message, but Mom said this was to give thanks to all of the brother's partners, so I called your secretary."

Sean's expression suddenly turned awkward, "Y-You called her?"

Judging by Sean's expression, Nicole figured that Sean might have some feelings for his secretary. Otherwise, he should not be scared of his secretary coming over.

"That's right. She said she would arrive on time. You could stay here and wait for her."

"Erm..." Sean instantly narrowed his brows. Nicole had never seen the cold and composed Sean this nervous before. She teased him, "Sean, I have never seen you so nervous for a woman before. Is Miss Brito not good enough?"

Sean suddenly turned embarrassed, but he tried to play it cool. "That's not it... Whatever. I'll wait for her since you already called her here."

Nicole said playfully, "Alright then." Nicole left Sean undisturbed and entered the house alone. She left Sean alone while he looked into the distance, waiting for that person to arrive.

The butler informed her that everyone was in the backyard barbecuing as Nicole walked through the front door. She headed in that direction and saw the backyard radiate a warm and comfortable atmosphere. Her parents sat affectionately at the side, sipping coffee while waiting for Stanley to serve them food. Tia was standing nearby, looking a little nervous as she helped him out.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1819-“Tia, be careful. It’s hot!” Stanley gently alerted Tia to move aside. The caring look on Stanley’s face made Nicole burst into laughter.

“Stanley is being so oddly gentle.” Stanley, who was made fun of by Nicole, was embarrassed.

“Of course. Who would have the heart to let a girl do all these?”

Tia looked at Stanley and felt warm in her chest, but her mind kept wandering back to the person from the hospital, ‘It was a pity that person no longer appeared since then.’

Tia was really grateful for Stanley’s kindness, “Then let me help you with the seasoning.”

“Sure,” Stanley smiled at Tia’s help, not believing his ears.

Spencer had handed over the milk tea to June while Lulu passed over her pastries that were prepared for June. The two of them giggled sweetly. Nicole could not help but wonder what her three brothers were up to before noticing her mother was standing in a corner with a smile on her face. Mrs. Riddle was occasionally whispering a few words to Mrs. Wallace Sr.

Nicole looked around before asking suspiciously, “Is Steve not here yet?”

“I’m not sure,” Samuel said, “He said he often frequents the bar when he finished work at night. Maybe he’s dining with a pretty lady.”

Spencer was afraid that their mother would catch on, “You bastard. Aren’t you scared that our mother would hear this and give Steve an earful? If he knew you were going around talking about him like this, he would definitely teach you a lesson.”

At that moment, it was already too late for Samuel as he turned deadly silent when Steve walked in drunkenly.

“Samuel, do you have a death wish going around talking about me like that?” Steve’s voice rang out loudly.

Samuel was terrified, “I... I didn’t...”

“No?” Steve snorted, “Do you think I am deaf?”

At this time, Gloria noticed the tipsy Steve, “Steve, have you been drinking? You haven’t reached home and you’re already drunk?”

Steve replied awkwardly, “Yes...”

Gloria frowned, "You haven't taken your dinner and you're already out drinking?"

Steve scratched his head awkwardly and said, "Drinking can help one muster up some courage..."

When Nicole heard this, she interrupted him, "Why do you still need to muster up the courage? Why do you still need alcohol to help you be brave when you are brave enough to do everything?"

Steve went silent for a moment and stared at the door.

Spencer and Samuel were silent too. Nicole turned her head to the doorway they were looking at and a lady was standing there in a blue dress. She looked extremely gentle and beautiful.

The awkward silence that filled the room made Nicole realize that her entire family seemed to know her.

"Sally?!" Gloria exclaimed in surprise. The girl named Sally was a little embarrassed, but she still approached Gloria with a smile.

"Hello, Mrs. Riddle."

"It's been such a long time. Have you returned for good?" Gloria looked at Sally dotingly.

Sally nodded gently, "Yes, I've been back for a while now..." Sally had also been wondering whether or not to get back into contact with Steve now that she had returned.

Considering the years Sally had spent abroad and how they have lost touch with one another, Sally had not expected Steve to reach out to her today and asked her to attend his family's banquet. Sally was taken aback and hesitant as they were no longer lovers.

"It's good that you're back. Come sit down quickly and let me take a good look at you," Gloria pulled Sally toward the sofa to sit down before beginning to talk about family matters.

Nicole could not help but glance at Steve and said, "Steve, you really hit the jackpot this time. Others brought their companions but, you... you brought back a beauty."

It was at that moment Nicole understood what Samuel had meant when he said that Steve would not go out with the same woman twice.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1820-Steve looked at Nicole in embarrassment.

"I'm not considerate enough to bring those people here. The only person I'll ever bring home is her..."

Steve's eyes look far away with a little hint of resentment. Stanley stood at the side, noticed Nicole's doubts, and talked in a low voice, "In case you didn't know, Sally is Steve's ex-girlfriend. Three years ago, she suddenly had to go abroad to further her studies. Steve got mad and broke up with her... I didn't expect that he would invite her upon her return..."

Stanley could not help but burst into fits of laughter as he finished talking. Steve gave Stanley a hard look, "Shut up. Don't gloat so much!"

Nicole glanced at Steve's embarrassment and could not help but add fuel to the fire, "It seems that you're also lovesick. Three years have gone by and you still haven't forgotten about her. You even brought her here to meet our parents as soon as she returned home..."

Steve was terribly embarrassed, but he had no heart to resent his only sister and replied, "I didn't mean it like that. It's just that our parents had been wanting me to bring back a woman and she happened to have returned home. Of course, our mother would be delighted to see her again. So, what's the problem with bringing her here?"

Steve kept making excuses for himself that Spencer and Samuel could not help but continue teasing him about it.

"There's no problem with it at all. Nope, no problem! Sally is more pleasing to the eyes than your other women. Our parents would be sh*t mad if you had brought them back!"

Steve could not bear the teasing anymore and directly strangled the necks of both Spencer and Samuel with his hands.

"Enough already! You have spoken too much today!"

"Steve! Steve, I can't breathe!"

"Steve! I was wrong!"

Both Spencer and Samuel immediately confessed their wrong-doings, but Steve did not let go of his grip on them.

Sally and Gloria were laughing happily as they watched the three brothers mess around with one another. It was not long before Sean walked in with someone in tow.

Daniel smiled and nodded when he recognized it was Jane, "Miss Brito is here."

Jane nodded awkwardly, "Thank you for the invitation, Mr. and Mrs. Riddle. I've brought some gifts along with me today. I hope you like them," with that said, she whipped out the gifts she brought along with her.

'I must admit, her management abilities are top-notch. She had gotten everyone's favorite sorted out. All the gifts given were very thoughtful.'

"Thank you, Miss Brito!" Gloria was extremely happy with the gifts given by Sean's subordinate.

"You brought Miss Brito here for a reason. Do you care to share why? You even had her bring gifts too!"

Sean was a little embarrassed, not expecting Jane to be so thorough and polite, "I didn't expect her to be so attentive."

Nicole looked at Sean, who looked like he was being taken advantage of yet a little shy, and could not help smiling, 'It seems Sean likes the meticulous Miss Brito though he is still stressed about her overly thoughtful character. He really doesn't know how blessed he is right now.<sup>1</sup>

After Daniel and Gloria had gotten their gifts, Jane walked over to where Nicole and her brothers were standing.

"Nicole, you looked stunning the last time I saw you at the banquet. I thought you wouldn't be someone who likes too many complicated accessories, so I prepared a pair of earrings for you," Nicole was surprised, not knowing Jane had gotten to know her preferences well. Nicole accepted her gift with a smile.

"Thank you. I really don't like things that are too complicated, rr

Jane smiled sweetly, "I hope you like this pair of earrings."

Nicole opened it and took a peek inside. The earrings were black and minimalistic. It was small and exquisite yet emitted an elegant feel. Nicole giggled, "I like them very much, thank you."

Jane was overjoyed and looked back at Sean, "It seems that your sister likes it very much." Sean looked head over heels at Jane's bright smile.

"Yeah... you picked them out well."

Nicole observed carefully, then smiled at Jane, "Jane, you're so considerate of others. Do you have many admirers?"-
