

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1981

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1981-Nicole reached out and patted the back of his hand. "It's all in the past."

Nicole did not care if anyone around her was concerned about the matter.

"It's not." Jared slowly let go of her, pulling her wrists away and checking her wrists to see the scar on the tendon of her arm.

"Before this, you were able to do anything. Even I couldn't lay a finger on you, but now... you're much weaker in strength..." Jared looked at Nicole with a troubled look, before reaching out and tucking her hair behind her ear. Jared's action was so natural which caused Nicole to blush, but she did not shy away from it.

Nicole felt relief in her heart, knowing that she did not jerk away from his touch.

"It's okay. It doesn't matter anymore. I'm at the age where I don't have to bother using any strength. Plus, now that I'm home, I doubt there'd be anyone who'd dare bully me."

Jared had a dead set expression. "Whoever dares to hurt you again, I'll let them suffer the consequences."

The serious look on Jared's face sent cold chills down Nicole's spine. Mentally, Nicole knew that Jared meant every word he said.

Soon enough, it was noon. The Riddle family had prepared a lavish lunch for Lawrence. The table was filled with various dishes. Jared pulled a chair for Nicole to sit on and Lawrence sat directly on the side of Nicole. Nolan followed en suite and sat next to Lawrence, as if he was declaring his support by standing by Lawrence's side.

Lana went and sat next to Nolan, her face wearing an irritated expression. "Nolan, you're really annoying."

Nolan's eyes widened in shock. "Me? Annoying?"

Nolan was known to take care of Lana well. He cared for Lana, and did his best to keep his sister happy. 'What did I do to make her so angry?'

Lana peeked at her mother's awkward expression, immediately feeling unhappy. "You made our mother upset! I hate you!" Lana then turned her head away after she finished speaking.

Nolan seemed to have understood Lana's meaning and decided to stand his ground. 'Now I finally understand. So what, if he's my birth father? He didn't even take care of our mother and let her go through so much pain and suffering! Compared to him, my godpa had been taking care of us for the past five years! My godpa always shows up every time we're in need. The only person suitable for my mom is my godpa. He will be and always will be!'

The squabble between the two children was unrecognized by the adults as Daniel and Gloria were still getting everyone to their seats. Nicole was in an uncomfortable position, unable to muster out the courage to speak up.

The moment Lawrence sat down beside her, Jared had tensed up. The air in the room became tense.

Nicole could not help looking at Jared in embarrassment." Don't you think the room's a bit cold?"

'Stop acting so cold!'

With a nonchalant smile, Jared said, "Is it?"

'She brought a random guy home to meet her parents and she's afraid of such confrontation?'

Nicole was embarrassed to the point where she did not know how to refute.

At the same time, Daniel spoke up to break the tension." This meal here today is dedicated to Mr. Lawrence, to thank him for taking care of Nicole. Here's a toast to you."

Lawrence immediately replied, "Mr. Riddle, there's no need for a toast. Let's cheer." After saying that, Lawrence reached out his glass to clink his glass with Daniel's.

Daniel nodded before motioning for everyone to dig in.

Nicole let out a sigh of relief, thinking that she could finally eat. But just as she picked up her utensil, Jared suddenly placed a shrimp onto her plate.

"Eat up."

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1982

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1982-Jared's actions were smooth like butter. Nicole had almost believed that they were an old married couple.

Lawrence noticed Jared's actions and copied them. He poured a glass of warm water for Nicole. "You should eat less of the raw food. It's not good for your health."

Jared and Lawrence both looked at each other. If they were in a comic, one would see the lasers zapping out from their eye contact. Nicole wished the earth would open up and swallow her to get her away from all the embarrassment.

“Thanks, guys,” Nicole said before lowering her head in embarrassment.

However, the battle between these two men was not over yet. Jared served Nicole a bowl of soup. “Here, have some soup. It’s more nutritious than water.”

Lawrence ignored Jared and gave Nicole a smile before putting some vegetables onto her plate. “Don’t drink too much soup. Here, have some veggies.”

The jealousy between the two men made Nicole extremely uncomfortable.

Jared was unwilling to admit defeat. He noticed a grain of rice on the corner of Nicole’s mouth. Jared reached out his hand and wiped it off for her. Nicole blushed instantly and hid her face.

Witnessing Jared wiping off the grain of rice, Lawrence’s facial expression changed instantly. He quickly grabbed a ply of tissue and wiped the corner of Nicole’s mouth.

Nicole, who had enough of the two men projecting their childish rivalry onto her, stood up abruptly. “Enough!”

The sudden outburst led the entire room to quiet down. Nicole could not bear it anymore. “I just want to eat my meal in peace. Could you two let me do that?”

The feeling of having two childish men competing on either side of her had made Nicole queasy and unable to eat peacefully!

Jared and Lawrence both turned to look at Nicole before looking at each other, both complaining about one another.

In the end, Jared pulled Nicole down to her seat. “Alright. Sit down and eat.”

Jared was unhappy that Lawrence was present, but Nicole being his priority, he did not want her to feel uncomfortable.

The feeling was mutual for Lawrence, he did not say anything and just smiled. “I didn’t mean to offend.”

Nicole was helpless, not knowing how to explain to Lawrence regarding the situation. Thus she could only lower head to eat.

On the other hand, Lana was shooting glares at her brother. ‘It’s all this stinky guy’s fault!’

Nolan had not repented on his actions and even glared at Jared. 'It's all that guy's fault! My mom has never been angry with my godpa before. But now she even yelled at him! This birth father can't be trusted!'

Though everyone still had their own concerns, the meal went on without any further conflict.

After the meal, Lawrence and Nicole sat down together in the living room.

"I'm sorry that my presence during lunch has caused you trouble," Lawrence apologized.

"No... You're my friend and you just came over to eat with us. It's my job to make sure you feel at home,' Nicole said while shaking her head. Nicole made sure her words were not directly aimed at people.

However, Lawrence lost his breath when he noticed Nicole's annoyed look. He smiled gratefully. "I know you didn't mean it. There's no need to feel sorry about it." While speaking, Lawrence reached out and patted Nicole on the head.

Jared, who happened to witness the scene, immediately became angry and pulled Nicole into his arms.

With a smile on his face, Jared said, "Mr. Royce, you do know that if one has caused trouble for other people, it's a cue for them to leave."

Jared had enough of this. He could not bear to see other people touching and getting friendly with Nicole.

Nicole, who noticed this, broke free from his grasp and said, "Lawrence is my guest. You have no right to drive him away like this."

The way Nicole had treated Lawrence today was already enough. She did not want to hurt Lawrence's feelings anymore. However, Nicole's words had hurt Jared tremendously. His face became gloomy.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1983

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1983-Jared stared at the arm Nicole had broken away from. At that moment, he felt like he was the third wheel.

Jared faked a smile and said, "In that case, you treat your guest well. I shall leave." After the words fell, Jared turned around and left.

Seeing this, Lana started screaming, "Dad! Are you leaving?"

Lana's aggrieved look made Jared and her uncles feel distressed when they saw her. Even if Jared was upset, he could only say, "I'll be right next door. You can come visit me if you want to, Lana."

"Okay..." Lana nodded and pursed her mouth in an angry manner.

Though Jared by nature was soft-hearted, the situation had forced him to leave temporarily. He needed time to sort out his emotions.

Nicole watched Jared leave, thinking that she would be feeling relieved, but her heart was inexplicably heavy. Nicole stared at Jared with some reluctance in her eyes while Lawrence's eyes were filled with glee.

Smiling, he said, "I'm sorry I made you guys fight about me."

Nicole shook her head. "No, it has nothing to do with you."

'It's Jared who cares too much about her... However, Nicole understands that she's important to him. He's been missing her for five years and trying to make up for the loss for his wife. Watching her treat her husband as nothing more than a stranger, it seems like she really doesn't know him well enough. And to have him be this disappointed...'

Nicole could not help sighing before perking up and saying, "Anyway, I have to thank you for bringing Lana to me personally... and coming over to see me in person."

Now that Nicole had recovered her real identity, there was an indescribable awkwardness between her and Lawrence.

"It's nothing." Lawrence took a deep breath before continuing to speak. "You know, when I found out you were the daughter of the Riddle family, I was surprised and also very sorry. Perhaps if I knew you were from this family, I would've persuaded you to come home sooner... That way, you wouldn't have been separated from your family for so long."

Nicol saw the sincerity and regret in Lawrence's eyes. It was true that Lawrence did try to convince her to go home and offered to help but after thinking over all the options, Nicole chose to stay there for the sake of her children. Her children had never had a father. If something were to happen to her children, what would she do?

On top of it all, Lawrence had strongly opposed her going back to San Joto before. Nicole did not dare take risks as she was unsure if she really had family in San Joto.

After gathering her thoughts together, Nicole let out a sigh of relief. "Actually, it's not really your fault. It was my choice from the very beginning, so I still want to thank you for all your help and care over the years..."

Lawrence listened as Nicole said her goodbyes, and added, "Not only in the past. In the future, I'll take good care of you too."

Nicole was taken aback and looked up at him. Lawrence continued to smile as he spoke. "In all honesty, I've been thinking of letting you come back to San Joto as soon as possible. I needed time to expand my influence here, and now it's almost ready. My work's going to be temporarily based here until I win the market over."

Lawrence's eyes were filled with ambition, but his words were full of considerations for Nicole.

"I was thinking that when I win the market over, the children would be old enough to move back here. Then I would bring you back here to find your lost family. I don't mind if you're the daughter of the Riddle family, but if you're willing, I can also live with you in Hustuaburg. However, from the looks of it now, it seems like you don't need it..." Lawrence ended his sentence with disappointment which made Nicole feel awfully depressed.

'It seems like he had this planned all along. Now it's me who seems like the bad guy who took advantage of his good will and feelings...'

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1984

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1984-There was a hint of skepticism when Lawrence deliberately refused Nicole returning to the country. The excuse of him not having enough power and influence in San Joto was suspicious enough.

'Lawrence was a very cautious person to begin with. He never does things he's unsure of.' Nicole took a deep breath, as if to organize her thoughts. She stretched out her hand to Lawrence.

"Thank you so much for always being considerate of me. But don't you worry. Now that I'm home, you're still my friend and it won't ever change. I must congratulate you for getting into Hustuaburg though if there's anything you need help with. Don't be afraid to ask me for help." Nicole smiled brightly. Her face was filled with sincerity.

Lawrence's mood somewhat eased a little after listening to Nicole's words.

'It seems like she believes me, which is enough for me.' Lawrence reached out his hand to shake Nicole's, smiling. "Alright, I should congratulate you too, CEO of the Riddle Corporation."

Nicole was taken aback. She blinked before replying, "How did you find out about this?"

Lawrence smiled calmly. "It's no secret actually. Your grandfather gave you all his shares. Everyone knows that the moment you're back, you are to fulfill his wishes."

Nicole sighed. 'Everyone seems to have accepted this as reality. I guess it's only me who feels like the responsibility is a huge burden.'

"I've never managed a company before, so I'm not sure if I'm the right fit. This is such a huge responsibility for me."

Nicole just wants to take care of her children without having to deal with such complicated affairs.

"Don't worry about it. If you have any questions, you can ask me anytime." Lawrence's gentle look and reassurance made Nicole feel more at ease.

"Okay."

The two of them chatted for a little while more before Nicole saw Lawrence out. Sean and Steve had been watching both Lawrence and Nicole from the balcony since earlier.

Steve smiled and asked, "Sean, what kind of person do you think he is?"

"I don't want to comment on that. I have to check him out." Sean's expression was serious. He felt like he should run a background check on Lawrence.

"How much do you think you can trust his words?" Steve was still recalling the perfectly curated words Lawrence had said earlier. Steve was concerned if he had any ulterior motives.

"It's too late for nothing. I only believe half of his words,"

Sean said mercilessly.

Steve looked at Nicole's back and said, "But looking at Nicole. It seems like she really believed him."

Sean smiled. "Don't worry about it. She's a smart person. You can't hide the truth. It's bound to be revealed sooner or later."

Steve nodded, agreeing with Sean. Knowing Nicole's intelligence, even if she temporarily believed him as she was the benefactor, it would not be long until she notices a problem.

After Nicole had sent Lawrence off, Lana rushed to hug Nicole's leg. "Mommy, is Daddy upset? He looked so sad when he left..."

Nicole glanced at her daughter pitifully before carrying her in her arms. "It's okay. There's nothing to worry about. Your dad is thick-skinned and will come back in no time."

"Really?" Lana was a little skeptical.

At the side, Noah joined in coaxing her. "Of course it's true. He definitely won't give up on Mommy like this."

After Nolan finished speaking, he could not help but to feel a little regretful. "Ugh... I don't hope he'll come back... Godpa is better than him."

Nicole watched as her two children expressed their different opinions. She could not help but to feel a little dizzy.

"You two. If you sputter anymore nonsense, I'll ignore you both."

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1985

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1985-Lana hugged Nicole's neck affectionately and said sweetly, "Mommy, I really like Daddy. Can you not ignore him?"

Nicole was startled. Unable to control her expression, she did not expect Lana to display such affection toward Jared in a short amount of time. 'I guess it's the biological bonding at work.'

Nolan was angry at Lana's words and could not help frowning. He did not want to argue with his sister nor make her cry at this time. Nolan knew that he would support his godfather until the very end, especially since he made a secret promise with his godfather. He believed that his godfather was the only person fit for his mother.

Nicole came back to reality shortly after. She did not know how to respond to Lana, so instead she changed the topic. "Okay. Since lunch is over, it's nap time for the two of you."

"Okay." Nolan obediently climbed onto his bed.

Nicole was taken aback by his obedience. 'Why is he being so obedient? It's weird...'

Nicole watched as Nolan shut his eyes. Thus she did not think much of it and tucked Lana into bed. After the two of them had fallen asleep, Nicole let out a sigh of relief before walking toward the window.

Nicole originally went to take in the scenery from outside, but to her surprise, her eyes were met with Jared's eyes from the opposite manor. His eyes darkened unhappily.

Unconsciously Nicole recalled the moment from earlier. The lonely figure of Jared had left an inexplicably dull sting in Nicole's heart, as if there was a void that was unfilled.

In Jared's manor, he had come back and entered his study. Jared's eyes were dark, a restless feeling in his heart. The arrival of Lawrence and Lawrence saving Nicole from a lifethreatening situation, himself not being able to be by her side, and her enduring all the pain and suffering by herself... Jared's eyes suddenly became extremely cold. A hint of darkness shone in his eyes as he picked up his phone and dialed Max's number.

"Go and find out what happened five years ago..."

'I want to find out for sure what exactly had happened to Nicole when she resurfaced five years ago. Who attacked her, and how did he know of Nicole's whereabouts when I could not find a speck of news about her? On top of that, tracking her down and the point of even wanting to have Nicole killed.'

Jared put the phone down. His pupils had shrunk as he sunk into his thoughts. 'How could he spend five years with Nicole? She's my woman. No one can take her away from me.'

The next day, the sun shone brightly. Nicole got up from her bed, not in good spirits. Her facial complexion was gloomy. She could not help but frown.

Maybe I didn't sleep well last night,' Nicole thought as she examined herself in the mirror.

"Mommy, are you awake?"

Nicole heard the voices of Nolan and Lana. She responded, "Yeah, I'm awake."

After cleaning herself up, Nicole came out of the bathroom and saw both Nolan and Lana waiting for her. She could not help but smile at them. "Come on, guys. Let's head downstairs."

It was quite unexpected for both Nolan and Lana to have adapted so quickly to the Riddle home. When they first came, they could not bring themselves to sleep in their own rooms.

Nicole held their hands as they walked downstairs.

Gloria saw them and waved them over. "Come and have breakfast."

“Good morning, Grandpa, grandma, and uncles!” Nolan and Lana greeted with respect. The hearts of the entire family melted. The smiles on everyone’s faces were very dotting.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1986

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1986-“Come and sit by grandma.” Gloria waved the two children over, wanting to hold the both of them in her arms.

Everyone else wanted to do the same but did not dare fight Gloria for it. After all, for the past five years since Nicole’s disappearance, their mother had not laughed at all. It was a rare scene for everyone to see.

“Let’s dig in!” Gloria did not mind her sons’ wishful thinking of wanting to hold their niece and nephew.

Daniel gave their sons a look that said, ‘Not a chance. Don’t even think about it.’

“Okay,” Spencer and Samuel agreed in unison, tacitly knowing what their father was referring to.

Nicole watched as she observed the actions of her parents and older brothers. The corners of her lips curled into a slight smile. Her heart was warm, feeling content. Though she could not recall her memory, seeing her family being together again was an irreplaceable feeling.

Nicole was just about to lower head to take a bite of her food when suddenly, a shadow appeared behind her. She raised her head, only to be engulfed by a slender figure.

“Daddy!” Lana’s eyes lit up instantly when she saw Jared. She ran over with her short legs and threw herself into Jared’s arms.

Jared hugged Lana immediately and doted on her. “Did you miss me?”

“Yeah.” Lana nodded vigorously. Then, sounding a little aggrieved, she said, “Daddy, please don’t leave me and my mommy in the future. Lana and Mommy will be sad.”

The corner of Nicole’s lips twitched subtly. ‘What on earth is this girl going on about? What’s she sad about?’

Jared could not help being startled. He rubbed Lana’s head while saying, “Daddy won’t abandon you guys.”

“Okay.” Lana instantly smiled brightly. Her small hands wrapped tightly around Jared’s neck with no intention of letting go.

“Jared, you haven’t eaten, have you? Come sit down and join us,” Daniel said to Jared.

“Yes.” Jared carried Lana as he took a seat next to Nicole, as if nothing had happened the day before. Jared took care of Lana’s meal, giving her favorite dishes to her and refilling her plate from time to time.

Nicole stared at her plate, feeling uneasy as she faced Jared. A complicated emotion arose in her heart.

‘Why am I suddenly feeling depressed when he showed up? Is it because of his appearance?’ Nicole bit her lip, thinking of how ridiculous the situation was.

‘But how can this be? It’s probably because I didn’t rest well last night. How could a person like him affect me, right?’

The air in the dining room was awkward once more. The men from the Riddle family had all gone off to work. Gloria had taken both Nolan and Lana away, with the excuse that they were going to visit Mrs. Wallace Sr.

Only Jared and Nicole were left. They sat in the living room after breakfast was finished. Nicole suddenly felt a little unnatural and panicked.

“You were sad?” Jared looked at Nicole with a playful look in his eye.

Cheeks flushed, Nicole gritted her teeth and said, “Kids speak without thinking. Don’t mind what Lana said.”

“Really?” Jared approached Nicole suddenly.

Nicole’s body froze subconsciously, failing to dodge him.

A hint of satisfaction glistened in Jared’s eyes. ‘At least now she’s not hiding from me, right?’

Jared knew that the process to get Nicole to not flinch or dodge him was not easy. Thus he did not force her and maintained the current distance.

Jared looked at Nicole with raised eyebrows and said, “The drug test results are out.”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1987

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1987-Jared’s sudden closeness had Nicole’s heart fluttering faster than usual. She took a while to process what he had said. When she did, her pupils dilated. “What are the results?”

Nicole did not expect him to tell her this information. His speedy resolution of the situation was commendable. She could tell there was something odd with Mr. Riddle Sr.'s medicine. However, she needed to identify the exact issue using professional laboratory tests to curate a remedy to the case.

Jared's eyes darkened, and his voice revealed a hint of coldness. Mr.

Riddle Sr.'s medicine is specially formulated. There were toxic ingredients added to the original nutrient neurovascular formulation. It was hard to detect the toxic ingredient and with prolonged use..."

"Chronic poisoning. Something that couldn't be detected medically." Nicole instantly understood. Her eyes turned cold. If Mr. Riddle Sr.

continued the prescription, he would die of organ failure, and no one would have discovered the poison.

"That's right," Jared replied solemnly.

Nicole bit her lip, wondering, 'Who could it be? Who could be so ruthless?'

The family members of the Riddle family crossed her mind, but she did not dare dwell on it. Only the Riddle family knew about her grandfather's condition, so only they could have the opportunity and motive to act. But Mr. Riddle Sr. was their father, and Nicole could not imagine who would do such a thing.

As if Jared read her thoughts, he gently held her hand and said, "I have sent Janus to investigate that doctor."

"Grandpa's doctor." Nicole nodded slightly, knowing this was the only lead.

Mr. Riddle Sr.'s health had been under the care of a personal doctor for the last few years. Despite his declining health, the butler pointed out that the doctor had not advised stopping the prescription. That seemed suspicious in and of itself.

Furthermore, an average person could not meet the level of professionalism involved. If it were not for Nicole's medical knowledge, she would never have been able to notice that the medicine was odd. If that were the case, then Mr. Riddle Sr. would have...

Without further thought, Nicole folded her hands subconsciously. Her eyes had a touch of determination. She had to expose the person behind all this.

The shock and anger from knowing about Mr. Riddle Sr.'s situation made Nicole miss the fact that Jared was so close to her. However, she did not feel awkward and uncomfortable. On the contrary, she felt safe and empowered with him by her side.

“Mommy, did you reconcile with Daddy?” a sweet voice sounded. Soon, a little bundle of joy with chubby legs came over and smiled with glee as she saw the two individuals resting against each other.

Nicole’s face instantly turned red. Only then did she notice they had gotten so close as they discussed Mr. Riddle Sr.’s case. Nicole had become less guarded around Jared.

Nolan let out a discontented grunt at this scene. He went over and squeezed between Jared and Nicole, not wanting them to be this close to each other. Nolan had promised his godfather that he would help him watch Nicole.

Nicole could not help but smile dumbfoundedly at the two kids’ actions. She patted Nolan’s butt and said, “Go play with your sister. Mommy still has things to deal with.”

Nolan pouted, unsatisfied. “What do you have to deal with. Mommy? Why don’t we find Godpa? He could help us.”

Nolan was determined not to give his father a chance to prove himself. If anyone should have a chance, it should be his godfather. His mother should only see the good in his godfather.

Nicole’s expression became serious. Nolan, I really have something to take care of. We can’t trouble your godfather for every single thing.”

They had already troubled Leo a lot in the past. Even though she had not regained her memories, she realized her identity and responsibilities.

Therefore, she had to rely on herself and not be a burden to Leo anymore.

Seeing the determination in Nicole’s eyes, Nolan could only reluctantly respond, “Alright.”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1988

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1988-“Go find your grandmother. Mommy is going to Great Grandpa’s house,” Nicole said as she got up to go upstairs and change.

“I’ll go with you,” Jared said, watching Nicole preparing to go out. He stood up and followed.

Nicole frowned with a hesitant look, but Jared seemed to see through her.

Before he could reject him, he said meaningfully, “Could you manage if others were present?”

Understanding what he was implying, Nicole sighed and grudgingly agreed. "Let's go then."

Jared had a point. If she encountered other members of the Riddle family, she might accidentally expose the fact of her memory loss. That would be an issue for her future plans.

Lana was extremely joyous when Nicole went out with Jared.

Nolan, however, narrowed his eyebrows with displeasure. But then a light bulb lit up in his head. He ran back to his room and called Leo. He figured he had to inform Leo, or else Leo would not get another chance to prove himself.

Jared and Nicole got in the car and headed to the Riddle family manor. Watching as she went directly to the Riddle manor, Jared asked curiously, "Do you have a solution for this?"

Even if Nicole knew the compositions of the toxin, finding a solution would still take time. Yet, she was going straight to Mr. Riddle Sr.'s house to find him.

"Yes," Nicole replied simply, a hint of coldness radiating from her aura. Although she could not recall her memories, she could still feel who had been sincerely good to her. Thus, she did not want to delay her grandfather's matter.

Soon, they reached the Riddle family manor and went straight to Mr. Riddle Sr.'s room. The old man had stopped taking his medicine, following Nicole's advice. Within two days, his physique had improved greatly.

"You're here." Seeing Nicole and Jared, Mr. Riddle Sr.'s eyes lit up.

"Grandpa." Nicole made her way to the bedside. "We've finished looking into your medication. Someone has indeed been tampering with your medicine."

The light in Mr. Riddle Sr.'s eyes faded, and his face turned pale. Although Nicole's words were clear, Mr. Riddle Sr. had been contemplating these two days about this matter. He believed Nicole would never suspect his medications for no reason, so he was not surprised by the result.

Besides that, it also occurred to Mr. Riddle Sr. that if there was a problem with the medicine, only a handful of people could have done it. Thinking of the person who gave him the medication, he felt chills run down his spine.

Nicole saw the sorrow in Mr. Riddle Sr. and figured he probably understood the situation. So she remained silent, thinking there was no point in consoling him. Besides, he had weathered many storms in his life. He would have no problem overcoming the setbacks he faced. He just needed time to digest it.

Shortly, Mr. Riddle Sr.'s expression returned to normal. He looked at Nicole and Jared, saying, "I'll leave this matter in your hands."

Nicole nodded, and responded gravely, "We're on it." "Good." Mr. Riddle Sr. did not seem surprised, knowing that the investigation would end with a result. So he turned to ask, "You have a way to cure the poison?"

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1989

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1989-'Yes," Nicole confirmed and took out a silver needle. "First, I'll acupuncture you to detoxify your body. I'll have the prepared medicine sent over. You just need to take it on time."

'How long would it take to recover?" Mr. Riddle Sr. was confident in Nicole, so he asked directly.

Nicole replied with confidence, "One week is sufficient."

After a moment of silence, Mr. Riddle Sr.'s eyes filled with determination." Alright, one week would do. We'll host your welcoming banquet one week later. I'll show up and announce that you're taking over as the chairman of Riddle Corporation.'

Nicole's hand paused for a moment while holding the needle. But she quickly regained her composure and nodded. "Alright."

She understood Mr. Riddle Sr.'s eagerness. It was hard for her to take over the company now, but settling everything as soon as possible might be the best solution. That way, people would stop targeting Mr. Riddle Sr., since everything would be in her hands.

Nicole finished the acupuncture for her grandfather and gave him some instructions before leaving the Riddle family manor.

The car gradually drove away from the manor, and Nicole's expression slowly turned grave. She had to continue investigating who harmed Mr. Riddle Sr.

She agreed to take over the company, so all she had to do now was face it. Determination gleamed in Nicole's eyes as she looked at Jared. "Send me to Riddle Corporation."

To take over the company, Nicole must first learn about the company's situation. Her time was tight as the banquet was one week away. She could not waste time now.

Understanding her intentions, Jared sent her to the headquarters of Riddle Corporation.

Getting out of the car, Nicole told Jared, "I'll just go up myself."

Jared frowned, seemingly concerned.

Nicole stated frankly, "I'd have to face this alone eventually. Plus, my dad and brothers are there too."

Nicole knew Riddle Corporation had been divided, with only her father and brothers remaining. There should not be any issues for her.

Upon hearing her words, Jared hesitantly agreed. "Alright. I'll pick you up after work."

"It's alright. I'll go back with Dad," Nicole added, not wanting to burden Jared. She genuinely thought it was more convenient to leave work with her father.

Jared did not insist further and nodded. 'Til be waiting at home." Jared was comfortable with the idea of Nicole going back with Daniel.

"Okay," Nicole replied. She felt a weird sensation and even a hint of happiness upon hearing Jared said he would wait for her at home. Noticing her unusual thoughts, Nicole turned around and briskly headed into the building.

As Nicole's figure disappeared through the entrance, Jared withdrew his gaze. "Let's go."

The car left Riddle Corporation and went in the direction of Johnston Group.

Only the Riddle family members knew about Nicole's return, so the employees were all shocked to see her in the company. They even forgot to react, standing frozen as if they were immobilized.

Nicole smoothly went to Daniel's office, where Sean was also present.

Daniel was surprised at Nicole's appearance. "Nicole, why are you here?"

After briefly explaining Mr. Riddle Sr.'s situation, Nicole continued to say, "I want to take over the affairs of the company as soon as possible. So I thought I'd check in first."

'I've got the documents prepared and was planning to give them to you after work at home. Since you're here, you should take a look at it first. I'll have someone send it to your office later,' Sean said. His expression was gloomy as he was stunned about his grandfather's matter.

"Alright, thank you." Nicole nodded. Seeing that her brother had prepared an office, Nicole figured it was good to have her own office as she needed space.

"You haven't regained your memories yet. Take it slow. If you have any questions, you can always ask Sean and Steve," Daniel admonished Nicole with affection.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1990

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 1990- ‘Don’t worry, Dad,’ Nicole reassured Daniel, knowing he was concerned about her.

“Come on. I’ll take you to your office,” Sean said while guiding Nicole to her office. “We kept this place for you ever since the setup.”

They never expected this room to be retained for five years as they did not even know if Nicole would ever return.

Nicole felt a lump rise in her throat, understanding Sean’s meaning. This place was empty for five years, yet immaculate in appearance. There was probably someone who cleaned it every day.

“Sean, I-I...” Nicole was at a loss for words, feeling sorrowful. If she had known the whole situation, she would have come back earlier, not letting her family suffer five years of torment.

Sean smiled gently. “You’re back, and that’s all that matters.”

Three knocks sounded on the door.

The secretary’s voice came through. ‘Mr. Riddle, the documents are here.’

“Bring them in,” Sean ordered.

The secretary came in, put the documents on the table, and left.

Sean briefly explained the content of the documents and left after seeing Nicole already engrossed in reading. Strangely, although Nicole did not understand business, these documents were not hard to comprehend.

Before she knew it, it was evening time. Nicole was deeply engrossed in the documents when her phone suddenly rang. Seeing the caller ID, she answered, “Yes, Leo?”

‘ Nicole, are you not going to get off work?’ Leo’s voice sounded.

Surprise flashed in her eyes. “Pardon?”

‘How did he know I was in my office and hadn’t finished work yet?’ Nicole wondered.

“I’m at the entrance of your company. Let’s have dinner together,” Leo said directly.

Nicole was a little hesitant. “Leo, I’m getting off work, but...”

Nicole wanted to tell that she had promised to get off work with her dad, but Leo persisted. "In that case, I'll wait for you downstairs. I have something to tell you."

Nicole could only agree to his request. "Alright then."

Nicole had a feeling that she would not be able to leave with Daniel, so she informed him and left her office. Downstairs, Leo was waiting for her.

Nicole could not help but feel puzzled. "How did you know I was here?"

It was a last-minute decision that Nicole made to come to the headquarters. She wondered how Leo found out she was here.

"Isn't it weird if I didn't know?" Leo replied with a playful tone, posing a counter-question.

With that, Nicole shrugged her shoulders. Leo even knew that she would be the new chairman of Riddle Corporation. It was not surprising that he knew she would be here.

Without further hesitation, she asked Leo, "You said you had something to tell me. What is it?"

"It's going to be time for dinner. Let's talk over a meal," Leo suggested, opening the car door like a gentleman and waiting for Nicole to get in.

Knowing Leo would not bother her without a good reason, Nicole got into the car. After all, she had already informed her father, so her family would not be worried about her.