

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 201

Chapter 201

Nicole did not turn back, but her voice eased somewhat. "When we reach the ground floor, keep your mouth shut like now." Zeke nodded sullenly. He had this issue where he would talk nonstop when excited or nervous.

The two went downstairs. Little did they know that Edwin, who walked out of his room earlier, had listened to the conversation just as they left and came to Harvey's room. "Harvey, guess what I just heard the hotel manager say to Nicole." Harvey's face remained the same as he said, "What did they say?" Edwin looked at Harvey. The latter was as calm as he was, as if nothing could ever affect him. "It seems like Nicole is wanted by the police," said Edwin. Hearing this, Harvey, who was wiping his hair, paused as he let out a calm smile at Edwin. "Edwin, wait for me outside." He then turned around to change as if he had not heard anything. Looking at Harvey's rather impassive eyes, Edwin smiled. "Harvey, you don't seem to be in a hurry after hearing this." Harvey gently raised his gaze as he looked at the bright sky outside the window. "The one that shouldn't be panicking is me." He thought, 'It's still too early to show up now. I need to wait until the most opportune time. Only the moment she's cornered will my action have the most effect.' Ever since he was a child, patience was his virtue. Edwin looked at Harvey and did not say much else. He simply just nodded. "I might not be able to wait for you, Harvey." He straightened his tie as he waved at the latter. "I'm quite anxious."

One can imagine how helpless a girl like Nicole, who was called by the police while being in a foreign land, would be. Since they were schoolmates, Edwin felt he should help if he could.

Edwin quickly walked out. When Harvey heard the door closing, he slowly clenched his fingers. His face soon turned expressionless as he almost crushed the remote control in his hand.

'I cannot let Edwin be one step ahead of me,' he thought. Tossing the towel aside, he put on his suit, took his car keys, and left the room.

Nicole had already come downstairs, and she looked at the group of officers and a few other familiar faces before her, her ice-cold face impassive.

When Yellowhead saw Nicole walking out, a menacing smile appeared on his face as he said to the officers, "it's her, good sir. This wench beat the five of us up. Arrest her, quick!"

The police officer looked at Nicole with surprise, yet as Yellowhead yelled, he coughed and said to Nicole, "Miss, you are alleged of battery, Please come with us." Zeka then said to the officer. "Sir, this person provoked us first. They were the ones who struck first. How can you arrest her just like that?"

The officers could not be bothered by that. Yellowhead's backer was the biggest crime lord in the area that their chief dared not dare to offend, so he immediately dispatched them to arrest Nicole

With that in mind, the officer said to Zeke, "This is just your side of the story. You sound like her accomplice, so come with us now. Or you'll face the consequences."

Zeke wanted to say something else, but Nicole held her hand out to stop him as she said to the officer. "Lead the way." She raised her chin slightly. The disdain in her eyes was almost overflowing as she looked at the officer.

The officer had wanted to say something else, but upon hearing Nicole cooperating just like that, he was surprised. 'What was going on? This person is just too cooperative. I've not even started to seriously intimidate her yet.'

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 202

Chapter 202

Thinking of this, he took another glance at Nicole. Seeing her impassive eyes, he secretly sneered. 'She sure knows how to pretend. Just wait until you wet your undies at the station.'

When Zeke saw Nicole just followed on like that, he stomped his feet and quickly followed behind. Contrary, a smile appeared in Nicole's eyes as she saw his righteous expression.

Seeing the two were still so calm, Yellowhead sneered. "Kneel and apologize to my bros, and then service us well. Perhaps I could consider letting you go, otherwise ..." He did not finish what he said but instead made a threatening slit over his neck.

Nevertheless, Nicole did not even look at him as she followed the police officers.

Yellowhead was even angrier upon the sight. 'You don't take my words seriously.

You're just a foreigner. You'll never get out of the police station even if you're skilled!'

He hissed. 'And still, you are that arrogant. You've just signed your death warrant!' He then exchanged glances with Redhead behind him, a brutal glint appearing in his eyes.

When Luka, who was hiding behind the crowd, noticed the commotion and saw Nicole being taken away by the police, a gleeful look appeared in his eyes. He took his phone out and gave Chloe a call. It rang just once before she answered. "How's it?"

Luka smiled. "That girl has been taken away by the police, and they aren't kind to her. They don't look like they are on her side, and I'm pretty sure she'll have hell to pay."

When Chloe heard that, she was delighted. "Serve her right. Forget about her. Whether she lives or dies has nothing to do with us."

. "Yeah." Luka nodded as he left.

Chloe put down the phone while she was on her way to the studio. She was now at the set. To show her status, Chloe came a bit later than scheduled. Seeing the entire production crew was waiting for her, she felt good, yet she put on an anxious face as she said, "I'm really sorry. There was quite a bad jam on the way. I'll treat everyone to a drink later."

When everyone heard that, they could only let it slide without expressing their dissatisfaction.

Chloe gently pulled her hair back, and just as a smile was about to form on her lips, she heard an icy voice. "Miss Riddle, one time is fine, but please do not be late again next time. It won't do to delay everyone's time here." Chloe looked over, and her smile immediately froze. The person speaking was no one other than Lloyd Holder, who was making a cameo appearance in this drama! When everyone heard this, they all nodded secretly in their hearts. Lloyd had made plenty of preparations by coming to the set some time back just for these few scenes. Plus, he had already memorized all the lines in the scene. He came here in advance just to get used to the set and get into character.

In contrast, Chloe was a little too much. As the main female lead, she was not only over an hour late, but she was also reading the script onset and had delayed the production by several hours inside and out.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 203

Chapter 203

This was not something that could be resolved over a meal. It was just that the staff and crew were generally unwilling to have conflicts with the actors, especially with this Miss Riddle, who seemed to have quite the background.

The movie director, Nachele Holder, was unhappy too when looking at Chloe.

To begin with, Chloe was not the director's choice. It was just that she recommended herself, and with the recommendation from the Rogers branch family, so the movie director reluctantly decided to give her a chance.

When Chloe saw the director's rather sullen expression, she quickly turned around, bowed to the latter, and said sincerely to all the staff. "I'm sorry. This won't happen again."

Yet, she still secretly begrudged Lloyd for that. You are just a bit popular, and so what? She thought. "Once I surpass you, let's see how you show off!"

Meanwhile, Nicole entered the police station and saw Bluehead standing outside the interrogation room. He was whispering something to an officer. When he saw Nicole, his eyes were full of glee and disdain. However, there was also a hint of fear in it. After all, he had personally tasted the skills of this woman.

Nicole walked on casually toward the interrogation table under the police's guide. Her aura was so imposing that many outsiders could not tell who the police were and who was the prisoner.

Nicole sat before the table, her back was straight, and she was fearless.

When Bluehead saw that, he was pissed off. He was being ushered over, and when he was still some distance away from her, he got the two officers to stop. While keeping that safe distance, he hissed at her while keeping that safe distance. "You b*tch, weren't you acting haughty yesterday? If you know fear, come and kneel and apologize to me, beg me, so I'll let you go!" Nicole looked at him with nary an expression on her face.

She then landed her gaze on his legs. Bluehead immediately recoiled by reflex as he let out a squeal, not unlike a butchered pig.

The sweep Nicole smashed his knees with was why he could not stand up until now.

Zeke looked at Bluehead and sneered. "And you want her to kneel and beg you? You dare?"

Bluehead was so terrified his legs went limp, yet he still ran his mouth as he sneered at Nicole. "Pine! Then you two mongrels can stay here until the end of time!"

After that, he turned around to tell an officer something. The officer gave Nicole a hesitant look, but the chief had ordered him to follow the man's orders, so he walked over and said coldly, "Put your hands out!"

When Nicole heard that, she slightly raised her eyebrow as she looked on coldly at the officer, her voice ten times colder than his, "What is my crime? Is the trial process of

Nottingham State just like that

The officer was suddenly cowed by Nicole's aura. He did not know what to say. It was the officer that brought Nicole here that smirked as he said, "You don't know your crime? If you aren't sure, let's bring the thirteen people you assaulted last night over then!"

The officer glanced at Bluehead and caught a hint of satisfaction in the latter's eyes as he looked on even more menacingly and disdainfully at Nicole. 'No matter what she does, there is no place in this station for her to speak!' Thinking of this, he felt much more emboldened.

Soon, the rest of the dozen appeared around Nicole, including Yellowhead and Redhead. They were not as badly wounded as Bluehead was. Although they had bruises all over their face, they could walk normally already.

All of them stared at Nicole with ill intentions in their eyes.

Nicole glanced at them with a half-smile, and a surge of fear appeared in their eyes. After all, they were really traumatized by last night's fight. None of them could do anything to Nicole even when all of them attacked at the same time. They were all beaten up so badly it was the biggest shame of their life.

Chapter 203

This was not something that could be resolved over a meal. It was just that the staff and crew were generally unwilling to have conflicts with the actors, especially with this Miss Riddle, who seemed to have quite the background. The movie director, Nachele Holder, was unhappy too when looking at Chloe. To begin with, Chloe was not the director's choice. It was just that she recommended herself, and with the recommendation from the Rogers branch family, so the movie director reluctantly decided to give her a chance.

When Chloe saw the director's rather sullen expression, she quickly turned around, bowed to the latter, and said sincerely to all the staff. "I'm sorry. This won't happen again."

Yet, she still secretly begrudged Lloyd for that. 'You are just a bit popular, and so what?' She thought. "Once I surpass you, let's see how you show off!"

Meanwhile, Nicole entered the police station and saw Bluehead standing outside the interrogation room. He was whispering something to an officer. When he saw Nicole, his eyes were full of glee and disdain. However, there was also a hint of fear in it. After all, he had personally tasted the skills of this woman.

Nicole walked on casually toward the interrogation table under the police's guide. Her aura was so imposing that many outsiders could not tell who the police were and who was the prisoner.

Nicole sat before the table, her back was straight, and she was fearless.

When Bluehead saw that, he was pissed off. He was being ushered over, and when he was still some distance away from her, he got the two officers to stop. While keeping that safe distance, he hissed at her while keeping that safe distance. "You b*tch, weren't you acting haughty yesterday? If you know fear, come and kneel and apologize to me, beg me, so I'll let you go!"

Nicole looked at him with nary an expression on her face. She then landed her gaze on his legs. Bluehead immediately recoiled by reflex as he let out a squeal, not unlike a butchered pig.

The sweep Nicole smashed his knees with was why he could not stand up until now. Zeke looked at Bluehead and sneered. "And you want her to kneel and beg you? You dare?"

Bluehead was so terrified his legs went limp, yet he still ran his mouth as he sneered at Nicole.

Pine! Then you two mongrels can stay here until the end of time!"

After that, he turned around to tell an officer something. The officer gave Nicole a hesitant look, but the chief had ordered him to follow the man's orders, so he walked over and said coldly, "Put your hands out!

When Nicole heard that, she slightly raised her eyebrow as she looked on coldly at the officer, her voice ten times colder than his, "What is my crime? is the trial process of Nottingham State just like that?

The officer was suddenly cowed by Nicole's aura He did not know what to say. It was the officer that brought Nicole here that smirked as he said, "You don't know your crime? If you aren't sure, let's bring the thirteen people you assaulted last night over then!"

The officer glanced at Bluehead and caught a hint of satisfaction in the latter's eyes as he looked on even more menacingly and disdainfully at Nicole. 'No matter what she does, there is no place in this station for her to speak!' Thinking of this, he felt much more emboldened. Soon, the rest of the dozen appeared around Nicole, including Yellowhead and Redhead. They were not as badly wounded as Bluehead was.

Although they had bruises all over their face, they could walk normally already.

All of them stared at Nicole with ill intentions in their eyes.

Nicole glanced at them with a half-smile, and a surge of fear appeared in their eyes.

After all, they were really traumatized by last night's fight. None of them could do anything to Nicole even when all of them attacked at the same time. They were all beaten up so badly it was the biggest shame of their life.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 204

Chapter 204

Thinking of the times they could just run rampant across the district, yet they had suffered that ignominy in the hands of that girl, the hooligans needed to find a way to get his face back.

As they thought of this, a menacing look appeared in their eyes.

The officer then said, "She doesn't know what her crime is. Why don't you lads tell her properly." Yellowhead and the others started to make accusations against Nicole, saying that they were merely out drinking and walking at night and were eating by one of the roadside stalls. According to them, they ran into Nicole, who not only overturned the stall but also even beat all of them up. So now, all of them were hurt, and some were even hospitalized.

Bluehead nodded as he lied about it. "Yeah, officer. That happened. You need to stand up for us! " he spoke to the officer angrily in a threatening tone.

The officer nodded as he heard that. "Don't worry, there's no escaping when you commit a crime in my area!" He then shot Nicole a cold glare. "We have witnesses here.

Are you still not admitting your crime?"

Nicole looked at him impassively. "Even if what they said is true, are you not interested in my motivation?"

"That." The officer immediately looked at Bluehead, and even the latter was stunned, not knowing what to say for a moment.

At this very moment, a bright voice suddenly came from outside. He had heard Nicole's question and sneered, "That's the question we should be asking you! What is your motive?"

As soon as the officer heard that, it was as if he had found his backbone. "Chief James, why are you here in person?"

The person called "chief" was a short man with a mustache, and beneath his mounded dark blonde hair was a pair of ferocious brown-yellow eyes. At a glance, it was clear he was no goody two-shoes,

Chief James snorted coldly as he heard the officer ask him that. "If I didn't come here myself, what can you bunch of fools do?"

The officer wiped the sweat off his forehead and said flatteringly, "You're right, sir, with you personally interrogating her, things will be easier!" He hurriedly made way for the chief as his entire person shrank away. The officer was actually taller than Chief James, yet the way he acted made him look so much shorter.

When Nicole saw this, she squinted her eyes a little.

As soon as Chief James sat down, he slammed his hands against the table, pointing at the hoodlums as he said to Nicole, "Don't you know that they are good citizens of Nottingbrook late? For a lout like you to beat them up like this, it's heinous! Based on the laws of Nottingbrook State, I'll tork you up for ten months first Bluehead immediately gave the chief a displeased glance as he heard that, hinting that ten months was way too short. Chief James clearly understood what he meant and motioned for him to calm down.

After all, it was just a premeditated assault, and they only suffered flesh wounds.

Locking her up for ten months was to ensure that she stayed here. Whatever happens inside the prison could, after all, be attributed to an accident.

Ever since Chief James took office in the Amhurst District, he had not kept his hands clean from things like this and had gotten plenty of benefits out of it. This time around, it was just a Hustuaburgian girl, plus she was so young. So, he assumed that she would have no way to resist him pinning all sorts of charges on her. Moreover, he could gain the trust of Thor's underlings and befriend the largest local underworld force. Plus, he could get over 200,000 bucks. Who would say no to that?

Chief James could already see the whole thing pan out. He thought that this deal was pure profit and no loss!

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 205

Chapter 205

As he thought of that, Chief James' eyes exploded with greed as he looked at Nicole as if he was looking at a lamb to be slaughtered. His eyes filled with greed for power and money.

Nicole looked at him as a sneer gently appeared on the corner of her lips. She gently tapped the table as she said faintly, "The truth is that my accusers were the ones that struck at us first. I fought back only in self-defense, and I have measured my strength and did not cause damage beyond self-defense. "The stallholder can testify for us. Moreover, I think it's best if we can pull up the local surveillance footage and check the surrounding before I struck. "I believe that the entire thing was recorded. As the local police chief, shouldn't you gather the footage and witnesses before making a judgment?" As soon as she said that, Chief James' expression changed. Yet, Nicole continued casually, "Aside from that, I need to say that, even if I'm responsible for the entire fracas, the degree of injury on these people isn't sufficient for you to detain and imprison me. "The state security laws of Nottingbrook State have a clear code in dealing with matters like this. I don't know what law statute you're referring to in detaining me."

Nicole was extremely calm, with nary a trace of panic on her face. When Chief James was questioned like that, his expression turned from surprised to stunned. He did not expect Nicole to have such an understanding of the local laws, and she did not seem to be perturbed by his intimidation at all. She was totally at peace. "Is it me or you who is in charge here?! If I want to lock you up for ten months, it'll be ten months and not a day short!" Nicole's eyes became colder, and Chief James did not seem to take her words seriously. He did not care about the fact of the matter, and he still insisted on arresting her even after she pulled out the law against him. 'How brazen of you!' Just as Nicole was about to say something, a sneer came from behind her. "Chief James, you look all high and mighty there, huh!" Both Nicole and Zeke turned over and saw Edwin swaggering in with a silly smile on his face, Seeing Nicole looking at him, Edwin gave her a comforting smile. "Nicole, don't worry, They cannot do anything to you."

As she heard that, the chill in her eyes melted away slightly. She did not expect Edwin to come over to speak up for her. She pondered for a bit, and it was not hard to guess that it was probably Harvey who sent him here.

Chief James seemed to recognize who Edwin was as a trace of fear appeared in his eyes. The Bradford family had a lot of businesses in Nottingbrook State, and they were quite powerful. However, just Edwin alone was not enough to strike fear in him. When he thought of this, Chief James gave Edwin a glance as he said, "Mr. Bradford, why aren't you in Hustuaburg, and what are you doing here instead?" Edwin was not angry as he guffawed and said, "I'm here to join Gold Session of the Moon House."

As he heard the Moon House being mentioned, Chief James' face twitched a little. He looked at Nicole and said, "You're here to participate in the Gold Session of the Moon House too." Nicole looked at him and said impassively, "That question seems to have nothing to do with the case at hand."

Chief James took this as denial and let out a long sigh of relief. 'If she isn't the guest of the Moon House, there's no one in this area that I cannot cross!' As he thought that, he said contemptuously, "Mr. Bradford, she's already convicted for her crimes. Even God will not be able to save her!"

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 206

Chapter 206

'This isn't Hustuaburg but my turf. What the Bradford family can do to do me?' Chief James sat down as he thought of that. When Bluehead saw his expression, he knew things were settled, and the look in his eyes at Nicole became even more taunting. Edwin did not expect Chief James to not give him any face at all, and his expression immediately changed. "You!"

Contrary, Nicole's expression remained the same as she sat still. Seeing her like this, the two officers behind her walked over, wanting to handcuff her with a pair of bright silver cuffs glinting with cold light.

When Zeke saw that, he immediately wanted to stop the two. But the two officers were tall and large, and his small stature could not get in their way. When Nicole was about to be cuffed and taken away, two voices suddenly came from outside.

"Hod there!"

"Stop!" Harvey walked over hurriedly, and when he saw the two officers stretching their hands out to grab Nicole, a dark glint appeared in his eyes.

He quickly walked to her side. There was nary a wrinkle on his suit, and his hair was combed neatly. He was still elegant as ever, without any flaws.

Edwin looked at Harvey, and a thought flashed past his eyes. Nicole ignored Harvey as she looked at Chief James with a look of yague disappointment on her face.

"I gave you a chance, James." Chief James snorted. "You're about to be put into jail soon. Do I even need you to give me a chance?"

"James Reid, do tell me, who are you going to put into jail again?" The owner of the second voice walked in before Chief James could finish.

Chief James looked on at Nicole with disdain, and he wanted to see what she was pulling. But after getting a good look at that person's face, the mockery on Chief James' face immediately faded away as an incredible paleness took its place,

"Mr. William!" Wilham was a prosecutor. He then looked at Nicole again. Her calm expression showed that she was not surprised by William's appearance. A terrifying conjecture then appeared in James' mind. "Did Mr. Wilbarn come here for Nicole?" William's stern expression also bore the same disappointment as Nicole did. He looked at Chief James and said with a deep voice. "James, I promoted you to the chief of Amhurst District because I trusted you. Yet, in just three years, you've turned into a pig-headed and corrupt b*stard!"

"I've heard the entire interrogation process outside. What kind of coercion did you just pull on this lady here? You've tampered with the national security laws and convicted her just to satisfy your own lust? Is this the conduct of proper police chief?"

Sweat was already streaming down Chief James' head. Mr. William, the prosecutor, was a confidant of the governor. He was an extremely upright person and viewed the law as a tenet of his life. He had always hated all those dirty and corrupt exchanges, and since Mr. William was the one who raised Chief James to his current station, the latter could also dislodge him at any moment. "Mr. William, th-this is just a misunderstanding ... I was just joking with this lady just now. It's just a new interrogation technique..."

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 207

Chapter 207

Seeing that Chief James was backtracking, Bluehead immediately snapped. "You shithead! What are you saying! You promised me to do this broad in! Now you're going back on your words, give me those two hundred thousand bucks back, and just wait for the Thor family to get back at you!"

Chief James secretly cursed that idiot, but with Bluehead blurting everything out, William looked at James icily. "James Reid, how dare you break the law knowing the law? Come with me this once and take your accomplice along with you!"

Just as he said that, a few gendarmes rushed from behind him and arrested James and the dozen other gangsters as they escorted them out. William stayed in the room as he looked at Nicole and did not care about the presence of the other two. He only nodded slightly as he said, "Thank you for reporting this selflessly. Please do not take James' shameless accusations to heart. The governor got me to apologize on his behalf for Nottingbrook State's transgressions."

He had lowered his voice much, and the others could not hear him at all. Yet, at the same time, they were surprised at Mr. William's attitude toward her.

Nicole waved her hand at him, indicating that she did not mind that. When he saw her just wave him off like that, William got even more nervous as he pulled down his military beret off his head, without care for his surroundings as he bowed toward Nicole. "My deepest apologies.

When Harvey saw the scene, a great look of surprise appeared in his eyes. 'This person, the prosecutor who handles the governor of Nottingbrook State's security, is so respectful toward Nicole. What's going on?' A look of helplessness appeared in Nicole's eyes as she pulled his arm, motioning for him to get up. She then looked at him seriously in the eye and said, "I ain't hurt or anything. Pay it no heed, sir."

William looked at her expression and nodded a little before finally asking cautiously, "You will Visit Nottingbrook State again, right?" Nicole's lips curled a little as she gave him a reassuring response. "Of course." Mr. William's azure eyes curled a little as he let out a gentle smile.

"Very well. Where are you staying? I'll send you back." Nicole shook her head, she did not like to come under the attention of so many, let alone be surrounded by the gendarmerie, "Don't mind me I can go back myself." William wanted to say something else, but judging from her expression, he held back He then put on his beret back as he whispered to her. "Please feel free to contact me if anything happens. It was then did he walked away and left. Sering bim leave, Nicole picked up her cap on the table as she said to Zeke, "Let's go." She stood up and ignored the frozen Harvey beside her as she walked toward Edwin, who was watching the entire thing in a daze. She then let out a soft thank you and left with Zeke in tow.

Zeker was, in fact, very shocked, but he had been so shocked for the past two days. Hence,

Nicole doing something that did not shock him would be an unusual thing. He looked at the two, and a touch of sympathy appeared in his eyes. After that, he and Nicole left Nottingbrook State's Amhurst District police station. It was only then did Edwin snap back into reality. He stood by Harvey and whispered. "Harvey, did you call Mr. William over?" He knew the answer in his heart, but he was still hoping against hope. After all, Nicole did not look like such a powerful person, and among them, Harvey was the most influential and powerful one. Yet, Harvey immediately shattered Edwin's hopes. He shook his head, as a distant, lost look appeared in his usually calm eyes. "The prosecutor's attitude said it all just now. He came specifically for Nicole."

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 208

Chapter 208

Although Harvey's influence in Nottingbrook State was enough to get the police district chief to be in awe of him, he was still not a local, and his influence was only a fraction of what it usually was. However, now with the local ruling organ of Nottingbrook State showing up, everything changed.

Looking at how William dealt with James, it was something a foreigner cannot hope to achieve.

When Harvey thought of that, the emotions in his eyes ran deep.

'How did Nicole manage to get Mr. William over? She's just a Hustuaburgian. How does she have such an ability? Even I don't have the ability to call upon a lieutenant governor-level figure...'

He then recalled his grandpa kept trying to set him up with her. 'Nicole, who are you?' As he thought of this, his eyes became even more gloomy. 1. As he left the police station, he gave Shawn a call. "Investigate about Nicole thoroughly, especially from her time at Great Oak. I want you to scour every nook and cranny! Also, there's a boy beside her. I want you to find out who he is as well."

Edwin followed behind, and when he heard Harvey's usually unhurried voice being so eager yet cold, he knew very well how the flames of anger were lit inside Harvey. She was supposed to be a prey that Harvey could just squish in his hands. Yet, she turns out to be the apex predator of the food chain, and she's probably more powerful than Harvey. Of course Harvey is mad.'

Edwin, on the other hand, was not angry. Nicole always surprised him, and he was now sure that the force behind her could resolve the problems his company was now facing. 'Just how am I supposed to get her to help me.' A look of deep thought appeared in Edwin's eyes.

At this moment, Harvey had already hung up the call, and his expression returned to his usual gentleness. Yet he did not even give Edwin a glance as he looked at the two departing figures in the distance and followed.

Nicole and Zeke were waiting for a taxi by the roadside. Looking at her expression, Zeke started to ask the questions he had wanted to ask. "Nicole, were you the one who summoned Mr. William over?" Nicole was looking at the road and just let out a noncommittal "Mhmm." Zeke then tried to push for more answers, "What's the deal with you and him? Why is he so respectful to you?"

It was then did Nicole look at him. She had not been in contact with William much, but instead, she had more contact with another person who was his colleague, the secretary to the governor of Nottingbrook State, If there was ever a relationship, then after some thought, Nicole said, "We are in a cooperative relationship, I suppose."

'A cooperative relationship?'

Zeke looked at Nicole, and when he recalled Mr. William's extremely respectful expression, he motioned that he was not buying it.

Nicole did not say much as she hailed a taxi. Just as she was about to get in, Harvey, who came from behind, grabbed her wrist. 1

There was no smile on his face as he looked firmly at Nicole, with an almost imperceptible restlessness in his voice.

"How did you know Mr. William?"

Zeke had already sat inside the taxi, and when he saw this, he jumped out. "What sort of schoolmate are you? Why can't you just talk normally instead of resorting to force?"

When Harvey heard his voice, he felt a surge of blood rushing up his head. His emotions, already on the brink, were even harder to control now. He turned to look at Zeke, his eyes cold and black, as if a beast was locked within it.

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 209

Chapter 209

Nicole's face instantly turned chilly, and she did not look like she was in the mood to say anything else. Zeke, too, did not show fear in the face of Harvey. "Don't you see Nicole doesn't want you to hold her? Let her go!"

Harvey's voice seeped through the gaps between his teeth and lips. "Shut up!"

When Nicole heard that, she sneered and lifted the left hand Harvey had held in a vise grip as her right hand grabbed onto his wrist with a gentle force. Harvey's hand suddenly felt weak and simply just let go.

Nicole turned around and looked at him, her voice chillingly cold.

"Shut up is something I should be telling you instead."

As she said that, she ignored Harvey as she got into the taxi with Zeke.

The taxi quickly drove away, leaving Harvey alone, holding his right hand. A storm was brewing in his eyes.

He had no idea what was wrong with him, yet he could not suppress the urge to hold Nicole in the palm of his hand.

Nicole and Zeke quickly returned to the hotel. She had initially planned to check out in the morning. Now that both had their belongings with them, they did not need to go upstairs. Hence, they straightaway went to check out and leave.

Dino was waiting by the door, and when he saw Nicole and Zeke coming back, he asked concernedly. "Are you two alright?"

If his expression was not that cold, Zeke was sure that he was sincerely concerned about them.

Nicole gave Dino a faint glance and said casually. "We're fine."

Dino looked at Nicole. There was a hint of something in his eyes.

Before Nicole went out, he even reminded her that she could ask the hotel for help, yet he did not expect that she would have the capability to resolve any issues she encountered in Nottingbrook State.

Thinking of this, he bowed slightly. "It seems like I overthought."
Nicole did not say much and headed straight for the front desk.
She could feel that the hotel manager seemed to be harboring a contemptuous hostility toward her.
However, it did not bother Nicole.
Both she and Zeke completed the check-out process without hassle. Just as they were about to leave, a rather harsh female voice suddenly rang from behind them. "Why are you here?"
Chloe had just returned to the hotel and thought that Nicole must have already been detained at the police station. She did not expect to run into her unscathed at the hotel lobby, with the high and mighty manager bowing to her. –
For Chloe to blurt out such a stupid sentence was because she was simply too surprised..
When Nicole heard that, she raised her eyebrows as she glanced at Chloe.
"Then where you think I should be at then?"
She had not dealt with Chloe yet, and well, here she was serving herself up on a silver platter.
Nicole gave Chloe a chilly look, and the latter was immediately a little flustered. She quickly calmed herself down and smiled a little, pushing her wavy curly hair to the back of her ear as she said softly. "No need to be so hostile. I just did not expect to see you here in the lobby."
When she deflected Nicole's words, it was as if Nicole had something against her. In this way, it looked as if Nicole was the aggressor.
But Zeke did not buy that as he sneered. "Is that so? Bluehead told us that the person who instructed him to cause Nicole trouble is a sissy of a man. Who else could it be but your manager?"
"That means you're an accomplice, and you won't be able to escape!"
Zeke said that in Esperian. Everyone passing through could understand everything they heard. Their eyes looking at Chloe changed immediately.
Chloe's expression changed as she cursed at Luka. 'Didn't he say that we won't be implicated, then why are they pinning it on me?'

My Wife is a Hacker Chapter 210

Chapter 210

However, she had been in this circle for quite some time now. So she had learned how to twist #story perfectly. She immediately retorted, "Don't you go slandering me! Everyone saw it this morning The officers came to take you, and this..."
Having said that, she suddenly paused, as if she felt the name "Nicole" was quite familiar.
"You are Nicole?!"
Nicole looked at Chloe impassively, neither acknowledging nor denying it. It was a cold stare.
A specter of fear soon appeared slowly in Chloe's heart. Although she had not returned home, she had heard her parents say that Uncle Daniel had found his daughter.
'However, didn't they say that Nicole came from the countryside? Why is she in Nottingbrook State's best hotel? Even I can only get to stay by following the crew using the connections to Nachele Holder. Even so, I've only gotten a room on the second floor.'

Chloe did not even see Nicole on the second floor. Seeing how the manager was treating Nicole, Chloe could not help but wonder, 'Does that mean she was staying on the third floor?'

As for the fourth floor, Chloe did not dare to even think of it.

She squinted her eyes as a thought appeared in her charming eyes, yet she still said condescendingly toward Nicole, "Do you know who I am?"

Nicole looked at her with a half-smile and did not answer her.

Just the fact she slandered Zeke the first time they met, her character was obviously poor, and Nicole could not be bothered to talk to her.

At this moment, Harvey, too, had rushed back from the police station, and he immediately saw Nicole standing in the crowd as he slowed down and walked toward her.

He wore a warm smile as he walked toward Nicole's side and ignored both Chloe and Zeke as he said gently to her, "Nicole, I was too abrupt just now. I'm sorry."

Nicole did not look at Harvey, and it was Chloe whose eyes widened in astonishment. "Harvey Ellison!"

Of course she knew Harvey Ellison. He was the alpha jock of the Royal Creek Institute. Although she had not been attending school much due to filming, she still knew who Harvey was.

Even when she relied on her connection with the Rogers branch family, it was difficult for her to even talk to him. He was a person who could stay on the fourth floor of the Assoria Castle!

However, Harvey was actually apologizing to Nicole at this moment.

Chloe's eyes were full of bewilderment. She did not know what was going on with this country cousin of hers.

However, she quickly turned around and let out a charming smile. "Harvey, you may not know, but this Nicole is my cousin. You can just tell me if there's anything. But in any case, Nicole, Harvey has lowered himself to apologize to you. So, don't you dare not appreciate his kindness."

She looked at Nicole. A threatening gaze lined the tip of her charming eyes.

She acted as if she would not let her go if Nicole did not accept Harvey's apology.

Harvey heard what Chloe said and then raised his eyes to look at her for a second.

As if he thought of something, he did not say anything else, seemingly wanting to see if Nicole would listen to Chloe or not and whether she would accept his apology or not.

Nicole gave the two an impassive glance as she said to Chloe. "I have nothing to say to you. The police, on the other hand, should have plenty to ask you. So just save your breath."

As she said that, she did not even look at Harvey as she waved at Zeke. "Let's go."

Zeke quickly followed behind, and when Chloe saw Nicole straight up ignoring her, she was so angry she could no longer maintain her smile. She pushed Zeke away and said to Nicole, "Nicole, do you not know shame? Let me tell you, this is Harvey Ellison. Don't you drag the entire Riddle family down because of your selfishness!"

