MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2061-After making up her mind, Nicole got up and headed downstairs. Soon, she reached the lobby.

“Nicole!” Lulu and June waved their hands enthusiastically when they spotted Nicole.

“Lulu! June!” When she reached the girls, Nicole smiled. “Since it’s lunch time, let’s have lunch together.”

“Sure! We were thinking of treating you to a meal too.” It was an opportunity for them to get together as well. It had been five years. There had not been any news about Nicole for five years and the girls were worried sick.

Nicole brought them to a restaurant near the office building. They found a table somewhat hidden from view and sat down.

After they had ordered, Lulu asked impatiently, “Nicole, what have you been through in the past five years? Why didn’t you return for so long?”

“I ran into some problems.” Nicole thought twice and still decided not to tell Lulu and June the truth.

Nicole did not know how to break the news to the two girls. She was not sure if they could accept the things which she would say. Therefore, she decided to keep it a secret.

“What kind of problem?” June could tell that Nicole was struggling to say what she wanted. So, June lowered her volume a little.

“The Riddle family had always been saying that you were in danger, so Jared hid you to protect you.” Lulu speculated based on the clues she knew. Then, she seemed to recall something. There was a huge change to her expression. “You met a bad guy!”

On top of that, it must be one that was difficult to deal with. Otherwise, why would Nicole hide for five years and only decide to return now?

“You could say so.” Nicole followed suit and agreed to Lulu’s guess. Although it did not really fit the exact situation, the cause was similar.

“Then, are you safe now?” Lulu scanned their surroundings subconsciously, as if there could be bad people around them.

Nicole could not help but laugh at the way Lulu was acting.

Nicole reassured her, “Yeah, I’m safe now.”

Although Nicole still had enemies at San Joto, she still considered herself safe at that moment.

“That’s great.” Lulu heaved an obvious sigh of relief.

June’s pale face also regained some color. She could not help but remind Nicole, “Although it might seem like everything is fine at the moment, prevention is better than cure. It’s best for you to be careful whenever you’re out.”

“Don’t worry. I can take care of myself,” Nicole replied happily. Deep down, she felt touched. Although she could not remember them, they gave her a sense of kindness and comfort.

Soon, the food was served. All three of them began to enjoy their food while chatting.

After Nicole had briefly talked about her own problems, she began to ask about Lulu and June’s updates.

“June’s doing alright. I’m the unlucky one.” Lulu complained to Nicole all about her challenges at work and her miserable life at the moment.

“Don’t bother. I’ve already advised her to quit her job and develop elsewhere a long time ago. But she doesn’t listen. And now, she’s complaining that she’s being bullied by her manager,” June said while shaking her head.

“It’s easy for you to say! It isn’t easy to find such a high- paying job.” Lulu sighed. She wanted to switch jobs too, but there was no way she could quit just like that.

“You want to switch jobs?” Nicole raised her eyebrow slightly as she questioned Lulu.

Lulu sighed, rested her head on the table and said, “It’s easy to talk about it, but it’s difficult to put it into action. After all, reality is too harsh.”

“If your life is so miserable, doesn’t my brother care about that?” Nicole frowned. ‘That’s too much!’

The expression on Lulu’s face changed instantly, and she warned Nicole in a stern voice, “You can’t tell Spencer!”

Lulu was too embarrassed to talk about such things.

Spencer was already a professional violinist, and yet Lulu had not achieved anything. Therefore, she wanted to make herself into someone worthy of Spencer through her own efforts.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2062-Hearing this, Nicole seemed to have a thought. She asked Lulu, “If you really want to switch jobs, would you be willing to jump ship and work for our company?”

“Riddle Corporation?” Lulu was so stunned that her mouth gaped wide open. This was something she dared not even dream of.

“If you want, you can report to work at our office on Monday. But if you don’t want to, I won’t force you either. You can make this decision yourself.” Nicole shrugged her shoulders and spoke calmly.

“Alright, I’ll think about it carefully,” Lulu answered solemnly.

June rolled her eyes at Lulu in annoyance. “You’re only thinking about it?”

The Riddle Corporation was not a company where anyone could just join. Now that Nicole had given the invitation, Lulu should have just accepted it. She was actually going to think about it first?

Lulu scratched her head awkwardly. "I just thought of going through some professional books later when I head back. If I see any potential in this, then I'll go for it. Otherwise, I won't take it on. At the end of the day, I can't tarnish Nicole's name, right?"

It turns out that Lulu did have a plan. Nicole could not help but laugh out loud, and she shook her head. "Don't be nervous or put so much pressure on yourself. I believe you can do it."

"That's right. I think you've lost your self-confidence because of that bald manager's grooming. When you get back later, throw a resignation letter to him and tell him that you're leaving. That way, you won't have to see that ugly face anymore." June patted Lulu's shoulder and persuaded her.

"Hahaha! Okay, I'll take your advice," Lulu agreed immediately.

"You should've done so long ago," June spoke as if she exasperated. Then, she turned to Nicole and said, "You have no idea about this but ever since she graduated, she found this job and had compromised herself for it."

"Hehe," Lulu laughed innocently.

"She must have her own considerations. The impact reality has on us will always force us to succumb to certain things." Nicole's gaze was calm, but her words carried a strong meaning.

"I remember the time when we were still in school. That was such a wonderful time," June said sentimentally.

She understood what Nicole meant. The years after their graduation, everyone had been going through a lot of things. But they were growing a lot as well.

At the mention of their schooling days, Nicole could only smile and listen. After all, she could not remember anything. But by how excited June and Lulu's conversation was when they talked about interesting things from the past, Nicole's smile became wider.

Even after they had finished lunch, they were not done with their conversations yet.

“I have to get back now, but I really hate to leave the both of you,” Lulu said while tugging Nicole reluctantly.

“Soon you’d be able to follow Nicole daily,” June said jokingly.

Lulu regained her spirits instantly. “That’s true. I’ll resign when I head back.”

The three girls left the restaurant and went their own ways.

June went back to her office and continued to work. Lulu was in high spirits to resign. Nicole was the only one heading back to the office calmly.

Although her expression was stern, there were hints of excitement in her eyes. She might not remember her best friends, but the feeling she felt while they were together could not be a lie. Nicole was already looking forward to Lulu joining her.

Time flew by quickly. In a blink of an eye, it was already the weekend.

Previously, Lana had made a deal with Nicole and Jared to hangout during the weekend. Lana was already anticipating it earlier on. Finally, the time had arrived, and she woke up early in the morning.

“Daddy, mommy! It’s the weekend!” Lana ran into Nicole and Jared’s room. Then, she climbed onto their bed with her tiny legs and sandwiched herself between Nicole and Jared.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2063-It was still early. Nicole was a little reluctant when she was woken up by her daughter. “Lana, it’s too early.”

This little one would stay in bed when she had to go to school, but she could wake up this early during the weekends.

“But I’m so excited that I can’t sleep anymore!” Lana did not feel any sense of guilt. In fact, she was determined.

Jared got up and carried Lana up. “Alright, I’ll help you get ready. We’ll let mommy sleep for a bit more. Is that okay?”

“Okay,” Lana agreed happily. She was extremely satisfied.

Nicole’s lips twitched. ‘This little one did not come here for me at all.’

However, Nicole really did not have a good sleep, and it was too early in the morning. After Jared had carried Lana out of the room, Nicole pulled the blanket over herself and continued sleeping.

When Nicole woke up once again, she found the two little ones staring at her while resting their chins in their palms.

Nicole was instantly tickled with joy by that sight. She could not help it and said, “When did you guys get here?”

“We’ve been waiting for you for a long time, mommy.” Lana pouted and said, “Mommy, the sun is asking you to wake up. Hurry, get up!”

Nicole was stunned. Those were the words which she usually said to Lana, and now, this little one used it on her.

Nicole sat up and peeked at the time. It was already nine o’clock. She definitely slept for a little too long.

“Where’s daddy?” While getting out of bed, Nicole casually questioned them. She remembered that Jared had brought Lana out of the room and helped her get ready earlier.

The only thing was that Nicole did not realize how natural her tone and expression was when she asked that question. It was as if the four of them had been living together as a family for a long time.

“Daddy’s downstairs. He only allowed us to stay here when we promised not to wake you up.” Lana blinked her eyes playfully and smiled. “Daddy really cares about you, mommy. You really picked a good deal when fishing.”

Being teased by the little one, Nicole blushed and chased them out. “The both of you can wait downstairs first. I’ll be there with all of you soon.”

“Okay, mommy. Please be quick!” Lana ran out happily.

Nolan glanced and hesitated for a moment. Then, he followed Lana out.

After Nicole had washed up and changed, she headed downstairs. Everyone else in the house had gone out. Gloria, Daniel, and Jared were the only ones left, watching over the two kids.

“You should eat something before we head out.” Jared got up and ushered Nicole to the dining room.

Soon, the maids served breakfast. After Nicole finished eating, she went to the living room.

“Mom, dad, since the both of you are free today, why don’t the both of you join us?” Nicole suggested.

“You guys go ahead. We’ll pass.” Gloria smiled. This was a good opportunity for Jared and Nicole to bond. She was hoping that the two of them would develop feelings for each other again. The wedding had been postponed for five years. Gloria was already impatient.

“Alright then.” Nicole seemed a little uneasy as she understood the meaning behind Gloria’s smile. She knew that Gloria and Daniel would not join them no matter what, so she could only resign herself to it.

Soon, Jared and Nicole brought the two little kids out of the house.

“Where are we going?” asked Nicole.

Jared was the one who planned the agenda. She was unaware of the details.

“We’re going for a picnic,” he replied.

“Yeah! Daddy and I had prepared a lot of yummy food,” Lana said with a wide smile on her face.

Because she was too excited and had woken up really early, she and Jared had a lot of time to prepare everything.

“You prepared these?” Nicole was a little shocked. After all, this little one was still very young.

“Yeah!” Lana nodded vigorously.

Then, Nicole patted Lana’s head happily. “Lana is such a grown up now. She can prepare her own meal now.”

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2064-“I did it with daddy too!” Lana was very happy to be praised. She hugged Jared’s arm to emphasize that point. She seemed to be waiting for Nicole to praise Jared as well.

Nicole was laughing while covering her face. She could only utter a word of gratitude. “Thank you.”

She really did not know what to praise Jared for. It seemed no matter what she said, it would seem weird.

Nicole rolled her eyes at Jared. ‘Can’t this guy speak normally?’

Lana covered her mouth and giggled. She secretly sneaked a wink to Jared. It was as if she was saying, ‘Go, daddy, go!’

Jared looked at Lana lovingly. Then, he lifted his hand and patted Lana on the head.

Nolan could not help but roll his eyes at Lana. He crossed his arms in front of his chest with an angry look on his face, as if he was a little adult.

Unsatisfied, Lana looked at Nolan and raised her chin at him. After that, she proceeded to hug Jared’s arm tighter.

Nicole was a little speechless upon witnessing the interaction between the two kids. However, Jared curled his lips and smiled. Lana was cute, and Nolan’s actions did not anger him at all. Jared knew that one day, Nolan would accept him.

The car came to a halt. They had reached their picnic spot.

Although the plan was to have an outdoor activity, Jared did not bring them to a desolate place out of town. In fact, he chose a park in the suburbs. The park he chose featured nature. All the scenery consisted of natural wildlife, and it made them feel like they were in paradise.

“It’s so beautiful here!” Lana fell in love with that place at first sight. There were mountains, rivers, fields, and waterfalls. That view would make anyone desire to be in that place.

Jared curled his lips and smiled. “It’s good that you like it.”

This was a place which Jared had specifically chosen. He knew that Nicole would love it.

“Nicole.” Just as they were about to walk around and admire the scenery, a familiar voice sounded.

Jared turned around to look and found Lawrence approaching them. A cold look flashed across Jared’s eyes. If someone were to tell him that this was a coincidence, Jared would not have believed it.

But how did Lawrence know that Jared was going to bring Nicole to this place? Jared had never told anyone about it before.

Nicole was a little shocked as well. She could not help but frown and questioned doubtfully, “Why are you here?”

“I guess it’s fate.” Lawrence knew that no one would believe him if he said that it was a coincidence. Therefore, he chose to give an inconclusive reply.

Hearing this, Nicole seemed to have thought of something. She turned to look at Nolan.

Nolan seemed to be avoiding Nicole’s gaze, so he quickly looked down.

Nicole instantly came to a realization. The reason Lawrence could follow her all the way there and appear at such a time was because Nolan had switched on Nicole’s location tracking on her phone. So, Lawrence could track her.

Looking at Nicole and Nolan, Jared also understood it.

‘This little brat... Were we enemies in our past life? Is that why he’s here to destroy all of my good things?’

“Mr. Lawrence, are you hanging out at this place alone?” Jared purposely questioned as if he did not notice anything.

Lawrence understood the implicit meaning behind Jared's question, so he replied straightforwardly, "I was. But since I've bumped into them, I'm thinking of hanging out with them. it

Knowing that Lawrence was referring to Nicole and the kids, Jared nodded. "That's a good idea. Then, let's go together."

Lawrence was taken aback by the reply. Nicole was also surprised. 'He actually agreed to it so quickly?'

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2065-"Go get the bag." Jared held Nicole's hand and took the bag they had prepared out of the car. He then walked toward the garden with Nicole.

"Since you want to spend time with the kids, I'm going to leave them in your hands." Jared walked past Lawrence and left him this remark before leaving with Nicole.

Lawrence immediately turned into stone. "So he became a nice guy because he wanted me to look after the kids?!"

Nicole also realized this and could not help but look at Jared. "Jared, you're the father of Nolan and Lana," she whispered.

"Is it really okay to leave the responsibility to Lawrence like this?"

"He is also their Godpa," Jared said nonchalantly. Besides, Lawrence said that he would accompany the children as well.

Jared casually left out Lawrence's mention of "them", which, most importantly, included Nicole.

"Jared, I never knew you were so petty," Nicole said. She was rather speechless as she shot him a disdainful look.

"Actually, I've always been petty, you just don't remember," Jared whispered in her ear in a low voice.

Due to his slightly seductive tone, Nicole's cheek turned pink. His dominance had made her heart pound uncontrollably.

Lawrence's gaze darkened as he watched their interaction before his eyes. Though he knew that Jared was doing it on purpose, he could not refute it.

"Let's go, Godpa," Nolan pulled Lawrence, wanting to catch up with Jared and Nicole.

He secretly informed his Godpa to come over as he could not miss the opportunity to give his Godpa the chance to win his mother over.

"I'm coming too." Lana followed them as she knew what was going on. Of course, Lana would not disappoint her father.

The group entered the park with their own thoughts.

Jared and Nicole walked ahead, completely immersed in the joy of sightseeing. Nicole felt a bit resentful as she found it awkward. 'We should all be together as a family and not just leave our kids behind with Lawrence.'

On the other hand, Nolan was pulling Lawrence with him, trying to catch up with Jared and Nicole. Meanwhile, Lana was playing around and stopping from time to time, making it impossible for them to walk faster. Nolan and Lawrence could not leave Lana behind, so they had to slow down for her.

All five of them had extremely good looks and the dynamic between them was rather strange, which caused passersby to glance back a few times.

When they were finally tired, Jared took Nicole to rest in a small pavilion.

Lawrence and the children finally caught up with them. His eyes darkened when he saw Jared's indifferent gaze. In fact, he even regretted it a little. He wondered if he should even be out here today. 'Not only did my original plan fail, but I also had to watch them being so affectionate with each other!' Lawrence was not having it at all.

'Is it true that Jared is someone that you can't offend? Because it really seems like it.'

However, Lawrence looked at Nicole and thought, 'But there are certain things that could not be easily put to an end once it started.'

Nicole happened to look up and saw the complicated look in his eyes. She could not help but bite her lip and say, "You can go back first, Lawrence."

She felt that it was strange to ask Lawrence to take care of their children, and she did not want to burden him any further.

“It’s okay. Today is a weekend. Mr. Lawrence shouldn’t have anything else to do,” Jared said as he was rather satisfied with how he was manipulating everyone.

Nicole rolled her eyes at him, signaling him to stop talking. Although Lawrence was there for a reason, he still was not free labor. All she had to do was to reject Lawrence clearly. There was no need to put him through this, and she felt uncomfortable with him following them too.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2066-“Mommy, I want to play with Godpa.” Nolan saw that Nicole wanted Lawrence to leave, but he did not want Lawrence to go.

“Nolan.” Nicole felt defeated as he pulled them together.1 Godpa also has his own things to do.”

“Daddy just said that Godpa is resting too,” Lana said innocently.

Nicole’s lips twitched slightly. “Does Lana want Lawrence to stay as well?”

She could not help but shake her head when she happened to catch a glimpse of Lana smiling brightly at Jared. ‘This little girl is too cheeky. Did she inherit Jared’s deviousness?’

“Go home, Lawrence. We’ll take care of the kids.” Nicole made a firm decision. Regardless of Nolan and Lana’s intentions, she had to make Lawrence leave.

This was the only way she could ensure that no one would have any ulterior motives.

Looking at Nicole’s gaze, Lawrence understood that he had no other choice but to agree. ”Sure.”

With a smile, he said, "I won't disturb you anymore then. But please remember the big meal you promised me."

He deliberately glanced at Jared after saying this and saw Jared's expression darken. With that, Lawrence was finally satisfied, and he walked away.

'He just had to provoke me.' Jared's gaze turned cold as he looked at Lawrence.

"A big meal?" Jared's lips curled up involuntarily as he looked at Nicole.

"Mommy, are you going on a date with Godpa?" Nolan's eyes instantly lit up.

Lana frowned disapprovingly. "Nolan, stop saying nonsense. Friends can also eat together. We were like that on the island too."

Everything would be fine if Lana did not say anything. But once she had made that remark, Nicole was at a loss for words as she thought, 'Are you really helping me out?'

"I'm hungry. Let's find a place for a picnic." Nicole took the big bag with her, leaving abruptly. All she wanted to do was escape.

Seeing her obviously guilty behavior, Jared narrowed his eyes. He then took Lana and Nolan by their hands and said, "Let's go for a picnic."

Lana did not understand, but she followed him obediently anyway.

Nolan looked up at Jared, feeling somewhat proud. "When we were on the island, Godpa always took us out to play. We would eat together quite often too. One time, Mommy got sick, and Godpa took care of us."

Jared looked down and warned him with a glance. "Your Godpa might not have gone far. Maybe you can ask him to take you back with him."

Nolan immediately fell silent. 'I can't go back. Godpa left, so who's going to keep an eye on this jerk? Lana is useless, so I'm the only one in charge.'

Jared knew that Nolan was trying to provoke him, so Jared gave a warning. When he saw that Nolan kept quiet obediently, he did not ask further as well.

Looking up, he saw that Nicole had already found an open space with shade from a big tree. It was a good spot for a picnic. He then walked over with the children and prepared for the picnic with Nicole.

After laying out the picnic mat, everyone took out the prepared food and placed it on the mat.

They sat down on the mat, and Nolan and Lana could no longer wait and started eating. They were famished and tired after walking a distance.

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2067-Watching the two children eat happily, a trace of amusement flashed in Jared's eyes as he handed a fruit box to Nicole. "Have some."

Nicole felt inexplicably guilty because of what happened earlier. Though she knew that there was nothing wrong with having a meal with a friend, she could not help but feel nervous in front of Jared.

"Daddy, why didn't you find us earlier? If you had found us earlier, we could've played on the island together," Lana said while eating, not forgetting to question Jared.

'If Daddy had found us earlier, he could've taken us out to play and enjoy some delicious food. That would've been awesome.'

Jared's mood was already gloomy because of Lawrence, but he had no reason to blame Nicole. After all, she did not remember him. However, Lana's words made his heart ache.

"I've been looking for you all this time." Jared's gaze dimmed and his voice became hoarse.

He had never given up searching for them for the last five years, but Nicole seemed to have vanished from the face of the earth without a single trace of her existence.

However, unbeknownst to him, someone had erased all traces of Nicole, which was why Jared was always unsuccessful in searching for Nicole. He knew that Nicole had done it for the sake of the safety of their children, but Jared figured that Lawrence must have had a hand in it as well, and his intentions might not be as pure as Nicole's.

Lawrence's explanation seemed reasonable on the day Jared and he met, but Jared did not fully believe it.

Even if their country was dangerous, Lawrence could have told him, and he could have gone abroad to find Nicole.

Besides, Lawrence had even given Nicole a new identity. Perhaps from the beginning, Lawrence never wanted her to become Nicole again.

If Jared had known that seeking Lawrence's help would lead to five years of separation from Nicole, he would rather do things the hard way than seek Lawrence for help.

Suddenly, the air around Jared turned cold. Nicole looked at him and caught a glimpse of heartbreak and desolation in his eyes. It left her heart aching.

Even without her memories, Nicole knew from what her family had told her that Jared had put in a lot of effort in the last five years. But his attempts would always yield no results. 'It must be really difficult to bear such pain.'

Nicole bit her lip and took the fruit box from him, casually opening it and eating. Her expression seemed indifferent as she said, "I almost died when I came back to San Joto.

Lawrence saved me and it took nearly half a year for me to recover and be able to move freely. After that, I was afraid to come back for the sake of the children. So, it's understandable that you couldn't find us."

Jared raised an eyebrow and asked, "Are you comforting me?"

"I just hope you can see the reality of things and not blame yourself so much." Nicole rolled her eyes at him. 'I shouldn't have been moved by him just now. I fell into his trap again.'

Jared's eyes darkened slightly. "Everything's in the past. You're back now."

"Daddy-"

When Lana was about to speak, Nicole immediately shoved some fruit into her mouth as she did not want her to speak. She was worried that she could not handle it.

With her mouth full of fruit, Lana could only swallow back her words and eat the fruit.

“Try this. I made it myself.” Jared handed a dessert to Nicole.

Nicole looked at him with a confused look. “You know how to make these?”

“Are you doubting my skills?” Jared gestured with his eyes, suggesting that Nicole should try it to find out.

Jared smiled. They could not bring coffee with them, so he used coffee powder to make the dessert as he figured that she would like it.

Nicole took a bite and nodded in satisfaction almost instantly. “It’s heavenly.”

Just moments ago, she was regretting not being able to drink coffee, and now there was a dessert that was made with coffee powder. It immediately satisfied her taste buds, and a warm feeling filled her heart. She did not expect him to be so thoughtful.

“I’m glad you like it.” Jared smiled as if her satisfaction was his biggest motivation.

Nicole patted Lana’s head affectionately. “Thank you so much.”

“But Daddy did most of the work. Aren’t you going to thank him too?” Lana asked with a smile.

Nicole felt a little helpless as she thought inwardly. 'I should've never given Lana a chance to speak.'

"It's fine. I enjoy cooking for Mommy very much." Jared handed the dessert without coffee powder to Nolan and Lana and said, "This is yours."

"Thank you, Daddy," Lana said and lifted her chin toward Nicole as if to say, 'Mommy, this is how you do it.'

"Thank you, Uncle Jared." Nolan was very irritated, so he deliberately said the word 'uncle' loudly.

Everyone paused for a moment. Then, Nicole softly bit her lip, trying to suppress her laughter. 'I guess Jared is both happy and frustrated to have these two children.*

"Why are you smiling?" Jared leaned closer to Nicole and said in an enchanting voice as if he could read her mind.

"N-nothing." Nicole tried her best to not laugh because she knew that Jared would give her hell if she laughed out loud.

Although she managed to hold it in, her restrained expression gave her away. Jared's gaze turned darker as he spoke in a slightly low tone, "Are you happy that your son called me uncle?"

"I'm not." Nicole immediately shook her head as she put on a straight face and comforted Jared. "Look, Lana has already accepted you. Just give Nolan a little more time."

Jared looked at Lana and felt slightly better. 'My daughter is more considerate. I'm actually starting to hate this son of mine now.'

Nolan noticed how Jared looked at him and he lifted his chin arrogantly at Jared as if to challenge him.

Jared held Lana in his arms and asked in a gentle voice, "What else do you feel like eating?"

"Thanks, Daddy, but I'm already full."

"Go play then."

“Okay!”

Nolan looked away awkwardly after seeing the affectionate interaction between Jared and Lana.

“Jared, how old are you?” Nicole glared at Jared, annoyed. She could not believe that Jared was actually being so petty with a child, a child of his own.

Jared smirked without saying anything. He just wanted to teach that little brat a lesson.

Feeling defeated, Nicole rolled her eyes at him and began cleaning up. Then, Nolan and Lana helped her.

Everything was put away very quickly, and they continued walking forward.

Jared’s mood got noticeably better without Lawrence’s presence. A family trip was meant to be for family only. Lawrence’s presence was simply unnecessary.

On the other hand, after leaving, Lawrence went back to the city.

“I’m going to Happiness Trading,” Lawrence replied in a cold tone.

Ian paused. “Happiness Trading? Aren’t they in a conflict with the Johnston Group?”

“Why does he want to go there now?”

“Well, only the strong ones will prevail in business competitions.” A hint of darkness flashed across Lawrence’s eyes as he spoke. Since Jared loved to ruin his plans so much, he would take away Jared’s ability to do that.

“Got it,” Ian said. He drove toward the office of Happiness Trading.

The setting sun cast a warm glow in the sky.

After Jared, Nicole, Nolan, and Lana spent the entire day outside, they went back to the Riddle residence happily.

As they entered the house, they found out that Daniel and Gloria were not there. Only Stanley, Samuel, and Spencer were present.

Nicole could not help but ask curiously, "Where's Mom and Dad?"

"Grandpa suddenly wanted to see them," Stanley replied.

Nicole widened her gaze, shocked. "Did anything happen to Grandpa?"

"I'm not sure." Samuel shook his head. "They left in a hurry and didn't get to tell us anything. They said that our uncles were already there, so they went to see what was happening. N

For some reason, Nicole felt like something bad had happened. She frowned and said, "Please take care of Nolan and Lana. I'll go check it out."

Nicole figured that it would not just be a simple gathering after how her grandfather suddenly summoned not only her parents but her uncles too.

"Let's just wait for them to come back first," Spencer suggested. After all, Nicole might not necessarily be able to solve anything with her current situation.

"I'll go with you." Although Jared knew what Stanley was worried about, he also knew that Nicole would not change her mind after making a decision.

He figured that they would probably be able to help if there was really a problem, and it would be too late if they were to wait for Daniel and Gloria's return.

"Sure," Nicole agreed. She felt a sense of reassurance when Jared said that he would go with her.

After hearing what Jared said, the Riddle brothers did not object to Nicole's decision anymore. Then, they carried Nolan and Lana in their arms.

Although Nolan and Lana did not know what was happening, they knew that they had to be obedient and not cause any more problems for their mother. So, they stayed with their uncles and patiently waited for their parents and grandparents to return.

Nicole and Jared arrived at the Riddle family manor in a short amount of time.

The spacious living room was bustling. Damien, Dillon, Dexter, and Daniel were all there with their wives. However, Raine and her husband were the only younger generation there when Nicole arrived with Jared.

“Nicole, why are you here?” Daniel and Gloria were a little surprised to see Nicole and Jared there.

“It’s the weekend. Jared and I wanted to pay Grandpa a visit after finishing our work.” Nicole smiled and swept her gaze across everyone there. Then, she pretended to be shocked and said, “But I wasn’t expecting everyone here to do the same. It looks like we’re going to have a feast today.”

When Nicole noticed that only his father’s brothers were there, she knew that her grandfather did not want the younger generation to be there. So, she could only pretend that she came by coincidence.

However, when Nicole’s gaze fell on Raine and her husband, a knowing look flashes across her face.

‘I wonder what Raine heard that made her come up with an excuse to come here too.’

“Why didn’t anyone notify me about this meeting?” Nicole pretended to be confused.

“Don’t you see that it’s only among the elders? You’re young, so you don’t have to join us.” Karen scoffed.

Nicole’s gaze fell onto Raine. “So did Raine join on your behalf because your memory is deteriorating?”

“Why, you!” Karen was speechless and unable to refute. All she could do was glare at Nicole fiercely.

She had already told Raine to wait at home, but Raine had insisted on coming along, which was why she was in a difficult position now.

“I came to visit Grandpa too. I didn’t expect to encounter the elders having a meeting. Why don’t we go out for a walk, Nicole?” Raine displayed a clever and understanding demeanor. She even used morality to pressure Nicole and make her leave.

Nicole’s lips curled with a hint of amusement. “Have you seen Grandpa already?”

“Yes, I’ve paid my respects and chatted with him for a while, ” Raine replied. She was confused but had no choice but to answer.

“In that case, you can leave first, Raine. After all, I just arrived and I still want to talk with Grandpa,” Nicole said as took a seat with Jared.

Raine was furious as her face turned pale. She was outsmarted by Nicole once again. ‘After all these years, Nicole is still sharp-tongued and quick-witted.’

What should I do now? I won’t be able to hear anything if I leave, but I can’t stay after saying those things earlier.’

“Raine, since Nicole decided to stay, let’s stay as well. It might be awkward if they’re the only younger ones present,” Raine’s husband, James, mediated immediately.

Karen quickly took the chance to agree. “Yes, let’s all stay.”

After all, it also concerned their interests. Having two more people listen would bring in more ideas.

Nicole sneered as she shrugged casually, looking unaffected. It was like their decision had nothing to do with her at all. She then turned her gaze toward the sofa where Mr. Riddle Sr. was sitting and observing everyone with a cold gaze.

“You seem a bit unwell, Grandpa. Have you not been taking care of yourself properly?” Nicole frowned discontentedly.” Is it because of these unfilial children that your health is suffering?”

“Hmph. With these unfilial children around, how can I ever be in good health?” Mr. Riddle Sr. snorted in dissatisfaction.

Damien and Dillion’s faces turned grim. They could only force themselves to say, “Father, we’re only doing this for the good of the Riddle family.”

“Grandpa, what’s made you so angry?” Nicole squinted slightly as she realized that her relatives’ return was not purely for benevolent reasons.

“Hmph!” Mr. Riddle Sr huffed in anger before looking at Nicole. “These people are coveting the properties that are under our family’s name.”

“Properties?” Nicole was puzzled. The company and assets had already been divided among the branches, and her grandfather’s shares had been given to her. What else was there to be divided?

Mr. Riddle Sr. swept his sharp gaze over Damien and Dillion before saying in a stern voice, “I’m telling you. The immovable properties under our family name are off-limits to all of you.”

“Grandpa, you can’t give it to Nicole again. Can you not be so biased?” Raine panicked when she heard that. She had already married into a second-rate family, and her husband had no status within the family. If she could not gain anything from the Riddle family, how was she going to live her life in the future?

“Whether I give it to Nicole or not is all dependent on Nicole’s abilities,” Mr. Riddle Sr. said firmly.

“Father, what do you mean by this?” Dillion asked in confusion.

‘Even though Father favored Nicole so much, he’s saying that there’s no guarantee that she would inherit the wealth of the Riddle family. Who else has a chance then?’
