

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2111

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2111-“Are you sure everything’s alright? Why’s your face so red?” Lulu asked, stretching her hand out in an effort to feel Nicole’s forehead for a fever.

After ducking away from Lulu’s hand, Nicole replied, “I’m fine, really. It’s a little hot today.”

“Hot?” Lulu looked over at the thermostat, through which the temperature for the air conditioner had been set to the lowest.

Nicole then followed Lulu’s gaze. ‘How could I find such a lame excuse!?’

“Nicole, you’re not feeling hot. Are you...shy?” Lulu discovered in surprise, seeming to understand why Nicole looked a little off.

Overwhelmed by an instant surge of embarrassment, Nicole went ahead and protested, “No, why would I be shy?”

“Oh.’ Lulu frowned, thinking for a while before nodding.” You’re right.”

Finally, Nicole heaved a mental sigh of relief as she saw that Lulu did not press on with any further questions. “Okay.

There’s nothing wrong with me, you can go do your work.”

“Okay, then I’ll be off now” Lulu turned around and left the office.

Once again, Nicole unconsciously recalled her dream from the night before, and when she did, her face flushed a deep shade of red once more.

That train of thought was only derailed when she heard a knock on the door, allowing her to snap out of it and say, “Come in.”

Lulu opened the door and entered before placing a document on Nicole’s desk with a serious expression on her face. “There seems to be a problem.”

“Where?” Nicole opened the document suspiciously, skimming through the contents with her eyebrows furrowed.

“Nicole, what’s the problem? I was called over by the president’s secretary. The look on her face was a little weird when she said this is for you. So, I brought this over immediately.”

Lulu’s face was twisted in a panic, as she could sense that things were not right from the look on the president’s secretary’s face.

An icy glint suddenly flashed in Nicole’s eyes, “Someone is deliberately causing us trouble again.”

“Trouble?” Lulu became puzzled, but in less than a second, she understood that Nicole was referring to Dillon and Damien.

“Damien.” Nicole uttered slowly as her eyes became even frostier.

“What did he do?” Lulu’s expression changed immediately. ‘Is it because of yesterday’s stock fluctuations? But it didn’t harm the branch company, so why is he starting a fight in an empty house?’

“He reported us to the police.” The corner of Nicole’s mouth curled up as she snickered. ‘Only he would think of something as devious as this.’

Lulu’s eyes widened in shock. “He reported you?!”

‘What are we going to do? Why did he report her?’ Lulu panicked.

“It’s okay. You may return to your work,” said Nicole composedly. ‘Since he wants to take it out on the main branch, I’d like to see him try to obtain any solid evidence.’

However, Lulu was still worried as she asked, “Are you sure everything’s okay?”

“Yeah. It’s all nonsense, anyway.” Nicole placed the document down after she had read its contents, paying it little to no mind.

‘If Dillion had discovered that it was Nolan’s fault, I would have to think of someone who has appeared to be more competent than Preston seems to be. But now, he’s suspecting that the main office has messed with his stocks. It’s completely absurd. Not even I would use this silly method to deal with them,’ she thought.

Relieved when she saw how confident Nicole was, Lulu nodded and agreed, “Okay, if you need anything, do let me know.”

Nicole watched as Lulu left. Then, she glanced at the document once more, sneered, and picked the phone up to make a call. “Steve.”

“I saw the document,” Steve said, cutting to the chase.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2112

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2112-“Yeah,” Nicole replied with a hint of amusement in her voice. “Where did they get the fake evidence from?”

“Well, since it’s fake, they probably forged it themselves.” Steve said in a nonchalant tone, knowing that Damien and Dillion just wanted to shift the blame to the main office.

“But since they have reported us, don’t you think it’s a little over the top?” Nicole asked, feeling a little puzzled with their actions. ‘They even dare to report us to the police after fabricating evidence.’

“Um...” Steve hesitated for a while before responding. “I fail to understand how they’ve gotten a secretary to give you that document. I’d like to know how they’ve pulled it off too.”

Indeed, Steve felt that something was wrong. ‘Why would Dillon dig a grave for himself?’

“Steve, do you think someone has leaked the news to them? ” Nicole suddenly thought of a possibility.

“You mean that they have gotten someone to investigate and found some actual, solid evidence...?”

‘If this is the case, then this is the only reasonable explanation I can think of. I know Dillon is suspicious of us, but to dig and actually possess evidence against us? He really isn’t letting us off the hook, by the looks of it.’

“Probably.” Nicole sighed, feeling a little distressed. “Does grandpa know about this?”

It was a certainty that Nicole was not afraid of anything, but for these issues to reach the ears of her grandfather would be a little too much for the old man to swallow. After all, it was a battle between his sons and grandchildren.

“It’s a rather huge piece of news, so I doubt it’s impossible for him not to know.” Steve’s voice became low and heavy, as he too understood what Nicole meant.

Nicole knew what Steve said was right. “Okay, since things have already boiled over, let’s just wait for the outcome.”

“So, what are you going to do now?” Steve asked.

Nicole hesitated for a second, before narrowing her eyes and saying, “Let’s just wait and see.”

‘Since Dillon is so determined to raise hell out of this issue, I can’t let him off the hook so easily,’ she thought.

“Okay then, we shall wait and see,” Steve said cheekily. ‘Of course, who wouldn’t want to watch some dramas unfold, right?’

Soon after they both hung up.

Now, Nicole knew Dillon’s bag of tricks all too well, but still, she could not help to ponder, “What evidence does Dillon have against us? What’s the purpose of his plan? Is it for me, or for himself?”

The unanswered questions swarmed Nicole’s mind, making her even more confused as to what Dillon’s intention was. It was not long before she let out a huge sigh.

‘Without my memories intact, it’s definitely hard for me to endure life here in San Joto.’

Nicole rubbed her temples, and after contemplating for a while, she got up and walked out of her office.

“Nicole, are you heading out?” Lulu politely asked when she saw Nicole striding out of her office room.

“I’m going to head out for a bit,” Nicole replied.

“Do you need me to accompany you?” Lulu offered, hesitant to allow Nicole to go out on her own.

Nicole shook her head. “No, I’m heading out to sort some private matters out.”

Lulu did not press on with any further questions after this. She could only watch as Nicole disappeared, her heart filled with worry.

After she had reached the ground floor, Nicole took the company’s car and drove over to Martin’s lab. Prior to this, Martin had sent Nicole his address in advance, having decided that she could come over whenever she had the time.

However, Martin was still surprised to see Nicole coming over to visit him at the lab without giving a heads up. “You’re here!”

“Yeah, I wanted to try your improved version of the Beacon.” Nicole stated, determined to try harder to restore her memories as soon as possible.

Martin instinctively peeked behind her. “Did you come alone? It

“Of course,” Nicole responded casually.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2113

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2113-Martin wore a conflicted expression on his face.

Then, he frowned and asked, “Mr. Johnston isn’t going to accompany you?”

“I did not tell him about it,” Nicole replied, feeling that there was no need to bother Jared over such a trivial matter.

Moreover, Jared had his own things to take care of. There was no way Nicole could request for his care and protection 24/7.

“But the treatment process will be tough. Are you sure you do not need Mr. Johnston to accompany you?” Martin asked, wanting to reconfirm.

He felt that it would be heart-breaking if Nicole had to go through everything alone.

Nicole bit her lips. That was the exact reason as to why she did not want to tell Jared about this. She knew that it was going to be tough, so she did not want him by her side, where he had to bear witness of all of her pain. Jared would most probably be left heartbroken in the process.

After taking a deep breath, Nicole said with a firm look, "It's fine. Let's begin."

Seeing how determined she was, Martin could not help but do as he was asked. "Alright then. However, you must signal me to stop if it gets too agonizing."

"Okay." Nicole nodded in agreement.

After that, Martin led Nicole to the lab and prepared her for the treatment.

After having studied about The Beacon, Nicole knew that the upgraded version was different from the previous version.

Still, she casually asked, "Have you thought of a name for this one?"

It would make no sense for them to simply name it as "The Upgraded version" once it was released. Therefore, Nicole felt that it would be better to give it a new name.

Martin lifted his lips into a smile and replied, "The previous version was named by you. Why don't you come up with a name for this version too?"

"Me?" Nicole asked, feeling taken aback.

Then, she shook her head. "Nah, you should name it this time."

After all, this version had nothing to do with her.

Martin could tell that Nicole was against the idea of naming it, so he just stared at her and smiled. "Let's call it The Moon. r»

Nicole would always be that moon which Martin could never reach. However, this would remain a secret which nobody would ever know of.

Nicole blinked. She could tell that there was something odd about Martin's gaze. But when she was trying to observe him even more carefully, Martin had already looked away. By then, he was preparing for Nicole's treatment.

“Relax yourself. If you can’t take it, we must stop.” Martin reminded once again.

Nodding, Nicole replied, “Don’t worry. I’m here for treatment, not for torture.”

Seeing that Nicole was still in the mood to joke around, Martin shook his head with a wry smile. “Alright, let’s begin.”

After all, the treatment would be administered via external pain. Nicole knew that the treatment process would be painful, but when it did begin, she realized that it was even stronger than she had imagined. Soon, Nicole’s face blanched.

Martin, who had been staring at her, noticed her pale face. He could not help but feel worried. Yet, Nicole did not ask him to stop. This placed him at a loss for a moment, as he was unsure of what to do.

Gradually, Nicole’s face shifted. Not only was she pale, but her head was also in sweat, and her eyes were shut tight. It seemed that she was in a lot of pain.

“We can’t continue anymore. We have to stop.”

Seeing that Nicole was still pushing herself without any desire to stop, Martin raised his hands and ceased the treatment there and then.

As the pain gradually eased, Nicole suddenly opened her eyes, her vision blurry and muddled.

“Nicole.” Martin softly called out to her.

Nicole slowly turned her head towards the direction of the voice. Then, the focus in her eyes gradually returned, allowing her to see Martin’s face clearly.

“Are you feeling fine?” Martin asked, his eyes brimming with concern.

Nicole nodded her head and said with a hoarse voice, “I’m fine.”

Martin then took a glass of warm water and handed it to Nicole. “Have some water and take a rest. Let’s take it easy.”

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2114

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2114-“Alright.” Nicole held the glass in her hand and took two sips of water.

She could already feel that the pain was slowly fading.

“Don’t worry. Even if it works, it’ll have to be done step by step,” Martin said, trying to comfort Nicole.

Nicole nodded. “I understand. It’s just that I felt that there was a wall of fog in front of me just now, so I thought I wanted to open it up and look inside. However, I couldn’t do it at all.”

Just as she wanted to continue trying, Martin had pulled the brakes on the treatment session.

“That might have been an illusion. If you persisted, you might have gotten yourself into trouble.” Martin answered with a hint of fear in his voice.

“But I felt like if I persevered, I might be able to see it.” Nicole bowed her head.

And though that was what she felt, she was unsure of the actual results.

After careful consideration, Martin reminded Nicole, “The Moon can provide you with some external stimulation and treatment. But I’d recommend giving needle techniques a go for better effect.”

“I thought of the same as well.” Nicole agreed, deciding to take some medicine to supplement the process as well.

It was true that her body was too weak, and that her tolerance for pain should not be this low. Although she could not clearly put a finger on what was going on, she had a gut feeling that that was what it was.

“I guess we should call it a day. Remember to get adequate rest and take care of yourself when you head back.” Martin advised.

After Nicole had placed the glass down, she got up and replied, “I got it.”

Knowing that Nicole was getting ready to leave, Martin walked her out. “I’ll walk you out.”

After Martin had seen her depart, a hint of gentleness flashed across his gaze. 'I will try my best to help her regain her memories. If this is what she wants, I will try my best to help her.'

After Nicole had left the place, she immediately hurried back to the Riddle Corporation.

"You're back." Lulu strode over and approached Nicole.

However, when she noticed that Nicole's complexion looked a little sickly, she began to feel worried. "Why do you look so ill? Are you feeling sick?"

"I'm fine. Let's head to the office first."

After Nicole had spoken, she brought Lulu into the office.

"Did something happen?" Lulu asked in concern. 'Why does she look so sick after stepping out for a while?'

"Don't worry, I can take care of myself." Nicole smiled and comforted Lulu, not wanting Lulu to worry about her.

"Well, have you settled the issues at the branch office?" Lulu suddenly queried in a low voice.

She thought that Nicole had left the office to deal with that problem.

"Wait for my news." Nicole shrugged as if nothing would happen.

This left Lulu confused. Why is it that things always seem so easy to Nicole?'

Seeing how puzzled Lulu was, Nicole smiled. "What are you worried about? Do you think I am a weak person?"

"How is that possible? You're the most powerful and smartest person I know of. There is no one else," she argued.

Though Lulu looked as if she was worshipping Nicole, one should know that Nicole, a powerful woman, was the only person in Lulu's life who possessed characteristics that made her so.

"That is more than enough. That's why you really shouldn't worry about it." Nicole patted Lulu's shoulder. "You just have to trust me."

“Okay.” Lulu nodded vigorously as if she had always believed in it.

As long as she believed in Nicole, there would not be any issues.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2115

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2115-“It’s almost lunch break. Let’s have lunch together.” Nicole said after she had gotten a glimpse at the time.

Lulu replied, “Sure.”

After working for a while, lunch break arrived, and the two women went out for a meal together. Nothing particularly eventful occurred while they were at it, and once they had eaten their last bite, the both of them continued focusing on their work.

In the blink of an eye, it was evening. But when Nicole was about to leave the office, she noticed that Sean and Steve were still there.

“Are you guys waiting for me?” Nicole smiled. “Let’s go.”

The three of them sauntered into the elevator, after which Nicole shrugged. “Sean, Steve? Have you guys thought of how you’re going to comfort grandpa?”

Steve turned towards Nicole and pouted his lips. “With you around, grandpa would not require any words of comfort.”

Sean nodded in agreement. As long as Mr. Riddle Sr. got to see Nicole, he would naturally lighten up. He would not think about things that would make him unhappy.

Nicole rolled her eyes at the two of them in annoyance. “So, all the pressure falls on me now?”

Since no one was willing to help, Nicole wondered if she was the only grandchild of Mr. Riddle Sr.

“Don’t worry. As long as you are there, grandpa will smile.” Steve said with a grin.

In their eyes, Mr. Riddle Sr. would be satisfied with anything as long as he had Nicole by his side.

Although Sean did not say anything, he nodded with smiling eyes, rendering Nicole speechless at that moment. In response, she could only shake her head in annoyance.

After they had stepped out of the office building, Nicole noticed that Jared's car was already parked outside.

"We'll meet you at grandpa's house." Sean and Steve turned around and walked to their respective cars.

Nicole arrived in front of Jared's car, "You'll fetch Nolan and Lana today. I'll have to drop by grandpa's house."

"It must be about the issue with Dillion, right? We'll talk about it in the car." Jared signaled Nicole to enter the car.

Nicole was not surprised that Jared had found out about that incident, so she plainly asked, "Are you thinking of going with me?"

"Yes." Jared replied.

He was still hesitant about allowing Nicole to deal with that particular bunch of people. After all, she had not regained her memories yet.

"What about the kids?" Nicole frowned, for if the both of them were gone, who would take care of the kids?

"I've fetched them. Mrs. Wallace Sr. will help us take care of them." Jared replied gently.

After all, Gloria and Daniel would also be present for the matter. Therefore, he could only ask Mrs. Wallace Sr. to look after the kids.

Knowing that the kids were well taken care of, Nicole felt at peace. "Alright then."

The car sped through the heavy evening traffic, and soon, they reached the Riddle family manor, the compound of which was filled with park cars. From the looks of it, everyone should have arrived already.

After Nicole and Jared had gotten down, they ambled into the house. As expected, the living room was very busy.

Mr. Riddle Sr.'s four sons had brought almost all of their family members along. The only ones absent were Chloe, who had become a paraplegic, and Preston. The rest were all present.

Nicole swept her glance over everyone in the house. Then, her gaze finally landed on Mr. Riddle Sr.'s face.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2116

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2116-“Grandpa,” Nicole said softly. Then, she walked to the sofa with Jared.

“You’re here.” As expected, Mr. Riddle Sr.’s gloomy face instantly brightened up at the sight of Nicole.

Nicole seemed to have heard Steve’s low laugh. She could not help but roll her eyes at Steve.

Then, Nicole sat down beside her grandfather and went straight to the point. “Grandpa, you don’t have to worry about this matter. The police will give us the justice we deserve.”

“Yes, I believe in all of you.” Mr. Riddle Sr. had faith that Nicole would never do such a thing. After all, that trick was done clumsily. If it were Nicole, she would never let anyone catch her.

After Mr. Riddle Sr. had finished speaking, he glanced at Damien and Dillon unhappily.

The two sons’ faces immediately turned sour, especially Dillon’s. He gritted his teeth and said woefully, “Dad, you can’t side with her indiscriminately. We’re the real victims here.”

“That’s right, Dad. Both of our companies had suffered quite a huge loss as well,” Damien added pitifully.

“That’s because you lack the skills.” Mr. Riddle Sr. did not seem to show any empathy towards them.

Some of those seated were happy, and some were distressed.

Finally, Karen could not hold it in anymore, so she spoke up while looking crossed. “Dad, if you say this, does that mean we could bully others as we please if we’re skilled enough?”

“You’re threatening me!” Mr. Riddle Sr.’s anger grew.

Karen flinched. However, she stubbornly said, “I wouldn’t dare. We just want things to be fair.”

“Fair?” Mr. Riddle Sr. snorted coldly. “Then, you should try according to your skills and ability.”

Nicole had not even used her strengths. If they really were to lay their hands on Nicole, they would be at a loss.

“I—” Karen’s face instantly turned pale. She understood what Mr. Riddle Sr. meant. She also knew that if she laid her hands on Nicole, her family would not be able to gain the upper hand.

Seeing Karen remain silent, Dillon glared at her unhappily. She was more of a hindrance than help.

Karen gritted her teeth and looked down sadly.

Snow gently hugged Karen’s arm, as if she was comforting Karen. However, Snow’s gaze was on Mr. Riddle Sr. as she said, “Grandpa, Dad was actually shocked when he found out about this incident. He refused to believe it. But since it has caused some losses to the company, we just want to find out the truth.”

“That’s right. That was our intention.” Snow had found a perfect excuse, and Dillon as well as Damien fully agreed and admitted to it.

“We don’t have to discuss this anymore. The police get to the bottom of this.” Mr. Riddle Sr.’s mind was set. He did not allow anyone to bring up this matter anymore.

The reason why they made such a huge commotion and asked everyone to return home was to accuse and slander Nicole. At that thought, Mr. Riddle Sr. was angry. These people could never let him relax.

“Hmph. You guys made a police report first. And now, you’re saying that you don’t believe these things were done by us. You’re acting like hypocrites right now. You’re pretty good at your own game.” Samuel snorted, expression angry.

Why are they both the hero and villain in this story? Such two -faced people. Do they really think we’re stupid?’

“Samuel.” Daniel frowned and stopped Samuel from speaking nonsense.

“I didn’t say anything wrong,” Samuel mumbled and closed his mouth bitterly.

Seeing that Samuel had stopped talking, Daniel turned to the other direction and suggested, “Dad, the issue has reached this point. I think it’s best to let the police handle it. Well let go of it and stop discussing it.” He was actually trying to comfort his father.

He knew that with the current situation, Mr. Riddle Sr. would be the most upset. Therefore, he suggested everyone to not discuss it and wait for the result quietly.

“Daniel, what’s wrong with you? The reason we came back is for dad to make a decision. And yet, you’re stopping us from discussing the matter.” Damien, who had just been insulted, released all his anger on Damien.

“Uncle Damien, are you saying that you don’t trust the police’s abilities? Or are you not willing to follow grandpa’s instructions?” Nicole’s face darkened a little. Her tone had also turned cold. ‘How dare he yell at dad! That was too much.’ 1

“Nicole’s right. Since we’ve lodged a police report, we shall wait for the result. In that case, you don’t have to bring this matter up to me anymore.” Mr. Riddle Sr. had decided.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2117

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2117-Mr. Riddle Sr. trusted Nicole. Even if Dillon and Damien said they had evidence, they would not have anything against Nicole.

“Grandpa, we’re the ones suffering a loss here. Why can’t you put yourself in our shoes?” Raine was so angry that her face turned pale as she spoke.

‘I thought that by gathering everyone, Grandpa would be fair. And yet, he’s still siding with Nicole. All the evidence is pointing towards Nicole. Why is he still siding with her?’

“Raine, I remember that when the branch office was in trouble, you asked Preston to return and help out. Why isn’t he here today? What did he say at that time? Could you repeat it for everyone here?” Sean glanced at Raine coldly. His calm tone gave a kind of pressure through them.

Raine’s face turned even paler. It was because Preston said that there was no other problem except that a loophole existed in the company’s system. Therefore, they did not inform Preston about the gathering. They knew that his words would be a disadvantage to them.

However, Raine did not expect Sean to know that she had approached Preston. Based on Sean’s tone, he must have known Preston’s final judgement on the matter.

“There was such a thing?” Mr. Riddle Sr.’s pupils narrowed and looked towards Raine with a stern look.

Raine’s face instantly turned pale again. She did not know how to handle the situation at that moment.

Obviously, Preston’s final conclusion was a thorn in their side. Raine could never reveal it. But if she did not reveal it, what was she supposed to do now?

Dillon glared at Raine unhappily and said, “You better shut up. No one will think you’re dumb if you keep quiet.”

Mr. Riddle Sr. had already been siding with Nicole. And yet, Raine decided to talk about the matter at this moment. The rest were out of words. Were they really going to say that Preston thought there was no issue?

They knew that they would not gain anything from Mr.

Riddle Sr. that day. But when Dillon thought of the evidence gathered, a firm look appeared in his eyes. Since it was the only way to go, they will wait for the result from the police.<sup>1</sup> Let's see what dad will have to say when the time comes.'

Dillon did not seem to be happy, and Raine dared not utter another word. She looked down with her pale face to avoid any attention on her.

"Dad, it's such a rare moment where everyone's back. It's almost dinner time too. Why don't we start eating?" Dexter could tell that the atmosphere was tense, so he made a suggestion with the intention of easing the mood.

"Hmph! We're not eating anymore. My stomach is full of anger from all of you. Get out!" Mr. Riddle Sr. waved his hands and began to chase everyone out.

'All of them have been complaining about Nicole as soon as they arrived here. Do they really think I'm blind and incapable of making judgments? Everyone only thinks about gaining that small bit of advantage for themselves.'

'Dad, calm down. We'll leave now and visit you another day.'" Dillon was the first to stand up and leave.

"Please don't visit me often, so I can live longer," Mr. Riddle Sr. said angrily.

Dillon's expression froze. Then he turned around and left.

Karen could only follow after him and leave. Snow, Raine and James had no reason to stay either.

Seeing this, Damien also brought Miley and Everett out of the house.

"Dad, we're leaving too." Dexter did not want to anger Mr. Riddle Sr. as well.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2118

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2118-"Alex." Dexter felt a little annoyed. He could only pretend to be strict and alert Alex. "Don't you see that grandpa isn't in a good mood? And yet, you're requesting to stay?"

"It was Uncle Dillon and Uncle Damien who angered grandpa, not us." Alex shrugged as if he had not done anything wrong. He seemed to be questioning why he should leave.

Dexter's face darkened drastically, and he added with an even more stern voice, "Don't speak nonsense."

"Enough. Let's eat," Mr. Riddle Sr. said.

Alex immediately turned happy again. He looked at Nicole blankly. "Nicole, I need your help on a few things."

"What are they?" Nicole was curious. What would Alex want her to teach him?

Alex scratched his head awkwardly. "I've just joined the company, right? But I just graduated not long ago, and I don't have any experience in management. So—"

He has always admired Nicole's abilities, and he respected her a lot. Therefore, he had set Nicole as his target. He wanted to work towards becoming at the same level as Nicole.

"I heard you're doing quite well right now." Nicole curled her lips into a smile. She knew that Alex joined Dexter's company, and his performance was pretty good.

"But I want to do better." Alex seemed to be waiting for something.

"That's true. He had been saying that you're his inspiration to work harder. Actually, the previous time I mentioned thanking you personally was partly because of Alex as well." Since the conversation had reached this point, Dexter revealed everything.

It was only then that Nicole finally understood why Dexter insisted on thanking her. Initially, she thought that Dexter was being very polite. So, this was the actual reason.

"I'm not good at managing a company. Emery's focus is on games, so Alex is my only hope. Coincidentally, he has an interest in it as well. So, I hope to see if he can improve in this area." After all, Dexter would not have the ability to teach Alex. So, he wished that Alex could learn from Nicole, and he was more than happy to have that arrangement.

“I see. It’s good that you’re self-motivated.” Mr. Riddle Sr. nodded happily. He felt comforted that his youngest grandchild had the heart to join in the company’s management. This was unlike the rest of his grandchildren.

Mr. Riddle Sr.’s gaze scanned across Stanley, Spencer, Samuel, and Emery and these boys subconsciously looked down. They were pretending as if they had not heard anything. After all, Mr. Riddle Sr’s threatening gaze was quite scary.

They were indeed uninterested in managing the company, as they only want to do the things they like. Other than that, they think that they were quite successful already, so naturally they did not want to go home and suffer.

“Dad, it’s a good thing that the kids have their own opinions. Let them be.” Daniel comforted Mr. Riddle Sr. as he spoke. Each kid had their own achievements and that was good too.

After all, there was only one company and one Riddle family. It would be better to have this than have everyone fighting for the company.

It seemed like Mr. Riddle Sr. understood Daniel’s words, so he let out a sigh.

“Grandpa, I’m hungry. Let’s eat.” Noticing her grandfather’s sadness and melancholy, Nicole diverted his attention.

“Alright, let’s eat.” Hearing that Nicole was hungry, Mr. Riddle Sr. immediately ordered the other two families to eat at the dining room.

During dinner, the men discussed work while Gloria and Emma chatted about family matters. Everyone was having a satisfying meal.

“Grandpa, I’ll take care of the incident. So, you don’t have to worry about anything. You don’t have to bother about it as well. If you think it’s too boring to stay at home, you could visit the office,” Nicole advised Mr. Riddle Sr. in hopes that he would let go of the matter.

“Alright, I trust you.” Mr. Riddle Sr. still valued Nicole a lot. He did not believe that Nicole would do such a thing. And

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2119

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2119-After they were done with dinner, they left the Riddle residence accordingly.

In the car, Nicole turned and looked at Jared. "Why didn't you say anything?"

Jared was as quiet as a shadow that day. He was just sitting next to her without uttering a single word, but he still somehow gave her a sense of security.

Jared looked down at her and said, "You did an amazing job. r»

In fact, even if he was not present that day, Nicole would have also done a tremendous job by herself.

Nicole shrugged. "These people only have one goal anyway."

In short, they only had their eyes on the benefits, which was not unusual.

"Yeah, you're right." Jared nodded. 'Nicole has already seen through those people.'

"But where do you think they got their so-called evidence?" Nicole frowned slightly. She recalled that Dillion looked confident in himself as well.

"Everett gave it to them," Jared answered steadily with a cold look in his eyes.

"Everett? How?!" She was shocked and wondered, 'On top that, how does Jared know about this?'

She was both shocked and confused. Jared held her hand gently. "It might be a coincidence," Jared explained softly.

Nicole finally understood now. "So... he tried to follow us after we saw him the other day."

Thankfully, Jared had sent someone to stop him. Otherwise, Everett might have already found out about Nolan and Lana. After this incident, Jared also sent people to keep an eye on Everett, which was when he found out about Everett's plan.

"Dillon initially had this in mind as well, but Everett noticed his plan. So, he deliberately let Dillon 'find out' about the evidence that he prepared, misleading him into thinking that there was something fishy about you.” Jared’s gaze was cold.

“What a scheming guy, that Everett,” Nicole scoffed. ‘If Dillon succeeded, Everett would gain from it too. But if Dillon failed, Everett would not be caught in the blame.’

“He’s smart, alright.” Unlike Dillon, Everett knew how to lay low.

Nicole smirked and said, “Unfortunately for him though, you’re in the picture.”

Everett would have never expected Jared to find out about his plan. This only meant one thing-his plan was going to end before it even began.

“Between those two, you should be more alert about Everett, ” Jared reminded her.

“Yeah.” Nicole nodded seriously. She initially thought that they were all on the same level. But after this incident, she realized that Everett was not as simple as she thought he was.

At the same time, somewhere else, Dillon’s family had already returned home.

As soon as he stepped into their house, he went crazy.

“What’s the point of lashing out at us? You know how Dad is biased toward that freaking Nicole,” Karen fired back.

“Dad, didn’t you get the evidence already? Grandpa won’t be able to side with Nicole this time,” Snow consoled Dillon with a gentle tone.

“Yeah, Dad. Let’s come up with a plan to destroy Nicole forever. That way, everything will finally be ours,” Raine chimed in, delighted.

She did not expect Nicole to do something like that. She even got caught by them now too! ‘Let’s see what she’s going to do this time. Nicole, be prepared to hand us the shares!’

“But there’s nothing wrong with the evidence, right? Why isn’t Nicole panicking at all?” Karen asked in concern.

Read Novel MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2120

MY WIFE IS A HACKER CHAPTER 2120-If it were someone else, that person would already be freaking out by now. But Nicole being so calm just did not sit right with Karen.

“It’s obviously because she has Grandpa on her side. That’s why she isn’t worried at all. I’m just going to sit back and watch how Grandpa will favor her after the police are done with the investigation,” Raine said through her teeth bitterly.

“Yeah, I’m not going to let her off the hook so easily this time.” Dillon’s gaze turned dark. ‘I finally got this chance, and I’m not going to blow it.’

“Dad, are you going to send someone to keep an eye on them?” Raine asked softly, slightly concerned.

Dillon squinted as he nodded. “You’re right, I’ll send someone to do that.”

“Okay, we didn’t get to eat anything even though we went to the Riddle residence. Let’s eat now,” Karen said gloomily.

“Let’s eat,” Dillon agreed.

They then went to a restaurant without Snow. The determined look she had on her face was nowhere to be seen. Her smile turned to a scheming smirk as she thought, ‘1 Nicole, it’s finally your turn to be unlucky.’

Time flew by and three days had passed.

The police had no success in Nicole’s case, and the rumors about her were always being shut down by someone.

Jared and Nicole lived normally. They worked and went home as usual, as if nothing had happened.

“It’s about time now, huh?” Nicole leaned against her seat, looking intrigued.

“They probably can’t wait any longer,” Jared’s gaze was dark.

Nicole nodded in agreement as she thought, ‘Unlike what Dillon expected, he didn’t get any reaction from us. They’re probably going insane from their anxiousness by now, so they’re probably taking action anytime now.’

Jared looked down at her with a smile.

Nicole looked up and asked, "Why are you looking at me like that?"

"I just think you look even more like a chairman now," Jared responded with a smile.

Nicole rolled her eyes at him. "Are you poking fun at me?"

"Nope." Jared's eyes darkened. Little did Nicole know she was simply irresistible to Jared when she acted coquettish.

He slowly inched closer to her as he said deviously, "I'm being sincere."

Nicole started to panic as she held her breath when she could feel Jared's breath against her cheeks.

'Why do I feel like there's another meaning behind those three words?' Nicole's heart pounded against her chest. Unexpectedly, Jared just kept getting closer until he finally pressed her against the seat. In the very next second, a gentle kiss fell on Nicole's lips, locking in whatever she was about to say.

The car stopped, and Nicole finally pulled herself back into reality. She realized that they were in front of the Riddle Corporation, so she quickly pushed Jared away, her cheeks flushed.

"I-I'm going down." Nicole brushed her hair and fixed her clothes before getting down from the car, disoriented.

Jared smiled unknowingly as he watched how shy she was. However, he felt helpless as he thought, 'We're lawfully married...'

He watched as she went into her office and left after she disappeared from the entrance.

The tender gaze in his eyes was gone as soon as the car drove away, and the air turned cold.

"Mr. Johnston, Radiance Commerce's goods have successfully reached Mecrounia and have taken the lead in capturing the market share. Contrastingly, Happiness Trading was just a little too late, and their profits were significantly lower than what they had expected," Max reported.