Chapter 88i

“Nicole is the best. You care about me.” Samuel ate the snack and looked at Nicole gratefully.

“Next time, don’t be so blunt, much to Mom’s embarrassment.” Nicole sat down and looked at him.

“I wasn’t thinking too much. I was fit to be tied when I saw Norah and thought of her taking so much money from Mom and still coming to live in our house. I really don’t understand her.” Samuel bit into a snack hard.

“That you don’t understand; supplies might be important, but a home base is even more important.” Spencer drew an analogy.

Samuel looked at him with plausible understanding.” Your analysis makes sense. So what should we do as people on the home base?”

“We will just lie in wait.” Spencer stood in front of the window like a grand strategist!

“I will not join you guys. I’m going back to rest.”

Nicole saw her two brothers too deep into acting and shook her head helplessly.

When she got back to her room, it was still early, and she could not sleep, so Nicole turned on her computer to see if there was any news from Carl and Zane.

Just as she entered the intranet, Carl's message came through.

[We have found out the approximate location of White and are narrowing it down to pinpoint the location.]

[Get rid of him when you find him.] She logged out of the intranet after sending the message. She casually browsed The Hunters job list page. Suddenly, a high-pay job appeared in front of her eyes. She was curious and clicked in. Then it turned out that she was wanted with a bounty of $20 million.

"This would be great if only the job was about others." Nicole could not help but lament. If not, she could have gotten this $20 million easily.

She continued to browse through the job list. Not long after, she saw another special job. [Cracking the intranet of a foreign organization.] The pay was slightly less than the one wanted her, but it was still high.

Nicole decisively accepted the job and then shut down the computer and went to rest. She did not want to deal with the new assignment today.

The next morning, Norah got up surprisingly early to make breakfast for the whole family, something she had never done before.

When Gloria came downstairs, she saw Norah busy in the kitchen and thought Norah was hungry and looking for food. But when she walked over, she realized Norah was cooking breakfast diligently.

“Norah , when did you learn to cook breakfast and have such an appetite?” Gloria complimented as she looked at the breakfast that was already ready on the table.

Hearing Gloria’s voice, Norah knew she had achieved the intended effect. “A few days ago, when I had nothing to do and browsed social media, I saw someone make a nutritious breakfast. So I thought I would try to do that. But on the first try, it was successful. I happened to get up early today and thought I would try again. I also want you and Dad to try my breakfast.” Norah smiled sweetly, as bright as the morning sunrise.

“Norah is so sweet.” Gloria could not stop complimenting her.

“Do you need a hand?” Gloria looked around but was not sure where to begin.

Norah pulled her to the dining room and sat her down.”
You can just wait here while I finish the cooking.”

“Okay.”

A few moments later, Daniel came downstairs, and Gloria hurriedly called him over. “Come and see. Norah has made us breakfast.”

Daniel looked surprised. Norah had only eaten but never cooked since childhood. So he wondered what changed her, that she was making them breakfast today. He strode into the dining room to take a look and found that things looked appetizing. “How’s that? Appetizing, isn’t it?” Gloria looked over at Daniel with a smile on her face. He nodded. “That’s really nice.” He glanced at Norah, who was busy cooking, then went back to the living room.
