Chapter 894

This is the gold card for all the clubs under my name. From now on, you can go to those clubs as you please without having to pay anything. Scott handed the limited-edition gold card to the butler, who handed it to Nicole.

“Mr. Harmon, thank you for your hospitality, but I can't accept this.” Nicole came to the banquet today because she did not want

Scott to keep remembering about her saving her father's life.

She just did not expect him to give her a gold card out of the blue.

“Compared to your medical ethics, a card is nothing. You are looking down on me if you don't accept it.”

Nicole never thought Scott would say such things just to make her accept the gold card.

Everyone looked at Nicole with awkwardness.

Gloria defused the sticky situation by telling Nicole, I can see that Mr. Harmon really wants to give you a gift.

If you don't accept it, won't you disappoint Mr. Harmon? Nicole looked at Gloria and knew that if she did not accept the gold card, she would not be able to continue with the meal. "Thank you, Mr. Harmon." Nicole looked at Mr. Harmon.

Scott smiled and took the lead in raising his glass. Cheers." Then everyone raised their glasses together. After the meal, Nicole and her family said goodbye to Mr. Harmon and his family and then left the estate.

In the car, Gloria said, "I never thought Mr. Harmon would be a man who knows how to repay kindness."

"Yeah, not only did they invite us over for lunch, but they also gave Nicole a gold card. As far as I know, Mr.

Harmon never invites outsiders to his estate.

We should be the first," Sean said proudly.

After all, it was a matter of honor, and a status symbol, to be able to go to Mr. Harmon's estate.

"Exactly.

How fortunate we are," Gloria said.

"It's all thanks to Nicole.

Otherwise, we wouldn't be able to come to an estate of this level in our lifetime." Daniel praised Nicole.

Dad, you're exaggerating. Nicole looked back at him and chuckled.

"Nicole, that's not an exaggeration.

Take the gold card that Mr. Harmon has given you; it is a limited edition, not something you can get with money.” Sean’s eyes were filled with pride.

Although it was not given to him, from his demeanor, it looked as if he had got that gold card.

Nicole saw him talking about the card and radiating with delight and said, “You seem to like this gold card. I will let you have it.” Sean hurriedly declined.

“I don’t dare to accept it.

Not anyone deserves to own this gold card.

You are the only one in our family who deserves it.”

“It’s really getting more and more god-like, but it is still just a gold card. Nicole looked at Sean's expression and laughed.

You better believe it; something this expensive is not something that ordinary people can afford to have.”

“You might as

Well concentrate on driving. Nicole did not believe him at all.

Dad, Mom, should I take you straight home or go somewhere else?” Sean asked.

Go home. Sean, drop me off at a convenient place where I can get a cab later.” Nicole was not going back to the Riddle Mansion.

Where are you going? I will drop you off after dropping off Dad and Mom.” “Nicole, aren’t you coming home with us?”

Gloria asked in surprise, No.

You just get Dad and Mom home ebook safely. Nicole had her own plan.

Dad, Mom, I have some other things to take care of, so I won’t be going back with you.” Nicole turned to look at them.

LILLE After twenty minutes, Sean stopped at a suitable location.

Bye, thank you for the ride. Nicole smiled at Sean.

Bye-bye. Be safe. After getting out of the car, Nicole took a cab to Jared’s office.

Max, is Jared busy? The reason Nicole called Max was that she was worried about disturbing Jared.

“Mr. Johnston is in a meeting.

Do you want me to tell him? No, don't disturb him.

I will wait for him in his office by myself. Nicole hung up the phone and took the elevator up to the floor where Jared’s office was.

She made herself a cup of coffee, sat on the couch , and admired the views outside.
