Chapter 904

"Nicole, you look so pretty today," Lulu and June said as they walked over.

"You guys talk; I will go check on Norah," Gloria said as she saw Nicole's classmates approaching and immediately made herself scarce.

"Thank you, Mrs. Riddle."

"I didn't see you two just now. When did you guys arrive?" Nicole looked at them curiously.

"We just arrived. Nicole, this place is so grand. I wish I were you." Lulu sat down and said with envy.

"No need to be envious. Just wait until you come here, too." Nicole looked at her and felt it was funny.

"Not anyone can afford to use this place." Lulu looked disappointed.

"Gee, why don't you just ask Nicole to arrange it for you when the time comes?" June suggested.

"Nicole, your gown is so stunning. Where did you order it?"

The first time June saw Nicole, she was attracted by the gown Nicole was wearing.

"It was ordered from Jared's tailoring shop, and it turned out okay, right?" Nicole stood up to show it off.

“That is so okay. I'm going to order a set too when I get engaged.” June was also envious.

“Okay, mention my name then, and they will give you a discount.”

“Really? A million thanks.” Harvey was sitting with Snow, but his eyes were on Nicole.

“What have you been up to lately, Harvey? I haven't even talked to you for a while.” Snow seized the opportunity to chat with him.

“It is all work stuff. You won't understand it even if I tell you.” Harvey's perfunctory attitude was all too obvious.

Snow was not too happy, but she could not help wanting to talk to him more. So she spoke again.

“You're dressed really handsome today. Those girls at the door just now were too disrespectful by swarming around you. After this, we plan to go to the beach for a walk. I heard that there is a firework show today. Do you want to join us?” Snow continued to talk, not noticing Harvey's impatience in the slightest.

Harvey felt his ears hurt in less than twenty minutes of sitting next to Snow. If you stayed sitting there any longer, he figured his head was going to explode.

So he got up and walked toward Nicole.

"Where are you going, Harvey?" Snow stood up and asked.

"You can sit here. I'm just mooching around." Snow was keeping an eye on Harvey, trying to see where he was going.

She stomped her feet in anger when she saw him look for Nicole.

'What is so great about you, Nicole?' she yelled in her mind.

Norah, who had taken in Snow's expression from the side, came up to her.

"Are you okay, Snow?" Snow looked up.

When she saw it was Norah , she rolled her eyes with annoyance.

"What are you doing over here? "I saw you weren't in a very good mood and thought I'd come over to keep you company." Norah did not mind her attitude and continued to talk to her calmly.

"I'm in an excellent mood. I don't need your company."

Snow was still piqued.

"In an excellent mood? Your eyebrows are all furrowed together. Keep that up and everyone else will see,"

Norah kindly reminded her.
