

My Wife is a Hacker by Summer

Chapter 921

□ □ □

Chapter 921

“Chloe, who are you talking about?” Kelly casually asked.

“Nothing. Just an acquaintance.”

Just then, some of Chloe’s fans came up to Chloe with a gigantic bouquet. “Chloe, what you just did was just perfect, superb!”

“Thank you. Could I have your autograph?” A fan looked at her with anticipation. “Sure. Where do I sign?” Chloe did not see any pen and paper. “Just sign here.” The fan pointed to the left shoulder and leaned close to Chloe.

Chloe smiled awkwardly, but remained polite as she gave him her autograph.

“Thank you. Love you.”

“I’m going up to take a break,” Chloe said to the director and headed upstairs.

She was sitting in the lounge and thinking about her sighting of Nicole just now when someone knocked on the door.

“Come in.”

Norah pushed the door open and walked in. “I’m here to visit you.”

“What are you doing here?” Chloe asked.

“Are you free at noon? Let’s have lunch together.”

Norah invited Chloe with a serious expression.

Chloe sized up Norah for a moment. “Why not?”

In the restaurant, Norah cut her steak and glanced at Chloe. “Is your work going well lately?”

“It went pretty well.” Chloe was still not too friendly.

Norah smiled. “Grandpa is going to invite Nicole and Jared to his house in a few days. Are you free to go back?”

“I don’t know how the schedule is going to work out yet, but there should be time.” Chloe thought of the family getting together and expected something going to happen.

Norah looked around and then looked at Chloe. “What do you think the situation would be if the family found out that Nicole stole such a valuable diamond?” She was prepared to embarrass Nicole in front of the family members.

“You’re not going to say it in public, are you?” Chloe thought Norah would be stupid enough to do that.

“Why would I come out on my own? Of course, someone else would do this dirty job. But it might require your cooperation.” Norah glanced at her with a meaningful look.

“You want me to cooperate? What do you mean?”

Chloe did not understand what Norah meant.

“Someone will definitely ask you about the diamond. When the time comes, as long as you insist that the diamond that you have handed over to Nicole is the real

Dresden Green Diamond, people will definitely not think you are lying but that Nicole has stolen the diamond and doesn't admit it.” Norah's eyes lit up as she came up with the plot.

Chloe's heart skipped a beat, as she did not expect that Norah could be so scheming at such a young age. “No problem. It looks like I have to go there myself.” As long as she could vilify Nicole, she would have a chance to divide Nicole and Jared, and then Jared would be hers.

“It would be best if you can go.” Norah did not forget to high-hatted her.

After lunch, Norah left.

Taking advantage of the time when Chloe and Norah were having lunch, Nicole gave Kelly some additional instructions before leaving.

Nicole was back at the sea view villa, and Tia was thrilled to see the cool Lamborghini as if it was bought for her.

“This car is too cool. Whose is it?” Tia walked around the car and could not take her eyes off it.

“It is mine,” Nicole uttered calmly.

“Yours? You bought a car?”

□ □ □