Chapter 938

Carl understood what Nicole was saying, but she still had a wound on her arm. He was worried about who was going to protect her when the time came.

“I know you won’t listen to me. Bring more men with you, just in case.” Carl would only be less worried if more men were with Nicole.

“Okay.”

The two of them walked to the training ground , where there were many mercenaries training. Nicole swept her eyes over them and then selected ten experienced special mercenaries to follow her.

Coming to Hall A, Nicole looked at them solemnly.” You’re going to go on a mission with me in a minute. Your job is to protect the boss, understand?”

“Understood.”

“Now go change into civilian clothes and get your gear. Assemble in Hall A in twenty minutes.” Nicole ordered.

“Aye.”

Nicole glanced at Carl, and then the two of them also went to change into civilian clothes.

Twenty minutes later, everyone was assembled in Hall A. Nicole and Carl stood in front of them, waiting for Zane's departure notice.

Around nine, Nicole and Carl received a message from Zane at the same time. (Now go to Gate A to board the helicopter.)

[Got it.] Nicole replied to Zane.

"Everybody heads to Gate A." Nicole led the team to Gate

Coming to Gate A, Nicole told the mercenaries to get into the helicopter. She waited for everyone to get onboard before she did, and then she ordered it to take off.

The helicopter flew for a long time before it landed on the rooftop of a hotel. Zane led them to a room for a preoperative briefing.

"Here is the floor map of tomorrow's launch event. The four of you disguise as service crew at the launch event tomorrow and report immediately when you find The Raven members. You two monitor the perimeter of the event and immediately report anything suspicious . The other four of you will go with me to the launch event tomorrow. Let's split up." Zane ordered.

After the mercenaries left, Zane looked at Nicole and Carl. "If The Raven members come tomorrow, there is a good chance they will grab the thing, and you two will have to get it before they do." Zane assigned them the most important task.

"I will just grab the thing myself. Nicole will stay by your side to protect you." Carl glanced at Nicole. He knew Nicole would be safer with Zane.

Zane looked at Nicole and thought for a moment. "It would be better if you two go together. You don't have to worry about me.

Securing the new product is the most important thing."
"Aye."

"Go take a rest."

Out of Zane's room, Nicole said to Carl, "Don't worry about me. This injury is nothing to me, and it has basically healed."

Nicole was optimistic. She was worried that Carl could not deal with The Raven, and she could still help if she was there.

"Why don't you always take your injuries seriously?"
Carl was just as angry as he was sorry.

“Why are you so overreacting? I know my condition. You just need to concentrate on securing the product. Stop worrying about me.” Nicole frowned at him, exasperated by his way of reaction.

“Go back and get a good rest.” With that, Nicole went back to her room.

Back in the room, she did not rest immediately but took out her laptop to hack into the launch event website and the surveillance system, carefully studying it. After noticing nothing was out of the ordinary, she closed the laptop and went to sleep.
