Chapter 939

Early the next morning, Nirole and Carl arrived at the launch event to familiarize themselves with the place.

Anyone who entered the venue was under Nicole's monitor, She had the venue under her control,

Gradually , VIPs from all over the world stepped into the event venue, and people gathering in groups were chatting

Not long after, Zane arrived with four bodyguards disguised as participants. Out of the corner of his eye, he saw Nicole and Carl.

He sat down in a place where he could have a good view of the entire venue.

Everyone was talking about today's new products, "Did you hear that a new product will be launched today?" "A guy with a big belly said.

"Yes, I have heard that, too. But there will be two products." Another middle-aged man said.

"Two? As far as I know, there will be only one. Did you hear it wrong?"

"No. I heard that there were two product launches today."

“No way. Everyone gets the same information. You must have heard it wrong.” Yet another man retorted with confidence.

“Alas, if you don’t believe it, forget it.” The middle-aged man left the crowd and sat down in his seat.

Just then, a group of people walked in, and everyone walked over to greet the leading man of the group.

When Nicole saw the face of the leading man, she was stunned for a second. Carl noticed what had happened at the entrance and glanced in Nicole’s direction.

“What brings you here, Mr. Johnston?”

“I didn’t know that Mr. Johnston was also interested in this kind of launch event.” The big belly man said.

“I happened to be free today and heard that there was a new product launched, so I came to check it out.”

“How much do you all know about the new product?”

Jared swept his eyes over them.

“I heard it is a tech product, but I am not sure about the other.”

“I heard there are two product launches today.” The middle-aged man walked up to Jared.

Jared looked at him. “Two?” He then glanced at Max behind him, and Max lowered his head.

This completely surprised Jared, who only received news that there would be a tech product launch.

Apparently, he only learned about it now that there were two product launches today.

“It seems that they have made a tremendous breakthrough in research and development.” With that, Jared walked to the front seats. He got a glance of Zane from the corner of his eye as he walked past him.

After sitting down, he spoke a few words to Max, who went out immediately afterward.

Nicole hid in an inconspicuous position where Jared would not see her, and she could have a good view of the entire venue.

Soon, someone came out to officiate the event.

“Welcome all of you who are taking the precious time to attend this new product launch event. Thank you, everyone.”

After the opening speech, the director of research and development came on stage to introduce the first new product.

“Thank you for your patience in listening to the introduction. Next, I’m going to reveal the first new product for you.” After saying that, a staff member pushed a display cart onto the stage.

“It seems that there are really two new products,”
Everyone in the audience said.

“This thing on the display cart is our new tech product this year. Let’s witness it together.” With that, the director of research and development pulled the silk cloth covering off the display cart.

An artificial intelligence robot appeared in front of everyone’s eyes.

“I call this AI robot Brave because it can help humans do dangerous tasks, go to places that humans can’t reach, and protect humans from injury in some environments, reducing human casualty.”
