Chapter 944

Nicole gathered her breath, wanting to kill the members of The Raven and the bodyguards as quickly as possible. She summoned her strength with determined eyes, raised her knife, and lunged at the two groups of men, slashing one man at a time. They were no match for Nicole. One man was slashed on the shoulder and fell to his knees with blood flowing down the blade.

But there were too many of them. Fighting all of them at the same time started to take a toll on Nicole's strength.

As she fought in front, knives suddenly came at her on her left and right. Pulling her knife back, Nicole dodged backward, and the incoming knives missed their target and hit the ground. Nicole immediately swung the knife left and right and slashed the throats of the two attackers with blood gushing out instantly.

Nicole ran backward with the knife still in her hand, but the members of The Raven seemed to have been enraged and attacked her incessantly. She had no choice but to fight back. After a long while, she found it hard to fight them back with one hand, gradually feeling overwhelmed, and retreated slowly. The attack of the two gangs became more and more fierce, with several knives aiming at Nicole at once, forcing her to parry.

She was not hurt anyhow. Just then, she saw from the corner of her eye a knife coming from the other side, but she could no longer free her hand to parry it. Just as Nicole thought she was dead, a box was hurled over and knocked the knife away from Nicole in the nick of time.

Following that, a tall figure arrived in a whirlwind and knocked those men to the ground, then pulled Nicole up and protected her behind him.

Nicole looked at the man who had saved her. He looked so familiar from behind. A second later, she exclaimed, "What are you doing here?"

Following immediately, Jared's bodyguards arrived and guarded the two of them while fighting the attackers. It did not take long before they defeated the two hostile groups of men, and the remaining few saw the situation and fled. Jared carried Nicole and headed outside.

Carl arrived outside the event venue on the superbike and happened to run into the mercenaries.

"Did you guys see Nicole?"

"A man took her. He had too many bodyguards for us to go near him."

After hearing what the mercenaries said, Carl knew who the man was.

"Stop looking and meet up with the boss right away."

Seeing Carl back, Zane stood up and asked, "Where is Nicole?"

"Someone has come to her rescue," Carl said.

"Jared?" Zane sat down slowly. He saw Jared at the event venue earlier. If it was really Jared who took Nicole away, she would not be in danger anymore.

"Take off right away and go back to base," Zane commanded.

"Aye."

Jared carried Nicole all the way to his car. "Drive back to the hotel right away."

In the car, Jared's murderous look had faded from his face. Nicole quietly glanced at him. She did not expect him to be so badass that he could ward off The Raven. Jared looked out the window and did not speak to Nicole along the way.

The car stopped in front of a hotel. Nicole wanted to get out of the car herself, but judging by the look in Jared's eyes, she knew he would not let her walk on her own. Just as expected, Jared walked in with her in his arms. On the couch, Nicole sat there, not knowing how to explain it to him.

"Why are you at the launch event?" Jared finally asked her.

Now that he had seen her and The Raven fight, there was no point in hiding it from him any longer. "I'm on a mission."

Just as he had guessed it. Few organizations in the world dared to mess with The Raven. Besides, he had seen Zane there when he entered the launch venue. So it was easy for him to deduce something.

"What is your relationship with Zane?" Jared asked her pointedly. He had no interest in her mission.

"Huh?" Nicole, who had never dreamed that Jared would ask this question, did not know how to answer it.
