

Rebirth of Wild Fire - Chapter 10

Chapter 10 - Golden Drake

After Lu Yang closed the call with Lan Yu, he continued to upgrade madly, and was ready to hit the top of the ranking list before the game closes tomorrow morning.

This is not an ordinary first place, but the first place that stands out among tens of millions of players who start at the same time, and will be officially recorded in the future.

In the early days of his life, Lu Yang had been obscured in the early days of the game. Even if he later had the ability to create guilds, the master players in the game were basically ransacked by those grand guilds.

Since he was reborn in this life, Lu Yang decided to make a name for himself at the beginning. Even if he did not create a guild in the early stage, it is still possible to form an elite team of twenty people.

It is convenient to download a copy or upgrade in the field.

Lu Yang is not worried about the problem of shooting a bird with a gun. The game is close to reality. Each player has no blood strips or names on his head. If he does not add friends to each other, he does not know who the person is, even if someone looks at himself. Becoming the first unhappy in the ranking list, facing more than 10 million players, he could not find himself in the vast crowd.

Thinking that he will surpass the bosses of major unions and various madmen who become the first ranks on the first day of the game, Lu Yang feels cool when he thinks about it. After watching his blue full, he continues to brush stand up.

Lu Yang was killed by a series of bisons brushing into the valley. Looking at the ground in the valley except for the bison carcasses, Lu Yang was a little depressed.

Hundreds of bison were killed in a row, and even one piece of equipment was not hit. Lu Yang had to sigh, the explosion rate of "Second World" was really too low.

Fortunately, everything in "Second World" is close to the real world. Players can skin the bison and other life skills, and then take them to Xinshoucun to sell to NPC. Otherwise, ordinary players cannot afford to play this game.

After eating a piece of crispy electric eel to fill up the blue, Lu Yang came to the concave valley with the help of a rope and began to peel the bison carcass in the valley.

There are three copper coins on a piece of leather. Although there is not much money, no matter how small a mosquito is, it is not meat.

While Lu Yang was peeling and observing whether there were refreshing monsters, a golden figure suddenly walked by the entrance of the concave valley, and for a moment, Lu Yang's whole body hit a thrilling, excited eyes. famous.

"Gold Drake."

If you talk about which boss in the second world game is the most powerful, or which boss is the hardest to play, 10,000 people will have 10,000 opinions, but when it comes to the second world game, the most killing boss, No one will have any other opinion.

As a 5th-level boss in the novice village, the golden baby dragon is short, almost the size of a dog, golden body, young wings, and the dragon head does not look fierce, but it is a little bit cute, but just such a small thing, but Let all players love and hate.

Love is because he really can explode good things. He has the best level 5 equipment in Novice Village. He hates it because this little thing has high attack speed, fast speed, high defense, and heavy blood. Many people think that they see this. The boss is their luck. In fact, this is just the beginning of doom.

Players who just came out of the novice village have only a novice sword, a set of novice clothes, the equipment explosion rate in "Second World" is very low, even if the level 5 equipment will not change much, encounter the golden baby dragon, It is a knight-blooded occupation, which only needs three times, and other occupations are two times, and the crispy mage is just a click.

It 's useless even if there are many people. In history, a golden young dragon has slaughtered more than 100 players after slaughtering. Without skilled cooperation, a sufficient number of players, and good equipment, it can never beat him.

However, the golden baby dragon also has disadvantages-it will only attack close-up. If it is on a flat ground, Lu Yang will only see how far to see the golden baby dragon. However, Lu Yang is now staying on bu * Ah, as long as you lure the golden baby dragon into the concave valley, can you kill him with a terrain bug? Thinking of the top-level equipment he once burst out, Lu Yang feels that he is going to make a fortune this time.

Throwing away the half-skinned cowhide, Lu Yang turned around and climbed the rope along the rope to the top of the left side of the concave shape and ran over.

When Lu Yang ran to the place, the golden young dragon just passed by the bottom of the cliff, watching the golden young dragon about to step out of his attack range, Lu Yang immediately fired the fireball.

Three seconds later, the moment the young golden dragon was about to step out of Lu Yang's attack range, with a bang, fireball hit the golden young dragon's body accurately.

“-35”

“Hello ~”

The golden young dragon was attacked, and turned his head towards the landing sun and rushed across the area. When it was about to rush below the cliff, the golden young dragon suddenly opened its wings and leapt high. Seeing that when it was only two meters away from Lu Yang, The young dragon fell down.

The golden young dragon stared hard at the rocks on the cliff with two legs. Unfortunately, the steep cliffs could not provide the support point for the golden young dragon to stand. The golden young dragon's claws caught several times on the cliff and fell back to the ground.

If the young golden dragon can hit Lu Yang, then Lu Yang can be killed instantly. Unfortunately, because of the distance of two meters, the golden young dragon cannot reach Lu Yang at all.

Seeing the anxious look of the golden young dragon constantly jumping under the cliff but unable to fly at all, Lu Yang's face showed a reassured expression. The flurry of the golden young dragon just shocked him.

Attracted the golden young dragon to run towards the valley. There were too many blame on the outside. Lu Yang was worried that even if he killed the golden young dragon, he would not be able to get the equipment for a while.

In the previous life, Lu Yang did not kill the golden young dragon once, because such bosses have always been the treasures of the major guilds competing to kill. From the beginning to the late, every time the golden young dragon refreshes, it is the major guild. When the war begins.

Lu Yang did not expect that in this life he actually took advantage of himself. After introducing the golden dragon to the valley, Lu Yang used fireball again against the golden dragon.

In the setting of "Second World" ~ www.mtlnovel.com ~ Each time the character upgrades the system, he will be given 5 free points. Prior to the upgrade, Lu Yang added points to his intelligence.

In this way, count each A level attribute that is automatically increased by level, Lu Yang's own intelligence has reached 16 points, plus 10 points of intelligence given by the demon heart and 5 points of intelligence added by crispy electric eel, which is 31 points.

The benefit of so much intelligence is that Lu Yang has more magical values, reaching 310 points, and magic damages also reaching 31 points.

Faced with a 10,000 / 10000 health young dragon, Lu Yang wouldn't dare to provoke him without so many mana and spell damage.

After playing for more than 2 minutes in one breath, just when Lu Yang's forthcoming golden baby dragon's health dropped to 7000, suddenly, Lu Yang found embarrassingly that he was no longer blue.

In the game, the system NPC does not sell instant remedy, only players can refine it through pharmacy. Now that the game has just begun, no one will make it. Looking at the empty blue slot of himself, most players encounter this situation. Depression can't be dead, but others can't help it, but Lu Yang can do it. Relying on the 8 points / 5 seconds of the crispy electric eel meat buff, it takes 2 hours for Lu Yang to stiffly The Golden Drake was worn away.

With the unwilling roar of the golden baby dragon, a 4 x 4 big explosion came out. Among the 16 items, Lu Yang saw a golden glittering staff in the middle.

"Arson's Staff."
