

Chapter 81 - Wild Love With My Triplet Mates

Third Person POV

Sasha and Sophie brought a blanket and quickly stretched it out making a wall between Jess and the onlooking pack members. Camila brought a bag out and gave Jess a small injection. "This will help with the pain a bit Luna." She said. Jess's face relaxed a bit. Feeling a bit more comfortable than before. Dr. Laura and Camila put on gloves from the bag. "I need hot water and towels." Camila said to Shianna and Sabrina.

Sabrina snapped her fingers and teleported away, but in a few seconds she was back with an armful of towels. Shianna drew a magic circle and placed a metal tub of water inside it. Saying a spell, the water turned from cold into hot within seconds. "Perfect control Shianna." Sabrina praised. Shianna smiled.

Dr. Laura and Layla rose Jess's dress so it was wrapped around her waist. Hero laid Jess's head in his lap and tried to encourage her through the pain. "Alpha please hold her legs open. I am going to cut her underwear off." The doctor said. Zero spread her legs and the doctor grabbed a small pocket knife from the bag and cut the underwear. Laura felt around her entrance and checked to see how dilated Jess was.

"Alright Luna... Time to push." Laura said. "Already!?" Jess asked. Laura nodded. "Yes, your first pup has already been crowned." "Looks like your pups wanted to join in on the festival." Selena said as she combed some of Jess's hair out of her face. Leo grabbed one hand and Hero grabbed the other. Zero kept her legs from closing while she pushed. "AHHHH." Jess screamed as she pushed hard. She was starting to sweat. Sabrina handed Leo a rag to dab her forehead. After a few deep breaths Jess pushed again. Leo and Hero grunted a little. With the vice-like grip Jess was crushing their hands a bit. As the pup still didn't budge after the second push, Jess was starting to worry.

"Deep breath honey. You are doing fine." Hero encouraged her. "Don't give up princess." Leo added. "Ok Luna, on your next contraction, push as hard as you can." Laura said. Jess breathed, then as she felt her next contraction, she screamed and pushed with all her might. When her scream subsided the air was filled with a cry of a baby. "The first pup is a boy and is looking healthy." Laura said as she handed the pup to Camila.

Camila dipped a towel in the hot water and began to clean the pup off. Then wrapping him in a clean towel. A few nurses that were in the crowd had come up to the stage and one took the pup from Camila, so she could be ready to clean the next pup, and dashed off to the clinic with the pup. Shianna and Sabrina changed the water in the tub for some clean hot water.

"Ok Luna, breath. Do not push until the next pup crowns." Laura said. She watched Jess's entrance for the second pup. It didn't take long. "Alright Luna, PUSH!" Laura said. Jess screamed as she pushed. Nothing. Jess took deep breaths as she waited for her next contraction. As soon as it hit she pushed as hard as she could. Bringing their second pup into the world. Cries filled the air as their second son was born. "Another boy, now just one more Luna." Laura said as she handed the pup off to Camila to be cleaned.

Jess didn't wait for Laura to tell her when the pup was crowning. On her next contraction she pushed hard. The air filled with the pup's cries. Pushing out their daughter was a lot easier than their sons. Feeling drained, Jess went limp in Hero's lap... losing consciousness. "Okay, now we need to get her and the pups to the clinic for clean up and check ups." Laura said.

Zero gently picked up Jess. Sasha and Sophie used the blanket that they were using to cover Jess up. The triplets rushed off to the clinic following Laura and Camila, who had their daughter.

Jess's POV

I woke up in bed and felt sore. The last thing I remember was hearing my daughter's cries and then everything went black. I looked and saw my mates pacing around in their own corners of the room. "Where are our pups?" I asked in a horse voice. All three snapped their heads to me and rushed to my side. "They are fine sweetheart. They are being checked out." Zero said, as Leo lifted a glass of ice water for me to drink.

"Dr. Laura said that she would have them brought in as soon as they were finished and you were awake." Hero said. "How are you feeling princess?" Leo asked, stroking my hair. I smile at them. "Sore, but I should be fine. I really wanna see my pups." "And here they are to see their daddies and mommy." Laura's voice came into the room.

She walked into the room with a smile and was holding a baby blue blanket. Camila was behind her with a light green bundle in her arms, and another nurse was holding a light pink bundle in hers. "This is your eldest son, Luna. What is his name?" I smiled. "Ethan James Jackman." I said, then Camila brought me the pup in her arms. "Here is your second eldest." I looked at him. Both of my sons had midnight black hair like their fathers and I, but they had bright solid green eyes. "Terrence Allen Jackman." I spoke to Laura.

Leo took Ethan and Zero took Terrence. The last nurse brought me my daughter. She was beautiful. She had snow white hair and big bright blue eyes. Almost like Layla, but our daughter's eyes were shining like deep blue sapphires and when it caught the light of the blue moon, they almost seemed to glow. "So honey, what is our little girl's name?" Hero asked. "Her name is Melody Rose Jackman."
