

Good Day and Hello readers,

Firstly, I would like to thank your support in generating the traffic through my website, over December 2020 till January 2021, I finally made $5 USD through your contributions which will be withdrawn and invested into the novel apps (Hinovel and Novelcat) so that I can catch up faster to reach the latest chapters and release them for you.

However, I am sad to hear that lately there are telegram groups and other sites that have been using my releases and asking for donations to support them, without giving me any credit for my releases.

Whether you want to support them, it is up to you, however they are only re-releasing my hard work and getting the benefit, while I take my time and effort to unlock the chapters, screenshotting each page, converting them to PDF and uploading them to my site for you all to enjoy for free.

I am not forcing you to donate, since I am unlocking them for free, it is fair that I am not asking for any donations in return. I would rather the ad provider to pay me so that I can use that generated income for unlocking more chapters and hopefully new novels in the future.

What I simply ask, is a little bit of your time to download from my site, skip the advertisement and download. It takes slightly less for you to wait for the advert to load and the skip button to appear in comparison to the time I invested in screenshotting and converting, so I believe the few seconds of wait time is worth the sacrifice.

If you are downloading from my site, I sincerely thank you for your contributions in making my first withdrawal happen and I hope you continue to support me in the future so that I can release more novels and chapters as well.

For your information, I am doing this alone. There's no team, no assistance. Just me and my laptop and own accounts that is used to collect coins/vouchers daily so that I can unlock more chapters and release them for you. If you want to help, your assistance is greatly appreciated if you just simply download through my website and generate traffic there, so the provider will generate the income for me through your web traffic. That my dear readers, is the greatest help you can offer me for the time being.

Please support my release at my website at <http://sandvich-gio.simplesite.com> and I hope that with your support, more chapters can be released and, in the future, more requests can be included and released as well.

Sincerely,

Sandvich-gio

Chapter 31 Have No Shame

Daisy didn't want to dodge Tommy's fist at all. She was once the city's MMA athlete.

She's really not afraid of close ranged combat. Moreover, their bodies weren't so different.

In a flash, Daisy bowed and punched back after dodging Tommy's punch.

Bam! The punch landed on Tommy's belly.

Tommy shouted while holding his belly before taking three steps back and crouching on the floor.

From the beginning to the end, Daisy's movements were all straight to the point.

Standing up, Daisy stroked her ponytail and smiled disdainfully, "I have killed dozens of guys like you in a single day!"

"You damned..." Tommy held his belly and wanted to hoot some more.

However, his belly was hurt so badly that he couldn't talk anymore.

The sudden scene made Sophie Burton speechless.

She never thought that a girl like Daisy would be able to bring down a man.

"Now get the fuck out!"

Daisy raised her hand and grabbed Tommy's collar, pushing him out of the ward, "Don't disturb Ms. Burton, or else... Don't blame me for making you crippled."

"Let go of me!"

Tommy flung Daisy's hands away.

He asked with a painful look on his face, "Who the hell are you? I'm Jack's wife's younger brother!"

Wife's younger brother?

Daisy was shocked. She had never heard it from Jack.

However, she continued asking, "Mr. Hughes hired me to take care of Ms. Burton."

"Oh? He still have money to hire a housemaid?"

Tommy raised his eyebrows and felt even surer about his thoughts at heart.

He shouted, "At first he said he's struggling so he only had 200 thousands, then he just divorced my sister... Now he's doing well, it's an ulterior motive! He pretended to be poor and gave my sister 200 thousands before getting rid of her. That's more economical than getting a divorce right away. He's suddenly rich?"

All of the sudden, Daisy panicked. While Sophie Burton suddenly cried and shouted, "Shut up, my son is not like that! You're just slandering him!"

Even if she didn't know why her own son suddenly became rich...

But she clearly knew how her son was before, more than anyone else.

No mother would not care for her child, but she was severely ill before... She had no choice but to watch her son suffer.

"Slandering? I slandered him? My sister is the one getting slandered!"

Tommy gritted his teeth and yelled, "At that time, Jack's ancestors blessed him so he became rich. My sister married him because she didn't care that he's a villager. Now when he had some money, he divorced her. Villagers like you guys are just so damned heartless!"

"Shut up... Shut your damn mouth! You may not speak of my son like that!" Sophie Burton trembled while shouting.

Daisy panicked at the sight of agitated Sophie Burton.

Slap!

Daisy slapped Tommy, "Fuck off!"

"I..." Tommy still wanted to defend himself.

Slap!

Daisy slapped Tommy again, "I told you to fuck off!"

One side of Tommy's face was swollen.

However, he wouldn't dare to fight with Daisy.

He's enraged.

If Jack didn't pretend to be poor and got a divorce... He would've gotten engaged with Shirley, and probably going to get married.

Tommy opened his mouth and was about to shout again.

Slap!

Daisy slapped him again.

Tommy was completely stunned. His head buzzed after three slaps in a row.

These women were that stupid?

The noise made many busybodies around the corridor gather around.

Hearing Tommy's shout, everyone frowned in disdain. Of course, it was aimed against Jack and Sophie Burton inside the ward.

While Daisy's ferocious action made everyone felt even frightened.

"Fuck off! Get the fuck out!"

Daisy pushed Tommy's chest.

Sophie Burton shouldn't be agitated. If Tommy kept making troubles, the aftermath would be severe.

Daisy turned her head and saw Sophie Burton, who was crying and trembling.

Daisy immediately consoled her, "Ms. Burton, it's fine. Nothing will happen when I'm around!"

"When you're around? What could a housemaid like you do?" Tommy snarled.

He's arrogant at home, so when he "seen through" Jack's bad behavior... He wouldn't be able to hold it in until he got everything cleared on that day.

"Stop it. Ms. Burton shouldn't get agitated now, you'll hurt her." Sophie spoke like she's pleading.

"Hurt? It won't even concern me if she died!"

Tommy waved his big hand, "Mother and son, both are villagers... Who social climbed through us, the Parry family. All these years, that bastard almost emptied the house for that dying old woman. Did he ever felt guilty for my sister?"

"Enough!"

Daisy shouted at the top of her lungs.

She clenched her right hand, wanting to punch him again. But she know that even if she hit Tommy more than that, she couldn't kill him for real.

"Daisy, tell him to go..." Sophie Burton bit her lips until it almost bled, "Our family is never indebted to their family, my son suffered enough because of Katherine! He's slandering my son!"

"Ms. Burton, please hold it in. I'll tell him to go right away." Daisy's eyes also reddened.

Sophie Burton noticed her attitude.

Would loving a housemaid be so unbearable like that man said?

Right at that time.

Under the nurse's guidance, Dr. Hale hurriedly came over.

After pushing away the crowd and saw the scene, Dr. Hale was so shocked. That one time when Sophie Burton got agitated and had an outbreak... She nearly died.

This time he came again?

Seeing how Tommy was hooting, Dr. Hale immediately stepped forward and berated, "This is the hospital, do you think this is your home?"

Those words bewildered Tommy.

Dr. Hale turned around and looked at Daisy, "You're the housemaid that Mr. Hughes hired, right? Didn't you know that Ms. Burton shouldn't get agitated?"

Daisy looked wronged, "I, I stopped him... But he just won't go away."

"Why should I go? You're just a housemaid, who was hired by that villager to take care of his dying mom! Could you hold me back from complaining for my sister?" Tommy shouted.

"Enough!"

Dr. Hale berated angrily, "You keep saying villager this and villager that, villagers are not your scapegoats! With such character, do you still have the nerve to say those words?" Tommy's face reddened, he was going to refute.

Dr. Hale didn't want to waste his breath so he just waved his big hand, "Call the security guard, get her out of here!"

"H-how could you do this?" Tommy was surprised.

Dr. Hale angrily said, "I could do this because I'm the doctor in charge in this hospital! Even if the owner comes, he can't hold me back either!"

Tommy was so imposing.

Dr. Hale severely yelled, "Mr. Hughes is so unlucky for meeting you! Ms. Burton had been staying in the hospital for so long. I'm his doctor in charge, I've seen everything. Mr. Hughes is the only one who came to take care of Ms. Burton. How many times have your sister and you come?"

"Your mom came to the hospital for me, and asked me when Jack's mother would die... Your sister took Mr. Hughes' money that he prepared to save his mom. Now you still shamelessly show up and make a fuss with Ms. Burton!"

"Does your family have no shame?"

Chapter 32 Date

Dr. Hale's words shocked everyone present.

No one expected the whining of Tommy and his family to be like that.

At that moment, all eyes scrutinized Tommy.

Tommy's face flushed in red and was speechless.

In the end, he glared furiously at Daisy, turned, and walked away.

Daisy hurried into the patient room and consoled as she patted Sophie on her back, "Auntie, you must take good care of your health. I will inform Young master now."

Sophie held onto Daisy and took a deep breath, "No, don't inform him. I'm, I'm fine."

"But..." Daisy hesitated.

Sophie shook her head, "Jack is too busy. Don't alarm him with this issue."

Dr. Hale walked in at this moment.

He frowned and looked worriedly at Sophie and said, "Aunt Burton, I'll take you for some checkups to ascertain that you are fine. I will not inform Mr. Hughes."

Tommy was sullen and hurried into the patient room.

He wanted to kick up a fuss to recover some losses.

Jack intentionally plotted to deceive his sister to divorce with only two hundred thousand in compensation. This was preposterous.

But with Dr. Hale's appearance, he failed in his attempt and was left empty-handed.

At this moment, Katherine who was at the stairwell finally calmed down and walked out.

She encountered Tommy who looked annoyed.

"Tommy, what happened?"

"Sister."

When Tommy saw Katherine, he suddenly calmed down and said, "Do you know that Jack still has some money? His mother's operation has been completed!"

Although he was making a scene just now but before he left, he managed to hear from the nurses that Sophie and just received a liver transplant.

This made him furious. How much did a liver transplant cost?

Not only was Jack able to pay for his mother's operations, but he even hired a caretaker for his mother. Could a person who does not have money do this?

"Hush!"

Katherine's expression changed and quickly covered Tommy's mouth, "What if mom hears and gets agitated?"

Tommy paused.

Katherine quickly dragged Tommy into the stairwell.

"Sister, you knew about it already?" Tommy looked surprised at her. It was obvious from Katherine's reaction that she already knew about it.

Katherine nodded and sighed, "When you asked me to look for Jack, I already came to look for Sophie. But... you should not have come to look for her."

The last time when she threw a tantrum, she had caused Sophie's condition to worsen so much that she required emergency treatment in the ICU. That left a phobia within her.

If Tommy were to trigger Sophie and she died, then it would be a manslaughter charge!

"Why can't I look for her? Her son abandoned you and used such unscrupulous means to lie to you to preserve that sorry life of hers. How can I stand aside not doing anything when that man had mistreated you?"

Tommy was so furious that his eyes glared widely and his face was flushed in red.

Katherine was shocked as she looked at Tommy, has her brother suddenly matured?

What he just said brought comfort and warmth to her.

But, she still shook her head and said, "It's all in the past. I have everything I need. It's okay."

"Shit! If at that time you didn't choose Jack, how can they be worthy of our Parry family? They are country pumpkins and are evil!"

Tommy was full of fury and ground his teeth, "Jack has given so much money to his damned mother. Does he now want to get rid of my sister for two hundred thousand? Impossible!"

If it wasn't for his plot to deceive Katherine to divorce, Tommy would be preparing to get married to Shirley and won't cause their family to lose face.

As long as he got Jack to make up for his loss, then he will be able to afford the betrothal gifts for Shirley!

"Enough, Tommy!"

Katherine bit on her scarlet lips and said pitifully, "I know that you are in a hurry to get married. I will settle the issue with Jack. You take good care of mother. You must not tell her and father about this matter or you will agitate her."

She turned and left after she finished.

Tommy was furious, "Settle? If you can settle it, why would you lie to my Shirley and cause our family to be in such a sorry state?"

But Katherine, who had already left, didn't hear what he said.

DT Company.

Jack was busy with his work. The upgrading works of the West Shantytowns project were the focus of his attention.

Although he had resolved the exorbitant prices, there was still plenty to be done.

They need to quickly construct the buildings and begin to sell them!

Getting a foothold in the YK group was just the first move. His real success would be in the sales of the properties.

Only when there was real money coming into his accounts can the project be considered a success. Then he can deal with the father that he had never seen.

Ding!

He received a new message on WeChat.

Jack looked at his phone and lost his train of thought again.

Amber's message was simple: Jack I'm coming back on the first of the month. I have a lot of luggage, can you pick me up?

First of the month?

Jack thought for a moment, it was in a few days' time.

Three years ago, Amber was the bride's maid during his marriage with Katherine. She had helped them a lot during the wedding.

Now that Amber was coming back, he should receive her as a friend.

"Okay."

Jack continued with his work after the reply.

Soon after there was another WeChat message.

He looked at the phone and his expression turned cold.

The message was from Shirley.

Did this woman intend to throw herself at him?

The message was simple: Mr. Hughes, are you free tonight? I would like to invite you to my house and cook dinner for you. (Cutesy emoji)

How could Jack not understand her intentions?

But he quickly replied: No, I prefer to make my own.

At the bank.

Shirley looked at her phone in frustration and she was furious.

Jack... was that intentional?

The five million from Jack couldn't satisfy her for long.

In Shirley's mind, it was as if Jack had opened the door for her. Since she could get five million from him, then she would be able to get even more.

Furthermore, she was more than willing to give up some of herself.

When she apologized to Jack that night, she had already given her everything.

But she can't figure out Jack's reaction towards her.

After coming to work in this city for so long, for Shirley to overcome the Bank manager and sit firmly in her position as a bank officer, she absolutely understood how to manipulate men.

She had seen all sorts of men. And as long as she wanted, she could manipulate anyone of them.

But Jack was like a boulder and didn't respond to any of her moves.

With his cold response, Shirley would have given up long ago.

But when she thought about the five million in her bank account, she couldn't bear to give up on Jack and was determined to persist.

She was fuming within her and murmured, "It's all the fault of Tommy. If he had brought me to meet his family earlier, then I would have met Mr. Hughes much earlier. Mr. Hughes is so talented, why does that Parry family treat him with such contemptuous disregard?"

If she had met Jack earlier, she could have given Jack a good impression. Then their interaction wouldn't be that of Jack withdrawing money and for her to seek his forgiveness.

Shirley blamed the Parry family for Jack's reaction resulting in her hating the Parry family.

Chapter 33 Danger Approaching

Luckily, Sophie Burton was alright.

Daisy and Dr. Hale still were not at ease.

None of them spoke when Jack Hughes arrived at the hospital.

A mother always cares about her children.

Sophie Burton knew Jack was going through hardship. She did not want Jack to be burdened because of her matters.

Daisy hesitated on telling Jack the truth as Sophie Burton had told her not to.

"You seem exhausted, Jack."

Sophie Burton looked at Jack.

A lot has happened that month. Sophie Burton underwent surgery, then Jack and Katherine Parry divorced.

It was an extremely tough time for Jack.

Despite going through hardship, Jack continued to work to support his mother's medical fees.

"I'm fine, mom."

Jack felt relieved as his mother recovered day by day.

He was stressed out by his heavy workload but it was all worth it.

He did his best to achieve his goal.

"Oh dear...you wouldn't be so stressed if it wasn't for me," said Sophie Burton guiltily.

"No! It's not like that. You went through so much to raise me; it's time for me to take care of you now." said Jack.

Sophie Burton was overworked and stressed out as she worked very hard to raise Jack.

He was very grateful to his mother.

Jack hated the man that abandoned them.

"You're over-thinking, Jack," said Sophie Burton.

"Rest well, mom. I'll give you a surprise after you leave hospital." Jack raised his eyebrows.

Just as he was going to leave he saw Daisy was looking at them with tears in her eyes.

He greeted Daisy when he was about to leave.

As he walked out, a man in a Rolls Royce invited him to enter the car.

Jack entered the car. "Why are you here, Mr Ward," asked Jack.

"I wanted to visit your mother, but she wasn't aware of the truth, so I'll visit her some other day," said Mr Ward.

"Is there anything else?" asked Jack.

"There's something I wanted to report to you." Mr Ward frowned.

"What is it?"

"What happened? It is something important?" asked Jack.

"Someone in family is after you," said Mr Ward seriously.

"Me?"

Jack lifted his brows.

"Someone noticed you because of the announcement of YK Group entering our company," said Mr Ward.

"Wow, does my father know about it?" asked Jack ironically.

"Things aren't so simple, Young master."

"Old master wants you to take control of the family business, but there are some other members that want to take over the business." Mr Ward explained.

"They'll have to kill me to do it." Jack laughed.

Mr Ward nodded.

Jack silenced.

Humans would kill for money.

Not to mention, people might be envious of wealthy families.

"Brent."

Mr Ward shouted.

"Yes, Mr Ward."

A strong man on the driver's seat shouted.

Jack frowned.

The man was big and muscular; he seemed like a ferocious beast.

"He was sent by the Old master to protect you."

"Brent is a well-trained mercenary hired by Old Master when he was overseas," said Mr Ward seriously.

Oh~

Jack was amazed.

Jack has never seen a real-life mercenary.

He was surprised that a mercenary was hired to protect him.

He felt nervous.

Mr Ward sighed.

"What?" asked Jack.

"Everyone's attention is on you now, Young master. Old master and I did not expect this to happen."

"You must be careful!" said Mr Ward.

"Are those people so dangerous?" asked Jack.

Jack was confused that a mercenary was hired to protect him from the people in the family business.

"I acknowledge your abilities in handling the family business, but it takes more than this to succeed. You aren't as well-trained as the others in the family since you lived with your mother for such a long time," said Mr Ward.

Well-trained?

Jack laughed.

"I'll do my best."

"I was looked down by those people. I'll show them what I can do."

Jack was motivated to strive.

He knew what he had to do.

Brent's assistance made him feel confident.

Mr Ward sighed.

"When will those people reach this place?" asked Jack.

"Young master, their movement is unknown, but they should have reached some time ago," said Brent with a deep tone.

Chapter 34 George of the Hughes

Mr Ward was sent off.

Jack and Brent returned to Jack's house.

Brent was shocked by the condition of the house.

"Is it too shabby?" asked Jack.

"No. It seems that you went through a lot," replied Brent.

Brent's personality amazed Jack.

Jack was relieved that Brent had a good personality as they have to spend a long time together in the future.

"I bought a new house. We'll be able to move in next month."

"TM Villa District is expensive because the Villa was designed and decorated by the best designers," said Jack.

Jack needed to purchase the furniture for his new house.

Brent nodded.

His life was drastically changed after he was hired by the Hughes family.

Survival was the only thing he cared for.

He has gone through the worst of the worst.

There wasn't much that changed since Brent arrived.

Jack wasn't worried about the people in the family business. He even added an exercise session to his daily schedule.

The exercise was neglected in the past few years as he has devoted all of his time into his work.

However, Mr Ward's words troubled him.

"Well-trained elites?" he thought.

"I'm not qualified to be elite?"

Although Mr Ward's words troubled him, he refused to give up.

He has gone through too much to give up now.

He wants to live his own life.

As the sun rose, Jack went jogging at a nearby park.

Jack was drenched in sweat, but he didn't stop.

The park was empty before Jack arrived.

He had scheduled his exercise as early as possible to maximize his work time even if he had to sacrifice his sleep.

On the paths of the park, the street lamps were still on.

Jack saw something moving in the dark.

A man appeared right in front of him.

Suddenly, the man rushed towards him.

"Who is it?"

Jack shouted.

He thought that it was a robber.

The man laughed.

"Show me what you got, bastard!"

The one from the Hughes family!

Jack was shocked.

The man ran towards him and kicked him in the chest.

Jack reacted out of instinct and blocked the attack.

Boom!

Jack fell to the ground.

"Bastard! You're so weak. Why would anyone expect you to take over the family business."

The man ran towards Jack again.

The street lamp was too dim for Jack to identify the man.

Jack recalled what Mr Ward told him.

He knew that the man was going to kill him.

Jack panicked.

In a split second, the man attacked again. This time, he went for the head.

"Is he going to kill me?" Jack thought.

Jack realized that he was no match for the man in front of him.

Suddenly, a silhouette appeared in front of Jack.

The attack was blocked.

"Go away!"

The man was thrown away.

"Brent!"

It was Brent that saved him.

"George Hughes, how dare you attack the Young master?" said Brent furiously.

"Oh, Brent? It seems that the Old master sent you to protect this bastard."

George wasn't injured even after being thrown by Brent.

Jack was utterly speechless.

He was about the same size as George. He was relieved Brent was on his side.

Jack saw George's face as he walked towards them.

George had sharp facial features and fair skin. His smile was arrogant and annoying.

"This man is wild." Jack thought.

"Would you even dare to hurt me? I'm one of the successors of the Hughes family," said George arrogantly.

"You can try!"

"Did you forget that I taught you how to fight," said Brent.

George smiled.

"It seems that you're serious about protecting him."

"I would die doing so!"

"Loyal."

"Is this bastard worth protecting? He's pathetic," said George.

"I just wanted to see what this bastard can do."

"You're pathetic. The Old master is a fool to put high hopes on you," said George arrogantly.

"Are you worried?"

"If you were capable enough, you wouldn't be worried about me at all," said Jack ironically.

The words Jack said had hit George hard.

George was silenced.

Chapter 35 Pick up

"Are you talking to me?"

George said through bit teeth.

Which of the younger generation of the family wouldn't want to take over the family business?

But the old master going out and taken a bastard back to their house was really off throwing.

Being the elite child of the family, how could he leave his seat to this bastard.

Jack smirked, and said, "Welcome home Brent."

So was being ignored?

George's anger was burning, his eyes looked as if he was going to swallow one soon.

But he knew, as long as Brent was there, he couldn't touch Jack.

The fact that the old master had arranged his own security guards to watch this bastard showed how much he meant to him.

"You will know the difference between the elite and the bastard." George said in a icy voice, that went through the bones.

Back home, Jack threw himself onto the couch.

"Thank you for what happened before."

Brent shook his head, "That was my job."

Jack laughed not committing.

If it wasn't for Brent, he couldn't even imagine what George could have done to him.

Just like Mr. Ward said, these people do not shy back from murder.

"Brent, you said that you taught George Vale Tudo?"

"Right."

Jack smiled, his eyes committing, "Teach me."

George's appearance opened Jack's eyes towards the danger he was facing.

He wasn't being deprived of everything, but it was because of George's ignorance towards his life.

If his life wasn't being respected, then the danger will grow fast, because Jack was still depending on others protection.

In the following days, Jack was working out with Brent in the morning in the park, and then he would take a shower after being covered in sweat, and only then he would start his work day.

Everything was going as planned.

His mother's health was getting better.

And George had never been seen again after that morning.

It was as if Jack's life had a little incident, and then it was back to normal.

With a blink of an eye, it was the 1st of September.

It was noon, and Jack didn't have the time to have lunch, he had to push overhours to finish checking and approving the proposal.

The basic constructions of West Shantytowns was almost done, and the sales could begin.

With the big news of YK Group, Jack was very confident about the sales of this estate.

It was finally time to get paid for putting so much effort into this project.

After finally approving the sales proposal, Jack rubbed his nose.

He looked at the clock, it was already 1PM.

The sky was gray outside.

There was rain coming.

Jack knitted his eyebrows, he had a feeling that he forgot something.

He took his phone, which was on mute while he was working on the proposal.

He opened his WeChat App, and scanned through the messages.

Suddenly, his eyes were frozen.

He was looking at a message from Amber.

He finally remembered what he forgot.

Amber's message said, "Jack, are you at the airport?"

And this was half an hour ago.

Shoot!

How could he forget this?

Jack felt disturbed, Amber had talked to him before settling her date to come back.

He was so busy with work that he had to take a raincheck?

Jack quickly replied to Amber's message, "Amber, are you still at the airport? I am sorry, I was too busy with work and forgot, my phone was on mute."

Ever since his wedding with Katherine three years ago, when Amber went abroad, they lost each other's phone numbers, the only contact they had was on WeChat.

Ding!

"Still here." Amber replied.

"I am coming to pick you."

Jack felt very guilty, he took his coat and quickly went outside.

The airport.

It was crowded.

Everyone would surprised look at the girl who was sitting in the corner.

The girl was wearing a sunhat, a long white dress, and white sneakers.

She was dressed so simple, but still gave out a feeling of magic.

Because she was truly too beautiful.

"Still the same as you used to be, workaholic."

Amber put down her phone, and complained.

Her, Jack and Katherine were college mates, she knew a lot about Jack and his family.

After graduation, Jack became an workaholic to marry Katherine, which gave him his nickname.

She looked through the windows and saw the gray sky outside.

Amber said a little grieving, "It is going to rain."

When she sent the message to Jack half an hour ago, she already landed.

She didn't get any reply from him, so Amber didn't leave.

After three years away, the first person she wanted to see was Jack.

She wanted the relationship between her and Jack to have a new start, here at the airport.

But what she didn't think of was that the workaholic forgot about picking her from the airport, because of his work.

After her short grievance, Amber took a deep breath, and showed a joyful smile.

"It's alright, I know you are very hard working."

When Jack finally arrived at the airport, another 40 minutes passed.

The sky which was already dark, finally started to rain.

It was raining cats and dogs.

When Jack ran into the airport all wet, he found Amber sitting in the corner all bored.

After being apart for three years, Amber has not changed compared to back then, she was still as pretty, but she was more mature now, she lost the childish way of hers.

"Amber, I am sorry for the delay."

Jack came towards Amber, and said guilty.

When Amber saw Jack, she showed a big smile on her face, stood up, and gave Jack a big hug, not minding that he was all wet from the rain.

"Hey workaholic, it's been a long time!"

"Hey, hey, let me go, you are going to get wet."

Jack yelled out, and tried to push her away.

Amber let go of him, and said, "I don't even mind you, why do you mind me?"

Jack was speechless, he took the two big suitcases of hers and said, "Let's go, I made reservations, you must be really hungry."

Amber rubbed her belly, acting as if she was feeling really bad, "I am so hungry my tummy is already flat."

Jack laughed and left the airport with Amber.

"By the way, it's raining so heavily, why aren't you using an umbrella?" Amber asked.

"I left in a hurry and forgot to take one." Jack said.

Amber knitted her eyebrows, "What if you catch a cold? Still don't know how to take care of yourself."

Jack laughed, he didn't notice that Amber spoke differently.

The two of them left the airport.

Because of the heavy rain, the parking lot in front of the airport was already empty.

"Where is the car?" Amber asked confused.

"The rain is too heavy, so some airline will be delayed, the taxis probably all went home after their last guest."

Jack was also feeling uneasy, he was in such a hurry that he forgot to tell the driver to wait for him.

Amber was surprised, "No, I mean, where is your car?"

Jack said, "I never bought a car."

"So we won't be able to leave here?"

Amber lowered her head in disappointment, but then she suddenly raised her head again with a smile, and snipped her fingers, "Don't worry, I will find a way."

After saying that, she ran out into the rain.

"Amber get back here, what if you catch a cold!" Jack yelled.

"It's okay, worst case, we can share the medicine." Amber replied.

Jack was stunned, she was still the same as before.

But, he was also curious, she hasn't been back for three years, what could she possibly think of?

20 minutes later.

A Porsche 911 was driving along the airport driveway.

With a sound, the Porsche 911 stopped in front of Jack.

Jack was stunned, then he saw the windows being lowered, inside was Amber wet from the rain.

She laughed, "Get in the car, let's go home."

"Where did you get this car from?" Jack was too surprised, he put the luggage in the back, and sat in the car.

Amber pointed into the far distance, "Three years ago when I left, they were building a car world there. I just went over there and bought this."

She bought a Porsche 911!

Just like that?

Jack subconsciously put his hand on the pocket where his bank card was.

How did I not think of this idea before?

Chapter 36 Amber's Love Dearly

Vigny restaurant.

The first time that Jack had western food was in this restaurant, which was Amber Knight's treat at that time.

He, Katherine, Amber and some other friends often came here for the 4 years in university.

3 years ago, it was also in this restaurant that Amber said her farewell to Katherine when she left.

Therefore, the restaurant was quite meaningful.

"Workaholic? I didn't expected you still remember?"

Holding the wet hair, Jack stared at the glistening doorway of the restaurant with deep eyes.

"How can I forget?"

He had a bitter smile.

Amber wrinkled her nose, "You are too stinky though. Now you are a vice president of a real estate agency. I come back all this way, while you take me to such an restaurant."

For the past 3 years, Amber had always been concerned about Jack and Katherine, although she was on the other side of the ocean.

Otherwise, she wouldn't send WeChat message to ask Jack when he and Katherine just got divorced.

In her view, Jack was really awesome. He became the vice president of DT real estate agency from a new graduate within 3 years.

And that might be his limit in terms of his background.

"Then which restaurant do you prefer? Choose whatever you like. It's my treat," hearty laughed Jack.

"Well. Let's just eat here."

Amber pouted and firstly got off the car.

She knew that although he was a vice president with high salary, most of his money had been spent on Katherine and the treatment of his mother.

She didn't want to embarrass him.

Getting off the car, their clothes were both wet, which they didn't care.

They attracted much attention from other diners at once when walking into the restaurant.

Indeed, it was quite unsightly to come and eat western so embarrassingly.

They had sat down and ordered food. Soon their dishes were served.

Jack and Amber were delightfully eating and chatting.

But both of them didn't mention Katherine.

Amber had no intention to mention Katherine and make Jack sad at this point.

As for Jack, he also didn't want to affect Amber's mood now.

"By the way, I want to look for a job after I'm back."

Amber smiled and blinked her eyes, "Will you hire me to work in your company, Jack?"

Jack startled for a moment and bitterly smiled, "Oh, dear. are you sick?"

"You are sick with an unclear mind." Amber rolled her eyes. This kind of talk was what she and Jack had used to do when in university.

Jack purposely breathed a sigh of relief, "Alright. You are such a wealthy and beautiful girl. Why do you consider to work as you seldom return home."

He generally knew a little about Amber's family.

A standard wealthy beauty like her went to work at DT real estate agency.

Wasn't it a joke?

"How will I help you if I don't go working?"

Amber said it in her mind. Looking at Jack, however, she cracked a smile and said helplessly, "My father will let me take over family business if I don't work."

Jack had been wordless for a while.

Then Amber said, "Fine. Since you don't hire me, jack, I'll go to my father's company."

Nodding his head, Jack didn't continue to ask.

He didn't intend to pry into private affairs of her.

They went back to the car happily after the meal.

"Can I go to your house?" Amber pointed at the wet skirt, "I want to go there for a hot bath and change my clothes."

Jack lifted his brows. It was rather embarrassing to let her go there in terms of its condition.

What was more, there was a Brent in the rented house.

Shaking his head, Jack said, "My house is rented and it's too messy. I'll sent you to the hotel."

Rented house?

Amber's expression was changed and the way she looked at Jack became distressed instantly.

He had stood too much for the 3 years when she wasn't here.

Amber cracked a smile and nodded, "Alright."

"Let's go to Tyson Hotel," said Jack.

"Okay."

Without rejection, Amber didn't say she would pay the bill as well.

She knew Jack's condition. The money he earned was all for Katherine and his mother. Otherwise, he couldn't still rent a house now.

However, she didn't want to hurt his pride due to her love dearly. Jack might consider that she worried he couldn't afford it.

Male pride couldn't be trampled at all.

The car started.

It was dark inside.

Amber suddenly asked, "How is your mother, by the way?"

"Not bad," said Jack.

Amber frowned, "Actually, I know what has happened to you. I can help you. I mean, I can help your mother."

"I've come up with another solution. My mother is in recovery and will soon be discharged from the hospital," said Jack.

"Really? That's great!"

Amber happily grinned, "You are excellent, Jack. Have you ever known that I admired you a lot and considered you as my idol when in university."

"Stop your flattery. You just wanted to copy my homework. Now there is no more homework." Jack rolled his eyes.

Smiling slyly, Amber then asked, "May I visit your mother tomorrow?"

Jack nodded, "Yep. I'll take you there after work tomorrow evening."

The car stopped at Tyson Hotel.

Jack helped Amber to take down the luggage and checked in.

Having sent Amber to the room, Jack turned to leave then.

Amber looked at the closed door. The smile on her face disappeared. Instead, it was unspeakable love dearly.

"I know everything. The trigger of your divorce with Katherine was that she had taken the last 200 thousand, which was for saving your mother. No one could stand it."

The Parry family immediately spread the news once Katherine divorced Jack.

For all the time the Parry family had had a sense of superiority somehow. They thought that the Parry family and Katherine Parry were out of Jack's league.

Amber, however, felt it was Jack that was out of the Parry family's league.

There were various ways that Amber could know the situation of Jack and Katherine, though the Parry family had messed up the truth with lies of their divorce on purpose.

The money for saving his mother's life was the only 200 thousand.

Katherine took the money to the Parry family, which was just for a down payment on a house for Tommy.

It was ridiculous!

Amber had no idea how much Jack had bore during that time.

But she did know that it was unbearable for anyone to take those changes. On one side his mother was seriously sick; on another side, the last hope for saving his mother was cut off by Katherine.

Jack had strongly pulled through, however.

"You are too painstaking. I'm back as I don't want you to be so exhausted."

Amber smiled gently and her eyes became firm, "I'll definitely help you. I know that you are more than merely a vice president of a real estate agency."

After saying so, she took out her phone and made a call.

"Daddy, I've just finished my meal and arrived at the hotel."

Pausing for a few seconds, Amber smiled, "Daddy, I want to work at your materials company. Anyway, you keep it as a memory of your former struggle. Let me work there for practicing myself. It's no big deal, right?"

"Silly daughter, you are wasted in such a small company. If you want to work, just come back and follow me." On the other end, her father's voice was full of ardently love.

"Nope. Following you appears that I inherit the family business. I want to struggle by myself." Putting her fair feet up and wagging them, Amber coyly asked, "Please, daddy."

"Alright. I'll call the boss of the materials company. Just go there and directly take over his position."

"Hee hee. Thanks, daddy. You are the best."

Chapter 37 Dissipate the Family's Fortune

The next morning, Amber Knight left the hotel and went to her father's EnRich building materials company to handle the handover.

Compared to her father's family business, this EnRich building materials company was really nothing.

If it wasn't the first company that her father ran and he wanted it to be remembered, he wouldn't have kept the company.

Since Jack Hughes worked at DT real estate agency, it would be easy for her to help him if she got involved in the related industries.

Jack went to visit his mother in the hospital and returned to work.

Corbin Koch hurriedly walked in with a bunch of documents.

"Jack, there's a tricky matter here that I need you to make a decision."

Putting down the documents, Corbin said, "The project of the West Shantytowns is too big so we have asked the number one company in the city to provide us the construction materials this time. But they have been hesitating because of the qualification of our DT real estate agency."

Jack picked up the document and read through it, not showing many surprises.

DT real estate agency was only one of the many assets on Aiden Lott's portfolios. Its size was not even among the top ten in the city.

Qualifications had always been the weakness of DT real estate agency.

It was not rude to say.

If that drunken and pervert Ben Hall had not signed the overstated contract of 30 million yuan when he was still the General Manager, it would have been very difficult for DT real estate agency to get such a big renovation project for West Shantytowns.

The mistake had allowed him to turn the tide. Yet, it was still unrealistic to let the suppliers who used to work with DT real estate agency to continue supplying building materials for such a big project.

They were not able to take it!

Finding a bigger building materials supplier to work with was one of the key factors to the project.

"EnRich building materials company?"

Looking at the contents of the document, Jack frowned slightly and smiled bitterly, "This is the exclusive supplier of the major buildings in the city. Our DT real estate agency's qualification is indeed much worse."

"Yes, it is just because of the qualification. So, even if they know we had this project of West Shantytowns, they would still be hesitant."

Corbin was distressed, "So Jack, do you think we should follow up on the negotiation, or change to another building materials supplier? Or do we continue using the same old building materials supplier?"

"The old building materials suppliers couldn't take such a big project. There is no one in the city that has such strong power as EnRich building materials company."

Jack put down the document and smiled, "Okay, continue to follow up on the negotiation. I'll go to meet their president at noon."

Having immersed himself in the real estate industry for three years, he clearly understood.

The so-called qualification reason was just an excuse.

Moreover, DT real estate agency had the project for West Shantytowns. After the release of news about YK Group's entry, the housing prices of the West Shantytowns went up against the market.

As long as the president of EnRich building materials company was not stupid, they would agree to cooperate.

The hesitation was only due to the profit and rebate still being in talks.

At EnRich headquarters, Amber sat at her desk, flipping through various documents.

The transition between Amber and the company's president was incredibly smooth because of her father's relationship with him. The former president was also willing to support her.

But if she wanted to take complete control of a company, she needed to understand the company's operations and more.

If she wanted to help Jack, she had to get a foothold in the company as soon as possible.

Knock.

There was a knock on the door.

Amber did not look up, "Come in."

A man in his thirties, dressed in a suit, walked in.

He was the former president of EnRich building materials company, Josh Ellis. Because of Amber, he was demoted to the vice president position.

Josh wasn't dissatisfied with this.

Amber was the only daughter of his boss. With his boss's business empire, having his daughter take over EnRich building materials company, his boss must have much confidence in the company and her.

What's more, Amber's performance had also drawn his admiration.

She was really not the kind of wealthy inheritor who only knew how to have fun.

Moreover, Josh had some peculiar thoughts of her as their age difference was not too large.

However, all this couldn't be shown for the time being.

Josh put a document in front of Amber and smiled like a gentleman, "Amber, you've really worked too hard, take a break."

"It's okay."

Amber saw the document and looked up at Josh, "Mr. Ellis, what's this document?"

Josh looked at Amber's pretty face and couldn't help to lose his mind for a moment.

After coming to his senses, he hurriedly said, "This is the details of the project on which DT real estate agency wants to cooperate with our company, which is also the most urgent project at the moment."

"DT real estate agency?"

Amber hurriedly picked up the document to have a read. She remembered Jack was the vice General Manager of the company.

Josh reported next to her, "Last month, DT real estate agency got the renovation project of West Shantytowns. They were really lucky. YK Group announced that they will make an entry to the city shortly after they have signed the contract and the location will be in West Shantytowns. The house prices of West Shantytowns skyrocketed because of this."

"Isn't that pretty good?" Amber raised her eyebrows and said. "Once they sign this contract, they will be making a big profit, and our company can also gain profit by cooperating with them."

"It's good, but DT real estate agency's qualifications are really poor." Josh pretended to be awkward.

Upon hearing his words, Amber's pretty face turned to a scowl. She cupped her hand, "Mr. Ellis, don't talk about qualifications. I'm not a three-year-old child, just say it if you want to raise the price."

"Oh, Amber, you really read me through."

Josh smiled awkwardly, "In fact, our company has been hesitant to cooperate with them. We have been trying to negotiate to set the price of materials and the payment methods at a more superior point."

"As you said, qualifications do not need to be considered, but DT real estate agency is holding the project of West Shantytowns. It is like hugging a chicken that lays the golden eggs. We are trying to optimize the interests of our company."

Since taking charge of EnRich building materials company, he had worked hard to bring the maximum benefits to the company. Even the boss was satisfied with it.

Josh knew clearly that EnRich building materials company had already been the number one in the city when it was led by the boss. He was only maintaining the achievement.

If he performed well enough, he could be promoted to his boss's business empire. That's the place he wanted to go to.

However,

"This is not good." Amber frowned. She shook her head, "In business, cooperation should not maximize profits but should be mutually beneficial. Everyone gets to earn so that there can be longer-term cooperation."

Josh was stunned and chime in with, "Amber, you are right. Then what do you think should be done for the cooperation?"

"Of course it's a yes. These prices will have to be adjusted again," Amber said.

Josh was a little disappointed. Readjusting the prices meant the profit could not be maximized.

But the decision was made by Amber and he couldn't argue with it. It's fine to earn less.

Josh smiled and asked, "How much to be adjusted?"

Amber pointed at the document, "All materials on the existing quotation reduced by thirty percent."

Boom!

Josh was stunned like he was struck by lightning and he couldn't laugh anymore.

Instead, he stared at Amber with an extremely odd and shocked look in his eyes.

Was the young lady taking over the company to gain field experience and toughen herself up?

Was she sure she was not here to dissipate her family's fortune?

Mutual benefit didn't mean to cut yourself with a knife, right?

"Okay, just do as I say and go to DT real estate agency to sign the contract."

Josh's head was buzzing and he took the documents and walked out. When he reached the door, Amber's voice suddenly sounded behind him.

"Also, Mr. Ellis should call me Miss Knight. I don't like that you called me Amber."

"Okay, okay Miss Knight." Josh's face looked a little pale.

The door was closed.

Amber's face suddenly overflowed with a smile, "What a coincidence, I can help Jack so quickly. Would it be too little to lower the offer by thirty percent?"

Chapter 38 Relied on a Woman for Financial Support Unconsciously

It was almost noon.

Jack Hughes was about to leave the company to negotiate the contract at EnRich building materials company.

Suddenly, Corbin Koch rushed into the office.

"Jack, it's bad!"

Jack frowned and took a sip of water out of his teacup, "What is it?"

EnRich building materials company's president came to our company in person," said Corbin.

Poof!

The tea in Jack's mouth spurted out as he was startled.

No wonder Corbin looked so urgent.

EnRich building materials company was the number one building materials supplier in the city. Its long-term cooperation was also with the top ten real estate companies.

DT real estate agency was merely nothing in EnRich building materials company's eyes.

Even if they had the West Shantytowns renovation project, they should be the one going to EnRich building materials company to negotiate.

"Let's go take a look."

Jack got up, followed Corbin, and left the office.

In the meeting room.

Josh Ellis frowned and looked at the contract in his hand while his heart was bleeding.

His good plan was ruined because of the mutual benefit mentioned by Amber Knight.

The rise of housing prices of West Shantytowns against the market had made the top ten real estate companies jealous.

And he knew that there was a huge premium here.

This was a huge golden cake.

And it was destined to be taken only by EnRich building materials company.

That's why he kept being delaying DT real estate agency to gain as many profits as possible.

However, Amber was the boss's only daughter and he could not argue with such a decision.

When Jack and Corbin walked into the meeting room, they saw Josh showing a painful face.

Jack kept his composure and smiled genially, "Mr. Ellis has made a great visit. Sorry for not being well prepared to welcome you."

"Mr. Hughes." Josh smiled bitterly. After shaking hands with Jack, Josh said, "This time, DT real estate agency is really going to take off."

Jack was well aware of the value of the renovation project of West Shantytowns.

He also knew that all the real estate industry bosses were extremely jealous of them.

He was not modest about such words and he smiled slightly.

Bump!

Josh put the offer contract on the table, "You can have a look. If there is no problem, let's sign the contract."

Jack was confused. Beside him, Corbin's expression changed.

Why did EnRich building materials company suddenly become less intransigent?

Why would Mr. Ellis come here to sign a contract in person?

Jack picked up the contract in confusion and he flipped through it.

After only reading through two pages, he was startled, "Mr. Ellis, are you sure that you have the right contract?"

"Aren't there our name stated on it, how could it be wrong?" Josh raised his hand and rubbed his temples. He felt some pain in his head.

Jack quickly flipped through the contract. His eyebrows were furrowing deeper and deeper.

He really didn't know what had gone wrong!

All the materials quotations were thirty percent lower than before. Even the payment method had been changed to quarterly from monthly.

The quarterly settlement was the method when EnRich building materials company had acknowledged the power of the other companies.

This offer contract was like a free lunch for him and also DT real estate agency.

Even he could not help but feel a sense of trepidation.

After quickly reading through the contract, Jack handed it to Corbin.

Corbin flipped through a page and exclaimed, "What the hell!"

His face turned pale after the exclamation. He hurriedly apologized to Jack and Josh.

Then Corbin looked down at the contract again. The more he read, the more shocked he became. His facial expression changed and changed.

"Stop reading it. I feel pain about the contract." Josh said helplessly.

"Corbin, take a pen."

Jack said with a smile.

The contract was quickly signed.

After shaking hands, Josh said, "By the way, as of today, I am the vice president of EnRich building materials company. You have to thank the new president for this contract."

Jack doubtfully sent Josh away from the company.

Corbin was holding back his excitement and he said, "Jack, EnRich building materials company has changed their attitude towards us. Do you think the new president is stupid?"

Jack couldn't help but laugh.

Even he had this thought.

The price was reduced by thirty percent and the settlement was changed to quarterly.

This was like helping the poor DT real estate agency!

"Do your job now. Josh had led EnRich building materials company for so many years. The new president must have his strength and capabilities to let him down to the vice president. We DT real estate agency should always remember this favor he does for us."

Jack patted on Corbin's shoulder.

In fact, he could probably predict a little.

Just as he said to Corbin, it was impossible for him not to remember such a big favor helping DT real estate agency to take off.

After the renovation project of West Shantytowns, DT real estate agency's position in the real estate industry in the city would definitely change greatly.

In the future, DT real estate agency would develop and have a lot of cooperation with EnRich building materials company.

Perhaps the new president had his long-term sight.

However, this helpful contract still made him feel that his thought was a bit far-fetched.

Giving away thirty percent of the profit was not a small amount!

Jack returned to his office with a shock and he just sat down.

Bang!

Corbin rushed in again, "Jack, Mr. ... Mr. Ellis is back again and he wants to change the contract!"

Jack was a bit upset.

He had just signed the contract and he wanted to change it right away?

Were you playing house as a child?

Without waiting for him to get up, Josh walked into the office.

At this time, his face was as black as carbon.

He really didn't know what Amber thought.

When he just out of DT real estate agency, a phone call made him return and the modification of contract...

"Mr. Ellis..." Jack asked.

Josh waved his hand and interrupted him, "Don't ask. Redraw up a contract and change the payment method to annual settlement."

Boom!

Jack was like struck by lightning and was filled with surprise.

Corbin even blurted out, "Really, really?"

"Don't say it, change now." Josh showed a sullen look and rubbed his head hard.

"Corbin, go quickly," Jack said excitedly.

Such a completely favorable contract, wouldn't it be silly if he didn't rush to sign it?

Although he didn't know why EnRich building materials company's new president had done this, he didn't have to be foolish enough to get to the bottom of it.

Soon, the contract was redrawn up.

Josh signed it without even looking at it.

In fact, in his heart, there was really no need to read what was in the contract.

Amber had made the contract in such a way that it was unnecessary to take a second look at it.

Seeing Josh was leaving, Jack still asked happily, "Mr. Ellis, what did the new president mention..."

"Nothing, she mentioned nothing."

Josh waved his hand irritably and quickly left.

He was fucking confused too!

Anyway, the boss was rich and his daughter wanted to dissipate their fortune. How could he stop her?

It's evening.

To celebrate the signing of the extremely favorable contract, the company's employees were clamoring for a celebration.

Jack laughed and took some money to Corbin and asked him to take the employees to celebrate.

He still had to go to the hospital to visit his mother.

He promised Amber that he would visit her yesterday.

When he walked out of the company, he saw a white Porsche 911 parked on the side of the road from a distance.

As he got into the car, Jack's face was so calm that Amber was a little startled.

"Workaholic, why do you look unhappy?" Amber asked. She wondered if the quotation was still a bit high?

"No, let's go," Jack said.

"You are just not happy."

Amber started the car and drove onto the road, "Say it quickly, make me happy."

Jack shook his head and grinned, "Coincidentally, I'm really quite happy. I just signed a contract with EnRich building materials company today. The materials quotation and payment method are completely in favor of our DT real estate agency. I heard from the former president, Josh Ellis, that it was EnRich building materials company's president who made the decision. I was just wondering about this. That's why I couldn't laugh.

"Hee hee... Maybe their president is interested in you?"

Amber laughed happily.

"Stop being so gossipy." Jack rolled his eyes.

Amber blinked and said, "How was it? After getting such a big shot, you must be very proud to be the vice General Manager of the company, right? Did your boss praise you?"

Jack's face looked stiff.

He hadn't really told Amber that he was now the boss of DT real estate agency.

Should I tell ... now?

Chapter 39 Three Women

After hesitating, Jack held himself back from telling Amber right away.

He glanced at Amber who was focusing on driving.

Jack smiled while saying "Amber, I want to give you a surprise later."

Amber's his friend. Many things should be told truthfully.

He didn't want Amber to face him with sympathy, just because of what happened at that month.

"Surprise?"

Amber's eyebrows jumped. She didn't ask more, but smiled and nodded instead, "Okay."

The car entered LJ Hospital's parking lot.

After getting of the car, Amber told Jack to bring her suitcase.

Jack was dumbfounded after opening the suitcase.

The suitcase was full of fruits and tonics.

"I shouldn't be discourteous for our first meeting. I don't know if Ms. Burton will like it, I just bought some randomly." Amber said that with a smile.

Jack's heart twitched.

Amber's joke was like a needle that poked hid heart.

He knew his mother well, she would definitely be happy even if Amber came with nothing.

Compared with Amber's seriousness, some people... Never came for a visit in three years, and even kept saying "dying mother".

There's an extreme difference between his friend and his wife.

"What's wrong?" Amber asked.

"Nothing, you bought too much things!" Jack forced a smile and brought most of the things into the hospital.

Amber brought two bags of fruits behind him.

She was in a panic when she said, "Jack, wait for me... I, I'm a bit nervous, let's enter the ward together."

In the ward.

Sophie Burton was chatting happily with Daisy.

Daisy took care and accompanied her, Sophie Burton seemed to heal a lot quicker and her expression got livelier too.

Sophie Burton was fond of Daisy, she treated her as her own daughter.

Daisy also felt that, so she took care of Sophie Burton with all her heart.

Jack opened the door and saw them happily chatting.

"Mr. Hughes."

Daisy immediately stood up and helped Jack with the things he was bringing.

"Jack, why did you buy so many things?" Sophie was puzzled.

Over the years, she had been living a hard life. Even after Jack was richer, she didn't enjoy anything because of her sickness.

She felt bad because Jack bought so many things.

How much did it cost for him?

"My friend bought it."

Jack smiled and turned his head around to call Amber.

Amber walked into the ward timidly and glanced sideways at Jack

She told him to wait for a bit, but he just had to enter by himself, making her so nervous.

However, she quickly smiled, "Hello Ms. Burton, I'm Jack's friend, Amber Knight."

"Hello."

Sophie Burton smiled nicely. But when she turned her gaze to Jack, her expression changed, "Jack, why didn't you bring Miss Knight's things?"

That scene made Amber snorted out a laugh, and relieved her tension.

She just stuffed the fruits into Jack's hands before walking up to Sophie Burton with a smile, "Ms. Burton, you're so kind."

Sophie Burton was full of smiles. She felt that Amber was somehow familiar, "Miss Knight, have I ever seen you somewhere?"

Jack put down the fruit and wanted to explain when Amber suddenly said, "No, this is my first time meeting Ms. Burton."

Jack gave Amber a surprised look.

4 years in the university days, Amber had often met his mother. She was even the bridesmaid for his wedding 3 years ago.

Mother couldn't remember Amber because she's old and they hadn't met each other for 3 years.

Why didn't Amber admit it?

Sophie Burton nodded with a smile. She didn't ask more about it.

She said, "Sophie, please bring some water for Miss Knight."

"Yes, Ms. Burton." Daisy became busy afterwards

She brought water for Amber, washed some fruits outside to serve them.

Jack felt pleased as the sight of her working.

Moreover, he could also see that his mother felt pleased with Daisy.

Only Amber frowned at the sight Daisy.

However, Amber smiled brightly in an instant.

She held Sophie Burton's hand and talked with her.

Jack sat on the side, looking at Amber and Sophie that were chatting happily.

He didn't disturb them.

Soon, Sophie Burton returned with the fruits.

The three women chatted pleasantly.

Amber wasn't arrogant at all. She's very approachable that she even took the apple from Daisy and peeled it. Then, she even cut it into small pieces so it would be easy for Sophie Burton to eat.

Soon, an hour had passed.

It's very late, Jack was the first one who mentioned about leaving the hospital.

Amber nodded and smiled at Sophie, Burton, "Ms. Burton, get well soon. I'll come and visit you regularly."

"Okay, okay."

Sophie Burton nodded and said, "Jack, it's getting late. Send Miss Knight home."

"I understand, mom."

Jack nodded.

After walking out the ward with Amber, Jack finally asked, "By the way, why didn't you tell my mom that you're my old schoolmate that had ever been my bridesmaid?"

"A grown up man is so dense."

Amber rolled her eyes, "Can Ms. Burton be agitated with her current condition? If I admit that I'm your schoolmate and your bridesmaid, wouldn't it make her recall the past about you and Kate?"

Jack was stunned.

If Amber didn't remind him, he wouldn't thought of it.

Before he came back to his senses, Amber asked a strange question.

"Oh yeah, you haven't told me... Who's that Sophie that takes care of Ms. Burton?"

Jack raised his eyebrows, "The housemaid I hired for my mom."

"She's really a housemaid?" Amber was quite alarmed.

She muttered, "Then why do I feel like Ms. Burton treats her especially well? Just now Ms. Burton spoke to her more than she spoke to me."

Jack was speechless.

Amber's fussing over nothing?

But he still explained, "Perhaps that's because she takes a good care of my mom. She's pathetic anyway, my mom must have known her problem."

"What's the problem?" Amber asked .

Jack shook his head but he didn't open his mouth.

Daisy is a woman.

Women love beauty.

If she weren't forced to, would she make both her hands full of calluses?

That's her privacy, right? He must respect it.

"Tch... Don't say it if you don't want to."

Amber pouted, "Anyway, it's fine is she's Ms. Burton's housemaid."

"What's fine?" Jack asked because he didn't understand.

Amber moved her gaze away, wanting to change the topic.

Suddenly, there was a scream.

"Amber?!"

Both of them were dumbfounded and looked upwards.

Not far from there, Katherine was carrying the thermos when looking at them in surprise.

Chapter 40 Pick up the Garbage

It was really embarrassing.

Amber's expression became terrible in an instant. She didn't expect that they would meet Katherine in the hospital.

Jack showed a very indifferent expression. He glanced at the thermos held by Katherine and felt a little depressed.

Over the past three years, his mother had a serious illness, but Katherine never worried about her. But now she took good care of her own mother.

Anyway, before they got divorced, Jack's mother was Katherine's mother-in-law.

However, Jack had understood that the Parry family had never regarded him and his mother as their relatives. Katherine took the money that he used to cure his mother to her own family to buy her brother a house. So it seemed normal that she had never worried about Jack's mother.

Katherine looked at Amber in surprise, her mind blank.

If they hadn't met with each other in the hospital, she wouldn't have known Amber had returned home.

What was more unacceptable to her was that Amber stayed with Jack.

Katherine stepped to Amber and Jack, and then she asked Amber, "When did you come back? Why don't you tell me?"

"Kate, I just came back yesterday," Amber said.

Katherine's eyes quickly turned red. She raised her finger at Jack's nose and said to Amber, "So why are you with him?"

"Kate..." Amber's expression got worse. "You are my friend. At the same time, Jack is also my friend. After returning home, of course, I must visit Jack's mother, which is normal."

"It's not normal."

Katherine's eyes were red. She felt very aggrieved, but still gritted her teeth and stubbornly kept her head up, "I am your friend. Because of me, you could make a friend with Jack."

In her heart, what Amber did was betraying her.

Amber returned home, and stayed with Jack.

What was this?

"Have you finished? If you finish, we're going to leave." Jack's expression was cold. He didn't want to argue with Katherine because it's a waste of time.

He took Amber's hand and tried to stay away from Katherine.

But this scene made Katherine angry.

What?

Why would the man who divorced her be with her former best friend?

"Let go of your hand!"

Katherine separated Jack's and Amber's hands. Then, she slapped Jack in the face.

Pa!

"Katherine, are you crazy?"

Shocked, Amber gently fondled Jack's cheek, "Let's go. Don't argue with her."

But Katherine seemed to be crazy. She violently grabbed Amber's hand.

"Don't you come to see his mother? I'm your friend, too. My mother is sick. Why don't you see my mother?"

Then she dragged Amber to Elissa's ward crazily.

Bang!

Katherine pushed the door open.

Kieran, Elissa and Tommy were shocked.

Seeing Katherine's tears, the three were stunned.

When he saw Amber and Jack, Tommy became angry and shouted, "Jack, how dare you bully my sister? Fuck, I'll beat the hell out of you."

"Tommy, he bullied your sister, beat him violently and kick him out." Elissa roared, her facial features almost distorted.

Amber was so scared when he saw Tommy coming to her.

Just then Jack came up and let Amber stand behind him. He said angrily to Tommy,

"You're a loser, you want to hit me?"

Tommy stopped his step subconsciously. He was shorter than Jack. And he had been spoiled since he was a child. He really dare not fight with Jack.

He pulled Katherine over and asked, "Kate, did this coward bully you?"

Katherine had been crying for a long time. Her face was full of tears and she couldn't say something.

This scene made Kieran and Elissa very angry.

Elissa picked up the pillow and threw it at Jack.

"Asshole! Jack, you're a bastard. You bully my daughter. What did our family do wrong? That year, Kate married you, a loser who just came from humble background and let you be our son-in-law. She is totally out of your league. But, how you treat her?"

Jack's expression was indifferent. He stared at Elissa coldly who was almost crazy.

Amber frowned behind Jack. She looked angry.

He was a loser?

Kate was totally out of Jack's league?

Amber was a witness to Jack and Katherine. She knew the most of things of their love, marriage and divorce. Elissa's words were not true.

"Amber, I didn't expect that you were such a person. What did Kate do to you? Why are you bullying her with Jack, a man from countryside?"

Elissa bellowed, her chest heaved violently.

Kieran looked gloomy and his eyes were full of cruelty. It seemed that he wanted to eat Jack and Amber.

Ha!

Jack burst out laughing.

He glared at Elissa, "Elissa, are you a dog? Why do you like "biting people" so much? Who is bullying whom? Are you blind?"

"Who are you talking to? How dare you talk to me like that?" Elissa glared at Jack and shouted.

"I'm talking to you!"

Jack said coldly.

In the past, because of Katherine, he was very patient with the people of the Parry family.

But now that he had divorced Katherine, he wouldn't put up with the people of the Parry family any more.

"Jack! Shut up! She's my mother."

Katherine yelled and stomped, "You're a bastard! And you, Amber, you're a whore. You've been scheming together for a long time."

One of the reasons why she reacted so much was that Amber was her good friend, but she didn't tell her when she returned home. Instead, she stayed with Jack.

What's more, she thought the thing that Jack divorced her was deliberately planned by them!

And now this scene let Katherine was surer of her guess.

Amber felt speechless.

She suddenly became angry.

She walked out and stared at Katherine angrily, "Katherine, I don't know why you're so arrogant?"

"Arrogant? Right, I am arrogant."

Katherine's face was full of tears, as if she were the most miserable person. She raised her head stubbornly and pointed to Jack, "He's a jerk. He's a loser. He's the garbage I throw away. Since you are willing to pick up the garbage, just pick it up. I don't care about him!"

Pa!

The sound was clear and loud.

All the people in the room were stunned.

Amber's expression was very terrible. She was a very cultivated person, but she couldn't help slapping Katherine.

"This is for Jack," Amber said coldly.

Jack was surprised.

Then Amber glanced at Kieran, Elissa and Tommy, sneering, "Why are you so arrogant? Just because you live in city, and you think Kate is totally out of Jack's league?"

"Kieran, Elissa, you're parents, but you only love your son, and don't love your daughter. And Tommy is just a coward. And, Katherine just helps brother at no cost. You all are odd people."

Amber's laughter echoed in the ward.

Amber knew everything about Jack and the Parry family. She felt angry about an injustice done to him. The Parry family's people were very rude. She could bear with them, but she couldn't let Jack put up with them.

In her mind, Jack was miserable.

Katherine took the money he had prepared to cure her mother to buy a house for Tommy. Jack couldn't put up with them anymore.

"How does Jack offend you? For four years in college, he was the first in every subject. He won a lot of scholarships. So, he's very excellent."

"After graduating from college, he became the manager of a real estate company in only three years. And what else do you have besides living in the city? It's Katherine who doesn't deserve Jack."

"He had been helping your family ever since he married Katherine. All the money he earned was taken back to your family by Katherine. Katherine took the money he had prepared to cure her mother to buy a house for Tommy? This is a man who comes from humble background in your mind?"

A series of questions left Kieran, Elissa and Tommy dumbfounded.

Katherine grabbed her hair and shouted, "Shut up, Amber, Jack is just a man I dump."

"Ha!"

Amber sneered, "Well, since you don't want jack, I will."

Jack looked at Amber in surprise.

"You are leeches to Jack, and you just want to drain him. You still feel arrogant? How ridiculous!"

Amber took Jack's hand, raised it up, and said with pride, "You don't like Jack! I like him. I just want to be with him. And I tell you, I have the ability to make him become a wonderful person without any struggle."

Good Day and Hello readers,

Firstly, I would like to thank your support in generating the traffic through my website, over December 2020 till January 2021, I finally made $5 USD through your contributions which will be withdrawn and invested into the novel apps (Hinovel and Novelcat) so that I can catch up faster to reach the latest chapters and release them for you.

However, I am sad to hear that lately there are telegram groups and other sites that have been using my releases and asking for donations to support them, without giving me any credit for my releases.

Whether you want to support them, it is up to you, however they are only re-releasing my hard work and getting the benefit, while I take my time and effort to unlock the chapters, screenshotting each page, converting them to PDF and uploading them to my site for you all to enjoy for free.

I am not forcing you to donate, since I am unlocking them for free, it is fair that I am not asking for any donations in return. I would rather the ad provider to pay me so that I can use that generated income for unlocking more chapters and hopefully new novels in the future.

What I simply ask, is a little bit of your time to download from my site, skip the advertisement and download. It takes slightly less for you to wait for the advert to load and the skip button to appear in comparison to the time I invested in screenshotting and converting, so I believe the few seconds of wait time is worth the sacrifice.

If you are downloading from my site, I sincerely thank you for your contributions in making my first withdrawal happen and I hope you continue to support me in the future so that I can release more novels and chapters as well.

For your information, I am doing this alone. There's no team, no assistance. Just me and my laptop and own accounts that is used to collect coins/vouchers daily so that I can unlock more chapters and release them for you. If you want to help, your assistance is greatly appreciated if you just simply download through my website and generate traffic there, so the provider will generate the income for me through your web traffic. That my dear readers, is the greatest help you can offer me for the time being.

Please support my release at my website at <http://sandvich-gio.simplesite.com> and I hope that with your support, more chapters can be released and, in the future, more requests can be included and released as well.

Sincerely,

Sandvich-gio
