

Chapter 14

Silas Pov

Stepping on the gas I arrived at the hospital within eight minutes. Getting out of the car I don't care that I park in the drop of zone. I just need to get in there now! When I get to the entrance and the sliding doors open I see in the corner of my eyes a woman in red hair and a hat with her eyes fixed on the ground exiting the building, in the sliding doors beside me. I get a feeling I know that woman, but I can't recall that I know a woman with such red hair! The woman quickly disappears to the left, I shake off the feeling and walk inside.

In just a minute I find the right room where Arthur is. I am about to push the door open when a nurse walks up behind me with a bouquet of red roses. Seven to be exact.

"Are you here to see Arthur?" she asks while my eyes are locked on the roses in her hands.

"who send those roses?" I say and look up at the nurse.

"A young woman was just here to see Arthur, she brought them with her!" my heart start to beat faster from her words.

"What is her name?" I say to her

"She never told me her name, Arthur is asleep, so she will be back tonight around 8:pm" I have to take a deep breath and steady my heart.

"Did she have blond hair and green eyes?" I feel like my heart is beating out of my chest.

Chapter 14

"she had green eyes but she had long red hair"

"with a hat on?"

"yes" when I hear that I quickly take my leave and run outside the hospital. I take to the left where I saw her disappear, looking around the entrance but she is long gone. I take out my phone and call Damien.

"Meet me in my office in fifteen minutes" I bark out the order.

"yes Silas " I hear him answer before I disconnect the call. Walking over to my car and get in. Starting the engine I get lost in my thoughts. It must be her, I just need to see her eyes then I will know!

I pull out of the parking lot, heading back to my office. If it is her how long has she been back? when did she arrive? I have many questions that I want answers to. When I reach the company I go straight to my office where I hope Damien is waiting. "She was in the hospital!" I just blurt it out, not waiting till I sit down in my chair

" Did you see her?" Damien asks real excited.

"Well I am pretty sure it was her. I didn't see her eyes but I got a feeling it is her, she had long red hair and a black hat on. She left when I arrived"

"Then come on, we go and check the surveillance film" We walk down to the security office and take a seat in the conference room. The security men walk in with two laptops and switch on the big screen in the room.

" We have collected all surveillance film from the hospital, " they say.

" Start from 10:am" I bark out! It won't take long for us to see the woman but no camera caught her face. I sigh in frustration.

Chapter 14

"Well, That is the woman!" I say to them.

"There is no better picture, we can start looking if any camera outside the hospital has caught her," the security People say

"Damien we need to look at the airport's film. The mail was sent a week ago, who knows when she arrived here!" Looking over at him I see a frown on his face.

"You are right Silas! Bring all the surveillance film on the arrivals from seven days and get more People here, we have a lot of films to go through"
" he starts to order around.

"Yes Damien," the security men say and leave the office.

"I will stay and help you go through the film" this is my top priority right now.

" there are a lot of films, but if she has arrived by air we will find her Silas! " Damien says. After just some time the security men are back with more laptops and more men, some go through the surveillance film, and others go through the passport photos. There are a lot of films and some hours later my dad comes walking in.

"hey, Silas how is it going?"

"nothing yet!" I tell my dad.

"well it looks like you need a break Silas"

" I don't have the time, I need to find her"

"you have the security men who can continue to go through the film, let's go and have something to eat. " My dad is right I would need a break and relax my eyes for a while.

"alright dad, let's have something to eat."

"how about seafood"

"that's fine! Damien makes the reservation in our usual place" I saw and we get up and walk out of the room, heading to the garage on the underground parking.

Ben is already waiting outside the car with the door open. Getting inside and sitting down I fill in dad on everything that has happened today.

" And you think Belle is the red hair woman Silas ?" He asks when I am done.

" yes I do, she felt familiar when I saw her and when I found out she left the roses it must be her" that's the only conclusion I have.

"but where does she stay? Is she with her family?"

"no she isn't and we don't know" we arrived at the restaurant and get out of the car. Inside the restaurant, Damien has booked our regular table and I look out the window when I take a seat. We order our food and dad keeps asking questions.

"What is your plan with belle and the hospital today?"

" I plan to be there with Damien and some security, at least thirty minutes before eight." I let him know my plans.

" And then what? If she doesn't want to talk with you, what will you do?"

Chapter 14

"she has to listen to me!" I will not give up until she hears me out.

"and you will tell her what? The truth? Your wife, son, and mistress? Don't you think it is a little too much!" I sigh! He is right. How could I ever tell her that? I need to tell her everything, but if I do I might not see her again. Who wouldn't run after the truth is revealed?

It has been years since she left and so much has happened. We never had the chance to talk before she left, I wanted to explain everything to her, how I felt and why I did the things I did. But I never had the chance, and if I did would she understand? 1
