

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 771

Chapter 771 'I can't compete with Duke in terms of shrewdness when it comes to politics. He's a veteran, and I'm just seventeen. She whispered with her quivering lips, "I heard my mother call someone. She hired two bioengineers to make biochips. She was planning to implant it into your brain. Once it's done, the chip will turn you into a different person. Your thoughts, the words you use, and your behavior will be manipulated by the biochip. You will do things against your control..."

Duke frowned.

'So, that is what Mavice is up to.

No wonder she drugged me and locked me in here.

I've heard of this biochip before.

Earl's underground company was involved in this business...

'This emerging intelligent technology violates moral ethics.

It has been publicly banned, but many companies are nevertheless researching and developing these chips in secret, and are making huge profits out of them.' "Terry, run." Madelyn was practically begging him.

'I cannot let Mother do such a crazy and cruel thing.

If anyone knows about this, her reign as a queen will be over.'

Duke said calmly, "Do you have your phone with you?" Madelyn was shocked.

She took out her phone.

"What's the matter?" "Lend it to me." Duke took the phone and sent out a few messages.

He then deleted them before giving the phone back to Madelyn.

He sat on the chair and said indifferently, "Thank you for your reminder, Princess Madelyn. But I don't plan to run away. Please leave."

Madelyn was shocked.

“Why?! If you don’t run away now, you won’t have the chance to escape anymore!” Duke closed his eyes and did not utter a word.

‘While I’m here, I can’t trust anyone else.’ Madelyn pursed her lips and said in a low voice.

“It’ll be too late for you to regret your decision later... You will definitely regret this, trust me...” She turned and walked out of the secret room slowly, hoping Duke would stop her.

Unfortunately, even after she closed the iron door behind her, Duke had not made a sound.

Mavice was in the study room working on business matters when her subordinate came in and reported in a low voice, “Princess Madelyn went to the secret room earlier.’ The hand in which she used to hold a pen stiffened when she heard this.

She looked up and asked coldly, “What is she doing there?” “She drove all the guards out. No one knows what she said to Terry North. Your Majesty, if you’re worried, you may go and take a look.”

Before she could give a reply, another guard rushed into the study room.

“Your Majesty, something has happened! And it’s not good!” “What happened?”

‘The Black Party members who have pledged allegiance to us in Hestia Border are causing chaos all of a sudden.

The local resource factory blew up, and we have lost at least two billion dollars!” Mavice stood up instantly.

“Are you sure the Black Party members did it?” “Yes, it’s them.

We let our guard down because they have surrendered their weapons.

That’s why we’re in great trouble now...” Terry’s words echoed in Mavice’s head.

If I can make the Black Party pledge allegiance to you, I can also make them revolt against you...” She put down the documents she was holding and rushed to the secret room.

Duke was sitting calmly on the chair, as if he was not a prisoner there.

Mavice opened the door and walked in as she said coldly, “There’s been an explosion in the factory.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 772

Chapter 772 Duke twiddled his fingers and said casually, "So, Your Majesty, will you still continue to imprison me?"

"Oh, do you think a single factory can threaten me?" Mavice said coldly, "Two hours out of twenty-four hours have passed.

When the time runs out, you will know what is waiting for you."

"I still have twenty-two hours." Duke smiled, "Every half an hour, one factory will blow up.

There are only eight factories with a value of over $100,000,000 in Hestia Border.

That is to say, after another four hours, it's Yggdra's turn to suffer.

Although Yggdra is a developed country, I don't think it can stop a bombing, can't it?" Mavice's eyes widened angrily, "Are you threatening me?" "Of course, not." Duke chuckled.

"I just want you to get a clearer picture of the situation that you're currently in." "Your Majesty, bad news!" A guard outside the secret room hurried over.

' The second-largest factory at Hestia Border exploded.

All the rare resources were burned up." Mavice lowered her head and looked at the time.

It was exactly half an hour after the last explosion.

She gritted her teeth.

"Are you mad?! Do you know how precious the resources of those two factories were ? Do you know how much damage you have caused?" "What does that have to do with me?" Duke sat idly, his eyes fixed on his watch, as if he was waiting for the next explosion.

Mavice clenched her fists furiously.

'The explosion of the factory is one thing, the subsequent problems caused by the destruction of the factory are another thing.

' There is a good chance that the achievements she has just established will be ruined.' "Even though the Black Party has surrendered , they are still under my command.

The moment I vanish or if I am found dead, everyone in the Black Party will gather to wreak havoc and make Yggdra the next Hestia Border,” Duke said maliciously.

“Your Majesty, do you still plan to implant a biochip in my brain?” Mavice was so angry that she felt herself getting lightheaded.

She gritted her teeth and said, “So, you came well prepared, huh?”

“Everyone has to leave a way out for themselves, am I right? How could I step into Yggdra Palace unprepared?” Duke whispered, “There will be another explosion in ten minutes.

I wonder which factory will be destroyed this time.” Mavice gritted her teeth harder.

“Stop the bombing, and I’ll let you go.” “Let me go first, then I’ll stop it.” Mavice clenched her fists so hard her knuckles turned white.

‘My well-designed scheme was unexpectedly unraveled so easily.

‘I want my husband to return to my side, but even more than that, I don’t want to give up on my title as a queen.

‘I’ve had my head in the clouds for so long.

I can’t believe things are falling apart!’ She said coldly, word by word, “Open the door.

Let him out!” The heavy iron gate was pulled open, and Duke stood up indifferently.

As he was passing by Mavice, he whispered, “Don’t try to catch me again, because there is always an army around to serve me.

I hope I will never see you again.” He then strode up righteously, Mavice leaned into her chair and sat down weakly.

I’ve underestimated this man.

I was too impatient, and now I’ve lost my chance...’ After two consecutive explosions, Hestia Border fell into chaos again, and panic spread among people.

Duke walked through the panicked crowd and went straight to a mansion.

“Daddy! Daddy is back!” “Daddy, I miss you! You’re finally back!”

Harold and Melody ran out to the gate and climbed onto Duke’s shoulders.

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 773

Chapter 773 Upon seeing Duke's safe return, Adina heaved a sigh of relief. She had prepared dinner earlier. She said with a smile, "Don't pester your daddy.

"Go wash your hands and get ready for dinner." There were twelve different dishes on the big dining table.

The children, Pete, and Karl were enjoying their dinner to the fullest.

Flint, on the other hand, seemed to have a complicated expression and was eating absentmindedly.

After they were done eating, Pete and Karl played games.

Flint forced out a smile and said, "Come, let me take you out to play.

Who knows, we might not have the chance to do it anymore."

Everyone else left, while Adina and Duke were the only ones left in the dining hall.

"What happened?"

Adina asked with a sense of trepidation.

Half an hour ago, Duke had sent her a message, saying that if he did not come back by tonight, she would need to take her children back to Sea City.

She knew that something had happened, but she was not sure what it was.

With the consecutive explosions happening, she became even more nervous.

Duke put down his fork and held her hands as he said, "Queen Mavice invited me for a grand banquet and I encountered a little trouble.

But now, that trouble has been resolved." "Besides..." He paused.

"Blake has just sent me a message, saying that he has caught Earl.

Do you want to see him for one last time?" Adina was stunned.

"Seriously?" She was about to tell Duke about the threatening message Earl had sent her last night.

"I'll just meet him briefly, then." Adina pursed her lips. "What are you going to do with him?"

"I still can't figure out what kind of grudge I have with him." Duke nodded.

"I'm going to have people keep an eye on him. He'll be staying at Hestia Border for the rest of his life. Let's go home."

Adina smiled, feeling relieved.

"You might be able to recall your past when you return to places that are familiar to you." After cleaning the tableware, Adina quickly went upstairs to sort out her luggage.

After throwing out her children's and her clothes, as well as their daily necessities, only two boxes were left in the end.

Harold was overjoyed.

"We're finally going home! I miss Grandma." "I miss her too." Melody blinked her eyes and said, "We've been overseas for so long."

"I think we've forgotten to give Grandma a call." Adina was silent for a moment when she heard this.

Mrs. Winters played a part in what had happened to Duke.

"I don't know how to face her when we return."

"Regardless, Mrs. Winters is a mother of two sons."

"I won't deliberately drive a rift between her relationship with her sons."

"Well, I shall continue my adventure since your family affair has been resolved." Karl said happily, "When I visit Sea City, take me in, okay? I don't feel like going because Mama Daugherty's cooking is really delicious." Whenever Karl called Adina Mama Daugherty, she felt extremely old.

She pursed her lips and said with a smile, "We will always welcome you in our home." Alden looked at Karl coldly, "What did you actually contribute other than eating?" "What did you say? Aren't you the one who asked me to pretend to be you when meeting Terry North?" Karl said confidently.

"Hmph!" Alden sneered.

"In the end, not only did you not make it there, you even made things worse." Karl became speechless.

"Being taught a lesson by a four-year-old child is humiliating."

'But it's true that my IQ isn't as high as his.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 774

Chapter 774 "Whatever. I'm leaving now. Let's not meet again. We can talk through the Internet if we need to." Karl took his bag, waved his hand dashing, and left.

Pete decided to follow Duke to Sea City, since he still could not recall his memories.

Even so, he could only go there a day later.

Flint stood at the door of the mansion with his hands in his pockets.

He acted aloof as he said, "I have things to take care of here, so I can't send you back.

Be safe." "Uncle Flint, I'll miss you." Melody hugged his neck and gave him a peck on the cheek.

It comforted the loneliness in Flint's heart.

He said gently, "Didn't you say that you want me to be your godfather?" Melody looked at Adina and blinked.

Adina chuckled .

"Duke, I want Flint to officially be our children's godfather.

What do you think?" "I'm fine with it as long as the children are okay with it." Duke strode over, and said in a low and serious voice, "Mr. Morton, thank you for looking after my wife and my children for this period of time.

In the future, if you need me to do you a favor, I will do my best to help you, no matter where I am." It was Flint's first time seeing how serious Duke was.

'In the past, whenever I saw him, I would sweat profusely.

But I don't find myself doing it anymore ever since he lost his memories.'

He earnestly replied to him as well, "Addy and I have been friends for a long time.

It's part of my duty.

You don't have to thank me.

“Once you’ve settled your affairs and return to Sea City, I’ll arrange a reunion banquet.” Duke said, “Oneday, when you have children of your own, Addy and I will be their godparents, too.” “Wow, does that mean I’ll be an elder sister?” Melody asked in surprise as she blinked her eyes.

Flint was left speechless.

‘I haven’t even decided whether I should get married.

Why are they...’ Harold blinked his eyes and said, “Uncle Flint-I mean, Godfather Flint, you don’t even have a wife yet.

Instead of looking forward to your child, we should look forward to Mommy’s pregnancy.” Flint felt as if he had just received an enormous blow.

George’s eyes lit up.

“Daddy, Mommy, are we having another sister?”

Alden nodded.

“The more sisters like Melody, the better.” Adina remained silent.

Four is enough for me.

I don’t want to have any more children.” After saying goodbye to Flint, the six of them headed to the airport.

The airport in Yggdra was massive.

It was very crowded as travelers rushed from one destination to another.

‘The helicopter will arrive in half an hour.

Let’s go to the waiting lounge and wait for our flight,” Duke said gently as he and Adina took their children to the VIP lounge.

“Mommy, I need to pee.” Harold looked flustered.” Quick, George, follow me!” George looked annoyed.

“Go by yourself.”

Adina looked at Duke.

‘The airport staff might be dangerous.

Can you accompany Hal to the toilet?" Duke nodded and took Harold into his arms and walked to the bathroom outside the lounge.

"Mommy, I want to go to the toilet, too." Melody said shyly, "Can you accompany me to the toilet?" Adina turned to George and Alden.

"You two, come with me." 'Ever since Yggdra conquered Hestia Border, things haven't been peaceful.

I can't take the risk." She took her three children to the toilet.

Coincidentally, they bumped into Duke as he walked out with Harold.

Adina handed over George and Alden to him and went to the ladies' toilet with Melody.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 775

Chapter 775 There was a sudden cry in the ladies' toilet.

About eight women rushed out of the toilet, looking panicked

Immediately, there was the sound of a child crying," Mommy! Give me back my mommy!" Duke's face turned cold.

He carried his three children and barged into the ladies' toilet.

The toilet window was wide open.

Two men in black swiftly carried a slender figure, jumped out the window, and ran towards the airport corridor.

"Mel, it's okay.

What happened? Tell us." Alden had a cold expression as he asked anxiously.

"Two men in black suddenly barged in and knocked Mommy unconscious, and then jumped out of the window with her...

I wasn't able to protect Mommy..." Tears started streaming down her cheeks.

At that moment, Duke put down the children as he pursed his lip, then said, "George, take care of your siblings, okay?"

George had a solemn expression.

He nodded.

“Daddy, go after Mommy.

I’ll look after them!” Right after he said it, Duke jumped out the window and ran off.

George held his siblings’ hands and walked out.

They went directly to the security room.

Alden took out a notebook from his bag in silence.

He typed on the keyboard rapidly.

When he found a red dot, he called Duke.

“Daddy, Mommy is heading southeast.

There are two passages there, one leads to Hestia Border, and the other leads to neighboring countries...”

George contacted the local police.

‘The remnants of the underworld have kidnapped an innocent civilian.

Please block the road ahead...’ The airport was suddenly placed under martial law.

Planes that were supposed to depart were forced to stand by.

Adina felt a pounding pain at the back of her head.

She slowly opened her eyes when she felt intense discomfort.

She could feel herself being locked in a cramped space, repeatedly jerked up and down.

It took her a few minutes to figure out where she was.

She was in a truck compartment.

She was not sure where the men had taken her.

‘Now is not the time to panic...’ Adina instantly calmed down.

She tried twisting her wrists.

'They didn't tie me up.

'I'm still free to move.' She felt a sharp pain at the back of her head when she tried to stand up.

'I don't think I can escape in this condition.

'I can only wait a little longer.' The truck stopped abruptly, then it moved again.

After several turns, and about half an hour later, it finally stopped.

The back door of the truck was suddenly kicked open, and the blinding white light shone through.

Adina narrowed her eyes.

Two bodyguards dressed in black emerged abruptly and dragged her out of the compartment.

"Why have you taken me?" Adina pretended to be in a panic.

The two bodyguards did not utter a word as they dragged her into a row of single-story houses.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 776

Chapter 776 Right after Adina was dragged into the one-story house, both her hands were tied up.

She shifted her body a little and the bodyguard in black threatened her coldly, "If you dare to move one more time, I'll chop off your fingers." With how cold his voice sounded, Adina knew that he was not lying.

If she tried to escape, this man would not hesitate to harm her.

She felt a sense of relief to learn that these men were not interested in Melody and had not abducted her as well.

Otherwise, she would not be able to stay calm if she were to see her daughter being tortured.

The two bodyguards left the house after they tied her up.

It was a small house with no windows.

It only had a small door.

Just as Adina was planning her escape, the door flung open, and a woman dressed in a black robe walked in, revealing only a pair of sinister eyes.

“Isabelle Adamos?”

Adina instantly recognized the woman.

Since Adina could recognize her, there was no need for Isabelle to pretend anymore.

She took off her black robe and revealed her cold expression.

“Hmph, you bitch. Remember what I said. Sooner or later, I would get you. Do you believe me now?”

Adina looked at her calmly.

“Do you know your consequences if you abduct me here?” “Consequences? Bah, do you think I care?” Isabelle laughed wildly.

“My father was killed by Terry North, and all my subordinates were taken away.

Now I have nothing, and I’m not afraid of anything.

You are the woman Terry cares about, and I will cut you to pieces.

You won’t even have a complete body by the time he finds you! I’m going to see his pain and make him miserable ! Muahahaha!” Adina pursed her lips.

‘Isabelle is ready to destroy everything without caring about the consequences.

‘Perhaps, Isabelle wants to use me to lure Duke and abduct him...’

“You have such a beautiful face.

It’s no wonder Terry doesn’t even bother to look at me.” Isabel stepped forward, and the knife in her hand slid across Adina’s face.

“Do you think he would still care about you if I cut your face first?”

“It’s just a surface injury.

It doesn’t matter to me.” Adina looked calm.

“Ms. Adamos, I believe you may have made a mistake.

Actually, Terry and I have nothing to do with each other.

After he betrayed the Black Party, he lost his power, and I've been ready to leave him.

Abducting me will not affect him in any way.

This won't make him miserable..." "Shut up!" Isabelle scolded coldly, "You're all going to Cairnstan together.

How dare you lie to me?! Adina, you little bitch, how did you even seduce men with a mouth like yours? Guards, shuther up!" The body standing by the side took a rag and shoved it into Adina's mouth.

"Finally, some peace." Isabelle chuckled.

"Now, let me start with your face." As she said it, she lifted the knife and slid it across Adina's face.

A severe pain struck, and Adina almost fainted.

She felt blood dripping down her face and being absorbed by the rag.

Soon, her mouth was filled with the smell of blood...

"Hahahaha!" Isabella laughed when she saw Adina in pain.

She curled her lips upwards and said ferociously, "Even if you have nothing to do with Terry, I will still abduct you and torture you slowly because I don't like people who are prettier than me.

All the women in Hestia Border who are prettier than me have already been killed by me.

You're not the first, nor will you be the last."

As she spoke, she made another cut on Adina's face.

Adina inhaled in pain.

'If it weren't for the idea that I have, I would've fainted.'

She closed her eyes and clenched her fists, which were tied behind her, as she tried to maintain her last shred of sanity.

"She has fainted already? What a weak woman..." Isabella shook her head regretfully.

She looked at the blood on her knife and chuckled.

“Untie her.

Madam Winters’s Fight For Her Children Chapter 778

Chapter 778 Adina held Duke’s trembling hands and said with a smile. “It’s just blood. I’m fine. I’ll be okay after getting a bandage in the hospital.” Duke carried her and headed to the hospital.

The doctor washed off the blood on her face and noticed two wounds, one on the left and one on the right.

They were about an inch long.

Adina noticed how distressed and regretful Duke looked.

She said lightheartedly, “You have a scar on your face, and I have two.

Neither of us is allowed to dislike the other because of the scars, okay?”

Duke hugged her as he stayed silent.

‘I would rather be disliked than have her face disfigured.

‘She’s a woman who loves making herself look beautiful.

She loves to look at herself in the mirror, and she’s proud of her reflection.

How could she accept herself being disfigured?” “Addy, this won’t happen again.

Never...”

Duke whispered to Adina in his low and hoarse voice.

Her eyes became teary.

‘I’m actually okay with it.

I’ve been pretty my whole life.

I don’t mind looking homely.

‘If I can’t stand being stared at by other people, I’ll just get plastic surgery...

But it's going to be a pretty difficult one because I have two scars across the bridge of my nose.

'Luckily, I'm not bothered by them.

'My life is more precious.' The doctor treated her wounds and wrapped them in gauze.

She was then discharged from the hospital.

As soon as she walked out of the hospital, she felt her wounds itching up.

"What happened? Is it uncomfortable?"

Duke asked worriedly.

"It's a little itchy." Adina touched the wound through the gauze, "Is it starting to heal already?"

"The doctors here are not that good.

We'll go back to Sea City and get it examined again," Duke comforted her gently

Adina did not care about the wound.

The both of them left the hospital and went directly to the airport.

All four children were waiting obediently in the waiting lounge.

After they knew that Adina was rescued, they relaxed and chatted happily with the security guards.

The chief guard brought over a large pile of snacks..

His son would sometimes visit, so he would bring lots of snacks.

Now, he brought all of them for Melody.

"Thank you, sir!"

Melody thanked him.

She looked very cute and soft.

The chief guard melted.

The more I'm with this little girl, the more I feel that she was way more adorable than my own son.

How I wish to remake my son.' "Sir, your gun looks awesome.

Can I touch it?" Harold stepped forward cheekily and pointed to the gun on the chief guard's waist.

The guard quickly held the gun.

"This thing is very dangerous, you can't touch it.' "But it looks really awesome." Melody blinked and said, "I want to touch it, too.

Sir, can I? I'll be extra careful." The guard could not resist it when he looked at her glazed eyes.

He pointed at her and said, "Only for a while, okay?"

Harold was speechless.: 'Why can't I touch it?! 'Mel is a cute murderer!'

When Adina and Duke reached the waiting lounge, they saw Melody playing with a gun.

Adina almost had a heart attack.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 779

Chapter 779 The chief guard felt aggrieved. 'I only wanted to let this little girl touch it. For some reason, she's playing with it now in her arms.' He took the gun away, feeling terrified, and said with a smile.

"Your parents are here.

Hurry up and board the plane." He was afraid that he might give the gun to Melody by mistake.

All four children turned and looked at Duke and Adina.

The initial relaxed atmosphere instantly became depressing Alden was the first to speak.

"Mommy, are you hurt?" "It's no big deal." Adina said casually with a smile, "I accidentally fell down and scratched my face.

I have already treated it.

It'll be fine in a few days." George took out a glance at the bandaged gauze, which was several layers thick.

It was not simply just a wound.

'It's not a small wound, but since Mommy is trying to hide it, I shouldn't expose it either.' He smiled and said, "Quick, let's go board the plane."

I can't wait to get back to Sea City." Harold cheered lightheartedly.

"Let's go back to Sea City and visit Grandma!" The six of them successfully boarded the flight.

The helicopter flew over the clouds.

After ten hours, it finally arrived at Sea City Airport.

This time, Adina did not notify anyone about their return.

Duke stopped a taxi at the arrival gate.

The six of them got into the taxi and headed back to the Winters family's mansion.

At six o'clock in the evening, during dusk, the taxi stopped at the entrance of the mansion.

From the entrance, they could see the servants busy working.

Everything was just the same as when they left.

When the six of them emerged from the entrance, everyone was shocked, especially Colin.

His eyes became misty.

Even though Duke was wearing a mask, he could still recognize him.

'It's Mr. Winters!' Colin wiped the tears that welled up in the corner of his eyes and hurriedly opened the iron gate.

"Sir, Ma'am, children, welcome back." God knows how chaotic it was in the Winters family after Mdm. Winters suddenly disappeared twenty days ago.

"The four children disappeared with her as well."

'Mrs. Winters cried every day.'

She even lost a lot of weight.

'Mr.Winters suddenly abandoned Winters Corporation.

I met him one early morning, and ever since then, he disappeared.

'This mansion used to be merry.

But in the past twenty days, it was so quiet as if it had experienced a catastrophe

'They're back.

Everything is good now.' "Papa Brown, I miss you!" Harold climbed onto Colin." Do you miss us?" "Of course, I miss you all." Colin chuckled, "Sir, Ma'am,come in.

I need to tell Mrs.Winters about this good news!" Melody tilted her head and asked, "Papa Brown, where is Grandma? I'll find her." Colin's expression became sad.

"Mrs.Winter is sick.

She only wants to stay in bed and refuses to get up.

But I'm sure she'll feel much better after she sees that you all are back." George became anxious whenhe heard this.

He rushed inside the mansion as the rest of his siblings followed him.

'Regardless, Mrs.Winters is still a good grandmother.' Adina and Duke walked in as she said in a low voice, "Do you find it familiar?"

Duke said gently, "A little, but not enough to make me recall anything." "Do you want to go upstairs and meet your mother?" Adina said softly, "She's sick, so try not to mention certain things.

"I don't want to see her for the time being," Duke said in a low voice.

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 780

Chapter 780 .. Although Adina did not say it out loud, Duke could already guess why his twin brother could live in his home with such impunity.

'My own mother must've played an important role behind this incident.

Since she has chosen Earl Winters, I do not owe her the courtesy.'

“Let me bring you to the hospital to get a new set of medicine.” Duke rested his hand on Adina’s waist as they walked out.

Adina pursed her lips, feeling unsure.

She did not know what to say.

There were grudges between mother and son as well as between the siblings.

Just as they reached the door, all of a sudden, they heard hurried footsteps behind them.

“Welcome back.”

Mabel’s voice sounded weak.

Adina and Duke turned to look at her at the same time.

Mabel was not wearing any coat.

She stood on the stairs and stopped on the carpet barefoot.

Mabel was initially calm, but when she saw Duke, who wore a mask, froze.

“Is that you, Duke? You’re alive.

Duke, you’re still alive!” Mabel stumbled down the stairs and pulled Duke into her arms.

Adina slowly stepped back: Duke let Mabel hold him.

After a few seconds, he said in a calm voice, “Shouldn’t you ask about Earl’s whereabouts?” Mabel’s eyes widened.

“Duke, what did you do to your brother?” Duke showed a sinister smile.

“Duke, please...” Tears streamed down her cheeks.

“You and Earl are my biological children.

No matter which of you gets hurt, I’ll be the one who suffers the most...

When I found out that you might be dead, do you know how dejected I was I...”

“If you’re so dejected, why didn’t you try to search for me?” Duke said calmly, “The ones who searched for me and brought me home are Addy and my four children.

You're not worthy of being my mother." Before he could say more, the four children frolicking came downstairs.

He hid his cold expression and said calmly, i'm not a merciless murderer.

Earl is still alive.

He has only lost his freedom." Mabel's body weakened as she cried uncontrollably.

"I'm sorry, Duke. I have no other choice, you know that... I owe it to Earl. I owe it to him, and all I can do is this..."

"Grandma, what's the matter?"

Harold's cheerful expression faded.

He asked Mabel worriedly.

Melody tugged on Mabel's hand.

"Grandma, don't cry.

I'll buy ice cream."

Harold's expression became solemn.

"Grandma, what happened?" Alden also looked solemn as he stayed silent.

He was perceptive to emotion.

He was always thinking when he did not talk.

After pondering, he understood why Grandma was crying.

Even so, it was not his time to speak up.

"George, look after your siblings.

I'm bringing Mommy to the hospital." Duke wrapped his arms around Adina as they got into the car.

Soon, the car sped off from the mansion.

Mabel wiped her tears and said to George gently, " George, do mind sharing how you found your father?"

“He became a hero.” Melody’s eyes lit up.

“Daddy is so awesome! He caught a lot of bad people.” “Daddy was hypnotized, and he lost his memories.”

George did not beat around the bush.

“He was severely injured and has a long scar on his face.” Mabel pursed her lips.
