

Chapter 661: The Guest Is Always Right (1)

This time, without any hesitation, he turned to look at Lin Jiage and said, "Brother Jia..."

He only said two words before he stopped. This was because he saw that the calm and composed young man had already left his seat. Standing by the window, he was staring at the floor below with a gloomy expression on his face.

So, he didn't need to remind him. However, his expression was too frightening. He should have been staring at the girl downstairs for a while, right?

While Liang Jiushi was muttering to himself, in order to protect his little heart, he quickly averted his gaze from Lin Jiage and turned it back to the window.

Even though Shi Yao had been working at the club for several days now, it was her first day receiving her uniform.

She rarely wore high heels, but it wasn't as if she couldn't wear them. It was just that the size of the high heels that the clubhouse had arranged for her didn't seem to fit her well. At first, she was able to tolerate it, but as the number of customers increased.., as she busied herself with her work, more and more footsteps followed behind her, causing blisters to form on the back of her feet.

When she returned to the kitchen, a band-aid was placed on the wound, but it was completely useless.

Once her foot was injured, it would only hurt more and more. Shi Yao didn't want to take a leave of absence just because of such a small matter, which would leave a bad impression on the club members. Thus, she tried her best to hold it in, but who knew that in the end.., in the end, she still made a mistake.

When she was serving the dishes to table 26, due to the severe pain in her foot, she lost her balance for a moment and accidentally broke a man's porcelain bowl.

Actually, this wasn't a big deal. Under normal circumstances, she would have just apologized and asked the cleaner to clean up the place quickly. After which, she would have filled up a porcelain bowl, and it would have been over by then.

But it just so happened that she had some bad luck today and met a troublesome person. It could also be that the man was in a bad mood, so he drank a little wine and vented his anger on her. In short.., no matter how much she apologized, the man refused to let her off. He insisted that Shi Yao pick up all the fragments on the floor one by one right in front of him.

Thus, Shi Yao bent down and picked up all the fragments of the porcelain bowl with her bare hands.

The remaining fragments were too small for her to pick up with her bare hands. On top of that, the mess here had already disturbed the head waiter on the first floor. Seeing that the fragments had already been picked up, the head waiter hurriedly walked over with a broom, standing before the man with a beaming smile, the head waiter began to apologize with a fawning expression, "Sir, I'm really sorry. I'll help you get rid of the remaining fragments. I hope that you'll enjoy your meal."

As he spoke, the head waiter turned around and discreetly shot a glance at Shi Yao.

Shi Yao knew that the head waiter was hinting for her to leave first.

The expression on the man's face didn't show any signs of improving due to the head waiter's arrival.

After the head waiter hinted at Shi Yao, he turned to the man once more and spoke in a friendly manner, "Sir, you should eat these dishes while they're hot. They won't taste good once they're cold. Let me serve you a bowl of soup..."

After receiving the head waiter's hint, Shi Yao held the fragments in her hands and prepared to leave. However, before she could move, the man suddenly spoke up once more, "Don't I have long hands? Do I need you to serve me soup?!"

Shi Yao knew that the man was berating the head waiter, so she subconsciously turned around to take a look.

Chapter 662: The Guest Is Always Right (2)

Unexpectedly, the next moment, the man pointed at her. "And you, didn't I ask you to clean up all the debris on the ground? Did you clean it up?"

"Sir, the debris on the ground is really too broken. You Can't pick it up with your hands, it will hurt your skin. How about this, I'll get the chef to send you some dishes that you want to eat..."the foreman repeatedly bowed and apologized, her voice became even gentler as she explained the situation to the man.

However, not only was the man not appeased, he became even more unreasonable and unreasonable. "What do you mean by that? Are you saying that I'm too poor to eat here? Do I need you to deliver them to me?"

The head waiter could only apologize, "I'm sorry, sir. That's not what I meant. You've Misunderstood Me..."

This time, the man couldn't be bothered with the head waiter anymore. He turned to Shi Yao and asked, "Are you going to pick it up or not? If you're not going to pick it up, I'll Lodge a complaint with your boss. After all, I'm quite familiar with your boss here..."

"Pick it up, she'll pick it up..."the head waiter hurriedly reached out and took the broken porcelain pieces from Shi Yao's hands. He then turned to Shi Yao and said softly,"... use your broom to sweep it quickly. Otherwise, the other guests will have their own opinions later on."

Shi Yao nodded slightly before walking to the side to take the broom.

There were always many people in this world who were unreasonable, such as this man right now, he was clearly trying to make things difficult for her. "I said use your hands to pick it up. is your hand a broom? "Miss, it's not that I want to criticize you, but you're just a waiter. Do you really think that you're some rich heiress? Don't think that I don't know how many women you have in your club and what they do for a living. Miss... do you understand... which Miss am I? "Miss..."

As the man spoke, he intentionally emphasized the last two words.

His vulgar words made Shi Yao feel as if she had been slapped in the face, and her face flushed red.

Some people beside her chuckled softly, while others shook their heads. However, no one was involved in such matters, so they were just watching the show.

“Why aren’t you moving yet? Are you really thinking about what ‘Miss’ means? Let me tell you, you’re just a whore...”

Before the man could finish his ‘Zi’, a figure swept past Shi Yao with a powerful gust of wind.

Before Shi Yao could even see who that figure was, the arrogant and insolent man was immediately pulled up from his chair.

“Who are you...” before the man could even finish his sentence, a vicious punch had already landed on his face.

The force of the punch was so great that it knocked him to the ground.

However, the person who had punched him didn’t give up just like that. He grabbed his collar and continued to punch him in the face.

The surrounding people were startled by this sudden turn of events, and they couldn’t help but exclaim in shock.

The head waiter was frightened by this sight. “Oh my God, this is really going to be a huge mess...”

By the side, Shi Yao could clearly see who the culprit was. She threw the broom in her hand onto the ground and ran over.

The head waiter hurriedly called out to Shi Yao, “Shi Yao, are you here to pull someone away? Come Back...”

As if she hadn’t heard the head waiter’s words, Shi Yao swiftly grabbed Lin Jiage’s hand just as he was about to raise his hand to pummel the man on the ground, “Stop hitting him...”

She felt his movements pause for a moment before the strength in her arm grew even stronger. Afraid that he would really hit her again, she hurriedly used all of her strength to grab onto his hand, she then pleaded softly, “... Please, Lin Jiage...”

Chapter 663: Quitting Your Job Here (1)

It was only then that Lin Jiage turned to look at Shi Yao.

The young lady’s eyes were filled with pleading, as if she was afraid that he would hit her again. She clutched the tip of her fingers tightly, but there was a small gash on her left finger, and it was bleeding, it was most likely a cut from a porcelain piece.

Lin Jiage pursed his lips, and his face darkened even further.

Seeing Lin Jiage’s reaction, the foreman was afraid that Lin Jiage would swing his fist at Shi Yao in the next moment. Thus, she hurriedly called out to Shi Yao twice. Seeing that Shi Yao wasn’t moving at all, she looked left and right, she was wondering if she should go up and pull Shi Yao away when she suddenly thought of something, "Security, what are you still standing there for? Call for security..."

Before the head waiter could finish his sentence, she saw a scene that left her in disbelief.

The man who was stopped by Shi Yao actually stopped hitting her. Other than the frightening expression on his face, the aura emanating from his body was no longer as frightening as before. He stood up straight and took two steps back, without even looking at the man who was screaming in pain on the ground, he grabbed Shi Yao's arm and dragged her into the elevator.

It was only after Lin Jiage had rushed down the stairs and beaten the man to the ground that Liang Jiusi finally realized what was going on. He hurriedly stood up and ran toward the elevator.

The elevator door opened, and just as he was about to enter, he saw Lin Jiage, whose face was filled with displeasure, grabbing Shi Yao and walking out of the elevator.

Liang Jiusi hurriedly stopped what he was doing and said, "Jia..."

He only said a single word before Lin Jiage dragged Shi Yao away.

Liang Jiusi could only turn around and follow the two of them.

Pushing open the door to the private room, Lin Jiage flung Shi Yao into the room. After which, he stared into her eyes and said, "Quit your job here!"

Shi Yao frowned.

Quit? How could that be? This was the best part-time job out of all the resumes she had collected. Furthermore, the recruitment criteria here were extremely strict. It wasn't easy for her to get through the five hurdles and six generals..

Seeing that she hadn't said anything, Lin Jiage spoke up once more, "If you don't speak up, I'll speak up for you."

Liang Jiusi, who had followed her here, Lin Jiage couldn't help but interject, "That's right. If you want to resign, I can help you talk as well. I'm very familiar with the boss here, and I'm not trying to criticize you, but little fiancée... No, it's brother Jia's little fiancée. You Don't have the money to ask brother Jia for her, so why would you want to work here? Do you know that the people who come here are all influential figures in Beijing? They all know the Lin family, and if they find out that you're brother Jia's fiancée, it'll be really embarrassing for brother Jia to work here as a waiter..."

"Scram!" Before Liang Jiusi could finish his rambling, Lin Jiage had already bellowed at him.

He was so frightened that he immediately shut his mouth. Pointing to the door, he said, "I'll help you take care of that mess downstairs..." before he could finish his words, Liang Jiusi had already disappeared.

As Liang Jiusi closed the door, only Shi Yao and Lin Jiage remained in the huge room.

Lin Jiage was frustrated, but Shi Yao remained silent.

Under such an atmosphere, it was hard to tell how long it took before Lin Jiage finally relented and spoke up first. However, his words., contained within them was a force that wouldn't allow anyone to object or protest, "Yaoyao, it's settled then. Quit your job here, and I'll help you quit..."

Chapter 664: Quitting Your Job Here (2)

"Yaoyao, it's settled then. Quit your job here, and I'll help you quit..."

After saying those words, Lin Jiage whipped out his phone and began flipping through his phone number.

Standing before him, Shi Yao stared at his actions for a moment before her lips finally moved. "But I don't want to quit my job here..."

Lin Jiage's hand-tapping on his phone came to a halt. He lowered his eyelids slightly and stared at the screen for a moment before suppressing the agitation in his chest and trying his best to calm his voice, he spoke up, "Yaoyao, you're still in school. Your main task right now is to study. After you graduate, you can find a decent job. There's no need for you to be in such a hurry to earn money right now. Besides, the job here isn't suitable for you..."

Shi Yao remained silent, but she had her own thoughts.

If the job here wasn't suitable for her, then what job was suitable for her?

They were from two different worlds. If her grandfather hadn't suddenly come to their house six years ago, and her father had made her his fiancée because of the one million yuan, she might have lost her father, after that, she and her mother might have been living a hard life together... perhaps, it might have been so hard that both she and her mother would have to worry about three meals a day. At that time, who would care about whether such a job was suitable for her or not?

Furthermore, her family was her family, and his family was his family. They couldn't just live off of a marriage contract, her family could live off of his family without any worries... this was completely illogical and unreasonable... there were so many people in this world who were married to each other, so who would be able to support their wife's family after getting married?

Furthermore, she and Lin Jiage weren't even married yet, and her family had already used up so much of his family's money. There was no reason for them not to pay him back. After all, there were so many brothers and sisters who wanted to borrow money from him..

Seeing that Shi Yao was still unwilling to make a sound, Lin Jiage's mood worsened.

He knew that she was earning money to pay him and the Lin family back, but it was precisely because of this that he felt inexplicably vexed.

He closed his eyes slightly to suppress the raging flames in his heart, and he continued to compromise, "Yaoyao, if you really want to work, that's fine too. I'll help you find something else to do. In any case, I can't work here..."

After a brief pause, Lin Jiage continued, "... it just so happens that I've registered my own company in the past few days. If you really want to work part-time, can you come over and help me?"

Shi Yao's fingers trembled slightly, and she subconsciously tightened her grip on her clothes. Pursing her lips, she lowered her head and replied softly, "I can choose not to work here..."

A hint of joy flashed across Lin Jiage's eyes, but it only took a moment for him to realize what was going on, he spoke up once more, "Are you here because of what Liang Jiusi said just now? Yaoyao, I'm not here because you're working here. I'm not here because you're a disgrace to my reputation or the Lin family..."

"I know..." Shi Yao understood what Lin Jiage was trying to say, and before he could finish his words, she had already spoken up.

On this point, she trusted him and the Lin family. At the very most, they would feel that she had been wronged, but they wouldn't feel embarrassed just because she was a waitress.

However, Liang Jiusi's words made sense as well. They didn't feel embarrassed, but it was inevitable that others wouldn't talk about them... In the end, they still didn't want the Lin family to suffer from unnecessary criticism for their own reasons, putting the Lins through all this unnecessary finger-pointing.

At this thought, Shi Yao continued, "I know that's not what you mean. I believe you. I can resign from here, but I won't work for you."

Chapter 665: I Promise You (1)

I Won't work at his place..

Lin Jiage silently pursed his lips. He stared at Shi Yao for a long time before speaking up. Even though he had tried his best to suppress his emotions, the tone in which he spoke was still a little cold, "I'll Get Grandpa to inform the school library of G University. If you were to work there, you'll only be dealing with students from G University. This won't happen today..."

"... If you don't want to take up a part-time job at the school library, that's fine too. I'll help you find a reliable tutor. You can tutor in English, or I can help you contact a tutorial class so that you can become an amateur teacher..."

In just a short moment, Lin Jiage had already come up with several ideas for Shi Yao.

Seeing that Shi Yao was still silent, he continued to give her ideas, "Or perhaps, some of the people I know might need a translator. You can help him translate some of the texts, and you can even accumulate some work experience..."

"Thank you, Lin Jiage..." this time, before Lin Jiage could finish his words, Shi Yao, who had been silent for a long time, suddenly spoke up.

Her sudden gratitude left Lin Jiage stunned.

Following which, Shi Yao's lips moved, "I appreciate your kindness, but I'll think of a way to deal with my own work. There's no need to trouble you..."

There's no need to trouble you... her polite and distant words finally ignited the fire in Lin Jiage's heart that he had been suppressing for the entire day. No., it was the fire that he had been suppressing for the past few days. "It's not that you don't want to trouble me, but you don't want to have anything to do with me, right?"

What does that have to do with anything? She only wanted to rely on herself, not him or the Lin family. How did it become that she didn't want to have anything to do with him?

Shi Yao frowned slightly, unable to fathom where Lin Jiage's inexplicable temper came from.

"I Saw Your Ledger in Chengdu. The reason why you're in such a hurry to earn money right now is because you want to cut off all ties with me, isn't That So?"

There were some things that could have been avoided, but the moment Lin Jiage heard those words, he realized that the frustration and frustration in his chest could no longer be contained.

She had memorized every single detail of her account. Wasn't the reason why she was working so hard to earn money so that she wouldn't have anything to do with him as soon as possible?

Whether it was him or the other members of the Lin clan, they had only given her the money because they doted on her. But in the end? It had become her burden?

What did that man just call her? Miss, B * tch... if it weren't for the fact that he couldn't hold himself back and threw his fist at her, how would she have handled it? Would she really have to put up with it and pick up the fragments on the ground with her bare hands?

That's right. In order to cut off all ties with him, she would have tolerated anything... and now, she didn't even want his help anymore..

He wanted to keep her here, but could he really keep her here? She was a living human being. Could it be that he really couldn't just rob her? But he couldn't bear for her to be bullied just like that..

The more Lin Jiage thought about it, the more pain he felt in his chest. His chest heaved up and down as he stared at Shi Yao for a moment before speaking up again, "Fine. Haven't you always wanted to break off your engagement with me? I'll agree to it, Alright?"

"Also, if you want to earn money so that you can distance yourself from me and the Lin family, you don't have to do that anymore!"

"That money is insignificant to me and the Lin family. It's not even worth mentioning. Besides, you've been the Lin family's fiancée for six years. It's only right for you to get some compensation..."

Chapter 666: I Promise You (2)

After saying those words, Lin Jiage stared at Shi Yao for a moment before saying, "Now that you've gotten what you wanted, are you satisfied now?". Then, without any hesitation, he turned around and left.

It wasn't until the door to the private room was slammed shut that Shi Yao blinked her eyes and came back to her senses.

Lin Jiage... is he angry? And it's because... he thought that the reason why she was angry was because she wanted to sever all ties with him and the Lin Clan?

She had to return the money, but it was a matter of logic and reason. It wasn't that she wanted to sever all ties with the Lin clan... but that last sentence of his was just too hurtful, what did he mean by 'it's only right for me to receive some compensation for being the fiancée of the Lin clan for six years'..

Thinking up to this point, Shi Yao couldn't help but puffed up her cheeks as she cursed Lin Jiage in her heart.

Stop looking down on me! I don't want that little bit of compensation from you! So what if you're Rich? Won't you still starve to death if you don't Eat!

Shi Yao puffed up her cheeks once more and puffed up her cheeks. She stood on the spot and fumed for a moment, but for some reason.., lin Jiage's words suddenly flashed across her mind — "Didn't you always want to break off your engagement with me? I'll agree to it, Alright?"

It was as if someone had cast a spell on her, and the resentment in her heart dissipated in an instant, replaced by an indescribable emptiness.

This is really weird... I'm the one who has always refused to marry him.., a few days ago, she had clearly sent him a message urging him to find a way to reveal everything to the two families... but today, her wish came true... just like before he left.., she had coldly asked her, "Now that your wish has come true, are you satisfied?"... But why wasn't she as relaxed and free as she had imagined?

Shi Yao stood in the private room in a daze for a long time. It wasn't until the door of the private room was pushed open and the attendant came in to pack her things that she finally snapped out of her daze and walked out.

Just like how she had promised Lin Jiage, she really went downstairs to look for the foreman to resign.

She wasn't sure if it was Lin Jiage or Liang Jiushi who had informed the people here, but no one made things difficult for her. In fact, they even paid her for the past few days.

After taking off her uniform and changing into her own clothes, Shi Yao left the clubhouse and took a bus back to school.

It was already ten o'clock in the evening, and the lights on both sides of the road were shining brightly.

Shi Yao leaned against the window of the bus as she stared at the night view that was constantly receding. She couldn't help but recall the words that Lin Jiage had said to her before he left.

As the bus swayed and the distance between them grew closer and closer, Shi Yao's heart began to grow more and more confused for some reason.

After parting at the clubhouse that day, Lin Jiage and Shi Yao never saw each other again.

Before they quarreled, Lin Jiage and Shi Yao had rarely contacted each other. After that day, neither of them would look for the other anymore. On top of that, Lin Jiage was already in his fourth year, so there were no classes in school. It was likely that he had never returned to school either, as such, Shi Yao, who had spent the entire day in school, never saw Lin Jiage again.

However, there were still some things regarding Lin Jiage that Shi Yao could occasionally hear from her friend, who visited the school forum every day.

For example, Lin Jiage had registered a company.

For example, Lin Jiage's results from last semester were out, and he was still the top student in his grade.

For example, someone bumped into him in Times Square and secretly took a photo of him. He was sitting in his car with a cigarette in his hand.

Chapter 667: Isn't That A Junior? (1)

However, when her friend mentioned Lin Jiage, Shi Yao didn't speak much either. After listening to him, she was no different from before. She either continued eating apples or drinking yogurt, or she continued watching dramas and eating potato chips.

Just as Shi Yao said, after she left the club, she found a new part-time job to tutor a senior examinee in a school district near her school.

As for the salary, it was definitely incomparable to the salary in the Guild Hall, but Shi Yao, who didn't have any better options, could only muddle through.

There were no classes on Saturdays and Sundays, so Shi Yao's tutoring time was slightly longer.

That day, she happened to catch up with the students she had to tutor, and there was a lot of homework assigned to her by the school, so her tutoring time was also slightly longer than usual. From the afternoon until the evening.

Around eight o'clock, Shi Yao's phone rang.

It was her mother. She stared at the screen for a moment, but she didn't pick up.

In fact, her mother had called her several times recently, but she didn't pick up.

The student who was doing the questions beside her was affected by her phone. He turned to look at Shi Yao, and seeing that she was staring at the screen in a daze, he couldn't help but ask, "Sis Yaoyao, are you picking up?"

Shi Yao came back to her senses and said softly to the student, "Continue with your questions." After which, she muted her phone and placed it in her bag.

By the time she finished her lesson and returned to school, it was already ten o'clock in the evening.

As it was late at night, the parents of the students didn't feel at ease. Furthermore, it wasn't too far from the school, so the parents and students walked Shi Yao to the school entrance.

On the way back to the dormitory, Shi Yao took out her phone and took a look. There were eight missed calls, and they were all from her mother.

Just as she was hesitating whether she should return a call or not, another call came in. It was still her mother.

Shi Yao struggled for a moment, but in the end, she still picked up the call.

“Yaoyao, what’s wrong with you? You’re not picking up your phone anymore...” as it was a video call, Shi Yao’s mother saw that Shi Yao was still outside after she finished muttering to herself, she continued, “... Why are you so late at night? You haven’t returned to your dormitory yet. Did you go out to play? with whom? Jia Ge?”

It wasn’t that her mother hadn’t asked her similar questions before, but because she had caught her arguing with her father, she felt an inexplicable discomfort in her heart when she heard her mother’s last words.

However, she still replied softly, “No, I just came out to buy something.”

“Oh, is that so...” Shi Yao’s mother didn’t dwell on this matter for too long before raising her phone, pointing at the various wedding candies on the table, she asked Shi Yao, “Take a look. These are the samples that someone sent over today. Which one do you like?”

Shi Yao’s mother carefully showed Shi Yao the wedding candies, invitations, and other wedding trivia, at the same time, she said, “Your father and I went to the Lin family’s residence this afternoon. Old Mister Lin said that we live in the suburbs. After you got married, it wasn’t convenient for you to see your father and me, so you decided to arrange a house for your father and me near their house... Their house is in the center of the city, so that house must be very expensive. That’s why your father said that the smallest house would be fine, as long as both of us can live in it... Don’t tell me, Old Mister Lin is really...”

Hearing this, Shi Yao couldn’t help but interrupt her mother’s excited voice, “Mom...”

“HM? What’s Wrong?” Shi Yao’s mother flipped through the invitation card on the table as she asked, “I think this one is pretty good. What do you think, Yaoyao?”

Shi Yao ignored her mother’s question and called out once more, “Mom...”

Perhaps sensing that something was wrong with her daughter, Shi Yao’s mother turned to the camera on her phone and asked, “What’s Wrong?”

Shi Yao fell silent for a moment before asking, “Can I not get married?”

“What nonsense are you spouting? which woman doesn’t want to Get Married?”

“No, I mean... can I not marry Lin Jiage?” Shi Yao took a deep breath after saying those words, thus, she decided to express her thoughts out loud, “Can you not get married? And that house, you and my dad can forget about it as well. If you really want the house, I’ll earn enough money to buy it for you two to live in...”

But before Shi Yao could finish her words., her father’s face suddenly appeared on the screen, “Shi Yao, what nonsense are you spouting? What do you mean by not holding this marriage anymore? This matter has already been set in stone. Do you really think that you can just say that you don’t want it anymore? Let me tell you, you’re really lucky that the Lin family has taken a liking to you. Don’t be so stubborn. There are so many girls who want this kind of opportunity, but none of them have it. Did you have a fight with Jia Ge? Let me tell you, don't provoke him. You have to coax him a little. If he doesn't want you anymore..."

Shi Yao's eyes lit up, and before her father could finish his sentence, she hung up the phone.

Soon, her phone vibrated again.

It was her mother again. Shi Yao pressed the hang-up button, and her phone vibrated again. Thus, she simply turned off her phone.

Her palm was now clear, but Shi Yao's heart felt even sadder. She stood on the school's sidewalk for a while before running to a nearby playground. Squatting in a corner, she started crying secretly.

It was true that Lin Jiage hadn't been returning to G University recently, but since it was the weekend, he had nothing to do, so he agreed to play basketball with Xia Shangzhou and Lu Benlai. Thus, after lunch, he came to the school.

After playing basketball, the three of them returned to their dormitory and rested for a while. After which, they took a shower, changed into clean clothes, and went out for dinner.

Lin Jiage drove over because it was convenient to do so, so the place where the three of them went to eat was a little far from the school.

There was a traffic jam on the way, so it was already eight o'clock by the time they were done eating. By the time they returned to the school, it was already past ten o'clock.

Lin Jiage originally planned to leave Xia Shangzhou and Lu Benlai at the school gate, but he suddenly recalled that he had to copy some information from his dormitory room's computer, so he parked his car by the side of the road at the school gate, thus, he entered the school gate together with them.

On his way back to his dorm, he had to pass by the school field. Just like that, on his way back, Lin Jiage was blocked by a girl who forcefully stuffed a light pink box into his path.

Xia Shangzhou walked over and asked, "What is it? Do you want me to take a look?"

Lu Benlai also walked over and said, "It's not for you, so what the hell are you looking at?"

Xia Shangzhou: "Then why are you here?"

Lu benlai: "I'm here to look at your ugly face..."

Xia Shangzhou was just about to kick Lu Benlai: "Your Grandpa..."

Lu Benlai nimbly dodged to the side, but just as he was about to return the kick, a figure squatting in a dimly lit area on the field suddenly caught his attention. He stared at the figure for a moment before confirming something, turning to Lin Jiage, he asked, "Boss, isn't that Little Junior?"

Xia Shangzhou looked in the direction that Lu Benlai was pointing at and said, "That's right, it's little junior. Why is she standing there alone? She seems to be crying..."

Chapter 669: Lovers' Breakup (1)

As Lu Benlai and Xia Shangzhou spoke one after another, Lin Jiage raised his head and looked toward the field.

It really was her... it was as if she had met with some kind of sad event. Her small appearance made her seem sad and helpless.

With just a single glance, Lin Jiage felt as if someone had stabbed his heart with a knife. The pain was so intense that he didn't even have the strength to breathe.

Lu benlai: "What's wrong with little junior? She seems to be crying so sadly..."

"That's right..." Xia Shangzhou turned to Lin Jiage and asked, "Boss, aren't you going to take a look?"

Lin Jiage didn't respond. His gaze was still fixated on the slender figure on the field.

"Old..." Xia Shangzhou was just about to remind Lin Jiage once more, but before he could finish his sentence, Lu Benlai had already given him a light kick. He furiously turned his head around and was just about to scold Lu Benlai., but he was stopped by Lu Benlai's 'Shh'emOji.

Seeing that Xia Shangzhou had quietened down, Lu Benlai pointed his finger at Lin Jiage. Xia Shangzhou followed Lu Benlai's line of sight, and it was only then that he realized that., lin Jiage's originally leisurely appearance after having a meal with them had suddenly turned cold and stiff.

It was as if the scene had frozen in place. Shi Yao was crying in the distance while the three of them stood there. A moment later, a gust of night wind blew over, and Lin Jiage snapped back to his senses. He retracted his gaze and lightly said, "Let's go." Taking the lead, he lifted his feet and walked toward the male dormitory building.

It was only after Lin Jiage had walked quite a distance away that Xia Shangzhou and Lu Benlai finally snapped back to their senses. They stared at each other in shock for a long time before finally walking toward the male dormitory building together, they began muttering under their breath.

Lu benlai: "Am I seeing things? Boss actually ignored little junior?"

Xia Shangzhou: "What's Going On? Doesn't boss always follow Little Junior's lead? Why is he so cold and heartless today? The heart of a man really is like a needle in the ocean..."

Lu benlai: "I don't know. I didn't find anything wrong with boss this afternoon either. It's like a couple breaking up..."

Xia Shangzhou: "Then tell me, does this mean that I can treat little junior like a goddess again, and then I can pursue little junior again..."

Before Xia Shangzhou could finish his words, Lin Jiage, who had already gotten what he wanted from his dormitory room, bumped into the two of them.

Xia Shangzhou hurriedly changed his words. Due to his guilty conscience, his voice was incomparably resounding, "Boss!"

It was as if Lin Jiage didn't notice him and Xia Shangzhou at all. He brushed past the two of them and left.

When he reached the spot where he had just stopped, Lin Jiage turned his head to look at the field. Shi Yao was still there, still crying.

His footsteps slowed down slightly, but in the end, he didn't stop. Instead, his lips were tightly pursed as he strode forward.

Walking out of the school, Lin Jiage opened the car door and got into the car. He fastened his seatbelt, and just as he was about to step on the accelerator, he suddenly unfastened the seatbelt that he had fastened just a second ago..

It was already very late. Shi Yao, who had finally stopped crying, knew that it was time for her to return to her dormitory room, but she was still unwilling to do so.

It was late autumn night, and the temperature was a little low. When the wind blew, she couldn't help but shiver. She subconsciously hugged her body tightly, and then she felt a warm coat covering her body.., covering her body.

Chapter 670: Lovers' Breakup (2)

Thinking that she was hallucinating, Shi Yao was stunned for a moment before realizing that everything was real. Raising her head, she saw Leng Nuan.

She was stunned for a moment before saying, "Nuan Nuan..."

Leng Nuan wasn't in a hurry to speak. Instead, she took two steps forward and sat down beside her. Opening the bag in her hand, she took out a steaming cup of milk tea, she handed it over to Shi Yao and said, "Drink something warm. Be careful not to catch a cold."

Shi Yao had yet to recover from Leng Nuan's sudden appearance, so she didn't take the cup.

Leng Nuan took a straw and inserted it into the milk tea before stuffing it back into Shi Yao's embrace. "Here's your favorite milk green, a little of theirs."

Shi Yao came back to her senses and held the milk tea in her hands. The warmth of the tea flowed from her palms all the way to the bottom of her heart, making her mood slightly better.

It was already late at night, and there was no one else on the field anymore.

Shi Yao and Leng Nuan didn't say a word to each other. They just sat there quietly.

As time slowly passed by, Shi Yao finished half of the milk tea. She turned around to look at Leng Nuan, who had never asked why she was crying, and asked softly, "Nuan Nuan, why aren't you asking me anything?"

"Asking you what?" Hearing Shi Yao's voice, Leng Nuan asked, her tone was indifferent as she continued, "Asking you why you're crying? What's there to ask? All along, didn't you say that friends should learn to respect each other? There are some things that they'll talk about when they want to talk about it, and when they don't want to talk about it, they should give the other party sufficient space?"

Those were indeed the words that she had always said... when she said those words, she didn't feel much of it, but when those words came back to her, Shi Yao felt an inexplicable sense of warmth.

Perhaps it was because the matter had been weighing down on her heart for many days, and it was truly depressing for her. At this moment, with Leng Nuan's quiet companionship.., Shi Yao began to pour out her thoughts in a soft voice, "Nuan Nuan, do you know? I've always felt that I have a happy family. Even though I'm not rich, my parents are loving and my family is harmonious..."

At this point, Shi Yao's mind once again flashed back to the day she returned from Chengdu. Hearing her parents arguing at her doorstep, she pursed her lips, it was only then that she continued,"... I never thought that such a day would come when such a tragic event would happen to me... my parents... they were going to divorce many years ago... My father didn't want me anymore..."

"If Grandpa Lin hadn't suddenly come to our house and said that I could marry Lin Jiage and even gave my parents a million yuan as a betrothal gift, my father would really have abandoned me..."

Leng Nuan knew that what Shi Yao needed at this moment wasn't words of comfort but silent companionship. Thus, she didn't say anything and just stood there quietly as a listener.

"... Nuan Nuan, did you know? When I heard those rumors, I felt as if my entire world had collapsed. The family that I thought I had before was all fake..."

"Even though I know that Grandpa Lin's betrothal gift was reasonable, my parents didn't accept it as a betrothal gift in the first place. How could they treat the betrothal gift as if it was just money that they picked up and split it in half? It made me feel as if... I was just a commodity that they sold... sold to the Lin family, sold to Lin Jiage..."
