

WILL OF CHAOS

Chapter 6 Cap 6: Base And Evolution(Chapter Preview)

Ding!

<[You gained a level]>

Now is the time to rest again, it feels like since I reincarnated just a few hours ago, I'm always fighting and eating, I don't even know how I managed to eat all these leeches, but I feel like every time I need to get my MTS back I get hungry.

Possibly the [Leech Belly: 3] ability allows me to store more food in my stomach somehow, and my body digests that food reserve to allow me to recover the STM quickly. As I've been chaste so much STM with all these battles, the food I've been eating is fast disappearing.

Now my brain has started to wander and I'm losing the focus it had until now, since I won't have to fight, for now, I also don't see any other creatures around, so I'm safe.

I have to take this moment to go to the ruins, but first I will eat this bloodsucker with red spots.

Nhac! Nhac!

Ding!

<[You have learned the following leech skills:

- [Weak recovery: 1]

It seems like a skill focused on healing, it helps me a lot, I will try to move to the ruins and find a temporary base where I will spend the night and meditate in safety.

Moving while dragging a Leech to dinner I go to the ruins and in a little, over forty minutes I find a room near the main entrance to the ruins, the room doors have fallen but there is still a hole hidden by purple vines where I entered.

When I entered I saw that it was an old warehouse that was a little more than three square meters, there were several dusty things that I decided to leave aside since I am very small, there was a hole in the ceiling and a small puddle of water on the floor below the hole. I decided to make this my base and left my dinner in a corner and lay down on a cloth to rest a bit and recover before starting to meditate.

After about twenty minutes of rest, I felt more relaxed and wanted to meditate to integrate this level with myself before falling asleep, seeing through the hole in the ceiling that the sky was darkening.

Starting to meditate, I leave my mind blank without thinking about anything, with my eyes closed and not moving, I calmed my emotions and I try to feel my heartbeats and synchronize my breathing to them, then I feel the EXP inside me, ethereal and I put it together in one place and from there I take it into my bloodstream, where my body absorbs it a little faster than before.

Ding!

<[You have learned the following skills:

- [Meditation: 1]

This surprised me, I acquired a skill without eating a creature, meaning that it is possible to learn skills through practice and repeated training. This can help me a lot in the future, let me see my status now.

I finally reached the maximum level, it seems that at the last level I don't need to accumulate EXP, it was hard to fight so hard, my stamina can even recover by resting and eating, but my body hurts a lot, I ended up overloading it without resting long enough, there is also my mind, whose mental toughness cannot be easily replenished, I am completely undercut physically and mentally.

Nothing has happened yet, I don't know what I need to do to evolve and I'm too exhausted to think about it now, I'll take advantage of the fact that it's getting dark and I'll go to bed early, to see if tomorrow I feel better to think about all this.

I'm going to lie down in the middle of this pile of old clothes and sleep, good night, new world.

Zzzzz...

Without realizing it as soon as I fell asleep an ethereal mass of light in red, black, white, green, gold and silver covered my entire body like a cocoon. Then it started to beat in time with my heart.

Zzzzz...

As I slept I heard an emotionless and almost robotic voice.

The next day I woke up feeling great, I don't think I ever slept so deeply on Earth, if not counting the fainting and coma that I suffered continuously.

When I tried to get up I immediately realized I was taller, and I ran to the small pool of water and looked at my reflection, which had changed a little. To begin with, I had grown from three centimeters to thirteen centimeters in length, also my black eyes changed to a dark purple and a golden one, a beautiful pair of heterochromatic eyes, I also noticed that my whole light red body turned dark red, and I had the that looked like tribal tattoos of four different colors that are gold, purple, black and silver.

After this change, I felt strong and wanted to look at my stats to see the changes, and as I opened it I heard several buzzing sounds.

I got a big surprise, the increase in my physical stats was almost doubled, and finally, I have MP and can start learning magic.

I seem to have acquired several titles as well, the title [Last of its kind] must mean I'm the only one in this world with this race, the title [First of its kind] must be because I'm a unique variant that never existed before me, and the title [He Who Brings Chaos] is a mystery to me.

My lineage evolved with me, the breed I became has a very strange name and with a tone that makes it sound like I'm evil, it can get me into trouble.

For some reason, my charm is no longer negative which makes me very happy, but my luck only got worse in compensation and now it's negative, I'm almost crying because of it, I don't even know what effect this horrible luck will have on my life. from now on.

And it seems that whoever gave me this Blessing is watching me, and I don't even know who or what it is, nor its intentions with all this, that worries me a lot.

Looks like I gained a lot of skills too, but I'll leave that for later, first I'll eat my breakfast with the leech I dragged here yesterday.

Nhac! Nhac! Nhac!

Now that I'm satisfied, I'll first get used to moving and controlling this body before I see anything else, and for that, I'll train for about an hour to learn how to use my new strength and speed for the next fights.
