Chapter 8 Cap 8: Hunt(Chapter Preview)

<[You acquired the lineage [Rabbit Horn: 10%]]>

There is?????

Did I just get the Horned Rabbit Bloodline? Like?

hmmm

Does my unique ability [Chaotic Devourer] allow me to consume not only abilities but bloodlines as well? That's the only explanation I can come up with at the moment.

What effect will this bloodline have on me? Will I grow a horn or big ears?

What will this bloodline do to my body?

This strain seems to be at only 10% at the moment, it will probably only increase if I consume more Horned Rabbit blood, but I'm curious what will happen if I get to 100% of this strain.

hmmm

Why didn't I acquire the strain of the caterpillar and the spider I ate?

hmmm

I know, they had little blood in their bodies, if I keep eating they'll need eight or so to get the same result as Coelho.

I'm going to eat these two spiders and take this Horned Rabbit to store at my base for later, he's out of blood as I've drunk it all, so he won't leave a trace as I drag him back.

After two hours of traveling and dodging any creatures I encountered along the way, I finally arrived at the base and left Rabbit there.

I looked at the sky and saw that the suns were at the highest point in the sky, this tells me it's still midday, as it's still early, I decided to go back to the forest and continue leveling.

On the way back a bird tried to catch me from the sky, but at the time I used [Sticky Line Production: 1] and stuck its paws so it wouldn't catch me, it scared the bird that fled away, and I started on my way. into the forest.

As soon as I arrived in the forest I started exploring areas that I haven't explored yet while I continue to hunt, I stopped using my detection skill to not spend too much STM which was now in six.

It took me more than an hour to find another creature, a spider-like the previous ones, but she noticed me and came towards me, as soon as she opened her mouth she knew what she was going to do, she was going to use her web to trap me, so I dodged while used [Sticky Line Production: 1] to shoot in his mouth to prevent another attack, then I used another [Sticky Line Production: 1] to tie the legs to one side of the body, so I checked close to his head and used [Bite Leech's weak: 3] to finish.

Evolved again, I'm getting stronger with every fight. I have to start thinking about a way to train the skills that are at level one yet.

After eating the spider and not gaining any skills I head towards a hole in a tree to rest for a few minutes.

After thirty minutes of rest, my STM reached eight, but for some reason, my Mana hasn't been recovering since the fight with the spiders and Coelho, it seems that Mana doesn't recover the same way as the STM.

hmmm

If I think about the games from my old world, some portrayed mages recovering Mana with potions and meditation, it doesn't hurt to try, after all, I have a skill for that that I can level by doing this, it's passive so it will take effect if I start meditating.

I stood still and started to blank my mind, calm my emotions and synchronize my breathing and heartbeat, I felt it was faster and easier to meditate, and I felt like some kind of energy was filling me, the effect of the skill [Meditation: 1] must be the cause of this.

A few minutes later I stopped the meditation because I felt this energy that filled me was full, right after checking my status I could see that my Mana and MTS were full, but I was getting hungry.

With that resolved, I resumed my hunt, I was looking for more than two hours this time until I found a Horned Rabbit he was eating a spider, but he was still aware of his surroundings.

I tried to come up with some quick plan, in the end, I ended up following the same thing as always, I hid furtively and went behind Rabbit's back, but he noticed me and attacked me with his horn, I managed to graze me but he bit me at that moment and I bit his eye and I used the skill [Weak paralyzing poison secretion: 2] I used it five times in a row and the Rabbit in pain because of the eye he was clinging to clenched the teeth that were biting me almost splitting me in half, even though he was almost fainting in pain, I held myself tightly to his eye and used the same skill three more times until he could no longer move.

I was still in a very bad situation, I let go of the Rabbit's mouth fangs and used the skill [Weak Recovery: 1] twice to stop the bleeding and close the wound, then I went towards the Horned Rabbit and sank my teeth into his. neck and drank your blood.

My HP reached five, this was very dangerous, for my STM to reach this value the recovery skill cost must be two STM.

After checking the status I turn my attention to what I have to do now, I will start my meditation.

Almost an hour later I had full stamina again and used the skill [Weak Recovery: 1] five more times until my wound started to heal and my HP was back to ten, as soon as I finished doing that I went back out and went to the Rabbit's corpse and ate more, then went back to the hole under the tree to meditate one more time.

After twenty minutes I heard a noise outside and looked, a wolf with dark gray fur was eating the Rabbit I killed, I had to wait for him to finish eating to go away.

On the way back I found a red snake with purple stripes forty-five centimeters long, it was wounded, from what looked like claws, must be from the wolf that ate my Rabbit, it must have been chasing this snake and saw my Rabbit, which was already dead, with no other creatures around, and found it easier than continuing to hunt that snake.

Wondering what might have happened to the snake, I started pinning its head and tail to the tree it's leaning against, then I went to it and bit its deepest wound and used it [Weak venom secretion: 1] eight times until it died.

I gained good skills, now I'm going to drag it to my base, and after an hour of dragging this Cobra to my base I left it with what was left of the Horned Rabbit from earlier and I'm going to meditate to integrate my new level.

After 25 minutes of meditation, I felt refreshed, which let me see my current status and abilities.
