Chapter 1171

"I am the Wolf King, Andrius Moonshade. I want to see the emperor," Andrius looked at the soldiers and spoke calmly. "The Wolf King..."

The soldiers glanced at Andrius but did not step aside.

The leader gave Andrius a side glance and said, "The emperor is currently discussing state affairs with the ministers. He has instructed earlier that no one is allowed to enter. Even if you're the Wolf King, you're not allowed to enter!"

Andrius' eyes narrowed slightly, and his expression turned colder.

It seemed that these people had received news to deliberately block the entrance. Their purpose was to prevent him from meeting the emperor, exert pressure on the emperor, and ultimately achieve their goal.

"Insolence!"

While Andrius was pondering, Luna could not hold back any longer. She reprimanded in an icy tone that emitted a chilling air, "You're just a group of insignificant ants. How dare you stand in the way of the Wolf King of Florence? Do you think I wouldn't dare to kill you?"

Since being influenced by the demon snake's power and constantly affected by the Sanguis Blade, Luna's temper had become increasingly agitated. Once angered, there was a terrifying killing intent.

The soldiers at the door were just private troops called by high-ranking officials and had no actual combat experience. When Luna shouted at them, they immediately trembled, scared witless, and made way for the two.

"Hubby, let's go!" Luna looked at Andrius with satisfaction.

However, Andrius grabbed her hand and sighed. "Luna, you need to control your emotions. Don't act recklessly later." Luna was startled.

Then, she immediately recited the mantra in her heart, suppressing the restless, killing intent.

The two strode into the depths of the imperial palace.

In the hall, Registus sat high on the throne.

The ministers gathered below were all responsible for the insect soldier experimental bases. Their voices were incessant like a swelling wave.

“Your Majesty, these experimental bases are of great importance and must not be easily destroyed.”

“Your Majesty, apart from us old fellows, there’s also a terrifying existence behind the experimental bases. We must not investigate it thoroughly. Please think twice, Your Majesty!”

“Your Majesty, the battle on Mount Valdez has just passed. Any force emerging from it is a disaster that the court cannot quell. It’s enough to shake the foundation of Florence.”

“If we continue to interfere and uncover a formidable enemy, it will be like lifting a stone to smash our own feet!”

“Your Majesty, you should know very well that there will always be someone stronger out there. At best, Andrius Moonshade is just a jumping monkey. He’s insignificant in the big picture. Any random ancient martial family can make him perish.

“If we let him destroy these experimental bases and uproot them, it’ll likely ruin the foundation of Florence for generations. Please stop him and order him not to cause chaos anymore!”

“Your Majesty...” Without exception, none of the ministers liked Andrius. Registus was also annoyed. Andrius was his junior brother, so he couldn’t punish him.

However, these ministers either had deep backgrounds, powerful connections, or deeply rooted influence. They were all experienced old foxes and not easy to deal with.

“Your Majesty!” Just then, when the ministers saw the emperor unmoving, they exchanged a glance, and an elderly man stepped forward.

He said firmly, “Just because Andrius has some strength, he revealed his true nature of violence. He wants to stir up trouble in Florence. If we don’t suppress him now, are we supposed to wait until he causes chaos in Florence before taking action?”

“Your Majesty!”

“Your Majesty!”

The many powerful ministers also spoke in agreement.

“Bullshit!”

At that moment, a cold voice rang out, accompanied by an extremely icy aura. It was Andrius and Luna! “The one who's causing chaos isn’t me!”

Andrius’ expression was cold as he looked at the old fellows one by one, not concealing the killing intent in his eyes. “It’s you people who live off your emperor’s salary but don’t think about his worries, who remain high above the world but don’t think about the well-being of the people below you!”

Chapter 1172

1/2 Chapter 1172 Andrius’ words were extremely harsh and left no room for negotiation!

When the ministers heard his voice, they were first stunned, then immediately looked at Andrius, their eyes almost spewing fire out of anger.

“How dare you!”

“Impudent!”

“Pure insolence!”

The ministers immediately criticized him.

“Andrius, this is the royal court of Florence, and we are all senior ministers. A little whelp like you has no right to speak out like this!”

“Andrius, although you have some military merits, don’t think you can call the shots in the court and do as you please!” “Andrius, the court is a solemn place. A brute like you cannot scream and shout!”

“Andrius...”

Andrius could not be bothered to respond to the accusations of these old folks. It was a waste of time talking to them.

“Your Majesty.” Andrius went straight to Registus and said calmly, “A few days ago, I happened to discover an experimental base in the Southern Warzone. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“We must find the mastermind behind this to restore justice to Florence and bring back a bright future for our country!” Andrius’ lips twitched upward at the last two sentences as he looked at the ministers.

The ministers who heard his words all paled.

Chapter 1172 “Your Majesty, that is a move that will shake the foundation of Florence. It must not be allowed!”

“Your Majesty, Andrius acted recklessly without your orders. It’s clear by his actions that he holds no respect for anyone. He has gone too far and must be severely punished!”

“Your Majesty, Andrius privately deployed troops, acted recklessly, and dealt with the vital interests of Florence without using his brain, causing chaos in Florence. We cannot let him off lightly!”

“Your Majesty...” They were getting anxious! The ministers all came forward to clamor.

Registus glanced at Andrius and feigned a frightened look. “Gentlemen, Andrius is a pillar of Florence, but you want me to punish him... How about you all leave first? I will persuade him properly.”

With that, the ministers had no choice but to leave.

They exchanged looks, their faces showing helpless expressions. The great emperor was actually fearful of the Wolf King. What a wretched scene.

However, they had no better way.

Thus, the ministers reluctantly withdrew.

When the old fellows left, Andrius teased, “You're very good at acting! Just a simple act made all those old coots leave, saving a lot of trouble.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel Registus looked at him in exasperation and shook his head. “Sitting in this position means dealing with all kinds of things. Every day is tedious and Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel annoying. If I don't have a little skill and can't act, I'd die of exhaustion listening to them every day!” That was true. Andrius nodded in agreement.

“If you're interested...” Registus looked at Andrius and suddenly joked, “I'll cultivate a group for you in the future and let you sit in this position for fun. See what it feels like to be an emperor.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 1173 Andrius held a teacup and was taking a sip when he heard those words. He instantly spat out the tea and rolled his eyes. “Don't even think about it. I have no interest in that position. Let's talk about business.”

Andrius changed the topic. “What are your thoughts regarding these experimental bases?”

Registus’ face turned solemn, and his refined face frowned.

It was indeed a difficult matter.

“The experimental bases...” After a moment of contemplation, he said in a low voice, “They’re all related to important ministers of Florence who hold high positions, have significant power, and have deep roots. It won’t be easy to deal with them.

“If we truly uproot them all, it’ll inevitably involve the ancient martial families that are currently laying low.

“At that time, the entire situation in Florence will become unpredictable and unstable.

“If not handled properly, it might even trigger an unprecedented coup d’état. If that happens, everything will be in trouble.”

Registus was not exaggerating.

The previous incident involving the Hardy family only involved the Swallow family, but it already caused countless storms.

This time, there were many influential ministers involved, so it would not just be the Swallows. It might involve half the ancient martial world.

At that time, the entire Florence would be in chaos.

The ancient martial forces would not hesitate to join forces and stage a coup. Then, they would support their own representatives, repeating the mistakes of twenty years ago.

Andrius also fell silent upon hearing this.

Registus thought about it and said, “Andrius, if you’re determined to deal with these experimental bases, I’ll permit it. You can handle it as you see fit. However...

“Considering that you haven't resolved your own issues yet, dragging your injured body into stirring up a coup in Florence may not be wise. The chances of success are very low. You must think twice before acting.”

Regardless, Registus and Andrius were both on the same side as well as Old Hagstorm's disciples. Their overall goals were not too different.

“I know.” Andrius nodded. Then, he left the hall with Luna.

On the way back on the plane, Andrius continued to ponder and frowned in distress while he thought of the complexities of the situation.

“Hubby...” Luna held his hand from the side and said softly, “Have you not made a decision yet? Is there something bothering you?”

“Phew...” Andrius let out a long sigh and said in a low voice, “Since the incident with the demon snake, various forces in the ancient martial world have benefited to some extent.

“Currently, they're laying low to digest the treasures obtained from the demon snake. However, once they completely absorb them and accumulate enough power...” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

At that point, Andrius' expression became even more serious. “The apparent calm in the ancient martial world will be shattered in an instant by the expansion of the strengths and ambitions of individuals. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“A great war is brewing at this moment. If we cause turmoil in Florence's royal court now, I'll truly become an eternal sinner and bear immeasurable guilt...

“But if I let it go, countless people will go missing every day because of these experimental bases, be refined into insect soldiers, and join the Insect Ruler's camp.

“In the long run, after the Insect Ruler cultivates enough power, he'll definitely gather his forces and march north toward Florence. It'll be a disaster for Florence and all its people.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

It was a dilemma. Andrius was caught between a rock and a hard place.

However, the current Andrius did not have the strength and power to stabilize everything. That despair and feeling of powerlessness was simply...

Luna did not speak and only tightened her grip on Andrius' hand, swearing in her heart. She already made a decision.

Since Andrius could not make up his mind, she would secretly take action and exterminate those people on his behalf!

Chapter 1174 The plane soon landed in Sumeria.

Andrius did not stop thinking about this matter for even a second. However, no matter how he thought, he could not come up with an effective solution.

Sure enough, he could not do anything unless he was strong enough.

"Hubby..." Luna saw Andrius' distracted expression and suggested, "Don't think too much about this. When we find an experimental base, we'll completely destroy it! As for the ministers in Kiyoto, we can just kill them all!"

"You don't understand, Luna." Andrius shook his head. "These experimental bases are connected to prominent ministers in Florence. Each of them holds a high position and wields significant power. Killing one or two may not be a problem, but if we kill them all, it'll raise the others' alertness.

"They'll unite and stage a coup in Florence, causing destructive consequences for the current situation in Florence.

"Moreover, they've already joined forces to accuse me in front of the emperor. They may have been conspiring in secret for a long time."

In the end, Andrius frowned and sighed. "This matter is far more complicated than imagined."

Luna did not speak. However, when she saw Andrius' worried expression, her heart ached, and her determination to act on behalf of Andrius became stronger! No matter which so-called influential minister dared to harm Andrius, she would take their lives and uproot them mercilessly.

Andrius sensed the fleeting murderous intent, and his worries deepened.

The matter of the experimental bases had not been resolved, and Luna had become increasingly inclined toward anger and violence by the influence of the demon snake's power.... What a difficult situation!

Of course, he did not know what Luna was thinking.

On the way to the Royal Gardens, Andrius thought for a long time and finally made a decision.

He called Kate. "Kate, I need the help of the Medicine Sect. Can you ask the Sect Master to come to Florence as soon as possible?"

Andrius had a preliminary idea and needed the Medicine Sect's power.
Chapter

On the other end of the phone, Kate was quite happy to receive a call from Andrius and said truthfully, "What is it? You can just tell me directly.

"Ever since we returned from Mount Albus last time, my grandfather has gone into seclusion. Now, I'm fully in charge of all matters in the Medicine Sect."

Seclusion?

Wade had been in the late stage of Martial Emperor for many years and was close to breaking through to the Martial God realm. Was he about to break through now?

The Ancient Martial Assembly just passed, and then there was the recent trip to Mount Albus. Andrius was curious and asked, "Why did he suddenly go into seclusion?"

"I don't know either."

Kate's answer brought Andrius' thoughts back to reality.

Andrius paused for a moment and said, "Since the sect master left you in charge, I need you to come to Sumeria. We'll discuss the details when you arrive."

Kate agreed. "Sure, I'll set out as soon as possible."

After hanging up the phone, Andrius called Dax. "Dax, come to the Royal Gardens tomorrow morning. I need to discuss what we're going to do about the insect soldier experimental bases."

“Got it.” The next morning, the sun rose.

Chapter 1175

The winds were cold. Kate and Dax arrived at the Royal Gardens almost at the same time. “You’re here.”

Andrius greeted them briefly and explained the situation to Kate, “The Insect Ruler has built many insect soldier experimental bases in Florence. “Now, no one knows how many insect soldiers have been accumulated. Just the number of experimental bases within Florence is astonishing.

“If we don’t eliminate this problem, a disaster will be imminent! “However, there are prominent ministers behind these bases, and these ministers are related to ancient martial families...

“Completely uprooting them will be challenging, so...”

At that point, Andrius said solemnly, “I hope the Medicine Sect can take action and keep an eye on the ancient martial families behind these ministers.

“As for you, Dax, lead the soldiers in the Southern Warzone to carry out a thorough cleansing of these experimental bases. Leave no traces behind!”

Andrius called them over because he made his decision. Not only was he going to eliminate the insect soldier experimental bases, but he wanted to uproot them entirely, leaving none behind! Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel “Andrius...” Kate listened to Andrius’ words solemnly and suddenly piped up. understand your intention, but there’s still a problem.”

Problem? Andrius’ eyes widened, and Dax also looked over.

“If we don’t completely eradicate all the insect soldier experimental bases and or keep a close eye on all the ministers, if we give them a chance to breathe, it’s likely to be a disaster. They might launch a frantic counterattack. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“At that time, even if the Medicine Sect takes action, we might not be able to block the counterattack from the various martial forces. The consequences will be unimaginable.”

Although Kate was a woman, she understood the situation and had a clear sense

Chapter 11 75 of perspective.

The Insect Ruler was very influential. It was not just Andrius who was troubled. The rest of the ancient martial forces were as well. Thus, while the Medicine Sect could take action, it would be best if the plan was foolproof.

Kate was worried about the outcome of not completely eliminating the roots, allowing a resurgence after a temporary setback. If things really reached that point, the situation would inevitably develop into an irreparable state.

“That’s why it’s best to lure all the ministers and those responsible for the experimental bases that have been identified to a single location before taking action. It’s best if we can get them all in one swoop!”

It had to be said that brainstorming was quite effective.

Andrius realized that he had not considered everything thoroughly and immediately nodded. “You’re right, Kate, but how do we lure them out?”

Kate shook her head and said helplessly, “I can’t think of anything for now.” Beside them, Dax also fell silent.

The three began to think.

Just then, Andrius’ phone rang.

“Okay, I got it!”

Chapter 1176

The duo's expressions changed. "What is it?"

Andrius looked at them and said, "If I leave Florence, these old coots will have their chance, right?" At those words, Dax and Kate were stunned. Even Luna was confused.

Dax could not suppress his curiosity and asked, "Wolf King, what do you mean?"

"After coming back from Valdez Village this time, I suffered serious injuries." Andrius casually explained, "However, my master has found the medicinal ingredients to treat my injuries. They're in Flandom in Obaro.

"So, I'll leave Florence for a while and go to Flandom! That's a great opportunity to make a plan.

"We'll startle the enemy first and let all the insect soldier experimental bases as well as the ministers behind them understand my determination to destroy them. Get them afraid and intimidated!

"Furthermore, my trip to Flandom must be widely publicized. Let everyone know that I'm no longer in Florence. That way, the ministers will inevitably become easy, secretly unite, and discuss countermeasures.

"At that point, what Kate mentioned about gathering them together will be accomplished, and we can wipe them out in one go when I come back!"

That was Andrius' strategy. she

"Great! If it works, then there shouldn't be a problem." Kate's eyes lit up. knew very well that the master that Andrius mentioned was the Prophet of the Left of the Klein family twenty years ago. The medicinal ingredients he found could restore Andrius' strength.

Once Andrius returned to his peak and learned the ultimate technique of the Kleins, he might enter an unprecedented realm. At that time, dealing with those people would be as easy as chopping up vegetables.

“That’s a good idea.” Dax also nodded earnestly and said, “What is your plan, Wolf King? If you openly release the news, won’t those old coots be suspicious?”

If they deliberately disclosed the information, it would surely appear suspicious.

However, if it was done subtly...

“It's simple.” Andrius looked at Dax and smirked. “Dax, you should know that Florence has military exchanges with other countries every once in a while.

“This round of military exchanges will be held in Flandom of Obaro. I can use the pretext of military exchange to go to Flandom and let those ministers behind the scenes find out through extensive media coverage.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Kate had no objections to the plan. “Then, it’s settled.”

Andrius stood up and looked at the three. “I'll go to Kiyoto now and explain everything to the emperor. Then, I can openly go to Flandom.”

He looked at Luna as he said those words. He was worried that she might follow, which might cause trouble. However, Luna was unexpectedly obedient and did not pester Andrius.

“Luna...” Andrius was quite surprised to see Luna act like this and specifically instructed her, “This operation is crucial. Stay in Sumeria and don’t go anywhere.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Okay!” Luna met his gaze and nodded. ‘I'll stay in Sumeria, hubby. I'll take care of the fear so you can handle your affairs abroad with peace of mind.’

Those words immediately dispelled Andrius’ thoughts.

Unbeknownst to him...

Chapter 1177

Luna already had a plan, which was why she agreed so readily.

Thus, Andrius was also at ease. "In that case, I'll go to Kiyoto now and talk to the emperor." The three of them had no objections.

Then, Kate left, Dax went back, and Andrius set off.

After Luna came back to Dream's Waterfront, she immediately used the Dragon Manor's secret channel and summoned the deputy master, Marcellus.

"Master, what are your orders?" Marcellus bowed and asked Luna respectfully. Luna did not respond immediately.

Her eyes flickered with a strange brilliance. After staring at Marcellus, she said, slowly, "I need you to do something for me. Something important.

"Will you do it?" Something important?

Marcellus paused for a moment and looked at the Dragon Manor Token in Luna's hands. "Of course. Although I'm the deputy master of the Dragon Manor, I still need to obey the token. If the master commands it, even if it's a death sentence or crossing the pits of hell, I will not so much as frown!"

Meanwhile, Marcellus thought, 'Old Hagstorm hasn't sent any instructions lately. I wonder what task Luna is going to give me this time.'

"Is that so?" Luna stared at Marcellus and said in a chilling voice, "Good. Go back now and select some absolutely trustworthy elite matters to establish a secret force. From today onward, you're the leader of the Shrouded Gate.

"Also, you must all cut off ties with Old Hagstorm's original force. Unless I permit it, you cannot have any contact with him!" As soon as Luna spoke, Marcellus raised his head in shock. He looked at her with eyes filled with disbelief.

Leave the force and cut off ties?

She was telling him to betray Old Hagstorm!

Marcellus did not understand Luna's order. This was a path of no return.

It was Luna. She stared at Marcellus with cold and deep eyes, the words she spoke carrying a millennium-old frost. “Either submit to me and live, or go to hell now.”

As she spoke, the force in her hand suddenly increased.

Chapter 1178

In that instant, Marcellus felt that his life no longer belonged to him.

Bzz...

At the same time, Luna was like an eternal glacier, emitting a chilling aura that continuously ravaged his nerves. Marcellus felt his soul tremble.

Achill rose from the base of his spine like an electric current flowing through his body. In an instant, the icy sweat soaked his clothes until he was drenched.

Two forces collided.

At that moment, Marcellus was enveloped in immense fear, as if facing an abyss. He was a Martial Emperor. Although he was not the best in the ancient martial world, he was still considered a powerful expert.

However, in front of Luna, he felt like a three-year-old child, completely unable to muster any resistance.

He did not know that Luna had gradually integrated the power of the demon snake, significantly increasing her strength. Furthermore, she possessed the Sanguis Blade.

The combination of the two was far from ordinary. “H1...”

Feeling the increasing pressure on his neck and his life starting to fade, Marcellus finally struggled to utter a few words. “I submit!”

“That’s more like it.” Luna’s eyes flashed coldly, and she threw Marcellus to the ground. “Now, follow my instructions. Remember, don’t harbor any thoughts of disobedience. Otherwise...”

She trailed off, but a freezing storm instantly erupted. Bzz...

The piercing chill and the boundless intent to kill made Marcellus shiver uncontrollably. He did not dare to have any other thoughts.

“Yes,” he immediately responded and turned to carry out his orders.

After leaving Dream’s Waterfront...

“Huff, huff...” Marcellus stopped, panting heavily. He could not help but turn back to look at Dream's Waterfront, his eyes filled with complex emotions.

Then, he sighed and left.

It was soon afternoon.

Marcellus returned to Dream's Waterfront and found Luna, not daring to tarry. “Master, I’ve selected many elites and formed a secret force as you ordered. All of them will obey your orders with unwavering loyalty. Please give us your first instructions.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Since Marcellus had already made a choice, he did not dare to have any other thoughts. His tone when he spoke to Luna also became more respectful.

Luna was quite satisfied.

“Your first task is...” She narrowed her eyes coldly. “Wait for my husband to leave Florence and keep a close eye on the ministers of Florence. Kill whoever is lured out by the operation!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The icy tone carried an endless killing intent, revealing Luna’s determination.

Kill the ministers of Florence?

That was an enormous crime and would violate the rules of the martial world!

Marcellus paled and nervously asked, “Master, what if there are many ministers implicated...”

As he spoke, he subconsciously looked up at the now completely different Luna.

“If there’s one, then kill one. If there’s a hundred, then kill a hundred. Kill them until no one dares to show their face! Kill them until no one dares to claim authority!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Although Luna did not say much, her words carried more weight than a mountain.

The strong killing intent had already far exceeded the limits of what Marcellus had encountered in his life. His heart pounded uneasily.

Chapter 1179 Cold sweat poured out like a spring, showing no signs of stopping.

Only then did Marcellus realize that the current Luna was completely different from the weak woman she used to be. Her aura was cold as frost, and her murderous intent reached the skies.

He almost could not recognize her anymore.

“Yes.” Those thoughts flashed in his mind, but he said, “Understood, Master.”

Luna gave him a look.

Marcellus immediately left Dream’s Waterfront as if granted amnesty.

Luna slowly closed her eyes. However, her hands continued to play with the Sanguis Blade.

In an elegant and quiet hall in the Forbidden Palace in Kiyoto, Andrius and Registus sat facing each other, playing chess.

Registus focused on the chessboard without shifting and said, “Andrius, the strategy you mentioned about luring them out is indeed a good idea.

‘However, Florence has just settled down from the recent turmoil, yet you’re making such a significant move again. How confident are you?’

At those words, he finally made his move and stared at Andrius intently.

The situation in Florence had always been dominated by the hidden martial forces behind the scenes. They nurtured pawns or pushed out representatives all for their individual interests. Registus was dissatisfied with the situation but also helpless.

If Andrius succeeded, it would bring about a major change in the current social order. That was something that Registus would be happy to see.

Clack!

Andrius made his move as well.

“If the martial forces behind the ministers are intimidated by the Medicine Sect and don’t fully intervene, then I’m very confident.” Very confident!

That was a situation that Registus would be delighted to see. However, that was only an ideal situation.

He asked, “Then... what if they intervene?”

That was the most significant possibility.

Andrius calmly said, “If they’re truly determined to intervene, I won’t be polite either. I’m at least seventy percent sure that I’ll sever their claws!”

Seventy percent!

That probability was already quite high. However, there remained a thirty percent variable. Registus' eyes flickered, and his expression became much more serious.

“Don't worry too much.” Andrius saw the changes in his expression and said with confidence, “Before coming here, I've already contacted the five warzones. and made sufficient preparations. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“They can guarantee that as long as there's no external interference within their respective jurisdictions, there won't be significant waves.

The Medicine Sect....

During the last Ancient Martial Assembly, many forces realized the tremendous threat their guardian posed, who was a Martial God and close to a Martial Saint.

That kind of deterrence was no joke.

“I believe that for this period, with the Medicine Sect acting as pressure, the martial forces behind those ministers won't make any significant moves. When my strength is fully restored, I can settle the score with them one by one!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Andrius' thoughts were simple.

During the time he was away, he told the warzones to survey the experimental bases in their respective areas and carry out precise positioning or clean them up.

The Medicine Sect's main responsibility was to deter the martial forces behind the scenes from taking action.

The real decisive battle would occur when Andrius was fully recovered and returned!

Registus nodded heavily. “Since you've arranged everything, let's get “Your Majesty, Andy!” Noir came in from outside and reported, “The elites who are going to Obaro for military exchanges are all ready and can depart at any time.”

That was quite efficient.

Registus nodded and asked for Andrius' opinion. “When do you plan to leave?”

“Now.”

Andrius was not only eager to restore his strength but also anxious to resolve the matter as soon as possible.

Every day meant that more people were harmed by the experimental bases, and the Insect Ruler's strength would increase, which was not what Andrius wanted to see.

“Then, let's go.” Registus nodded and immediately made arrangements.

The group arrived at the airport.

Registus personally saw off Andrius and the others as they boarded the special plane to Flandom.

That scene was naturally recorded by pre-arranged media, journalists, and others who publicized it extensively and published it on their respective websites.

Among them were spies sent by those ministers. After seeing this scene, they immediately relayed the information back. The grand scholar's mansion was the residence of Ryan Salas, one of the top. grand scholars.

When Ryan received the news, he immediately became excited. Ever since returning from the court last time, they had harbored resentment toward Andrius

Now that Andrius was going to Flandom for a military exchange, it would undoubtedly delay him for some time.

During this period, Ryan would have enough time to contact other ministers to discuss countermeasures and form a plan. von

Wolf eradication!

Clang-

This time, the door opened again before Ryan even sat down. “Damn it, who is it?” Ryan snorted coldly and went to the door again. He looked around but did not find anyone or anything strange.

Thus, he closed the door again and went back to the hall.

Clang-

Ryan could not hold back anymore and stormed to the door, sticking his head out. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Suddenly, a ghost mask appeared in front of Ryan.

Ryan was scared out of his wits and fell to the ground, almost cracking his tailbone. His soul seemed to leave his body.

A warmth spread between his legs and yellow-orange liquid flowed out on the spot. He had pissed himself in fright. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel
