Chapter 1211 Spurt... However, his running speed could not match the speed of the hidden weapon.

Just as Hevel took two steps, he felt a cool sensation in his bum. The silver needle had unexpectedly pierced him through the opening to his family jewels, skewering them together...

Furthermore, the poison on it immediately spread... That stinging feeling was simply...

Hevel's scream once again echoed through the sky.

In just an instant, he curled up and covered his lower parts, kneeling weakly on the ground. Veins bulged on his forehead, beading with sweat.

“Hurry! Take me to the hospital quickly...” Hevel was extremely weak, but he managed to grit his teeth and speak before immediately passing out.

His subordinates immediately supported him and headed toward the hospital.

On the second-floor VIP room, someone inside heard the commotion below and opened the door, watching the confrontation between Andrius and Hevel.

After Hevel left, the person entered the room and reported, “Sir, those two troublemakers from Florence have arrived. They just had a conflict with Hevel...”

Richard was lying in a chair. To his left and right were beautiful Flandonian girls, each with their unique charms, providing him with various services.

“Hiss— Ah...” Richard moaned and slowly lifted his head. “Go and check how much money is in the cards they used to enter the auction house.

“I want to see just how much these Florencians have to dare come to Flandom and compete with me... I'll teach them a lesson today!”

As the son of the person in charge, there was no comparing the wealth in his hands. He did not care about Andrius and the others at all.

“Yes, sir!” The subordinate immediately went to handle it. “Sir, Flandom is almost yours. With your status, why bother with two Florencians? They’re unworthy!”

“That’s right. Those two Florencians can’t make any waves at all. Why bother with them when you can enjoy your time with us instead...”

The two Flandonian ladies spoke in drawling voices, making their listeners linger— and unable to break free.

“Don't worry...’ Richard’s hands squeezed, causing the two beauties to laugh and giggle. “Tonight, I'll definitely make you two obey me!” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Really?”

“Oh, I’m so scared...”

Alively scene played out in the room.

Creak

Just then, the subordinate who had just left returned. He went to Richard’s side and reported, “Sir, I've found out. They used a bank card from Florence. There's only five billion Flandonian currency inside.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Five billion...

In other places, it would already be an undisputed huge sum.

However, to Richard, it was ‘only’ five billion. It was a trivial amount that was not worth any attention at all. “Five billion...” Richard smiled disdainfully. “Let’s wait for the show to begin!”

As soon as he spoke, the lights in the auction house immediately dimmed. On the high platform, several beams of light shone, illuminating the stage. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The noisy auction house quieted down in an instant. Everyone knew that the auction was about to begin. “Ladies and gentlemen...”

A curvaceous Flandonian beauty swayed onto the stage, smiling at the surroundings, and announced, “The auction is now starting!”

Chapter 1212 “Today's first item is...”

As she spoke, a beautiful maid holding a tray walked onto the auction stage. On the tray was a green bracelet that radiated a splendid brilliance under the light.

“This bracelet is called ‘Duke Bert's Love’. According to legends, it’s a token of affection that the famous Duke Bert of Flandonian history gave to his wife.

“As we all know, Duke Bert only had one wife in his lifetime and never had the thought of remarrying even decades after his wife’s death. In that era, he could be called an exemplary man.

“Therefore, this bracelet is also considered a symbol of ‘eternal love’.

“If any of you present wishes to give a gift representing your affection and sincerity to your loved ones, | believe this is an excellent choice.

“The starting price is one hundred million, and each bid must be at least ten million!” After a lengthy introduction, the beautiful host finally named a price that both Andrius and Noir found incredible.

It was said that Flandom was the city of romance. Now, it seemed that it was not a matter of being romantic. It was just ridiculously expensive.

“| bid 120 million!”

“Such a bracelet is perfect for my wife. | bid 150 million.”

“Tsk, you want to take it home for 150 million? Impossible. | bid 160 million!”

“Stop yapping. | bid...”

Sporadic voices came from below.

It was just a piece of jewelry. No matter its origin, there was a limit to its price. Soon, the first bracelet was sold for a final price of 220 million.

Next, the following auctions were mostly jewelry with the occasional paintings and antiques, but their actual values were quite ordinary.

Andrius simply watched the show. Noir and Katalina were even less interested.

“Ladies and gentlemen, the necklace coming up next has quite the background.”

Chapter 1212

As she spoke, the enchanting maid walked onto the stage again, still holding a tray. However, the difference this time was that the tray was covered by a white veil, concealing the contents inside. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The host looked around, deliberately creating suspense. When she saw that she caught the attention of most people, she slowly lifted the white veil.

“The starting price is five hundred million, and each bid must not be less than twenty million! “Let the bidding... begin!”

With those words, the scene went into an uproar.

“| bid 550 million!”

“That’s ‘Eternal Love’. It’s a legendary treasure! | bid 600 million!”

“600 million... That’s not enough for a masterpiece like ‘Eternal Love’. Go back home and play with your clay dough. | bid 660 million!”

"I wondered how big you were from how you talked, but you're nothing much. I bid 680 million!" The price skyrocketed, leaving people amazed.

Noir glanced at Katalina with a hint of restlessness. "Andy..."

Chapter 1213 He looked at Andrius eagerly and lowered his voice, saying, "I want to buy this 'Eternal Love' and give it to Katalina..." Andrius smiled silently. He did not expect that a rough guy like Noir would actually be a romantic at heart. He shook his head and said, "Noir, you need to understand that as one of the representative countries of Obaro, Flandom has a short history.

"There are all kinds of scams. For example, the hyped—up 'Diamond of Eternity' and so on are meaningless. Do these so-called historical treasures have as much significance as the treasures from Florence's long history?"

Noir was momentarily stunned. Andrius was right. Every treasure from ancient Florence had historical significance and was truly priceless. It was beyond what money could buy.

"Besides..." Andrius chuckled softly with a hint of disdain. "The so-called nobles on the Obaro continent, including the royal families, are nothing much. They gained fame through burning, killing, and looting. Their rogue behavior is renowned worldwide. Casually taking out a necklace and claiming it to be a rare treasure is baseless."

Noir fell silent.

That was true. The treasures of ancient Florence were all recorded in history books and could withstand scrutiny. However, the so-called treasures here...

"I won't buy it, Andy!" Noir withdrew his gaze from the necklace and spoke resolutely. Andrius nodded and said, "If you're sincere, you can try making something interesting and nice yourself.

"After all, Katalina is the queen's sister. With her status, the people who flatter her are as numerous as the sands. What kind of jewelry hasn't she seen before? Something you make yourself will be more meaningful."

Andrius' words enlightened Noir. "That's right... Andy, you're amazing!" Noir gave Andrius a thumbs-up. Andrius laughed.

In the end, 'Eternal Love' was sold for almost one billion, but it had nothing to do with Noir.

What followed were some decent pieces of jewelry. Andrius saw that they were not bad and seemed valuable, so he recommended some to Noir as a reference.

Their trip to Flandom would not be long. If Noir went back empty-handed, he would surely feel bothered by it. Furthermore, even if he wanted to make a piece of jewelry by himself, he would not be able to complete it anytime soon. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

It was still a good idea to give one as a gift to leave a lasting impression.

In the VIP room on the second floor.

Ever since Andrius and Noir were recognized, someone had been watching them from time to time. The subordinate saw this scene and immediately reported it to Richard.

"What did you say?" Richard, who had his eyes narrowed while enjoying the services of the two ladies, suddenly opened his eyes. "Those two Florencians might have a connection with Katalina?" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

His brows almost rose to his hairline as he spoke. What he enjoyed most was the process of opening up new territories. However, if Katalina, whom he had been longing for a long time, was taken by a Florencian first... Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

It was unacceptable!

Absolutely intolerable!

Such a person could not be allowed in Flandom.

Chapter 1214

The subordinate did not dare to meet his fierce gaze and lowered his head, saying, "It's just a suspicion, sir..." Richard snorted coldly and looked down through the crack of the door.

Sure enough, one of the Florencians occasionally glanced at the woman beside him.

Although the woman wore a mask, she still exuded an extraordinary charm. Her eyes were bewitching... Richard could not tolerate it and immediately ordered, "Quick, go contact Mr. Fierde and let him inquire for me.

"Put the disfigured Margerina in a cage and auction her off in the next round. I want to see if this woman is really Katalina and has any connection with the Florencians!"

As he spoke, he took out a token. It was proof of his position as the leader of the Knights of Death and the son of the five-star general, Alexander!

"Yes, sir!"

The subordinate immediately took the token and went to handle the matter.

Soon, the box of pearls below was auctioned off.

The host said slowly, "Next, we have a unique item. That's because the item to be auctioned is a person!" Bidding for a person!

A huge wave was stirred up in the audience.

Slaves were auctioned from time to time in some underground places in Flandom. However, Fierde Auction House was a renowned auction house in Flandom and even the whole world. They had never had a person on their item list before.

Today, they broke new ground.

Who was the person about to be sold off in such a prestigious auction house?

Was it a legendary hero, or a beauty that could overthrow the nation?

Everyone was eagerly anticipating it. Andrius and his group frowned slightly and watched the stage. Chapter 1214)

In the room on the second floor, Richard personally came to the door to observe Andrius and the others' reactions. An exquisite iron cage that was covered with a black veil was slowly pushed up.-

When it reached under the light, the host unveiled it.

Hiss... The people below could not help but gasp for breath when they saw it.

That was because the person under the black veil was a woman whose face had been ruined. Although her figure was graceful and enticing like a ripe peach, the terrifying scars on her face made people hesitate. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Andrius and Noir exchanged a glance, not understanding why the organizer deliberately presented such a woman for auction. "Ah! T-that's..."

Beside them, Katalina's body trembled as she acted intensely. However, she covered her mouth and did not speak out loud. That was her sister!

Even though her face was disfigured, Katalina could easily recognize her!

Andrius saw her reaction and asked curiously, "Ms. Katalina, do you know her?"

"Yes..." Katalina nodded with tears in her eyes, lowering her voice as she choked, "She's... She's my sister, the Queen of Flandom!" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The Queen of Flandom!

Andrius and Noir were shocked.

The dignified queen of a country had fallen to such a state...

Sure enough, life was unpredictable. People were all slaves to the twists and turns of fate.

“Noir...” Upon seeing her sister's miserable situation, Katalina felt like her heart was being ruthlessly crushed. She begged Noir beside her, “Please think of a way to save my sister... I'll do anything as long as you save her...”
Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Noir was moved by her tearful eyes and also looked at Andrius pleadingly. Andrius wanted to refuse.

Chapter 1215

Interfering in the internal affairs of another country was not a good thing. Furthermore, he had a very important mission on his hands.

However...

It was the first time Noir liked a girl. Furthermore, the other party had indeed gone too far by violating human ethics and going against the natural order...

“Okay!” Andrius took a deep breath and agreed. “Call the bid, Noir!”

While the three were discussing, the host on stage casually introduced the situation according to the script and finally said, “The starting price for her is one hundred million, and each bid must not be less than ten million!”

Just as she finished speaking...

“I bid 200 million!”

It was Noir. He was bidding on behalf of the tearful Katalina.

“He called a bid...” Richard saw this scene and narrowed his eyes slightly.

He was now sure that the two Florencians below must have some connection with Katalina. They might even be reinforcements deliberately brought in before Margerina was captured!

Thus...

With a sharp glint in his eye, Richard said with a sinister smile, “Esteemed guests from Florence, the beauty in front of you is the jewel of Flandom. I can't let her go that easily. I bid... 250 million!”

As soon as he spoke, the entire venue fell silent.

The Knights of Death were the most elite force in Flandom. As their commander, Richard's identity was no secret in Flandom. With his high status and influence, who would dare to compete with something he set his eyes on?

The people in the audience began to murmur, speculating on the identity of the disfigured woman that made Richard bid for her. Richard's bid was simply to make things difficult for Andrius' group.

However, Noir did not care about Richard's identity and status. Since he already promised Katalina, he would not back down easily. After all, they were already here and had already gotten into a fight.

What was there to be afraid of?

Chapter 1215

Noir glanced at Richard, then withdrew his gaze and said slowly, "260 million." This price was still within Noir's affordable range. After all, he had some wealth from his years of executing missions. "You want to buy an unparalleled beauty of Flandom with just 260 million? That's a blasphemy against the beauties of Flandom.'

Richard did not care about the price. He just wanted to make Noir suffer. After saying those sinister words, he raised five fingers. "500 million. | bid 500 million!" Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

He doubled the price! He wanted to see whether Noir would still compete. Noir hesitated.

500 million was not a small amount. It was far beyond his expectations. Moreover, Andrius still had a mission. If anything went wrong because of this 500 million, he would be to blame. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Noir fell into silence, caught in a dilemma.

"Noir..." Seeing this, Katalina's tears flowed down. She held Noir's arm and pleaded, "Please, please save my sister. I'm begging you..." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Noir sighed, not sure if he should continue or not. Thus, he looked at Andrius. Although he did not speak, the plea in his eyes was clear.

Seeing this, Andrius nodded helplessly.

When Noir got approval, he called out another price. "I bid 510 million!"

Chapter 1216

Richard's brows twitched. He did not expect Noir to still dare to compete. With a cold snort, he also stated a price. "I bid 550 million!"

"560 million!"

"600 million!"

After several rounds of bidding, the price had reached 700 million!

700 million!

It was not seven hundred or seven thousand!

It was a nine—digit number!

It was enough for many people to live off worry-free for the rest of their lives. "Tsk tsk tsk..."

Richard saw Noir bidding and already had an answer in his heart. He did not want to continue dragging this out because he was looking forward to the climax.

He smacked his lips and said meaningfully, "It seems the guest from Florence is very interested in the disfigured beauty of our Flandom. How interesting..."

"There's an ancient saying in the east that goes, 'when friends come from afar, how can one not be happy?!"

"Since you're so fond of our Flandonian beauties, I'll reluctantly let you have her. After all, a gentleman is always ready to help others attain their aims!"

Richard looked at Noir and Andrius, showed off some of his knowledge, and said to the host, "I forfeit. I won't bid anymore. Announce the result."

Since he stopped bidding, the dust naturally settled. Clang...

The beautiful host glanced at the auction hammer and said loudly, “! announce that this lady belongs to the gentleman at table number 83. After the auction ends, please come backstage with your number to pay and collect the item.”

Pay and collect the item.

What an insult for a former queen.

“We got her!” Noir was instantly excited that they succeeded. Chapter 1216

Seeing this, Katalina was also overjoyed and suddenly grabbed Noir’s hand, rubbing his rough palm to express her gratitude. “Thank you! Thank you, Noir!” Noir was tickled by her actions and suddenly thought, ‘If | hadn’t worn a mask, would she have kissed me?*

Before he could think further, his thoughts were interrupted by Andrius’ words.

“Something's off.” Andrius frowned and looked thoughtfully at the VIP room.

Noir quickly asked, “What’s wrong, Andy?”

Katalina also quieted down and looked at Andrius.

Andrius recalled Richard's various actions, especially the final meaningful gaze and words, and was struck by a realization.

“We fell into a trap.” Andrius analyzed seriously with a contemplative expression, “Richard's father, Alexander, usurped the throne. Logically Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel speaking, Queen Margerina should be in their hands.

Andrius’ words surprised Noir and Katalina.

Upon second thought, what he said made a lot of sense.

Then, he continued, "If I'm not mistaken, Richard was probably testing us just now, especially Katalina." Noir and Katalina were not fools. They both understood after Andrius explained it.

"Wolf King..." Katalina said apologetically, "I'm sorry. Your identities were exposed because of me, but I just couldn't stand it..." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

At that point, Katalina was on the verge of tears again.

Chapter 1217

"It's okay, it's okay!" Noir patted her shoulder lightly, then thumped his chest and confidently declared, "No matter what happens, I'll take care of it for you!" Andrius rolled his eyes.

This guy turned into a simp so quickly!

However, at this point, Andrius did not think much about it. The auction was still ongoing after all.

After another four or five items, it was finally time for the grand finale.

"Ladies and gentlemen..."

The beautiful host smiled.

Three ladies gracefully approached, each holding a tray covered with a red veil that concealed the contents.

Then, the host lifted the veils, revealing three boxes of identical shape and size. The only difference was that each box had a different number.

"This is the highlight of this auction." The host introduced in detail, "This is a rare medicinal herb from the Arbeis mountain range-the Dragon Flame Lotus. Due to it growing in extreme cold, it possesses extraordinary medicinal properties. "However, due to its extreme rarity, it will be auctioned off using the blind box format.

"In other words, one Dragon Flame Lotus is in one of these three boxes while the other two boxes contain slightly less valuable but still considerable treasures.

“If you want to secure it, just bid on all three boxes and you won’t go wrong. If you want to try your luck, bidding on one blind box gives you a one-third chance. The decision is up to your strength.”

After explaining the rules, the host surveyed the audience and continued with a smile, “The starting price for each blind box is two billion, and each bid must be at least fifty million. Now, let the auction begin!”

As soon as she spoke, an unexpected silence filled the room.

Everyone knew that this item would undoubtedly start a fierce bidding war. Whether they could win depended on their individual strengths, so no one rushed forward like before.

Chapter 1217

Except Andrius. He stood up, looked across the room, and boldly declared, “I’ll buy it now. 2.1 billion!”

His words immediately caused all the eyes in the venue to turn to him. In auctions, if one was confident in their strength, they could offer a ‘buy it now’ price. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Damn, this is the first time I’ve seen this actually happening in an auction!”

“This is going to be fun...”

The crowd began to murmur and discuss. They were excited and eager to see who would come forward to challenge Andrius. “If you want to buy it, then so do I! I bid 2.2 billion!”

Not long after Andrius spoke, when the crowd was still buzzing, another voice echoed throughout the venue. The voice was confident and tinged with mockery. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

It was Richard, who had competed with Noir for Margerina earlier. Richard had been waiting for this moment for a long time.

Chapter 1218 “Oh, my God...”. The people in the venue noticed it was Richard and could not help but gasp.

“Richard is the young general of Flandom and is undoubtedly one of the top among the younger generation. His family’s wealth is countless!”

“Is he going to compete with the Florencian for the blind box? Seems like things are getting interesting.” “Oh, I’m so glad | came here today!”

“Maybe we’ll be able to watch a spectacular show soon!”

The venue immediately erupted.

Everyone was excited by Richard. They were all looking forward to seeing who would come out on top. After all, everyone knew Richard's identity and wealth.

“Friends from Florence...” Richard revealed a gentlemanly smile, but his eyes gleamed with a cunning light. “I forgot to introduce myself earlier.

“I am Richard, the commander of the Flandom Knights of Death. My father, Alexander, is the only five-star general in Flandom. His reputation is renowned worldwide, so I’m sure you’ve heard of him.

“Since | reluctantly gave up that woman to you earlier, would you be so kind as to give up this blind box to me in return? “After all, there’s a Florencian saying that ‘courtesy demands reciprocity’. “However, if you refuse, that’s okay too. At most, I’ll just call you impolite, then use my wealth to crush you completely.”

Richard's eyes gleamed with triumph as he spoke. He first revealed his identity, then used a Florence proverb to mock them, and finally resorted to intimidation and temptation, trying to force Andrius to retreat.

However, Andrius was not bothered. He did not care about this clown and raised his sign, saying to the, beautiful host, “I bid three billion!”

Three billion...

He increased the bid by 800 million, displaying his immense financial strength.

Many people in the audience were shocked.

Did this guy's family print money for a living?

“Heh...”

Seeing that Andrius was not backing down, Richard snorted and raised his sign as well. | bid 3.2 billion!”

He raised by another 200 million!

“3.5 billion!”

“3.7 billion!”

“4 billion!”

This Dragon Flame Lotus was Andrius’ guarantee for recovering his strength. He could not let it go no matter what. Therefore, as long as Richard kept bidding, Andrius continued to raise the price.

“4.8 billion!”

As Richard shouted the price, he looked at Andrius with a vague smile.

As far as he knew, Andrius only had a total of 5 billion. Even if he had a few hundred million scattered around, the overall amount would not be much. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

4.8 billion was already close to Andrius’ limit. He did not believe that Andrius could surpass him. As soon as Richard finished speaking, Andrius spoke without hesitation, “5 billion!”

Then, he grinned and prepared to outbid Andrius.

“Sir!” Suddenly, the subordinate beside him advised, “Those Florencians only have 5 billion. Let him win the first box and flaunt for a while. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 1219

"We can easily take the remaining two blind boxes at a low price. As long as we have those two boxes, the Florencians won't be able to sit still. They'll comé looking for us, and you can easily find out their identities."

Richard pondered. Yes, that made a lot of sense.

Thus, he said sinisterly, "Since the guests from Florence are so interested in the treasures of Flandom, as a Flandonian, I should be generous. Host, I'll stop bidding for the first blind box."

He stopped bidding! No one expected that the first round would be won by someone from Florence. They were all shocked for a moment.

Andrius did not find Richard's words amusing, but since he won the blind box, he did not bother arguing and said to the host, "Please announce the results."

"O-oh, right!" The beautiful host was momentarily stunned before announcing, "The first blind box is won by table number 83."

Then, she signaled to the maid beside her to place the tray nearby and cover it with a crystalline cover to ensure transparency and prevent tampering.

After that, the host announced with a smile, "Next is the second blind box! The rules are the same as before. Let's begin."

Before she finished speaking, Richard stepped forward impatiently, looked down at the audience, and confidently declared, "I'll buy it now. 2.1 billion!"

Another 'buy it now' offer!

The audience gasped in their hearts.

Since Richard had his eyes set on the box, they stopped thinking about it. The blind box was destined to be his. Just then...

"2.2 billion. I'll also buy it now."

It was a familiar voice and tone. The person who spoke was none other than Andrius, who had just won the first round. He was calm, confident, and composed.

This scene left everyone dumbfounded. Damn! Was this Florencian doing this on purpose? Why was he competing with Richard?

They thought that Richard was invincible. Unexpectedly, someone was even more daring than him. Who exactly was backing this Florencian?

“Heh...” Seeing this, Richard was amused and sneered. He looked down at Andrius from above and said with a contemptuous smile, “Kid, I’ve already calculated. You don’t have that much money. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Host, | request a financial check on this Florencian!” A financial check... That was an extremely insulting act!

After all, everyone who came to the Fierde Auction House was a person of status. Suddenly suggesting a financial check was like a pat down.

However, since the person who suggested it was Richard, who held immense power in Flandom, the beautiful host did not dare to refuse. She looked in a certain direction in conflict.

There, the owner of the auction, Fierde, was watching everything.

“Since Sir Richard has requested a financial check, | will comply!” Fierde slowly walked onto the stage, went to Andrius, and said helplessly, “My apologies, Sir, but Sir Richard is incredibly powerful. | dare not defy him.” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Andrius understood.

With Alexander seizing power, as his son, Richard was equivalent to the crown prince of Flandom and possessed immense authority.

Therefore, Andrius cooperated and handed over his bank card. It was a black card from Florence. Fierde personally conducted the financial check, and the balance section displayed five billion Flandonian currency.

“Sir, I'm sorry...” Fierde said regretfully, “Based on the current auction results, you've already won a Flandonian woman and the first blind box. You don't have enough funds to participate in the next round of the blind box bidding.”

Chapter 1220 Flerde's voice was not loud, but it was clear and resonated in everyone's ears.

“Tsk, tsk, tsk...” Richard grinned triumphantly, “Buddy, how dare you be so arrogant without any money in your pocket? Such courage is truly admirable. “Sorry, but I'll be taking the second blind box! In addition, I'll also announce in advance that I want the third blind box as well. Hahaha...”

At that point, Richard could not help but burst into laughter.

Andrius looked at his smug expression and could not be bothered to deal with him. He simply took out another card from his pocket.

It was not an ordinary bank card. It was entirely black with a gold border around it. There was neither any description of the bank that issued it nor the card number displayed. There was only a vast ocean adorned with sapphires in the middle, endless and boundless.

“That's...” Richard saw the bank card and suddenly widened his eyes in disbelief. He looked at Andrius in amazement and exclaimed, “The World Bank black card!”

With that statement, the entire venue was stunned.

The World Bank was jointly developed by dozens of major countries. The condition for opening an account at the World Bank was to have a net worth of at least a hundred billion.

A hundred billion was something that countless people would never reach in their entire lives. However, it was simply the threshold to join the World Bank.

At one hundred billion, one could be a Bronze member. Above Bronze were the Silver and Gold tiers... The black card was the highest tier with astonishing wealth that could shake a country's economy! There were less than ten such people in the entire world!

In Flandom, only one person had ever owned a World Bank black card, and that was Margerina's father, the former king of Flandom!

One of the privileges of a black card was unlimited spending in any recognized venue globally. Even if he did not have enough cash, the World Bank behind him would be his guarantor! Chapter 1220

It was not only Fierde who was stunned in place. Even Richard, who saw it from a distance, had a dark expression on his face. He was shocked by Andrius' identity. "Mr. Fierde..." Andrius showed the World Bank black card and quickly put it away, asking, "Do | have the qualification to participate in the next bidding now?"

Seeing that even Richard was shocked, Fierde naturally did not dare to stop Andrius anymore. "Please forgive my rudeness, sir. With your status and position, you may certainly continue to bid."

Andrius nodded.

Then, he repeated what he just said. "2.2 billion." The auction venue was filled with red faces. This guy was not pretending. He was truly impressive!
