Chapter 1291

Chapter 1291

“Attention! Attention! On the island, you are free to kill or form alliances. If you consider yourself weak and do not wish to lose your life in vain on the island, you may still withdraw now. It will be too late when you're in imminent danger.”

At that point, the organizer stopped. The deck fell silent. No one planned to withdraw.

“Very well!” Seeing this, the organizer continued, “Since no one is withdrawing, | hereby announce that the competition officially begins!

“Now, the ferry will circle the island. After arriving at each location, the name of that location will be announced, and the team that draws that location will disembark.

“To prevent spoiling the locations, everyone participating in the competition will blindfold themselves.” With everything ready, the competition officially began.

Teams disembarked one after another quietly.

When it was the Shrouded Gate's turn, Luna deliberately smacked her lips, attracting everyone's attention. Thus, they all learned where the Shrouded Gate was.

Praxis was a mysterious island of Obaro with picturesque scenery, leaving a lingering impression on the minds of others and making them get lost in the beautiful landscape.

However, everyone knew that the risk of death often lurked beneath the beautiful scenery. Thus, most teams were cautious. Only the Shrouded Gate was bold and conspicuous.

Their starting point was to the west of the island and quickly attracted the attention of the Obaro teams lurking in the shadows. The only reason why they were not targeted immediately was because of their strength.

However, as time passed, many teams from the Obaro continent gathered together and started to set their eyes on the Shrouded Gate.

Half an hour later, dozens of teams of over a hundred people rushed toward the Shrouded Gate.

“Florecian, you were quite arrogant on the ferry earlier!” One of the captains stepped forward and challenged Luna provocatively. “Unfortunately, there’s no one to ensure justice for you on this island.”

“The Shrouded Gate ends today! You’ll be completely wiped out on this island!”

The other team members could not hold back either.

“Shrouded Gate, you shouldn’t have come to Obaro. Remember not to provoke us in your next life!” “Arrogance comes with a price. You’ll undoubtedly die this time!”

“The Shrouded Gate is nothing more than a group of stray dogs who think too highly of themselves. Today, us Obareans will teach you a lesson!”

“Shrouded Gate rats, come and meet your doom!”

The Obaro experts taunted provocatively.

Marcellus could not hold back and was about to step forward to teach these arrogant people a lesson. However, Luna stopped him.

“I’ll handle this. I’ll show these Obareans the terror of someone approaching the realm of the gods!”

Luna’s face revealed a smile of death, her tone tinged with a strange excitement.

Chapter 1292

Chapter 1292 She was swift and cruel.

The brilliant glint of the blade was like the Milky Way in the sky. It brought about endless blood and killing, sending limbs flying all over and splattering blood around.

“Al” “Ugh...” “Oh...”

Various screams and pained cries intertwined, creating a gruesome and desperate song of slaughter that sent shivers down the spine.

In just ten seconds, not a single one who challenged Luna managed to escape unharmed. Some lost their limbs, some lost their souls, and some died on the spot.

In an instant, the beautiful Praxis Island was turned into an ocean of death, a fierce purgatory where endless massacres unfolded.

It was hard to imagine. With her own strength, Luna managed to kill over a dozen Obaro teams. “Y-y-you’re not human!”

“Demon! S-she’s a demon!”

“What a terrifying Florencian! She’s the devil!”

“Run! Run...”

“I don’t want to die...”

Luna slaughtered with such intensity that the people were terrified. All the people from Obaro were deeply shocked by her strength and fled in all directions, crying for their mommies and daddies.

There was no more pride and arrogance. All that remained were shattered debris and shattered hearts. Marcellus and the others were shocked once again.

Although they saw the incredible strength Luna obtained after returning from Fleming Manor at the Swallows’ residence, the current scene still shocked them

Luna’s strength now was terrifying! It was enough to break through the heavens and shake the martial world! Luna did not bother with the small fry. She just wanted to protect Andrius.

“Don’t just stand there.” She put away the Sanguis Blade and said calmly, “Help me find the Wolf King.” “Yes!”

"I did encounter a few Florencians, but they were besieged and heavily injured." Besieged and heavily injured! Luna instantly erupted when she heard those words.

Rumble-

A fierce killing intent soared into the sky like a sword piercing the clouds.

Seagulls scattered, clouds parted, sand and stone flew everywhere, trees snapped, and the waves surged.

At that moment, between heaven and earth, only Luna's anger remained. A demonic aura reappeared in her dazzling pupils.

Chapter 1293

Chapter 1293

Upon hearing the tragic news about Andrius, Luna showed signs of falling into deviation again for the first time after she gained significant strength.

"S—Shrouded Gate Master..."

The man saw Luna's overwhelming murderous aura and was scared stiff, kneeling on the ground. He bowed his head and pleaded, "I've told you everything I know. Please spare me..."

Luna's eyes were filled with thick killing intent. "Tell me where they are now. If you hide anything, I'll twist your head off!" "T-they're..." The man hurriedly pointed in a direction. "Over there, several kilometers away. You can still make it in time!" "Hmph..."

A heavy breath left Luna's delicate nostrils. She cast him a cold glance and said to Marcellus behind her, "Let's go!" Whether to kill or spare this man now was not important to her. Andrius' safety was her top priority.

Swoosh...

Upon hearing that Andrius was in danger, Luna's figure blurred, leaving behind a trail of afterimages on the coastline, making it impossible to see her clearly.

Marcellus and the others could not keep up at all. "Master!" Marcellus gasped for breath while saying loudly, "The Wolf King is powerful. He should be fine for the time being. "If this is a trap and you rush in alone, your life might be in danger. Let's go together so there'll be someone to have your back!"

Luna did not pause at all and instead sped up. Only her resolute voice echoed in the vast space, "If anything happens to my husband, I won't continue living alone, and neither will I spare his killers!"

Then, her speed increased even more, making Marcellus and the others unable to see her shadow.

"That's..."

Marcellus exchanged glances with the others and could only smile wryly, exerted all their efforts to keep up with Luna. After a while, Luna arrived at the location the man had mentioned.

From a distance, she saw several bodies lying on the ground. Their figures were not as bulky as the people from Obaro. They had the silhouettes of Florencians.

Luna's heart tightened, and she quickened her pace.

When she turned the four bodies over, she saw that they had mustaches and sinister faces characteristic of Jeslandians!

What a stroke of luck.

Luna was relieved. With a cold snort, she kicked the body under her feet and smashed it in anger.

She had been too worried earlier.

Otherwise, she would have noticed that the clothes these people were wearing were not the same as Andrius and Noir. The Obaro man earlier did not lie. Most Obareans had difficulty distinguishing between Florencians and Jeslandians. “Master!”

The four of them had just landed when they were targeted by several experts from Obaro.

Chapter 1294

Chapter 1294 There were around six teams! It was clear that although the drawing lot seemed random, it was actually rigged in advance.

The location where the Wolf King's team disembarked had long been privy to many experts. They made arrangements and were waiting to catch them off guard.

Andrius and Noir exchanged a look, frowning slightly.

“Florencian, you shouldn't have come to Obaro!”

“You have no right to interfere with Flandom. All of you, go to hell!” Then, a fair and slender man approached them.

“Hehe...” Noir grinned, his white teeth shining. “We didn’t just come to Obaro, but we’re also going to teach you a lesson about your arrogance. Remember, with your strength, you’re not even worthy of barking like a dog!”

Then, Noir made his move.

Like a dark whirlwind, he charged into the man’s team. His footwork was seemingly chaotic but actually contained a certain rhythm. It was the supreme technique he had learned from the Medicine Sect's classics, possessing remarkable strength!

Bam! Smack! Boom!.

Noir barreled into the group like a human meat grinder. With just one glance, he forced the opponents to retreat continuously and spit blood.

Half a minute later, two teams were completely subdued by Noir alone.

While Noir was sweeping through the two teams, the others approached Andrius’ group with ill intentions, rubbing their palms and grinning.

“Arctic Fox, look after her,” Andrius ordered softly and also plunged into the crowd. “Fuck, you’re actually planning to deal with us alone?”

“Arrogant! Florencian, you're too arrogant!”

“You're seeking death!”

The experts were furious and charged at him.

Andrius remained calm. There was even a smile on his face.

What an arrogant group of chickens. Ridiculous. Truly ridiculous! “I call this punch-the Might of Florence!

“I’ll teach you the majesty of Florence. Even if we’re thousands of kilometers from Flandom, you have no right to criticize us! Death to those who dare!”

Chapter 1295

Chapter 1295

Andrius spoke coldly and turned around.

Dozens of experts were already preparing to launch a sneak attack while Andrius dealt with the enemies in front. Boom-

The next second, a burst of inner energy from his fist sent everyone flying.

The limbs of the experts were shattered in mid-air, and their internal organs were completely crushed. Blood sprayed wildly, mixed with countless pieces of flesh. It turned the place into a ruthless field of massacre.

Silence. There was a deathly silence.

Andrius had been holding in his anger since the ferry. Now that killing was justified, he no longer suppressed his inner murderous intent and let it explode at this moment.

All his enmity surged out.

“Y—you...”

The remaining experts were scared out of their wits and trembled as they retreated.

Andrius snorted and ignored them.

Then, the four gathered again and continued forward.

Not far away, Alexander led his family experts and swiftly headed to the side. Lloyd was also among them, wearing a mask. On the other side, St. Dmitri had led his experts and arrived. The two parties quickly gathered.

“Your Holiness...” Lloyd looked at St. Dmitri with a smile. “The trap has been set. The Wolf King is just ahead. How you want to kill him is up to you.”

St. Dmitri’s somewhat meaningful smile suddenly became alert. He learned all the details of his son being crippled. There were many suspicious points.

Furthermore, just as he was furious, Lloyd and Alexander came to the church headquarters and incited him to kill the Wolf King here.

Was it a trap? “Heh...” St. Dmitri smirked. “Lloyd, the Wolf King is extraordinary, but I only brought a few people with me. I’ll need your help when the real fight starts later.”

He gestured to the experts behind Alexander with his jaw. “How about you send them ahead to test the Wolf King’s strength? It won’t be too late for me to join afterward!”

He was trying to drag Lloyd down.

He would definitely avenge his son, and now was indeed a good opportunity.

The only problem was Old Hagstorm behind Andrius.

As long as Lloyd also made a move, the pressure on St. Dmitri would be much lighter. Although St. Dmitri was an Obarean, he was very good at playing his cards. ‘This old fox...’

Lloyd cursed in his heart, but his face wore a bright smile. “You must a joking, Your 8g. With your Judging by their aura, they were late-stage Martial Emperor experts.

Chapter 1296

Andrius narrowed his eyes.

The auras from these two people showed that they were late-stage Martial Emperor experts. Andrius’ expression turned grim. Swoosh...

The next second, Andrius took the Argentum Qilin Spear from the Arctic Fox.

In his current physical condition, winning against two late-stage Martial Emperor experts was not an easy task. Using a weapon would save a considerable amount of inner energy.

“A spear?”

“Even with a spear, you'll still die today!”

The two experts underestimated Andrius and continued to provoke him.

“Take care of Ms. Katalina,” Andrius instructed and stepped forward with his spear.

Swoosh...

He did not want to waste time and immediately executed the fifth form of the Burden of Nine Skies.

The heavy spear felt light as a feather in his hands. With just a slight wave, it brought an endless chill and killing intent that covered the entire area.

“The first act...”

“Worry not about the lack of friends on the road, for who in the world does not recognize you!”

“Spear Domination!”

Andrius' voice was cold as iron, and the spear's momentum was majestic like a dragon.

With a slight sweep, boundless light soared, forcing the two late-stage Martial Emperors to be extremely cautious. In just one move, they found themselves in a difficult situation.

Andrius was not satisfied. He had never heard of these two before, so they must be rabble. If he did not deal with them quickly, it would be challenging to reach the sanctuary in time.

“The second act...”

“The string of yearning snaps but emotions don't; the yearning of the falling flowers pierce the heart! “Forgetful Autumn Waters!”

Andrius executed another variation of the fifth form.

The spear swept and swayed, clearing away demons and banishing evil!

At that moment, the Argentum Qilin Spear erupted with a flash of breathtaking brilliance. The howling wind accompanied by the boundless killing intent made the two Flandonian experts feel a deep sense of oppression.

The attacks were like a surging tide, each wave higher and stronger than the last! Boom! Crash!

With St. Dmitri’s sarcasm, he snapped, “Your Holiness, since you think that your people are very capable, why don’t you let them have a go?”

St. Dmitri had a rough understanding of Andrius' strength and spoke smugly, then signaled a bishop beside him.

The bishop understood and immediately took two others, heading toward Andrius.

Meanwhile, Andrius defeated the two opponents and took a deep breath, preparing to advance.

Just then, another three people came.

Furthermore, he sensed that all three of them were late-stage Martial Emperors!

He had just defeated two, but three more came immediately...

The situation became disadvantageous.

Chapter 1297

Chapter 1297

“Andy!”

Seeing this, Noir stepped forward. “You've just finished a battle and haven't recovered. I'll...”

Swoosh!

Before he could finish, Andrius pulled him behind.

The Argentum Qilin Spear swept across the air in a graceful arc. Though brief, it was dazzling and carried a chilling aura. Noir could only take a few steps back and protect Katalina with the Arctic Fox.

“Wolf King, your bravery in facing three opponents alone is commendable.” The leading bishop said faintly, a cold smile on his lips. “However, you'll perish here today!”

Then, the trio attacked Andrius from three different directions. Swoosh!

Whoosh!

Swish!

The three were so fast that their movements were barely visible. Andrius' eyes narrowed, his expression grim.

These three gave him the same feeling as the priest in the church that day. They should all be vampires. In that case, that meant that they were from the Sauro Church!

There was no time to think.

In the blink of an eye, the three reached Andrius.

Swoosh-

Andrius did not dare to be careless and immediately raised the Argentum Qilin Spear to counterattack.

However, what astonished him was that the three were well-versed in his spear techniques. Each time, they used their power to counter it perfectly, blocking Andrius' attacks with the lowest cost.

Even when Andrius started to use the sixth, then the seventh, and the eighth forms, he still could not inflict effective damage on them.

Furthermore, he had just finished a battle and his inner energy was severely depleted, significantly reducing his power.

The three bishops wore smug smiles after blocking Andrius' attacks. "It seems the Wolf King doesn't truly live up to his reputation.

"Now, it's our turn!" They took advantage of Andrius having finished all his moves and suddenly attacked. Swoosh...

The person on the left came flying, growing a pair of blood-red wings on his back. He made a strange arc in mid-air to avoid Andrius' spear and headed straight for his left shoulder.

Two long fangs emerged from his split mouth, sinister and dreadful, emitting a faint bloody smell! Whoosh...

The one on the right was equally fierce. He suddenly spurted a mouthful of blood in the air which transformed into numerous bats, flying toward Andrius.

Each bat was the size of an arm, grotesque and terrifying. Boom-

The bishop in the center was even more extraordinary. He suddenly stood still with his mouth agape, then his body transformed into a blood-colored cloud so that his form was indistinguishable. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

The next moment, the cloud rushed toward Andrius.

Swoosh...

Chapter 1298

Suddenly, an endless swarm of insects appeared, surrounding Andrius tightly like a protective barrier. Swoosh...

Boom...

Whoosh...

The trio's attacks clashed with the overwhelming swarm of insects, engaging in fierce combat.

Andrius seized the opportunity and quickly retreated.

"Andy, I'll help!"

"Wolf King, I'll help!"

Seeing Andrius in danger, both Noir and the Arctic Fox could not remain calm and rushed to shield Andrius.

"Heh... You're like insignificant insects!" The leading bishop dealt with the insects and snorted disdainfully. Then, he glanced at Noir and the Arctic Fox, saying disdainfully, "Did you two come forward to die?"

With that, the three closed in again.

Noir and the Arctic Fox bravely approached but were swiftly repelled, spitting blood continuously. They did not even last half a minute.

Andrius, Noir, and the Arctic Fox were in danger.

Andrius knew that Noir and the Arctic Fox were no match for the three bishops. Thus, he rushed forward again, wielding the Argentum Qilin Spear and using the insects to assist him.

However, the result was the same.

Bam!

Andrius was once again pushed back, spitting out blood. During the brief contact, he noticed something.

Whether it was the bats or the eerie blood mist, although they could forcibly kill most of the insects, when they absorbed the blood back into their bodies, they absorbed some of the living insects along with it.

Since the insects entered their bodies... There was a chance for a comeback! Andrius immediately tried to control them.

To his disappointment, even though the insects could freely move in their blood, it was challenging to control the vampires' blood and in turn control them.

It was clear that the three vampires had a different body structure than the Florencians. Perhaps they stopped remaining human when they became vampires.

Andrius speculated that vampires had special methods to protect their blood from contamination by insects.

'Since I can control vampires with insects, I'll use the insects to destroy your acupoints, hinder the circulation of blood, and affect the performance of your power!

Andrius soon came up with an idea. Bam!

Boom-

Swoosh...

Just as Andrius was thinking of a plan, Noir and the Arctic Fox were repelled again, crashing in front of him. Another arc of blood spewed out from their mouths.

Noir and the Arctic Fox exchanged a look. They struggled to stand up, not wanting Andrius to take the risk.

However, Andrius had already taken out an ancient flute and began to play it. It came from the temple in the Murrfield cordillera. Phweet-

The melodious flute played a strange sound, then became extremely urgent.

Bzz...

Countless insects appeared like stars in the night sky, rushing toward the three bishops at an incredible speed as if ready to face death.

“Heh... Do you really think that can hurt us? Foolish! Truly foolish!”

Chapter 1299

The three clearly had not realized that a vast number of insects had accumulated within their bodies. Once reaching a certain limit, a qualitative change in energy would occur.

Round after round passed.

“Wolf King...” The bishop was annoyed by the insects and mocked coldly, “Are you already at the end of your rope and have to rely on such meager methods?”

“The Wolf King is renowned worldwide, but he’s nothing more than trash. Today, he’ll undoubtedly fall into our hands. What sensational news.”

“I can’t wait to taste the blood of the Wolf King. I wonder if it’ll really taste like that of a mere beast like a wolf?” The three continued to mock and could not help but burst into laughter. “Have you laughed enough?”

Andrius had been secretly manipulating the insects, destroying the three’s acupoints. Now, it was like their blood was stored in individual compartments, unable to circulate. Without the support of their blood, their techniques were greatly compromised!

The three were stunned when they saw Andrius still standing strong.

Was the Wolf King tired of life or just too embarrassed to say he wanted to die?

How dare he provoke them at this moment?

However, before they could retort, Andrius raised the Argentum Qilin Spear again and gathered formidable inner energy. Snowflakes fluttered in the air, chilling everything around.

No, they were not snowflakes!

They were the manifestation of the spear's aura!

"You're seeking death!"

"Ignorant!"

"Ridiculous!"

The three bishops believed that Andrius was preparing for a last desperate struggle and displayed mocking and contemptuous laughs.

However, the next second, their laughter froze.

That was because they realized that their blood could no longer circulate! Their invincible blood techniques were rendered ineffective.

Now, they were no different than ordinary humans!

Their shock, confusion, and fear finally turned into boundless terror. Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh!

The next second, the sharp tip of the spear touched their chests. The sharp inner energy pierced through instantly, sending them flying.

However, although their hearts were important, they were vampires and thus different from humans. This strike only severely wounded them but did not immediately kill them.

Andrius frowned but was undeterred. He advanced again, ready to decapitate them.

Boom- At that moment, a murderous intent descended from behind, overwhelming and hopeless. Andrius did not need to turn to know that a formidable opponent had arrived.

Sure enough, as the figure moved casually, the vegetation on both sides instantly withered as if all their vitality had been sucked away.

“Andy, be careful!”

“Wolf King, be carefull”

Noir and the Arctic Fox saw this and wanted to intervene, but they were too late. They could only yell out a warning. “Hmph!”

Chapter 1300

“PEL” Andrius spat out two mouthfuls of blood, his face ashen.

The attack was too fierce. It was not something Andrius could endure. He struggled to stand up with the Argentum Qilin Spear, facing the figure wearing a devil mask.

It was none other than the Pontiff of the Sauro Church, St. Dmitri!

He looked at the severely injured Andrius with a cold smile, seemingly praising him but was actually full of disdain. “As expected of the Wolf King of Florence. Your reaction speed is first-class.

“Unfortunately, in the face of absolute strength, it’s useless no matter how fast your reaction speed is.

“What a shame. What a shame!”

With his last few words, the killing intent’ emanating from him grew stronger, and a blood-red light condensed in his hand. Andrius did not respond. He narrowed his eyes and stared coldly at the masked expert in front of him.

He could clearly sense the vast power hidden beneath the opponent's chilling words.

This was undoubtedly a Martial Saint expert. Furthermore, he was likely a mid- stage or even late-stage Martial Saint! Such a top-tier expert was beyond Andrius’ current strength.

“Noir...” Andrius stared at St. Dmitri and instructed, “You and Arctic Fox take Princess Katalina away from here. Avoid conflict with enemies as much as possible and wait for my return!”

As soon as Andrius finished speaking, a sense of tragedy and sorrow filled the air.

Noir and the Arctic Fox both knew how powerful the masked figure was.

“Andy!” Noir was reluctant. “Arctic Fox and | will stay behind to buy you some time.’

The Arctic Fox also said, “Wolf King, you're the lynchpin of the Lycantroops. You can't die here!”

The leader of the wandering mercenaries in this foreign land showed an astonishing resolve when facing death, all for the sake of protecting Andrius.

“Don't be so pessimistic. | have my ways to escape.” Andrius frowned and snorted, “If you think of me as the Wolf King, then stop hemming and hawing here. Hurry and leave!”

With those words, Noir and the Arctic Fox gritted their teeth and left with Katalina. Andrius raised the Argentum Qilin Spear and advanced toward St. Dmitri. “Leave?” St. Dmitri’s face was filled with a disdainful expression. “No one can leave without my permission. You'll all die here!”

He knew that all four of these individuals had been present when his son was crippled. Therefore, he would not spare a single one of them.

As soon as he spoke...

Swoosh...

The Argentum Qilin Spear in Andrius* hand swept up a cold and icy aura like an apocalyptic gale raging for millions of years. It was the eighth form of the Burden of Nine Skies, imperceptible and unpredictable!
