Chapter 1333

“That’s... Insect Ruler, 1...”

The dragonslayer knight instantly paled when he saw the insect. He gulped his saliva but could not do 1. it.

Suddenly, a fierce glint flashed in his eyes as he lowered his head. Then, he soared into the air with his broadsword, aiming it at the Insect Ruler’s chest.

The Insect Ruler’s insects were extremely peculiar, as evidenced by Lloyd, Alexander, and others. The dragonslayer knight did not dare to consume it.

Therefore, he chose to launch a surprise attack on the Insect Ruler and run. However, he clearly underestimated the Insect Ruler’s strength.

Bam...

The Insect Ruler preferred to secretly deal with opponents. How could he not be wary of the dragonslayer knight, who was right in front of him? He raised his hand and slapped the sword out of the former’s hand.

The late-stage Martial Saint inner energy instantly poured out, sending the dragonslayer knight's sword flying. Then, he swung another palm at the dragonslayer knight, easily killing him.

"That's it?"

The Insect Ruler looked at the insect soldiers he refined—St. Dmitri, Lloyd, and the lifeless dragonslayer knight, and a curl formed on his mouth.

All three Demon-level experts of Obaro had fallen into his hands. The power of these three insect soldiers was formidable.

This trip was not made in vain.

However, the Insect Ruler was still not satisfied.

After all, there was the vast Sauro Church, where the cardinals, bishops, and priests were all martial realm experts!

"Lead the way. Go to the vampire base where most of your experts are gathered."

The Insect Ruler could not help but feel excited at the thought of adding another group of insect soldiers to his forces.

On the top floor of a towering castle, nobles dressed poshly were enjoying themselves. They were the high-ranking members of the Sauro Church.

Elders, bishops, priests...

“Once His Holiness returns from Praxis Island, our church’s influence will surely reach new heights.”

“At that time, our positions will also soar.”

“I’m looking forward to it!”

The vampires always looked ahead.

“The light of the Sauro Church shines on Obaro forever!” someone shouted out amidst the clamor.

“The light of the Sauro Church shines on Obaro forever!”

“The light of the Sauro Church shines on Obaro forever!”

The vampires cheered, raising their wine glasses as they shouted.

At that moment, a group of people appeared at the entrance of the top floor. The person leading them was none other than their leader, His Holiness St. Dmitri!

“Your Holiness!”

“Your Holiness!”

The vampires present immediately cheered and rushed forward to welcome him.

However, unexpectedly...

Swoosh!

Crash!

Bam!

The Pontiff, whom they admired, suddenly charged into the crowd without saying a word, unleashing a massacre on these vampires. In just a few seconds, he killed over a dozen of them.

What was happening?

The few remaining vampires were stunned, not daring to approach, watching their Pontiff warily.

“What...”

“Oh, no, His Holiness must be being controlled!”

“Quick, we'll hold His Holiness back. You all run as far as you can!”

“Why are you still standing there? Run!”

The elders in the back could tell what was going on and immediately made a decision, shouting at the other vampires.

St. Dmitri was a Martial Saint.

However, the dozen or so elders were late-stage Martial Emperors and even some Martial Gods.

They would be able to hold St.

Dmitri back for some time.

Bzz...

Whirr...

Just then, a dense swarm of insects suddenly flew in from the entrance. It was the insect army unleashed by the Insect Ruler.

“Hmph... Mere insects dare to provoke us!”

The Grand Elder was unaware of the danger of the insects and snorted disdainfully, activating his blood technique to annihilate these creatures that were seemingly no different from ants.

However, he soon realized the problem.

The insects were actually infiltrating his body using his blood technique, attempting to gain control.

In that instant, the Grand Elder understood everything. The reason the Pontiff was controlled was because of the person in front of him!

“There’s something wrong with these insects! Quick, help me kill this person. He’s the mastermind controlling His Holiness.”

The Grand Elder’s shout immediately gathered all the elders. They prepared to deal with the Insect Ruler first.

“A futile struggle!” The Insect Ruler snorted and charged in.

Behind him, Lloyd and the dragonslayer knight, who had been transformed into insect soldiers, also rushed into the crowd.

Against four Martial Saints, the group of vampires was going up against a slaughter!

A few minutes passed.

All the experts above the Martial Emperor realm were subdued, and the battle gradually came to an end.

The vampire legion under St. Dmitri's command became the Insect Ruler's puppets, turning into powerful insect soldiers. Furthermore, they were all rather powerful.

The Insect Ruler was the only one left alive in the luxurious castle.

The Insect Ruler glanced around and nodded in satisfaction when he saw three Martial Saints, as as Martial Gods and Martial Emperors.

"These insect soldier puppets are enough to resurrect the demon emperor. This trip to Flandom wasn't in vain."

The demon emperor...
well

Many years ago, after suffering a disastrous defeat, the Insect Ruler came up with a shocking plan to fulfill his ambitions. Now, the time had finally come.

The Insect Ruler stood on the top floor of the towering castle and looked at the world beneath him. A surge of ambition rose in his heart. “With you all, overthrowing Florence will be as easy as snapping my fingers. The lands will surely bow under the feet of shamans! Hahahaha...”

At that point, the Insect Ruler could not help but burst into wild laughter.

On Praxis Island, in a secret room.

“Phew... I wonder how the outside world is now.”

After Old Ophis and Old Hagstorm healed his injuries, Andrius had been in seclusion for seven days and nights and finally recovered.

He checked his internal condition and confirmed that he was almost back to normal before pushing the door open.

Old Hagstorm happened to walk over and glanced at him. “Andrius, it’s been seven days. You should have almost recovered, shouldn’t you?”

Seven days!

It should be enough.

“Pretty much.”

Andrius nodded and asked, “Master, how’s the situation outside now?”

“Something happened. Something big.”

A trace of seriousness appeared on Old Hagstorm's face, causing Andrius to frown slightly.
Something big happened?
Andrius soon thought of a possibility.

Old Hagstorm said in a low voice, "The vampire clan of the Sauro Church has been almost completely wiped out. Only a few stragglers are left. They can't stir up any waves anymore,

The Sauro Church was completely wiped out!

The unease in Andrius' heart intensified, and he asked in a hoarse voice, "Who did it?"

"The Insect Ruler!" Old Hagstorm uttered the name and then fell silent.

The Sauro Church was one of the top forces on the Obaro continent,

However, the Insect Ruler wiped out all their experts and turned them all into insect soldiers under his command.

In other words, although they won the battle on Praxis Island, the Insect Ruler did not lose!

At those thoughts, Andrius' expression became extremely serious.

Martial Saint realm insect soldiers....

They were unquestionably killing weapons!

Coupled with the large number of Martial God, Martial Emperor, and Martial King insect soldiers made, the Insect Ruler undoubtedly bolstered his forces on this trip to Obaro!

"I estimate..." Old Hagstorm waited for Andrius to digest the information and stroked his beard. lightly.

"According to the Insect

Ruler's plan, he should have gathered enough power to resurrect the demon emperor.

Resurrect the demon emperor!

Andrius could not help but tremble and asked in disbelief, "Master, who is the demon emperor? Why is the Insect Ruler going so far for him? Also, is there really a method to resurrect the dead?"

Resurrecting the dead...

Andrius found it unbelievable to even think about.

"Of course!"

A strange light flickered in Old Hagstorm's eyes at the mention of the demon emperor.

Amazement, admiration, and fascination.

Soon, he snapped back to his senses and gazed into the distance.,

“The demon emperor... He was an extraordinary figure who appeared in Florence a thousand years ago, overshadowing countless talents of his generation.”

With just that brief sentence, Andrius could imagine what an extraordinary character he was. He was truly a legend!

“He completely broke free from the constraints of the martial realm and entered a completely new realm.”

Old Hagstorm

continued, his tone full of enthusiasm, “Single-handedly, he established a shaman cultivation system, bringing rise to generation after generation of powerful practitioners.

“Imagine how astounding he was to have founded a sect! However, even someone as powerful as the demon emperor met his downfall one day.

“He stood at the pinnacle of the shaman pyramid, but once he fell, it led to the rapid decline of the shaman world. Countless forces chased after and blocked the remnants.

“Until today, the remnant can only cower in a corner while struggling at death’s door.”

A beauty would eventually age, and a hero would meet the end of his road.

Everything in the world had its cycle.

Andrius could not help but shake his head as he listened to Old Hagstorm.

“The Insect Ruler’s schemes and plans are all to resurrect the demon emperor. He wants to lead the shaman world back to its peak and control all power.”

At that point, Old Hagstorm’s tone became flat, and he looked at Andrius. “As for the methods the Insect Ruler will use, I’m not too sure. Judging by his actions, he must have considerable confidence.”

Old Hagstorm trailed off.

There were many things he had not revealed yet. However, it was not yet time for Andrius to know. Andrius fell silent after hearing all this.
