

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1400

Chapter 1300

times as if mocking him silently.

Jasper's expression darkened as he gritted his teeth. "Don't go too far, Moonshade. The Conways..."

Enjoy Ad-Free Reading>>

Go

3/3

Chapter 1400

"The Conways is the top family of Jurith, and my father, Louis Conway, is the richest man in the city. He's well-connected and influential. Killing you will be as easy as child's play! I advise you not to seek your own death, or my father won't spare you!"

Jasper's eyes kept flickering, his tone seemingly brave but he was actually cowardly.

Andrius did not respond and merely walked over slowly.

"Y-you..."

"Don't come closer."

Justin and Jasper were terrified.

When Andrius took a few steps, a faint killing intent enveloped the both of them, making them feel like they were in an ice cellar.

Splash...

Suddenly, Justin shuddered, and a yellow-orange liquid spilled out from between his legs, accompanied by a strong stench. He pissed himself.

Splash...

Jasper was also shocked and followed suit.

After their initial shock, the two brothers both urinated themselves.

"Moonshade..."

With the threat of death hanging over their heads, Jasper did not care about the disgust of him wetting himself. He braced himself on his hands and retreated, trying to persuade Andrius earnestly, "I know you're very powerful and can easily kill us, but what happens you do that? My father will definitely target you.

after you

"By then, in a fit of rage, he'll mobilize all the forces of the Conways to hunt you down to the ends of the earth, or even down to the underworld itself! You're still young, so don't go down the wrong path!"

Seeing this, Justin also joined in, echoing his brother, "Moonshade, d-don't kill us. As long as you don't kill us, you can ask for anything. We'll give you anything you want!"

Andrius suddenly grinned. "Anything?"

The brothers thought that Andrius had agreed and were overjoyed, nodding continuously.

Chapter 1400

2/3

"Yes, we'll give you anything."

"Tell us what you want. Money, women, or stocks..."

Justin and Jasper spoke eagerly.

"No." Andrius shook his head and said seriously, "I only want one thing, but I want two of it."

One thing, but two of it?

Jasper could not help but ask, "What is it?"

"Heads! One from each of you." Andrius' smile widened.

"You..."

"Don't..."

Only then did they understand that Andrius was just toying with them. They subconsciously wanted to curse, but as soon as they uttered a word, their heads left their bodies and fell into Andrius' hands.

Their eyes were wide open with lingering fear and disbelief that did not dissipate even in their death.

Andrius actually dared to kill them...

"With all that you've done, it's not enough even if I kill you a hundred times!"

Andrius had already learned about the crimes of the Conways from the Hawkeye Group. With a cold snort, he lifted the two heads and walked back in the direction of the slums.

In the slums, candles were already lit in the house for illumination. Scott and Liliana heard the intense gunfire and did not dare to speak.

The only good news was that the gunfire started and stopped just as quickly, and it had been quiet for a long time.

However, Andrius had not returned. His absence was like a dark cloud hanging over the siblings' hearts, making them unable to settle down.

"Kate..." Liliana's beautiful eyes were filled with endless worry. "Andrius has been a while. I-is he okay?"

gone

for

"Yeah, there's no sounds of fighting outside, and the car also left, but Andrius isn't back yet..."

Chapter 1400

Scott was also very worried.

However, Kate said calmly, "It's really not a big deal. Don't worry." Andrius...