

Chapter 1425

Registus had arranged for a special mansion as Andrius' residence in Kiyoto. It was luxurious, magnificent, and splendid.

Luna and Halle arrived and prepared to rest while waiting for Andrius.

"You're here..."

Coincidentally, Kate had been waiting for a while. When she saw Luna, she took out a list filled with medical ingredients along with their proportions.

"Luna, this is a suppressant from the Medicine Sect. After refining it, it can help conceal your aura and prevent Andrius from detecting any clues."

This time, Andrius, Luna, and Halle would be cultivating together.

Luna had been worried that she might expose her true strength and cause Andrius to guess her identity as the master of the Shrouded Gate. The suppressant came just in time.

"Thanks." Luna said solemnly, then raised her brows and asked, "Kate, are you also coming to the treasure site with us?"

"Yes!" Kate nodded. "My grandfather ordered me to. No disturbances from the outside world are allowed when the three of you cultivate, so I was arranged to lead the team and help protect you."

Luna nodded and did not respond.

However, she felt a bit upset. After all, it was already shocking enough for Halle to join her and Andrius in dual cultivation. She still felt displeased about it.

Now, with Kate joining...

It made Luna feel quite uncomfortable.

Kate saw her expression suddenly turn cold and felt that it was strange, so she asked curiously, "What's on your mind, Luna?"

"It's nothing." Luna shook her head and did not express anything.

However...

She quickly contacted Marcellus.

"I'm giving you a prescription. Prepare the medicinal ingredients and produce this pill as fast as possible. I need it urgently.”

“Yes!”

“Also...”

Luna added, “Have all the elite members of the Shrouded Gate come to Kiyoto and stand by on the outskirts of Mount Albus. I’ll be going into seclusion with the Wolf King for cultivation and need you to protect us in secret.”

“Yes!”

After arranging everything, Luna hung up the call. She made the call in front of Kate, which instantly made the latter slightly displeased.

Kate already said that she and the Medicine Sect would protect Andrius’ safety. Luna’s move made it seem like she did not trust Kate and the Medicine Sect. It also felt like a declaration of sovereignty, like she was saying that her husband was hers to protect!

However, given Luna’s identity and her relationship with Andrius, there was nothing wrong with her actions.

"Is everyone here?"

Just then, Andrius walked in.

"Andrius!"

"Andrius!"

"Hubby..."

The three women spoke almost simultaneously.

"It's settled." Andrius nodded and said, "We'll set off immediately for Mount Albus and head to the Klein family's treasure hall. We have to learn the technique as quickly as possible."

Set off immediately?

The three women were stunned and asked, "What's the rush? Did something happen?"

They had a feeling that something must have gone wrong.

"Yes." Andrius' expression was grave as he said solemnly, "Dax just sent me news that the Insect Ruler has launched a large-scale war. He has taken the cordillera as his stronghold. The flames of war have ignited in all directions."
