Chapter 441

Chapter 441

He laughed wildly and contemptuously.

Captain Condor did not know what Andrius was up to, and he asked in a heavy voice, "You've already fallen into my hands. What are you laughing at, Andrius Moonshade?"

"I'm laughing at your stupidity!" Andrius' sharp eyes looked straight at Condor, and his lips curved up. "Do you know why I stepped down?"

Captain Condor asked with a straight face, "Why?"

Although they were the most powerful intelligence organization, they could not find out news that happened in the Forbidden Palace of Kiyoto so quickly.

In fact, the Hawkeye Group's most recent focus was to figure out why.

"It's because I broke into the Forbidden Palace and made the emperor feel threatened!"

Many members of the organization shifted their faces upon hearing Andrius' words.

He broke into the Forbidden Palace...

In the whole of Florence, only the Wolf King would have such courage and strength. Other people would be scoffed at if they even tried to mention doing the same.

Seeing that the news shocked them, Andrius continued to say, "That's why the emperor wants to kill me on the spot.

"Do you think he'll care about my life and exchange me with the leader of your organization? If he knows that I have fall en into your hands, I'm afraid he'll kill your captain immediately so that you'll kill me too!"

The Hawkeye Group members were lost in thought.

What Andrius said was indeed very possible. The only thing hard to determine was whether it was true that he broke into the Forbidden Palace.

"Andrius Moonshade!" Captain Condor scoffed coldly. "I didn't expect that other than extraordinary strength, you'd have a good mouth too. You even try to get out of trouble by using this method..."

"I'm telling you that it's useless! Nine, do it!"

Then, Captain Condor shot a look to someone behind him.

That person got ready to send the news.

Andrus understood instantly

This guy was not trying to save their leader. He wanted to use this method to force Florence to kill their

leader

Then, he would kill Andrius, get the Blackhawk Emblem, and become the rightful leader of the Hawkeye

Group

Andrius had to admit that this boy was cunning. However, his opponent was the Wolf King!

"Good plan. Good strategy!" Andrius laughed again and said meaningfully. "Captain Condor, your real motive is to make Florence kill your leader! Then, you will become the leader of the Hawkeye Group"

Andrius voiced his thoughts directly in front of all the members.

The people present were all elites in information gathering. They had first-class analytical abilities and fast thinking skills.

When they heard Andrius' words, they suddenly changed their expressions again and looked at Captain Condor in suspicion.

Captain Condor instantly paled and shouted angrily, "Andrius Moonshade, don't try to delude us with lies!"

Then, he charged at Andrius and angrily threw a punch, trying to break his mouth so that he could no longer speak.

Crack!

Unexpectedly, Andrius simply flexed some of his strength and snapped the iron chains!

Swoosh!

Andrius turned his head and dodged Captain Condor's punch. Then, he got up and kicked Captain Condor out.

Captain Condor fell to the ground heavily and almost lost his fighting power on the spot.

Clatter!

At the same time, Andrius picked up the chain that had not completely fallen to the ground and smashed all the guns in the others' hands.

The movement here immediately attracted the attention of the people in the organization.

They all convened in an instant, surrounding the small hall.

Captain Condor got up with difficulty, his eyes filled with a gloomy light. "Andrius Moonshade, you can't run away today!"

"Run away?" Andrius gave Captain Condor a sideways glance and said disdainfully, "All of you here are the most wanted criminals in Florence.

“The ones who should run are you, not me.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 442 -

Chapter 442

Chapter 442

“On the other hand... If you follow me, you’ll be abandoning the darkness and embracing the light. From now on, you’ll have a bright future that belongs to you.

“I assure you in the name of the Wolf King that I’ll give you a bright future!”

The hall fell silent upon Andrius’ words because what he said struck their hearts.

No one wanted to live in hiding forever. Many of them had thought about how to stop and turn over a new leaf.

However, Florence never gave them a chance.

Now...

Andrius was swearing on the name of the Wolf King. This tempted them immensely.

The Wolf King’s name was renowned throughout Florence and even the entire world.

Everyone who knew his name knew that his word was law!

Furthermore, ever since Andrius appeared at Tercel Mountain and confronted them, his actions were honorable, and his thoughts were meticulous. He was indeed a very good leader.

“Are you serious, Andrius Moonshade?”

“Wolf King, you’re not lying to us, are you?”

“Can you really lead us onto the right path?”

“Wolf King...”

Many people were moved and began to ask Andrius questions.

Captain Condor was immediately furious. A cold light flashed in his eyes, and he quickly retreated to the entrance of the base. Then, he pressed a button.

Click, click, click!

The expressions of the Hawkeye Group members instantly changed when they heard the sound of a heavy mechanism.

The only exit of the hall was blocked by a solid alloy iron door, sealing it shut completely.

Furthermore, dark green gas started to spew from some holes in the ceiling

This was the Hawkeye Group’s last resort when enemies invaded, but now, Condor was using it against them!

“Damn it!”

“How can Condor be so vicious? He wants to trap us here!”

“Oh no, the poisonous gas is beginning to spread!”

“Wolf King, do you have any ideas?”

Everyone trapped inside panicked. They all looked at Andrius

Andrius was the Wolf King, and he also held the Blackhawk Emblem, thus they all subconsciously deemed him their pillar.

C

Chapter 442

Andrius was prepared and took out a handful of pills. “These are detoxification pills I made myself. You’ll be immune to all poisons for half an hour after taking it.”

Many of the Hawkeye Group members instantly took a pill each. Some hesitated, but when they saw the poisonous gas spreading throughout the hall, they had no choice but to trust Andrius.

“But...”

After taking the pill, a new problem arose.

“We’re still trapped here. The detoxification pill can only protect us for half an hour. What do we do after that?”

“That’s right...”

Someone said worriedly, “This alloy door is made of the most cutting-edge material. Even a firearm would barely leave a mark on it...”

Bam!

Before the person could finish speaking, he abruptly stopped. Andrius had punched the alloy door, leaving a deep indent.

“Hiss-”

Rumble, rumble...

“That’s terrifying-”

Seeing this scene, the expressions of the Hawkeye members all changed.

The Wolf King was truly terrifying!

Bam!

Bam!

Bam!

Andrius continued to strike. In the eyes of the Hawkeye members, the seemingly indestructible alloy door was violently broken by Andrius' brute force.

Thud!

Thud!

Thud!

The members no longer hesitated and kneeled behind Andrius.

“Wolf King, we're willing to submit!”

“Wolf King, be our leader!”

“Wolf King, from now on, we submit to you and consider you our leader!”

“Wolf King...”

Without exception, they all expressed their loyalty to Andrius.

Andrius said, “Pledge your loyalty to me after I bring back the head of your Captain Condor!”

After saying that, he walked toward the door with large strides.

Chapter 442

Outside Tercel Mountain, there was a hidden private airport.

Creak...

An off-road vehicle stopped. Captain Condor hurriedly got out and climbed into the helicopter to the side in a rush.

“Hurry up and start the helicopter! Now!”

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 443 -

Chappi 443

Chapter 443

“Now!”

After getting in, Captain Condor roared wildly at the pilot and looked up from time to time to see if Andrius had followed him.

However, the pilot did not move.

This made the anxious Captain Condor fly into a rage. Just as he was about to start yelling, he saw the pilot turn around. The man was thin and tan, grinning at him coldly.

It was Noir!

“Y–you...”

Captain Condor looked at Noir, too shocked to speak. The next second, he turned and ran, trying to escape.

“Since you’re already here...”

However, just as Captain Condor turned around, Noir, who had just been in the pilot seat, moved in front of him and blocked his way. “Why are you in such a hurry?”

Bang!

Captain Condor knew that this was the moment of life and death. Thus, he immediately took out his pistol and fired it at Noir without hesitation.

However, Noir already predicted his action the moment he made a move. Noir directly grasped the barrel of the gun and forcibly snatched it away.

Swoosh...

In just one second, the gun was disassembled, and its parts dropped to the ground.

Captain

Condor never expected to meet another cruel man after meeting the Wolf King just earlier. His heart suddenly shrunk.

However, his actions did not slow down. He waved a fist and punched Noir, but the latter grabbed his wrist and snapped his hand with a crack.

“Ahhhhh-”

The excruciating pain made Captain Condor scream miserably, but it did not last long.

In the next moment, Noir broke Captain Condor’s head.

“Andy!”

Andrius appeared before long.

Noir handed him the head and chuckled. “Hehe, I haven’t fought in a long time, so I almost got rusty.”

“Don’t worry. There’ll be plenty of opportunities for you to practice in the future.”

Andrius took the head and returned to the Hawkeye Group’s headquarters.

Thud...

With a toss, Captain Condor’s head fell in front of everyone’s eyes. It bounced twice and rolled several times before stopping. His eyes were still open even after death and bulged out, looking particularly terrifying.

The Hawkeye members could not help but widen their eyes.

The Wolf King deserved his title. His methods and efficiency were enough to make any opponent feel scared. They would not dare to resist!

“From now on...” Andrius stepped on Captain Condor’s head. His eyes were like thunder as he scanned everyone present. “Surrender to me and listen to my orders, and you will enjoy endless glory! Otherwise...”

Bam!

Andrius smiled as he stomped his feet. Captain Condor’s head that he was stepping on burst on the spot, splattering brain matter and blood out. “This is the consequence!”

The many members shuddered violently.

“Wolf King, no, Black Hawk, we surrender!”

“I surrender too. Black Hawk, I bow down to you!”

“Black Hawk, I submit. I submit!”

“Me too!”

None of the members of Hawkeye dared to hesitate. They all knelt before Andrius. Their actions were swift.

The scene was spectacular.

Andrius nodded in satisfaction. “Good. All of you, get up.”

Everyone stood up. “Yes, sir!”

One of the members with a golden hawk emblem on his chest stepped forward and said, “I’m Captain Harpy. I’ll brief you on the current situation of Hawkeye.”

Then, Harpy proceeded to explain, “The Hawkeye Group is based in Florence with a total of over 87,600 members. Among us, there are over 40,000 members in Florence.

“Besides Florence, we have members spread across Tartan, Atlantus, Northern Efren, Rusaint, Arbral, Oz, and many other countries.

“They’re distributed in all walks of life. Some are commoners, some are municipal leaders, some are celebrities, and some are low-key but powerful people... In short, they’re all local elites!

“There are more than a million pieces of important information accumulated every year and tens of thousands of classified information. The information trading industry we operate is worth hundreds of billions

“From ancient antiques and paintings to mysterious treasures, from military and political secrets to personal privacy, there’s nothing that we can’t find!”

it sounded like the Hawkeye Group really was quite extraordinary.

Andrius nodded in satisfaction and said, “Good I want you to investigate a tragedy that happened 20 years ago I need you to find out as soon as possible!”

“A tragedy from 20 years ago?” Harpy and the other members exchanged glances and asked, “Do you have any clues?”

Andrius briefly explained and took out his jade pendant. “This case might be related to this jade pendant

Harpy carefully examined the jade pendant and committed it to memory. Then, he promised, “Don’t worry

Chapter 443

We’ll give you a response within two days!”

Two days!

Such efficiency was amazing.

Since Andrius had no military affairs to attend to at the moment, he decided to wait at Tercel Mountain.

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 444 -

Chapter 444

In East River State, after Luna submitted the prescription, the Medical Society was surprised when they saw it and informed her that her prescription was selected.

Moreover, they dispatched someone that very afternoon to come and sign a contract with New Moon Corporation.

New Moon Corporation began mass production.

However, in New Moon Corporation, Luna was feeling a bit down. Although everything was on track and New Moon Corporation was about to usher in a spring of development, she was suddenly unhappy.

It was because the greatest contributor, the Wolf King, had stepped down!

Ding–dong!

Just then, a notification sounded on Luna’s computer.

She looked at it and suddenly paled. It was an email from the Medical Society informing her that their cooperation was temporarily suspended.

Although it did not mention the specific reason, Luna knew that something unexpected must have happened.

“Ms. Crestfall, bad news!” Danni knocked on the door and hurriedly walked in with a document. “Hydra Pharmaceuticals wants to sue New Moon Corporation!”

Sue?

Luna looked at the document. It was a lawyer’s letter!

It was sent by Hydra Pharmaceuticals, accusing her of stealing the prescription and stating that they had already filed a lawsuit.

This...

Luna was dumbfounded.

How could the prescription that the Wolf King personally handed to her be a stolen item?

Beep, beep, beep...

Just then, her phone rang again.

“Luna, come to the Crestfall Manor for a family meeting!”

The call was from her second uncle, Dick. After speaking, he swiftly hung up.

At Crestfall Manor

“Luna, what have you done?”

“Luna, this was such an important project. How could you steal the prescription?!”

“Luna, are you trying to ruin New Moon Corporation?”

“Luna, do you know how serious the consequences of this matter are? All the efforts our family made will go down the drain because of you!”

Luna had just arrived when George and the others immediately started to criticize her. She sweated in anxiety and quickly explained, “I didn’t steal that prescription. It was given to me by the Wolf King himself!”

“The Wolf King? Stop talking nonsense.”

“Why would the Wolf King give you a prescription? Does he love you?”

“Exactly. Who are you to the Wolf King? Why would he give you a prescription for no reason?”

“Luna, stealing is stealing. Don’t try to defend yourself!”

They did not believe her words at all. All sorts of cynicism and mockery left their mouths like bullets from a machine gun.

Luna could not defend herself even if she had a hundred mouths.

“Enough!”

Dick saw that it was about time. He got up immediately and said gloomily, “Luna, there’s no point in explaining to us. You’d better think about how to explain this to the authorities!”

Dick’s son, Collin, narrowed his eyes in a sinister smile. “Luna, if you can’t handle this matter, then just step down! The Crestfall family wants someone talented to lead us to shared prosperity!

“We don’t need someone like you who causes trouble for us! In addition, you must bear the full criminal responsibility for this matter!”

With every sentence they spoke, Luna turned paler.

After Collin’s last sentence, Luna was as white as a sheet.

Belarus, who was at the side, was also speechless. Even if he wanted to help Luna, after something like this happened, there was nothing he could say.

“I’ll give you an explanation!” Luna said helplessly, then left the Crestfall Manor.

At Hydra Pharmaceuticals, Luna found Timothy and asked, “Mr. Kerr, why do you have my prescription? You even said that I stole it...”

“What are you talking about, Luna Crestfall?” Timothy interrupted her disdainfully and sneered, “My company spent countless manpower and resources to develop that prescription after lengthy research.

“You stole it and even dared to submit it to the Medical Society, but now you’re saying that I stole it from you?”

“I won’t waste my words on you. If you have anything to say, save it for the authorities! Guards, escort her out!” Timothy shouted.

Two burly security guards entered, waiting for Luna with an aggressive aura.

Luna could only leave in despair.

That was right!

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 445 -

Chapter 445

The Wolf King!

The only method she could think of now was to find the Wolf King to clarify everything.

Thus, Luna went to Celestial Enterprise again.

“Ms. Crestfall...” Sonia did not know what happened, but she saw that Luna’s expression looked off and asked, “Do you need something here?”

Luna briefly explained the situation and said, “I want to meet the Wolf King and have him testify on my behalf. I didn’t steal that prescription!”

“The Wolf King...” Sonia did not know where to find Andrius now, so she could only say, “He’s not here at the moment. Let me make a call to help you ask.”

“Okay. Thank you, Ms. Timberland.”

Sonia dialed the number but received a message saying that the number was not in service.

“Um... Ms. Crestfall, maybe you should go back for now. I’ll inform you if there’s any news.”

Luna had no other choice but to leave in disappointment.

On the way back, her phone kept ringing. She thought that it might be a message from Sonia, so she eagerly checked every time.

However, each time, it was a message from her secretary or the executives of New Moon Corporation, telling her that the situation had escalated on the Internet and was now extremely severe.

There were all sorts of insults and endless defamation. It was going viral. Everything came in droves, seemingly determined not to stop until she was overwhelmed.

The more Luna saw, the more helpless she felt, and the more she despaired.

Could this really be the end?

She was full of despair and dialed Halle's number. "Halle, let's go to the usual place. Have a drink with me."

Halle soon arrived.

"Halle, why do you think my life is so hard? I really can't figure it out. How did the prescription that the Wolf King gave me appear in the hands of Hydra Pharmaceuticals?

"I... Just why?"

Luna kept drinking and pouring out her frustrations.

Halle already learned about the situation from the Internet but did not know how to console her.

Before long, Luna got drunk.

Halle took her back to Dream's Waterfront.

After leaving, she immediately called Andrius.

"Sorry, the number you dialed is not in service. Please try again later."

Not in service?

Where could Andrius be?

Cha

Halle felt anxious.

At that moment, Andrius was still at Tercel Mountain.

This was the headquarters of the Hawkeye Group, so there was constant signal jamming.

The phone Andrius was currently using was not the satellite phone provided by the Western Warzone but a regular phone. Thus, it naturally could not receive calls. Therefore, he was unaware of what was happening in the outside world.

He was waiting for a response from Harpy.

“Leader!”

The next afternoon, Harpy walked in with a stack of documents. “We’ve made progress in the investigation of the massacre in Kiyoto that year.”

Andrius’ heart skipped a beat. “Tell me!”

Harpy organized his thoughts and said, “Sir, this is what happened that year.

“It’s said that there was a secret technique that the Kleins passed down from ancient times. It was a breathing technique that bestowed invincible martial skills when cultivated to perfection! This technique was the main reason for the Klein family’s massacre!”

This point was somewhat similar to what Conrad, the First War God, had said. Andrius nodded slightly.

“It happened right after the Grand Medicinal Competition of that year. One of the participants was a member of the Kleins. He attended under the guidance of the previous champion of the competition, the Devil’s Hand.”

Andrius frowned slightly upon hearing this.

The Devil’s Hand was his master’s title.

Unexpectedly, the Kleins had a connection to the Grand Medicinal Competition that year, and they even knew Old Hagstorm.

It was no wonder his master showed a strange expression when he learned that the top prize of this year’s Grand Medicinal Competition would be the remains of someone from the Klein family, and he was even targeted by the emperor.

There might be an even bigger conspiracy behind it.

“Besides that, we also obtained an important piece of information!” Harpy looked at Andrius and said solemnly, “There was actually one survivor in the massacre that year- a child of a few years old! “That surviving child carried the jade pendant that you showed me.

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 446 -

Chapter 446

As soon as those words were spoken, Andrius’ face remained unchanged, but a huge wave surged in his heart.

For as long as he could remember, this jade pendant had always hung around his neck.

According to the timeline, he was just a child 20 years ago.

However, according to Old Hagstorm, he had picked Andrius up when Andrius was just a baby and raised him.

Combining these clues, Andrius boldly speculated that he was very likely the Klein orphan from back then. He was saved by Old Hagstorm, raised, and taught various skills, martial arts, strategies, and medical techniques...

Perhaps Old Hagstorm knew some secrets, but for some reason, he intentionally concealed Andrius’ identity and did not reveal the truth.

“Leader...” Harpy asked curiously, “Where did you get this jade pendant?”

“I got it by accident.”

Andrius shook his head and did not say anything else. That was because his heart had long been clouded by hatred. He was very likely the orphan of the Klein family after the massacre.

The fact that the organizers of the Grand Medicinal Competition were using the remains of his family as a prize was utter humiliation!

Coupled with the massacre...

Andrius' heart was filled with rage, burning fiercely.

Whether it was to clear Old Hagstorm's name or to lay the remains of his clan to rest, he had to win the top prize at the Grand Medicinal Competition.

Moreover...

Andrius felt that since the emperor set up such a large plot against Old Hagstorm, it was most likely because he knew some hidden truths.

Registus must have been involved in the tragedy that year!

It was a long story.

In reality, those thoughts only flashed through Andrius' mind.

He instructed Harpy, "Continue to investigate. The more detailed, the better.

"Well..." Harpy looked troubled and hesitated. "Leader, to be honest, we encountered some resistance during the investigation. It's as if someone is deliberately preventing us from discovering the truth."

Even without thinking, Andrius knew that it must be the people working for Registus, or the mastermind behind the scenes.

Andrius narrowed his eyes slightly, and his voice became colder. "Investigate as much as you can. If you need any help or support, then just ask. I'll provide you with sufficient support from the Lycantroops of the Western Warzone."

Andrius' words contained pride.

When Harpy heard this, he said hesitatingly, "Leader, first of all, I didn't mean anything by that. Secondly, since you've stepped down as the Wolf King, will the Lycantroops still..."

Harpy trailed off. However, what he was trying to convey was clear. The Lycantroops might not listen to Andrius.

"Heh..." To the side, Noir sneered. "You don't have to worry about that. The Lycantroops belong to the Wolf King, not the emperor. They were all trained by the Wolf King.

“They went through fire and hell and fought in countless bloody battles... As long as the Wolf King gives the orders, they won’t hesitate for a second even if they had to charge into Kiyoto and take the emperor alive!”

As soon as he said this, Harpy and the other members of Hawkeye were immediately reassured.

That was right.

From the information they got over the years, the Lycantroops in the Western Warzone were completely different from the other four warzones in Florence because of the Wolf King!

He was an unprecedented legend. With him, everything impossible could become possible! “You can do it with confidence.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 447 -

Chapter 447

Andrius promised, “As an intelligence organization, you should know my style of doing things.

“As long as you work diligently for me, I won’t treat you badly.” After saying that, Andrius and Noir walked outside.

“Yes, sir!” Harpy straightened his legs and instinctively held his head and chest high. That posture was as if he was about to salute!

It was only until Andrius and Noir left that Harpy came back to his senses. He could not help but laugh.

Andrius’s aura was too strong. Just a slight release of the aura made them want to serve him wholeheartedly.

“I have a feeling...” Harpy looked at the other Hawkeye members. “Following the Wolf King might be the best decision we can make in our lifetime!”

“You feel that way too, Captain Harpy?”

“What a coincidence. I have the same feeling!”

“Me too...”

The group of Hawkeye members scratched their heads and agreed.

As the off-road vehicle gradually left Tercel Mountain and headed toward Sumeria, Andrius left the signal-jamming area.

Beep, beep, beep...

In an instant, Andrius' phone kept ringing, and various types of messages began flooding the screen. The phone even hung for a short period of time due to the barrage of notifications.

A few minutes later, the ringing gradually stopped, and the phone returned to normal.

Andrius quickly looked at it.

Oh boy!

999+ missed calls!

The majority of them were from Halle, and some were from Sonia.

Andrius called Halle back.

“Andrius, where are you?” Halle answered almost instantly. As soon as the call connected, she asked impatiently. Her tone was filled with anxiety.

Andrius asked, “What happened?”

“Something big has happened in Sumeria!”

Halle immediately explained the situation. “Luna got a prescription from the Wolf King to bid for a project by the Medical Society. However, she was framed by Hydra Pharmaceuticals, who accused her of stealing their prescription.

“Now, the Medical Society has suspended their cooperation. Not only is New Moon Corporation facing a high penalty, but Luna is also being sued by Hydra Pharmaceuticals. She might even end up in prison!”

Stealing?

The prescription personally written by the great Wolf King was actually accused of theft?

Andrius' expression instantly darkened.

"I got it."

Just as he hung up the call, his phone rang again. It was Sonia.

"Mr. Moonshade!"

Sonia briefly explained the situation and asked, "Should Celestial Enterprise intervene in this matter? How should we respond?"

"No need." Andrius narrowed his eyes. An endless flame flickered in his pupils. "Let me handle this. I'll return to Sumeria as soon as possible."

"Alright."

After hanging up the phone, Andrius ordered, "Noir, arrange a private jet to come over. We'll return to Sumeria A.S.A.P."

"Got it!"

The next day, just as dawn broke...

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 448 -

Chapter 448

There was a piece of news circulating on the Internet, causing a massive uproar in a short period of time. It was like a level 12 typhoon!

It was a surveillance video released by Hydra Pharmaceuticals.

The video was divided into two parts.

In the first part, a woman who looked strikingly similar to Luna was secretly doing something shady with a high-ranking executive of Hydra Pharmaceuticals. The executive handed the woman a folded piece of paper, and she gave him a bank card.

The second part was the executive tearfully confessing his crime. He pointed out how he was used by Luna and how he was blinded by greed to betray the company. He sold the prescription to Luna, a rival company!

As soon as this video was released, it soon racked up millions of views.

The number of shares and comments was equally amazing.

In addition, the comments were all on the same side. They were insults directed at Luna and defamatory remarks against New Moon Corporation. It was clearly trying to manipulate public opinion.

Luna was called to the Crestfall Manor early in the morning.

“Luna, it’s come to this point. The evidence against you is as solid as a mountain. What do you have to say for yourself?” Dick confronted Luna as soon as she arrived.

“That’s right. You claim that the prescription was from the Wolf King, but now that the evidence is out in the open, you can’t argue anymore, can you?” Collin echoed with a sinister smile.

George was also dissatisfied with Luna’s overall situation and said maliciously, “This isn’t just a problem in the pharmaceutical industry anymore.

“Luna, your actions have brought a huge crisis of trust to New Moon Corporation! Many partners have launched a joint protest. They’re demanding that we dismiss you, or they’ll withdraw all cooperation and seek compensation from us!”

As soon as he said this, many young members of the Crestfall family followed suit.

“That’s right. Remove her from her position!”

“Luna, New Moon Corporation will only worsen in your hands. Since you don’t have the ability, be tactful and get the hell out!”

“Luna, you’re incompetent, and your moral character is corrupt. You’re a disgrace to the Crestfall family. Hurry up and get out of New Moon Corporation!”

The more they scolded her, the more carried away they got, and the harsher their words were.

“No! I didn’t steal it. They set me up...” Luna tried to explain, but her explanation was so feeble that it was soon drowned out by the loud voices.

Her grievance and tears were already swirling in her eyes. Nonetheless, Luna gritted her teeth and did not let them fall.

Collin saw that things were almost heated enough and added fuel to the fire. “Luna, the only thing you can do now is go to Timothy Kerr and apologize in person. Only by obtaining his forgiveness will things slowly calm down instead of continuing to escalate!”

Apologize!

It was not a matter as simple as apologizing. She was not the one at fault. It was Timothy who had slandered her.

However, these people wanted her to go and apologize...

What humiliation!

Luna could not bear it any longer. Tears streamed down her face, instantly turning her into a weeping mess.

Harry wanted to say a few words but did not know where to start.

Belarus sighed helplessly, feeling powerless.

“Luna, are you

deaf?”

The more Luna sobbed, the more excited Collin felt. He scolded arrogantly, “Why haven’t you gone to apologize to Mr. Kerr? Are you trying to destroy the entire Crestfall family? What are you afraid of?”

“At most, Mr. Kerr will just sleep with you for one night. It’s not a big deal...”

Bam!

Just as Collin started getting carried away, a figure rushed out and punched him in the nose. The blow instantly caved in his nose, and he flew backward and landed heavily on the ground.

It was Andrius who had just returned.

His cold eyes flickered with an icy light as he spat, "F*ck you!"

Chapter 449

"Andrius, how dare you!"

"Andrius, you bumpkin, what else can you do besides hitting people?"

"Andrius, you..."

The Crestfall family exploded on the spot, especially Collin's father, Dick. His facial features twisted with anger as he pointed at Andrius with trembling fingers.

However, they all knew that Andrius was good at fighting. Furthermore, Andrius was from the mountains and had a stubborn temper. Thus, they only dared to scold him a little but did not dare to go too far.

"This matter isn't a big deal. I'll handle it." Andrius swept his cold gaze over everyone and warned, "But if you dare to blabber and speak nonsense here... I don't mind showing you some attitude."

A cold smile appeared on his face after speaking.

The group of people stared at Andrius gloomily, but his intimidating aura prevented them from continuing what they were saying before.

“Andrius!” Collin got up from the ground wretchedly and said sinisterly, “You can help Luna deal with this, but you only have a day!”

“If the president of Hydra Pharmaceuticals doesn’t withdraw the lawsuit within a day, and the Medical Society doesn’t resume the cooperation they suspended, then Luna has to step down! Someone like her isn’t worthy of being the president of New Moon Corporation!”

As Collin spoke, Dick, George, and the other Crestfalls echoed his words.

“Andrius! Remember, you only have one day.”

“The interests of New Moon Corporation are above all else. If Luna fails, then she can get lost!”

“We don’t want to be ruined along with her...”

Andrius neither agreed nor refused. He snorted coldly, “You all can get lost now.”

The crowd’s faces froze, and they left while complaining and grumbling.

After everyone left, Belarus and Harry approached together with their brows deeply furrowed.

“Andrius, do you have any good ideas?”

“The main problem this time lies with Timothy of Hydra Pharmaceuticals. Do you have a plan?”

At those words, Luna also looked over. Her reddened eyes were filled with a hint of despair.

In her opinion, Hydra Pharmaceuticals was a leading pharmaceutical company and would definitely not miss the opportunity to strike New Moon Corporation. It seemed impossible to make Timothy back down.

“I already have a plan for this matter. You don’t have to interfere. Just wait for the results.”

Andrius’ tone was very certain. There was a hint of coldness in his slightly narrowed eyes. Hydra Pharmaceuticals...

They even dared to cause trouble with the prescription he provided. They were truly tired of living.

Upon hearing this, despair flashed across Luna's tear-streaked face.

Andrius was just a man from the mountains. What could he do? He could only buy some time at most, but what was the significance of that?

It would all be in vain when the time was up.

After leaving Dream's Waterfront, Andrius went straight to Hydra Pharmaceuticals.

"Who are you? What are you here for? Do you have an appointment?" The security guard stopped Andrius and fired a series of questions.

Andrius remained expressionless and said, "New Moon Corporation. Andrius Moonshade. Here to see Timothy Kerr."

"Andrius Moonshade?"

The security guard glanced at Andrius. Andrius did not have time to change, and the guard noticed that his clothes were still stained with mud. He said disdainfully, "Never heard of you. Scram, kid! If you want to see Mr. Kerr..."

"Tell your boss to come instead!" the bodyguard said with a malicious smile.

Smack!

However, the next second, Andrius slapped him and sent him flying.

"Motherf*cker!" The security guard became furious and got up. He grabbed his walkie-talkie and shouted, "Quick, come to the entrance. Someone is causing a scene!"

After saying that, he stared at Andrius with a sinister smile. He was already imagining how he was going to beat Andrius up.

Andrius ignored him and walked straight in.

Just as he reached the entrance, a group of security guards rushed out from inside.

“Kid, how dare you cause trouble at Hydra Pharmaceuticals? You must be tired of living!” “Guys, get him!”

“Beat him to death! Make him learn how powerful we are!!

“Go, go, go.

Chapter 450

The group of people cracked their knuckles and grinned as they charged.

Smack!

Bam!

Crash...

Andrius kept walking and hit anyone who approached him.

It was either a slap or a punch directly aimed at their faces.

He walked all the way in.

Not a single security guard was his match. They were all knocked down and could not get up. Only their mouths could let out groans.

In the office, Timothy leaned back in his chair, frowning and opening his mouth occasionally. His chubby face was filled with enjoyment.

“Mr. Kerr...” His secretary looked up at him with seductive eyes. “What do moves?”

“Not bad!” Timothy was very satisfied.

Bam!

Just then, the office door was violently kicked open.

you think of my

The loud noise startled Timothy. The secretary shivered and almost snapped it off.

“Who the f*ck are you?”

Timothy was almost scared to death. His face was full of anger as he shouted, “How dare you cause trouble at Hydra Pharmaceuticals? Do you have a death wish?”

He adjusted his pants as he spoke.

The secretary also got up at once and began to tidy herself up.

“Andrius Moonshade, from New Moon Corporation.” Andrius glanced at the two and said indifferently, “I’m here regarding New Moon Corporation’s prescription. I’ll give you a chance to clarify all the facts within one hour. If you do that, I can let bygones be bygones.”

Prescription?

Timothy had been fully prepared and did not care about Andrius at all.

In addition, he was just about to get it on with his secretary but was suddenly interrupted. He was equally angry and sneered, “Who the hell are you? Why should I listen to you?”

“Because...” Andrius narrowed his eyes slightly. There was a dangerous light flashing in his gaze. “I wrote that prescription myself!”

At those words, Timothy instantly laughed.

He remembered Luna saying that the prescription came from the Wolf King.

Andrius’ appearance was shabby, and he had just returned from a remote area, so he looked travel-worn. In Timothy’s eyes, Andrius looked like a dolt...

“So...” Timothy grinned. “You’re the Wolf King that Luna mentioned?”

“Look at yourself...” Timothy sized Andrius up and said disdainfully, “Look at your clothes. and aura. How can you call yourself the Wolf King? You’re more like a dog, but you dared to impersonate the Wolf King...”

Timothy kept laughing and joked, “If you’re the Wolf King, then I’m the Emperor who holds your leash!”

Wow.

It was Andrius’ first time hearing such words since he came back. Furthermore, those words were said to his face. His expression instantly sank. His eyes narrowed dangerously, and there was a cold glint within them.

“What?” Timothy grinned and continued to mock, “Are you upset? There’s no use being upset!”

“Even if you’re really the Wolf King, the emperor forced you to step down. You’re nothing now. Don’t try to scare me with that title! I’ve been in the business world for decades. Do you think I’m afraid of anything?”

He was as arrogant as could be.

After saying that, he slapped his secretary’s butt. “Don’t you think so?”

“Yes!” The secretary glanced at Andrius and said glibly, “He’s just a dog, but he dares to come here and disturb your mood. Hurry up and go back to your kennel!”

Smack!

Before she could finish speaking, Andrius slapped her harshly. The secretary was instantly sent flying.

“You!” Timothy flew into a rage and roared, “Guards! Where are the guards?!”

“I have put your guards down.” Andrius said coldly, “I gave you ample opportunities. Since you didn’t cherish it, then don’t regret it!”

Then, he dialed a number. “Crush Hydra Pharmaceuticals within ten minutes!”
