

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 636 -

Chapter 636

"After seeing their skills, I realize how useless I used to be."

"It's not just how useless you used to be. You're still useless now and even in the future!"

"Hahaha... If you keep talking like that, you'll lose all your friends, young man!"

"It's not that we're too lousy. It's just that they're too amazing..."

The crowd sighed one after another..

The Grand Medicinal Competition which occurred once every 20 years was a grand event for the medical community in Florence. Those who had made it this far were all skilled.

"By the way... What about Zachery?"

Someone suddenly perked up and asked about the Gerlandian.

The audience immediately looked over.

When they did, their eyeballs almost popped out of their sockets.

Various modern medical apparatus such as IV bags, Infusion tubes, and an ECG machine were set up in Zachery's area.

After preparing a solution, he was just about to administer it to himself intravenously.

"Holy crap, he can do that?"

"Damn, he has truly opened my eyes this time!"

"Oh, come on. Why doesn't he just bring the entire hospital to the competition instead?"

"He's such a clown!"

The audience burst into laughter when they saw the scene. Some were amazed, some were disdainful: and some were speechless. It was like discovering a new continent.

“Heh...”

Zachery seemed to pick up on the crowd’s discussions and said while receiving the IV fluids, “What do you guys know? According to the rules...”

He pointed to the other doctors nearby and said, “Since they can bring silver needles and even a cauldron, what’s wrong with me bringing these instruments? There’s no problem! It’s completely reasonable!”

He lectured smugly, “Besides, I’m showing you the wonders of Gerlandian medicine while combining it with modern equipment. You ignorant fools should just open your eyes wide since I’ll only demonstrate it once!”

Then, he increased the speed of the IV drip.

“Tsk... What are we supposed to be looking at?”

“Open our eyes wide? Do you want us to watch how you embarrass yourself and seek attention?”

“You only look impressive on the surface, but you’re nothing at all! You might just end up making a fool of yourself later”

“I think you’re just a toad parading yourself as a frog. You’re ugly but you like to show off!”

The audience burst into laughter.

Zachery added some spice to the tense poison-testing competition, like a crowd-pleasing clown that made people laugh.

“Hic...”

Before the audience finished laughing, Zachery suddenly let out a fearful cry.

On the large screen, everyone immediately saw that the medicine Zachery administered through the drip was flowing back.

As it continued, the backflow carried Zachery's poisoned blood as well.

Meanwhile, Zachery's expression instantly darkened, and he started frothing at the mouth. His eyes, ears, and nostrils oozed black blood.

He was going to die!

This sudden scene made the audience overjoyed.

Chapter 637

Ding-dong...

At the critical moment, Zachery pressed the red button.

Whoosh...

The rescue team was already on standby and immediately rushed forward to save him.

First, they fed him a pill, then pinched his acupoints, patted his back, and gave him water to drink...

After a series of actions, Zachery's complexion improved significantly.

Angus looked at Zachery with a strange gaze and said, "Mr. Ramsey, since you pressed the red button and took the antidote, according to the rules, you have voluntarily withdrawn from the competition. Please leave the stage."

"Huh?" Zachery recovered slightly and said disdainfully, "When did I press the red button? I only pressed it because my body was out of control due to the poisoning. As for the antidote you mentioned..."

Zachery stimulated his gag reflex and spit out the pill.

Then, he tossed the pill on the ground and said contemptuously, "Look. I don't need your antidote at all"

He had just tasted the antidote and believed he could replicate an identical pill based on the taste, so he was full of confidence.

“That’s...”

Angus was astonished.

Damn it. How could Zachery do such a thing?

“Hrk... Ah...”

However, before he could react, Zachery’s body suffered another toxic reaction due to him spitting out the pill, and he fell to the ground again.

The rescue team rushed forward to save him.

However...

Zachery continued to convulse, and black blood poured out of his orifices. Soon, he stopped breathing. and his heartbeat stopped.

He was dead.

The hall fell silent.

Everyone was shocked by Zachery’s antics, but it did not last long.

“Pfft

A few seconds later, someone burst into laughter. Then, everyone else joined in.

“Haha! Oh, my sides.”

“He really asked for it!”

“It’s no wonder he said he’d demonstrate only once. It turns out he knew that he would die after the demonstration, haha

“What a courageous man. He actually used his life to show us the most classic example of failure. How admirable!”

Amidst the laughter were endless taunts and disdain.

No one felt sympathetic. After all, Zachery brought it upon himself. If he had not been so arrogant and full of himself, everyone might have shown some sympathy.

After all, the Florencians had propriety and would not easily mock others' misfortune.

That was unless they could not resist it!

Angus sighed deeply and said in a low voice. "On behalf of the organizers of the Grand Medicinal Competition, I express my grief and condolences for Mr Ramsey's unfortunate incident."

Yes, he was in so much grief that there was a tinge of humor in his expression!

"However, he signed a waiver before the start of the competition, so he is fully responsible for this matter. The competition shall continue!"

Soon, someone came forward, removed Zachery's body, and cleaned up the scene.

The tension of the competition soon returned to the stage.

The audience was still gloating.

No, they were discussing with relish.

After all, Zachery brought suffering upon himself just to bring entertainment to them.

What an admirable man!

However, that did not last long either.

A clown was just a clown. He was destined to be short-lived and soon forgotten.

A few minutes later, everyone's eyes were on Andrius. Fergus, Elmer, Patrick, and the other outstanding doctors.

Bzz...

The speed of the silver needles rotating on Andrius' body grew faster and faster.

Correspondingly, the black aura above his head suddenly became very dense as the needles pushed out the toxins.

The audience held their breaths.

The next second, the black smoke stopped!

So did the needles.

Then, a series of sounds rang out.

Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh....

All the silver needles in Andrius' body were pushed out and shot into the air.

Chapter 638

After reaching the highest point, they gracefully descended.

Clink, clink, clink...

They landed on the wooden table in a beautiful pattern.

"Holy shit..."

"He's awesome!"

"That guy is amazing! Who dares to question him?"

"Wolf King!"

"Wolf King!"

The audience cheered so loudly that the sound pierced the sky.

At the same time...

Gulp!

Denzel finished refining a pill and swallowed it.

Skitter...

Patrick's two insects absorbed all the poison.

Swoosh...

Elmer retrieved all his silver needles back into his hands.

Glug, glug...

Frederic drank the water mixed with the ashes of his talisman.

"Phew..."

Fergus used conventional methods to prepare an antidote.

They all successfully detoxified themselves!

All those doctors finished the process almost at the same time as Andrius.

"Whoa, that fake Wolf King is incredible. He finished treating himself at the same time as Dr. Bond and the other doctors who made it to the Heavenly Ranking in the last competition."

"He's not as good as the real Wolf King, but his skill in medicine should be almost on par with the latter"

"Yes, he's amazing..."

"He definitely has a spot in this year's Heavenly Ranking!"

Everyone was astonished. Andrius had won them over with his medical skills.

The competition continued.

Time slowly passed

A few other participants from the previous competition's Heavenly Ranking and some top-ranking participants from this year's Earthly Ranking managed to detoxify themselves with great difficulty

The rest who remained wore pained expressions. Their complexions were unpleasant as they were almost at their limit.

"No, I better surrender..."

One doctor pressed the button.

Ding-dong...

Ding-dong...

After one person surrendered, the doctors that knew they had no hope of detoxifying themselves followed suit. They were reluctant but had no choice but to press the button.

Only a few people were left struggling on the stage.

Amongst them was Luna. After all, she had just started learning medicine. It was already extraordinary for her to have lasted this long..

However, it would be hard if she wanted to continue without external help.

She was unwilling to give up.

Even the fake Wolf King successfully treated himself!

However, she failed even though she had the Wolf King's medical book...

Therefore, although she was dizzy, weak, trembling, and her mind was unclear, she gritted her teeth and persevered.

Andrius saw her face covered in a black aura as the poison was about to attack her heart.

“I wonder if she’ll make it.”

“Sigh, it looks tough.”

“Luna still falls a bit short.”

“Luna...”

The Crestfalls and the Conerys were present in the audience. As they watched Luna’s performance, they gradually lost hope. They were all worried when they saw Luna looking worse and worse.

“That girl is really stubborn...” Andrius sighed in exasperation. “Fine...”

Swoosh...

He glanced over, and a silver light shot pierced into Luna’s body from a surveillance blind spot.

Luna instantly felt a cold sensation in her body.

Then, the toxins were suppressed and could no longer advance. Andrius’ needle helped protect her heart!

“Huh?”

Luna seemed to snap back to reality. Someone was helping her!

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 639 -

Chapter 639

Then, she remembered several detoxification acupuncture methods listed in the Wolf King’s medical book.

“I got it!”

Luna immediately began to try treating herself using silver needles.

However, her technique was average and clumsy compared to the other doctors. She barely managed to detoxify herself after several attempts.

Seeing this, Angus announced, "Detoxification successful. Ms. Luna Crestfall will advance to the next round!"

"Haha, she did it!"

"From now on, Luna is one of the doctors in the Heavenly Ranking!"

"Hahahaha! The Crestfalls have hope of rising!"

"Hard work always pays off!"

The Crestfalls and the Conerys were overjoyed upon hearing Angus' announcement and burst into excited laughter.

After Luna successfully advanced, only a couple of participants remained.

Those doctors tried for a long time but felt that they fell short. In the end, they shook their heads and pressed the red button, preserving their lives.

This round of the competition came to an end after the last doctor gave up.

Angus held the list and said loudly, "I hereby announce the names of the doctors who have successfully advanced to the fourth round. The Wolf King, Elmer Deleon, Fergus Bond, Patrick Mendez, Frederic Hopkins..."

There were less than ten participants in total.

"The above are the participants in the fourth round of the competition tomorrow. Today's competition ends here. Participants, please rest and prepare for the most exciting match tomorrow."

After saying that, Angus left the stage.

Andrius, Elmer, Patrick, and the others also left.

"Wait."

Just as Andrius was about to leave, Luna caught up with him.

He asked calmly, "Do you need something?"

“Yes.” Luna knew that the person who had protected her was the ‘Wolf King’ in front of her. Only he could have shot the silver needle from that angle. “I need to talk to you. Can you spare some time alone?”

“Lead the way.”

With permission granted, Luna took Andrius to an empty balcony.

Andrius asked calmly, “What do you need?”

Luna did not speak immediately and stared into Andrius’ eyes. She looked at the ‘Wolf King’s’ eyes and her memories came to her.

The more she looked, the more familiar she found them. They gave her strength and hope. It was just like when she saw the Wolf King’s eyes from behind his mask at Celestial Enterprise.

However, the Wolf King was already dead.

After a long time, she stared into his eyes and said with a hint of sadness, “Your eyes remind me of someone I used to know.”

Andrius raised his brows slightly. “Who?”

Luna said, “The Wolf King!”

Those words seemed to have exhausted her strength. After saying them, sorrow appeared on her face as she went into a daze. However, she clenched her teeth to avoid losing her composure in front of him and maintained her dignity.

Andrius could not bear seeing this. He smiled faintly and used the muscles in his throat to change his voice to the one he used at Celestial Enterprise.

“Long time no see, Ms. Crestfall.”

That familiar voice....

It was the Wolf King!

It really was the Wolf King!

“Y–you...”

Luna was shocked and overjoyed. Her gaze scanned Andrius’s face and finally rested on his eyes where she could see her own reflection. Countless days and nights of longing and countless feelings of love and hurt erupted at that moment, almost making her burst into tears on the spot.

“Wolf King, you’re alive. That’s great... That’s great... I knew that you weren’t ...”

She choked up. However, she could not say anything more.

She wanted to throw herself into the Wolf King’s arms and cry out loud, confessing everything in her heart. Nevertheless, she still did not have the courage, Andrius smiled again, giving her silent comfort.

After a while, Luna’s mood calmed down a little, and she asked, “Wolf King, why did the emperor issue an announcement saying that you had been killed? What exactly happened?”

Andrius knew that she would ask this and immediately said, “This matter is very complicated and involves a lot. It’s better if you don’t know. For now, I have a piece of advice for you.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 640 -

Chapter 640

That was also the reason why Andrius agreed to reveal his identity to Luna.

Luna looked up at him and asked, “What is it?”

“Forfeit the fourth round of the competition tomorrow” Andrius said firmly, “With your current performance, you’re already qualified to be listed in the Earthly Ranking I advise you to retire now”

Indeed, with Luna's abilities, reaching this far was enough to bring glory and other assets to her family and New Moon Corporation

Luna asked in astonishment, "Why?"

Andrius said seriously, "Because tomorrow's competition is a conspiracy and is extremely dangerous. Even I might not be able to come out unscathed. You don't need to get involved in it."

A conspiracy....

Luna paused and said, "I'll think about it carefully."

Andrius smiled and said nothing. If he were to speak as the fake Wolf King, she would simply turn her nose up at him. Sometimes, this woman was extremely stubborn.

"Well then."

Andrius was about to bid farewell to her.

Luna quickly spoke up. "Wolf King, give me your contact information!"

She was tired of living in fear and ignorance. She did not want to go on like this anymore. With the Wolf King's contact information, she could directly communicate with him in the future and would not be duped as she had been in the past.

Andrius paused and said, "Okay."

He gave her his other number and said, "I hope you seriously consider what I said about the fourth round of the competition."

Luna held the number tightly in her hand. "I will."

"If there's nothing else, you can leave now."

After sending Luna away, Andrius called Harpy.

A moment later, Harpy arrived where Andrius was staying. "Wolf King!"

“I need you to do something for me.” Andrius handed over a list filled with medicinal ingredients and said, “Collect all the ingredients listed here and deliver them to me as soon as possible.”

He wanted to prepare for tomorrow’s competition.

If his guess was correct, many doctors and even the rules of the competition would be extremely unfavorable to him. The best solution he could think of was to take life-saving medicine in advance.

As long as the medicine was still in effect during the fourth round tomorrow, he would not fall victim to their schemes.

“Yes, I’ll get right on it.”

Harpy took the list and immediately made the arrangements.

Chapter 640

There were many types of medicinal ingredients on the list. A while later, he managed to find most of them and had them sent to Andrius.

However, there were some rare ingredients that they could not obtain.

As time passed, Harpy became anxious.

At the critical moment, a member of the Hawkeye Group called him. “Captain Harpy, we have news about the remaining batch of medicinal ingredients.

“They’re in the hands of the Gerlandians who came to participate in the Gerland!”

The Gerlandians....

Harpy immediately conveyed the news to Andrius.

Andrius pondered for a moment and said, “In that case, I’ll personally go and get the ingredients myself

Then, he arrived at the hotel the Gerlandians were staying at

“What do you want, fake Wolf King?”

Ever since Zachery’s death, Adam Durham, a doctor who had come along with Zachery, became the leader of the Gerlandians. He stared at Andrius with hatred.

Andrius looked straight at him and said calmly, “I want to buy a batch of medicinal ingredients that you possess.”

“Medicinal ingredients?” Adam looked around and smiled sinisterly. “Sure. I’ll sell it to you for ten billion. Pay up! If you do, I’ll give you these medicinal ingredients immediately.”

The fake Wolf King humiliated Zachery and Gerland in the second round of the competition, so Adam harbored a grudge.

Furthermore, Zachery was dead now. Their expedition to Florence this time ended in failure.

Adam was very displeased and set forth an unreasonable condition.

Ten billion...

He thought that the fake Wolf King would retreat.

“Ten billion?” Andrius sneered inwardly.

That was extortion!

He had come here with sincerity, wanting to trade fairly for these medicinal ingredients. However, since Adam was being so unreasonable, he could only use force to make Adam submit!

“That price is too high.” Andrius raised a finger and said slowly, “I’ll only give you... One dollar!”
