Chapter 666

Seeing this scene, Laurent and Anna could not help but feel ecstatic.

Andrius let out a sigh of relief.

At that moment, a sudden change occurred. The movement of Andrius' face caused the mask he was wearing to fall off. He instinctively reached out to pick it up and put it back on.

Anna, who was facing him, caught a glimpse of his appearance. Images from her nightmares surged like a tide, and she subconsciously screamed.

"Ahh" She recognized the person in front of her as the man who violated her that day. She paled and pointed to Andrius, screaming, "I-it's him... It's the rapist!"

Rapist?

Laurent was first stunned, then instantly became enraged. When he remembered Andrius' plea before starting the treatment, he almost exploded on the spot.

Then, he roared, "Guards, kill him!"

Swoosh...

Clatter...

As soon as he spoke, the guards rushed in immediately. The guards held special handguns in, specially designed to deal with martial arts experts!

"Your Majesty..."

Andrius was speechless.

Since such a major slip-up happened at this crucial moment, he had no choice but to explain himself.

However, before he could speak, Laurent ruthlessly interrupted him. "Save your breath, you beast. Go to hell!

"Open fire..."

Before Laurent could finish his sentence, chaotic noise sounded from outside.

Clatter...

Rumble...

In the blink of an eye, countless Florencian soldiers rushed in, aiming their fire arms at Laurent's guards.

Then, the group split apart, and a tall figure walked forward with a commanding presence.

It was none other than the Southern Warzone Master, Dax.

"Warzone Master!" Laurent stared at Dax, his eyes almost spewing fire, and pointed to Andrius. "He's the beast who violated my daughter. Today, he came under Dr. Crestfall's name and offered to treat my wife on the condition that I reduce his sentence..."

"This kind of shameless and scheming person deserves to be executed on the spot! Why are you stopping me?"

Laurent had lost his reason at that moment. He was like a raging bull. The only difference was that he did not have horns on his head.

Dax glanced at Andrius in exasperation and admitted, "Your Majesty, I came here to save you today and prevent you from committing a catastrophic mistake."

"Hahaha..." Laurent instantly laughed in anger, and his lips twitched downward. "I'd like to hear you explain yourself. How is avenging my daughter's humiliation a mistake?"

He was breathing heavily.

It was clear that his anger had reached an unbearable level.

“King Laurent... If I say it, you might regret your actions over the past few days.”

A mysterious smile flashed across Dax’s face. Without waiting for Laurent to respond, he pointed to Andrius and said, “The so-called rapist you’re thinking of is actually the Wolf King of Florence.

“He’s the very same Wolf King whom countless queens and princesses from all over the world seek eagerly, wanting to throw themselves at him!”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 667 -

Chapter 667

... The Wolf King!

The person who violated Princess Yule turned out to be the Wolf King of Florence?

How could that be?

At that moment, the room fell into a deathly silence.

Both Laurent and Anna were stunned, dumbfounded, and dazed. Their eyes widened and their mouths fell open, frozen in place as if time had stopped.

The impact of this news was mind-boggling to them!

Laurent was a king, but the truth was that Bardan was weak, so he had no international standing at all. If it were for being subordinate to Florence and relying on Florence, Bardan would have been divided by the Western Nations long ago and become the king of a fallen nation.

The force that protected Bardan and prevented them from being annihilated was the Lycantroops from Florence.

Over the past decade, Bardan had faced the threat of annihilation many times. The Western Nations wanted to wipe out Bardan and use it as a bridgehead to attack Florence.

At that time, it was the Lycantroops that stepped in and thwarted the Western Nations' plans, defending Bardan's borders.

Furthermore, the leader of the Lycantroops was the Wolf King.

Thus, a saying arose in Bardan: One should rather disobey the emperor than disrespect the Wolf King!

It was clear how much Laurent admired Andrius, the leader of the Lycantroops. He revered him like a deity and would obey every command!

This was due to both the unparalleled combat strength of the Lycantroops and the endless charm of the Wolf King.

Now, the Wolf King had actually slept with his daughter.

However, the emperor of Florence already issued an official statement announcing the death of the Wolf King, and even erected a memorial for him....

Laurent only somewhat believed Andrius' identity because it was Dax speaking. If it were anyone else, he would have slapped the person to wake them up.

For a moment, Laurent was in disarray and asked, "Warzone Master, didn't the emperor say that the Wolf King was already..."

"Well" Dax glanced at Andrius and smiled wryly. "You should let the Wolf King explain it to you.

Personally"

Laurent looked at Andrius.

She did the same. However, she had already snapped out of her shock. Her expression was very strange and there was even a hint of a blush on her face.

Andrius sighed and explained briefly, "It's a long story. As you know, Your Majesty, the situation in Florence is complicated.

was stationed at the western border for years and have an outstanding reputation and achievements

Chapter 667

However, it also aroused the suspicions of some people in Florence. The news of my death and the incident involving Princess Anna were all part of someone's conspiracy."

Laurent fell into thought.

Yes, it was like having an invincible general under one's command who was undefeated in battles. He achieved remarkable feats, but he also aroused the envy of other generals and high-ranking officials within the country.

There were many precedents of such matters.

Anna was struck by a realization. As a princess, although she was not involved in political intrigue, she was aware of many things due to exposure.

"However..." Andrius walked up to Anna and said sincerely, "It's true I was at fault that day. I caused immense harm to the princess.

"Thus, I'm willing to make a promise as compensation to you. As long as it doesn't go against Florence's interests and humanity, I will go to any lengths to fulfill your request. I... I hope that you can forgive me, Princess Yule."

He had made a mistake. As the Wolf King, Andrius was aware of that fact.

"I..." Anna's beautiful eyes kept glancing at Andrius. Then, she gathered her courage and said, "I want you to marry me!"

After saying that, she blushed and lowered her head.

It was not a slip of the tongue.

The Wolf King...

Bardans admired the strong. It was deeply ingrained in their people.

Ever since she was young, she dreamed that when she grew up, she would marry a man who stood tall and was domineering.

When the Wolf King emerged and dominated the current era, he became her dream man.

Furthermore, the reason she went to the bar alone last time was because she heard that the Wolf King had died in battle. She wanted to drown her sorrows in alcohol.

Now, since the opportunity was in front of her, she naturally did not want to miss it.

How many chances would a person have in their life?

A lost opportunity would not come again.

Thus, she had to seize it.

After Anna spoke, the room fell into another strange silence.

Laurent was overjoyed and almost laughed. He thought, 'As expected of my daughter! She's bold, meticulous, and far-sighted!'

Chapter 668

Marrying his daughter to the Wolf King was something he only saw in his dreams.

Dax secretly gave Andrius a thumbs-up.

As expected of the Wolf King. He assaulted a woman, yet she still yearned to marry him. This was simply remarkable. He truly was the epitome of a man.

Andrius' expression instantly darkened.

Just as he was about to speak, Laurent said, "Wolf King. Actually, I think this is a good idea. With my daughter's looks and status, it wouldn't be beneath you to marry her. At the very least, she can be your concubine."

As he spoke, he kept shooting glances at Anna.

Andrius could not help but roll his eyes and think, 'Of course, you think it's a good idea. There are so many princesses and illustrious women in the world all lining up to marry me, but you're taking advantage of this situation. However, it's not about what you think. It's about what I think!'

Andrius refused bluntly. "Princess Yule, I'm sorry, but I can't agree to this. Please change your condition.

"Times have changed. I'm trapped in a whirlpool now and am no longer the illustrious Wolf King I used to be. I could bring misfortune to those around me at any moment. I will only harm your family and Bardan by marrying you."

Then, he glanced at Dax, who was standing beside him watching the show.

Dax held back his laughter and stepped forward to comfort Anna. "Princess Yule, your request is indeed a bit overboard.

"The Wolf King belongs to Florence, but you want him to become a son-in-law of Bardan. This doesn't align with the interests of Florence.

"Furthermore, the Wolf King is the dream man of countless girls in Florence. If news were to spread of him marrying a woman from a foreign country, it would cause an uproar..."

Anna was speechless. It seemed there was a hint of truth in those words.

"Okay." Anna looked at Andrius with a meaningful expression and smiled wryly. "If the Wolf King doesn't agree, I won't force it."

Andrius smiled. "I'm deeply grateful for your sense of righteousness. Next time, I won't refuse as long as the request is reasonable."

Anna nodded in disappointment. "Alright."

Laurent sighed inwardly and said, "Wolf King, since the misunderstanding has been cleared up, please continue treating my beloved."

Andrius naturally would not refuse. He immediately continued the treatment, causing the silver needles stuck in Catherine's body to move.

Silver lights shimmered like wandering dragons, full of indescribable power.

During the process, wisps of black smoke continued to rise from Catherine's head. Her complexion gradually improved.

Anna sat down beside Andrius, her gaze trained on him. Her sapphire-like eyes reflected his image and shimmered with bright light.

Gradually, Catherine's complexion returned to the appearance of an ordinary person.

"Mm..."

A moment later, she slowly opened her eyes.

She had recovered!

Andrius stepped aside.

"Catherine! My love, you've finally woken up!"

"Mother, are you okay? How are you feeling?"

Laurent and Anna immediately rushed up to ask Catherine.

"I..." Catherine paused and smiled. "I feel much better."

"That's great!"

"Thank you, Wolf King!"

Laurent's heart which had been hanging in his throat finally dropped, and he looked much younger. He hurriedly came forward to thank Andrius.

"Wolf King?"

Hearing those words, a glimmer of light flashed in Catherine's eyes, and she struggled to sit up. Anna immediately moved to support her.

After sitting up, Catherine looked at Andrius and said, "Thank you for saving my life, Wolf King!"

Andrius took out a prescription he had just written and instructed, "Your Majesty, your condition is no longer serious. However, your body is still somewhat weak because you were ill for too long, so you need proper rest.

"Just follow the instructions on the prescription and take the medicine three times a day. You should be fully recovered after a week."

Laurent took the prescription, carefully put it away, and said gratefully, "Thank you, Wolf King."

"Okay. King Laurent and Princess Yule, since the queen's condition has been treated, it's time for me to leave."

Andrius smiled and prepared to leave.

However, just as he took a few steps, he was suddenly embraced from behind by a warm and delicate body. Two large mounds pressed against his back, causing him to shudder uncontrollably.

"Don't turn around!" Anna hugged him from behind. Her voice had a trace of pleading, and her words trembled slightly. "Wolf King, I know that I might not be worthy of you, but..."

"My heart has long been yours. Please excuse my impertinence. Just a while is enough! Just let me hold you for a while..."

Her voice even contained a hint of a sob.

Andrius felt conflicted and did not know what to do. He listened to her words and did not turn around or tell her to leave.

After a while, Anna's tears soaked his back.

"You can go now. Thank you, Wolf King.

Andrius felt a warm kiss on his back and instantly felt embarrassed.

When all was said and done, it was true that he had harmed this woman. Despite that, she was forgiving and willing to give herself to him.

However, his situation was unique and extremely dangerous. He could not allow himself to have other thoughts, lest it harmed others and himself.

Andrius sighed inwardly and left without turning back.

"Ah..."

In the room, Anna sobbed loudly.

Laurent felt distressed and glanced at Andrius' figure. Then, he withdrew his gaze and wiped Anna's tears. "My daughter, why did you have to do that?"

Anna gradually stopped sobbing. She glanced at Andrius, who had already gone down the stairs, and a strange light shimmered in her tear-filled eyes. "Father and Mother, I have a feeling that someday, I'll have the chance to meet the Wolf King again."

Laurent and Catherine exchanged wry smiles.

The Wolf King was like the moon in the sky, distant and unreachable. They did not know whether it was a good thing that their daughter had fallen in love with him.

After leaving the residence, Dax looked at the sullen Andrius and could not help but jokingly ask, "What's wrong, my dear Wolf King? Did you really leave your heart behind?"

"Well, although the princess' status might not be on par with those from large countries, her appearance and figure are undeniable. Most importantly, she's understanding and is willing to be a concubine... Tsk, tsk tsk!"

Andrius' expression darkened. "If you want to marry her, then go ahead. Don't make sarcastic remarks here."

Dax grinned. "What are you saying? Even if I want to marry her, she might not be willing to marry me."

"Enough" Andrius interrupted him. "Keep an eye on Dragonet Mountain No leaks are allowed. Also, send me back to prison."

He still had to deal with Luna.

"Tsk, tsk tsk Dax clearly thought of Luna too and could not help but click his tongue 1 have to say, you really are the epitome of a man After dealing with a princess, you have to go back and deal with your wife Juggling everything is quite difficult

It was like there was no end to things.

Andrius was exasperated and kicked him. "That's enough. She wants to divorce me."

"Huh?" Dax could not help but gasp at the words. "She wants to divorce the Wolf King?"

"Enough nonsense. Hurry up and make the arrangements."

The next day, Luna led the Crestfalls to the courthouse.

"I hope that Andrius will be fine and won't blame me for being useless..."

Along the way, Belarus' old face was full of worry. It was clear that he was not optimistic about Andrius' trial today.

However, the other members were full of joy.

First of all, Luna had won the championship at the Grand Medicinal Competition and became the most popular doctor on the internet lately.

Furthermore, she had also informed her family that the Wolf King was still alive but could not appear in public due to certain reasons. She earnestly instructed everyone not to leak this information.

r words, the Crestfalls still had the Wolf King as their trump card!

Chapter 670

Finally, Luna was going to divorce Andrius!

It was three strokes of luck at once!

“It’ll be fine, Dad.”

Harry was the happiest among them. After today, he would say goodbye to all his worries and say hello to all his joys!

“With the Wolf King’s medical skills, Queen Catherine’s illness will surely be treated. King Laurent won’t refuse if he makes a request. Don’t worry so much.”

As soon as he spoke, everyone chimed in.

“That’s right, Grandpa. Don’t you trust the Wolf King’s reputation and medical skills?”

“Don’t worry, Master Crestfall. Since the Wolf King is involved, there’s no doubt about the outcome. You can rest assured.”

“Old Master Crestfall, just watch. Although the Wolf King has stepped down, his influence is still present. The king will definitely listen to his request.”

“Old Master Crestfall...”

They all felt quite relaxed.

After a round of persuasion, Belarus’ expression improved slightly.

Before long, the judge arrived with a group of staff.

Belarus’ heart raced again. He did not see Andrius, which made him very anxious.

“Today, King Laurent has withdrawn the charges against the suspect, Andrius Moonshade. I declare that Andrius Moonshade be released without charges!” the judge stood above everyone and announced solemnly.

Phew...

Belarus let out a long sigh of relief.

The Crestfalls looked calm and casual. After all, they were just going through the motions.

After the verdict was announced, the judge left.

The Crestfalls also left the scene and waited outside.

Not long after, Andrius came out.

“Andrius!” Belarus approached on his cane and looked Andrius up and down, asking, “Are you okay? Did you face any unfair treatment?”

“I’m well, Grandpa Belarus.”

Andrius’ heart warmed as he smiled. “I’m sorry for making you worry.”

“It’s no problem! It’s great as long as you’re okay.”

Belarus was finally relieved.

As for the rest of the family, they did not say much about Andrius’ release and simply shot looks at Luna.

Chall

“Luna, it’s time.” Harry looked at Andrius with disgust in his eyes, then withdrew his gaze and urged Luna repeatedly. “You’ve already done everything you should. Seize the opportunity quickly. Otherwise, your whole life might be ruined if your grandfather changes his mind!”

He was the most anxious person because he was afraid of that happening.

George also said, “Luna, you’re the champion of the Grand Medicinal Competition. Your future is limitless. Andrius is just a country bumpkin who’s completely unworthy of you. When will you kick him away if not now?”

“That’s right, Luna!”

“Luna, Andrius is like a rat in a sewer. He already caused us trouble so many times. Don’t hesitate.”

“Luna, indecision will lead to chaos!”

“Luna...”

These people went all out to encourage Luna to divorce him. They truly hated Andrius.

“Hiss...”

Faced with their persuasion, Luna took a deep breath, walked up to Andrius and Belarus, and said with a serious expression, “Andrius, our paths have come to an end. Let’s divorce.”

She finally said it.

Divorce!

At that moment, all the Crestfalls fell silent. Their gazes were focused on Belarus and Andrius.
