

The Daughter of Wolf Executor Chapter 30

"She cursed our line to never find a mate, their for ensuring that we were never at our grandfathers power level. You already know having a mate, makes you stronger. Because of the bond you share, so without one you are deemed lesser. This is a hindrance for an Alpha, we need a mate sooner to ensure pack power. Without one our pack could become unruly."

"But your pack isn't anything like that" Tilting my head.

"Thank you for noticing" Chuckling.

"That is because I have made it a goal, to be harsher then other Alpha's. Since I was almost certain never to find a soul mate, I decided that I would build my pack without one." It was kind of sad really, he never thought he'd find someone and never even gave it a second thought.

"I need you to be on a low profile when they get here, without your wolf around its going to be hard for you to know who's who. So I am having a fighter watch over you, so if you go anywhere you will have someone who can protect you"

"I don't need..."

Fina this isn't up for discussion." Frowning at me to let it be. Seeing as how I wasn't going with this, he grumbled adding a little more.

"It will ease my mind knowing your safe. So please don't fight me."

"Fine. But doesn't mean I have to like it" Pouting. Chuckling at me, he leaned back in the chair.

"I'm not going to argue with you about that. Come here" Pulling his finger in and out.

"I don't want to" Looking away, I no its childish but whatever.

"Fina....come here" Deepening his voice. I took one step, causing him to huff out reaching over and grab me. Dropping me into his lap, his nose dipped into my neck. Pushing my body closer to his, I knew I wouldn't be allowed to do this till the Royals left. Turning myself around so I could face him, his hands cupped my hips. Looking into my eyes, he seemed to be deep in thought.

"Please forgive me if I snap at you, while they are here. I am going to be reverting back to my Alpha role, I can't have them thinking I've changed. It wouldn't do us any good" Nodding my head, I as worried for him. Leaning down so my lips lightly touched his, watching as his eyes closed ready for me to kiss him. Tangling my hands into his hair, getting a pleased groan as I deepened the kiss.

Pulling me closer as his large hands massaged my body, making sure to cover every inch. Breaking the kiss his arms wrapped around me, hugging my body as he nuzzled into my chest.

"Mine beautiful angel" Rubbing his scent all over me. Resting my chin on his head, smiling at the affection and the way this man made me feel. Before he even said anything, I could feel the pressure between my legs as it grew.

"I need you" Whispering into my ear, kissing all over. Biting my lip, I'd never had a man who wanted me as much as Jackson did. Grabbing his face, plunging my tongue as my answer for him. Lifting us up, Jackson made sure to hold me in a firm but tender manor to his body. Kicking his shoes off, his lips dominated mine as I left his forehead hold my behind up as he unbutton and zip his pants. Just the sounds alone where teasing me, as he stepped out of the pants walking me to the bed.

Laying my back on the bed, as he removed his shirt letting my eyes travel the beautiful display of manliness. Pulling off my shoes for me, letting his heads travel up the jeans. Slowly bring the zipper down as the button unclipped. Gripping the sides of the fabric, as his hands rocked back and forth bring them down slower then I wanted. His eyes never leaving my body, as the jeans were tossed to the floor. Somehow everything with him, seemed to end up on the floor.

Kissing up my legs, my body squirmed at the light hot feelings. Thankful I wore something dainty, as the deep green lace made his eyes darken. Dragging his tongue the length of the inseam, making me moan out. My fingers gripped the comforter, as he continued upward. Moving my shirt out of the way with his nose, kissing all the way up. Closing my eyes for a moment, when he touched a tender spot.

Shooting them back open, as I saw his eyes almost black. Grabbing the bottom of my shirt, lifting it over my head he growled. My hair had been fanned out from the shirt, giving me a dark halo look.

"Mine" Growling before assaulting my lips with his own. One hand gripping my hip, while the other roamed over breasts. Teasing the dark green fabric, that kept him from touching my skin. Snaking him arm under me, before spinning around dropping me on his lap. His legs outward as my knees were pushing against the headboard. Tangling his hands in my hair, bringing my head down to him.

With every touch, taste and feeling of deep emotion flying into me, I somewhere forgot to breath. Gasping for air, as his lips didn't seem to stop. He had already unclipped my bra, tossing it to the floor. Burring himself in me, taking in my smell while repeating mine softly, as if trying to convince himself. Giving me everything I could of asked for, as if it was his way of making up for having to stay away from me while the Royals were in town.

Tender movements as his body connected with mine, making me groan out in pleasure. Grinding my body closer to his, with the intention to become one. Arching my back letting Jackson kiss, lick and nip with every intension of not stopping.

Heat steamed off our bodies, when the hilt of are intimacy hit the deepest point. Taking in his taste, tongues dancing to their own beat. Cupping my back shoulder blades, as another hard push entered me. Clawing at him back, making the very animal call out to me.

"So beautiful" Tracing his lips over my unmarked neck. Shivering at his closeness, my body begged for his bite. He did everything except bite me, licking then sucking to the point of over teasing. Try as I might to get him to mark me, he pulled away kissing my cheeks.

My Angel" whispering the words over my lips. Another wave of ecstasy passed on by, when the deep growl rumbled my insides. Moaning with the fluid movements he gave, licking my parched lips only to receive his. The more we touched the hotter it became, so hot I gasped when the high of my wellbeing kicked off. Without being able to will them open, my eyes fluttered back biting my lips. Giving out a louder pleasurable sound, when the feel of his lips over my breasts woke them up.

With me pleased his body tensed before joining me, pushing his head into my neck. Hands pushed off the bed sinking it, so I felt like I was in a divot. Careful not to put to much weight on me, his hot breath tickled my ear. Trailing my fingers over the broad shoulders, ripped chest and deep inset V. My body humming with enjoyment, at the sheer size of the man all around.

Lifting himself high enough to see my face, he seemed more relaxed now as if I had somehow taking away the weight on his shoulders. Scooping me up like I was nothing more then a paperweight, cradling me to the side of him. Grabbing a blanket at the foot of the bed, before tossing it over my chilling body.

"Jackson?" I hummed dragging a finger around his abs, watching as they tightened and released.

"Yes love" Kissing my forehead.

"where you serious about me going to school?" Tilting my head up, to see him better.

"Yes. Are you interested?"

"yea" Nodding, letting my head lay back down.

"Then I will find you the best art school, and you can start as soon as they allow you to" Humming happily I snuggled closer to him.

"Thank you"

"Anything for you baby" tightening his hold a little. Yawning I napped in his arms, thankful that the Royals weren't here yet.

~Jackson~

Of all the freaking luck, why when I finally find my angel do the damn Royals start snooping around more closely. I new they were watching me, even their spies were trained poorly. Fina was sound asleep in my arms, when my beta informed me that the Royals had crossed into my territory.

Shit!

They'd been here in about twenty minutes, sighing I would need to wake her. Kissing her cheek as softly as possible, she stirred blinking a little.

"What time is it?" Yawning a little.

"Two love"

"Okay" Her face pushed into my chest, making my heart swell. Damn them this was a perfect freaking moment, and they just pissed all over it.

"Love the Royals have entered my territory." Her body stiffened, making me hold back from biting my lip. Was she afraid of them.

"How long?" It was barley a whisper.

"Maybe twelve minutes" Nodding her body pushed away from mine, causing my wolf to want to pull her back. To him this wasn't expectable, and he didn't care if the Royals were coming or not. They had been more then troublesome in the past few decades, and he was just as sick of it as I am. With the grace of a fairy she dressed herself, tying her hair up and rubbing her eyes.

Fina always looked beautiful, but somehow her morning face was always the most calm. It made her glow with the few streaks of light that had passed through the dark curtains of my room. Some hit her body, while others hit her hair making the black almost a blue color.

"I'm going to go. You should take a shower, you smell like me" She said, before leaving the room. Damn I hated to waist such a wonderful smell, but she was right. They'd pick up on her smell, and search for her. Knowing them they'd question her relentlessly, before she snapped and gave them whatever information they wanted to hear. I wasn't made at the thought of her spilling everything about us, I was more pissed off about them using her to get to me.

The Royals had was of making even the strongest wolf to talk, torture and briary were just a few of their favorites. And they called me sadistic, at least I have rules for my pack. There just plan sick, nothing holds any real meaning for them like it does for me.

Showered and dressed I made my way downstairs, noise from her room made me smile. Stepping on the bottom floor, as my Beta opened the front door to the Royals. Lupus Brentano stepped forward, making my blood boil. The man was the head of the Royal family as of right now, his father had been around when my father was alive. I swore the males of his family got more disturbed and twisted as they bred onward, as if that weren't enough he had brought his four best men.

Royals didn't have a Beta or Enforcer, they had first and seconds. Which really was the same thing, but they thought the name was more clear.

"Alpha Hadar" Lupus smirked.

"Mr. Brentano" Bowing my head. Wolf growled from inside, he not only hated bowing to others, but he hated this man with a passion. With as much respect as I could muster, I did my best to smile at the imposing bastards.

"What do I owe the honor of the Royals, to my territory?" Keeping my voice calm, as my Beta came to my left. Lupus's smirk fell a little, as he ran his eyes over me.

"We were in the neighborhood" That was a lie if I ever did see one.

"Well its an Honor" Grinning. Two can play that game. He hummed as if he could really careless, and soon looked to his first.

"Alpha we would like to look around your property" He said, still looking at his first.

"Oh, is something out of order?" Stuffing my hands into pockets, to keep from strangling his neck. Turning back to me, he smirked again.

"We heard you have taken in a new she-wolf. One without a mate. What is the reasoning behind this." I knew it.

"She wasn't happy at her current pack, and asked to join mine"

"And you just granted her this, without any other reasoning behind her motives?" He seemed admit about getting everything about Fina out of me, in one fowl swoop.

"Her reasoning is personal, and I would hate to sour her opinion of her new pack. She has just now started to trust us, I wouldn't want to break that trust" Nodding a little, he turned back to his second.

"Retrieve the she wolf" Bowing to his master, the second started for the stairs.

"Excuse me, but you have no right to roam my house without reasoning" Holding a little sour back. The second stopped halfway, looking at Lupus.

"We are under the assumption you have tricked the she wolf. We want to hear from her mouth, that she came here willingly" My mouth went dry, as I held the anger. How dare he assume such a horrible thing, I might be a cruel Alpha but I wouldn't steal she wolves from their homes to satisfy my own needs.

"That doesn't give you the right to barge around my home, I can easily call for her" Huffing out in my annoyance.

"That wont be necessary" My eyes shot to the top of the stairs, where Fina was showered and holding like a goddess. I saw the way Lupus looked at her, his eyes darkened with lust and had me holding off and punching his face.

"Is this the she wolf?" He asked, reforming himself.

"I have a name" She snapped. Arms folded over her chest, and a face that could kill.

"Forgive me, Ms. Heart" Smiling at her, I nearly chocked on my spit. Walking down the stairs, she stopped at the large male who was blocking her from moving the rest of the way.

"Please move" Glaring at her, who was glaring back at her. Holding eye contact with him, he pushed his power around her which didn't do a thing. His growl had her smirking, as she held her ground.

"Stanton" Lupus said, and his second moved out of her way. It was barely hearable as she whispered.

"Good doggy" All that was missing was the pat to the head. Stanton's face reddened, but Lupus held up a hand making him still. Finding the Royals Lupus took a whiff of her scent, letting his eyes swirl in a darker shade. He was pissing her a bit to much to his liking, and it was bothering me to a dangerous point. Standing off to my right, she kept her arms folded and eyes up. The Royals looked her over, some with plain faces others with interest.

I was wondering If they had picked up on her wolfs absence, of if they merely thought she was hiding her from them. Keeping an eye on her was proving to raise my protection level of her, but she didn't dare look at me which I thanked.

"Wouldn't it be more appropriate to have this private conversation in the comfort of the Alpha's office" She asked, even though her undertone was full of disrespect. To my surprise Lupus laughed it off, either he found her more amusing then I did or he really was fancying

"Woman always seem to be right, wouldn't you agree Alpha?" Turning his gaze slightly to me.

"Yes" Nodding, but Fina didn't show any sighs of emotion.
