

Won't Play 573

Chapter 573: Praise (1)

Linglong Square, Heng Ya Zhai, second floor.

“On the third day of the third Yin game, the straight talisman is chanting in the Dui Palace. This is the initial situation. “Jiang Beiran asked Gao Lanwen as he stood before a table.

“This... E is three, Ji is two, Xin...” Gao Lanwen couldn't help but count her fingers again.

“This formation is not difficult. You can think about it slowly, but breaking finger ice is not a good habit.”

“Yes...”

Gao Lanwen lowered her head. Her hands clenched and loosened.

Since half a month ago, she had finally been unable to endure the torment of reading a book from the heavens and had taken the initiative to tell Jiang Beiran that she was unable to complete her self-study.

Jiang Beiran also directly told her that if she couldn't even learn the basics by herself, then it meant that she really wasn't suitable to learn arrays.

However, Gao Lanwen was unusually unconvinced, forcefully stuffed the tuition fees to Jiang Beiran, and requested Jiang Beiran to teach her personally.

Looking at the non-Hua Mysterious Jade and the three types of high-grade jade that could be listed in the Rare Treasures List, what else could Jiang Beiran

As the saying went, there was no discrimination in teaching. It didn't matter if he was good or not. The main thing was that he wanted to challenge his talent as a teacher.

Half a month had passed, and Gao Lanwen had discovered a problem.

Formations were really difficult to learn.

Compared to her natural ability to refine jade, formations were so difficult that she had no idea how to learn them.

Moreover, she didn't think that Master Jiang's teaching was bad. In fact, she felt that he was very attentive. Many of the escape techniques that she couldn't understand at first were slowly accepted by Master Jiang after he simplified them.

For example, he used the method of divination to mark out the concept of the Nine Palaces and the Eight Diagrams for her.

However, she only felt that she could understand a little at first. When the array formation became more and more complicated, she fell into confusion again.

'This is San, this is Jiu...Why did it add up to four...How did I calculate it?

Such thoughts often appeared in Gao Lanwen's mind.

In addition, Master Jiang was very patient. Gao Lanwen believed that if someone could learn so slowly in refining jade, she would have asked her to find a job long ago. Refining jade was not suitable for him.

However, Jiang Beiran had never reprimanded her once, and his tone had always been calm, as if no matter what he encountered, it would not cause him to have any emotional fluctuations.

It was like a calm sea.

However, Gao Lanwen felt that Jiang Beiran's attitude was even more unbearable than scolding her. Ever since she was young, she had only ever seen amazement on other people's faces.

Be it her looks or her talent, no one could be like Jiang Beiran...This way...

It was as if he was looking at an ordinary person, an ordinary person.

Gao Lanwen's pride was crushed again and again.

"Master! Hit me!" Clenching her fists, Gao Lanwen suddenly raised her head and shouted at Jiang Beiran.

Jiang Beiran was a little confused by this sudden and strange request.

However, after a moment, he still replied, "I won't fight. In the Dao of Array Formation, if you can learn it, then you can. If you can't learn it, even if I hit you, it's useless."

Looking at Gao Lanwen's disappointed expression and thinking about her tuition fees...Oh, wait. Thinking back to his initial desire to challenge the profession of a teacher, Jiang Beiran bent down and picked up a pen as he wrote.

"Xin is Jiu, Ren is Ba, Gui is Qi, Ding is Lu, C is Wu, B is Si, Jia Yin Gui is added to the Qi Palace, Yi Mao is Si Palace, Gui Hai returns to the Qi Palace." Stopping writing, Jiang Beiran looked at Gao Lanwen and said, "Have you figured out the layout now?"

Gao Lanwen let out a long sigh of relief. She looked at it and replied, "Jia Yin is the beginning of the ambush, Gui Hai is the beginning of the ambush, after traveling around and returning to the original form, it is exhausted, so it should be used to set up the scales and horns."

"Good." Jiang Beiran nodded and said, "It's difficult to master the art of array formation in one go. Your talent is not bad. Thank you for your patience. One day, you'll definitely be able to achieve something in this art. Continue." "He...Praise me?"

Gao Lanwen looked at Jiang Beiran and blinked twice. She found it hard to imagine that this man could actually praise someone.

“Read a book, don’t look at me.”

“Oh.” Gao Lanwen quickly lowered her head. However, she felt a little restless in her chest. Some kind of happy emotion seemed to be unable to be suppressed and wanted to rush out.

This made Gao Lanwen feel a little strange. In the past, so many people had praised her with countless flowery words, but her heart was still calm.

Now, the person in front of her had only praised her for being not bad, but she was so...They wanted to cheer.

“Brother Beiran! Brother Beiran!”

Just as Gao Lanwen was suppressing her emotions, a hurried voice came from downstairs.

Gao Lanwen frowned. She had told Lu Yangyu not to disturb her at this time. Why was he here again?

Knowing that Lu Yangyu would keep shouting if he didn’t, Jiang Beiran pushed open the window and looked down.””Big brother, why are you looking for me?”

“Good news! I have an old friend who has returned from his travels and obtained some good things. With these good things, I naturally won’t forget you, so I came to call you.” “Thank you, big brother. I’ll be there in a while.”

“Alright! I’ll wait for you!”

Lu Yangyu turned his head around after he finished speaking, and then accurately crashed into the chest of a maid.

“Aiyoyo, I’m sorry. I couldn’t see the road and bumped into you.” Lu Yangyu rubbed his face against the maid’s chest before he raised his head and apologized profusely..
