Chapter 1111: Let's Leave Her For Now...

The result of Zhai Lintian's actions was Liang Yongyu's miscarriage.

It was meant to be a proper wedding, but the bride stirred up a huge commotion and caused the Zhai Family to be humiliated. However...the Zhai Family's true loss was still to come.

After all, Zhai Lintian struck Liang Yongyu in front of everyone and she now had the right to ask for even more money.

Liang Yongyu used Tangning as a trigger. After a fight broke out and everyone was drawn over, she deflected the humiliation onto the Zhai Family and went home with their money. This was Liang Yongyu's true motive.

From outside the hospital, Zhai Lintian could hear Liang Yongyu crying to the media. He was so tempted to walk inside and sew her mouth shut. If he knew this would happen, he would have never been gentle on her.

"The Zhai Family abused my daughter to death and Tangning refused to provide help when we needed it. I will resolve these two issues with the law..." Liang Yongyu cried as she answered the media.

The current situation was already beyond the Zhai Family's control. After all, Liang Yongyu created such a drama at her wedding!

Soon afterwards, the Zhai Family apologized to Mo Ting and Tangning, "I'm sorry, President Mo...As you saw, we were betrayed and badly damaged, I hope it didn't cause you and your wife too much stress."

"I'm sure Liang Yongyu had the guts to do this because someone taught her. You should pay close attention to her," Mo Ting suggested. "You also need to convince your son not to be angered by Liang Yongyu. Otherwise, he'll just fall deeper and deeper into her trap."

"Thank you, President Mo, for being so forgiving."

No matter how much they disliked it each other, it wasn't worth Mo Ting's time to dwell on the matter, especially since the Zhai Family were badly schemed against by Liang Yongyu.

Tangning had told Mo Ting to forget about everything at the wedding. After all, the Zhai Family were already in deep trouble.

"But, Mrs. Mo's reputation..."

"Just focus on your own family." In other words, he was telling them not to worry about his woman.

This time, Tangning was implicated and was placed in an awkward position. Everyone knew she didn't do anything wrong, yet Liang Yongyu made her sound evil just because she didn't take in her daughter.

Different versions of the argument at the wedding soon began to spread throughout the industry. It seemed, people treated it as a joke.

But, worst of all, Liang Yongyu used Tangning and Mo Ting as stepping stones to achieve her motive!

How dare Liang Yongyu step on Tangning to advance!

“Think of a way to strike back. Everyone’s laughing at you and saying you’re like the first wave at a beach!” Long Jie was unhappy after hearing all the gossip. “How dare that woman step all over you in such a bold manner?”

“If this is her way of getting revenge on me, then she succeeded,” Tangning laughed.

“I don’t like this. I don’t like it at all!”

“How many days of happiness do you think the Zhai Family will give someone like Liang Yongyu? They’re simply waiting for the hype to die down. As soon as the focus is turned away, it will be time for her execution,” Tangning said. “She may be proud for now, but I’m afraid her days won’t be good from now on.”

“Long Jie, find a chance to take note of Liang Yongyu’s movements. Make sure she doesn’t leave Beijing,” Tangning instructed. “Perhaps, she might have already guessed what my next move is and is planning to strike first!”

Indeed, Tangning’s guess was right. To stop Liang Yongyu from making things worse, the Zhai Family ended up offering her $1 billion in private.

Although they felt as though Liang Yongyu had gone too far, offering her $1 billion was still better than giving her half of Zhai Lintian’s assets.

So, after accepting the $1 billion, Liang Yongyu appeared in front of the media and began to cry. She told them that she saw her daughter in her dreams and that she decided to cut ties with the Zhai Family because it was her daughter’s wish. She also told them that she wasn’t taking anything except a small breakup fee!

This made Liang Yongyu appear cool and brave to the public, but shamelessly boastful in front of the media.

“I hate money the most. I simply wanted to know if there was true love in the socialite circles, but I lost the bet!”

“Following on, I’m planning to enter the film and television industry with all the money I’ve got. I think a woman should have her own career...”

But, as soon as Liang Yongyu joined the film and television industry, she announced she was producing a film called ‘The Ant Queen’s Death’. As soon as news got out about this, everyone knew her motive.

“What the hell, this is another scheme to leech off Tangning. This piece of trash might as well call her film ‘The Ant Queen 2’.”

“Although I’m not planning to watch this film, when I think about it screening in the theaters and lowering the average quality, it makes me furious!”

“Can’t the authorities give the exclusive rights to producing a sci-fi film to Tangning? Please don’t let this s!t wreck havoc!”

But, no matter how the public ridiculed her, Liang Yongyu still received the attention she wanted. She knew she had offended the Zhai Family, so appearing in front of the cameras, every now and then, was enough to ensure her safety, in case the Zhai Family planned to seek revenge.

Besides, her film was called ‘The Ant Queen’s Death’. The words ‘Ant Queen’ weren’t owned by Tangning, so there was no problem with her using it.

But, the smartest thing she did was, she hired a famous actor to take part in her film. After all, she had plenty of money and this was the only way she could compete with Tangning. Unfortunately, this all-or-nothing approach only made everyone frustrated. They felt, Tangning must have been down on her luck to attract a stupid b*tch like that.

As a result, everyone wanted to take a stab at Liang Yongyu!

In the past, there was the fake replica, Ma Weiwei. Now, there was Liang Yongyu.

Just because Tangning refused to take in her daughter, she kept clinging to her and wouldn’t go away.

“Do you want to change the name of ‘The Ant Queen’ series?” Long Jie felt disgusted by Liang Yongyu’s film title. She really didn’t want any involvement with the piece of trash.

“Why should we change it? Even if we change it, Liang Yongyu will find another similar name. It’s unavoidable,” Tangning laughed.

“I know. I’m just feeling disgusted! Everyone’s already acknowledged your film. I just wished the authorities would do something about it!”

In regards to this point, Mo Ting had already thought about it. Although they couldn’t force Liang Yongyu to change her film name, he had a way of making Tangning’s films easily identifiable.

By doing that, they wouldn’t have to worry about the public being fooled by films like Liang Yongyu’s, that had similarities. Especially not in the international market!

“I’m planning to establish a new business: Tang Film and Television. They would be in charge of the PR for ‘The Ant Queen’ and would have their logo on everything related to our franchise. That way, even if someone tries to leech off you, the public would know that it has nothing to do with us...”

“As for Liang Yongyu, let’s leave her for now. I want to see how effective our plan is!”

In other words, let her hang on with her last breath and enjoy her last few days.

Chapter 1112: Mrs. Mo Is Indeed An Expert !

“Won’t that approach be too high profile?”

When Tangning thought about her name appearing on the big screen at the beginning of every film, she felt it was a little too showy.

“You’ve produced an amazing film that everyone loves. So, you can do whatever you want, nothing is too much!” Mo Ting pulled his wife into his arms and breathed in her scent. “In future, Liang Yongyu won’t be the only one. You’ll definitely come across more fakes that want to leech off your popularity and sales. We are simply preparing for that.”

“In that case, let’s do as you say!” Tangning nodded.

...

After being tormented by Liang Yongyu for a few days, the Zhai Family felt like their eyes had been opened to the real world. They never imagined that someone even more shameless than they were, actually existed.

After forking out $1 billion, Second Master Zhai appeared completely defeated the next time he showed up in front of the Mo Couple.

By that time, his power in the family business had been split amongst his siblings and he had turned into an insignificant person with nothing to do.

Due to his extra free time, Zhai Lintian couldn’t stop thinking about his grudge with Liang Yongyu. As a result, he went to look for Mo Ting and Tangning.

But, to his surprise, Tangning and Mo Ting were extremely calm. Liang Yongyu’s provocation didn’t affect them at all.

“Both President Mo and Mrs. Mo are sure tolerant. After the way that Liang Yongyu stepped all over you, neither of you look upset at all. I truly admire you!”

“I can’t be bothered getting upset over someone like her!” Tangning replied. “But, since we’re on the topic, I would like to point out that the Zhai Family wouldn’t be in this position if they didn’t favor boys over girls. So, you have no one to blame!”

After hearing from Tangning, Zhai Lintian laughed, “I know I was wrong, that’s why I’m being punished. But, what about Liang Yongyu?”

“I’ve heard that Mrs. Mo is a wise and observant person. I would like to get some advice on how to completely destroy a person!”

Tangning was silent; she understood what Zhai Lintian was suggesting. After a few seconds, she lifted her head and glanced at the man that was busily working in his office and replied to Zhai Lintian, “If Second Master Zhai knew how to control himself, he would not be in the position he is now.”

“I’ve learned my lesson. I hope Mrs. Mo can point me in the right path from now on. Don’t worry, whether I succeed or fail, I will not implicate you.”

Tangning shook her head and said, “Helping you isn’t impossible...but, I have conditions.”

“Go ahead!”

“I don’t want to see you favor boys over girls ever again. Otherwise, I refuse to help a discriminative person like you,” Tangning said.

Zhai Lintian took a puff from his cigarette and nodded, "I agree."

"Secondly, you can't hurt anyone! Violence does not induce true fear."

"I'm fine with that as well..."

After Zhai Lintian agreed to both conditions, Tangning finally got to the point, "The fact that Liang Yongyu actually had the guts to step on me means that she doesn't care about anyone else. But, I'd like to point out an important reason why she's been appearing in front of the cameras so often: it's because she's afraid of the Zhai Family's revenge!"

"The more the Zhai Family try to go up against her, the more she'll use you for her own gain. That's why, the Zhai Family should stop acting recklessly."

"What should we do then?"

"Apologize, donate money and make amends. Let everyone know that you've realized your faults and thank Liang Yongyu for teaching you a valuable lesson. Afterwards, wish her all the best for the future. By doing that, you would be able to redeem half of the Zhai Family's image. People would see that you at least know how to apologize and make amends. If Liang Yongyu tries to extort money from you again in the future, you can immediately cry to the media!"

"That is the best option for the Zhai Family!"

"Secondly, it's not hard to make Liang Yongyu suffer. Liang Yongyu is currently trying to leech off my popularity and has invested a lot into her film. This includes hiring some top class people. She's spent a crazy amount of money! If you use reverse psychology and take this opportunity to create hype for Liang Yongyu by making her sound like she's the best in the world, she's going to end up suffering from the backlash. This is a common trick used in the industry!"

"She's simply experiencing a moment of fame because of the slap you gave her, but this is bound to eventually die down. Your aim is to make her lose everything. That's the only way to destroy her."

"Of course, while you're cleaning up the Zhai Family's image, you should continue to investigate who's been helping her behind-the-scenes. If you can grab onto evidence, then Liang Yongyu's day of suffering will come sooner!"

After hearing Tangning's suggestions, Zhai Lintian laughed, "I guess the rumors are true!"

"Mrs. Mo is indeed an expert!"

"I've never initiated an attack on anyone. I simply give an eye for an eye!" Tangning replied. "That's why, I'm warning you, if the Zhai Family aren't sincere with their apology, then I will reveal the truth to the media."

"Don't worry, with an example like you, I actually think giving birth to a daughter isn't so bad."

"Thank you for today, President Mo and Mrs. Mo."

Tangning shook her head, gesturing that he didn't need to be so polite. After all, they technically had the same enemy.

But, Tangning was never the type to kill off an enemy with someone else's knife. Everything she told Zhai Lintian, was simply to help the Zhai Family. As for what Liang Yongyu personally owed her, she was going to chase up that debt later!

Anyone that dared to use her as a stepping stone would have to pay the price!

...

Liang Yongyu's film created a lot of hype. Although, most people were criticizing it, fans of the actors in the film still tried to stick up for their idols.

"How could you guys know that the film will be bad before it's even been filmed? Do you have the ability to see the future?"

"My idol is an amazing actor. I'm sure the film won't be any worse than Tangning's!"

"How is this considered as leeching off Tangning? The words, 'Ant Queen', don't belong to Tangning!"

What could be done about these people?

But, soon after, Hai Rui officially announced that they were establishing Tang Film and Television. Which meant, Tangning's logo would appear on every single film from then on, giving her films an identifying mark.

"That's awesome. From now on, we'll immediately know it's Tangning's film when we see the logo."

"Hai Rui is so quick. I bet the fake replica forced them to do this."

"From now on, it's going to be so easy to identify Tangning's films. We simply need to look for her logo..."

"President Mo is so smart, yay! I've never been interested in laying an eye on any of those other rubbish productions, regardless of who the producer is."

This was the perfect way to identify Tangning's films. After all, a logo was unique and could not be copied.

Chapter 1113: Hai Rui Was Quick, Direct And Ruthless !

Liang Yongyu invested a lot of money into leeching off 'The Ant Queen', but Tangning's mission was to make her lose everything.

Right now, she was trying to sell the fake image she had created for herself. But, what was to happen if she couldn't back up her image with something to show?

Perhaps her true image would be revealed and perhaps she'd be completely ruined!

Either way, it wasn't right for her to use Tangning for her own benefit. Doing this was equivalent to digging her own grave!

Was she trying to sell a fake image, huh?

She chose her daughter over her identity as a socialite wife. This act of moral integrity sold well...

But, don't forget, back when she abandoned her daughter beside Mo Ting's car, Mo Ting had asked Lu Che to obtain surveillance footage from the theater. Lu Che even had footage of her abandoning her child for the second time. Since that was the case, why did they have to play nice?

Of course, Lu Che couldn't expose the footage under Hai Rui or Tangning's name. He had to pretend that he was a simple passer-by that came across it. So, he started off by posting up a message.

"I don't understand how you guys could be fooled by Liang Yongyu. When she abandoned her child, she wasn't worried at all!"

"I am a witness from the theater's parking lot. Originally, I did not plan to say anything, but now that Liang Yongyu is doing so well and is getting a little 'famous', I can't believe a person could put on an act like that!"

Afterwards, Liang Yongyu's fans left comments demanding for solid evidence. Wasn't that a popular thing to ask for? Since that was the case, Lu Che was going to follow the trend...

So, Lu Che posted up the video of Liang Yongyu abandoning her daughter beside Mo Ting's car on a cold snowy day.

The weather was so cold, but Liang Yongyu simply abandoned her child without hesitation and left...

This attracted a lot of hate from mothers.

"I'm sorry for being direct, but only a b*tch could abandon her child in the snow like that. My heart aches just looking at this video!"

"She is obviously a fake. What lengths wouldn't Liang Yongyu go to? Why did she leave the baby beside Mo Ting's car? She was obviously trying to throw the blame onto the Mo couple. How could she still have supporters that say she's brave? It's so annoying that I want to dig out my eyes so I don't have to see it!"

"Did you guys see how Mo Ting and Tangning saved the child afterwards?"

"How dare she insult my Ning? That piece of trash doesn't deserve to speak about my Ning in that way!"

"If even an evil woman like this has fans, then I really need to reconsider my moral values!"

One scandal after another broke out about Liang Yongyu. Because of this, she began to feel pressured. Tangning may have helped Liang Yongyu escape the Zhai Family, but her life was no better in the entertainment industry. After all, Tangning wanted her to know that her past would continue to haunt her forever...

Soon, Liang Yongyu thought of another way to divert the public's attention. She decided to expose a photo of Tangning and her son's at her wedding.

She tried to use the twins to divert everyone's attention.

But, she didn't just post up a photo, she also hired a fortune teller to analyze the fortune of the two kids.

Zixi's fortune was not bad. The fortune teller said he had potential. But Zichen was different. The fortune teller said he was a jinx that was destined to bring the family to ruins, and that the Mo Family and Tang Family were going to be destroyed by him. The only solution was to counterbalance his luck...

To everyone's surprise, this piece of news actually became a hot topic!

A lot of people began to shame the fortune teller, "How dare you use another person's child to make money? Why don't you check your own fortune and see how long you have left to live?"

"It's rare to see a photo of Tangning's kids. She was simply taking them out to attend a wedding. How did someone end up saying bad things about her?"

Her children!

Obviously, this was someone's doing. Tangning never imagined that Liang Yongyu would tread on her bottom line!

How dare she use the twins as a shield?

When Long Jie sat down and noticed Tangning looking at the news, she felt a cold chill down her spine...

Tangning's expression was a rare sight. She had always remained calm, but this time, her own kids were used!

"As soon as this news broke out I already gave Lu Che a phone call and told him to investigate into the matter. I also told him to delete every photo available of the twins."

"Luckily, the impact isn't big. Tangning, what do you plan to do?"

"You're pregnant, you should go home first," Tangning said with an obviously cold tone.

But, Long Jie understood. After all, the kids and Mo Ting were Tangning's bottom line, yet Liang Yongyu had tread on both of them.

Meanwhile, the atmosphere in Mo Ting's office wasn't good either, "No matter what method you use, I want you to blacklist Liang Yongyu from the entire industry. Make an announcement that if anyone dares to oppose Hai Rui, they can go ahead and give it a try."

"President, are we applying full force?"

"I don't care if you use full force or not, I simply want Liang Yongyu's name to disappear from Beijing – forever!" Mo Ting said in a cold tone. "Investigate who's helping her. I don't care who's been strategizing for her, I want you to act accordingly. If that person's life isn't tough enough, then your life is going to be tough instead."

"Understood, President!"

This was the first time Mo Ting had been so determined about notifying the entire industry to blacklist one person!

If anyone dared to use Liang Yongyu or co-operate with her, then they were opposing Hai Rui...

As soon as this announcement was made, everyone immediately decided to end their contracts with Liang Yongyu. Even the media were warned that Hai Rui was applying full force this time!

This time, even if Liang Yongyu came out to cry, she was not going to get exposure!

Of course, Liang Yongyu never imagined things would get to this point. In fact, she probably had no idea that she was already blacklisted.

Even her film was a disaster. No matter how much money she invested into it, everyone wanted to withdraw from the project.

After all, who dared to provoke a tiger?

News started spreading across the industry that Liang Yongyu called Hai Rui petty after she was blacklisted and was directly kicked out of the company she was working with...

This time, Hai Rui was obviously quick, direct and ruthless!

It wasn't until the next day, when Liang Yongyu received endless phone calls to end her contracts, did she realize how serious the situation had gotten.

With this thought, Liang Yongyu decided to call the director she was supposed to be working with. But, the director was afraid that someone would overhear him talking to her, "It's best if you never call me again, I don't want to lose my job. Hai Rui has publicly announced that you are blacklisted, so everyone is currently walking on egg shells. All the best on your own!"

Hai Rui blacklisted her?

Was it because she exposed Tangning's twins to the public?

Was this necessary? Liang Yongyu sneered.

In the end, she gave her advisor a call, "I've been blacklisted by Hai Rui, what should I do?"

"Come to my place, let's discuss it!" the person replied in a dull voice.

Chapter 1114: A Woman's Heart Is Deep Like The Ocean !

A little while later, the Zhai Family posted up a public apology like Tangning suggested. Whether it was directed at the public or at Liang Yongyu, the Zhai Family were extremely sincere. To make up for their wrongdoings, they even decided to donate money to help the poorer communities. This amount was in the hundreds of millions.

After seeing the Zhai Family apologize with such a large sum of money, the public had two thoughts: the Zhai Family had either gone crazy, or they were truly trying to make amends.

As a result, this method successfully saved the Zhai Family's reputation. At least, the public no longer criticized them like they did not long ago.

At the same time, the Zhai Family also thanked Liang Yongyu for helping them wake up, even though they were no longer related to each other.

Tangning looked at the article and turned to help Mo Zichen put on his clothes. It wasn't hard to wake the Zhai Family up, but who could wake Liang Yongyu up?

She was aware that Mo Ting had blacklisted Liang Yongyu. But, that was not enough! Liang Yongyu still had $1 billion in her hands. Even if she couldn't survive in the entertainment industry, she still had nothing to fear...

If this was a matter between the adults, Tangning would have let it go. But, Liang Yongyu had actually used her kids!

So, she had to put an end to her!

...

Late at night, outside a Beijing apartment, Liang Yongyu rang the doorbell. Afterwards, a man led her into his living room.

"No one followed you, right?" the man asked as he poured some wine. He was dressed in a white shirt and wore a limited edition watch around his wrist.

"No," Liang Yongyu said as she put down her handbag. "I don't know what I'm supposed to do now. I can no longer do anything in the entertainment industry!"

"You still have money. What are you afraid of?" the man said as he sat down and gave Liang Yongyu a glass of red wine. "Why don't we partner up and open a business? You can't stay in the entertainment industry forever. Why don't you take this opportunity to leave?"

"I'm not made for business!" Liang Yongyu shook her head.

"You may not be, but I am. I have a proposal in my hand. You can have a look and think about it!"

"Qi Lei, you may have helped me get this $1 billion, but I don't like it when others try to decide where I use my money," Liang Yongyu obviously didn't like the idea of investing into a business. It felt like a loss for her.

"It's fine if you don't want to invest, I'm not forcing you. If I really had my eyes on your money, why would I continuously help you without asking for anything in return?" the man shrugged. "I won't force you to do something you don't want to do."

The man's words successfully calmed Liang Yongyu down.

"Forget about it. As long as you're happy, that's all that matters. However, I must remind you to visit me less. After all, it won't be good if the media catches us meeting with each other."

Liang Yongyu nodded. The man's submissive approach worked well on her.

After all, the man was not only a lawyer, but he was also very handsome. Everyone woman that approached him swooned over him, let alone someone like Liang Yongyu, who he had helped!

After hearing from the man, Liang Yongyu tested him by leaning slightly towards him...

"I don't mean anything by what I said, I simply want to be careful!"

“I’m also doing this for your benefit. Look at the way you’ve been spending your money. How long will $1 billion last you at this rate? I simply want to give you a guarantee to fall back on,” the man took the opportunity to charm Liang Yongyu. “If you want to be with me, you need to accept that I am quite chauvinistic.”

“If you don’t want me to get involved in your matters, then we can stop contacting each other from now on!”

“Qi Lei, during my toughest times, you were the one that helped me. In this entire world, you treat me the best.”

Of course, Liang Yongyu couldn’t withstand the man’s charms in the end. So, she eventually decided to invest $300 million into opening a law firm. After all, Qi Lei was a lawyer!

...

But, Liang Yongyu had no idea that Lu Che had sent someone to follow her..

So, early the next morning, Lu Che placed a stack of information on Mo Ting’s desk regarding the lawyer that had been helping Liang Yongyu.

“Qi Lei and Liang Yongyu met through a few collaborations in the past and slowly grew closer. Perhaps, Qi Lei thinks of Liang Yongyu as a big fish, so he’s been very patient in gaining her trust.”

“He even helped her get $1 billion from the Zhai Family!”

“That’s why Liang Yongyu trusts him.”

“But, according to our research, this man has a total of three girlfriend; he’s a complete player. He uses the money he scams from Liang Yongyu on the other two women that he’s seeing. This man sure knows what to do!”

“Does that mean we don’t need to do anything and Qi Lei will help us get rid of Liang Yongyu?” Mo Ting asked as he threw the information to one side. “Don’t expose yourself around Liang Yongyu. Contact Qi Lei’s other two girlfriends and let them meet each other.”

“If they’re willing, ask them to help put on a show to trick Liang Yongyu of all that she’s got...”

“Do you think Liang Yongyu will go back to look for the Zhai Family when she runs out of money?”

“I don’t know. A woman’s heart is deep like the ocean!” Lu Che laughed.

They already had the resources for dealing with Liang Yongyu. Now, all they needed to do, was give a little push from behind.

Although the photo incident didn’t have a huge impact on the twins, Mo Ting still needed Liang Yongyu to pay for what she had done!

...

But, at this time, Second Master Zhai suddenly gave the Mo Couple a phone call, asking them to meet him in a five star hotel.

From the tone in his voice, he had gotten rid of his previous trouble and was especially happy.

Tangning and Mo Ting arrived in time and met with Zhai Lintian and a beautiful socialite woman that he had brought as accompaniment.

Mo Ting and Tangning looked at each other, not quite understanding the purpose of the meeting.

“Let me introduce you to Miss Jiang Ruolin, her father is a government official and her mother is in the medical field,” Zhai Lintian said before he sat down and explained, “After I made a public apology like Mrs. Mo suggested, it worked wonders and the Zhai Family regained a bit of stability.”

“After seeing my apology, Ruolin contacted me and said she wanted to try dating me.”

“After getting to know each other for a few days, I’ve realized that I’ve fallen in love again...”

After listening to Zhai Lintian, Mo Ting and Tangning looked at each other again.

“I never believed in love at first sight, but after everything that’s happened, it’s a miracle that someone was still willing to step out and hold my hand!”

“I will only be with you if you’ve truly changed for the better. Otherwise...”

Chapter 1115: How Shocked Was She Going To Be?

“Don’t worry, in order not to waste your kindness, I will definitely become a better man.” The couple was actually in love!

Sometimes, the world was a fascinating place. Some people simply turned the corner and met love. Even though the couple’s love was only in its early stages, it was good to see that Zhai Lintian had turned over a new leaf.

“This is why I’m so thankful to the two of you. My parents even said that the Zhai Family would help with anything as long as you guys ask for it!”

“You’re not going to dwell on the matter with Liang Yongyu?” Tangning asked.

“Nope. I hurt her and she hurt me; we’re even. I don’t think I should waste time on a stranger,” Zhai Lintian replied. “I’ve already spoken to Ruolin and she supports my decision.”

“Men, they only know how to grow up after something happens!”

“Let’s not talk about that anymore. Why don’t you tell me how I can pay you back.”

“You may have money, but we’re not poor either...” Tangning laughed. “Since you’ve turned over a new leaf, you should enjoy your new life and stop entertaining foolish ideas. I don’t need you to pay me back, I simply have one condition: when Liang Yongyu turns around to look for you, don’t respond to her.”

“Will she still turn around and look for me?” Zhai Lintian asked as he held onto Jiang Ruolin’s hand.

“Definitely, but face her like someone of your status. Don’t go gentle on her and get implicated again.”

“Don’t worry, if that day comes, I will make sure you’re the first to know about it.”

The meal was relatively relaxed. Even though, no one expected that Zhai Lintian would suddenly fall in love, it was a good thing...

Sometimes, one had to admit, that marriage required both parties to be on a similar social status...

Otherwise, life together would be very difficult.

Not because of money, but because of a difference in values!

After the dinner, the Zhai Family generously offered all the best resources in their hands to Hai Rui, even though Tangning said they didn't need to thank her. They then withdrew from their involvement in the entertainment industry and announced that they were returning to their original field of expertise.

These people were definitely worth helping.

"Madam, President, I've prepared a spectacular show for everyone. Do you want to watch?"

"No. Take us home. The kids are more important," Tangning replied.

"OK, I'll tell you the results later then."

This good show, was Qi Lei's other two girlfriends discovering the existence of the other. Of course, they were both average women, so discovering that their own boyfriend was cheating was bound to be a painful and angry experience. At that very moment, Lu Che had instructed someone to invite the two women out for a meeting.

"Actually, your boyfriend has a third girlfriend. She's the famous model that's been very famous recently, Liang Yongyu!"

As soon as the two women heard this, their eyes grew wide.

"Qi Lei's getting involved with Liang Yongyu because he wants to scam her of her $1 billion. If you girls are willing to help teach him a lesson, please contact me."

Out of these two women, one was a doctor and the other was a top salesperson; both were powerful women. So, they were naturally annoyed that they had been tricked.

Lu Che had done his research and knew that these two women didn't easily admit defeat, that was why he chose to expose everything openly.

So, the next day, both women contacted Lu Che's contact and asked what they should do...

"It's simple, pretend to be pregnant and trick him into giving you money for a wedding. Since this money came from an indecent source anyway, take as much as you can."

"Don't worry, I guarantee Qi Lei will lose everything in the end and you girls will remain safe."

As a result, Qi Lei was thrown into a frustrating situation. His doctor girlfriend was pregnant and she was pressuring him to do something about it.

As she was his first love, he naturally wanted to marry her more than the other women. But, he had only just scammed $300 million from Liang Yongyu!

Since the child was a result of their love, Qi Lei couldn't possibly ask his girlfriend to abort it, so he decided to sort things out quickly with Liang Yongyu. After all, a pair of used shoes was disgusting!

But, Liang Yongyu wasn't about to part with her money so easily...

So, Qi Lei had to think of an effective solution.

Liang Yongyu never imagined that her money would end up attracting a wolf. But, after giving away $300 million, she naturally put away the rest of her savings.

Even so, Qi Lei still had his methods.

For example, that night, he prepared a candlelit dinner and planned to make Liang Yongyu sign a contract while she was drunk.

Liang Yongyu actually thought Qi Lei liked her; that he would care for her and protect her!

When a person harbored ill intentions, the people they met were naturally no good either. How could she possibly come across a sincere person?

"Qi Lei, you're so good to me. All the pain I went through was worth it..."

"Yongyu, you're drunk!" Qi Lei whispered beside Liang Yongyu's ear.

"I'm not drunk, I can still drink more."

"That's right, Yongyu, stop drinking for now, I still have something for you to sign. Can you sign this first?" Qi Lei took the opportunity to make Liang Yongyu sign a contract.

Afterwards, he pulled out a stack of documents and read each page to Liang Yongyu.

"Stop reading, I trust you. Where do I sign?" Liang Yongyu looked down at the contract with rosy cheeks.

"Here," Qi Lei said as he pointed to the contract.

"OK!" Liang Yongyu picked up her pen and started signing. In her drunken state, she had absolutely no idea what she was doing.

So, obviously, she had no idea that there were a few extra pages slotted into the contract and the part she signed on actually belonged to a cheque.

After Liang Yongyu printed her fingerprint on the cheque, Qi Lei finally put away the documents without arousing any suspicion.

After Liang Yongyu fell asleep, he quickly called the bank and asked for the funds to be immediately transferred...

Liang Yongyu was too gullible; both when she was still with the Zhai Family and now...

But, this time, it was her final goodbye.

The most amusing thing was, even when she woke up, she still had no idea that all her money had already been transferred out of her account...

It was all just a superficial dream.

Liang Yongyu had no idea that her destruction was just around the corner!

She was too young. She thought her fate could be changed after a stroke of luck. But, how could karma treat her well when she had ill intentions?

Now, everyone was simply waiting for her to discover what had happened. How shocked was she going to be?

Chapter 1116: Give Me Back My Money !

Liang Yongyu had been tricked, but Qi Lei wasn't any better.

He may have taken Liang Yongyu's money, but he ended up transferring a portion of it straight into his doctor girlfriend's account. Although it wasn't everything, it was the majority. However, he had no idea that as soon as he transferred the dirty money to his girlfriend, she immediately donated it all to the hospital.

The reason why the doctor girlfriend decided to be the one to put on the act was because she could pretend to be pregnant without arousing suspicion.

But, this would be the only time. She was only doing it to teach the jerk a lesson.

On the surface, the couple had agreed on a wedding date and were planning to register their marriage the day after. But, the doctor girlfriend had already decided that she was going to leave.

During this time, Tangning kept an eye on the progress of the incident, but she also started to prepare Superstar Media for a comeback.

Long Jie was about to give birth to her second child, but Lin Qian was ready to return and take charge. Tangning planned to remain behind-the-scenes, so she had no intention of getting involved with management. After all, she still had to continue with Qiao Sen's dream.

But, it was a shame that Qiao Sen was gone, because it was difficult for her to find a business partner with the same mindset that could assist her with her sci-fi film. Especially since she didn't know which director to use for 'The Ant Queen 2'.

At this moment, there was an artist suicide incident within the entertainment industry. To be exact, it wasn't an artist but a lonely arthouse director.

As he was obsessed with producing artistic films, he ended up using his family's entire savings, causing his daughter to die from starvation.

After hearing about the incident, Tangning was surprised that a person could starve to death because of those conditions.

Fortunately, the director did not succeed in committing suicide and was saved by his assistant.

This incident caused quite an uproar and attracted a lot of sympathy.

Tangning watched the director's films and discovered they were all heavy, depressed and a little crazy. This was an example of his extreme character! As a result, Tangning suddenly had an idea...

...

A few days later, Liang Yongyu finally discovered something was wrong with her bank account. At that time, she was getting a few treatments done at the beauty salon and discovered that she didn't even have a cent in her account.

At first, she thought it was an error with the card machine, so she tried again. But, even after a few tries, the machine still said her card was declined.

In the end, Liang Yongyu gave her bank a phone call to confirm and discovered that all her money had been transferred out with a cheque.

All of a sudden, Liang Yongyu thought of Qi Lei and how he had gotten her to sign something the other night. Immediately, she woke up from her confusion.

So, she gave Qi Lei a phone call, "Qi Lei, where are you?"

From the tone in her voice, Qi Lei could tell that she had already found out about her money, so he replied, "I'm overseas on a business trip!"

"What happened to my money?" Liang Yongyu asked.

However, her question was met with an endless dial tone...

Liang Yongyu was thrown into a panic. So, she immediately ran over to Qi Lei's home to look for him. But, the only person that was home was Qi Lei's doctor fiancée.

"Who are you looking for?"

"Who are you?" Liang Yongyu asked.

"I am Qi Lei's fiancée!" the doctor deliberately put on an act. "Are you at the wrong place?"

"That's impossible. If you're his fiancée, then who am I?" Liang Yongyu asked as she pushed away the doctor and stormed into the home to look for Qi Lei.

"Stop searching, he's not home," the doctor said with her arms crossed. "I said I felt like pineapple cake from Chengnan, so he went to buy it."

"This can't be...This is impossible."

"What's so impossible about this? Liang Yongyu, everyone knows about you. You had two daughters and one miscarriage and you were abandoned by a rich family. Everyone's already been criticizing you, why would Qi Lei want to be with you?"

"Besides, I'm already carrying Qi Lei's child and he's already proposed to me. You wouldn't actually believe that he'd date a pair of used shoes, right?" the woman ridiculed in disdain. "Oh, by the way, he's already transferred me the $1 billion you gave him!"

With the mention of her $1 billion, Liang Yongyu immediately stepped forward and grabbed onto the woman's shoulders and shook her, "Give me back my money. Give it back..."

"Why should I give it back to you? Didn't you scam this money from the Zhai Family to begin with? Besides, I've already donated it all to the hospital. Your dream of being a socialite has gone down the drain, so I think you should give up any hopes of being rich as well."

Liang Yongyu retreated a couple of steps and started shaking the doctor even more. Just as the two women were tugging at each other, Qi Lei returned with a box of pineapple cake. When he saw his beloved woman being attacked, he immediately ran over and pushed Liang Yongyu away, "What are you trying to do, you crazy b*tch?"

"Qi Lei...why did you do this to me?"

"You were the one that was cheap enough to throw yourself at me!" Qi Lei yelled as he protected his fiancée. "Gold diggers like you that try everything to marry into a rich family, are easy to deal with. I'm just enforcing justice on behalf of heaven!"

"You're shameless!"

Liang Yongyu fell to the ground and started crying helplessly, "Give me back my money!"

"I don't know what you're talking about. If you don't leave, I'm going to call security on you."

In the end, Liang Yongyu was kicked out by a security guard. At that moment, Liang Yongyu was terrified; she had nothing left...not even a cent!

Her $1 billion!

She actually gave it all to Qi Lei so easily and helped him fund his wedding!

But, this wasn't the worst thing. The worst thing was, somehow the media heard about her incident and rushed over to take photos of her crying outside Qi Lei's apartment. It was an extremely ugly sight.

"Hey, isn't this the 'rich socialite' with $1 billion? Why is she crying on the floor?"

"Stop talking, hurry and take photos. This is such a pitiful sight."

"Apparently, she was scammed out of the breakup fee she received from the Zhai Family. How pitiful."

"Get lost, all of you. Stop taking photos of me...stop it! You are all bullies!"

The cameras were filled with scenes of Liang Yongyu crying. But, an endless amount of pain was still waiting for her. Of course, at this time, Qi Lei had no idea that the reporters below his apartment were arranged by his fiancée. He simply felt it was strange!

That night, Qi Lei's fiancée gathered evidence of how Qi Lei and Liang Yongyu colluded to go against the Zhai Family, as well as evidence of Qi Lei's cheating and scamming. While he was asleep, she also made a copy of his contact list and posted the things she prepared to everyone on the list!

Afterwards, she packed her belongings and got ready to leave...

But, where was she going? She was going overseas to distance herself from the scandals.

That night, Qi Lei slept soundly. But, when he woke up...

...he was shocked by the number of missed calls on his phone.

Chapter 1117: That Was Liang Yongyu's Fate !

The first person to call Qi Lei was his mother. The old woman sounded really disappointed as she asked, "Lei Er, is the online news true?"

"Mom, what's wrong?"

"Have a look at it yourself."

He and Liang Yongyu each shared half the entertainment news headlines.

[Liang Yongyu colludes with secret lover to scam $1 Billion from the Zhai Family and is destroyed by karma!]

[Beautiful high EQ doctor uncovers scam: could she be Tangning's apprentice?]

Qi Lei looked at the online articles in detail and his mind exploded!

Soon, he received a phone call from his company; he had been fired. Meanwhile, he also received phone calls from friends and family, calling to tell him he was scum!

Because, not only did the doctor reveal that he had colluded with Liang Yongyu to scam the Zhai Family, she also revealed that he had been dating three women at once and was scamming them of their love and money by using his profession to facilitate his own personal gains.

Of course, now that everyone was aware of Qi Lei and Liang Yongyu's bad image, they began to feel bad for the Zhai Family. They also admired the doctor for being responsible enough to donate the immoral $1 billion to the hospital for cancer research.

Now that things had gotten to this point, was there still a chance to turn the tables?

No...unfortunately, for the rest of Qi Lei's life, he would have to walk around with his tail tucked between his legs and a face mask to cover his face so no one would recognize him.

With this thought, Qi Lei began to laugh at himself in ridicule. At first, he thought he was really smart. But, he had no idea that he was just a toy in someone else's hands... After all, who took the other more seriously?

However, no one knew that Mo Ting and Tangning were actually the ones behind the entire incident. Only a return gift like this was suitable for Liang Yongyu!

...

"So far, Liang Yongyu has already been starving for four days without a cent on her body. She's been trying to use her house as a guarantee for a loan, but the bank hasn't approved it. So she's really struggling to get by."

“Apparently, Liang Yongyu has been loitering around the Zhai Family home over the past few days. I’m afraid she won’t be able to hold out much longer. At this rate, she’s definitely going to plead to them.”

After listening to Lu Che, Mo Ting and Tangning looked at each other.

A few seconds later, Tangning replied, “In that case, remind Zhai Lintian of what he promised me.”

“Don’t worry, Madam!”

Liang Yongyu had no idea that Zhai Lintian would move onto a new relationship so quickly. She originally assumed that the Zhai Family would save her if she went back and begged to them. So, she waited for the right timing and rushed straight over to Zhai Lintian’s Maybach and stopped it...

With a loud screech, the car came to a stop. Zhai Lintian looked out confusedly and walked out after he noticed Liang Yongyu.

“It’s you...”

Liang Yongyu immediately kneeled in front of Zhai Lintian and broke down in tears, “Lintian, I know I was wrong, please forgive me. I have nothing now and I haven’t eaten anything for days.”

“Can you take our past into consideration and save me?”

“Since we’re on that topic, I need to clarify two things for you. Firstly, the Zhai Family does indeed favor boys over girls, but we didn’t abuse your first daughter to death. The Zhai Family may be hateful, but we would never kill our own child.”

“Secondly, I know I deserve punishment for what I did to you in the past, so after the way you hurt me, I think we’re even now.”

“Thirdly, considering our past, I suggest you keep your distance from the Zhai Family.”

“No, Lintian. I can give birth to another son for you. I can definitely do it...”

“That’s not necessary. Show yourself some respect,” Zhai Lintian said before he turned around and looked at the woman in his car.

As soon as Jiang Ruolin saw this, she stepped out of the car and approached Liang Yongyu, “Although you’re very pitiful, I’m happy to see you dragging out your feeble existence.”

“Lintian may have wronged you in the past and treated you like a toy, but he’s already paid the price for it. So, let’s not talk about the past anymore.”

“Miss Liang, stop crying in front of us, you have your own arms and legs, you can always make your own living. So, stop putting on a pity act.”

“In this world, not everything is at your beck and call!”

“I hope I made things clear for you today, let’s never meet again!” After speaking, Jiang Ruolin walked over to Zhai Lintian and grabbed onto his arm, “Let’s go home.”

“Zhai Lintian, aren’t you afraid that I’d reveal everything you did in the past?”

“Go ahead!” Without turning back, Zhai Lintian turned and left with Jiang Ruolin.

No matter how Liang Yongyu cried, he didn’t care.

“Why did you provoke her?” Jiang Ruolin asked, “Aren’t you afraid that she’d actually expose you?”

“I just wanted to be frank and open!” Zhai Lintian replied.

But, now, even if Liang Yongyu cried to the public and tried to expose something, no one would believe her anyway...

That was Liang Yongyu’s fate!

...

After seeing the show play out, the pregnant Long Jie was pleased. As a result, her mood also improved.

“This is how you deal with scum! She’s greedy and cruel. It’s because of people like her that the world is so dirty.”

“Within the entertainment industry, Liang Yongyu is but a drop of water in the ocean. Everyone in the industry is after fame and fortune, who doesn’t have something to hide?” Tangning said as she looked at the news.

“Don’t make it sound so scary. If people like Liang Yongyu exist, then people like you also exist...” Long Jie winked. “By the way, I’ve been here for so long, but your mind seems to be elsewhere. What are you looking at?”

“I’m looking at someone’s background...”

“Is it an artist that you want to help?”

“Of course, not. It’s a lonely soul that I want to get help from,” Tangning sighed.

After the recent suicide incident, Tangning had discussed her thoughts with Mo Ting. She wanted to speak to the director and see if he could become the next Qiao Sen.

That’s why she was researching the director’s background. He was seriously talented. In fact, it was a unique kind of talent. But, not many people understood him. They simply felt his suggestions were strange; a similar predicament that Qiao Sen used to be in. That’s why Tangning was interested in him.

However, she wasn’t confident that this new director would be as interested in sci-fi as Qiao Sen. All she could do was try her best.

Everything was currently falling into place, but all she was missing was a director that was on the same page as her...

This was the direction she was headed.

“Your thoughts have always been a little strange. But, it’s because of this that you’ve gotten to where you are,” Long Jie sighed. “Tell me, what other shocking thing you’re planning to do?”

“My intent is not to shock everyone, my intent is to savor a true talent!” Tangning replied. “Since you’re pregnant right now, I’ll leave Superstar Media with Lin Qian. Once your baby is born, you can go back to help her.”

“OK,” the mention of Superstar Media made Long Jie feel quite complicated.

“With your protruding belly, there’s nothing more you can help me with. Go home and get as much rest as you can.”

Following on, Tangning was planning to make a move on the director.

Chapter 1118: Everyone That Comes In Contact With Me Experiences Bad Luck

The director that Tangning wanted to contact was called Bai Junye, he was a wild and unyielding character, but he was much too proud. How was he to survive in a dog-eat-dog world like the entertainment industry?

However, Tangning discovered that he wasn’t just in debt, his parents were also suppressing him and leaving everything good to his younger brother.

So, their eldest son was sitting in the hospital on the brink of death, while the Bai Elders refused to take their younger son’s college fees to save his life!

When Tangning arrived at the hospital, the person she was looking for was in a bit of a predicament.

A few burly men were holding down the weak Bai Junye while his parents and brother stood idly by.

“You said three days, but three days have already passed, yet you haven’t given us any money!” The debt collectors could tell that Bai Junye had a death wish, so they didn’t want to kill him. Hence, they turned their gaze to his family instead. But, Bai Junye’s parents quickly tried to run away with their younger son.

“He has nothing to do with us. If you want to chase up his debt, then you should speak to him!” Mother Bai said as she pointed to Bai Junye.

Tangning waited quietly outside for one minute before she signaled for her bodyguards to go in.

The three debt collectors weren’t skilled fighters, so they were quickly restrained by the bodyguards. At this time, Tangning and Lu Che finally walked into the room.

“Who are you guys?”

“Isn’t she that famous celebrity?” Bai Junye’s younger brother said as he pointed to Tangning.

Tangning did not respond to the debt collectors. Instead, she looked at them and asked straightforwardly, “How much does he owe you?”

“Exactly $1.5 million.”

“Don’t help me pay it, I can’t afford to pay you back! I’m on my own now, all I have to do is fend for myself,” Bai Junye laughed weakly as he lay on the floor. “But, if you really want to be kind, I won’t stop you.”

“Lu Che, pay them according to the original debt, nothing extra,” Tangning turned and said to Lu Che.

Did these high-interest loan sharks actually think they could extort money so easily?

“OK, Madam.”

After speaking, Lu Che gestured for the bodyguards to take the three debt collectors outside. Afterwards, Tangning called for the nurses and asked them to help Bai Junye back into his bed.

“She’s that famous celebrity. I was right!”

As he looked at Tangning, Bai Junye was quite surprised. It was like he had seen a ghost, “To what do I owe the honor of your presence?”

“Let’s discuss your problems later. Let me first talk to you about other matters,” Tangning said before she looked at the Bai parents.

“From the looks of it, the two of you have no intention of helping your son.”

“Hmmp, because of him we’ve had to run around and hide. He’s made our lives very difficult,” Father Bai humphed.

“I’m not asking you to take responsibility for his debts, but everything he previously gave the Bai Family, including money, property and any vehicles, should be returned to him,” Tangning said. “As his family, you only take the good and ignore the bad. How could you do that?”

“Your younger son is your son, but what about your eldest son?”

“Stop talking nonsense...”

“Old man, don’t provoke her, she’s quite frightening. If she exposes our family matters, it would be too late to turn back,” Mother Bai immediately tried to convince her husband. “Let’s just leave with our little gem.”

“Once you leave this door, don’t come back to leech off your son when he becomes famous later. When that time comes, I’m sorry if he doesn’t acknowledge you.”

“Leave...hurry and leave.”

Tangning easily sent the Bai Family away before she turned and looked at Bai Junye.

At this time, Bai Junye looked into Tangning’s eyes meaningfully, “Superstar Tang, I don’t understand why you’re helping me, I’m just a useless nobody!”

“Plus, you can’t save me, I still owe a lot more.”

“Don’t look at everyone like they’re wearing a thick layer of armor and don’t think of yourself as a genius that others can’t understand. It’s because you put yourself in such a lonely position that your family has abandoned you.”

After helping Bai Junye, Tangning naturally had to subdue him a little.

“Haha...is that why you’re starting to lecture me?”

“Do you want to be a director for me? I want to film ‘The Ant Queen 2’,” Tangning asked straightforwardly.

“I’m not hearing things, am I? You film sci-fi and I film art. How could you ask me to direct for you? Are you crazy?”

“So what if I film sci-fi and so what if you film art? They’re simply two forms of expression. Don’t you think that your dark and depressed filming technique blends well with Qiao Sen’s style to create a great sci-fi film?” Tangning asked.

“Bai Junye, let me be honest with you, the arthouse film that you want to create, has no place in the current entertainment industry. My sci-fi film is the only way for you to display your originality.”

Although Bai Junye didn’t want to admit it, he had also watched ‘The Ant Queen’.

The film produced by Tangning and Qiao Sen wasn’t cheap and nasty like other films. Their film had soul.

Apart from the fate of the characters, the sci-fi elements, including the Ant Queen herself, was filled with its own unique charm that made everyone curious.

But...

...he was no longer in the mood to film anything. His daughter was dead and everything was destroyed. What other reason did he have to continue?

So, he directly told Tangning, “You should stop wasting your time on me, Superstar Tang. I’m just going to drag you down. Everyone that comes in contact with me experiences bad luck. So, for your own safety, I think you should keep your distance.”

“I will never agree to your offer.”

This man’s personality was hard to grasp and he was difficult to communicate with. So, Tangning did not expect to succeed in one go.

Once a person’s heart died, all they had left was disdain for the world. Bai Junye was already sick of the world, so he didn’t think that there was any meaning to living on.

Tangning did not insist. She simply gave him her contact details and left.

But, Bai Junye simply closed the door without taking a glance at it and returned to his bed laughing.

Right now, all he wanted to do was die and no one was going to stop him...

...

“Madam, how did your negotiation go?”

As soon as she heard Lu Che’s question, Tangning shook her head, “I don’t think I’ll be able to get this proud guy to move a muscle!”

“There aren’t many people that you can’t deal with...”

“There’s actually a lot that I can’t do,” Tangning replied. After all, she was just a bunch of blood and flesh, so there was a limit to what she could do. “Lu Che, tell someone to keep an eye on Bai Junye. I’m worried he might do something stupid again.”

“Yes, Madam.”

Chapter 1119: Strange Tastes

Mo Ting returned home and heard about Tangning’s cold reception at the hospital earlier that day, so he decided to comfort her, “Take your time with him. After all, it’s difficult to wake up a demotivated person. If he needs some time to think things over, we can’t stop him.”

“We should have discovered him earlier. That way his talent wouldn’t have gone to waste.”

After hearing what his wife said, Mo Ting stretched out his hand and grabbed Tangning’s chin. He then asked seductively, “Who did you want to discover earlier?”

After a moment of surprise, Tangning quickly realized that President Mo was being jealous, “President Mo, you’re not that petty, are you?”

“What do you think?”

Tangning did not respond. She simply wrapped her arms around Mo Ting’s waist and ran her hands across the firm muscles on his body.

“Are you still upset?”

“There’s not enough sincerity!” Mo Ting evaluated in a deep voice before he carried Tangning into the kitchen.

“Why aren’t we heading into the bedroom?” Tangning gasped as Mo Ting placed her on the kitchen bench.

“Don’t you think that the bedroom is too far?”

The couple had already been married for a long time, so they were no longer shy when it came to activities like this. But, of course, to prevent the two little devils from walking into the kitchen, Mo Ting didn’t forget to lock the door.

In order not to make any sounds, Tangning had to try her best to control herself. She was helpless around this man. Even though he had demanded for her countless times, she was still willing.

By the time the couple finished, it was already deep into the night. After their show of love, Tangning lay in Mo Ting’s arms and fell asleep.

Mo Ting was satisfied as he carried his beloved wife back to their bedroom. He then took her into the bathroom and helped her wash off before he placed her on the bed so she could sleep the night away.

Afterwards, he cleaned himself up and headed downstairs to check if the three kids had been doing anything naughty.

When he was finally ready to go to sleep, Mo Ting climbed into bed. But, at that moment, he noticed that Tangning had a few missed calls on her phone. Seeing that they were from Lu Che, he gently picked up the phone and called him back, "What's the matter?"

"President, the Madam told me to keep an eye on Bai Junye. But, who would have thought he'd end up slitting his wrists again tonight. He is currently in emergency."

"Which hospital are you at?" Mo Ting asked.

"Beijing hospital."

"Get ready to keep everything under wraps. I'll be right there."

Perhaps, Bai Junye treated Tangning's visit as a joke. After all, he was dedicated to his art and was too proud to accept that a woman could save him and give him a new opportunity. But, would things be different if a man spoke to him instead?

So, after giving Tangning a kiss, Mo Ting quickly got changed and headed out the door.

As usual, he wore a vintage striped suit that made him look prestigious and proper. After he arrived at the hospital, Lu Che immediately led him into Bai Junye's room. He had just been resuscitated.

Amidst the darkness, the man noticed Mo Ting walking into the room and laughed, "Here comes another one. This time, my visitor is even more above average."

Mo Ting did not respond straight away as he walked over to the window. He then said, "Your daughter wouldn't want you to do this."

"How would you know?"

"Because I also have a daughter!" Mo Ting replied.

"I'm curious why, in the middle of the night, you're not at home hugging your wife to sleep. Instead, you're here in my hospital room."

"She's indeed sleeping, but I received a phone call that you tried to commit suicide again, so I came to see you. You're the first man I know of, that lives his life in such a sissy way," Mo Ting evaluated. "I won't stop you if you try to kill yourself again, but please find a quiet place where you can enjoy the feelings of death on your own."

"In other words, don't let my wife know about it, or she will continue to save you."

"Did you think you're leaving something behind with your cynical ways? No one is going to remember you."

"Go ahead and die quietly. Perhaps, after you're dead, no one would even be there to identify your corpse!"

Bai Junye laughed at Mo Ting's words, "I've noticed that you and your wife are quite interesting people. One of you wants me to live, while the other wants me to hurry and die."

"I simply don't want her to waste her time on someone that's about to die."

"Well, I'm sorry, I'm not going to die yet!" Bai Junye said stubbornly. "Tangning's looking for a director, right? I'll go be her director. When I steal her away from you, you'll want me to die even more."

"As a director, you're not bad. But, I'm sorry, my wife is straight, she doesn't like women and especially dislikes sissy men!"

After saying that, Mo Ting turned and left.

Bai Junye didn't want to admit defeat, so he wanted to respond, but Mo Ting did not give him the chance.

As a man, Mo Ting's life was something that every man admired. After all, he managed to turn himself into the king of entertainment. So, for Bai Junye, having the chance to talk to the king wasn't a bad feeling.

At the same time, he gathered from his conversation with Mo Ting that Tangning was keeping an eye on him so he wouldn't die...

It seemed, Tangning would go to any lengths to find herself a suitable director. But...as someone that only worked with art, Bai Junye had no interest in sci-fi.

Besides, there were so many skilled and well-reputed directors in the industry, why didn't Tangning go look for them? Why was she so determined to work with this poor youth? Her tastes were a little strange! However, Bai Junye did feel that it was quite fun to tease the couple...

Unfortunately, this seemed like the only joy that remained in his life. If he continued to live, he still had a mountain of debts to pay off. The thought of it made him want to die all over again.

...

Tangning didn't know that Mo Ting had met with Bai Junye. After preparing breakfast in the morning, she returned to the bedroom to find Mo Ting was still fast asleep; this was a strange sight. Mo Ting had always been a well disciplined person, but why was he still asleep?

She assumed he wasn't feeling well, but he was actually awake and was simply exhausted from the night before.

"I was about to check your temperature because I thought you caught a cold."

Mo Ting sat up and shook his head, "Give Lu Che a phone call and tell him to postpone my video conference."

"OK, go have a bath," Tangning picked up Mo Ting's phone to call Lu Che. But, just as she was about to select his number, she heard a loud cry from downstairs. Tangning immediately ran downstairs to find the two brothers on the ground with Mo Zixi on top of Mo Zichen.

The two of them had fallen over and Mo Zixi was bawling his eyes out. On the other hand, Mo Zichen, who was lying beneath him, did not make a sound. As Mo Zichen had fallen on his side, there was a small bloody cut on his left cheekbone.

Tangning was so shocked, she immediately called out to her husband upstairs, "Ting...hurry, Zichen's hurt."

As soon as Mo Ting heard Tangning's cries, he immediately sent the two kids to the hospital. Luckily, the cut wasn't too deep. But, even so, it still required a few stitches and had the possibility of leaving a scar.

"It's my fault. I tried to be cautious, but I still couldn't ensure their safety!" Tangning blamed herself for her son's injury.

"You've already done your best!" Mo Ting immediately comforted.

However, no one knew that the entire accident had nothing to do with Mo Zichen. The truth was, he had actually spotted his brother toppling backwards and quickly threw himself underneath...

Chapter 1120: In This World, There Was Only Tangning! !

Unfortunately, Mo Zichen's injury wasn't as simple as Tangning thought because, soon after, his left eye began to turn red. In response, Tangning had no choice but to send him back in for another examination.

"A foreign object may have entered your child's eye and caused damage to the retina. If the situation worsens, he may even lose his sight. He will need to attend treatment sessions for a while."

"But he's still so small," Tangning froze after hearing from the doctor.

"Mrs. Mo, since it's happened already, you need to relax and let your child go through with his treatment," the pediatric doctor comforted.

Tangning turned around and looked at Mo Ting in a panic, "Everything was originally fine, how did things suddenly turn out this way? He's still so small. If I had watched the kids properly, this wouldn't have happened."

Mo Ting could hear the panic in Tangning's voice, so he quickly patted her on the back to comfort her, "Zichen will be fine. Look at him, he still hasn't cried."

"You're right, it's so strange. Another child would be crying like crazy if they were in his position and seriously hurt like this, but he hasn't made a sound," the doctor said as she looked at Mo Zichen confusedly. "It seems, he's not very sensitive to pain."

But, the fact that Mo Zichen wasn't crying was exactly the reason why Tangning was suffering, "It was my responsibility and I didn't take care of them properly."

Seeing the way that Tangning was blaming herself, Mo Ting suddenly felt regret. They should have never had children.

Tangning had always viewed Mo Ting and her sons' lives as more important than her own. So, now that Zichen was hurt, she naturally threw all the blame on herself.

And she was truly frightened.

With this thought, Mo Ting decided to call Bai Lihua and Xia Yuling over, "Mom, Zichen's been injured, could the two of you take him home and care for him for a little while?"

"What happened?" Xia Yuling quickly asked. "What kind of injury is it? Is it serious?"

"Just come and pick him up."

"OK, we'll come to the hospital right away," Xia Yuling was in a panic after she heard that her grandson was injured, so she immediately dropped everything she was doing and headed to the hospital with Bai Lihua.

"Moms, why are you here?" Tangning jumped out of her seat when she saw the two mothers arrive.

"You're well aware of why we're here. A friend told me you were at the hospital and that Zichen was injured. That's why we rushed over here," Xia Yuling said with a slight sense of blame. "Since Lihua and I have a lot of free time on our hands, leave Zichen with us to take care of. You can leave Zixi with us as well. You can focus on taking care of Yan Er."

"Mom..."

"What? You don't think we can handle it?" Xia Yuling acted tough. "It's decided, just come over once a week to check on them."

"Xiao Ning, don't blame your mom for being too harsh, she is honestly doing it for your own good. Look at yourself, Zichen is a young child so it's normal for him to get injuries, yet you're so flustered," Bai Lihua said as she patted Tangning on the back of her hand. "You've placed too much priority on Mo Ting and the kids, you should think about yourself sometimes."

"Leave the twins with us, don't worry."

"When they're a little older, you can take them back. Besides, this will save us from running back and forth as well. You can take care of Yan Er. It's always better for a daughter to stick to her mother."

"Mom..."

"It's set, don't worry, I can guarantee that Zichen's eye will completely recover!"

Tangning could not retaliate, she simply looked at Mo Ting with a rare sense of helplessness. So, Mo Ting patted her on the back of the head, "Trust mom."

"OK..."

By sending the kids away, Tangning didn't have to see them. If she didn't see them, then she wouldn't feel guilty. That was the only way to soothe Mo Ting's broken heart.

As he looked at his wife's helpless expression, Mo Ting felt like his heart was being pierced by needles.

Sometimes, when one loved another deeply, their entire life would be affected by them.

This was because the couple's impact on each other was too frightening...

Soon, Zichen went in for his first round of treatment. His little eye was covered by a bandage, but he still didn't cry; it was as though nothing had happened. After the treatment, Bai Lihua and Xia Yuling carried the twins home, leaving Mo Ting to comfort Tangning.

No matter how tough she appeared to the public, she was just an average mother.

After returning home, Tangning stared at the little beds that belonged to her boys. Did today's incident mean that she couldn't take care of her kids properly, even though she appeared so tough?

"Look at how you're acting right now. How are you supposed to take care of the kids like this? Now that you feel guilty towards Zichen, you're bound to subconsciously neglect Zixi. Eventually, the kids will sense the unfairness. So, it's good that they went with our mothers."

Tangning turned around and hugged Mo Ting, "I know you called them to come take the kids..."

Mo Ting froze.

"I also know you were afraid that I'd feel guilty. I don't know why I'm acting this way. Whenever something involves you or the kids, I can't help but feel worried."

"You must be feeling bad too. My level of guilt must be equivalent to your level of self-blame."

"You should stop spoiling me! I know you have much more on your shoulders and you're suffering more than I am, yet you never speak about it..."

"I'm used to it," Mo Ting comforted. "You're stressing too much. Everything will be fine. Zichen will recover. Trust me, OK?"

At that moment, Tangning suddenly felt a rush of courage as she peeked out from Mo Ting's embrace and said, "I'm fine now."

"You're just a silly woman that's acting tough."

Mo Ting couldn't do anything about Tangning.

So, to draw her mind away from the incident as quickly as possible, Mo Ting woke up the sleeping Yan Er and encouraged his wife to rediscover her confidence as a mother.

Afterwards, Mo Ting worked late into the night to finalize the script for 'The Ant Queen 2' and handed it to Tangning the next morning.

"Take a look at this."

Tangning didn't even get the chance to feel unhappy about the previous night before Mo Ting placed the script for 'The Ant Queen 2' in her hands. After that, he headed to Hai Rui, where he ended up falling asleep at his office desk.

When Lu Che walked in and saw Mo Ting sleeping, he did not disturb him. Instead, he snuck out, closed the door and notified the other staff to not go in.

It was obvious who Mo Ting had exhausted himself for.

In this world, there was only Tangning!

So, Lu Che called Tangning to check on Mo Ting's condition, "Madam, did the President stay up last night?"

"What?"

"He's been sleeping in his office all day. I've been too scared to disturb him."

Tangning glanced down at the script in her hands before she realized what was going on. What had Mo Ting done for her this time...?
