

Work Hard 771

Chapter 771: Bai Yu Is Eliminated !

Bai Yu thought someone would come out and comfort her – even if it was just a couple of sentences. But, the other 4 people were on the same page; they simply blocked their ears and pretended to hear nothing. They treated Bai Yu like a crazy person and had no intention of giving her any attention.

So, Bai Yu's act went to waste. However, she woke up early the next morning before everyone else to prepare breakfast.

That's right, she used everyone's precious ingredients to prepare a big sumptuous breakfast.

After Huangfu Shuo saw it, he simply sneered and did not say a word. Afterwards the old singer woke up. The first thing he did was take his pet, which he had brought along, for a walk nearby.

Lastly, the young couple woke up and had a quick shower.

As soon as they saw the breakfast that Bai Yu had prepared, they simply looked at each other. Although they didn't say a word, they knew what the other was thinking...

"Everyone's awake. That's great! I've prepared breakfast," Bai Yu said as she smiled at everyone. "Hurry over and eat. After we finish eating, we can continue moving forward."

Bai Yu was waiting for praise from everyone, but no one was willing to do that. The young woman even sat beside her and asked, "I see we have breakfast, but what about lunch? You've used up all our ingredients."

Bai Yu froze and pointed to one of the cameramen, "Isn't our food going to be restocked?"

"Miss Bai, before you came on this show, did you properly read through the rules? Who told you that you'd get outside assistance when you're trying to survive in the wild?"

Bai Yu was rendered speechless as her eyes began to turn red, "I saw that everyone had put in so much work, so I tried to give everyone a reward. I even woke up extra early..."

"Then you've sure worked hard. You can eat the breakfast on your own, we need to hurry ahead. Since your foot is injured, you can stay in this safe spot and we'll come back to find you."

"My foot is fine already," Bai Yu immediately stood up after hearing her teammates wanted to leave her behind again. She then took a few steps to show that she was OK.

"Great, since that's the case, let's all eat a little and hurry out to find more hints," the young man acted like nothing had happened as he reminded everyone to refuel their bodies.

In the end, Bai Yu got what she wished for and was allowed to move forward with the team. However, she still needed to carry her own luggage.

In reality, without the food and the tents, the weight that everyone had to carry was a lot less. But, Bai Yu was still easily tired and had to take a rest every few steps.

Everyone else went in search for hints, but Bai Yu ran around like a headless chicken. As she followed behind her teammates, she felt her existence was easily dispensable.

“We finally found one number, we still have three to find. If we can’t find it before night hits, then we fail.”

“But I’m hungry and there’s no food left in our backpacks. Everything was used for breakfast,” the young woman said as she gazed at Bai Yu.

“I really didn’t do it on purpose,” Bai Yu immediately apologized.

“Forget it. It’s normal to come across accidents when trying to survive in the wild. We can’t blame Yu Jie. Let’s go. We need to continue moving forward,” the young man immediately tried to relieve the situation.

“But, we need to climb up the mountain to find hints...” In other words, the young woman didn’t want to take Bai Yu with them. Taking her was worse than taking the old singer. Although the old singer didn’t have as much energy as those younger than him, he was at least witty and often came in handy. Whereas, Bai Yu was simply here as a joke.

“I can keep going...” Bai Yu immediately said. “I won’t hold you guys back.”

The young woman looked at the young man and the young man looked into the distance.

Meanwhile, Huangfu Shuo had been following behind the old singer from beginning to end. So, they continued forward with mutual understanding.

In the end, the young woman helplessly said to Bai Yu, “Hurry up then.”

The road up to the mountain was difficult to begin with. But, in order to wait for Bai Yu, everyone’s progress was slowed down. In the end, the young woman couldn’t take it anymore and suggested that she’d go ahead. To protect his partner, the young man also sped up.

Noticing that the couple wanted to win so badly, Bai Yu offered, “You guys can run ahead, I’ll hold everything so you can save some time.”

The young woman rolled her eyes. Couldn’t Bai Yu stop with her act? Even at a time like this she was trying to display her fake thoughtfulness.

At this time, the helicopter arranged by the programme lowered before them. It was finally time to eliminate a member. The young woman had been looking forward to this moment. She must have been extremely unlucky to have ended up on this show with Bai Yu.

The staff handed each of the guests a pen and a paper and explained, “Write down the piece of baggage or person that you want to get rid of. Otherwise, if you want to continue as a team, this is the time to make your decision.”

Bai Yu looked at everyone. She understood how this show worked, the team would definitely advance together without abandoning anyone. So, she gave up her vote and didn’t write any name down.

Soon, the staff gathered everyone's papers and announced, "It is now time to reveal the results. You must all prepare yourselves to be eliminated at any time..."

Bai Yu did not worry at all, but everyone else knew exactly what was going to happen.

Afterwards, the staff randomly picked a paper and began revealing the results.

"Bai Yu to be eliminated, one vote."

Bai Yu was a little stunned as she smiled at everyone awkwardly and shook her hands, "It's fine, it's fine."

Following on, the staff opened the second piece of paper and revealed a smile with deep meaning, "Bai Yu to be eliminated, two votes."

"I never thought that you guys were so displeased by me."

"Bai Yu to be eliminated, three votes! I don't think it's necessary to reveal the last vote. Bai Yu's elimination is already a certainty. Are you all sure that this is the result you want to see?" the staff asked.

Everyone looked at each other and nodded in sync.

As a result, Bai Yu was officially eliminated!

Bai Yu never expected, after so many years of broadcasting the show, she was the first celebrity to be voted out by her teammates. That's right, she was eliminated. In other words, everything going forward had nothing to do with her.

"I know I've caused a lot of trouble, that's why you guys dislike me. But, am I really as bad as you think I am?"

The young woman didn't say anything, while Huangfu Shuo knelt down to play with the old singer's dog and the old singer studied the hints. Finally, the young man replied, "You're suited to being an actress and suited to the glitz and glamor, but you aren't suitable for any reality TV shows, because from beginning to end, you've simply been putting on an act."

"Bai Yu, please board the helicopter."

"Bai Yu, you have been eliminated."

In response, everyone that watched the programme let out a sigh, "Why is Bai Yu so fake?"

Chapter 772: Payback

"Out of all the celebrities that have ever participated in reality shows, I've never seen one that is so fake."

"She deserves to be eliminated. This is a show about teamwork, yet she keeps trying to show off while dragging everyone down. She must be crazy."

“From the start, she already appeared like she didn’t want to walk and wanted people to carry her. Unfortunately for her, no one fell for her trick.”

“Bai Yu’s personality is not bad, but she likes to show off too much. If I had a friend like her in real life, I would be quite frightened.”

“If I must be blatantly honest, she is a ‘green tea b*tch 1’ and ‘white lotus 2’.

“When I watched the second half of the episode without Bai Yu, everything was a lot more normal...”

Bai Yu wanted to display her high EQ in front of everyone. But, she was too self-obsessed. Who was going to accept this on a reality show? So, even though the viewers scolded her, she deserved it.

This made Bai Yu almost explode in front of the staff. Why didn’t they tell her that everyone was against her from the start? After she got off the helicopter, she rushed into the bathroom to release her anger.

Soon, her assistant came to take her away. After they boarded their van, Bai Yu swiped everything onto the floor. She even cut her assistant’s face with her phone.

However, she wasn’t aware that there were paparazzi trailing closely behind and her tantrum had been captured on camera.

Was this so-called high EQ and well tempered person about to fall apart?

Bai Yu was completely unaware of this as she continued to rush home. But, just as she opened her front door, she heard some noises coming from her bedroom. Bai Yu tilted her head and listened carefully before she threw open the bedroom door. That’s when she saw Bai Linlin and her husband lying in bed, kissing affectionately...

At that moment, Bai Yu stared into the room in shock. Especially at the two naked bodies. All of a sudden, she didn’t know how she was supposed to react.

“Honey, why are you home...”

Like a bolt out of the blue, Bai Yu finally realized what was happening as her face turned red. She was completely disgusted and humiliated. She never expected that her two closest people would be cheating behind her back.

“Bai Linlin, you are amazing. You actually seduced your brother-in-law!”

Seeing that she had been exposed, Bai Linlin did not hide anymore. She wrapped herself in the bedsheets and said straightforwardly to Bai Yu, “Sis, I’ll be honest with you. I’m already pregnant with brother-in-law’s child and we’ve decided to keep it!”

Bai Yu’s assistant was just standing in the doorway, yet Bai Linlin dared to speak with no restraint.

Bai Yu pushed her assistant out and stormed up to Bai Linlin to give her a slap, but she was stopped by the man in the room, “Bai Yu, that’s enough! Linlin’s pregnant!”

“So? Are you expecting me to bless the two of you, or are you expecting the three of us to live happily together? Let me tell you, it’s impossible. I will never let this child be born. Otherwise, the three of us will go down together.”

“Did you guys ever think about me when you decided to cheat?” Bai Yu cried. “Why? Why did it have to be my sister and my husband? Bai Linlin, have you no shame?”

“That’s enough,” Bai Yu’s husband grabbed onto her wrist and threw her away. “Since things have gotten to this point, let’s get a divorce. I will return to the US with Linlin.”

“Divorce?” Bai Yu stared at the man as tears rolled down her cheek. With a cold laugh, she said, “Impossible! I’d rather be destroyed together.”

“You’re impossible to reason with.” After speaking, the man grabbed onto Bai Linlin’s hand and dragged her out of the bedroom. Meanwhile, Bai Yu was left feeling empty. She was in so much pain that she couldn’t say a word.

Her assistant simply stood by the doorway. After seeing Bai Yu catch the two adulterers, she immediately approached her and asked, “Yu Jie, are you OK?”

“Are those two planning to live happily ever after? They must be dreaming.”

“But, Yu Jie, if you reveal it, you will be the one to lose out...”

Bai Yu’s image was already not as good as in the past. Especially after the recent reality show appearance. If she was to reveal that she was getting a divorce, it wouldn’t matter that her husband cheated, it would forever be an unerasable flaw in her life.

Bai Yu gripped onto her assistant’s arm. It was obvious that she was almost at her breaking point.

“Why? Why did God have to punish me in this way?”

However, this wasn’t all. Afterwards, the paparazzi released a video of Bai Yu chucking a tantrum and hurting her assistant. In an instant, her high EQ and approachable image collapsed like a building that had lost its foundation...

Seeing Bai Yu’s pitiful state, Tangning was calm. Ever since the incident with ‘Concubine Ning’, the distance between her and Bai Yu had gotten further and further apart. She no longer had to take Bai Yu to heart.

Even so, the people beside her felt like she had gotten payback from Bai Yu.

Above all, Long Jie received information that Bai Yu’s marriage was going through a change.

Of course, Tangning already knew about this since An Zihao had already given her the evidence. But, Tangning did not mention it to anyone.

If there was a rumor that Bai Yu's marriage was going through a change, then...

...she must have discovered what was going on between her husband and Bai Linlin.

The blow she received must have been apocalyptic.

"Hey, how come you had no reaction when I mentioned this matter?" Long Jie asked as she supported her belly.

"I should be the curious one. You're about to give birth. How could Lu Che let you wander around like this?" Tangning said as she glared at Long Jie. "Either way, I already knew about this matter long ago. I previously held it in my hand as a bargaining chip. I didn't expect Bai Yu to be destroyed like this. I had already forgotten about it."

"I don't think you forgot about it. You knew that you didn't need to personally make a move because Bai Yu was going to find out sooner or later," Long Jie snorted.

When going against an enemy, Tangning never held back.

"It's already like a living hell for Bai Yu. So, from now on, we don't need to waste our energy on her anymore."

Tangning still had a long way to go...

Whereas, Bai Yu, had reached her end.

The victor was apparent and there was no longer any need to dwell on the matter.

"That's right, you are the favorite for the Fei Tian Best Actress Award this year..." Long smiled. As she looked at Tangning at this moment, it felt like she was glowing with a bright aura.

"But, Guo Guo has been having a fever for last two days. The doctor said it's because he developed slowly in my stomach and didn't absorb enough nutrition. That's why he's weaker than Tang Tang." With everything that was going on, Tangning did not forget that she was the mother of two children.

Chapter 773: As Long As It Makes You Suffer

"Children are always like that, they have weak immune systems. So, there's no need to worry." After falling pregnant, Long Jie had become an expert in this aspect. "Either way, your family has so many people to help you take care of the kids. Your worries are uncalled for."

Tangning looked at the two sleeping rascals with a worrying look. No matter how many people they had at home to take care of them, no one could take the place of their mother. Regardless of everything, she would always worry about her babies.

After filming 'The Forensic Concubine', Tangning visited director Chen Feng once at the hospital. Seeing that his leg was recovering, she felt a lot more relieved.

"I originally thought that the broadcast of 'The Forensic Concubine' would be affected because there are a few important scenes that haven't been filmed yet. I never expected President Mo to adjust the sequence of events so that the drama would end on the climactic scene where Jun Yilan is forced to step down from his throne. There's actually ten episodes left to film. What a pity," Director Chen Feng said regretfully. "Because that last little bit wasn't filmed, we couldn't broadcast it."

"Everyone felt that the ending created a unique vibe. Although it wasn't as complete as the novel, it's still a great production," Tangning replied with a smile.

Director Chen Feng also smiled before he looked at Tangning seriously.

"Does Director Chen have something to say?"

Director Chen Feng pulled out a script from under his pillow and handed it to Tangning. He then said in a very careful voice, "I recommended you for this production. If you take part in this film, I think your portrayal would make it extremely spectacular."

Tangning looked at the script, the film was called 'Survivor'.

"This film is based on a true story about a plane crash that happened in Beijing 20 years ago. I've read through the script already. The main character is well-rounded and intriguing. That's why I recommended you. Go home and look through it in detail before you make a decision."

"Thank you Director Chen."

"Probably, throughout the entire film, you won't get the chance to wear a single piece of clean clothing or eat a decent meal, and let's not even talk about your appearance; you are going to appear like a crazy woman. A lot of actresses are too afraid to take on this role, in fear that their image would be destroyed. But, I believe in you."

Director Chen Feng believed that the Tangning that changed careers to acting, would not worry about her image if she came across a good role.

Tangning gave Chen Feng her sincere promise. But, unlike before, the feeling of holding this script was heavy.

This was a film based on a true story. If she accepted the role, she would have a new mission entrusted upon her. It felt like a huge responsibility.

A disaster film like this was similar to 'W.H.', but also had its differences. 'W.H.' relied on imagination and created a visual impact and experience, but 'Survivor' was different. This was a true story; it had happened before. So, her aim was to make it feel realistic.

However, Tangning had no idea that 'Survivor' was about to set a new record for box office sales and she was to reach new heights because of this film. But, of course, that was to happen a little later.

After returning home, Tangning handed the script to Mo Ting, "Old Chen gave this to me..."

Mo Ting put down the documents in his hand and had a flip through the script, "Old Chen really understands you."

"So you agree that I should film 'Survivor'?"

“What reason do I have to reject it?” Mo Ting asked.

Tangning didn't know why, but the thought of taking on this film made her excited. She even walked into the nursery to hug and kiss her babies. Others may not have understood why, but Mo Ting understood Tangning's every thought. 'Survivor' posed a good challenge and was an extremely attractive role for Tangning.

In fact, Mo Ting had a feeling...

...this film was going to make Tangning into the indisputable Queen of the Film Industry!

'Survivor' was produced by the National Film Association and was affiliated with the Beijing government. So, when they were recruiting actors, they clearly noted that the pay was going to be low and the main actress' image may be ruined.

With such a depressing topic and a variety of restrictions, plenty of actresses turned the other way. But, Tangning, straight out agreed to it, without any requests regarding pay or image.

As a result, they officially announced that Tangning was the female lead of 'Survivor'. But, this was within most people's expectations. When it came to a challenging role like this, Tangning was expected to jump at it even if she had to be old, ugly and receive no pay. In fact, she may even pay for it instead.

So, the public came to a conclusion about Tangning, “No wonder she managed to receive everyone's acknowledgment in such a short amount of time. As long as there is a good script, she would go for it regardless of the consequences.”

“Tangning has a thirst for good scripts. Of course...this also means that we are guaranteed a good script.”

“Haha, an actress like Tangning should be classified as a national treasure. We never have to worry about her repeating the same role, so her projects always fill us with anticipation.”

Most people in the industry had high hopes for Tangning's participation in 'Survivor'. But, of course, there were a few that disliked it.

“I refuse to believe that there is really an actress who doesn't care about her image. Just wait for it, I'm sure Tangning will regret it.”

“For a film like this, if an actress doesn't portray it well, she will be destroying her career. It's no surprise if she ends up being flooded with criticism.”

“Does she really think that she's a national treasure actress? Isn't she overestimating herself?”

Regardless of everything else, the news of Tangning filming 'Survivor' attracted a huge amount of reactions. Meanwhile...what was Bai Yu doing at this time?

Ever since she discovered Bai Linlin and her husband having an affair, she didn't seem to hate Tangning as much as before. No matter how much she hated Tangning, at least Tangning never stole her husband or broke apart her family.

Thinking of what had happened, Bai Yu felt extremely disgusted.

Especially since, after things were laid out on the table, Bai Linlin and her husband, Jeff, had become even more fearless in front of her. Yet, as a public figure, there was nothing she could do to get justice for herself.

“While the mood hasn’t gone sour yet, it’s best that you sign our divorce papers. Otherwise, both of us will only look bad.”

Bai Yu wanted to kick Jeff out of the house, but the house belonged to him, so she had no right. Yet, if she was to leave, she was sure that Bai Linlin would claim ownership of the place without feeling any sense of guilt. If that happened, she would be dreaming if she thought she could ever return again...

“Even if I break up with Linlin, I can’t continue to be with you.”

“I can. As long as it makes you suffer, I can do anything...”

Chapter 774: If They Want To Keep The Child, They Must Be Dreaming !

At this time, Bai Linlin sauntered out of the bedroom and said to Bai Yu, “Sis, is it necessary for you to be like this?”

“Shut your mouth! You have no right to speak!” Bai Yu growled.

“Jeff has wanted to be a father for a long time. But, for the sake of your career, you’ve never had a child for him. Well, it doesn’t matter now because he has me. You can continue focusing on your career while I take good care of him,” Bai Linlin said as she leaned into Jeff’s arms and flaunted her prowess.

Bai Yu glared at Bai Linlin for some time. Finally, through her gritted teeth, she yelled, “Slut!”

“Sign the papers!” Jeff once again shoved the divorce papers in front of Bai Yu and forcefully pulled her hand towards the section that needed to be signed.

“Get lost you adulterers; you couple of cheating dogs; you’re practically not human!” Bai Yu screamed loudly as she tore the divorce papers apart and threw the pen in her hand to the side.

“You’ll need to sign it sooner or later,” Jeff glared at Bai Yu patiently before he headed back into the bedroom with Bai Linlin in his arms – right in front of Bai Yu’s eyes.

Bai Yu threw things at the door in anger. The hatred in her heart was already through the roof.

She never imagined that a lame novel plot would happen to her in real life. When the story was about someone else, it was easy to laugh, but when it happened to her, she wanted so badly to kill the cheap couple inside the room.

They were so cheap!

If they wanted to keep the child, they were dreaming!

She knew Bai Linlin better than anyone. She was young, vain and enjoyed being sought after. As a result, making Bai Linlin lose her baby didn't seem like such a hard task. With this thought, Bai Yu pulled out her phone and gave a familiar person a phone call.

Soon, Bai Linlin received a phone call inviting her to an audition.

An audition!

Bai Linlin never expected that someone would still remember her.

So, she happily told Jeff, "Honey, I will be attending a banquet tomorrow night because a director invited me to take part in his film."

As soon as Jeff heard this, he immediately scolded, "You're currently pregnant. How can you go film anything?"

"Tangning also acted while she was pregnant, why can't I? Don't worry, I will take good care of our baby. Just let me meet with the director. Even if it's just a quick meeting, it would at least satisfy my dream," Bai Linlin pressed her palms together sincerely. "I promise I won't accept the job. I'm just going to have dinner. Simply knowing that someone remembers me is enough."

"After we move to the US, all you have to do is give birth to the baby. Afterwards, I can also find something for you to act in and make you famous. Why must you be so impatient?"

"Hubby...just let me go..."

"As you wish," Jeff was helpless as he opened the door and left. However, Bai Linlin had no idea that she had fallen into Bai Yu's trap.

So, the next day in the afternoon, just as she left the house, she deliberately flaunted in front of Bai Yu, "I don't think anyone would want to work with my sis at the moment, would they? After all, her perfect image has been destroyed."

"But, what should I do, sis? Director Qin invited me to an audition. Although it's just a small role, doesn't that mean I at least have half a chance and you have none?" Bai Linlin circled around in front of Bai Yu as she scanned her from top to bottom. "Sorry, sis, I didn't mean to steal everything from you. But, I like brother-in-law too much. So, I think you should just let go."

"Otherwise...you will be even more pitiful than you are now. I can guarantee that."

After speaking, Bai Linlin left the house. Meanwhile, Bai Yu's gaze followed her with deep meaning...

Jeff had no way of stopping Bai Linlin, because if he did, they would end up in an argument. This was one aspect which he would never understand about women. Bai Linlin was obviously pregnant, yet she still wanted to attend a banquet.

Director Qin liked Bai Yu, so he did this favor for her and invited Bai Linlin. Accompanying him were a few other members of staff.

Bai Linlin felt like she was being valued and actually thought that someone wanted her in their film, so even when they forced her to drink, she accepted every glass that came her way. This was because she didn't want to reveal that she was pregnant. If they found out, not only would she lose her chance at an audition, they would likely turn around and leave straight away.

So, that night, Bai Linlin drank a decent amount of spirits and arrived home stinking of alcohol.

Jeff immediately erupted in anger as he grabbed Bai Linlin's wrist and asked, "Did you drink alcohol?"

"I only drank a little bit..." Bai Linlin mumbled in an annoyed tone. However, before she knew it, Jeff threw a slap across her face.

"F*ck you, you crazy woman. You're pregnant, yet you drank alcohol? Do you have no common sense?"

"So what if I drank alcohol? Isn't the baby fine in the end?"

Jeff let out a cold laugh. He suddenly realized that both the Bai sisters, whether big or small, were not normal.

So, he decided to ignore Bai Linlin. But, a little while later, Bai Linlin suddenly clutched her stomach and began to cry, "Jeff, Jeff...my stomach hurts..."

Jeff looked down at Bai Linlin and realized she was already sitting in a pool of blood...

From the looks of it, the baby was gone.

The baby hadn't even formed yet and this b*tch went out drinking...

Didn't she deserve this pain?

"Jeff, save me...It hurts."

However, Jeff did not do a thing as he shook off her hand and said, "Save you? Who could you blame for drinking while you're pregnant? B*tch, you are the same as your sister. You are both sl*ts. Since you didn't listen to me, I'm not going to save you. You can fend for yourself!"

After speaking, Jeff left the room, leaving Bai Linlin lying on the floor, crying in pain.

"Sis...save me, save me."

"Of course I'll save you. But first, I want you to have a good taste of this pain..." Bai Yu crossed her arms and stood quietly in the doorway until Bai Linlin fainted from the pain. Only then did she call the ambulance.

Afterwards, Bai Linlin was sent to the hospital. Of course, the child could not be saved. But, more importantly, she ended up attracting a whole heap of reporters.

This time, Bai Yu did not avoid the questions as she answered the reporters honestly.

She did not take everything into consideration and tread carefully like she did in the past. This time, she decided to be herself!

Chapter 775: She Deserved To Have A Miscarriage

“Bai Yu, may we ask if Bai Linlin actually had a miscarriage? Did she fall pregnant out of wedlock? Can you tell us who the father is?”

Under normal circumstances, whenever reporters asked such sharp questions, no artist ever responded because it was too bad mannered.

So, the reporters never expected Bai Yu to actually answer. Most of their questions were simply used to create an effect.

However, while facing the black sea of cameras, Bai Yu broke her initial silence, “That’s right, Bai Linlin was pregnant.”

After hearing her answer, the reporters looked at each other and continued asking, “In that case, who is the father?”

“How did Bai Linlin have a miscarriage?”

“Why did she have a miscarriage?” After hearing these questions, Bai Yu felt quite amused, “She’s a homewrecker, so she deserves to have a miscarriage.”

The reporters had never seen Bai Yu like this before. She always maintained a kind image in front of the cameras and displayed a high EQ. But for some reason, this time, Bai Yu spoke with no restraint like she had turned into another person.

Bai Linlin was a homewrecker that deserved to have a miscarriage!

Even if that was true, Bai Linlin was still her sister...

Didn’t Bai Yu’s heart ache at all?

“Miss Bai, could you explain it in more detail? Who’s family did Bai Linlin step her foot into?”

After hearing this question, Bai Yu gestured for the cameras to point towards Bai Linlin, “Please point your cameras towards that person and remember the consequences of ruining another person’s family. She didn’t ruin an outsiders family, she ruined her own sister’s family.”

“While I wasn’t around, she seduced my husband and had an affair with him...”

“After I return home, I will officially announce my divorce. I know this announcement will turn me into a laughing stock in the industry, so I won’t be sticking around. I will be returning to the US. But, before I leave, I hope to see these two adulterers get their deserved scolding and punishment.”

“Although Bai Linlin is my sister, I have no intention to forgive her for what she’s done. In fact, from now onwards, she will no longer be my sister.”

“As for the details of how she cheated, I think it’s best if you ask her yourself. From now on, I hope you can leave me alone. I don’t want anything, except for peace. I hope you can fulfill this simple request.” After speaking, Bai Yu pushed away the reporters in front of her and left the hospital with her chest held high.

She had wanted to cause trouble like this for a long time. For a very long time...

After putting on an act for so long and after so many years, she had had enough. So, the current situation came at exactly the right time.

Plus, she was actually convinced by Tangning. Not only did Tangning know how to be a proper person and have good acting skills, she never did anything wrong to anyone. So, her life was honest and forthright. In comparison, Bai Yu had done so many incorrect things that discovering her husband cheating, felt a little like she deserved it.

Perhaps, she had really done too many wrong things...

After being honest this time, she actually felt a lot more relaxed.

Soon, Bai Yu returned home to pack her bags. But, Jeff suddenly appeared in the living room and tried to stop her, “Honey, what are you trying to do?”

“Unfortunately, it’s too late,” Bai Yu replied coldly. “You and Bai Linlin – the sl*t – can huddle up together and die. I’ve already signed our divorce papers.” After saying what she needed to say, Bai Yu dragged her luggage behind her and left. Meanwhile, the man behind her flipped a chair in regret.

It had ended. Everything had come to an end.

After preparing all her luggage, Bai Yu returned to the US. But, before she left, she wrote Tangning a note.

After receiving the note at Hai Rui, Mo Ting took it home to show Tangning.

It was odd to receive something from one’s enemy, but nevertheless, Tangning opened the envelope to see the contents of the note.

It actually wasn’t much. The note simply read, “You’ve won. You’ve won fair and square.”

“She was betrayed twice, so the pain is definitely deep,” Mo Ting explained seriously. He remembered how Tangning had changed into a different person in the past because of Han Yufan’s betrayal and started afresh. So, the power of hatred could not be underestimated.

“Bai Yu is smart, she’ll pull through this obstacle quickly,” Tangning put down the envelope. Of course, she continued to pay close attention to Bai Linlin’s fate.

At this moment, the hospital was already completely surrounded. Bai Linlin was all on her own, so after waking up, all she could do was stare at the mirror in a daze. Everything had been exposed. For a girl in her early 20's, being scolded by the entire nation for being a mistress, was not something that an average person could handle.

Worst of all was the jerk that had hurt the two sisters...

"The industry is such a mess. Bai Yu was only on a TV programme a few days ago and now she's about to retreat from the industry. The feeling of being betrayed by her own sister must be difficult to handle."

"Bai Linlin is such a b*tch. How could she seduce her brother-in-law behind her sister's back? If I was in Bai Yu's position, I would make her life a living hell."

"But, wasn't Bai Yu trying to keep up her kind girl-next-door image? It seems, as soon as she caught her sister and husband cheating, she couldn't be bothered putting on an act anymore."

"The two sisters aren't anything good. But, Bai Linlin is even worse than Bai Yu."

According to Long Jie, after Bai Yu left Beijing, her jerk husband also flew back to the US and Bai Linlin became known as a tramp. Without staying in the hospital for long, Bai Linlin ended up disappearing without a trace. It seemed, she couldn't handle the pressure and decided to hide. A few days later, it was rumored that Bai Linlin had gone crazy. Of course, whether it was true or she was putting on an act, she only had herself to blame.

In comparison, Chen Xingyan's career was advancing a lot more steadily. However, no one's path was ever smooth sailing.

Chen Xingyan was lucky thanks to An Zihao's impressive efforts. Recently, she had been receiving roles that were more and more important and her screentime had increased. However, in comparison to Tangning, she still had a long way to go.

"Turn down any jobs that you have tonight. Let's go on a secret date."

An Zihao noticed that Chen Xingyan had been working really hard recently and didn't whine about getting compensation, so he decided to agree.

Chen Xingyan was filled with joy as she rushed off to make preparations. But, just as she opened her front door, she was shocked by the man standing in the doorway.

The man that had disappeared from her life since she was 6 years old, was suddenly alive and well in front of her, holding onto the hand of a 10 or so year old boy.

"Xingyan..."

Chen Xingyan didn't understand what was happening in front of her. She simply stood frozen in place until An Zihao finally approached her from behind and held onto her.

"How did you find this place?"

Chapter 776: The Sick Mo Ting

The filming conditions of 'Survivor' were tough as expected. In order to film it well, apart from taking care of her babies, Tangning's remaining time was spent on training her body. As a result, she began to look more and more healthy and the abs on her stomach became more and more apparent.

After the incident with Bai Yu, peace was slowly restored to the entertainment industry in Beijing.

While preparing for her role, Tangning updated her fans, every now and then, on her status.

However, one month before the filming of 'Survivor', Mo Ting experienced a few episodes of tinnitus due to stress.

Mo Ting wanted to keep it a secret, so of course, Tangning was unaware of this. At the same time, Lu Che had taken some time off to accompany Long Jie during her labor, so Mo Ting was the only one that knew of his own condition.

That night, after feeding the babies, Tangning stood behind Mo Ting and mentioned that Chen Xingyan's father had suddenly returned. However, to her surprise, Mo Ting did not respond. So, Tangning yelled a couple of times questioningly. But, not only did Mo Ting not hear a thing, as he leaned against one of the cribs, he slowly fell asleep.

Seeing this, Tangning's heart ached.

To the outside world, Mo Ting was the decision-maker at Hai Rui. From morning to night, there were a countless number of decisions waiting for him to make. Yet, when he returned home, he was the father of two children and needed to provide help at any time. Tangning had to feed the baby's every few hours and he accompanied by her side every single time.

Wasn't he tired?

Tangning put down the baby in her hands and approached Mo Ting's side. But, just as she reached out her hand to touch the man, she realized he hadn't simply fallen asleep. His entire body was heating up!

It was winter and the temperature was cold even though they had the heater on. So, Tangning felt bad when she thought about the way that Mo Ting had woke up multiple times throughout the night to take care of Guo Guo...

Therefore, she immediately gave Xia Yuling a phone call and asked her to come over to help with the kids. After Xia Yuling arrived, the two women worked together to carry Mo Ting up to the bedroom.

"Stop focusing on yourself all the time. You should take care of Mo Ting too. The kids are important, but does that mean the father isn't important?" Xia Yuling nagged. "From the moment you guys got married, Xiao Ting has not lacked in any aspect. You should take good care of his body. He works all day, yet he still has to worry about you when he gets home."

"I understand, mom. I'll leave the babies with you then."

"Take good care of him." After nagging, Xia Yuling headed downstairs to take care of her two grandsons.

Tangning immediately started changing Mo Ting's clothes and wiped him down. She then tried all different methods to help him lower his body temperature. But, he did not wake up and continued sleeping soundly.

As she watched Mo Ting sleep, Tangning began to reflect on herself.

All along, Mo Ting had endured too much for her. Yet, she was beginning to take it for granted. They were a married couple, so she never believed a man was born to protect a woman or to dote on a woman because no relationship ever lasted based on one-sided doting.

Other women dreamed of finding a rich and handsome guy to dote on them for the rest of their lives, but...

Love was based on reciprocation. If one side kept giving and enduring for a long period of time, the relationship was bound to come to an end. Men easily got tired too...

So, the reason why Tangning received so much love from Mo Ting was closely related to the fact that she was endlessly striving to improve and equally doted on him.

After all, Mo Ting was well aware that Tangning was also willing to sacrifice anything for him – even her life! Only when two people took each other into consideration would their relationship endure the test of time. Love was unforgiving towards selfishness.

Originally, with Mo Ting's level of tiredness, Tangning did not expect him to wake up. But, suddenly at 2am, he jolted awake and shocked Tangning who was sitting beside the bed.

"What's wrong?"

Seeing that Tangning was awake, Mo Ting sat up and looked around. After a few seconds, he finally asked, "Why are you still awake?"

"Did you know that you had a fever?" Tangning stood up from the sofa and leaned into Mo Ting's arms, "Did you know that you scared me?"

"I'm fine. I've just been a little busy lately."

"Why did you suddenly wake up?" Tangning did not believe him. It was obviously because he had stayed awake the precious night that he caught a cold and had a fever.

"We normally feed the rascals at this time," Mo Ting sighed. "It's probably become a part of my body clock, so my body naturally woke up at this time."

After hearing this, tears began to flow from Tangning's eyes, "How could you have so much love to give to our sons and I? Did you know that I am already drowning in your love?"

"So, the kids..."

"Mom is taking care of them," Tangning replied. "Tomorrow, I'm going to get Lu Che to book us tickets to the Maldives. Let's go and relax for a few days."

"I'm fine."

“You need some rest,” Tangning said in a serious tone. “I’m not discussing this with you. I’m telling you to listen to me...OK?”

Mo Ting looked deeply into Tangning’s eyes. In the end, he pulled her into his arms and replied, “Give me some time to distribute my work, OK?”

“OK,” Tangning nodded.

Sometimes, Tangning wondered if Mo Ting was so tired because she was too unrestrained. If she hadn’t chosen to return to filming and remained at home to take care of him and the kids, would things be a lot easier for him? So, after ‘Survivor’, Tangning had other plans.

Mo Ting looked down at Tangning and noticed there was something odd about the look in her eyes. Even in his current state, he was able to see through her with one look.

“Don’t think that I don’t know what you’re thinking. Don’t even think about returning to life at home,” Mo Ting warned as he wrapped his arm around Tangning’s neck.

Of course, Mo Ting would always be Mo Ting. Even though he was sick, he was still the domineering black-bellied king...

Tangning looked at Mo Ting in surprise. She then rubbed her cheek against his neck to confirm that his fever was gone before she let out a sigh of relief.

“You were born to be an actress. I won’t let you have any alternative ideas.”

“In that case, you need to guarantee that you will never get sick again,” Tangning threatened. “You must know how much my heart aches because of you.”

After hearing this, Mo Ting hugged Tangning tightly in his arms.

In this long and slow lifetime, he had once felt that time was difficult to endure. But, ever since being in love with Tangning, he felt that even if he was given another 100 years, he would not find it hard to endure at all.

So, Tangning wanted to go to the Maldives, right?

When he thought about it, the two of them hadn’t gone on a vacation for a long time...

But, of course, if the couple knew that a big incident would happen to those close to them while they were gone, then Tangning wouldn’t have been in such a rush to go overseas.

Meanwhile, Chen Xingyan’s father had returned...

However, Chen Xingyan did not feel an ounce of joy. Not only had her father remarried, he even had a 10-year-old son.

In fact, she was too scared to reveal this to Bai Lihua because...

“Xingyan, I’m sorry, but I need money!”

Chapter 777: You Are The Murderer's Daughter !

"If you need money, why don't you earn it yourself?" Chen Xingyan questioned.

"Don't talk to your father like that," An Zihao nudged Chen Xingyan's elbow reminding her not to say something wrong and hurt herself in the process.

"Am I not right? My father went missing when I was 6-years-old. He got into an accident and couldn't find his way home. Can't you just let me continue believing that?" Chen Xingyan asked the man in front of her with teary eyes.

In reality, it was obviously not an accident for a person to go missing without a single clue. Chen Xingyan had understood this long ago.

"Xingyan, I understand that you are a big star now and you have money. So, please save your brother. If it wasn't because I had no choice, I would not be showing myself in front of you." The man looked old with a pair of reading glasses. His hand clasped tightly to the quiet little boy beside him, with no intention of letting go for even a second.

Chen Xingyan did not reply. After a short moment, An Zihao said to Father Chen, "I think you should go home for now."

Father Chen understood that it was hard for Chen Xingyan to comprehend everything that was happening in front of her, so he sighed before leaving with the little boy.

"What right does he have...?"

"If you didn't have hope in your father, you wouldn't be so upset. Stay here, I'll go check if he has a place to stay."

Chen Xingyan opened her mouth to tell An Zihao not to bother, but the words would not leave her lips. In the end, she simply said, "I am going to go to work."

After escorting the father and son to a hotel, An Zihao helped them pay for a room. Father Chen looked at An Zihao and almost dropped down on his knees after entering the room, "Please convince Chen Xingyan to help me."

"To be honest, you have not upheld your responsibility as a father, so you can't turn the situation around and expect Chen Xingyan to do anything for you."

Father Chen understood this well, so he stood up and sighed, "Isn't she pushing us to our death then?"

"How much do you need?"

Father Chen was stunned for a moment before he finally replied, "$1 million. This is my son's medical records."

"I can give you the money under one condition: never appear in front of Xingyan and her mother again."

“As long as I can save my son, I will definitely keep my distance from them,” Father Chen agreed.

After confirming the medical records, An Zihao threw the documents aside. He really wanted to tell the man that if he could resolve the matter with money, he preferred not to open his heart to him. For a man that was willing to abandon his wife and daughter, he had no heart to begin with.

However, he had no idea that his generous gesture this time would lead to a huge crisis.

The next afternoon, Tangning and Mo Ting boarded a flight to the Maldives, while the two babies were left temporarily in Xia Yuling and Bai Lihua’s care.

The two mother’s had a great relationship with each other and were almost like sisters. Bai Lihua even slept over at the Tang Family Home every now and then. As a result, the two families were like one big family.

This time, Chen Xingyan decided not to tell Bai Lihua know about Father Chen because she didn’t know how to bring it up. At the same time, she was afraid that her mother would be hurt a second time, so she simply mentioned it briefly to Tangning.

Tangning did not take it to heart, so she had no idea that Chen Xingyan was about to go through an extremely painful experience.

Two afternoons later, Chen Xingyan was in the middle of filming a programme when a huge car accident occurred in Beijing. A middle-aged man had been driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs, resulting in a 7-car pile up. Two people died on the scene, three were seriously injured and four suffered light injuries.

The news sources quickly investigated the background of the perpetrator and discovered that his name was Chen Tianhao. According to the police, this man was the father of the popular artist, Chen Xingyan.

On that day, An Zihao was discussing an endorsement contract for Chen Xingyan, so Little Seven accompanied her instead. The police contacted Little Seven and Little Seven waited until Chen Xingyan finished her programme before she rushed over to tell her, “Something happened. We need to visit the police station.”

“What happened?” Chen Xingyan was afraid that something had happened to An Zihao.

But, when Little Seven showed her the news, she was a little shocked but pretended not to care, “He hit someone. What does that have to do with me?”

“The police have requested for you to visit the police station because Uncle Chen recently received a sum of money from an anonymous bank account. The police want to confirm it.”

“What money?” Chen Xingyan was confused because she had no idea that An Zihao had given Father Chen money.

After arriving at the police station, Chen Xingyan was immediately stopped in her track by the family members of the car accident victims, “Give my parents back their lives...”

“Give my brother back his life...”

Although Chen Xingyan understood how they were feeling, what did this matter have to do with her?

“I’m sorry, this has nothing to do with me.”

“How does it have nothing to do with you? You are the murderer’s daughter!”

“I haven’t had a father since I was 6-years-old. Over the years, I have been a fatherless child. How do you expect me to take responsibility?” Chen Xingyan asked.

“No yelling in the police station! Chen Xingyan come in for your interrogation!” A police officer noticed the commotion outside and immediately stepped out to scold them before taking Chen Xingyan into the interrogation room.

“I’m sure you’ve heard about what happened to your father, right?” the officer asked. “I’ve looked into the matter and am aware that your father contacted you a few days ago.”

“I do not have a father,” Chen Xingyan replied straightforwardly. After a short pause, she began to explain, “He suddenly appeared the other day asking for money to save his son. But, I ignored him.”

“In that case, how do you explain this sum of money that he received from Mr. An Zihao’s account?” the officer asked.

Chen Xingyan received the transaction record from the officer’s hand and confirmed that the money was indeed from An Zihao.

This idiot, why did he try to clean up after her without her knowing?

“Did you know? Because of this sum of money, Chen Tianhao went to buy a sports car. He then indulged in alcohol, gambling and drugs and got into fights; there was nothing he wouldn’t do. Because of this sum of money, he had the finances to commit a crime. He bought drugs and drove under the influence of alcohol, ruining the lives of 6 families.”

After hearing this, Chen Xingyan’s eyes grew wide in shock as she immediately explained, “That’s right, I asked my manager to transfer this money to him because I didn’t want him to hassle me anymore. But, I simply transferred him money, did I commit a crime? In the end, I transferred him money because I thought he was using it to save someone, I had no idea that he had another purpose for it.”

The officer glanced at Chen Xingyan and shook his head, “I’m afraid your conscience won’t be at peace for the rest of your life.”

At that moment, tears began rolling out of Chen Xingyan’s eyes. However, she quickly wiped them away and gave Bai Lihua a phone call.

In the end, she simply said to the officer, “I’ll leave everything in the hands of the authorities.”

Chapter 778: The Most Stupid Idiot

Translator: Yunyi Editor: Yunyi

“Chen Xingyan’s father is a monster. A person like him should be sentenced to death.”

“After this, I don’t think Chen Xingyan can continue to survive in the entertainment industry. A father like this is a complete embarrassment. He will be a black mark for the rest of her life.”

“He took drugs and drove under the influence of alcohol. A person like that should be torn to shreds.”

“If her father is like that, I don’t think Chen Xingyan would be much better.”

“Chen Xingyan is sure unlucky. I heard that her father went missing when she was 6-years-old. After so long, he finally returned, but he ended up ruining his daughter’s future prospects.”

That’s right, Chen Xingyan was well aware that after this incident, she would not be able to continue in the entertainment industry. In fact, she knew she couldn’t stay around and implicate An Zihao and Mo Ting.

So, after the police were done with their interrogation, she stepped out of the room and bowed apologetically to the victims’ family members, “Regarding what my father has done, I give you my sincerest apology. I hope for your forgiveness. I will try my best to compensate for the pain that your loved one has suffered, even though I know that no material possession can make up for a precious life.”

“You must be dreaming if you think I will forgive the two of you.”

“No...” Chen Xingyan responded, “I am not asking for you to forgive my father. Everything is in the hands of the law. I am simply apologizing for my own actions.”

The family members remained emotional. One of them even rushed forward to grab onto Chen Xingyan’s shirt and throw a slap across her face. At this time, An Zihao had just arrived. As soon as he saw the scene in front of him, he rushed over, pulled Chen Xingyan away and shielded her behind his back, “Chen Xingyan is also a victim. She lost her father when she was 6-years-old. Now that he finally reappeared, the first thing he did was ask her for money! If you guys want to cause trouble, you should target the perpetrator.”

The family members quietened down as Chen Xingyan left the police station under An Zihao’s protection, “I will look for a lawyer.”

“No need,” Chen Xingyan replied. “Escort me to Hyatt Regency. I want some time to myself.”

“Xingyan...”

“From now on, I won’t be able to appear in the entertainment industry again. At the same time, I can’t possibly become the superstar that you want me to be. With this black mark, I will forever be known as a murderer’s daughter,” Chen Xingyan said in seriousness. “That’s why, we should cancel our contract.”

“What do you mean by this?” An Zihao’s expression became tense.

“I want to break up with you,” Chen Xingyan said as she held back her tears.

“Chen Xingyan...”

"I'm being serious. I don't want to stay in this industry. I'm tired. I want to go overseas with my mother and live my life in a place with no people," Chen Xingyan continued to hold back her tears. "I know you can't give up everything to leave with me. So, we should break up."

An Zihao looked at Chen Xingyan with a heavy heart. He never expected that she would suggest breaking up at a time like this.

"You're just tired..."

"I'm more serious than ever," Chen Xingyan said firmly to An Zihao. "I want to break up. There's no chance of recovery."

At this moment, even Little Seven stepped on the brakes in shock, let alone An Zihao.

"Chen Xingyan, let me remind you, we once promised to each other that we wouldn't give up easily. Are you breaking that promise...?"

"Yes," Chen Xingyan said with a shaky voice.

"Little Seven, stop the car!" An Zihao did not persist as he maintained the calmness in his voice. But, after Little Seven stopped the car, he immediately got out and walked away without turning back.

"Xingyan, why did you do this?" Little Seven was a little helpless.

Chen Xingyan couldn't hold back her tears anymore as she cried, "You won't understand."

An Zihao had already sacrificed a lot for her. This time, he had given away $1 million just to clean up after her.

But, if he was to find out that the money he had given Father Chen was used to commit a crime, his conscience would not be at peace for the rest of his life. Since someone was destined to be hurt, Chen Xingyan was going to shoulder it herself.

An Zihao had a dream and the capability to achieve it. Whereas, she simply wanted to be a stunt double. Their values were completely different.

Either way, the public had no idea that the $1 million was from An Zihao. If they knew, An Zihao would suffer a huge blow.

Chen Xingyan understood that she was still young. But, that didn't mean that she couldn't bear the responsibility.

After returning home and seeing Bai Lihua, the first thing that Chen Xinyan did was pounce into her arms and cry, "Mom..."

"It's fine, my daughter is grown up now. Everything is honestly fine. It's no big deal. We will go to every single household to apologize and ask for their forgiveness. It's not like it was your fault. Xingyan, you have honestly made mom proud."

"We can't let President Mo and Ning Jie get implicated by this matter!" Chen Xingyan sobbed.

"Yes, we won't implicate anyone. We will handle it on our own."

Bai Lihua never imagined that Chen Xingyan would be so brave. So, seeing Chen Xingyan's bravery, gave her strength. In the end, the mother and daughter promised to shoulder the responsibility together. And, as a result, they became each other's strongest source of support.

After leaving the car, An Zihao returned to the police station. He wanted to know what exactly happened and what caused Chen Xingyan's attitude to experience such a drastic change.

After coming face to face with An Zihao, the police shared everything that Chen Xingyan had told them.

So, finally, An Zihao discovered the reason why Chen Xingyan had suggested to break up.

This young girl had suddenly grown up and taken everything upon herself.

In the end, An Zihao said to the police, "If I lend a fruit knife to you so you can cut up fruit, but you end up using that knife to kill someone, should I be held liable?"

"I did indeed transfer $1 million to Chen Tianhao, but I don't think I did anything immoral. We are merely victims to his lies!"

"Chen Tianhao used the $1 million and ended up killing people, so the police decided to seek us for responsibility. What if he used the money to make a huge contribution to society? Would you have rewarded us?"

"When Chen Tianhao tricked us into giving him this money, he presented us with his son's medical records. As police, I know you specialize in moral extortion, but I'm sorry, Chen Qingyan and I will not take the blame for this incident. The most important factor in this case is drugs and alcohol, but I'm sorry, the money came from legal means. We do not need to hold any legal or moral responsibility for any of the above."

He understood, at this moment, Chen Xingyan was simply focused on protecting him and would not listen to anything he had to say.

She was the most stupid idiot in the world...

But, she did this because she knew that An Zihao would be willing to face bankruptcy and much more for her.

So, An Zihao was in no rush to contact Chen Xingyan. Instead, he went to look for information regarding the victims. In order to prevent the mother and daughter from getting hurt, it seemed, his upcoming days were going to be quite busy.

Meanwhile, Tangning and Mo Ting received news of what had happened from overseas. They originally had a few more days of vacation, but they immediately gave it up and rushed back to Beijing...

Chapter 779: Her Father Killed Someone, So Shouldn't She Make Up For It ?

After returning to China, Tangning originally wanted to sit down and have a good chat with Chen Xingyan. But, the mother and daughter didn't want to implicate Mo Ting and Tangning, so they hid themselves away.

But, why were they hiding? They didn't do anything wrong.

Because of this matter, Tangning personally visited An Zihao's apartment. As soon as she stepped into the home that had obviously been shared by the couple, Tangning couldn't help but chuckle, "It doesn't feel good to be dumped, does it?"

"Uh huh!" An Zihao sat down on the sofa and began drinking some wine. He was dressed in a set of gray home clothes; a casual style that was rarely seen on his body. "But, I understand her. I honestly do. I know she doesn't want to implicate me. But, the truth is, I didn't handle this matter properly."

"What do you plan to do then?" Tangning asked as she sat down opposite him.

"I can't let her lose her identity as an actress. Even if she is to withdraw from the industry, I want it to be her decision and not because of pressures from the public," An Zihao replied as he took a sip of wine.

"We watched Xingyan get to where she is today. She went from an ignorant young girl to the person she is now. You're to thank for that," Tangning stood up, walked over to An Zihao's side and patted him on the shoulder. "I originally thought that you'd give up on Chen Xingyan. But, from the looks of it, I don't need to worry about that."

"Tangning, I actually need Mo Ting to say something. He's never officially acknowledged Chen Xingyan's identity. However, if he doesn't want to do it, I won't force him," An Zihao said to Tangning. "Although Xingyan has never wanted it, she currently requires some strength."

"Don't worry. I will make arrangements," Tangning said before she left An Zihao's apartment.

At times, the world was unfair. Some people were kind, pure-hearted and never did anything bad, but because of implication from family, they would be forced to shoulder problems that they couldn't handle. How many people in this world quietly endured the pain caused by their own family?

Tangning did not want Chen Xingyan to endure this kind of pain.

Even though Chen Xingyan had an undeniable blood relation with the man, what did she do wrong?

After returning home, Tangning negotiated with Mo Ting, "We should find Xingyan as soon as possible. She shouldn't be the one to lower her voice and act submissive."

Most importantly, the incident this time implicated Mo Ting's mother. How could Mo Ting let Bai Lihua suffer the repercussions of the jerk's actions?

So, Mo Ting gave Lu Che a phone call, "Immediately locate my mother and Chen Xingyan. After you find them, immediately bring them back."

Chen Tianhao ended up killing two people: a middle-aged man and a young man. Amongst the remaining injured people, one of them had a particularly special identity. He was the son of a Beijing government official. He was simply on a day out with friends and never expected to experience such a tragedy.

This time, it was definitely impossible for Chen Tianhao to escape punishment, but the implicated Bai Lihua and Chen Xingyan were about to suffer the torments of reality.

Although Chen Xingyan had appeared in films and attended many programmes, she hadn't actually saved much money. If she wanted to compensate one family, she had more than enough. But, when it came to a few families, she couldn't compensate them even if she went bankrupt.

Chen Xingyan and Bai Lihua discussed amongst themselves and decided to first ask for forgiveness from the families of the two victims that had lost their lives. So, early in the morning, they bought everything they needed and appeared at the first home. However, they were immediately kicked out by the family members.

"Get lost. Did you think this is a place that the two of you can enter? Don't make my husband turn in his grave."

This was the wife of the middle-aged man. She was extremely emotional. So, as soon as she saw Chen Xingyan, she reacted in the same way as she did in the police station: she grabbed onto Chen Xingyan's shirt and began hitting her. And Chen Xingyan did not strike back.

"Madam, if you want to hit someone, please hit me, don't hit my daughter."

"Stop shedding crocodile tears, what's the point of putting on an act? Hurry and get lost..."

"Shoo," the family members pushed the mother and daughter out. From the looks of it, getting forgiveness was impossible.

Of course, Chen Xingyan understood how they felt. But, what could she do? If she could bring the dead back to life, she would be willing to sacrifice her own life for it.

Afterwards, Chen Xingyan and Bai Lihua went to the second household. But, of course, they were treated in the same way. There was no difference.

However, they still insisted on visiting the hospital to visit the seriously injured victims. Amongst them was the son of the government official.

"Did you think, by buying a few gifts and showing up to apologize, you can make up for my friend's life? Let me tell you that it's impossible. I want you to live the rest of your life in guilt."

"We aren't begging for forgiveness on behalf of that man. We simply want to do what we can," Bai Lihua said patiently.

"No need. Unless you kneel down, don't expect me to forgive you."

The man was sitting on one of the hospital beds. Parts of his body were either wrapped in bandages or plastered in a cast.

Meanwhile, his family members were even more exaggerated as they called the media to witness the scene, "Hurry over to have a look. This is your so-called idol; the daughter of a murderer...People like this should be dealt with in a strict manner. Her entire family should pay the consequences."

"If we kneel, will you forgive us?"

"Kneel first!" the family members ordered in a fierce tone.

Although the mother and daughter had already prepared themselves for humiliation, when the moment was actually upon them, they felt extremely wronged and overwhelmed by a thousand complex emotions.

Even so, Bai Lihua still decided to kneel. However, at this time, a man appeared from behind her and pulled her up, "Auntie, stand up straight."

Chen Xingyan and Bai Lihua looked at An Zihao in shock. They never expected him to appear at this time to help them.

"The two of you did nothing wrong. You don't need to apologize."

"What do you mean they did nothing wrong? Her father killed someone!" the family member behind them yelled sharply. However, An Zihao turned around and replied, "She's well aware that her father killed someone."

"Her father killed someone, so shouldn't she make up for it?"

"No, she doesn't need to make up for it. No part of the law states that a child should pay for what their parents have done. The perpetrator will naturally be punished, but she is not at fault at all. I won't allow her to stand here and be insulted by you," An Zihao declared firmly.

"We feel sorry for the shock and pain that you have suffered, so we give you our sincerest apologies and compensation. But, we won't accept personal attacks and scolding because these two women are also victims in this entire incident."

"Her father went missing when she was 6-years-old and as soon as he returned, he killed someone. Who will relieve her of the pain that she has experienced?"

The family members glared at An Zihao but did not say a word.

At this time, Lu Che finally found the mother and daughter, as instructed by Mo Ting, and was prepared to take them back to Hyatt Regency...

Chapter 780: No Matter How Young You Are, You Are Mine!

"Who told the two of you to take everything upon yourselves?" Tangning's heart ached for the two. "In your hearts, are we the type of people that would step back and watch our loved ones suffer, just to save our own pride?"

Chen Xingyan glanced to the side at the man who was sitting quietly with the presence of a king. She didn't want to drag Mo Ting down because of her problems.

She didn't want Tangning and Mo Ting to be criticized because of what the jerk had done.

Tangning knew what Chen Xingyan was thinking, so she glanced at Mo Ting. After receiving a glance from his wife, Mo Ting finally spoke up, "Even if you sincerely want to apologize, you need to make sure that the recipient accepts it. From now on, if you want to do something stupid like this, you need to first get past me. Otherwise, I'm feeding so many lawyers for nothing."

Chen Xingyan did not say a word.

"If you don't want to implicate Tangning and I, the best thing for you to do is to call Lu Che or your manager. You may be young and inexperienced, but they have been around for long enough."

If someone else was currently teaching her a lesson, Chen Xingyan may have rebutted with her own opinion or perhaps argued with An Zihao. But, when being lectured by Mo Ting, she was overwhelmed by fear. The fear came naturally because she had utmost respect for Mo Ting.

"I...I understand."

"Did you think that casual gossip like this would be able to affect us? You've completely underestimated us," Tangning said after Mo Ting was done. "You've certainly put Zihao through an episode of torment. When I went to look for him earlier, he was drowning his sorrows with wine."

"From now on, you need to handle things in a calm and relaxed manner. You need to have confidence in yourself because you are Ting's sister..."

Ever since knowing her true identity, Chen Xingyan had been avoiding the fact that she was Mo Ting's sister. Because, she didn't want people to think that she was nothing but Mo Ting's sister. But, hearing Tangning referring to her as Mo Ting's sister, she suddenly realized that she may have worried too much about what other people thought.

After all, this was already the undeniable truth. If Tangning managed to ignore others opinions knowing that it wasn't the truth, why couldn't she do it too?

"Also, if you need something, go ahead and ask him for it. See if he will give it to you."

Chen Xingyan glanced at Mo Ting again, without a word.

"I have nothing for you because you interrupted mine and Tangning's vacation. I'm annoyed right now."

The fact that Mo Ting spoke in this way showed that he treated her like a part of the family. Because, even though he was complaining, his words somehow sounded warm.

At this time, the quiet An Zihao finally spoke up, "Originally, I was going to get the lawyers to handle this matter in a low profile way and to comfort each family, one at a time. But, after seeing the way that Xingyan and auntie were insulted, I don't feel like doing that anymore."

"You can leave the big issues for Hai Rui to handle. From now on, simply focus on managing your artist well. If you let a situation like this happen again, then please return her to the Mo Family and Hai Rui."

At this time, if someone was to call Mo Ting a powerful head of the family, no one would say otherwise.

But, of course, if not for Tangning, he would not be bothered to deal with matters like this.

“Of course,” An Zihao replied confidently.

“The place you are living in isn’t safe anymore. Move somewhere else. Everything else, leave it for Ting to handle. As for Xingyan, get back on track and stop thinking nonsense.” After giving her instructions, Tangning said to Bai Lihua, “Mom, we still need your help with Tang Tang and Guo Guo.”

In reality, Tangning wanted Xia Yuling to keep Bai Lihua company and to chat to her because the two women understood each other.

Other people never seemed to relate to the pain she felt.

“OK. What about Xingyan...?”

“Don’t worry, she has someone to take care of her.”

Since Mo Ting had already offered to help, there was no reason for her to continue worrying. As for Chen Xingyan, she believed that after this experience, her daughter had learned to think for herself. So, it was time for her to let go and let her grow on her own.

Afterwards, An Zihao dragged Chen Xingyan away. On this cold winter night, the couple did not return to their apartment. Instead, they went to the resort where they used to have their dates.

As soon as they entered the room, An Zihao grabbed onto Chen Xingyan’s wrist and pressed her against the wall, “Break up, huh?”

“You were actually willing to do that?” An Zihao stared into Chen Xingyan’s eyes. “You’ve always been the one that’s clung to me. For me, you were willing to give up on your acting career? Were you truly willing to do that?”

“Yes,” Chen Xingyan replied. “You’ve already done too much for me, I don’t want you to shoulder guilt for the rest of your life.”

After hearing this, An Zihao suddenly laughed, “Should I be laughing at you for being naive? Just because you’re nice, doesn’t mean everyone else in the world is nice. Why should I feel any guilt? The jerk swindled the money away from me. I can’t control what he does with the money. So, why should I feel guilty?”

“You’re the only one that’s so silly as to shoulder the responsibility on my behalf. I’m not going to avoid this matter, but don’t you try to throw it all upon yourself.”

“But, he’s my father...”

“That doesn’t mean you are at fault. What century are we in? Do you still believe that a child should pay for their father’s debt?” An Zihao lifted Chen Xingyan’s chin, not letting her avoid his gaze. “You should be grateful that you have so many people willing to protect you. Since you are so fortunate, you should enjoy it.”

“So, tell me, do you still want to breakup?”

“Can I still take it back?”

"I can pretend that I never heard a thing," An Zihao replied.

Chen Xingyan suddenly remembered what Tangning had said earlier about An Zihao drowning his sorrows in wine. This thought made her heart break.

"From now on, don't take anything I say to heart and don't drink because of it."

"I feel like you are always unpredictable. No, to prevent you from suggesting to breakup again, I've decided to change a decision I previously made." After speaking, An Zihao carried Chen Xingyan in his arms, placed her on the bed and pressed his body on top of her.

"You're heavy..."

"Endure it well. Isn't this what you always wanted?" An Zihao's voice deepened. "Are you allowed to hurt me, but I'm not allowed to hurt you? What kind of reasoning is that?"

Chen Xingyan's face suddenly turned red as she began to feel An Zihao's hand lifting her clothes, "Didn't you say that I was still young?"

"No matter how young you are, you are mine!" An Zihao lifted Chen Xingyan's arms, preventing her from retaliating. Afterwards, he lifted her shirt up to her chest as his kisses fell upon her body...
