

Worlds Plot 101

Chapter 101: 5.3 First Violet Star - I Want to Become a Protector

Hei Anjing will now be called Xuebao in this world.

Xuebao opened his eyes revealing those orbs in cerulean hue. The conversation he heard with his system had continued in the mind as usual and the former never opened his mouth to speak in reality as he could converse with his system through his thoughts.

[Host. A weird rabbit?]

"It's that Protagonist Shou of this world. Obviously he loves to fantasized about BL related things. I just couldn't believe he would have all those men as mates. There are six of them. I heard rabbits mate 5-7 times a day. No wonder he had all those men. Good thing that I am a snow leopard in this world. If I ended up as a rabbit in this world, that my husband of mine, wouldn't let me leave the bed in this world!"

[That... Hahaha~ Host please receive the compensation from my boss for suddenly throwing... I mean bringing you over in this world. But please don't worry you husband's soul is also reborn here.] System Yue averted his eyes when he heard his host's comments about the protagonist shou. He though that his host might have caught doing those things.

Ignoring his system's sudden awkwardness, "Good thing. So what are the compensations from that dead fool?" asked Xuebao as he change the topic.

System Yue cried in his mind as he heard his host called his boss a dead fool. In short his host hasn't forgiven his boss and will be beaten up when everything is over. He decided not to side with his boss afraid of being affected with it and getting punished with him.

[Yes. Your redemption tickets for this world is 10. Congratulations Host! Please choose one talent and special ability of your original state to unseal? I will give the host the list of it.]

"Then I choose Fighting Talent and Ice Attribute. I could use the rest but there is a heavy backlash at each use. No problem with that." replied Xuebao in his mind.

[Congratulations! Host. Your fighting Talent and Ice Attribute special skill are now unlocked.]

"It's a good compensation. I will no longer beat that bastard half death. I will leave a third of his life." said Xuebao while his system just answered him with silence.

[Reporting to the host. There is someone peeking on the host. It is one of the Male Leads. It is Meizhou.]

"Ignore him. He pissed me off. That bastard dared to call me disgusting and not worthy of him. If that man happens to become the incarnation of my husband's soul then he would have to suffer for a bit."

[How to make him suffer, host?]

"The greatest suffering of men. To be able to see but not to be able to eat." answered Xuebao.

[Can't he just force the Host then?]

"If he is really A'Xia then he would never force me if I am really unwilling." replied Xuebao.

After half an hour the protagonist Shou called Tuzi returned and brought a pile of clothes and spare shoes with him. He is running towards the river where he left Xuebao. There's a clear excitement within those pinkish irises.

"Xuebao~ I prepared your change of clothes! I've included towels as well." said Tuzi as he kneeled by the riverside where Xuebao stays.

"Thank you. Please turn around." said Xuebao. Tuzi, who immediately understood what he wanted, passed the things on his hands and turned about face. Then Show his back at Xuebao.

Once Tuzi turned around Xuebao stood up without the embarrassment of revealing his naked body to the air. He took the clean towel as he left the river and wiped all the water on his skin before wearing the clothes Tuzi prepared for him. The clothes were made simply. A normal long sleeve that is a bit larger on him as Tuzi had a slightly larger physique than our Xuebao. Only the tips of his fingers are exposed from the opening of the sleeves. The pants were the same, it's length is a bit longer and Xuebao needs to fold the end of the pants for his feet to be seen. The shoes are a bit bigger on his feet as well. His all over attire made it look like that Xuebao is wearing oversized fur pajamas made of animal hide.

"Let's go. You can either sleepover in my place or I stay in yours?" said Xuebao.

Tuzi replied, "Stay in mine. You live with the Tribe leader so it is a bit hard to have loud conversations. So..."

"Fine. I will stay in your place only tonight." said Xuebao.

Tuzi showed a huge grin when he heard Xuebao's answer and happily clinging to his sleeves even though he is taller than the latter by half a head. These two return to the tribe leaving the river. Only the hidden shadow within the tree left as well after they returned to the tribe's camp. Only few traces of blood were left on where the man had stayed.

Tribe Leader's Cave

The Tribe Leader is Xuebao's father. He is also a leopard beastman but unlike his female son he is not a snow leopard, but cobweb furred pattern. His fur is black with hints of silver. His deceased wife is a snow leopard like his female son. This man is called Zhubao.

In order to keep his female son safe even after his death he planned to have him get married with the strongest male in their tribe. But Meizhou declined and had no choice but to choose Laohu as his female son's arranged marriage partner. In exchange for this marriage Laohu will be able to become the next Tribe Leader after he retires. That was the original plan.

Until he heard the event that took place this morning. It was a situation that involved his female son, his arranged marriage partner: Laohu and his son's unrequited crush: Meizhou. This all happens because he told his son is getting married to Laohu. He knew that his son liked Meizhou but he couldn't really force Meizhou to marry his son. Not only his son's reputation is so bad, just the fact that everyone in the tribe knew that he is spoiled rotten, no talent at all making him useless except for breeding. No one would marry a useless wife. Even Laohu was half unwilling even with the future tribe position as a bargain chip.

When his son ran off to chase after Meizhou, he knew things wouldn't end nice. But he and the tribe elders were gathering for a meeting and he wasn't able to stop his son's foolishness. He expected a result of Xuebao being prostrated by Meizhou but he would never have thought that he would have beaten Laohu half dead because he wouldn't agree to dismiss him or end their engagement. He even heard that his son tried to kill Laohu when he refused to admit defeat. He thanked Meizhou for stopping his son's rashness.

As for the fact that his son could fight, Zhubao wasn't really surprised. As he knew that his wife before he died used to train their son daily. His former wife is the strongest female in their tribe. His strength is not that weaker against those warriors. He is an amazing female in his heart. He died during the last battle they had with the enemy tribe. He had even seen his son secretly training in their cave's training ground alone and only he knew that his son could fight. Though not at the level he treated Laohu, the second strongest warrior in their tribe, as a live sandbag.

Zhubao grumbles, "Sigh~ now there is no problem with my son's marriage. The problem now is whether there will be someone stronger than him that he is willing to marry. That time if I didn't win against my wife he wouldn't stay to become my mate. Really~ only the strongest could bend the wills of those snow leopards. Don't you think so, Meizhou?" said the tribe leader as he noticed the presence of this cold face warrior.

Meizhou who was listening in the shadows suddenly appeared before Zhubao.

"Greetings~ Tribe Leader." said Meizhou.

Zhubao had a kind smile on his face but his eyes were gauging and indifferent. He couldn't help but show a bit of his dislike towards this man who used to look down on his darling son. If not the fact that he had longed passed his prime, he wouldn't even let this kind of male fancy his little baby. He could still clearly remember the first time he approached Meizhou and ask him to become Xuebao's fiancé before.

Before he had chosen Laohu as his son's partner his first choice is this boy. After all he is the strongest male in this tribe. Once he dies of old age Meizhou would be able to protect his son even when his gone. Sadly, before he could ask of him of this favor, Meizhou showed an obvious rejection towards his son. He decided to forget about him and choose a different option which in the end is no better than the former. Remembering those scene made this old father clicked his tongue in irritation and bad mood.

But now look who is here~ Tsk!

"If you are here to ask for my baobao's marriage then this old man wouldn't be able to help you." said the tribe leader with a provocative tone.

Meizhou ignored the old man's mocking tone and said, "I understand. I was blinded by the rumors going on within the tribe."

"If you had accepted his confession without saying those ugly words he wouldn't have ignored you. My baobao is lazy which is why he choose to hide the fact he could fight and... in the first place the only male that was able to enter his eyes is you but... as you have chosen, you didn't accept his affection which now had gone cold as ice." said Zhubao.

Meizhou understood very well what the old tribe leader meant. He also knew that the rumors about Xuebao stalking him before is true but about the fact that Xuebao could fight or that his personality is originally fierce is something he never expected. But what he did now, watching him play around and treating his friend Laohu as a live sandbag made him want to see more of him. In that moment, Xuebao was extremely enchanting, not of his exquisite features or his fighting ability but instead the presence of his soul. Mischievous, cruel and merciless. That's how he could perceive Xuebao of that time.

Without him knowing he could no longer control his heart for yearning at that Xuebao. It is as if he found the most precious thing in his life. Something he is willing to give away his everything just to get him. Which is now he is here before the clan leader with a respectful stance to ask for another opportunity to court that heavenly being. The last chance to capture that elegant snow leopard's heart.

Meizhou kneeled before Zhubao and bowed his head.

"Tribe Leader! Please let this Meizhou become Xuebao's Guardian!" he said.

According to the facts of this world.

An unmarried female beastmen is able to have two kinds of relationship.

A tentative Mate: Fiancé

A Protector: Guardian and someone who courts the female. This is the position of a suitor without any title. If he works well he could promote himself as fiancé or become the future mate of the female. Having this title as a protector means the male beastman will have the authority to block the other suitors in approaching his chosen female. Unless he is defeated no one else is able to become the new guardian of the female nor could the female have a fiancé. He will be the sole suitor of the female unless he was defeated and got stripped of the position of the protector.

Chapter 102: 5.4 First Violet Star - Rabbit Beastman 'Tuzi'

Upon returning to the tribe's camp, Xuebao randomly grabbed a beastman and told him to pass a message to his father, Zhubao, their Lune Tribe's leader.

The one Xuebao randomly grabbed just happened to be the bear selling Meng called Xiong. This Xiong is their Tribe Priest's apprentice. He is a bear beastman warrior but also works under the Priest. The Priest of every tribe is considered the most intelligent beastmen in the whole tribe. They trust every advice from the priest and the latter always give an informative explanation of things. He is like the scholar in the tribe. Xiong this adorable and cute young man does not only possess talent in hunting but is quite a fast learner as well. This is the reason why the Priest had accepted him as his apprentice.

Xiong was among the male beastman who watched Xuebao beat up the second strongest warrior in their tribe, Laohu, this morning. He didn't believe that a female beastman like Xuebao still existed. After all, most prominent male and female warriors had all died in the last battle against their enemy tribe. The Soleil Tribe. Xiong became Xuebao's secret admirer.

This is the reason why Xiong blushed when Xuebao suddenly grabbed him.

With a flushed face, "X-X-Xuebao... d-do you need something?" asked Xiong.

Xuebao felt weird to see a young man that has a bigger size than him curled shyly as he blushed when he just held his shoulder for a split second. He even heard Tuzi's weird murmuring beside him.

"Hehe~ an adorable but shy homely type top~ But he doesn't really fit together with a mischievous devil type dominant bottom like Xuebao~" silently mouthed Tuzi.

Tuzi's mumbling continues, "This cuddly bear warrior will only get bullied badly by our cool beauty snow leopard Male God. Hehe~"

"But~ if an active bottom like the male god pushed down and rode the bear it would be quite a scene as well. Hehe~"

System Yue could even see traces of drool on the corner of Tuzi's mouth.

[H-Host! This protagonist shou looks so dangerous! Are you really going to stay over the night in his house!?!]

"No worries. That perverted rabbit is a bottom like me. He couldn't dare push me down as he couldn't really do anything." replied Xuebao nonchalantly in his mind.

Then he finally chose to ignore the weird whispering beside him and looked at the Bear beastman before him.

"Could I ask you to tell father that I would be staying the night over in Tuzi's place for me?" asked Xuebao with a seductive smirk on the corner of his cerise lips.

Xiong who was tempted unconsciously couldn't stop his eyes from wandering on those plump red lips as his breathing almost got out of control. These blushing bear averted his eyes in embarrassment and saluted towards Xuebao.

Xiong said, "I will definitely pass your message to the tribe leader! Yes! Please excuse me!" he said before running away red faced.

Xuebao turned a blind eye over anything except towards his husband. He reacted normally as if he didn't intentionally tempt that shy bear just now. He looked at the still murmuring rabbit beside him.

"Aren't you going to show me the way to your place?" said Xuebao.

After he got out of his fantasy by Xuebao's cold but sultry voice, "Ah! Yes, this way please~" said Tuzi.

Tuzi and Xuebao leave together and head to the rabbit beastmen's abode.

Arriving in Tuzi's little cave.

Tuzi is unlike the rest of the females to live together in a huge tent. Most unmarried females choose to leave together as they could communicate with the rest of the female easier this way but Tuzi is different. As a modern person and an open fudanshi, he wanted to have his own private place. But unmarried female beastmen were given caves by the tribe. Only male beastmen or females like Xuebao could have their own tent. This is why Tuzi took over a corner and hidden stone cave which used to be a food warehouse of the tribe. Because the cave was too small the tribe leader chose to abandon it. Learning about this Tuzi asked the tribe leader to let him have the small cave at least before he found his mate to live with.

The cave can be converted into a 4 tatami square room in size. This cave is only big enough for two people to squeeze together. The interior of the cavern is not bad. It is clean and well maintained. There are dried grass mat at the entrance and a bear fur carpet on the floor. It is soft under the feet, no dust or soil could be felt under it. The carpet is clearly aired out daily as well.

"Hehehe~ I got the bear fur from a male beastmen in exchange for making him some shorts, cooking utensils and a few fruits I've got from the forest." explained Tuzi as he watched Xuebao observe the animal hide he used as carpet inside his little cavern.

"Not bad. But not soft enough. I'll get you some wolf fur next time." said Xuebao.

Tuzi shook his head in response. "No. No. This is enough. I can't ask for such luxury in this primitive world." he said.

"Don't worry. There is no way I'm going to give it to you for free. You will make me clothes in exchange for it. I'll get the material you sew it to something useful for me. I cannot do sewing at all." said Xuebao.

"If it's like that. Then I am okay with it." said Tuzi with a sweet smile.

Tuzi asked Xuebao to sit anywhere while he prepared some fruits as snacks for his guest. Xuebao continued to look around and saw that the cave had so many things hanging on the wall. Like stone knives, wooden bowls and utensils. But he didn't find any metal. After observing the tribe tent when he returned to the camp, he knew that the houses of this era are poorly done. As if knowing what is going on his host head, System Yue explained a few things.

[This is because no one is able to discover things like metals or cements yet. It was only until the protagonist shou gets involved with the male leads that things in this era slowly evolve. They had no information about things like wild vegetables or farming. Even the fruits the protagonist shou gathers no one else knew except for him.]

"What would happen if I took over the protagonist shou's job of evolving the lifestyles of this tribe?"

[The host is an outsider with no restriction of world plot. You could even kill the heavenly sons if you wanted as long you made sure that their halo had been deemed useless.]

"Then there would be no problem if I teach him and let him spread the knowledge is that it?"

[Yes! As long the achievements are under his name then there should be no problem. His achievements were sewing, farming and household matters. All basic necessities except for construction, medicine and education.]

"Then there should be no problem with me pointing things out for him."

Tuzi returned with a bowl of cut apples for Xuebao. He didn't forget to provide him a sterilized fruit fork.

"Please use this. I've just made it recently and haven't used it at all. I've also washed it." said Tuzi.

"I see. You can ask whatever you want now." said Xuebao as he took an apple from the bowl.

Without holding him back now Tuzi asked his questions.

Tuzi, "Are you a Transmigrator too?"

"Something like that?" replied Xuebao.

"From the modern era?"

"Un."

"Wow~ this is amazing I thought I am the only one who got reborn here. But that isn't your real body right? After all, the original Xuebao doesn't give a feeling of coolness and elegance as yours. But unlike those in the book I have no golden finger with me when I woke up here. No system or things like that~"

"...Your modern memories are enough to qualify as a golden finger. This is a primitive era. Most people in this world had no idea of things like sewing, farming or things like that."

"But would they even believe me if I told them so? They've already treated me like a weird beastman for wearing clothes~"

"Leave that to me. Winter is coming. These clothes would be extremely useful for that season. After all except for males most females in this tribe have weaker physique. There are children and old people as well. I will convince my old man for that."

"Good! But we don't have materials. I ones I have with me are too limited and working on it alone is too burdensome."

"Who told you to make clothes for everyone? You only need to make mine. As for the rest teaching them how to sew is enough!"

[Host, I think you should learn how to sew as well. It's a very useful ability.]

"Don't want to. I'm too lazy for that. By the way, haven't you forgotten to let me choose a skill to learn?"

[Oh! That's right! Host I will let you choose when you enter sleep to avoid influencing the timeline here.]

"Well that is also okay."

While conversing with his system he once again hears Tuzi talking to himself while giggling.

"Hehe~ a forceful dominant bottom is really great! He would definitely match that cold blooded dominant top like Meizhou. Hehe~ A playful devil type bottom and an Ice cold hearted demon top. Hehehe~"

"This mad rabbit is pairing me up with that bastard from before!"

[Host have you found your husband?]

"Not yet. I'm so pissed when I just got transferred here and need to steam out some anger. So I totally had no time to look for him."

Xuebao had to hit Tuzi on the head lightly to bring him back to reality, forcefully dragging him out of his fantasy.

Meanwhile in the Tribe Doctor's tent,

Laohu is lying on a stone bed as few female doctor apprentices help him put some herbs with healing properties on his wounds and bruises. This is to allow his injuries to heal faster after it was cleaned up from dust and sand.

Hiss. Oww~ Hissed!!!

"Please stop moving!"

"We can't put the herbs on properly!"

"Ah! It fell again! What a waste."

"No way~ we don't have enough herbs to make another concoct anymore."

The female apprentices who were currently treating Laohu complained.

The tribe doctor is a male snake beastman. He is called Sheya. This male beastman is a man with few words but he is a calculating man. He loves to study different kinds of herbs and think with things related to medicine or healing. He is also a member of a hunting team, his strength wasn't on par with someone like Meizhou or Laohu but he knew the difference of strength between those male warriors and those male under the hunting team. At the very least Laohu, this tiger beastman strength is just a level weaker than Meizhou that battle ridden man but enough to contend against that Wolf Beastman Lang, an assault leader under Meizhou.

Doctor Sheya seeing the apprentices couldn't do their job well because of Laohu's struggles. "You guys can go. Leave this idiot to me."

"Yes, Doctor." The female apprentices said before taking their leave. They've been treating Laohu for half an hour now but the latter continues to move around in pain making the herbs fall off and become a useless waste.

Sheya coldly watched this Laohu waste those herbs in his squirming but unlike the rest of the apprentice, he didn't complain much because he knew that Laohu is really wrenching in pain and couldn't help but move around to ease the pain. Those hideous wounds look ordinary but upon observation something was left within those injuries to make it extremely painful when touched.

The doctor heard the details of the event that took place this morning. Even though he didn't witness the whole thing He couldn't believe that the one who ended Laohu, their second strongest warrior in the tribe, is none other than that useless female of their tribe, Xuebao.

Xuebao had a bad reputation in the tribe. Not only he is useless, aside from eating and breeding there is nothing he could do. His personality is even worse. Arrogant and proud but there is no talent to back this bad attitude up. Which is why most male beastmen hated his guts. Moreover he didn't look at himself first before telling everyone he fancies Meizhou the strongest man in their tribe despite being engaged to Laohu. He even dared to stalk and bother the man without care for the world. If there is a female that the males in the tribe avoids, everyone can give Xuebao's name.

"Is it really Xuebao who turned you into this, Laohu?" asked Sheya.

Laohu who was writhing in pain didn't answer right away but his expressions were ugly and there's a deep frown on his face.

"Yes. I made him explode his anger and forced him to dismiss our engagement. Xuebao will no longer be my fiancé." replied Laohu, his voice had a tone of anguish. "The tribe leader would definitely announce it at tonight's dinner."

Sheya could tell how regretful Laohu is for having his engagement with Xuebao cancelled. Once he loses this engagement, his possibility of becoming the future Tribe leader will be gone. After all, it is because Xuebao's father used the position as a bargain in exchange for marrying Xuebao that everyone treated Laohu as the next leader. Now it will no longer be possible.

"For someone who never attended the hunting in the morning and always disappears in meal preparations, no one would believe Xuebao had the strength to put you in a situation." said Sheya.

Laohu who suddenly remembered the last moment when Xuebao tried to kill him made him shudder with instinctive fear.

"He is so strong. It is not that much weaker than Meizhou. I'm sure of it. But unlike Meizhou who focuses more on strength, Xuebao had more speed than the rest of us. He is even faster than Meizhou when he moves to attack." said Laohu.

Sheya uttered, "Now~ I'm regretting that I've missed the whole event."

Chapter 103: 5.5 First Violet Star - Evening Banquet

Dinner Banquet.

The tribe usually eats their evening meals together at night. Of course Xuebao and Tuzi joined the fun as they were famished. Xuebao as the tribe leader's only female son, he was asked to join in at the center with his father, Zhubao. Tuzi was pulled in Xuebao's table as well. All eyes were at the center table precisely on the female beastman, Xuebao. The commotion that just happened this morning had longed spread to the whole tribe. This is the reason why all eyes were watching Xuebao who sits beside his father. Some were watching Tuzi as well because he was sitting together with the tribe leader and his son at the center.

Tuzi whispered to Xuebao. "Xuebao they are all staring at you."

"Let them stare. What could they even do to me?" declared Xuebao with a cold but alluring smirk on his lips.

Looking at his surroundings, Xuebao's eyes turned squinted as a sly smile appeared on his face. It highlighted his exquisite features. The coldness and temptation of his captivating appearance was laid out for everyone to see. Those phoenix shaped eyes were giving them the feeling of isolation as if they weren't worthy to enter his line of sight. The presence he is excluding is full of confidence and undeniable strength adding up his beauty which is almost unparalleled and unique no one could deny that their eyes were focusing on him. There's an inaudible gasp from the whole tribe and silence ascended in the area for a short moment after hearing Xuebao's words.

The other tribe members started to murmur to each other, only the buzzing sounds of their whispering could be heard.

"Right? Who can do something for him? Not only he is a female son of the tribe leader. He even has enough strength to defeat Laohu."

"Who is Laohu? Isn't he the second strongest warrior in the tribe!? He defeated him for real?!"

"But isn't he a female? How could he have that much strength?"

"Have you forgotten? The deceased wife of the Tribe Leader is a legendary female warrior of the Lune Tribe!"

"That's right! He had that very same bloodline!"

"Does that mean an ordinary warrior wouldn't be worthy of him?"

"Laohu is already the second strongest. Isn't there still Meizhou to control him?"

"I heard Meizhou openly rejected Xuebao before the fight began."

"For real!? Would the strongest female of our tribe have to find a mate outside the tribe then?"

"That is also possible. But Isn't that... you know... a bit unfair. If Xuebao marries outside doesn't that mean we are giving away our strongest female outside!"

When the other male beastmen like the male warriors and Tribe Elders heard about this. They couldn't help but frown at this possibility. Xuebao undoubtedly had a female who could fight. Laohu, their tribe's second strongest warrior being beat up, is enough proof that Xuebao could contend against strong Male warriors of their tribe. If they let someone from outside the tribe marry Xuebao it would be a great loss to the tribe.

They looked at Xuebao who was talking to the other female beside him without caring about his situation. Clearly this brat had no close affection to the tribe because of how they've treated him before. If not for the fact that his father is the tribe leader Xuebao would have left the Lune Tribe long time ago!

The Tribe Leader, Zhubao, on the other hand had a huge grin on his old face. This old man is clearly jeering on them. The situation really doesn't affect this old man, if he wanted he could just let go of his position and be a free warrior and dote on his female son alone. As soon as his female son is happy this old man doesn't care at all. This is the tribe leader who used his own position as a bargain chip to ask someone to get engaged with his female son. Though that ended in failure and Laohu got beaten up badly, they instead learned that this female snow leopard is a harder bone to chew. Despite being a female his strength is already among the top contenders in their tribe.

"Baobao~ is my darling son hungry?" asked Zhubao to his son with a sickening sweet tone.

Xuebao's calm expression remained unmoved with his father's childishness as if used to this kind of person.

"Yes. So announce the start of the banquet, father." replied Xuebao.

Zhubao's smiles widen as he chuckles even. "Hahaha~ Of course darling. But before that let this leader announce a few things to the tribe."

"First. The engagement of my female son, Xuebao and the second strongest warrior, Laohu is now cancelled!! My darling son is now a free female beastman and his marriage will be controlled by him only! You can ask Xuebao if you wanted to court him."

Everyone in the tribe roared in agreement when they heard that.

WOOOO!!!

"Second. I announced that the strongest warrior of the Lune Tribe, Meizhou, had become the Guardian of my son, Xuebao!"

The second announcement shocked most male in the tribe. Just when they thought they would have the opportunity to court such a strong female like Xuebao, they were suddenly brought back to reality that the strongest guardian would be hovering around him. This time if they wanted to court Xuebao they would first need to win against Meizhou before being able to do so. But Meizhou is the strongest Male Beastman in their Lune Tribe. He is an uncontended undefeated warrior of their tribe. If someone like this becomes Xuebao's Guardian, then approaching Xuebao could only be a dream.

"Come over and complete your rites, Meizhou!" said the tribe leader, Zhubao.

Meizhou stood up from the crowd and walked towards the center. As he approached the center where the Tribe Leader, Xuebao and Tuzi resides, his golden irises had only focused on one person. As if seeing that one person in the world, Meizhou stares intently only at Xuebao whose smile had now faded. He could see that with those calm sky blue orbs was looming anger and dissatisfaction. Meizhou knew that Xuebao would never agree to have him as his protector if he asked him for it.

This is why despite his high position as the strongest warrior he chose to lower his head on the sole person who could put him at the position where he could stay by Xuebao's side despite the latter's disagreement. He asked for the Tribe Leader's permission. Not only as a leader but as Xuebao's father as well. As long as the Tribe leader and elder of Xuebao, he wouldn't be able to disagree with his preposition to become his protector. Declining him in this situation is the same as not giving the tribe leader a face to save.

He kneeled on one knee, putting his fist over his heart before Xuebao and said his rites.

"My strength, this flesh and blood, as well as my soul and heart. I offer it all to you. No one should be able to harm your body. Not even a single scratch on your skin. I vowed to the Beast God that I shall protect Xuebao until the very last breath of this life." declared Meizhou.

Everyone was rendered speechless when they heard Meizhou's rites as a Protector. After all the contents he had spoken is completely different for a Protector's rite.

The original rite only has the following contents: "My strength shall become a weapon to kill your enemies. My body shall become the shield that protects you from everything. Until the end you've decided to choose me as your only mate. I promise to protect you."

Meizhou's vow is the mix content of the Protector and Mateship rites. Clearly is declaring that as long no one kills him, only he is worthy to become Xuebao's eternal mate.

Xuebao snorted at him. "Even though you've rejected my confession before?"

"That is just me losing my mind for a moment." replied Meizhou.

"But I don't like you anymore." responded Xuebao with a taunting smile.

Meizhou's eyes soften as he stares at Xuebao. "But I love you. If you are not going to become mine then... no else could do so as long as I am alive!" he declared.

This declaration is a clear stance of monopoly towards Xuebao's attention. Meizhou told everyone in the Tribe that he is not willing to let someone else court or attract Xuebao aside from him. Silence ascended in the area. They've never expected the usual casual and cold male like Meizhou to declare his love in such a possessive way. They've thought this cold hearted beastman would be forever alone as he treated no one special within their tribe. Only now they've learned that he hasn't met that one being yet to melt that frozen heart.

Once he met the person who could do so. Everyone would be able to see the hidden emotions and feelings within that frozen heart. He is just like all other male beastman. As long as he finds his love, he is willing to sacrifice everything to achieve it.

The only problem is that the female he had chosen is not an ordinary beastman. That person is currently the strongest female in the tribe. Some who were able to defeat Laohu, whose strength is only second to him. As they had expected the smile on the female beastman's face faded. Now within those sky colored eyes was only frostiness. A withdrawn gaze as he looked down on Meizhou, who was kneeling before him. He could even feel the overbearing pressure of his hidden rage within that silent demeanor.

Tension filled the whole banquet and only the sound of their repressed breathing could be heard in stillness. They were worried that these two strong beastmen would suddenly fight each other. The females in the area were especially frightened that they'd started trembling uncontrollably.

In Xuebao's mind System Yue could already feel the extent of his host's anger. No one dared to speak like his host. Only one being could do so which is his Lord God but now they were still unsure as to whether this Meizhou is that person. He is terrified that his host might not be able to hold back his anger after being furious before this.

[H-Host please calm down. That's right! H-He might be... y-your husband in this world.] But Xuebao replied with nothing but silence.

Xuebao suddenly stood from where he was seated and walked gracefully with his hips swaying as he walked towards Meizhou. He stood in front of Meizhou who remained calm in the face of his beloved's rage. The tenderness within those golden orbs remains even if he looks up at him.

"Stand up. I need to check on something." said Xuebao.

Meizhou instantly followed his beloved's command and stood up. But because his height is above Xuebao's petite size, it looks like he is towering over him when he stands before him. In the face of such a colossal figure over him, Xuebao's emotionless face remains.

"What do you want me to do?" asked Meizhou.

Xuebao nonchalantly replied, "I told you I want to check something. If it's not what I thought it is then... your ending would be even worse than that stupid fool from this morning!" he threatened.

But Meizhou remained calm as he dotingly replied, "I'm sure that I would pass whatever it is."

Snort!

"Ha~ insolent bastard." Xuebao snorted at him. "Lower your head!"

Meizhou followed what he was asked as he immediately lowered his head. Then everyone saw Xuebao reach out his hands and placed it lightly on Meizhou's shoulder as he tiptoed to lean closely. Seeing this Meizhou hovered his arms around Xuebao's waist but not daring to directly touch him without permission.

Xuebao suddenly lowered his nose on Meizhou's neck intaking the scent in his body. Everyone gasped in surprise at such a scene.

HIC! GASP!

"The scent of rust and iron mixed with? a deep, woody scent and floral, rich, balsamic, soft, and sweet accents. Heh~" Xuebao's thoughts as he sniggers.

The warm breath that landed on Meizhou's neck made him a bit ticklish followed up by the undertone laughter of his beloved, he almost lost control of his beastly self. Thankfully Xuebao pushed him away before seeing red.

Pushed!

"Did I pass your test?" asked Meizhou.

Xuebao ignored his teasing tone and replied coldly, "You cannot touch me with permission unless you need to. You shall follow every of my commands even if I told you to kill anyone. You cannot tell me what to do. You follow these conditions and you can keep your Protector title."

"I keep those conditions in mind." replied Meizhou.

Xuebao then smiled at him angelically, "If you happen to fail any among those conditions I will rip off that thing attached on your neck. Beware~~" he said with an enchanting voice even though his words were deadly as always.

Xuebao returns to his seat while Meizhou follows him and sits not far from him. It is his right as Xuebao's protector to stay by his side. Since Xuebao agreed the position beside him is his. Having securely got himself a temporary title, Meizhou proudly raised his head as he looked at the envious gazes of the other Male beastmen in the tribe. There is even provocation within his golden eyes as he skimmed over his tribe members.

Seeing his host allow someone else to enter the space near him, System Yue realized that this male lead called Meizhou happens to be his host's husband. This is the first time his Lord God presented himself before his host before the latter could even look for him. This man even without his memories from the former worlds could still complete his promise as long his host is involved.

[Is this him?]

"That extreme possessiveness, cruelty against his rivals and that familiar scent. It can only be that fool." replied Xuebao in his mind.

Noticing the awkwardness in the area the Tribe Leader could only sighed at Meizhou's shamelessness. He could only grab his cup and raise it high before him.

"Let the evening banquet begin!!" he announced as the Tribe Leader.

The banquet began after the Tribe Leader's announcement. As soon as his voice fell, the food was served by their tribe's females for everyone to enjoy. Of course! The food served on the center table was much more extravagant than the rest. The quantity served towards the tribe leader and his family's table are also larger than the rest. Their meals for that night are hunted this morning by the Meizhou and the rest of the hunting team of their tribe. Since no one really knew how to cook properly the meat of the wild boar was left half cooked and done with a sloppy result. There are no condiments like salt or pepper added to the food and there are even traces of blood on the meat.

Seeing this kind of food, Xuebao froze with a dark expression on his face. Tuzi who was sneaking a peek at him could already guess what Xuebao's thoughts were just by seeing his gloomy expression.

Tuzi's thoughts: 'Ah~~ I forgot to tell the male god that people in this era don't have skills in cooking in the right way. The salt rock wasn't even used properly and the meat was almost close to being raw.'

He then looked inside the bag he always brings with him during meal time. As a modern person transmigrated in a primitive world, Tuzi is also unable to eat raw food especially meat. He always brings a bag with him full of snacks like fruits and homemade beef jerky every time the tribe scheduled an evening banquet. When he was first served this kind of uncooked food his reaction is even worse than Xuebao's gloomy expression. He almost puke on the spot on the first day he was presented with this kind of meal.

Meanwhile Xuebao is complaining to his system about this kind of meal before him. While looking at the bloody meat place before him, he even noticed Meizhou looking at him for not eating. When he saw his father's beast-like way of eating the uncooked meat with traces of blood on the edges of his mouth made him realize that he had indeed entered a primitive world of a beast race. He could even see everyone in front of him gnawing at the meat like cannibals from his world.

"Yue~ is the fucking thing in front of me called food? I don't even eat medium rare steak. Now I got to experience being served with an unprepared, disgusting, raw meat!!!"

[Host calm down. We are in an undeveloped primitive world. Be thankful that they got to live in tents inside of just uncleaned stone caves and already know how to use fire as lighting.]

"They already know how to use fire as light! Why don't they know how to use it to fucking cook! Dammit! This world is hell for a foodie like me!" complained Xuebao in his mind as he went crazy.

"I want to change the skill I've unlocked. Change Ice attribute to cooking. There is no way I could continue to stay in this world if I have to eat this kind of thing for a lifetime!"

[Understood Host. Ice Attribute skill turned to Locked State. Cooking skill unlocked. But the host has no ingredients to start cooking and... Cooking is under the few missions the protagonist needs to do.]

"Is that so? Then let him do the cooking then."

Xuebao's gloomy expression receded and moved his eyes on Tuzi on his left. He even ignores Meizhou who is observing while sitting on his right.

"Tuzi can you cook?" he asked.

Tuzi reluctantly replied. "Ah! I-if it's only simple ones I could do so."

Xuebao nodded in response. "Good!" He then looked at his right, observing the silent and calm Meizhou sitting beside him.

"What is it?" asked Meizhou calmly.

"I want some oil and salt. Also some herbs like rosemary or oregano." answered Xuebao.

Meizhou didn't ask for any reason and decided to fulfill what his chosen female requested.

"I will get it for you." said Meizhou as he prepared to leave the place to get all those things Xuebao had demanded him to collect.

He could get some oil and salt from his place while asking for those herbs to the doctor's place. Meizhou gestured towards the tribe doctor Sheya, his intention is to ask him to prepare the herbs his chosen female had requested. Sheya only nodded his head once and asked some of his apprentice to get some rosemary and oregano from his house.

Once he saw Meizhou take his leave, Xuebao looked back to Tuzi. "I saw a stone pan in your place and those apples."

Tuzi, who understood what Xuebao plans to do, suddenly had his eyes sparkled in response. "Xuebao you could cook!?"

"I can, but tonight you will do the cooking and I will guide you. You wouldn't mind won't you?" said Xuebao.

Tuzi replied, "Of course not! I would do my best to cook your food Male God!"

After a few minutes everything that he requested had been assembled. Xuebao prepares the simple set up grill using stones as foundation over a small bonfire and places the stone pan from Tuzi's place. Then he started guiding Tuzi how to properly souse the meat using salt, apples and herbs as condiments. The whole tribe watches Tuzi demonstrate the easy way how to fry marinated meat.

In the beginning everyone thought that these two females had gone crazy once again and started giving them judging eyes. Until they smell the delicious aroma of fried meat spreading in the area. They couldn't even stop themselves from drooling from the mouthwatering scent of properly cooked food. If they could, they wanted to steal the position of Tuzi who was seriously stirring the meat in the pan. But they couldn't do so as Meizhou is giving them a warning gaze while standing beside Xuebao.

Some courageous ones asked loudly, "C-Can you give me a taste!?" movelusb.com

"Me too."

"A little bit would do."

But the commotion in the crowd turned silent when they saw Xuebao's scary eyes with a huge grin on his alluring face.

"Didn't you watch the process of how it was done? The food in the pan is for me, my father, Meizhou, who gathered the ingredients and Tuzi, who did the cooking. Don't tell me you dare to steal my food, right?~~" said Xuebao as he was cracking his fingers with his fist intending to beat up anyone who wants to steal his food.

Shivers~

Seeing this scary smiling Xuebao made everyone else retreat. While those who are smart enough had started copying their actions and making their own food. For the first time in their life, they got to taste a properly cooked food. Because of this event Xuebao and Tuzi's reputation in the tribe had changed from being notorious females to being famous.

Chapter 104: 5.6 First Violet Star - Deep in the Forest

After the usual banquet, everyone dispersed and returned to their tents for the rest of the night. Xuebao who received his father's permission to stay over Tuzi's place wasn't permitted instead the latter was asked to stay in the Tribe Leader's place specifically at Xuebao's room.

Xuebao, who brought his friend home, had a huge thing following after him. At the beginning he chose to ignore it until they arrived in his personal room. He stopped Meizhou from following inside his place.

Xuebao, "You should retire for the night. This is already my place." he said.

Meizhou at first stared at Xuebao's emotionless face for a few minutes until he bowed shortly to greet him farewell in silence before disappearing from his line of sight.

"Xuebao, is it alright for you to push away your protector?" asked Tuzi worriedly. Afraid that his friend might have offended his official protector.

Xuebao responded while yawning, "It was fine~ get inside it's so cold outside. We need to talk about few thing about our plan for tomorrow."

"Do you really plan on going to the forest with just me tomorrow? It's dangerous... Ah~ I have you with me you could even defeat someone like Laohu. I guess we would be fine." responded Tuzi.

Xuebao replied while pushing the dazed rabbit inside his house.

"That's right. Instead let's talk about my clothes. Alter a few tonight. Something comfortable to wear, clothes that won't get in the way as I hunt. I will be wearing it tomorrow." he said. movelusb.co M

"Hunting clothes ha? Then I'll make it so it will hide most of your skin!" said Tuzi while being pushed inside the tent.

As if remembering something Xuebao asked his system. "Yue, since this pervert is a transmigrator it is alright to tell him about you right?"

[W-Well there is no problem because he is considered an outsider soul missioned to remain here but... are you going to tell him about me, Host?]

"Sure~ why not? I think you two would get along well. Don't think I didn't know you took recording of those endless nights I've gone with my husband~" said Xuebao teasingly.

System Yue flinched when he heard that. He never expected his host to know about his secret hobby of recording his host and Lord God's romantic adventures.

"Remember to give me a copy of everything!" said Xuebao

[Yes, host!]

Once Tuzi and Xuebao disappeared inside the tent, Meizhou appeared from the shadow of the nearest tree. He really didn't leave just now. As he wanted to know what these two female beastmen plan to do for tomorrow. He didn't wait for vain as he got to hear their plans to hunt as a pair tomorrow. Usually male beastmen hunt food as a group while female beastmen gather herbs and such also as a group. The depths of the forest is dangerous. There will be wild beasts and animals inside.

Strong predators like dinosaurs also exist. If things go wrong one might bump into the precarious predator monster like Tyrannosaurus rex. For two females it will only be death but thinking about his beloved's last battle with Laohu, if he observed it well his Xuebao haven't shown his real strength yet. Either he chose to join these two females in their hunting instead of the usual troop. He could leave the leadership for the hunting brigade to his second in command Lang tomorrow. Then he would follow his female in his hunting instead.

Morning before complete sunrise.

At the Tribe's entrance two figures were seen sneaking around towards the direction of the forest. The pair was wearing similar looking clothes with the style of a camouflage but since the materials needed to design it was not complete the result product had low quality. At least they've been able to change it color to dark green shades with black. Xuebao even wrapped a black cloth on the wrist to cover up the opening and made it sure that except for the fingers the whole hand is also completely covered. He did the same thing on their feet since there are no boots in this era just just made sure no skin is exposed.

The only difference is that Xuebao wore full pants while Tuzi wore thin fitted pants over shorts. Xuebao wore long sleeves while Tuzi's had short sleeves. Unlike Xuebao's skin, his skin isn't sensitive and prone to rashes. There's a huge basket on Tuzi's back while a small stone knife is hanging on his waist. These two were in totally camping mode when they were suddenly blocked by the huge figure of the usual topless Meizhou who is completely geared with hunting tools on him.

His ordinary fur shorts were changed to pants. His upper body is bare as before revealing his masculine body with a 6 pack muscled stomach even the edges of his mermaid lines could be seen. Then there is his neutral cold expression on his handsome face. Tuzi, this timid little rabbit flinched upon seeing Meizhou while Xuebao only rolled his eyes on him as he clicked his tongue in irritation.

Hic!

Tsk!

Meizhou's eye only focused on his chosen female, Xuebao. It never wanders towards Tuzi nor other females in the tribe. The clear declaration he did last night is his proof of obsession towards Xuebao.

"I will go too." said Meizhou.

Xuebao responded, "I didn't ask you to come!"

"I will not do anything. I will just follow you, watch by the side and protect you in case of danger. I will carry your things for you as well." persuade Meizhou as his eyes even had hints of pleading while staring at Xuebao.

Xuebao's eyebrows twitch at seeing this man's silly antics as usual.

"Tuzi. Give him the basket." said Xuebao.

Tuzi while peeking at both his friend and his protector reluctantly put down the huge basket near Meizhou's foot and hid behind Xuebao's back. Meizhou calmly put the basket on his back even though it made him look weird.

"You've remembered what I told you last night right?" asked Xuebao.

Meizhou nodded, "Remember."

"Then let's go." said Xuebao.

Beside him Tuzi clings on his arm while sniggering at Meizhou. This is the first time he had seen their tribe's strongest warrior this meek and it is towards a female beastman he used to hate.

"Hehe~ This normal deadpan faced warrior top had a hidden puppy like personality when talking to his haughty devil bottom. Pfft! Hihih~"

Tuzi was totally treated as he didn't exist by Meizhou. As they continue to venture deeper in the forest, Meizhou who was walking in front of Xuebao slices off every grass in front of him, creating a clear road for Xuebao to walk. Xuebao remained silent the whole time as he was asking his system to be his temporary locator. Asking him where these kinds of plants grow, where is the fruit tree of this and where could he find things like raw materials for cement and such.

Behind him Tuzi is giggling at weird moments after murmuring few words like 'Ah~ if he pushes this...!', 'If I leave them would they...!', 'When will they kiss?', 'Please treat like air my male gods.'

[Host, there are few Honeycrisp apple trees and cherry bushes with fruits not far from here.]

"Good! Where is it? Show me the way."

[Three o' clock north. Half kilometers distance. Please be careful it is near the territories of Edmontosaurus. These are duck billed jaws and have the height of 3-9 meters tall. There are herbivores but they might accidentally hit you with its tail if it thought of you as enemies.]

"Are they near the location you told me?"

[No. That location is completely empty of living things but since it is within their territory it might appear out of nowhere.]

"Then~ there's no problem~ but are you sure this is the same place the protagonist found those apples right? Then as long as he gets an inkling of it somewhere then I could just have him identify it and we could have someone try replanting it near the tribe's territory."

[Host I think it is easier to just look for small crop plants like potatoes, lemons and such. Those kinds of plants are easier to replant and make a farm for it.]

"But it's almost winter there are no potatoes alive in this season. Only cabbages, carrots and celery. These three unpalatable veggies!" retorted Xuebao.

If everyone remembers, our main character hates eating his greens and orange colored vegetables. He hated eating carrots and peas the most. In the last world, it was Xie Ye who ate all those veggies he hated. He could eat a bit of cabbage and lettuce but not that much. Xuebao loves eating more sweet stuff like cakes or fruits.

[Then the host doesn't need to eat. Just pushed all of the farming jobs to the protagonist that is his mission.]

"Hmm~ that is also true. I don't really need to eat. Even if I have to I can just..." Thinking that he could just let Meizhou eat those unappetizing vegetables in his instead made Xuebao's mood better. "Right~ I could just let him eat it~"

[Sigh~] System Yue could only helplessly sigh in his host unhealthy diet.

On the other hand drifting in his own brainhole fantasy, "Hehe~ I could already imagine that cold face breaking and blushing as that seductress pushed him down straddling on his waist while licking the corner of his red lips as he gave his blushing top a sultry gaze making the former pants uncontrollably..." Tuzi continues to murmur these kinds of sentences, talking on his own as he let all of his fantasy out from his fanboying mode.

System Yue who heard all of this silly protagonist mumbling could only hover towards him discreetly and said. [Hehe~ don't just imagine it. Tonight I'll share my trophies to you~]

Suddenly yelled in excitement, "Really!?" exclaimed Tuzi.

[Sshss! Have you forgotten that only you and my host could see me!]

Seeing the weird gaze Meizhou is giving him Tuzi avoided his eyes and secretly winked on his friend Xuebao. Xuebao decided to ignore the two fudanshi behind him. Seeing his chosen female walks away, Meizhou ignored Tuzi's uncanny actions and followed after Xuebao instead.

The Protagonist Shou was busy imagining his BL fantasy between Xuebao and Meizhou in his mind while sharing his excitement with his comrade System Yue suddenly noticed that they've ventured in a familiar place.

Looking around in the familiar surroundings, "If I remembered it right this is the place where I found those apples!!"

In the beginning System Yue didn't inform Tuzi directly about the location being found by him. He and his host's mission is to allow Tuzi complete his task in this world as a Transmigrator. Aside from that they were not going to involve themselves further. Moreover his host tasks in this world don't directly involve clashing with this protagonist's mission. This world is also a vacation world for them. A vacation that his boss gave to his host as a compensation for taking his prisoner off his hands.

Tuzi grabbed Xuebao's wrist over his clothes as he pulled him excitedly towards the exact location where the apple trees were found. Clearly when he served those apples to Xuebao as snacks last night, the latter positively liked it.

"Xuebao! This way! I found those apples in this place!! We can bring home some with us!" said Tuzi while dragging Xuebao with him.

Meizhou on the other hand followed them closely despite his glaring eyes that landed on Tuzi's hand grabbing his chosen female's wrist. System Yue could even see his Lord God's soul fragment gritting his teeth in displeasure.

[Sigh~ Little Tuzi, you don't know how close you are to dying just because of someone's extreme jealousy towards you clinging to my host like that.]

Chapter 105: 5.7 First Violet Star - Holy Moly a Dinosaur!

Dragging Xuebao towards the location of the apple trees within his memories. Tuzi, this rabbit beastman proudly raised his head as he saw those bright red ripe apples on the trees in front of them.

Tuzi, who started climbing on the tree to fetch some apple fruits for them to bring home. "We came at the right time. The fruits just ripen." he said.

After plucking the ripest one from the tree, Tuzi threw it softly towards Xuebao. The latter caught it nonchalantly, he pulled out a water pouch made from animal skin and poured it over the apple before biting with hesitation and eating it. In spite of the moment Meizhou wanted to stop him from biting the fruit as this is the first time he had seen it. But he was a second late and looked at Xuebao worriedly, he appeared before Xuebao intently observing him. If he had seen any changes on the former he could carry him back to the tribe and have the tribe doctor check on him.

The listless figure of Meizhou almost startled Xuebao when he suddenly jumped in front of him. Looking at his frowning eyebrows, Xuebao knew that he is worried that the thing he just ate is poisonous.

"Spit it out. If you felt something weird on you, Bao'er." commented Meizhou.

Xuebao remained as cool as a cucumber as he chewed on the apple on his hand. Seeing Xuebao unharmed even after eating that weird colored fruit, Meizhou sighed in relief in his heart. He could see that his chosen female remained safe after eating and decided to take a few more of those red fruits back home for him, but before he could jump over the tree, Meizhou tasted sweetness filling his mouth. The bitten part of the red fruit which Xuebao is gnawing on just now was placed directly on his lips.? He paused in surprise for a few seconds before biting the fruit near his mouth.

Xuebao watched him eat the half eaten apple he had with him just now. Then intentionally ignore him as he walks slowly under the tree where Tuzi is gathering apples above him.

Tuzi said in System Yue but to Meizhou he looks like he is talking to the air. "I thought Xuebao didn't like Meizhou?"

[It's not disliked. My host just like teasing the person he love.]

"Oh~ Xuebao is a mensao~" responded Tuzi.

[a/n: Mensao means outwardly cold or retiring but deep and passionate inside.]

Xuebao chose to turn a deaf ear on this two gossiping sisterhood.

This snow leopard beastman shouted from below, "Throw it down. I'll catch it!" said Xuebao to Tuzi, who is conversing with his system as they gather apples.

Tuzi's arms, which are half full of apples, decided to throw the picked apples to Xuebao who caught every single one with refined and subtle movements. Meizhou returned to Xuebao's side and took the fruits on him to be placed on the huge basket on his back. They remained silent as they worked.

After gathering enough apples Tuzi went down from the top of the tree with a huge smile on his face. His delight is so clear as he hugged those fruits on his chest.

Xuebao just rolled his eyes on him, "Stop hugging it! Put it inside the basket. I've seen some wild berries bush not far from here. Go dig it so we could plant it back in the tribe."

"Male God it seems that you are not only afraid of cold but also is a bit OCDic. No wonder you like to take another bath before going to sleep last night." said Tuzi as he walked in the direction where Xuebao pointed to him.

Xuebao just replied to him with a snort. "Just focus on digging the wild berries. I would bring this guy with me to uproot an apple tree root which we can at least try replanting it back home." he said.

"Replant apple trees? Ah~ you mean grafting it?" asks Tuzi.

Xuebao answered, "Yeah. When we return to the tribe I'll ask father to lend me some land for farming. You can look after it for me."

"Sure~ but will uncle really lend to you some land? The elders might not agree to it." responded Tuzi.

"They would. If they still want to eat food like last night. I'm sure those old men would start planning to have you teach cooking to the tribe in the future. While you're at it go teach them how to farm and sew and get everything done in one go." said Xuebao as he told Meizhou to get him the roots of the apple tree near them.

"Only the roots? Are you telling me it would grow into a tree with just this branch like thing?" asked Meizhou while pointing at the exposed tree roots near them.

Xuebao showed him a frown and pouted. "You can't question me!"

Seeing Xuebao pouting softens his expression. "Sorry. I won't anymore. I need to get all these roots from all these trees?" asked Meizhou while coaxing his chosen female.

"Yes! Just those roots! Not all the trees, just this one. We can't bring back everything with just three of us. Get working." commanded Xuebao while he watched from another tree's shade as he snacked on apples.

[Host, are you not going to help them dig?]

Xuebao with an unconcerned tone replied, "Do you expect a lazy person like me to work? Have these two... They could do it. I would prepare the ingredients for the meal instead."

[Oh~ Host there are few wild pheasants a meter away from here.]

"Good~ let's make some grilled chicken for lunch~" said Xuebao as he disappeared for a moment to get some wild chickens.

The other two were so busy with digging that they didn't even notice his departure. It didn't take a while for Xuebao to return with ten tied chickens with him. He keeps it alive planning to breed some for eggs and meat. He only killed three of it for lunch. With a slit on the necks of the chickens he hanged it to remove its blood after plucking all its feathers neatly while he prepared other ingredients to make it easy to cook later.

The whole process didn't leave a single hint of blood or dust on him. He likes to be clean even in this primitive world. But he would be making their lunch in this place, they would need to look for a river to clean the things needed to be clean. Like the hands of the two diggers which is now full of soil. Once he finished the preparation for cooking, Xuebao once again continued looking at the two who were not far from him.

He could clearly see who would be finished working first. Meizhou is also done with his work. Not only did he collect the roots his female asked him to gather, he even cut the trunk of the tree for firewood. It would only need a half more hour for him to be clean off that huge tree. Meanwhile Tuzi this transmigrated modern man who was transmigrated to a female beastman body is only able to dig three wild berries bushes for an hour and three are two more bushes to dig.

Tuzi is like any other ordinary female beastmen in their tribe. Their strength was only at the same levels of females in the modern world. The type of females who don't work out normally in their life. They only have limited strength and stamina.

Half an hour later, Meizhou indeed finished his task and made preparations to leave. He tied up the important roots under the basket while carrying firewood under his arm. Then he walks back to where Xuebao is resting.

Xuebao yells, "Tuzi you can only dig that last bush and we have to leave. We still need to look for a river to cook for lunch~"

He who have seen Meizhou standing beside his Male God, "Eh? Meizhou already finished his task?! So fast! Wait a minute, I just need to pull this!!" replied Tuzi who decided to pull out the plant which was halfway digged through.

Concentrating to pull the plant! Tuzi didn't even notice the two the shameless pair who watches him work hard as he pulls a plant that Meizhou or Xuebao could pull off without any effort. The two didn't offer help and just watched.

Between the pair one of them really doesn't care about Tuzi while the other wouldn't even help even if Tuzi asked.

Meizhou who passed a newly washed apple to Xuebao, "He would still need to pull a few more times before he could loft it off the ground." he said.

Xuebao accepted the apple without looking at the man who was giving him a heated gaze as he stood beside him.

"He really is silly. He could have asked for help from you. With your strength you could lift it off the soil with one pull~ chomps!" said Xuebao while munching on an apple.

[Host! That Edmontosaurus thing is approaching! From the direction where the Protagonist is!!]

Xuebao suddenly stood up startling Meizhou for a moment. Only for the latter to suddenly change expression when he heard heavy footsteps coming towards their direction.

"Tuzi watch out in front!" yelled Xuebao but even so his warning came few seconds left as a huge head with a duck billed jaws appeared in front of Tuzi.

Two huge pairs of beast eyes and a small pair of human eyes looked at each other. A short silence was exchanged between the two. Few seconds later the owner of the small eyes had his irises rolled back as he fell on the ground closing his eyes pretending to be dead.

Seeing this scene the other three not far from him looked at Tuzi like a brainless moron.

"Idiot! That's not a fucking wild bear. Playing dead will only result in being trampled! You stupid rabbit!" screamed Xuebao as he and Meizhou made their move.

One came over to pick up the silly fool and throw him somewhere safe while the latter blocked the dinosaur giving the former ample time to save Tuzi. The movements the two did was not something they planned or talked about. They made the actions in accordance with their trust in each other's abilities.

Meizhou grabbed the tail of the dinosaur and stopped it before it trampled its large foot on Tuzi. Xuebao moved instantly to grab the foolish rabbit and the wild berry plants, throwing the two at the area where the rest of the good was safely gathered. Xuebao threw Tuzi in the corner like a bag of rice.

Tuzi who got thrown head first towards a tree trunk in the distance.

"OWWIE~~!!" Tuzi screamed in pain, he then opened his eyes in pain only to see the scene of Meizhou and Xuebao waving their weapons in front of a 3 meter monster. As a modern man he knew what creature it is.

Tuzi couldn't help but shouted in shock. "HOLY MOLY! It's really a motherfucking Dinosaur!!!!"

On the other hand Xuebao looked at the warrior in front of him and nodded as Meizhou gestured to gesture him to make the next move. The plan after saving the stupid rabbit is too hunt the creature. Thankfully it's not a full grown dinosaur. Since the stone knives wouldn't be helpful in fighting something this huge both Xuebao and Meizhou used their half beast form. This is a form that lets them use their human form while being able to wield their half of strength as in their beast form.

This form isn't that much different from their human form. The only difference is that their beast ears, fangs and claws came out. Soft white fluffy ears appeared on top of Xuebao's head with his fangs and claws turned sharper. He jumped on top of the Edmontosaurus and grabbed its neck. Meizhou who now has pit black round ears on his head, used his claws to hold on the tail of the dinosaur tightly preventing it from moving an inch as it struggles.

The Edmontosaurus tried to struggle for it's life only for it to fail as Xuebao who was grabbing on its neck used his beastman strength and twisted it to a weird angle. The creature couldn't even let out a scream before it's neck got broken and died instantly without even losing a drop of blood. The body of the dinosaur had fallen lifeless on the ground with a huge bang.

BAM!!!

Xuebao and Meizhou stood beside the dead creature without any changes in their calm demeanor. Tuzi who watched the whole scene of carnage from the distance looked at this power coupled with an excited and idolizing gaze.

"Wow~~ that's a dinosaur right!? T-They could kill one this easily!!?" said Tuzi to System Yue hovering beside him.

System Yue looked at Tuzi as if he was looking at a child who doesn't know the world. Then he murmured...

[You still haven't seen them fight seriously. The bloody scene of hell on earth could really descend into reality if those two really fought seriously. This is nothing but child's play for this devious couple.]

Chapter 106: 5.8 First Violet Star - Warrior Captain Lang

After defeating the baby dinosaur whose height had only reached 3 meters, now laid on the ground lifeless and no longer breathing. Standing at the side is a pair of beastmen in their half beast form. On their human figure, beast features like animal ears, claws and fangs were present on their bodies. The sight of the two men were both mesmerizing and attractive in a way. They had this contrasting appearance but complementing presence.

One had the almost perfected state of unpigmented. White medium length hair, snow dyed smooth skin and orbs with the shade of light cerulean. On the top of his head are small rounded ears which twitch at the hints of sounds from a certain distance. This man is Xuebao, a female snow leopard beastman.

Beside Xuebao is a man who is taller than him has a slightly tanned skin, flawless proportional muscles and lines. Short coal black hair, captivating features and golden orbs for eyes. On his head are rounded ears which are slightly larger than Xuebao, it has the same shade as his hair. This person is the strongest warrior of the Lune Tribe. A male black jaguar beastman currently is Xuebao's Protector and suitor.

Xuebao, who is looking at the dead dinosaur in front of him, thought for a moment before asking the man beside him to clear his confusion.

"Could this thing be eaten?" asked Xuebao.

Meizhou looked at him weirdly, "You have eaten this countless times before. Of course it could be eaten. It's tastier than the cow's meat." he replied.

Hearing that this thing is a delicacy much more delicious than beef, Xuebao this foodie instantly had his eyes show excitement.

"Let's bring it back home! Let's just drag it this way. One foot for you and me. That weak rabbit can carry the basket and the rest of things." said Xuebao with a small smile on his face.

Catching a sight of this rare expression, Meizhou's heart started beating faster. He tried to remain calm and nodded at the former with a contentment in his eyes.

Xuebao's mind is currently concentrating on filtering recipes with beef as main ingredients and didn't notice these sudden changes in Meizhou's usual deadpan face. In his mind he told System Yue to get Tuzi ready to leave. Then both the two of them followed the plan and dragged the dead dinosaur back with them to the tribe.

On the other hand, Tuzi, this female rabbit beastman observed the pair with glowing eyes, he seems very happy about something. With the obvious fanatic daze in those pink eyes, he suddenly starts talking on his own.

"Hehe~ animal ears, animal tails. Hihi! It's almost cosplay! S-So many types of play could be done. Kukuku~"

One will be able to clearly see his drools if they looked at Tuzi's face directly. The one that brought him back to reality is none other than an auto mode invisible system in his moon avatar, Yue. He bashed him on his forehead with his perfectly round glowing body.

Now with a huge swollen bump on his forehead, Tuzi glared at System Yue with teary eyes. "Owwiee~~"

[Back to reality, I guess?]

"With this much throbbing pain of course I would wake up from my fantasy! What's wrong with me fanboying towards my favorite CP!!?" complains Tuzi.

[There is no problem with fanboying but... if you keep getting caught up like this in your fantasy. They would leave you here!]

System Yue informed him, as he looked at the direction of his favorite CP, he indeed saw them preparing to leave while dragging that heavy looking dinosaur corpse back with them to the tribe. Then he looked at the basket full of apples, wild berry bushes, tree roots and firewood. Tuzi didn't know whether to cry or not.

"Do I need to carry these all?~~" asked Tuzi with an almost crying face.

[Do you think you are like my host who had monstrous strength or a male beastman who was born with almighty power? Or do you think you could drag that 3 meters tall dinosaur instead?]

Tuzi with tears strolling down on his face, "Wuwuwu~ I can't do either~!! But I might break my back if I carry all of this!" retorted by this silly rabbit.

[No worries~ my host is an excellent doctor. He could at least return back any dislocated bone though... it will be a torturous experience for you~~]

Tuzi's face turned gloomy at this fact. So instead of just carrying all things on his back. He carried only the basket and wild pheasants behind him. The firewood in front. This is the first time he walked like a stunned straight rod. Unable to fall back or lean forward. He walks like a penguin but the speed is enough to catch up from the two in front of him.

Lune Tribe's Territory.

The tribe's hunting team led by Captain Warrior Lang had brought back a diverse amount of prizes. There are 5 wild pigs, 10 wild chickens, 3 adult grey wolves and one grizzly brown bear with them.

Their tribe clan members especially the females had surrounded these men with adoring eyes on them making the men proud of the result of their task. There are more females surrounding Male wolf beastman named Lang. His overall strength is not bad. He is only slightly weaker than Laohu in their beast form. This is because Laohu as a Tiger beastman had a larger physique than Lang, who is a Wolf beastman, the latter got ranked after Laohu making him the third strongest warrior in the tribe.

Ordinary female beastmen like him but his arrogance and straightforwardness sometimes offends others unconsciously. This is the reason why talented females sometimes strays away from him. As he couldn't hold back his tongue whether he is complimenting others or dissing.

"Lang you are really strong~"

"You are so amazing Lang!"

"Did you guys hunt all these!!? Wow~~"

"Lang, would you like to join me for lunch?"

"Lang..."

The inquiries from the female beastmen were almost endless. For a strong warrior like Captain Lang this should be expected. In this Primitive world, Male beastmen especially those with strength and talents are the female's best option for marriage.

Captain Warrior Lang has a huge smile on his face as he enjoys his tribesmen appreciation and those females adoration.

Kakaka~

But suddenly the world becomes quiet. Before Warrior Lang knew the reason he saw a 3 meter tall creature approaching their tribe, he had immediately led the male beastmen in the area to block the creature.

"Everyone get ready to fight!!" exclaimed Lang.

"WOA!!!" Everyone responded with a battle cry.

The male beastmen block the entrance of the tribe's camp intending to fight the tall creature only to be dumbfounded when a female beastman in his half beast form comes running with a huge basket on his back and a few more things hanging on his body. He instantly kneeled while out of breath as he reached the entrance of the tribe and fell on the ground as if he lost consciousness. This is a female who had a fawn colored rabbit ears on his head now folded down because of his lack of energy. This female beastman is Tuzi.

Reaching out a trembling hand towards Lang, "W-Water~~ Give me water~ I'm dying~~" Said Tuzi.

After Tuzi drinks the offered water to him like a dry desert. Like a dry plant you finally got his water, he was now energized and was smiling well pleased.

"Ah~ Xuebao and Meizhou said to clear the area. They'll be bringing a baby dinosaur back! They've just hunted it together~" said Tuzi with a huge smile.

"T-They've hunted a dinosaur?! Meizhou with a female beastman alone? Impossible!" said Lang in disbelief.

Tuzi pouted and frowned at him when he heard him say that. He had seen his favorite CP defeated that dinosaur. Even though it is just a baby Xuebao only needs to twist its neck to kill it instantly! I saw it with my own eyes! I'm not lying!" Retorted Tuzi.

Seeing such honest anger within those pinkish eyes, Lang felt undeniable guilt for a second. "I... I didn't say... you are lying. I didn't say that!" responded Lang. "I thought all of those creatures are carnivores so... it will be impossible for a female... I mean might be quite... No. A bit impossible... I said nothing!" said Lang after seeing the flaming anger within Tuzi's eyes.

"Hmph! You can't say anything bad to my Male God and my favorite CP! Moreover not all those dinosaurs are carnivores." said Tuzi.

"Dinosaur? That creature is called a dinosaur?" asked Lang, this time not only Warrior Lang was surprised. Their other tribe members were startled knowing those dangerous creatures have a name.

Tuzi looked at his tribe members and even saw the coincidentally passing Tribe Priest overheard his and Warrior Lang's conversation. The name of the Tribe Priest is Anbao. He is the tribe leader's little brother and Xuebao's uncle.

"Those creatures are called Dinosaurs? You could differentiate which of those are carnivorous and not?" Tribe Priest, Anbao asked.

Seeing a high ranking elder before him Tuzi unconsciously hid behind Lang while peeking at the Tribe Priest. After the Tribe Leader and Meizhou, he is most afraid of the Tribe Priest as he is said to be the smartest in their whole tribe. What would happen if the original Tuzi happened to be close to this old man. He might think He got possessed or something.

Looking at the frightened little female, the tribe priest's eyes softened; he knew that his nephew and this boy have been scorned by others before. "Don't be afraid, little one. This old man is Baobao's little uncle. I would never harm you." said Anbao.

"Uhh~~ I... I don't know much about it. But maybe Xuebao knew how to differentiate them more. I will ask him about it later and tell the elders about it the next day. Is this alright?" asked Tuzi.

An amicable smile appeared on the elder's face and pats Tuzi's head, "Then I'll leave it to you, Tu'er. If you can't find me tomorrow you look for my apprentice Xiong and tell him about it. Don't worry Xiong is not scary and quite friendly. I;m sure you'll get along well." said Anbao.

"Oh... Okay. I will..." said Tuzi.

Then someone suddenly tapped on Tuzi's back and said while pointing at the dinosaur placed at the center of the tribe area. Laying there lifeless surrounded by curious beastmen.

"Tuzi, Meizhou said that Xuebao wants the most of the part that can be used as what is that again? H-Hotpot? Yes~ that! He wanted you to get some meat parts for that and get some vegetables in the tribe leader's food warehouse." A nameless female beastman said.

"Eh? Where are they?!" asked Tuzi while looking around for his favorite CP only to not see them at all.

Another beastman replied, "Xuebao said that he felt disgusting being covered in dirt and sweat. He left this thing here for you to manage while he went to the river."

"Right! Meizhou followed him as usual." said by another beastman.

Remembering Xuebao who hates being covered in dust and sweat understood that his friend must have gone to the river once again to take a bath. He just didn't know what Meizhou would do instead.

"Is Meizhou planning to join Xuebao in bathing? Xuebao would beat him up if he did think of doing it for real~" murmured Tuzi. Then he looked at the tribe priest once again and said, "Priest. Please excuse me as I still have few tasks to do so."

"Hoho~ go ahead, child. Things Baobao wants are collected before the rest of the meat would be used for tonight's dinner." said Anbao who left the place after saying what he wanted.

Meanwhile Warrior Lang whom he used as a meat shield finally spoke a word.

"Hey! Your name is Tuzi right? I heard that the tasty food last night was made by you. My name is Lang by the way. I am Meizhou's second in command. That Hotpot what is it? Is it delicious? Could I join you guys for a meal?" asked Lang.

"You want to join us for a meal with us? That... I don't mind but... I still need to ask Xuebao for permission. If he doesn't agree then... I'm sorry." said Tuzi.

"Well that's alright too. You can ask first." said Lang as he took the basket behind Tuzi. Helping him carry it. "I'll help you carry things. If he didn't agree then you can just make me some food in exchange." said Lang.

Feeling the pressure on his back disappears, Tuzi's expression brightens.

"Good! If Xuebao didn't agree. I will cook for you once. Please help me carry those firewood as well. Could you wait here for a while? I need to get a little meat from the dinosaur there first." said Tuzi with a sweet innocent smile on his face.

"O-Okay." responded Lang but for some reason his face is red as he shyly averted his gaze from Tuzi. 'W-What is this? My heart... it's beating too fast.' Thoughts of Lang after seeing Tuzi's smile.

Tuzi, this dense rabbit, didn't even notice Lang's blushing face as he walked towards the dinosaur and prepared some of it for hotpot. On the other hand the invisible System Yue who was tasked to look after his BL fan brother witnessed the whole thing.

[Wow~ his protagonist halo is stronger as it is. One of the Male leads got hooked in their first meeting. See how bright that man's blushing is. I wonder how he'll seduce the rest~]

Chapter 107: 5.9 First Violet Star - Hotpot

When Xuebao and Meizhou arrived in the Tribe's territories. The scene of their arrival towards tribe's entrance while dragging a dead dinosaur behind them caused a commotion none of them expected. The reaction from their tribesmen was astonishing at least for the three of them.

People gathered, especially the warriors in front of the entryway, with weapons ready for battle. Few more tribes men waited at the side intending to give support to the front line warriors if needed. Seeing this scene even Meizhou was surprised. Tuzi who only got a huge basket on his back was panting like a tired dog as he dragged his trembling legs to its fullest.

On their way back Tuzi had fallen on the road more than once due to fatigue. Even as a former modern man he only used to be someone who works behind a table and after transmigrating into a female beastman whose strength isn't that much different from his original body, this kind of overload work is too much for him. He didn't even notice Xuebao and Meizhou leaving the area and all the things they've collected for him to manage.

After collecting the dinosaur meat Tuzi decided to drop by his house first to place the basket and the rest of things with him and Lang. Then he prepared a change of clothes for Xuebao and brought his spare clothes as well. He prepares a few large clothes just in case Meizhou really chooses to take a bath as well. Then he had Lang carry the stone pot big enough for an 8 person meal. He placed the available ingredients inside the pot as well some apples for snacks.

"Let's go to the Tribe Leader's food warehouse next," said Tuzi.

As the two left his place and went to another family's warehouse and got more ingredients for the hotpot.

"You are really that close to the tribe leader's female son?" asked Lang. "Well you're both females so you should be close."

"Xuebao is my closest friend!" replied Tuzi.

"I see." said Lang as he smiles. "By the way how did you bump into that creature? Unless who went inside the boundaries of their territory it shouldn't be possible to see those things."

"Well~ we entered the boundaries of their land in the far north. I got lost there once and found this kind of fruit. This fruit is called apple. It has a slightly sour taste when not completely ripe but tastes sweeter when picked at the right time. You can eat a few and taste it but don't eat everything or we won't have any snacks after the meal" said Tuzi as he passed a scarlet fruit to Lang.

Wolf Warrior Lang had accepted the apple and took a bite of it. After chewing it for a few times his mouth was full of sweetness from the juiciness of the fruit.

His eyes sparkled in joy. "Hmm! Not bad. This is quite nice. By the way you still haven't told me about that event with that creature."

"Oh~ That dinosaur we met accidentally in the place where those fruits grow. I was digging some plants when it suddenly appeared in front of me. I was so shocked when its huge face came before my face. Haha~" storied Tuzi.

Lang showed concern upon hearing such a dangerous life threatening event Tuzi had experienced.

"Are you hurt!? Did you break something? It looks so heavy. It didn't stomp you or something!?" asked Lang while worrying.

"Nothing happened. Xuebao saved me before I got stepped on. Meizhou also restrained its movement for a few seconds and got out of its reach before something bad happened~" answered Tuzi.

"That's good. Nothing happened." murmured Lang as he even sighed in relief.

Tuzi, who felt Lang's concern smiled timidly. After being transmigrated to this unknown world all of the sudden and into this body with ugly most people in the tribe had either ignored him or scorn him secretly. Even knowing that he didn't mind as food and shelter is still provided as he is a female that could give birth.

The tribe provides necessities to unmarried females. But the body he is in, was not of noble birth like Xuebao. The resources he received are only minimal. Adding the fact some females even look down on him because of his weird hobby of fanboying his life in the tribe is not good enough for him to eat a proper 3 meals a day.

This is also the reason why he sneaks into the forest looking for another source of food. That apple fruit is the prize of his hard work after looking round the forest alone. He was lucky to pass by that day and meet a newly transmigrated Xuebao. After Xuebao and the tribe leader, Lang was the third one to treat him this well. Meizhou doesn't even need to be mentioned, that person would even care if he existed or not, if not for Xuebao becoming his friend.

"You are so kind, Lang! I will try my best to convince Xuebao and allow you to join our meals in the future!" said Tuzi with an innocent smile on his face.

Lang felt the attraction even more evident this time after seeing a smile of Tuzi that was made for him. The blushing on his face is brighter than before.

"I-In the future Xuebao would surely join the hunting team I-if you follow him then I... Can I protect you then? No wrong words. I will definitely protect you at that time Tuzi!" answered Lang.

Tuzi chuckles and says, "Okay then I will leave it to Lang when that time comes!"

Lang bumped a fist on his chest and said, "Leave it to me. I will definitely protect you!"

While these two new pairs started to get along, the other two who separated with others before are now standing by the edges of the river. Xuebao watched as Meizhou dipped his hand in the river to check the temperature.

Meizhou, "The temperature is slightly cold. You shouldn't be soaked in it for too long."

"I won't. I just wanted to wash my sweat." said Xuebao as he was intending to take off his clothes one at the time only to see Meizhou staring at him with no expression on his handsome face.

"What is it? Are you going to join me?" asked Xuebao with a teasing tone.

But for a thick faced Meizhou this low level teasing would not really work. This is not the first time this man showed his shamelessness so clearly.

"I can join you?" Meizhou asked with delight, sprouting within those golden orbs was eagerness.

This unashamed man! "Of course you can't! Hmph! Go leave for a moment. I don't want to see you have another nosebleed after watching me take a bath!" said Xuebao.

"I can't (want) leave! (to watch) I must (closely) protect (this) you (time)!" said Meizhou while his real thoughts were only said in his mind. What he didn't know was that his eyes showed obvious hints of his desires.

[Pfft!!!] His system's voice suddenly resounds in his mind. He clearly just got back.

Xuebao responded in his mind. "Yue this Lord God of yours is so shameless!"

[The host isn't that much different though.]

"What did you say, Yue?"

[This Yue didn't say a thing!]

The conversation between the host and his system was done in the mind as Meizhou is around. Seeing that this man had no intention to leave Xuebao had no choice but to compromise. He still hasn't allowed his husband to reach the final plate as soon as possible. He wanted to tease him more until the latter could no longer hold back his beastly desires.

Xuebao glared at Meizhou and replied to his words. "Turn around! If you don't want to leave then turn your back at me and you can stay here. Don't you dare look back!"

Meizhou gave him a pleading gaze the same expression of a kicked puppy but Xuebao didn't get fooled this time. He gazed at him icily, the same as his voice.

"Don't give me those eyes! I will send you away if you don't turn around." said Xuebao. 'Shit! I could almost see downright ears on his head just now.'

Meizhou who looked depressed reluctantly faced his back at Xuebao. He indeed comprised but instead of putting distance at each other, he sat closer at the edge of the river bank. Xuebao turned a blind eye to these obvious actions. He carefully cast off his clothes one at a time and threw it at Meizhou who caught it reflexively. At the sounds of the clothes rustling Xuebao could see his husband's reddening ears twitch.

'Pervert~' Xuebao murmured in heart. After removing all his clothes he slowly soaked under the river scrubbing the dirt, soil and sweat on his body. Totally ignoring the fidgeting figure not far from him.

"When Tuzi arrives tell him to start cooking the hotpot. I've taught him how to before." said Xuebao

"Un. I will inform him." answered Meizhou still didn't dare to look back. Xuebao smiled a bit when he saw this seriousness from his husband. This man has always been like this, he only needs to ask and the latter would follow his words without question. It is because this man is like this that Xuebao always acted spoiled in every world they spent a lifetime.

"Yue, how's the silly rabbit's love life going?"

[The first fish got hooked so easily. The Protagonist Halo of this star is quite powerful.]

"Then how about my husband. He is still one of the supposed Male Leads in this world. Would he get affected by Tuzi's halo?"

[That might be impossible. The moment he chose to become your guardian his fate string connected to Tuzi had completely broken.]

"That's good then. Are those two on their way here?"

[They should be as they just left the host house before I came back here. Actually Tuzi plans to ask the host to allow Male Lead Wolf Lang to join the group at every meal time.]

"If they prepare the ingredients I don't mind allowing him to bring his lovers with him for meals."

[Then I'll inform him later.]

"Hum~ you know how to cook hotpot right? Teach the silly rabbit instead."

[Okay]

Xuebao hummed as he closed his eyes to nap for a few minutes. He leaned on Meizhou's back tiredly. It didn't take while for his breathing to become low and rhythmical. Hearing this kind of breathing Meizhou knew that Xuebao had fallen asleep. He looked back and saw Xuebao's sleeping face. He joins him inside the water after taking off his dirty clothes. After cleanly washing the grime and sand on him he pulled the sleeping figure on his chest letting Xuebao sleep on top of him.

Meizhou didn't do anything other than that. He only hugs him in his sleep, letting him have a better position to take a nap. It's not that he didn't dare but he doesn't want to make his beloved angry. Not only that, it is usually normal for females to have weaker physiques than males. They get tired so easily. That's why Xuebao, who is a female despite being able to fight the same way as males, knew that every time he fought twice the energy in his body is consumed. It is normal for Xuebao to suddenly fall to sleep due to over fatigue.

"Sleep well Bao'er." said Meizhou while looking at the serene looking face of his beloved.

An hour later. Tuzi and Lang finally come over bringing all ingredients for the hotpot. Few meters away from the river bed they've seen Meizhou seating at the edge. wet hair and slightly dry clothes. This time Xuebao is using Meizhou as his lap pillow.

Noticing the arrival of the two, he called on to their attention when they were still a few meters away from him. "Lang stay where you stand. Tuzi passes the change of clothes for me and Bao'er to Lang and has it thrown over here!" said Meizhou.

The two did what they were told and threw the spare clothes from the distance. Then once again heard Meizhou's voice.

WHOOSH!

He caught the clothes and towel firmly, "Turn around. I need to dress Bao'er." said Meizhou while giving them an intense warning gaze. His eyes were fierce and cold as if he would kill them if they come any closer than what they were allowed to.

Tuzi hurriedly asked, "Do you want me to help you dress Xuebao?"

A colder voice replied, "No need. I would do it myself. Turn around now!" said Meizhou.

"Why is he angry? It is better for females to help other females with their clothes than a male helping an unmarried female with his clothes!?! Buh~ I will tell Xuebao what you did when he woke up. Hmph~" grumbles Tuzi as he turns his back from the river's direction.

Warrior Lang didn't question his boss' orders and just turned his back on him as he wanted. It would be a nice scene if a male offended another male for looking at the latter's chosen female. Meizhou would definitely kill him if he saw Xuebao's naked appearance. As Xuebao's Protector Meizhou and every right to fight off all males for his female.

After seeing Lang and Tuzi turned their backs on him, Meizhou pulled out the sleeping Xuebao carefully from the water. Then covered him with a clean towel. He used the other towel to wipe him out dry and put on the spare clothes on him. It was light grey long sleeves with an attached hoodie paired with pants. After changing Xuebao's clothes, Meizhou changed into a normal black shirt and pants. After wrapping the dirty clothes like a black, he placed the sleeping Xuebao on his lap allowing the latter to sit on him sideways and lean his head on his shoulder with Meizhou's right hand wrapped around Xuebao's flexible waist to avoid the latter from falling off him.

"You can come over now." said Meizhou.

Hearing Meizhou's words, the other pair finally looked their way. Seeing that both are dressed in new clothes. The two approached them as they were now allowed to. Catching a glimpse of Xuebao's sleeping figure, Tuzi sighed in relief that he brought an extra mat with them. After laying the huge square shaped mat on the grassy ground and gesturing to Meizhou to put down his sleeping friend on it. Meizhou understood his intention and placed Xuebao on the mat.

He then looked at them, "You two could go take a bath first. Bao'er wouldn't allow you to join the meal if you're dirty as you are." said Meizhou as he started a small fire near the mat where Xuebao is asleep. They will use this bonfire for cooking.

Meizhou, "Bao'er said he had taught you how to cook hotpot before, so he told me to inform you that you could start cooking first,"

A bit startled and confused Tuzi said, "But I didn't..." he wasn't able to complete his words as a monotonous voice resounded in his head. It was System Yue's voice.

[Tuzi I will teach you how to cook it. For now boil some water for the soup base. Then take a short bath before you continue cooking. Don't worry~ I will guide you on how to cook the tastiest Hotpot!]

"Ah! I remember now." said Tuzi as he placed the huge pot over the fire and boiled some water first. "Please look after it for a moment until it boils over, Meizhou."

Meizhou just nodded his head on him once before returning his gaze on the sleeping Xuebao on his lap. He let him use his lap as a pillow for the second time this time. Meanwhile Tuzi gently pulled over Lang towards the river to take a bath. They didn't take the whole hour to be soaked into the water. After thoroughly washing themselves, they immediately change their clothes to new ones. It only took a few minutes for them to take a short bath.

After returning to the riverbed, Tuzi started cooking with Lang's help. The latter only helped with holding the ingredients and passing it to Tuzi when he needed it. After over an hour of waiting, the hotpot was made the same time the rice Tuzi got from his friend's place.

Lunch was finally made. Xuebao woke up on time and ate lunch with the rest of them. He allowed Lang to join them as he helped in cooking it while he was asleep. Tuzi vouched for him for this. They've enjoyed a delectable lunch that day.

Chapter 108: 5.10 First Violet Star - Scarlet Fruits

The group enjoyed their lunch well. They didn't return to the tribe camp as soon as they've finished eating but instead loiter around the riverside for few minutes. This is to help them with digestion. Tuzi agreed to this as he knew the consequence of indigestion especially in this primitive world without no source of medicine except for herbs.

They've stayed by the riverside for half an hour and when they felt the food in their stomach is halfway digested Xuebao asked everyone to go return to Lune Tribe's camp. On their way back, Lang is still trying to get Xuebao's permission to join them during their future hunts.

Lang speaks, "Young Leader~ Please let me join your future hunts next time~ I will definitely follow all your orders and protect Tutu the whole time. I swear I won't bother you and the boss lovey-dovey time!"

Xuebao could ignore the few sentences except for the last one. He didn't agree that he and Meizhou were flirting during their last hunt which almost resulted of Tuzi nearly getting trampled under the dinosaur's foot. At most, he did care much of his surroundings because his husband is beside him and that he is busy teasing his man. That's all!

If Warrior Lang and Tuzi heard Xuebao's thoughts they would definitely say, 'Young Leader. That's what you call flirting!!!' Unfortunately only his system Yue heard this host thoughts which is why Yue voice the same thing in his host mind.

[Host. If I'm not wrong teasing your lover while ignoring the rest is what you call flirting.]

"S-Shut up, Yue!" yelled Xuebao in his mind. He still doesn't accept it as fact. Hmph!

Tuzi who had remembered the huge face of that dinosaur at close up suddenly pales.

"X-Xuebao. Let's allow Lang to join our future hunts next time. I'm afraid that accidents might occur when I get separated from you two." said Tuzi with a pleading gaze towards his friend.

'This silly rabbit forgets about his friend because of his lover!!!' Thoughts of Xuebao.

'[Host. You cannot say such a thing. You are in top ranking under that kind of list.]' System Yue's thought that he didn't dare to say out loud. Afraid of being thrown by his host in anger and embarrassment.

This time the always silent and cold man strongest warrior Meizhou spoke, "How about this? Whenever I lead the hunting party of the tribe next time. Let me bring Bao'er and the rabbit with us. Is this okay with you, Bao'er?" asked Meizhou as he looked tenderly at his chosen female.

Xuebao, who saw the softness within those golden eyes couldn't help but agree to this man's request.

His thought at the moment, 'Damn! I don't remember having weakness towards this kind of gaze. Like the kind gaze or those illusionary puppy eyes! Aaah!!'

"O-Okay, Fine. I agree! You guys are happy!!?" said Xuebao.

"YES!" replied Tuzi and Lang who wanted to jump on Xuebao for a hug only to be both grabbed on their back collar by Meizhou who was smiling so dark towards them.

With a scary smile on his face, "What are you silly pair trying to do?" said Meizhou with a threatening tone.

"N-Nothing, it's just impulse! B-Boss I'm sorry!!!" said Lang as he raised his hand as if raising a white flag.

Tuzi on the other hand entered his fantasy mode at this moment, they could hear his mumbling nonsense. Meizhou was used to it but for Lang this is the first time.

"Demon king mode~~ Hehe~ Kyaa!! hihih~"

"Tutu? What's wrong?" asked Lang.

Upon hearing his new friend's voice, Tuzi immediately returns to normal.

Tuzi replied with a normal expression, "Nothing just playing around a bit~"

"Anyway you two come with us. We need to plant those things we got this morning. Let's go meet my father first. You... Let go of them." said Xuebao. He is talking to Meizhou for the last sentence.

This small group headed to the Tribe Leader's place to ask the old man to lend them a piece of land for farming. Without them knowing someone from the distance is watching their group specifically at Tuzi. There's an obvious envy and rage in this person's eyes. He clearly hates Tuzi for a reason.

"Why? Why are you a useless and weird female is able to join a group led by the Young Leader Xuebao and the strongest Warrior Meizhou? Now you even have Warrior Captain Lang on your side!!? This is so unfair!!! I don't believe you are that special!" The man murmured maniacally.

Tribe Leader's House.

As the female son of the tribe leader, Zhubao, this place would be called his home. Xuebao took the lead and entered his house with the rest following after him. Meizhou remained calm and indifferent as always. This man's expression only changes when Xuebao is involved. If Zhubao isn't Xuebao's father this man would surely ignore this doting father like the rest of the elders.

Unlike Meizhou's calmness, Lang was a bit afraid of the old man and elders. Not only Zhubao is the tribe leader, most male grew up adoring this person. Only unique warriors like Meizhou who were born talented don't really care about his other relationships with the rest. The uncomfortable feeling in his heart made him uneasy only when he leaned a bit towards Tuzi's side that he felt calm.

"Are you okay, Lang?" asked Tuzi as he witnessed the stiffness in his body.

Seeing Tuzi's carefree expression, he could help but asked, "Are you not afraid of the tribe leader, Tutu?"

"Afraid of Uncle Zhu? Haha~ Of course not! Uncle Zhu is a kind and cool old man." said Tuzi with an angelic smile.

Seeing this smile left Lang an assuring feeling and all of his negative thoughts started to fade bit by bit.

"You call my father kind, Tuzi? That old man is only kind to you because he had longed treated you as his second female son. Would you believe me if I told you that your future suitors will have a hard time thanks to that old man." said Xuebao.

Tuzi pouted cutely, "Buh~ I don't think Uncle Zhu would do that~~" he said.

"Hmp! Well then let's see in the future then." replied Xuebao.

Few steps behind them Meizhou looked at Lang with an understanding gaze. As someone who is in the lead of getting bullied by that cranky old man, he knew what kind of hardship Lang would face if he ever decided to pursue the silly rabbit in the future.

He as Xuebao's Protector was given countless tasks from the Tribe Leader and elders. Those tasks were more of an errand with endless duration. Like gathering firewood for the tribe. Helping his guarding duties when his female is safe at home. Carrying this and that. Cleaning the food warehouses and etc. More things like this that involve the whole tribe as a whole.

Meizhou pats his second in command's shoulder.

Pats~

"Good Luck, Lang! Let's do our best." said Meizhou. He didn't even wait for the captain to react before following closely at his chosen female.

Warrior Lang was left agape in confusion and incredulity. Tuzi had to pull him in with him else he would just stand where he is.

Tuzi's expression is also peaceful. He had gotten closer to Uncle Zhubao because he is his best friend's father. This leopard family had already accepted Tuzi as an extended family. This is because Xuebao treated Tuzi the best while ignoring the rest of the females. He got along with Tuzi the most in their tribe. What this old man didn't know is that Xuebao is only letting the silly rabbit by his side because he is the target of his mission in this world and that this brat is willing to do all the chores in his instead which is why he treated Tuzi well. Because he is useful to all.

For Xuebao, strangers can be separated into two kinds: Useful and Useless. For the former, he might treat the person with a bit of kindness if he is in mood. As for the latter, it's better if the person doesn't offend him as long as the person didn't offend him, Xuebao wouldn't care what the person does. Nor will look after that person. He had a clear definition of likes and dislikes. Though lately Xuebao tends to lean Tuzi into the side of people he likes. That's why he didn't ignore most of his requests.

They've headed toward the tribe leader's office.

Once they've entered the room with permission, the group saw Tribe Leader Zhubao talking to his younger brother, the priest of their tribe, Anbao. They were obviously talking serious business but still had a smile on their old faces.

"Uncle! We're back!" exclaimed Tuzi as he knew his friend wouldn't do so.

Xuebao was direct to the point as always. "Father lend me a piece of Land."

"Oh~ welcome back, Baobao, Tutu. How's the forest? Eh? Baobao, what do you need a land for?" said Zhubao as he greeted them back, welcomed them home and listened to their request.

"Hoho~ the children are finally back~" said Anbao.

Tutu spoke first. "Ah~ Elder Anbao is here as well. Greetings to the Priest!"

Lang greeted, "Greetings to the Priest!"

Meizhou and Xuebao only gestured a salute.

Only Meizhou and Xuebao remained indifferent and the tribe priest doesn't seem to mind it though. One happens to be the strongest warrior in the tribe and the other is the tribe's strongest female beastman and the Priest nephew. It's enough for these two to just greet the Priest lightly.

"Okay~ you children. No need to be formal at home. Hohoho~" said Anbao with a delighted expression on his old face.

Tribe Leader Zhubao asked, "Baobao what do you need the land for?" but he didn't look at his female son but instead at Tuzi who always explained things for his lazy son.

Tuzi was the first to explain things as always. "We found something delicious in the forest Uncles!"

The two elders watched as Tuzi brought out a few apples and wild berries from his carry on bag. He took these fruits as snacks. They've already eaten a third of it after lunch and the rest was only enough for two people. He didn't hesitate to offer it to the two elders as they are some more at home.

The elders look at the scarlet fruits Tuzi placed on the table. The fruits vary in sizes and shapes with only the largest at the size of an adults fist. There's a bewildered expression on the two old men before them.

"An, do you know what are these? Fruits?" asked Zhubao to his younger brother who was deemed as the smartest in their tribe.

Tribe Priest Anbao frowned for a bit, "Must be fruits but... the color is deep red. This is..."

Usually in the primitive world, bright colored things with the shade of red, orange or violet were considered either poisonous or inedible. They could see the obvious hesitation on the two old men's faces. Lang and Tuzi understood their hesitation, even Lang who was served to eat it as snack after lunch few moments ago hesitated to eat those bright colored fruits. If not because Xuebao had Meizhou forced the apple into Lang's mouth that he would never believe such ominous colored fruit would be that delicious.

"Tuzi this... you know that things with this color are most likely dangerous!" scolded Zhubao.

Tuzi flinched as he didn't expect to get reprimanded all of the sudden but he could feel the worry of the old man before him.

"Did you guys eat this?" asked the Tribe Priest with worry on his face.

No one directly answered. Lang and Tuzi were afraid of being scolded more while Meizhou concentrates on reading his beloved's expression. For some reason he felt things would get worse if he didn't stop his female. But he was still a few steps late as Xuebao suddenly disappeared in front of him as he got mesmerized by the sight of that slightly upturned lips of his Xuebao.

Xuebao stood before the table and grabbed an apple with speed beyond normal. The two old men weren't able to stop the child from biting and swallowing the scarlet fruit.

Chomps~

Chew! Chew~ Chew!

Swallows~

"I've been eating this since last night. Tuzi shared some to me as snacks. He had this fruit for a week and he is still alive. If I remember it correctly this fruit is called apple. It grew as a tree and bears this kind of fruit. When unripe it's sour and the color is pale red. It will be unpalatable to be eaten in that shade of color. Only when it is this bright red that it could be considered as ripe. It tastes very sweet~ Father~ Uncle~ why don't you try~~ Do you not trust Tuzi or me?" said Xuebao as he tried to feed his father the first of his half eaten apples.

But before it could reach the old man's mouth a hand held Xuebao's wrist and changed its direction to left. It was Meizhou who finished the half eaten apple of Xuebao.

Meizhou finished the half eaten apple in few bites and even licks the residue juice on Xuebao's fingers. Xuebao remained calm in the midst of this shamelessness from his husband. They've watched Meizhou pick a few of those small sized scarlet fruits and hand feed his beloved. Xuebao cooperates with him this time and opened his mouth every time a berry or a finger touch his lips.

"Bao'er eat more." said Meizhou while giving the two old man a cunning and taunting gaze.

Thoughts of Zhubao and Anbao, "This evil brat is really~~"

Seeing the tribe leader and tribe priest's easing expression he knew now that the elders are willing to believe them with two living proofs before them. He smiled in relief knowing that.

"So it is indeed edible..." said Zhubao as he tried an apple by biting it. The taste of sweetness fills his mouth.

"So sweet~ With this we can preserve it for a long time when dried." said Anbao who tried the cherries.

The two even lightly smacked away Meizhou sneaking hands to steal a few more fruits for his beloved.

Slapped!

"Enough! Didn't you brats ate enough before you came here!?" said Zhubao.

Xuebao held his husband's slapped hand and gently rubbed it. he then gives his father an intentional glare without ill intentions.

"You didn't want to try it before! What's wrong with us eating a few more~" said Xuebao.

"Tutu gifted it to us! This is our share!!!" claimed by the unashamed Old Tribe Leader.

The priest looked at Tuzi and Xuebao. He was dazed just now thinking about something. He could somewhat understand what these children planned to do.

"Are you planning to plant these fruits? What are the things needed to be remembered to grow this fruit? Any special requirements? It's almost winter, would these still grow?" asked the curious old priest.

Xuebao smiled mischievously as he pushed Tuzi to do the explaining to the old men.

"Tuzi will explain. Father, I want that piece of land near the frozen pond. These will grow well there. Actually there are few more fruits we picked up from the forest but it wasn't as sweet as these. It could be used for cooking instead."

"There are more!?! Can it be used for cooking? Tutu let these uncles see those too!" said Anbao as he pulled Tuzi to sit with these two old men.

Zhubao instead looked at his mischievous female son with a blaming gaze but still fulfills his request.

"Go now. I will inform the elders myself about that unused piece of land near the frozen pond. Those old men didn't even care about that land any way. You guys can have it."

Xuebao hugged his father in delight. "Thank you, father~" but his goal is to steal the largest apple on the table.

"Hey! No touching of my fruit!" said Zhubao who slightly slapped his son's hands as well.

"Tsk! Stingy~~" said Xuebao as he dodged his father's hand and instead disappeared from his side and appeared behind Meizhou. "Hehe~ Tuzi lent me Lang for a moment. I needed a few more people to plant things for me." he said.

"Okay~ Lang help Xuebao okay?" said Tuzi with a smile.

Lang blushed in that moment and slammed a fist to his chest.

"You can leave it to me, Tutu!" said the loyal wolf Lang.

"After we got the other elders' permission, in few days I'll send you guys few male to gather few more of these things from the forest and help you plant it here in our territories as well." said Zhubao while beside him the tribe priest and Tuzi was already under heated discussion about the fruits and vegetables Tuzi brought with him.

On the table now not only has fruits like apples and wild berries. There are some lemons, celeries, cabbages etc. These were plants that grew during the winter season. Tuzi was tasked to explain the things. The taste, cooking used and more. While Xuebao took Meizhou and Lang to Tuzi's place and got those tree roots and plants to be replanted as soon as possible. There's group innovative farming in the Lune Tribe for the first time in this primitive world.

Chapter 109: 5.11 First Violet Star - In My Dream

After leaving the Tribe Leader's place, Meizhou's mood is quite good. The relationship between him and his female seems to be going well. He reached out wanting to hold Xuebao's hand only to freeze when he saw his chosen female's chilly smile. His cerulean orbs remain detached to the world as he looks at him.

"Meizhou. Have you forgotten about my conditions for you to become my Protector?" said Xuebao.

Meizhou lowered his hand and replied, "I remember." he answered.

"Then why are you trying to touch my hand just now?" asked Xuebao.

"I just thought... I mean in your house, you did hold mine." replied Meizhou.

Xuebao sighed, "That is just an act for the elders to accept those fruits. I thought you knew of my plan and acted with me."

"I did. I acted back then as well. But I thought you..." said Meizhou.

"You thought I've forgiven you already? If I recalled it correctly, it was just yesterday morning when I was still disgusting in your eyes. I was told I was unworthy even after confessing my feelings for you. To you my love towards you has no worth at all!" said Xuebao.

With panic in his eyes, "No! no. Bao'er it's not like that. I really love you!" said Meizhou.

The conversation between these two had gotten intense to the point that the people in their surroundings were all staring and watching them. Even Lang who was following behind stood in a distance giving them privacy.

Xuebao, "Very well. We'll talk it over today." Then he looked at Lang and said, "Lang you can wait in Tuzi's place for a while or go home. I need to have a serious conversation with your boss. Tuzi will be busy with things in the tribe for a while if you want to help him, ask him yourself. As for the future hunts, Meizhou will inform you a day before." he said.

Warrior Lang nodded his head in agreement. As he was given permission to leave, he immediately left and headed towards Tuzi's place for their return. But based on the tense atmosphere between his boss and his female, things might not go well for today. He decided to return to where Tuzi is, and ask if he needs his help instead. After observing the whole morning, Lang noticed that the one who issued orders in that little group is not his boss, Meizhou but their tribe's young leader, Xuebao. Now that he was pardoned to take his leave, he instantly left.

Meizhou is looking at Xuebao with a serious expression. To explain things about his sudden changes, he wanted to talk with Xuebao since last night but the person had always either ignored him or treated him coldly. Meizhou grabbed his waist and carried him in his arms out of nowhere.

"You let go! I can walk!" yelled Xuebao as he struggles from Meizhou's grip.

Meizhou didn't listen this time and carried him away. "Let's talk, Bao'er." he said.

"Fine. If you failed to convince me then your Protector Status would dis---" Xuebao suddenly shut up when he saw his husband's angry gaze.

"That is impossible! The only way for you to remove my Protector statues is to accept me as your mate. Nothing more and nothing less." said Meizhou coldly.

But in spite of him showing his anger, Xuebao in his arms remained smiling but this time his eyes had feelings of excitement and playfulness instead of his usual taunting gaze.

"Hehe~ get angry more. This is the second world you've dared to reject me! I will not forgive you as easily as before. Hmph!" the thoughts behind Xuebao's smile.

[There is something Yue have forgotten to inform the host.]

"Oh~ what is it?"

[That... in the last world we came from. After the host got ejected from it, the... The Lord God w-woke up. He was very angry after I reported to him.]

"Of course he will be angry. I've intentionally didn't told him anything."

[The Lord God had destroyed that little star after the host had left. Now, it no longer exists at all.]

Xuebao frowned at the seriousness of the information System Yue just informed him.

"He destroyed the star?! Why did he do that? That's an A rank world. The world energy he could get from it, is larger than the other other worlds we came to stay before!"

[The world energy he got from that ruined world is enough to compensate for all the Lord God's hard work in that star. It is just... he said he is not willing to stay in that world alone without the host in it. This is why he chose to destroy it instead of nurturing it.]

"He is a fool. It's just a few decades. The world energy he could have collected in that world would be twice than ruining it. He could endure it for few years!"

[The exact duration of the Lord God's lifespan in that star is 200 years at most. While the host had died early in that world, the Lord God still needs to stay alone in that place for 100+ years. The Lord God said he wouldn't be able endure it. The thought of you not being by his side in his lifetime almost made him go crazy. Host, that is the first time I've seen the Lord God lose it.]

Hearing this kind of explanation from System Yue made Xuebao shut his mouth. He could no longer complain. He thought that the man would only need to stay in that place for a few more years like 5 to 10 years at most but it was 100+ years. Even he is not willing to stay in that place without Ye Xiajie as well. He now understood his husband's anger.

"Is this why he is able to point me out easily in this world? Because he made a vow to find me first this time?" asked Xuebao.

[Yes, Host. It is the Lord God's promise.]

"No wonder Meizhou is acting weird all of the sudden. He doesn't have any memories as Ye Xiajie but his possessiveness had reached the level beyond the norms. It was because Ye Xiajie's emotions were being passed, that even his soul fragments are acting this way." said Xuebao.

[This is why if Meizhou is angered at the point where he could no longer bear it, then the Lord God's soul fragment might get broken beyond repair. Host please forgive the Lord God already. He really didn't mean those rejections.]

Sigh~ "Fine! I will forgive him! But this lord is not willing to spoil him too much." said Xuebao.

Xuebao was carried by Meizhou in his place.

Meizhou's tent is not as large as the Tribe Leader's but it is larger than most male beastmen's place. He is still the strongest warrior in the tribe, this kind of house shows his strength and ranking within the tribe. He brought Xuebao inside and placed him on the top of the softest carpet he had prepared for his future mate. The carpet is made from the chinchillas.

Chinchillas are rodents that live at elevated cold places. They are slightly larger and more robust than ground squirrels and look more like a rabbit but with mouse ears and squirrel tails. To survive in the bitter cold, they have very dense fur. They achieve this by growing more than 50 fine hairs from each follicle. Their fur is considered to be the softest in the world.

Every time Meizhou leads the hunting team, he never forgets to collect this kind of animal fur. As if in his mind he knew that his future mate had sensitive skin and would only like the softest kind of fur. He collected a lot of this fur and was intending to ask Tuzi to make a carpet for him using this material. He exchanged food and meat with Tuzi for this. But lately only the first batch was done as Tuzi was busy making Xuebao's clothes. He didn't mind his order for the carpet being pushed back. After all the clothes Tuzi is making is for his beloved.

"Hm~ this half made carpet feels like rabbit fur but softer than normal rabbit fur."

[Host that's not rabbit fur but from a mountain rodent called chinchillas. It's the animal with the softest fur in this world.]

"Chinchillas? Those things are not even as large as a rabbit. Just how much did he catch to make such a big carpet!?"

[Over 500 according to the data.]

"Did he make it for his future mate? Woa~ he is so kind~" said Xuebao but there's clear jealousy within his eyes.

[Host it is for you. He had it made with you in his mind. The Lord God's soul fragments had no memories of your past lives but... they have vague memories of things regarding the host. As more worlds are shared between you two, his soul will gradually remember small things like your likes and dislikes. Special constitution like sensitive skin or like for cleanliness.]

Grabbing at the fur carpet under him, "Is there a possibility of A'Xia with complete memories living a lifetime with me?" asked Xuebao.

[In the future.]

"I see... Haha~ I can wait for it." murmured Xuebao.

No matter how confident Xuebao is, that his lover's soul would be completed with his help, meeting his man in every world with only him retaining their memories of the other worlds made him feel the unfairness about it. Even when he tried enjoying the thrill of meeting his husband with a different personality and life, deep in his heart he knew that he felt fate was unfair to him.

After all he will be a stranger in front of his husband's incarnation, in every world, every time they've met, during their first meeting. If not for the comfort that his husband would somewhat treat him differently and pampered him more, than others despite not having memories, the actions he would take would be completely different with how he does in the past worlds. He would just need to complete his mission ahead of time and would not stay in every world for a whole lifetime.

Knowing that there will be a possibility of his husband meeting him in the future worlds with complete memories made him happy.

Meizhou watches Xuebao use his hands as he rubs the black carpet under him. There is delight as well as sadness within those celestial blue eyes. He felt guilty in his heart for some unknown reason and just stayed silent the whole time.

"Did you have someone make this?" asked Xuebao.

Meizhou replied, "Yes. It was halfway made because... the maker is busy lately with other works."

"Indeed Tuzi is a bit busy making my clothes lately. My clothes will be made soon. You should have him finish this after." said Xuebao.

The Jaguar male beastman was startled only for a moment but upon remembering that no one else would have seen more of that female rabbit's work aside from Xuebao, he decided not to pursue this topic.

"Do you like it?" asked Meizhou.

Xuebao, "Yes, a lot. I have sensitive skin. Only this kind of pelt is comfortable for me to use. So~ my question for you: Why is it for a male who has no care for the type of fur he used for clothes to have this kind of delicate pelt in his house?" he asked.

After staring at Xuebao's eyes for a few seconds he kneeled down in front of him and held his hands slightly trembling, he is afraid of rejection. Meizhou decided to confess everything even if the latter might think he is a madman after.

"I always have this dream. The surroundings and the place is vague but also clearly different from this place. In that place the forest isn't as big as here instead tall things are used as houses. They wear full clothes on them like you and the female rabbit does. In that place I'm always meeting a person. I couldn't clearly see his face nor his features. Only his mischievous smile was distinct.

Sometimes the surroundings will change as well and the same goes for the clothes he wears. Only his smile remains the same. That person doesn't like to eat things called vegetables especially the orange and green colored ones. He doesn't like drinking milk unless something was mixed in it. He is afraid of the cold and hates boredom the most. Sometimes he is cruel and merciless but I think it is only towards his enemies and... for some reason that person loves me the most and... I love him the same way as well.

He always told me that we will meet again in the future. (Next life)" storied Meizhou but this time he didn't dare to look at the face of Xuebao, afraid that he would see rejection and aversion in his beloved's eyes. The hand that held Xuebao's hand started to tremble but still tightly held his hands.

Xuebao said, "I see... Did that man say other things?"

Meizhou replies, "H-He also said that I need... need to find him first. He wanted me... to r-recognize him b-before he does."

"Anything else?"

"I also k-know that... h-he died ...in that world... b-because... of me... I... am the one who caused his death in that world. I ki----..."

Before Meizhou was able to complete his words he suddenly felt someone pull his hand forward and press him on the carpet. The culprit straddled on his lap while hugging his head. Meizhou could hear Xuebao's heartbeats lingering in his ears. The scent of mellifluousness and peppermint entered his nose giving him a soothing warmth. A petite figure leaned on him and he couldn't help but want to wrap his arms around that small person on him.

But he stopped at the last moment after remembering the condition he agreed in exchange for the Protector title. He is not willing to risk his hard earned title just because he indulges himself to his desires. Meizhou's arms were hovering around Xuebao's waist but didn't dare to touch. Seeing that, Xuebao had to put Meizhou's hand on his waist himself before hugging his neck while rubbing his face on Meizhou's cheeks.

"Bao'er?~" called Meizhou in disbelief.

Chapter 110: 5.12 First Violet Star - Tell me what you want

Meizhou's heart was beating beyond his control. It was almost unbearable but instead of fear, he feels relaxed instead. As if something inside him had slightly loosen up and that something extremely precious had returned to him. He had no explanation for it. It's just that the changes in Xuebao that day gave him a familiar feeling. As if something went out of his control, he couldn't endure seeing Xuebao be touched by someone else.

The Xuebao who stopped him and confessed to him out of nowhere and the Xuebao who suddenly beat up Laohu that day seems different in his eyes. They are supposed to be the same person but different in the same way. Only he knew that the Xuebao from before is not acting like the one before them. The eyes of that former Xuebao, who used to stalk him, stares at him with eyes full of desire and lust for his body and that is all. It only made him feel disgusting and rejected him to end things right.

But the Xuebao after the confession is different. There is hidden anger for unknown reasons. He looked at me and the others as if passing pictures that had no right to enter his line of sight. His eyes look beyond him or them. As if we are not meant to exist in his reality. This Xuebao is a different person. There is only mischief and cruelty in his eyes. And in that split second when he showed his rage, even I felt fear of death for the first time. His killing intent was serious as it is. As if our life and death can be decided with a single action from this Xuebao.

In spite of this terror of death there is something else that left me bewildered. When mine and his eyes met, my heart started beating fast. As if my time in that world had finally found my reason for existing. Only then I remembered the contents of those weird dreams. This Xuebao before me right now gave me the same similarity of that person in my dreams. At that point in time, I knew... I had fallen. Within my soul the words saying that he had found him had echoes in his mind. He could only accept it. This is the person he has always been waiting for his whole life.

"Do you... believe me?" asked Meizhou while hugging Xuebao tightly in his embrace. He is not willing to let him go even if he says that he didn't believe him.

"Well~ except for your last sentence I believe the rest. I would never accept that you would be thinking that you've killed me!" said Xuebao. "Or are you saying that you really have plans of killing me in the future?"

Meizhou yelled in disagreement, "IMPOSSIBLE! There is no way I would do that!" he said while showing expression of vexation and agony.

For him just remembering that scene from his dream where he could only watch his beloved die before without being able to prevent it breaks his heart. The pain from just witnessing that event let him experience torment of an almost endless nightmare. He would have wanted to take his place if he could do so.

Seeing his man's distressed expression made Xuebao unhappy which is why he decided to just change the topic.

"Alright! I believe you. So calm down. Why don't we talk of something else?" said Xuebao.

Meizhou who temporarily controlled his raging emotions responded, "Something else?" he asked.

A sly smile appeared on Xuebao's alluring face, there's an obvious hint of naught within that expression. Even his phoenix shaped eyes squinted in a playful manner. "Yes~ let's make some changes in the conditions I gave you for becoming my Protector. Do you want to talk about it?" asked Xuebao.

Meizhou could see his chosen female's kittenish expression, he knew his beloved was up to some mischief.? But he still nodded his head in agreement, the temptation of having those restricted conditions are so vexing for him after all.

"Then~ if you have suggestions I would be listening to it right now. Go ahead." said Xuebao while playing with Meizhou's pit black hair. Xuebao frowns for a bit as he feels the rough hair strands with his fingers.

"Yue. Give me the instructions on how to make a homemade shampoo, conditioner and soap. Based the materials needed that are found in this world." said Xuebao in his mind as he talks with his system.

[Understood Host.]

"Show me the equipment needed for it so I could think of an improvise for it. Prepare everything for me and report it at night."

[Affirmative, host!]

After waiting for a while Xuebao didn't hear his man's voice at all. He could only stop hugging his head and held his cheeks in his hands forcing the man to look at him directly. Xuebao could see Meizhou's hesitations and exhilaration.

"Are you sure you have no request? If you don't tell me anything now then... you might not be able to hug me like this after this day." said Xuebao with an angelic smile on his face but this expression is obviously fake and Meizhou could somewhat see his beloved's displeasure for his silent stance.

Meizhou gave up his pride and told his female his honest desires.

"I want to be able to hold your hands anytime." said Meizhou

Xuebao replied while nodding. "Okay. You can."

"I want to be able to hug you as well."

"You could. Just hugging~? Are you sure?~" said Xuebao while using his index finger to tilt up Meizhou's face towards him.

"Can I touch you like this? Always?" said Meizhou. He is talking about being able to put Xuebao in his lap, hug him anytime he wanted and place his hand anywhere on Xuebao.

The smile on Xuebao's face widens, "Touch? You don't mean like this~" he said as he slipped his hands inside Meizhou's shirt, moving his hands inside in an ambiguous manner.

Xuebao's hands inside Meizhou's shirt were rubbing on his back muscles at first, it left Meizhou a bit ticklish. He could feel slightly cold but slender fingers touching his abs and shoulder blades.

'Hm~ his shoulder blades are wider in this body and his abs are solid as rock. Is it because his a warrior who fights all the time in this world that his body had more muscles this time?' thoughts of Xuebao as his naughty hands keep wandering around his husband's body.

[H-Host! I... I might need to... t-tell you something... y-you really need to know... about this world.]

System Yue's shaking voice suddenly resounds within Xuebao's mind. But even though his host heard his voice the hands roaming around his Lord God's body weren't stopping at all. If this continues then that the event that only happens between lovers would happen.

"What is it? Don't you see me teasing my husband? Tell me already." asked Xuebao.

[This is a primitive world which means the people here are beast type humanoid. Even if they are human type some racial characteristics remain. For bears they have large genitals, for snakes they have two and for feline types their members have barbs! Host please live well. Thank you!]

System Yue has turned himself in silent mode and invisible mode to record the whole scene in his space. Xuebao who was caught off guard by the information from his perverted little moon system.

Stiffens

"F-Feline type beastmen have barbs in there... there. In that place!!?" Screamed Xuebao in his mind.

Although Xuebao knew about this fact about feline type mammals after realizing that he is in the world where beastmen exist and he himself is one, Xuebao finally comprehends the danger he is in right now. He pulled out his mischievous hands from inside the shirt of his husband and tried to run away. but before he could get off Meizhou, the arms on his waist got tighter and he could feel the hard and hot thing under his butt. It was too large!! Twice the normal as those from the former world!!!

Xuebao doesn't know whether he should be proud or cry at the misery of his hole being broken.

[Please don't worry host. Your body is that of a female beastman. According to the data of this world your body would be able to adjust at any size of your male's member. It would never tear and one night is enough to heal the swelling. A guaranteed 100 % flexibility inside and outside.]

"Y-You damn perverted system. Shut up for this lord! B-By the way, I...I want to redeem an item. S-Something that can reduce its size!" said Xuebao.

[Sorry for the inconvenience. The system is currently offline. Please try again later.]

"You fucker!! This is the first time I've received this kind of notification! YUE you little shit!!" screamed Xuebao in his mind.

Meanwhile in reality.

Meizhou didn't make any sudden movement except for hugging Xuebao. Well except that was suddenly in his half-beastman form with his ears and tails out to see. The black slick jaguar tail wraps around Xuebao's right wrist as if afraid that he would run away. Xuebao can see his man enduring, even if his body is almost boiling in heat at this moment or his pants are starting to get erratically, he didn't make any other movement aside from hugging his female. He isn't a fool he had noticed that Xuebao's body stiffen the moment he noticed the bulge in that place.

He thought that he had frightened his female unconditionally, "I... I definitely won't do anything you don't like. T-This kind of thing... c-could be fulfilled on the day we completed our mating ceremony. I can wait. I will wait for you!" said Meizhou even though it was hard for him to restrain his desires, he is inclined to hold himself back.

Meizhou's voice turns a bit sorrowful as he pleads to Xuebao.

"I won't do it! I really would not! Please~ don't run away and leave me Bao'er~" said Meizhou as he buried his face deeper in Xuebao's chest.

Xuebao stops his struggles and lays directly on top of Meizhou but hugs him willingly. "I believe you. It's not that I am not willing but... we... you've just become my protector yesterday. If I sleep with you today then my father and elders won't look at you right anymore. They would think you have forced me. Let's take our time. You hold my hands anytime you want, hug me anywhere, touch me wherever you want and..."

Xuebao looked at his stunned protector, who you heard his words of acceptance as well as the changes in the conditions between their relationship. He kissed Meizhou's lips who froze all of the sudden. Then he smiles at him with a pampering gaze as if he is the only one in his world.

"You can kiss me as long as no one could see. After a month I will announce you as my fiancé and half a year later, we can complete the mating ceremony. Do you agree, Meizhou?" asked Xuebao while staring at his stupefied husband affectionately.

Meizhou thought he was hearing things, the words Xuebao just told him signifies he believes not only the content of his dreams but was even willing to forgive him for the hurtful words he told him before. His chosen female beastman was ready to forgive him.

Xuebao voluntarily accepts him as his future mate. After hearing his future mate's words, Meizhou knew that before he could bring home his mate, he had to make his father-in-laws and tribe elders in the tribe satisfied with him. After all, the one he wanted is the future Tribe Leader of Lune.

After defeating Laohu, the second strongest warrior in their tribe, the elders and the tribe priest decided to give the future leader title to Xuebao. Just the strength he has, is enough for him to qualify for the position but that's not all, those who have seen it knew that most ideas that Tuzi has in his mind, have been spread to the whole tribe after been proven by Xuebao.

Asking Tuzi cook last night shows that Xuebao had knowledge in cooking and could improve the food in their tribe. He had seen him talk to the current tribe leader about the different ways of how to cook. Even though it was Tuzi who demonstrated in his beloved's instead, he really doesn't understand why he let that silly rabbit take credits for his works.

Meizhou looked up and gave Xuebao a kiss on his forehead and cheeks. He also pulled the former's hand over him and kissed his fingers reverently. Then he placed that slender hand above his beating heart as if giving a vow.

"I agree. I will accept everything you wanted me to. I will assent everything you wanted to do. I will believe every word you say and... Thank you for accepting once again. This time I give my vows to the Beast God and hear my prayers. I vowed that in this whole lifetime I will only love Xuebao as my mate and as my whole world forever." said Meizhou while looking straight into Xuebao's eyes.

Those orbs with the same color of the sky squinted showing it's delight and passionate love for him. Those eyes show Xuebao's honest feelings for him but the mouth says otherwise.

"Very well~ I will reluctantly accept your vow." he said with a cunning but gentle smile on his flawless face.
