

Worlds Plot 281

Chapter 281: 8.8 First Blue Star - Something Fell

Bai Yuyan was rendered speechless while Feng Yang was already panicking. He already knew about his brother's genius IQ level when he passed a few completed programs for Absolute Defense and auto-precise targeting with x-ray vision to their old man last night after saying things that he'd exchange this for money.

After all, he needs tons of fire energy stones to incubate his huge eggs. Since yesterday the Feng Family had already emptied their warehouse to incubate Feng Jing's egg. It was Feng Jing who thought that he was burning his family's money one-sidedly and gave those two heavenly defying programs to Feng Xuan as payment.

The whole Feng Family was surprised to learn that their silly and innocent youngest happens to be a godly programmer that the whole empire would covet.

Feng Yang asked, "X-Xiao Jing... W-When did you make that... 3 mode program?"

"Last night before I fell asleep. If gege is worrying about its range being overwhelming then there is nothing to worry about. The one I gave to A'Yu is a restricted one. It can only be used by him and A'Wu. Moreover, I made sure that the range is limited to only a 100 km radius and nothing more.

I mean that is a program I made that would self-destruct if installed without Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu's permission. It is locked with biometrics and everything is recorded in my communicator. I would immediately know if the program was stolen or not.

I only made that since I cannot join the training yet. I need to contribute so~... I can't do that too?" asked Feng Jing with a sad expression on his face.

Bai Yuyan and Feng Yang started to panic seeing Feng Jing's depressing expression.

"Shss~ don't cry. This is your contribution to our group. It's even a huge one. Don't listen to your stupid brother. It's okay. It's okay." says Bai Yuyan while comforting the silly sad child while patting his back and glared at Feng Yang.

Feng Yang was startled by the glare from the soft-looking Bai Yuyan. That glare just now was so fierce that he felt that dangerous being had looked on at him.

Feng Yang, "You can! It's your own program. Xiao Jing is allowed to use it for your team. That's right as long as it is for your team I'm sure Grandpa and the rest wouldn't mind."

"Really?~," asked Feng Jing.

Feng Yang, "Yes. Brother says you can then you can!"

"Okay!" said Feng Jing who was finally smiling again.

Feng Yang and Bai Yuyan had let out a sigh of relief in their heart seeing the young one smiling again.

SIGH~

Somewhere in the Federation.

An old man wearing a Marshal uniform was seated on a chair in his own office receiving reports from his subordinates who were now informing him the news about the Youngest Phoenix failure to awaken as a guide.

"Is this information correct? The youngest of the Phoenix bloodline had failed to awaken as a guide?"

"Yes, Marshal. The spies lurking outside the Feng Mansion had reported this. They said that General Feng Xuan was utterly disappointed by this news and put Feng Jing on house arrest for a few days. No one knows if the child will still join the competition as an ordinary person."

"I see. How about that plan to 'kill the gods' going?"

"Everything is ready. We are now waiting for the target to return to the Empire and execute the plan."

"Make sure you kill him. He is hindering this old man's plans."

"Affirmative!"

Then the call was cut off. The Marshal involved in this political conflict is none other than Marshal Janus. The eldest among the reigning leaders of the federation.

Marshal Janus whispers, "As long as the Dragon King is dead. The Federation would definitely fall under my complete control."

In the Imperial Territory,

At the Crown Prince's Palace,

A princess with long granite grey hair paired with red-orange eyes was watching a video recording that sends to her communicator from her paternal clan. In the video, she saw her younger brother happily hugging a huge egg and exclaimed that he had laid.

This noble crown princess couldn't help but laugh upon watching this scene. It was at this moment that her husband, the Crown Prince, had just come back from the Imperial Palace.

Feng Yue, the crown princess, said while laughing. "Hahaha~ our Jingjing is so silly as always ba~ what do you mean you had laid an egg? Puhaha~"

At this time, Zenith Regulus witnessed his wife laughing her ass out in their bedroom. He combed up dark brown hair and tousled it for a bit while unbuttoning his collar buttons and uncuffing his wrists. His emerald gold eyes were full of doting seeing his wife happy.

Zenith Regulus spoke, "Honey, did something happen today to make you that happy?"

"Oh~ darling your back? Welcome, Home. Come here for a bit. I want to show you something." said Feng Yue as she waves her hands to her husband to come over.

With a helpless yet pampering expression on his face, the crown prince could only go to his wife's side and look at the video Feng Yue is watching. When he saw the point of Feng Jing's silliness at max, Zenith wasn't able to hold back his laughs despite all his upbringings as a royalty.

"Baby Jing, you can't lay an egg that big pfft! Hahaha~" said Zenith while laughing as he hugged his wife's waist for support.

Feng Yue said, "It's okay to laugh like this as long as it's not in front of Jingjing ba~ Moreover, I heard from mom that Jingjing's egg had a mixed bloodline of phoenix and dragon."

"Is it a hybrid? Then the egg must have grown bigger than what we saw just now?" said Zenith.

Feng Yue, "Dage said it is now twice as large as he does."

"If the size is really like that... It is definitely dragon blood. The purest. Hm~ this is interesting. I want to see for myself what Baby Jing's egg looks like." said Zenith.

Feng Yue said, "Should we visit them? Grandpa had spread false news that our Jingjing had failed to awaken. Let's use that as an excuse to visit our younger brother ba~"

"Good idea. I'll ask the Imperial father tomorrow. If it's approved we can visit them together." said Zenith Regulus.

In the territory of the Altair Family,

The news of Feng Jing's failure to awaken as a guide had even reached the ears of this semi-royal family.

Mrs. Altair Alya frowned for a moment after hearing this news, "The youngest phoenix had failed to soar the heavens and had fallen into the earth as an ordinary being? My Dear Ree, do you think this is real?"

"For a phoenix to fail to soar is impossible. The bloodline of the Phoenix Family is a king bloodline like ours. If not because Senior Feng had been injured badly in the last war that there is no way only our Altair Family would be considered as a semi royalty."

"So this news is false?" asked Mrs. Altair.

"They were hiding something on purpose. Tell Sirius to return as soon as possible. I've heard some movements from that old bastard's side." said General Altair.

"Sigh~ the boy won't even listen to his mom now but I will send him an encrypted message," said Mrs. Altair.

Feng Jing had been staying at home for one whole week but his egg still showed no signs of hatching. Normally, a Feng's egg only needs three days to fully hatch under the incubation of fire energy but unfortunately, his big egg had no signs of hatching half eating up a month's worth of Fire energy stones.

He is still at the Feng Mansion as his egg remains unhatched but for some reason, his egg loves to cling to him. No matter where he goes the egg goes as well. If he leaves his room the egg would enter his mind space and hide in there until he once again returns to his room.

Everyone from his family was bewildered. How could such an egg be so lively and human-like as if it's a young child asking to be spoiled rotten by his parents? Only then did they learn that the egg still needs to be incubated but a normal fire energy stone won't do.

One night when Feng Jing had dragged his friend Bai Yuyan and his aide, Feng Wu, to play at the lake in their backyard to watch the moon. The three were riding on a boat while eating snacks as they enjoyed the beautiful scenery of the two moons' reflection on the lake.

Today is a special day where two moons would intersect. Both moons had different colors. One is red and the other is blue when these two moons intersect and overlap each other it would become a huge moon with purple shade. This is what Feng Jing wanted to witness himself and dragged the two with him to watch the moon.

Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu were reporting to him the results of their training. Moreover, they've also brought the profiles of the students joining them. Aside from Bai Yuyan, Feng Wu, and Feng Jing, another four people join the group: three sentinels and one ordinary person.

Two among the Sentinels were commoners like Bai Yuyan. They were few of the people the original had saved before. The ones who worked with him for the plans to make the original become a bully in the eyes of others. This is the same for the ordinary person, this person was almost expelled after being bullied by some noble young master. It was the original Feng Jing who had to save him once. Another sentinel was a noble young master

Feng Wu said, "Lord Jing these are the profiles of the rest of our team members. There are three from the same class as yours and Bai Yuyan. They were commoners who you had helped financially before. The names are Han Ling and Qu Yul.

When they've heard that our team is lacking members they've decided to leave their original team and join us."

"Han and Qu? They really don't need to do this. That time I've helped them because they need it and I need their help. It should be a done deal after all that. Since they already have their original team they shouldn't have left to join ours." said Feng Jing.

Bai Yuyan, "Sigh~ I've also told them those words but they weren't willing to listen. We had no other choice but to accept them as their original team was no longer allowing them to return."

"They've made a hasty decision but... none of them said they've to regret their decision. Should we accept them, Lord Jing?" asked Feng Wu.

"If their potential is acceptable then go ahead. I know their personality well. They are just too loyal." said Feng Jing.

Feng Wu, "Understood!"

"Jing, about this ordinary person his name is Vega Solaris. I'm the one who pulled him into our group. I heard that this one is a genius technician. He would be the one to help us fight with our mecha if needed. What do you think?" said Bai Yuyan.

[It's not true that the master had found this person. You only knew him from that insane novel Master had read before. It is one of the harem members of Bai Yuyan from the story!]

"Shut up, Stella!"

[Hmp!]

Feng Jing, "Vega? Vega Solaris? Why do I think I heard this name before?"

"Lord Jing, it's that child bullied by your distant cousin from the Navi Clan. The one you save by beating up Young Master Navi Nash before," said Feng Wu who remembered this past situation done by the original Feng Jing.

"That's right. It's that person! Good thing I've asked Grandpa Astra about this personally or that bratty Nash would have Vega expelled! That bad cousin!? No one in our Feng really gets along with the Navis. They used to bully my mom before marriage. In anger, my dad asked my mom to cut off all ties with them."

Feng Wu hesitated to tell his lord about this bad cousin of his joining their group as well. In the end, it was Bai Yuyan who had to inform him.

"Actually that bad cousin of yours says he wanted to join our group as well," said Bai Yuyan.

"No! Anyone but that bad person!" Exclaimed Feng Jing.

[Host be careful! Something is falling!!!]

[Master run! Something is coming!!!]

BBBAAMMM!!!

Few minutes after the warning from System Yue and Stella was heard in the heads of Feng Jing and Bai Yuyan, something looking like a wreck mecha had fallen into the river causing huge waves that completely overturned their boat.

SPLASH~

AAHHH!!!

Chapter 282: 8.9 First Blue Star - Mania

With their boat suddenly upturned by the huge waves caused by something huge falling directly into the river, all three of them had fallen into the water as well. Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu reacted immediately and saved the almost drowning Feng Jing and pulled him out of the water.

Once they've reached the river edge, the three of them are all soaking wet and Feng Jing is coughing badly as he almost drowned.

Cough! Cough. Cough.

"My lord, are you alright?" asked Feng Wu worriedly.

Bai Yuyan couldn't hold back a curse and showed his real personality, "Fuck! What the hell just fell? Are you alright, Jing?" he was patting Feng Jing's back to help him cough out the water he accidentally drank.

In his mind, he is asking his quantum beast what happened.

'Stella! What happened!? Something falls from the outer space!?'

Stella: [Master it's a broken mecha. Some pursuers are trying to kill the operator of that mecha. Master should run back to Feng Mansion and ask for help. The pursuers are professional assassins of this world. They would definitely kill you guys as well!]

Yue: [Host. This place is dangerous! There are incoming intruders. If you are going to play as a weak person you should run back to the mansion and call for help.]

After stopping his coughing tiff Feng Wu helped Feng Jing to stand up and dry their clothes with his fire fox's foxfire. In just a few minutes their clothes had totally dried up the same as before. Then they've started staring at the broken black mecha in the middle of the lake.

The lake's depth isn't that deep and only half of the mecha was hidden under the water. Few broken parts of the mech fell piece by piece at the lake creating ripples at the surface of the water.

Bai Yuyan murmured, "This pure black mecha seems familiar... Just where have I seen this before?"

"You've seen it before? Where?" asked Feng Wu. move1usb.com

"I'm trying to recall where I've seen this before... Hm~"

While Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu were having a conversation about the sudden appearance of that black mecha, Feng Jing was at the edge of the river, staring at his own reflection.

[Host something is coming up from the water! Be careful!]

As soon as System Yue completed his words, a human figure jumped out of the water. This man's figure is trained to perfection. He wasn't completely muscular but his muscles were in perfect shape. His physique is full of vigor and can be equated to the body of greek gods.

His obsidian hair glows under the shade of moonlight, features were sharp and captivating but unfortunately his eyes were reddened and full of madness as if he had gone crazy. The moment this person jumps out of the water his leering eyes focus on Feng Jing alone.

Feng Jing, "A-Ahh.... AHHH! Save me." he screamed.

Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu notice that the madman is trying to target Feng Jing who looks the weakest among them. They've both summoned their quantum beast respectively. A firefox and black leopard materialized in thin air trying to move the man who was about to attack Feng Jing.

Feng Wu, "Xiao Hu, Go!"

"Stella, kick that man off, Jing!"

They commanded both at the same time. But before they could even reach that madman, he suddenly moves his crimson eyes on them giving them a fierce gaze. At the same time, a huge black dragon whose eyes are full of madness like its master had. It slapped away the two quantum beasts effortlessly.

"A black dragon!?" exclaimed both Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu.

The backlash of their quantum beasts being forced to dematerialize made Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu puke blood. The difference in strength is too much that even being one of the protagonists of the world, Bai Yuyan is helpless towards this monstrous person.

"Pitch black hair and... eyes like obsidian gems. I see... It's Marshal... Altair Sirius. So this is... His mania..." murmured Bai Yuyan as he fainted.

Meanwhile, Feng Wu who was suffering the same backlash as Bai Yuyan used his remaining consciousness to light a flare. This will signify an emergency situation on their side. Since they are just in the backyard of the Feng Mansion, the other family members would definitely see it.

BOOM! In the sky, a phoenix crest fireworks appeared.

Feng Wu muttered, "L-Lord... Hei..." then he fainted.

On the other hand at the riverside, the moment Feng Jing noticed that Bai Yuyan had fainted, his innocent facade had faded completely. There is only coldness and indifference imprinted on his face. He was staring back at this crazy man who lost his mind due to mania.

Feng Jing, "This is mania ha~ isn't it close to the so-called inner demons in the cultivation world."

[Host this person is Altair Sirius. He is the youngest Marshal in the Federation. Boss of the Fallen Gods Unit and the owner of the Dragon King as a quantum beast.]

"The short-lived guy in the plot. So, is he my husband or not?" asked Feng Jing.

[This... Since the Lord God's soul had been asleep it is close to impossible for this system to recognize him. Like in the last world, Yue wasn't able to help the host look for the Lord God because his soul fragments had a weaker connection to him when he sleeps. Please check it yourself, host!]

"Tsk! Fine. I'll check it myself." said Feng Jing.

Marshal Altair in his mania would attack anyone he sees as he did with Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu but for some reason despite losing his reason seeing Feng Jing in front of him, Neither Sirius nor Cielo is willing to harm him. They were staring at Feng Jing with full madness in their eyes yet there is also gentleness from it. It was unknown what this madman truly was thinking about.

Feng Jing who was staring back at the mad Marshal narrowly squinted his eyes as he also noticed that movement from him.

"He didn't want to hurt me, is that it? But why would he think so?" murmured Feng Jing as he tried to back away from him.

When the marshal suffering from mania saw him leaving, he thought that the latter would immediately try to capture only to see the marshal and the dragon staring at him with red eyes yet tears strolling down on his face. He looks like an abandoned puppy.

[H-Host... Is he... the Lord God?]

System Yue thought that the Marshal's attachment and reaction towards his host is a bit too similar to his Lord God.

At this time even Feng Jing had a frown on his face, he couldn't be intimate with a man he was not sure that the latter possessed his husband's soul.

[About this the least intimate touch the host could do is bump your forehead to each other and spread your spirit qi in his consciousness to purify the taint. But it's still sharing qi so it's like...]

"Dual Cultivation." Feng Jing completed his system words while gritting his teeth. "Fuck! Why is there no scent!? I am not even sure if this bastard is my husband and to cure him I need to share my spirit qi. I only do that with A'Xia! What's with this perverted world!?" shrieked Feng Jing as he was truly reluctant in being intimate with a man different from his husband. He feels extremely disgusted.

While hesitating, the madness of Marshal Sirius qi is about to explode. He already started inflicting self harm on himself and started biting his own. Seeing this Feng Jing stopped hesitating.

"Dammit! If you happen to become not my husband I will kill you with my own hands!" screamed Feng Jing in annoyance as he approached the maniac, Marshal Sirius.

As expected, the Marshal tried to step away from Feng Jing who was getting closer to him as if afraid to harm him. Feng Jing could already see the huge dragon floating behind the marshal biting its own tail and looking like an ouroboros in the myth.

Feng Jing shouted, "Yue what to do with the huge worm?"

[H-Host it's not a worm~]

"Whatever to me dragons are worms. Phoenixes are chickens, tigers are kittens."

[Master needs to summon your egg and as you heal the marshal. Your egg would do the same to the dragon.]

"If this worm breaks my egg I'm going to grill it!" said Feng Jing and with a wave of his hand a huge egg of the same size as the black dragon appeared. Followed by it is the strong scent of Feng Jing's pheromones.

The seductive scent of sweetness and peppermint scatters in the area.

As soon as his pheromones had spread in the area, the black dragon and the marshal started acting like hungry beasts. One pounced on the egg and encircled the egg with its bloody body while the marshal pulled Feng Jing in a tight hug while sniffing on his scent.

With the marshal leaning on the tree, Feng Jing is seated on his lap facing him. Then as if welcoming him, the scent of Marshal Sirius as Sentinel had finally appeared. Feng Jing was startled at first but with this fragrance, all his hesitation and disgust had faded.

The familiar aroma that calmed down Feng Jing is the scent of rust and iron mixed with a deep, woody scent and floral, rich, balsamic, soft, and sweet accents.

Feng Jing, "Tsk! So it was really you... Making me worry for nothing! Hmp!" he murmured as all his worries flew off.

He hugged the marshal back which startled the latter and hugged him even tighter. Feng Jing's legs were wrapped around Marshal Sirius' waist as their foreheads touched with almost no space in between them. Just one inch more and their lips would touch but right now both their eyes were close focusing on cleansing the madness in the Marshal's mind.

On the other hand, a few moments before this situation. In the mansion of Feng, the Phoenix Family were welcoming incoming special guests one at a time. At first, the family was looking for their missing youngest.

Navi Luna asked her eldest son, "Yang Darling have you seen your baby brother? He is not in his room."

"Just a while ago Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu grabbed some food in the kitchen. They said they are going to watch the moon at the river in the backyard," replied Feng Yang.

Navi Luna, "At the backyard, then leave them be but remember to send someone when it's time for dinner." she said.

"Good."

All of a sudden Aide Feng Yae had come running towards her master with a huge smile on her face.

"Mistress! Mistress! The Crown Princess and Crown Prince had come to visit!" said Aide Yae.

Mrs. Feng and Feng Yang were delighted with this news.

"Where are they?" asked Mrs. Feng.

Aide Yae politely replied, "At the entrance but... there is another pair of special guests. I wish for the Mistress to come over with the Master."

Feng Yang frowned for a moment, "Who was it?"

"It's the Altair Family Leaders. General Altair and his wife," answered Aide Yae.

The answer stunned both Navi Luna and Feng Yang. Though the Altair family and the Phoenix family look close in public it is only due to the business the families have between each other.

Luna and Yang decided to call the seniors and the master of the house.

Navi Luna, "Yang, please escort our guests to the living room. I'm going to call for your father and grandfathers."

"I understand, Mom. Leave it to me," said Feng Yang as he nodded his head. He then looked at his aide, Feng Ren, and ordered him, "Ren, please bring back my younger brother. Tell him our sister and Brother Zenith came to visit."

"As you order, Lord Yang!" Then he disappeared.

Navi Luna left to call her husband and parents. Feng Yang went to the entrance with the other aides and welcomed the guests.

This all happened before the mecha of Marshal Sirius had fallen on the territory of the Phoenix Family.

Chapter 283: 8.10 First Blue Star - Flare with Phoenix Crest

A few days ago, before the accident. Marshal Sirius and his unit just got back from the mission and were intending to return to the Oberion Empire to report back to the Federation.

On their way back, Cielo, the dragon king quantum beast of the Marshal, was forcing his master to find the young man he saw in the video. For some unknown reason, Cielo is greatly attracted to the youngest phoenix of the Feng Family.

He was going to ignore his quantum beast request as he had no reasonable excuse to visit Feng Jing as they haven't officially met at all.

Cielo is currently biting his master's head as he throws tantrums.

Whining~

Marshal Altair, "Tsk! I told you! You can see him during the competition!"

Whining~

"What do you mean you can't wait that long? Do you miss him? Crazy! You haven't even met each other face to face!"

Whining!

"Ow! Stop that you're going to make me bald! Cielo!"

While this master and his quantum beast are having a spat, Xue Ying the Marshal's right-hand man comes running over with a pale face.

Xue Ying spoke, "Marshal! Emergency! The news from home said that the Madam, your mother, had been poisoned!"

"Poisoned!? How did this happen!?" asked the Marshal.

Xue Ying replied, "According to the people at home. The Madam had attended a banquet with the Dracos. She couldn't decline as the insignia is from the Janus Clan!"

"Those damn old bastards! I'm taking my leave. Prepare my personal mecha."

"Marshal, let me accompany you!" said Xue Ying.

Marshal Sirius replied, "No need! It would be faster to go there alone. Send me the coordinates. I'm leaving now!"

"Yes, Sir!" the soldiers inside the spacecraft saluted collectively.

The Marshal took his leave alone using his own mecha only to be ambushed on his way. When he couldn't connect to the star network nor contact his parents he knew that it was a trap. The news Xue Ying must have gotten were fakes which means there are traitors in his unit.

The numbers of assassins that surrounded him were almost 50 mechas. It is not even an ordinary mech but a customized one that only Sentinels whose rank ranges from B to S. Clearly, the mastermind of this charade wanted to take his life.

"Tsk! Their numbers are almost endless. After destroying a batch a new one would reinforce immediately. If this continues I would end up in a mania state before losing consciousness!"

The Marshal keeps fighting until he overuses his spirit just to kill off his pursuers only for the enemy to send another batch more. In his weakened state, he overloads his qi to escape from his enemies, this causes him to lose control over his spiritual realm. His over-exposure to qi made him enter a mania state. Before he loses consciousness he felt Cieli override the control of his mecha and flew in the direction which leads to the territory of the Phoenix Clan.

There he met the person who had been haunting his dreams ever since he saw him in that live stream at the star network.

The sudden visit from the royal family and the Altair family didn't cause much chaos in the house of Feng. First off, the two members of the royal family are half from the Fengs. Since the crown princess is the young miss of the phoenix family.

When Feng Yang got out of the door, Feng Yue happily jumped towards her big brother giving him kisses and hugs.

Feng Yue, "Dage~ Yue'er miss you ba~"

"Hm~ I miss you too, our little princess," said Feng Yang as he hugs his sister back.

After a while, he also exchanges hugs with Zenith, this type of skinship is normal to those who were close to the Feng Family.

Feng Yang, "Welcome Brother Zenith."

"Hehe~ we're going to trouble A'Yang and the rest tonight," said Zenith Regulus. He was totally not acting as a crown prince like he is supposed to be.

At this moment he is no more than a brother-in-law who had married the only prince of the Phoenix Family. Moreover, Zenith Regulus and Feng Yang were childhood friends. They were best friends together with Xue Ying.

"You are welcome anytime in this home, Brother Zenith," said Feng Yang.

This interaction between royalty and the phoenix family is quite surprising. After all, the imperial family is from a different faction. But it seems that despite being the crowned prince, Zenith is closer to the Phoenix Clan instead of his own imperial family.

The Altair couple were silently observing the relationship between the Fengs and the Crown Prince's side. It seems that the rumors are true. Anyone who had married a member of the Phoenix Clan would be fully welcomed by the family as long as you are chosen by a direct family member of a phoenix.

Zenith Regulus, the unwanted prince of the Imperial Family but with the backing of the Feng Clan, was able to receive the title as the Crowned Prince. Sadly, on the day he was about to be entitled as the only crowned one among all the royal descendants, Zenith Regulus declined this title in front of the Emperor and the crown itself.

Saying things like 'Since I've married the only female phoenix princess of the Feng Family, everything this Zenith Regulus would do will prioritize my wife and her family first. I do not need the crown. Give it to anyone. I wouldn't get involved as long as my wife is not dragged to it. But if you really dare... Hehe~ this prince would show no mercy!' said the crown prince.

This prince was considered crazy after that announcement but only those who dared to touch Feng Yue knows how cruel and savage this Zenith Regulus is. Creating his own source of power hidden from the eyes of the other royalty plus the solid backing of the immortal clan, the Phoenix Family, the emperor had no other choice but to choose Zenith as the heir to the throne.

By giving Zenith the title of the Crown Prince those who wanted to harm him and his side would be greatly lessened and this was something the Emperor did not to protect this savage son of his but to prevent his faction from completely being destroyed.

The title of the crown prince would stop those nobles from attacking the side of Regulus without a reason. They would first think of the crown before hitting him and this way it would handle this savage prince's cruelty and put a chain of restraints on him even for a short moment. The peace was made until now because of this decision.

After all, it is close to impossible to touch Zenith who had the full support of two Generals, one Major General that is backed by the Altair Family who possessed strength that equalized the Imperial power.

Seeing this now the Altair Couple finally realized what kind of crazy family the Phoenix Clan is. Who held the importance of family first above anything.

Feng Yang politely greets the couple, "Greeting to the General and his wife. It would be our pleasure to be at your service. Please do inform this Yang why the Dragon King's couple had come to visit our humble home?"

Even though Feng Yang was speaking respectfully unlike the closeness he had shown towards the royal couple, the way he treated the Altair couple is business-like instead. Like meeting your boss whose face you've never seen until now.

Mrs. Altair Alya squinted her eyes as she observes the professional smile Feng Yang is wearing. Comparing it to the welcoming smile he had shown the Crown Prince, there is an obvious alienation between the two.

"My~ it is nothing much! We had just heard that the young phoenix had fallen into a predicament. We only... came over to see if... we could at least help~" said Mrs. Altair, she was clearly taunting them to reveal an inside secret.

Even putting to test the overprotectiveness the phoenix family has towards their own kin. As expected the moment Mrs. Altair finished asking such a straightforward question. The smile on Feng Yang and Feng Yue had faded. This time even the crown prince's gentle smile looks weird with his emerald gold irises emitting coldness that cannot be masked by his fake smile.

General Altair's thoughts, 'The loyalty and overprotectiveness of the Phoenix Clan towards their family members is truly magnificent. It was sold to the point they are willing to sacrifice anything to protect their members.

Plus the special bloodline effect of their origin. It was said that a phoenix could enter rebirth at every death. It was because of this that the Feng Clan is considered a half immortal family. They were able to come back from the dead at least three times. The purer the bloodline is the more chances of their rebirth could have.'

Mrs. Altair Alya's thoughts, 'Hm~ so the rumors about the Phoenix Family's peculiarity on overprotectiveness is real. How relaxing would it be to know you have someone this loyal on your side? Better tease have that son of mine and make court Feng Jing, so the connection we have with the phoenix clan isn't merely by business and as families instead!'

There is a long stillness in the air mixed with some tension as the Altair couple lightly step on the Feng Family's landmine. It was at this time that the master of the house Feng Tian arrived and welcomed the guests with his wife. Of course, they overheard their conversation about Feng Jing.

The Feng Couple were smiling but obviously, it is fake and a hidden coldness can be felt from it.

"Please do not worry. Our Xiao Jing is better right now but isn't willing to STRANGERS as guests," said Feng Tian.

Navi Luna, "Our darling isn't feeling well and wouldn't be able to see the esteemed guests." Her expression was smiley but the meaning of her words was obviously asking the Altair Couple to leave.

General Altair's thoughts, 'Seriously~ these guys. We've just lightly mentioned their youngest and they are already sending us away regardless of the difference in our family's standing.' movelusb.com

'Ah~ how great would it be to have them on our side.' thoughts of Altair Alya.

Seeing that they've seen what they wanted to see, the Altair couple finally lowered their heads a bit and sincerely apologized.

"We would like to apologize to the Feng Family for intentionally asking about their youngest phoenix. We only wanted to see how the Feng Family would react. This... we sincerely apologize if we had offended the Phoenix Family." said the Altair couple.

Hearing their explanation the tension between the families had faded. Knowing that the Altair Family isn't intentionally targeting their youngest. The cold smiles on Feng Tian and the rest had slowly disappeared.

Feng Tian said, "Please do excuse our rudeness as well. This is the entrance, let us continue the conversation inside---"

BOOOOM!!!

Navi Luna exclaimed, "What's that?!"

Before the Master of the house could welcome his guests to enter his house, they witnessed the dark sky be painted with red lights forming the insignia of Feng. They immediately knew that it was a flare all direct family member's aides possessed.

Feng Yue, "The flare of phoenix!?"

"There is only one person from our Feng that isn't here..." murmured Feng Yang.

Then everyone's eyes widened in shock. They've all called the name of that person whose face suddenly appeared in their minds.

"FENG JING!!!"

Chapter 284: 8.11 First Blue Star - Spirit Domain

Suddenly seeing the crimson flare in the form of the Feng Clan's crest can only mean one thing. The reason can only be because someone from the direct bloodline of Feng was in danger. Seeing this the members of the Feng Family had their expressions changed at this moment.

"FENG JING!!!"

Feng Yang, Feng Yue, and Zenith Regulus immediately run towards the direction where the flare is. Navi Luna and Feng Tian reacted calmly as they brought out their communicators. One informing the elders and one commanding all guards within the vicinity to go come over to their location.

Feng Tian called the Clan's Patriarch and Matriarch. "Father. Dad. We have intruders. They got Xiao Jing."

Feng Tian: [Go to the location. Leave the command to us. Don't forget to bring your aides. If there are mechas, grab the children and head back to the mansion. I'm activating the defense formation around the mansion immediately and defensive prison within the territory in half an hour.]

Xue Xia: [Eliminate all intruders. Just don't destroy the brain. I'm calling the laboratory and Astra.]

Feng Tian and Navi Luna responded, "Affirmative!"

As soon as they've ended the call, they saluted to the Altair Couple and prepared to leave.

Feng Tian, "We apologize for being able to entertain the esteemed guests. As there is an emergency please excuse us for now. We shall meet prior to this to formally apologize in the future."

"Please don't be like this. We are in alliance. Since we are here, our couple is willing to lend our help." said Altair Reeva.

"Do not decline! We don't have enough time to waste," said Mrs. Altair Alya.

"Thank you! Let's go!" said Navi Luna.

In the end, the first ones to move are the ladies leaving their husbands behind them and heading to the first even faster than the first three children who run off as soon as they've recognized the flare. The husbands can only exchange helpless expressions at each other before running after their fierce wives themselves. move1usb.com

Backyard, within the forestry behind the Feng Mansion.

The suffering in mania Altair Sirius was tightly hugging the slender figure within his embrace. There was even no space in between them. Their foreheads were touching and both their eyes were closed. Feng Jing had entered the spiritual realm within the Marshal and saw the scene of raging flames and darkness. He walked unhindered within the space as the fire avoided harm as he walked around.

At his, every step traces of ice spread, and snow fell above him. As if the winter itself had come over because of him. Just walking around Feng Jing noticed that the temperature in the area slowly dropped and the fire was getting extinguished. He kept walking around the dark space until he saw a huge pillar of fire not far from him.

The color of the fire at the center is different; it was the ordinary shade of red but instead, it possessed the hue of blue.

[Host be careful. That's an azure fire. It might be harmful to you in your soul state...]

"It's fine. The only fire that could hurt me is Hellfire. This blue flame wouldn't be able to burn even a strand of my hair."

[That is also true but... the host's cultivation is not the same as it originally was. Yue is worried that... it might cause you some harm.]

"Thank you, Yue. But do not worry..."

[B-But your bloodline's weakness...!]

"...This... Sentinels aren't supposed to be able to harm their Guides. I should be okay."

[Host! Your egg hasn't even hatched yet! There's nothing which could help you extinguish this fire!]

"This is the spirit realm. The pain won't leave scars. Moreover, if I don't help him, he will go crazy."

[The Lord God would go mad if something happens to the host again!]

A helpless smile appeared on the corner of Feng Jing's lips and said, "It's fine. He wouldn't be awake in this world anyway."

[Host! Lord Hei!!]

But System Yue's attempts to stop his host all ended in failure. He could only follow after his host intending to pull him out of this space if he ended up in danger.

As Feng Jing arrived at that pillar of fire, he saw Altair Sirius figure asleep within it. He was in deep sleep with his eyebrows frowning deeply while gritting his teeth as if enduring a nightmare.

This suffering figure of Sirius in his sleep made Feng Jing remember their past. At that time, Ye Xiajie also agonized in his sleep like this and only Feng Jing's presence was able to calm him down.

"Ha~ your habits start to come out now that most of your soul fragments are merging. Enduring the pain without informing even me, this bad habit of yours should be corrected in the future," murmured Feng Jing.

Without any hesitation in his actions, he walked towards the fire and entered the pillar of flame. His eyes remain expressionless as if he couldn't feel his whole being burning. If it was not for the slight trembling of his fingers, Zhi Yue would have thought he couldn't really feel the pain of being burnt alive.

"Sigh~ this feeling is too familiar. It's not much different from being covered with ice. Both frost and burn gave me a tingling feeling spreading all throughout my skin. It is really not bad at all~" said Feng Jing with an amused smile on his beautiful face.

Zhi Yue couldn't really understand how someone could laugh joyously while burning awake. He knew that any attacks that are made by his Lord God whether it was intentional or not would be felt by his host.

For Mo descendants like his host, only their loved ones could inflict pain on them.

[There is no way that no pain is gained. This azure fire is made up of the Lord God's soul fragment's spirit qi. It is something that could harm the host. The burning feeling should be a reality for the host.]

Feng Jing wore a smile as he sat down near the sleeping marshal at the center. He placed the slumbering person's head on his lap and touched his face, spreading ice to protect Sirius from the fire.

[Host without the help of your quantum beast you can only stay in this space for half an hour. Your soul would fade if you stay any longer!]

He used ice to cool down the marshal. By spreading his ice the fire within the space would be lessened until it returns to normal. Feng Jing's soul suffered burning within this half an hour.

In reality, it wasn't only Feng Jing's soul who entered the Marshal's spirit realm that suffered from fire. The Marshal's quantum beast started burning as Feng Jing entered the pillar of fire. Now wholly encircling the egg, a blue fire covers the egg as if incubating it.

Meanwhile, Marshal felt his mania slowly disappearing. With his eyes closed, the icy body within his embrace becomes his only salvation. His arms started to move to want to touch this cold body directly without the clothes hindering him. He started tearing his and Feng Jing's upper garments, letting their skins touch.

His burning skin and Feng Jing's ice skin contrasted each other creating an equilibrium. The Marshal instinctively moves his body to blend with the coldness of Feng Jing. It didn't take a while for him to start regaining his sanity.

Within that 30 minutes duration, Marshal Sirius' Mania slowly fades and he starts to regain the rationality he had to lose when he had fallen into that negative state.

Marshal Sirius' thoughts:

'Hm? Comfortable. This iciness is making the hotness within my body cool down.'

He started remembering what happened to him before he fell into a state of mania. Before he could open his eyes the soothing scent of sweat flora and peppermint assaulted his nose but it didn't make him sick but instead felt relaxed and sleepy.

"Hm~ the aroma of floral and sweetness intertwining with the soothing scent of peppermint? This smells really good."

With his eyes closed the Marshal felt the softness within his embrace lowering his head to follow the scent, he didn't know that he placed his nose at the crevice of someone's neck. He instinctively licks and nibbles on that source of the aroma. He didn't even notice how much he had nibbled whatever his lips had touched.

When he felt the trembling of whatever was in his embrace, the Marshal finally realized that something was wrong. He slowly opened his eyes and saw red patches within his line of sight. It took a while for him to realize what it was that he was nibbling on just now.

"Hmm~ this is... skin? Neck? Someone's neck!?" murmured Marshal Sirius as he moved back his head and saw the face of the one in his embrace.

This was the person who kept appearing in his dreams. Smiling and laughing with him. Sometimes the dreams were sexual and imagine this person under him moaning and staring at him full of passion and love. But sometimes it could be nightmares. Seeing him stabbed through his heart, with a waterfall of blood falling out his mouth with a sad smile. Every time he dreams of this he would wake up immediately covered in a cold sweat.

Marshal Sirius mumbles, "Am I dreaming again?"

Feng Jing who comes out from their cut connection blurry stares at those obsidian eyes he loves with all his heart. The backlash of calming someone's mania without the support and protection of his quantum made him fall into a state of over fatigued. Kissing those favorite pitch-black eyes, Feng Jing's sight slowly turned dark.

"Be... careful. Your pursuers are... near," said Feng Jing before losing consciousness and falling into Sirius's embrace.

The Marshal finally remembered everything. He recalled being pursued by a group of unknown mecha users wanting to take his life. Cielo had to take over the control of mecha before they completely fell into the state of Mania.

While suffering from mania, the marshal remembered that his mecha fell on something. Then I felt something near him that could soothe his pain. He recalled from his vague memories the scene of him wanting to capture Feng Jing. Fortunately, he instinctively did not want to harm him.

In the end, before he completely destroyed himself, Feng Jing used his spirit qi to calm his raging mania. Because Feng Jing hadn't completely awakened as a guide there was no one to protect him when he entered his chaotic spirit domain.

He knew what kind of domain he possessed. A land of darkness and raging flame. With the protection of his quantum beast's ability, Feng Jing ventures into his domain and suffers the agony of being burned for half an hour. There might be no surface wound but... the feeling itself at that moment is the same as burning your own soul in flames.

Feng Jing lasted in that pain until the Marshal regained his sanity. Thinking of this Altair Sirius thinks that he is so useless.

Strongest Sentinel? Who is he kidding? He even fell into a state of mania and acted like a madman.

The youngest marshal in history? What's the use of it when he wasn't even able to protect this person who sacrifices almost everything just to pull him back.

He is even ten years older than this person but he couldn't even prevent his pain when he entered his spirit domain.

Who the hell cares if his quantum beast is the Dragon King? The one who saves him hasn't awakened his own quantum beast yet but was still able to help him regain his sanity.

Raging in anger and guilt due to being useless, Marshal Sirius threw all his negative emotions on his pursuers who followed after him. In a few moments, the sky above him is covered with mechas.

"MARSHAL ALTAIR! JUST ACCEPT YOUR DEATH!!!"

The marshal had glared at the figures in the sky. Only when he felt the one within his embrace shivered that he remembered tearing off Feng Jing's clothes in the midst of his mania. He immediately pulls out a clean thick coat from his space inventory and covers the unconscious Feng Jing within his embrace.

His cold eyes melted when staring at the sleeping young phoenix within his arms. He lowered his head to kiss those lips once before carefully tucking the latter within his tight embrace. Once he looked at the flying machine above his head his pitch-black eyes turned sharp and indifferent.

With a cold voice, he ordered, "Cielo. Burn them all to nothing."

Hearing his Master's command without even leaving the egg in his possession, the black dragon morphs to a size even larger than when he was inside that spaceship. He opened his mouth and breathed a blue fire that melted those groups of mechas into melted metals. Everything within its path was destroyed and annihilated.

Chapter 285: 8.12 First Blue Star - Fated Pair

The scene of a huge black dragon breathing out a fire pillar of azure flames and melting those mechas to soft and distorted things was what welcomed everyone upon reaching the location of the flare.

They saw a half-naked Marshal hugging someone within his embrace preciously like it was his life himself he was holding. His raven eyes were tinted with rage and detachment. Only the sight of the black carpeted sky glowing with a purple shade of moonlight, fire, and falling objects from the sky gave them the feeling of a war god overlooking the death of others with an expressionless face.

Feng Yang and the aides noticed the unconscious Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu at some corner beside them; their quantum beasts were also unconscious like them.

As they got closer, they immediately smelled the two scents overlapping each other. The dominant one is obviously the scent of blood mixed with sandalwood. Those who understand frowned at this moment. The adult couples' faces were especially not good at this moment.

The two madams of the two families instantly understood what happened here.

Mrs. Altair's thoughts, 'This dominant fragrance... this is obviously the scent of my son's pheromones but... Who owns the sweet floral one?' When she saw the gloomy expressions of the Feng Couple, she immediately understood that the other scent was owned by Feng Jing.

'My darling's pheromones were overwhelmed but the egg hasn't hatched yet. How could they mix their scent!?' Thoughts of Mrs. Feng while looking at the large red egg the huge black dragon clings to.

Feng Tian and Altair Reeva, these two fathers, approached the youngest marshal. Sirius immediately turned defensive towards the two approaching adults who tightly held Feng Jing in his embrace.

The two fathers were also Sentinels; they understand the protectiveness Altair Sirius is giving his partner as he stares vigilant towards them as he holds his fated pair.

"Brat, you better give this old man a reasonable excuse or I would think you've forced our darling into pairing!" exclaimed Feng Tian. His usual cold demeanor towards strangers because he noticed that these two young men had made a temporary pairing with each other.

"It was a trap. To live I've used everything but fell into a state of mania. He... Jing'er helped me regain my sanity by... entering my spirit domain." said Altair Sirius. He had explained everything on point and straightforwardly.

Feng Tian, "Impossible! See it for yourself. My Xiao Jing's quantum egg hasn't even hatched yet. How could he enter your domain without the help of his quantum beast!?"

"It's indeed still an egg. Sirius explains everything. We need to know what happened here." said General Altair Reeva.

Marshal Sirius hesitates only for a moment. He stares at his father and then at his guide's father.

"Let's go to the mansion and have a doctor check on Jing'er. I will explain everything after that," said Altair Sirius respectfully.

Feng Tian responded, "Fine. Let's return to the mansion."

After ordering a few aides and soldiers to clean up the place, the rest of those who were involved had gathered at Feng Jing's room. Except for Feng Yang who stayed in the guest room looking after the unconscious Bai Yuyan.

The royal couple had also chosen to rest as the location of the meeting is inconvenient. With them there plus the elders, it would be too crowded. Thus Feng Yue and Zenith Regulus decided to take a rest for tonight.

On the other hand, the rest of the couples including the elders had gathered in the room of Feng Jing. After getting back to the mansion, the clothes of Marshal Sirius and Feng Jing were unrepresentable, and they had to change their clothes after a hot bath.

Altair Sirius was unwilling to let Feng Jing out of his sight and the adults had no other choice but to let him look after the sleeping Feng Jing. They had already shared a temporary connection.

The seniors had already considered him as Feng Jing's future spouse. Though there haven't been any formally yet, no one could move Altair Sirius position as the youngest phoenix's fiancé.

Feng Jing in his unconscious state still sticks to the Marshal and because of it, they couldn't let the former rest alone in the room and talk to Marshal Sirius in the living room as they were afraid that something might happen to him. Because of this, they had no other choice but to gather in Feng Jing's room.

Feng Jing's quarters were divided into parts. A living room, study room, guest room, bathrooms, and the Master's bedroom.

Inside the Master's bedroom, Feng is laying on the king-size bed while holding Marshal Altair's hand tightly in his sleep. The marshal could only sit at the edge of the bed while looking after Feng Jing.

His eyes were looking soft in worry and affection. Staring at Feng Jing closes his eyes on the bed, if not for the downs and ups of his chest, others would have thought that he is deep due to the paleness of his skin and the cold temperature surrounding him.

But only the Feng Clan knew that the sudden drop of temperature in Feng Jing is due to the bloodline he has from Xue's side.

"Senior Xue, is Jing'er really okay with this sudden drop of temperature?" asked the marshal.

Xue Xia replies, "This is normal. It was only thanks to your fire energy that Xiao Jing wasn't covered in ice. The last time A'Tian awakened for the first time his whole body was covered in ice and everyone waited for him to wake up on his own. At that time even Luna was unable to connect with him due to conflicting attributes. Luna's quantum beast is a snake which is weak to cold."

Altair Reeva, "The bloodline of Xue Clan. Does this mean Feng Jing awakens the Ice Bloodline instead of the Phoenix one?"

"No. My youngest had awakened three bloodlines at their purest. First is the Phoenix Bloodline. Just based on the color of the egg, one could see the attributes of fire being dominant. The second is my dad's ice bloodline. The snowflakes patterns on the surface of the egg are the clear proof and lastly is... "

While Feng Tian explains the details of the awakened bloodlines, Feng Jing possessed someone else who had completed his words for him. It was the Marshal.

"The Dragon King's bloodline. It was only because of this bloodline that Jing'er was able to enter my spirit domain even without the help of his quantum beast. Dragons had the ability to enter spaces without any restrictions." said Marshal Sirius.

Altair Reeva asked, "Are you also able to do space jumps, Sirius?"

"Yes, but I only do that during life and death situations as crossing through spaces needs a large amount of spirit qi. But... For Jing'er to use it without fully awakening means that his overall potential is like mine... Above SSS rank." said the Marshal.

"That was before his awakening. There are some cases of sudden upgrades after awakening. Sirius is also like that before. He was only S+ before he awakened but afterward, his potential had risen to above SSS rank." said Altair Reeva.

Mrs. Altair commented, "But dear, isn't that only possible because of your Dragon bloodline!?"

Navi Luna spoke, "For this cause, it must be because of the hidden bloodline of my family."

Altair Sirius, "The Navi family is rumored to have a hidden dragon bloodline. But after the original dragon died from their family none of their ongoing generations had awakened one except... Jing'er"

"That's right. Because of this special circumstance, our Phoenix Family spread the news of his failure in awakening. This is to avoid the eyes of those who are targeting our Clan, especially the Janus Family!" said Feng Tian.

Feng Xuan, "For now let's forget about the Janus Family. This old man wanted to know how Xiao Jing had helped the Marshal to wake up from his mania. As one already knows, it is normally impossible to soothe a Sentinel's Mania without the help of a quantum.

Moreover, the marshal is the strongest Sentinel in the empire. How could our Xiao Jing cure your mania when his quantum beast is only an egg." asked the Patriarch of the Phoenix Family.

Marshal Sirius didn't answer right away but once he did all the words he told them were honest situations he had experienced. He told them every single detail he could remember about what Feng Jing had done during his mania. Telling them that the latter was able to freely enter his domain without being hindered and with no restrictions.

Normally it is extremely dangerous for a guide to enter a Sentinel's spirit domain during mania. Not only their soul might end up being devoured, entering a Sentinel's domain under a chaotic state may cause fatal injuries to the soul.

But none of this had happened when Feng Jing entered Marshal Sirius's spirit domain. In simple words, the marshal's spirit itself didn't dare to harm Feng Jing at all. If Feng Jing wanted to kill the marshal in that situation, it could be done without anyone stopping him. That's how unrestricted Feng Jing's entrance to the Marshal's soul domain is.

But the seniors thought otherwise, they had guessed why Feng Jing was able to enter the Marshal's spirit domain without problems.

Xue Xia said, "I've already read about this case in history. But I think it was really that case, what do you think about this, my husband?"

"If it's really that case then... then the lives of you two wouldn't be simple at all. It has been millennia since the last fated pair with 100 percent compatibility had appeared," said Feng Xuan.

Feng Tian, "Father, it is better to check on it once after Xiao Jing wakes up."

Altair Reeva, "If this is really the case then... Janus Stellan would not turn a blind eye to this. He had already sent people to eliminate my son. If he learns anything about Xiao Jing then he might change targets."

Altair Alya and Navi Luna both exclaimed, "I won't allow it!"

Feng Tian, "Un, we won't allow it. Honey, calm down."

"Mah, mah... It is okay. Nothing happens yet. Dear, calm down." said Altair Reeva.

Marshal Sirius spoke, "I'm here. I will protect Jing'er."

"Since it is like this, what should be done now? Engagement? Marriage? It is better to connect the two families as soon as possible. This will allow us to openly protect Xiao Jing from the Janus Clan." said Mrs. Altair.

Mrs. Feng spoke, "I'm okay with their union but... Things could only be decided when our darling wakes up."

"Indeed. We already gave him a promise that he is allowed to choose his other half on his own. His marriage can only be decided by Xiao Jing himself." said Xue Xia.

Marshal Sirius spoke, "I can wait. I will respect any decision Jing'er makes."

Feng Tian asked, "What if... He didn't choose you?"

"A'Tian!?" calls Feng Xuan. He knew that his son was testing the extent of the Marshal's feelings towards their youngest phoenix.

"It doesn't matter. I can protect him in my own way. Regardless of whether he chooses me or not." answered Marshal Sirius.

Feng Tian, "You said this yourself! This old man would never forgive you if you force our darling to be with you. Our Feng Family has never been afraid of death. If you really force my son, this old man would do anything just to get him back!"

"Please do not worry. I understand everything," said Marshal Sirius.

Feng Xuan, "Sigh~ anyway you should stay here at this house until Xiao Jing wakes up. It is better if those men think you've died or something. I never expected they would send 100 of mecha just to kill you. They've destroyed our defensive system even by sacrificing their lives! Only a few survive but those ants still dare to enter the territory of the Phoenix Family!? The guts!"

"Thank you, Senior. I will stay. But please let my right-hand man contact me at least." said Marshal Sirius.

Xue Xia spoke, "Your right-hand man is that noisy brat from my side right? Don't worry I will inform him."

"Thank you once again, Senior."

Feng Xuan, "Hmp! Don't call us seniors. Call us grandfather at least. Even if you weren't chosen by our Xiao Jing in the future, you are still a likable child." he said.

Marshal happily agreed in his heart but his face remained expressionless.

Altair Sirius said, "I understand. Grandfather."

Xue Xia, "For now, take a rest with Xiao Jing. Tonight's event was hard on you. Sleep well. We will be taking our leave."

"I will Grandad," replied Marshal Sirius.

movelusb.com

Feng Tian and Altair Reeva went to the office and talked about business. The Madams leave together to inform the royal couple about what happened tonight and spend some more time talking about their children before heading to sleep.

Back to Feng Jing's Master's bedroom.

Marshal Sirius stares at Feng Jing before talking to his quantum beast, Cielo.

"Cielo, incubate the egg well. Don't harm it. Whatever hatch from it will become your partner in the future."

[I understand, Master.]

After a while, Sirius also lay down on the bed. After he pulled Feng Jing in his embrace, he decided to close his eyes and rest for the night. For him, this night is one hectic evening. It is the day he almost died.

Chapter 286: 8.13 First Blue Star - Awake

It took another three days before Feng Jing woke up from his slumbering rest. When Feng Jing's crimson eyes were revealed for the world to see, he saw that no one was inside the room with him and even his husband's figure was missing.

When he thought that his husband in this world doesn't have memories and that he was abandoned. Tears just stroll down on his cheeks as he wears an emotionless expression on his face.

Feng Jing mumbled, "He left ha?"

[No, Host he didn---]

The sound of the door opening was heard and someone talking with another can be heard, the figure of Marshal Sirius talking to his right-hand man, Xue Ying.

Marshal Sirius was talking, "I will be leaving the unit in your care for a while. At least until the competition."

{Understood, Marshal...}

"Why are you no longer talking? Xue Ying..."

{Marshal behind you.}

"Behind?"

When Marshal Sirius turned around he saw an expressionless Feng Jing looking at him with dull eyes, traces of tears were still visible on his cheeks. He was just standing behind him without saying any words. Just staring at him.

They stared at each other without talking but one could see each other's longing from the eyes of each other.

Feng Jing tried talking but what came out of his mouth was almost a soundless, hoarse voice.

"Urm~" He could only reach out and ask the other person to hug him.

The marshal doesn't need to hear a word to understand what Feng Jing wanted. He immediately stretches his hands to carry Feng Jing precious in his embrace.

Carrying him in his arms, Sirius gently wipes the tears strolling down Feng Jing's face.

"Don't cry. I'm here. I didn't leave." whispered softly by Sirius as he kissed Feng Jing's forehead.

"Hmm~"

"Sorry. Next time I will make the call inside the room. So when you wake up, you'll see me as soon as you open your eyes. Don't be afraid, Jing'er I'm here."

"Un~"

The marshal continues to coax Feng Jing and cut off the call he has with Xue Ying.

Meanwhile in the outer space, on the Fallen God Unit's spaceship, Xue Ying, who not only got cut off one-sidedly during the call but also got to do all the work for his boss until he returns, could help but cry about unfairness.

Back in the Feng Mansion.

Marshal Sirius carried back Feng Jing to the bed but since the latter wasn't willing to let him go, he could only enter the bed with him. He sat on the bed with Feng Jing sitting on him sideways. He even helped him drink water to moisten his throat.

There is a bit of silence between the two as none was willing to start a conversation. This quietness lasted until the Marshal began asking questions.

"Jing'er... Do you know who I am?" asked Marshal Sirius.

Feng Jing replies monotonously like, "The youngest Marshal in the Federation. Quantum Beast is the Dragon King. Leader of the Fallen God Unit. The heir of Altair Family and my big brother's boss."

The marshal responded, "Jing'er you know that is not what I am asking."

"Okay let's talk again after eating." said the marshal.

The two ate at Feng Jing's chambers. Because the rest of the people in the mansion had gone to work only Sirius and some morning servants were in the mansion. They eat breakfast at the dining hall in the mansion, but there is nothing but silence between them.

Feng Jing continued to avoid the Marshal's stares and was acting that he could see him at all.

In his mind he is having a conversation with System Yue.

"Yue, tell me what happened after I fell asleep?"

[The ones pursuing the Marshal had arrived but they weren't too many and the Marshal's quantum beast had defeated them all under his orders.]

The Feng family and Altair couple decided to engage you both but were waiting for you to wake up to formalize the engagement.

The Marshal stayed in the Feng Household until the competition at the end of this month. They all decided to let the mastermind of this farce come out himself during the competition.]

"So you are saying that he wouldn't have stayed if not because of their plan to pull out the mastermind?"

[That's not it, Host. The Marshal had always been by your side since that night you've fainted. Only goes out of the bedroom whenever he takes the all afraid that he would disturb your rest. He eats and sleeps in the same room. The farthest place he had reached was the living room.]

"Is that so? Yue since this is a Futuristic world it should be allowed to use your identity as a system as my temporary independent AI. One with own intelligence. That way you would also be able to assist my amnesiac husband in this world."

[Hehehe~ That sounds interesting. I agree, Host!]

Feng Jing, "Good. I'll make up a situation that will allow that to happen."

The conversation between Feng Jing and his system took a while and the Marshal thought he had offended his guide when he asked questions just like he was interrogating Feng Jing. He also thought that Feng Jing was intentionally ignoring him because he was angry.

Marshal Sirius reaches out his hands to gently caress Feng Jing's cheek as if coaxing him. This familiar gesture startled Feng Jing only for a moment before looking at the man in front of him.

"Jing'er, I'm sorry. I won't ask you that question anymore. Please don't ignore me. I'm wrong." said Sirius.

Feng Jing upon hearing this explanation smiled and rubbed his cheeks in that man's huge hands like a cat.

"I am not ignoring you. I was just checking a few surveillance videos left by my light brain when I was unconscious," said Feng Jing.

The Marshal was startled when he heard about a light brain leaving recordings for an unconscious person.

"Really? That's possible?" asked Sirius.

Feng Jing smiled, "Of course! Unless one is brain dead, the activity of the brain is 24/7. But you need to build a catalyst that will continue to follow commands while you are unconscious. Mine is this one."

He had asked his System Yue to materialize in his avatar form. A fist-sized glowing moon appeared in thin air.

"Introduce yourself, Yue," said Feng Jing.

A holographic screen appeared above the little moon which shows its thoughts. This is to disguise himself as an ordinary AI in this world. move1usb.com

[It is a pleasure to meet you, Marshal Sirius. I am System Yue. Lord Jing's little AI.]

The Marshal had reached out to grab the little moon in Feng Jing's hands, feeling the solid and cold texture of the object in his hands made him realize that this system thing is real.

"It's real but where did it come from? From your inventory?" asked Sirius.

Feng Jing answered, "No. He is always with me in invisible and undetected mode. Unless he deactivates those modes it is almost impossible to locate him much less to notice him. It was also him who helped me gather information about the marshal that night. So I already know who you are."

"Invisibility mode plus an attribute to avoid detection. It seems to possess its own intelligence and could gather and surveil information at all times. Does this run by electricity?" asked Sirius.

"No. As long as I exist in this world, It would as well~" said Feng Jing with a smile. "I will lend him to you. With Yue's help, you could do almost everything others could do in this world."

"...Jing'er, this... did you make this?" asked Sirius, there's an obvious worry within those obsidian eyes staring at Feng Jing.

Feng Jing answered, "No. I was born with it. But my family didn't know about its existence. I'm only telling you because you are my future another half." a smile appeared on his face.

Seeing this kind of expression on Feng Jing's face made Altair Sirius's heartbeats beyond his control. The Marshal knew that the attraction he has with Feng Jing is not that of love. It was because they are a fated pair, the resonance of their souls was the most compatible. It was comfortable and healing.

But right now, Sirius doesn't know what it is anymore. Every expression Feng Jing possesses can cause a different reaction from him.

When he saw Feng Jing cry, he felt pain.

When he saw him hurt, he felt regret and guilt.

When he saw him sad, he could feel something stabbing his heart directly.

When he saw him afraid, he couldn't help but pull him in his tightest embrace to comfort him.

When he smiles, he becomes the happiest person in the world.

Yes, as if Feng Jing is his whole world.

The Marshal approached Feng Jing and kneel on one knee before him. He held his hands and piously kissed Feng Jing's fingers and the back of his hand.

"Jing'er I promise to protect and love you my whole life. I will give you whatever you want. Keep you happy at all times. I will make you the happiest person in this star. Are you willing to become my mate?" asked Marshal Sirius.

The maids and servants on standby at the corner all gasped in surprise. After all, the one kneeling in front of their young master is no other than the strongest person in the Oberion Empire.

The Male God is adored and respected by almost everyone in the Empire. The strongest Sentinel with the bloodline of a purest Dragon King. He is the guardian and the pillar of the Oberion Empire

But at this moment, this amazing person in the legend is on his knees asking Feng Jing for his lifetime. Becoming his mate means they would become a true fated pair with 100 percent compatibility like in the legend. The two of them would become a true dragon and phoenix pair in the myth.

Feng Jing asked, "Are you sure? You know nothing about me. You don't know what my personality is or whether what kind of feelings I have for you. Moreover, I am still underage and not yet old enough to be able to marry."

"I am sure. Even though I don't know anything I knew in my heart that I would be able to love you. I do not care what personality you have as I like you as you are. As for feelings I... I'm sure I will have it as long as you stay by my side. Jing'er, what is your answer?" asked Sirius.

Feng Jing replies, "At my age, it is impossible to get married but I guess we can get engaged first. But if you hurt me I would ask my family to annul it okay?"

Altair Sirius smiled and kissed Feng Jing on his forehead, "Okay. I will wait for you to grow up." said the Marshal.

Feng Jing smiled back knowing that his husband in this world might not have his usual memories but unlike in the last world which they had some misunderstandings to the point that his death was ordered by the latter.

At least in this world, they were not complete strangers as he was someone that can be called Sirius's savior given the circumstances that happened when they first met.

Chapter 287: 8.14 First Blue Star - Mastermind

At nightfall, the whole Feng Family and the Altair couple learned that Feng Jing had woken up and had gathered for a feast. They were all delighted with seeing Feng Jing awake.

During the feast, at the dining hall in the Feng Mansion.

Xue Xia asked, "My little darling, are you hurting somewhere? Tell Xiao Yeye if you are."

Navi Luna, "Darling, mommy prepared some nourishing soup for you. Drink a lot okay?"

"Jing Darling~ aunt had bought you some cakes for desserts. You can have it after dinner," said Mrs. Altair.

Feng Jing, "Xiao Yeye, Mom, Xiao Jing is okay? I wanted to ask if A'Yu and A'Wu were okay? They were with me that day after all. Aunt, thank you for the present." he said.

"Don't worry about them. They woke up as soon as they were treated. The two of them were able to go to the academy the next day without any problems. Xiao Jing can meet them tomorrow. Yuyan and Wu would always visit you after school." said Feng Jing.

"I see. That's better. Please don't worry about me anymore. I am really fine. It was just that it was a bit hard for me to hold back my strength which is why Sirius is with me to help me control it." said Feng Jing who was sitting beside Altair Sirius who was spoon-feeding him.

Everyone else was confused by his words and only understood when they saw Feng Jing grab a spoon on the table and soon become a twisted metal of undefined shape. They only saw the child hold the spoon lightly only for it to be distorted by some unknown power.

Feng Jing pouted when he saw the spoon he tried to hold on his hand gently. He was thinking that he couldn't eat what he wanted with how things are going right now.

In his mind, "Yue! How to control this strength?! I can't even eat on my own!"

[Host, don't worry there is a way. You can convert that power into your spirit qi and use it to hatch your egg. But for this problem you need your husband's help for it to succeed.]

"That's even better then. I will tell him to help me. After calming down these elders."

Everyone except Sirius was looking at the distorted spoon Feng Jing had ignored on the table.

Feng Tian, "This kind of strength? Did Xiao Jing's overall potential improve after all?"

"But this doesn't look like a normal upgrade but... The same as Sirius a few years ago," said Altair Reeva. Feng Xuan, "Xiao Jing, come with grandpa after eating and test your overall potential. You can only eat cake after that."

"Un~ Xiao Jing agrees," said Feng Jing.

Altair Sirius, "Let's stop talking and focus on the dinner first, please."

"Okay! Feed me more!" said Feng Jing with a smile.

The Marshal also smiled at him which is enough to give those who knew that this cold-hearted Marshal really doesn't smile at all except towards Feng Jing. Seeing his smile is making them feel a chill down to their spine. That's how rare and creepy the marshal smile is for them.

After dinner, everyone gathered in the testing facilities. This facility had enough testing machines that measure someone's potential over physique and spirit.

[Host please control your spirit qi properly. If you used your real strength not only these types of machinery would explode but your house as well.]

He replied with his thoughts, "How much did my husband do to be accepted as above SSS potential."

[He just made the machines malfunction, afterwards it exploded. Host, just give it a little touch. A poke will be enough!]

"Poke? Just a poke okay!"

[Sigh~ why is it that this system feels that it would still be too overwhelming with just a poke?]

Feng Jing nods his head as he asked Altair Sirius who was carrying him all the way put him down for a moment.

"I will leave their protection to you, please," says Feng Jing with a smile.

Marshal Sirius kissed his cheeks as he stared at him with an affectionate gaze, "Don't worry about anyone else. I will protect them for you."

Feng Jing nodded before running like a child towards the testing machines that will measure his potential. With Dean Astra in lead, a few more doctors and scientists were following behind him. These were all loyal people who made an oath to the Feng Family.

"It's good to see our little darling awake. Are you uncomfortable somewhere, dear?" asked Dean Astra.

"Nothing is uncomfortable, Grandpa Astra!" answered Feng Jing.

"Good. Good. Grandpa had a feeling that the machines might explode like when Marshal Sirius did it a few years ago so Grandpa and the others can only watch from far. Grandpa will remotely activate the machine afterward Xiao Jing can start using the machines." explained Dean Astra.

Feng Jing responded, "Xiao Jing understands, Grandpa Astra."

"Okay, start," said Dean Astra.

Feng Jing did as he was told. He first went to the machine which tests one's physique. He pokes a finger on the measuring machine. It was just a light poke and it exploded as everyone expected.

move1usb.com

POKE~

BAAANNG!!!

It wasn't an explosion where everything flew away in fragments but an explosion that turned the machine to dust. With every poke of Feng Jing's fingers, every machine he had touched exploded to dust. Seeing this, no one reacted right away and stared at Feng Jing like he was some kind of monster.

What's worse is that the person itself. Looked back at them with an innocent gaze and said, "Xiao Jing didn't do anything yet! I just poke it lightly. Lightly! Then it turned to dust. Grandpa, did you buy a fake one?"

"U-Un... G-Grandpa may have bought... A f-fake one." said Feng Xuan while stuttering.

Everyone else was astonished by what they had witnessed just now. What Feng Jin didn't know is that before he was called to measure his potential the others had already tried the testing machines first. So there is no way that the machines are fake much less the explosion is a cause of a defect. They were frightened that they were speechless for a long time.

This could only mean that Feng Jing's potential is beyond normal, that the machines even turned to dust due to his overwhelming power. While everyone is stunned only Marshal Sirius reacted normally as he had expected such a result already. He walked towards Feng Jing after rescinding the barrier he placed to the others and carried the young one back to his arms.

Marshal Sirius, "Since everything is finished, let's go eat the cakes mom bought for you."

"Okay~ but tonight you must help me hatch my egg!" said Feng Jing.

"I will help you hatch the egg. Take a break for now?"

"Sure~ let's go back to the room."

The couple had a conversation even ignoring the countless shocked expressions of the people in the testing facilities. Only when they've left do the adults inside the place snap out of shock and check the vicinity where the machines are supposed to exist. In place of those huge machines from before is now a small hill of ashes from an unknown material.

Dean Astra, "This... The machines were compressed to this extent that even if it exploded every part if it turns to dust instead of broken fragments."

Feng Xuan spoke, "Compression? You mean they Xiao Jing had held back his strength only enough to cause changes into those machines!?"

Dean Astra explains, "Must be. Else if he didn't precisely take control of it, this whole mansion itself, not only this laboratory would be destroyed. Dage, the strength Xiao Jing possessed is already beyond ordinary. I'm afraid if someone knows then..."

The Feng Patriarch had also thought of this and his complexion changed a few times. He then looked at the men in white coats behind Astra and commanded, "This matter cannot be leaked out!"

Everyone nodded in promise as they all saluted at the old leader of the Phoenix Clan.

Xue Xia, "Thankfully all we were allowed to join in this test are family members. Or I'm afraid we had to command deaths for those who are not."

Altair Reeve, "Though we had already expected this result, it was still a bit too much to accept. After all, Xiao Jing is a guide, not a sentinel."

"Indeed. This is the first time I've seen a guide whose strength is enough to match the potential of the strongest sentinel," said Feng Tian.

"No wonder that they are the fated pair," murmured Feng Yang.

Mrs. Altair, "Since this is the case. Let's arrange their engagement ahead of time. Luna, let's create a plan for it together."

"Sure, after the engagement we also need to plan about their future marriage," said Navi Luna.

These two mothers were already planning the marriage of Feng Jing Altair Sirius without the couple knowing. Right now, this young couple had returned to their room to enjoy the cakes Mrs. Altair had bought for Feng Jing.

Meanwhile somewhere in Oberion Empire.

Within some luxurious office of someone with high authority. This office is quite large, every decoration is made from fine and expensive materials. Even the simple-looking couches in the room cost millions each. Some of the decorations were made of gold and no one could easily assess its worth.

A man wearing a marshal uniform is looking at the reports about Altair Sirius with a stern expression on his face. This person looks like a handsome uncle with a strict nature. The wrinkles on his face made him look more mature and experienced. He looks like someone from the same generation as Feng Xuan and Xue Xia.

This person is Marshal Janus. The mastermind behind the assassination attempt on Marshal Altair. His hair is long and grey but his eyes were blue in color. No one would be able to deny that he is a person with appearance and fame.

The report he's reading is about Marshal Altair's assassination report.

Marshal Janus murmured, "Reported dead. Location in outer space near the Oberion Empire's hemisphere. But the last location the last reinforcement had disappeared to is within the empire. This could only mean that the brat is still alive. Tsk! This young king is harder to chew than that old Feng."

He tapped on his light brain and issued another secret order.

{Marshal, what are your commands?}

"Continue to look for the traces of Marshal Altair. Trend carefully in the empire, even if the death and life of Sirius are unknown the old dragon is still a dragon."

{Should we tail the movements of General Altair Reeva?}

"Tail every member connected to the Fallen God Unit including the members of the Altair Family."

{How about the Phoenix Family, sir?}

"No. Not them. The moment they've lost Feng Xuan to lead the clan they've lost their original strength as they used to be. Even if they are under the Fallen God Unit, that is because they are seeking protection.

Lately, the Altair Couple is visiting the Feng Clan, they might be talking about leaving their protection after the death of Sirius had been spread."

{... Affirmative...}

Then the connection was cut off between the two. Marshal Janus squeezed the space in between his eyes to ease the throbbing of his head. In a while, his eyes wander on the picture of four young men on his table.

One is the young man beside him is a young man with azure hair paired with emerald irises. A delicate beauty with a gentle temperament. Marshal Janus's eyes soften as he stares at this person. Clearly, this young man is someone he is intimate with. A lover or such.

While the other two people look familiar as well. A young man with crimson hair and eyes was smiling as his arms were hanging on the young Janus and another young man with white hair. These guys were a teenage version of Feng Xuan and Xue Xia.

Marshal Janus stares at the photo with longing and reminisces. This was the moment he was the happiest in his whole life.

"If that didn't happen the relationship between the four of us wouldn't have come to this point. But right now I need an authority that could lead the whole federation, only by doing so I would be able to meet him once more. To achieve that I am willing to sacrifice everything to reach my goal. Even the children of this current generation." Marshal Janus murmured.

Chapter 288: 8.15 First Blue Star - At the First Military Academy.

The result of Feng Jing's current potential is off the charts. As Marshal Sirius had said before, Feng Jing happens to be someone with the same overwhelming potential as his. An overall potential beyond SSS rank.

Everyone was delighted and worried at the same time. Saving someone with such overwhelming strength can become the pillar of the family but at the same can become the common enemy of those who is against them. Isn't Marshal Altair's assassinations enough proof? Either way, everyone from the Feng Family is happy.

The results of Feng Jing's latest test of potential were only known by few people from the Feng Clan. Outside only the Altair Couple knew. This is because the patriarch of the Phoenix Clan had given a decree to keep such things as a secret that cannot be shared. Thankfully those who knew were people who swore loyalty to the Feng Clan.

When the morning arrived the next day, everyone had resumed their daily routines. They had all gathered at the dining hall for dinner and all left to work after the meal. The only ones left in the mansion are Marshal Sirius who is rumored to be dead and Feng Jing who still needs time to hatch his egg.

Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu were already informed about Feng Jing's awakening from his slumber. They've also decided to visit him after school.

In the First Military Academy.

Training Hall under the Feng Family.

The students were given a whole month of free training until the competition. Each team was given a training hall and schedules when they could use the gravitation room to train. Only this group under Feng Jing had been given their own training hall for the competition. The academy had provided them with everything they needed to fulfill their goals before the competition.

Group

Leader: Feng Jing [Guide] ([Temp.] SS Rank)

Guides:

Feng Wu (SS Rank)

Bai Yuyan (S Rank)

Si Shen (B- Rank) [Paired of Han Ling]

Wu Liu (C+ Rank) [Paired of Qu Yul]

Ordinary Person:

Vega Solaris (Technician)

Lin Yven (Logistics)

Sentinels:

Han Ling (A- Rank)

Qu Yul (A Rank)

Navi Nash (S Rank) [Cousin of Feng Jing on the mother side]

Xue Ran (SS Rank) [A member of Xue Family tasked to protect after Feng Jing]

Right now, these students were having mecha training in the hall. The one in the temporary lead is Feng Wu but since Navi Nash is always in the way that their battle formation always crumbles.

Navi Nash sarcastically said, "See! This is the reason why guides had to follow after the sentinels. See how the formation has ended, because you have no fighting potential that the formation fails!"

Everyone was displeased with how Navi Nash had spoken but no one could really tell him out that it was his fault that the formation ended like that. Most members of this team were commoners and aides, while Xue Ran, the only one with a noble title who can stop Navi Nash turns a blind eye on them as if the situation had nothing to do with him.

Ever since Navi Nash had joined the team forcefully the training of their group had never progressed.

Feng Wu spoke out, "You know yourself who is really at fault. Ever since you've joined our group you do nothing but look down on your members. When the Lord returns, who will be the first one to get kicked out of the group."

Navi Nash knew this very well. Because Feng Jing hasn't shown himself in the academy, Navi Nash had forgotten about this fact. No faced with this reality, this proud young master could only show his authority and anger by beating up Feng Wu whose position is only an aide and not even full noble blood.

He noticed the eyes of the commoner students looking at him with critiquing eyes and their expressions cannot be called good with their lips pursued into line and their eyebrows frowning at the moment.

He raised his hand and slapped Feng Wu. The latter didn't even flinch when he was hit directly on his cheeks. Navi Nash may be a Sentinel but his overall strength is still a rank lower than Feng Wu who is an SS rank guide. Even if Feng Wu's physique might be a bit weaker than a SS rank Sentinel, an S Rank Sentinel like Navi Nash could never defeat him.

But their standing had been different, Navi Nash might be an illegitimate young master of the Navi Clan but he was still a nobility. While Feng Wu is from the branch family of Feng and their noble title is lower than the Navi Clan.

Feng Wu's expressionless face remained the same as he looked at Navi Nash with dull eyes yet hidden disdain within his red-orange eyes.

SLAPPED!

'If not because this Lord is restricted by the laws of heavens I would have killed you already on the spot, you bug!' thoughts of Feng Wu who was originally Prisoner Yun Ming, the former God of Fate before he became a prisoner.

Navi Nash frowned as he was now trembling in anger, he could see that even though Feng Wu's expression is detached the way he is looking at him is just like grass at the side of the road he would never concern himself with. Thinking that a mere low rank noble is looking down on him makes Navi Nash fall in rage.

"You rude low ranked shit! You and your trashy master should all go to hell!" exclaimed Navi Nash as he changed his hand from an open one to a fist.

"You motherfucking bastard! You dare!" shouted Bai Yuyan while the others had encircled

Bai Yuyan could no longer hold back his anger and cursed out loud intending to beat the shit out of Navi Nash. Seeing that things had gone awry Xue Ran had to step in and stop the fight.

But before Bai Yuyan and Xue Ran reached Navi Nash a shadowy figure flashed before them and reached the stupid young master.

Bai Yuyan and Xue Ran's thoughts, 'So fast!?! Who is it?!'

Navi Nash asked in shock, "Who the hell are---Arh!!!"

They both stood still and saw a man who looked physically trained and his face was covered with a mask suddenly grabbing Navi Nash's wrist twisting it at an unwanted angle. A sound of agonizing cries comes out from Navi Nash's mouth. His right hand was fully dislocated and he could only struggle with pain on the ground.

"AAAAHHH!!! MY ARM! IT HURTS!!!!" screamed Navi Nash with tears strolling down his ugly mug.

The man whose face is covered and wearing the Feng Family crest is none other than Altair Sirius who came out of the Mansion with his guide. He and Feng Jing were on their way to visit the Dean when his guide decided to surprise his team members and witnessed Navi Nash slapping Feng Wu.

When they witnessed Nash Nash trying to punch Feng Wu for the second attempt before Feng Jing could even make his move the marshal acted as his horse and made a move first. He immediately dislocated Navi Nash's right arm in a few seconds.

Xue Ran vigilantly took a protective stance and stood before his teammates as the strongest and as a sentinel, he was the first one to fight in this group full of guides and ordinary people. Han Ling and Qu Yul also took their stand behind him.

Xue Ran asked, "Who are you? How are you able to enter our training hall? This is the Feng Clan private hall."

While everyone is confused by the sudden arrival of this masked man, the latter ignore their questioning and walk back towards the entrance to reach out his hand like an escort. Feng Jing placed his hand on Sirius and let him hold it as he wanted.

Feng Jing, "Since you knew that this hall is under my Feng Family why is it that you didn't stop that trash before he could even hit my aide?"

Everyone was startled by Feng Jing's sudden arrival. Those who recognized him immediately greeted him respectfully. Even Xue Ran had to lower his head in his presence.

"Greetings to Young Lord Feng!"

Feng Jing smiled at Bai Yuyan and the rest, "Be at ease. This is not such a place for such formality."

"As you wish!"

Seeing the swollen face of Feng Wu, Feng Jing's kind smile instantly faded, he approached his aide and passed to him a healing regent of high purity.

"A'Wu you've done well. Heal your face and leave the rest to me," said Feng Jing.

"Yes, Lord Jing," responded Feng Wu.

Bai Yuyan asked, "Jing, are you able to join the training already?"

"Not today. I should be able to join the day after tomorrow. Don't worry. I am fine, A'Yu." replied Feng Jing.

Bai Yuyan nodded his head. As few people understand Feng Jing's situation, the rest only know that he is suffering from the failure of awakening. No one knew what kind of backlash he received to be out of school for a long time.

Only people like Feng Wu and Bai Yuyan who were directly involved that night understand what is really happening with Feng Jing's situation. They also knew who the person behind that masked figure was. The two of them silently greet the man beside Feng Jing and salute. Marshal Sirius only nods a bit to accept their salute.

Those who didn't know the identity of the masked person only followed Feng Wu and Bai Yuyan's actions and saluted towards the masked man as well. Only the injured Navi Nash and bewildered Xue Ran didn't salute the person who appeared with Feng Jing.

The marshal gestures to them to be at ease with just a hand movement. He didn't utter a single word ever since he appeared in the training hall.

Feng Jing gave Xue Ran an aloof glance before walking towards Navi Nash who was in pain. When he saw Feng Jing's icy expression, Navi Nash recognized that the former soft Feng Jing before was gone and only his scary person wearing the appearance of Feng Jing stood before him.

He started shivering in pain and fear, Navi Nash is now staring at Feng Jing like he is some kind of monster.

"S-S-Sorr...ryy..."

Feng Jing suddenly smiled as he did before but in Navi Nash's eyes that smile is not kind at all but a devil's smile

"I did warn you before. To stay away from Vega Solaris. But not only you ignored my warnings, but you also entered my team without permission and hurt my aide whom I've didn't even hit before.

Not only did you look down on my teammates, but you also pushed your mistakes to others. How shameless could you be? Even worse than trash. Didn't you know that even if I accidentally kill you your Navi Family would even send me a give of compensation? Did you really think that because you are surnamed Navi that your talents would be above others?

Before I awakened I was stronger than you, even if I fail to awaken I will still be stronger than you are. Am I trash or are you? Hm~"

Navi Nash's face turned red in embarrassment and anger. He couldn't believe that a failure like Fang Jing who wasn't even able to awaken as a guide to look down on him like that.

"You!... I'll... Kill you! Greenie!" Navi Nash summoned his quantum beast. An emerald tree boa.

An emerald tree boa is a non-venomous boa species. Adult tree boas grow to about 6 feet in length. They have highly developed front teeth. The color pattern typically consists of an emerald green ground color with a white zigzag stripe or so-called "lightning bolts".

HISS~ movelusb.com

Feng Jing chuckles seeing his quantum beast.

"Heh~ it's just a slightly big green earthworm. Cielo, that snake is a lot larger than this one," murmured Feng Jing.

The Marshal could no longer stay silent hearing his guide call his dragon a snake. He could never understand why his future wife calls his quantum beast a proud dragon king as a snake. He even heard him calling the phoenixes of his own family as chickens.

"Jing'er, my Cielo is not a snake," said Sirius.

Feng Jing pouted and stared at the marshal with inflated cheeks. He looks cute and innocent this way.

"If I say it's a snake and then it's a snake!" said Feng Jing.

'So cute~' The marshal's thoughts who sold his quantum beast and let his future wife call it a snake despite being a dragon with king bloodline.

"Un! Jing'er is right. Cielo is a snake." said the future henpecked husband, Martial Sirius.

The Dragon King, Cielo, didn't know that his own master had sold him to his wife and is known by others as a snake instead of being a proud dragon. If Cielo knew about it, he would cry without question. But right now that dragon king was left in the Feng Mansion incubating his future mate.

On the other hand, the confused other students who don't know who Cielo is but are stunned when they've heard Feng Jing called Navi Nash's Boa type quantum beast an earthworm.

"Who is Cielo? Is Lord Jing calling Young Master Navi's quantum beast an earthworm?!"

Bai Yuyan, "Pfft!~ green earthworm."

Only the sound of Bai Yuyan's laughing echoes in the training hall.

Chapter 289: 8.16 First Blue Star - End of Navi Nash

[a/n: In this world, awakened or not, everyone can see other people's quantum beast but unawakened ones, especially ordinary people, can't possess a quantum beast. It is because they lack this support that they were weaker than those sentinels and guides.]

Bai Yuyan didn't hold back as he laughed at Navi Nash when Feng Jing called his Green boa quantum beast a green earthworm. But seeing Feng Jing's serious expression, Bai Yuyan knew that he wasn't joking at all when he called Greenie a green earthworm. After all, this is Feng Jing they are talking about.

This is the Young Lord of Feng Clan who even dares to call Marshal Sirius's quantum beast, Cielo, a legit dragon with King's bloodline as a snake.

Only Feng Wu who knew Feng Jing's real identity knows why the latter calls dragons as snakes and phoenixes as chickens. To an immortal god-like our MC dragons and phoenixes aren't rare in the upper realms. There are even eccentric gods who eat those as supplements. In Vearth especially with the God and the Nether Systems, mythical beasts like dragons and phoenixes are considered as common beings. They aren't rare unless these dragons and phoenixes reach a cultivation stage to have a human form.

Hearing Bai Yuyan's laughing was the last straw for Navi Nash to lose his mind in rage. He ordered his quantum beast, the green boa, greenie to attack Feng Jing.

Navi Nash, "Go, Greenie! Kill them all for me. No! Kill him!" he shouted like a madman while pointing at Feng Jing who stood defenseless in front of him.

HISSED!!!

The Green Boa followed his Master's order and attacked Feng Jing, jumping towards him with an open mouth. It stretches itself open to the fullest with its fangs bared at Feng Jing intending to bite and swallow him whole.

During the whole event, Feng Jing ignored the huge snake coming at him but stared coldly at Navi Nash with a crazy smile on his face.

Navi Nash's thoughts at this moment, 'Die. Just die, you weakling! You die after getting bitten and get swallowed whole. Become the snake's dinner! HA!?'

When the latter noticed Feng Jing looking at him, he suddenly flinched when he saw the former gave him an amused smile. Staring at him as if he were very entertained by his reactions. When Navi Nash noticed this he finally understood what kind of person Feng Jing is.

An innocent and silly young lord? NO! This person is a devil who loves to watch his prey lose their minds in his presence and enjoys the show.

"Not only is it not poisonous, but all it has is its size. No wonder the Navi Clan deem you as a failure," said Feng Jing.

The Marshal had immediately picked up his guide and placed him securely within his embrace. His right arm wrapped tightly around his slender waist while reaching his left hand grabbing the head of the snake before it could even touch the corners of his guide's clothes.

He grabbed that huge quantum beast easily as if the green boa's head itself wasn't as twice as large as his hands. Everyone could see how much strength the Marshal was using as the snake's head distorted its shape while wriggling to break free for a few minutes before it finally stopped moving.

Marshal Sirius said coldly, "It is against the law for an awakened person to use his own quantum beast to harm an ordinary person. But not only use yours to harm the others you've ultimately ordered it to kill.

Just based on these actions alone, your punishment shouldn't fall short of the death penalty. I will let the federation give you that punishment. But for your attempt to harm my lover must be punished as well. The pain should be enough as a penalty."

His words were fierce and icy while his pitch-black eyes were sharply staring down on Navi Nash while excluding a pressure that made everyone uncomfortable. He squeezed the snake's head like a stressed ball. Everyone could only watch as the green Boa breaks into fragments in thin air before disappearing. The quantum beast, when killed in reality, returns to its Master's spirit domain to heal.

But the backlash Navi Nash received is too much for him to bear. The pain he got from his quantum beast being killed is so unbearable that after puking mouthful blood, his whole body started convulsing. His eyes turned lifeless as he looked at the unknown horizon clearly. The backlash not only affected his body and spirit but also his mind. Everyone knew that Navi Nash was turned into a fool by this masked man who was now hugging Feng Jing protectively within his embrace.

Bai Yuyan and the rest except for Feng Wu and Xue Ran had approached the twitching Navi Nash. They didn't even notice the ambiguous position of the Masked person and Feng Jing in the corner. The Marshal's arms were fully wrapped around Feng Jing with their differences in physique size and height, it looks like a huge bear hugging an adult human. Feng Jing's feet are not even reaching the cold floor of the hall as the sticky bun behind him is hugging too tightly.

Feng Jing struggles by failing to escape, "Put me down! We're in public!"

"... no, let me hug you for a bit more~" whispered the marshal as his lips were already kissing the side of Feng Jing's neck.

Feng Jing blushed as he grabbed his naughty Sentinel's hair pulling him away but unable to.

"W-What are... you doing!? There are people... around us!" whispered Feng Jing.

Feng Jing gave up struggling and said, "Didn't you say that you wanted to see Grandpa Astra? Just go and pick me up here. I will wait for you here and go home together later."

Marshal Sirius remembered why the two of them ended up coming here. He wanted to talk to the dean about the incoming competent at the end of the month. He wanted to talk about it and make necessary plans before the whole event takes place. He at least needs to make sure that his guide's safe during the competition as he wouldn't be able to stay by his side while the competition is taking place.

He remembered that the location that was chosen for the test is an outskirt abandoned planet near the territory of the Zerg race. On this planet only low leveled zergs live. This place was chosen to give the children the experience of facing their future enemies as soldiers. Even though the zergs were low-powered ones, there are few with sizes larger than an ordinary house and need a mecha to defeat it.

The competition is about how many can each group kill a zerg. Only the team with the highest kill points will be given the opportunity to immediately join the lower rankings of their chosen brigade or unit.

The top three teams were allowed to choose from the units of the marshals. The Fallen God Unit. Under the Heavens Unit that is led by Marshal Janus and the Swords of the Crown Unit which is under the imperial family's control.

The next top 4 to 15 are allowed to choose to join from the four great brigades: The Fire Phoenix Brigade, Azure Drakes Brigade, White Tiger Brigade, and the Black Turtle brigade

Just based on the name itself the Fire Phoenix Brigade is under the Feng Family and they were allied with the Fallen God Unit under the Marshal. The Azure Drakes Brigade is under Marshal Janus's control. Though they used to serve the Altair family everything had changed when the old ancestor of the Drake family had died and separated themselves from the Altair Family.

Because of this the Altair Family almost lost their standing as a semi-royal family thankfully Marshal Sirius appeared and protected his family from being demoted.

The White Tiger brigade under the Lin Clan is a neutral clan but they have a family alliance with the royal family as the second prince had married their youngest princess as consort. It could be said that they were a bit biased towards the Imperial family thanks to this.

The Navi Clan itself is a black snake. It had all connections to almost all factions. Since this clan had more female descendants than males, they've made sure to create alliance marriages with all groups. Only the original marriage between Feng Tian and the abandoned princess, Navi Luna is beyond their control.

This is because Feng Tian had only married Navi Luna after she was expelled from the Navi Clan. Not only her expulsion to the clan was broadcasted live in the star network, they even asked the federation and the crown as witnesses for that event.

Thanks to this, after Navi Luna had married the current master of the Phoenix Family, the Feng Clan had openly shown their distrust towards the Navi Clan. It was because of this that only the Feng and the behemoth family like the Altair Clan are not under their control.

As for the Altair Family, their only young descendant is the unmarried Altair Sirius who was deemed a workaholic. Because of this, the Altair Family is the only behemoth clan who had no connection to the other family except for their business alliance with the Feng Clan and Xue Clan.

The marshal after remembering he still has work to do had no other choice but to leave his partner here with his teammates. He let go of his future wife's waist and gave him a kiss on the forehead. Since Feng Jing is considered as not an adult yet, the marshal had limited himself to just hugging and giving him a forehead kiss and kisses on his cheeks.

With a smile at the corner of his lips, The Marshal says, "I will try to finish my business soon. Wait here for me. I will go pick you up as soon as I finish my talk with the dean. Don't run around and don't talk to strangers, Jing'er."

While pouting Feng Jing responded, "I know that. Xiao Jing is not three okay!?"

The Marshal chuckled for a bit and kissed Feng Jing's cheeks while looking at him with affectionate and doting eyes. But his eyes turned dull when faced the others. He looked at Feng Wu and Bai Yuyan.

"Feng Wu, Bai Yuyan, I will leave Jing'er to you two for a bit. Look after him well," said Marshal Sirius.

The stern gaze and irrefutable tone of his voice made other shivers, the two whose name was called saluted and responded, "Yes, Sir. Please leave it to us. We will protect Lord Jing."

The marshal nodded his head to the two before looking at Feng Jing and hugging him tight once more.

"I will be back soon, Jing'er," said Marshal Sirius.

Feng Jing sighed as he could understand why the marshal was hesitating on leaving him alone even while in the academy. There are too many prying eyes on the Feng Family especially towards him who was rumored to have failed his awakening. Right now he is the weakest link the Phoenix Family has, it will be no surprise that he is being targeted.

The worry in his husband's eyes is too obvious for him to ignore unfortunately with his vessel's current age seducing his husband would only destroy his lover's reputation. After all, even in this world being overly intimate with minors is against the law.

To send away this sticky bun husband of his, Feng Jing had to give him a goodbye kiss on his cheeks. Feng Jing has always been shameless when it comes to showing his affections. He openly gives Sirius some kisses on the cheeks until those around him blushed in watching such a fluffy scene.

Everyone had their arms fully open welcoming this much dog food coming towards them.

Mua. Mua. Mua. Mua.

"There! I give you your farewell kisses. Now go to work. Hmp!" said Feng Jing with crimson and inflated cheeks.

Marshal Sirius was delighted with such sweetness as always, "Yes. Yes. I'm going now~" he said before taking his leave.

The moment the hall's entrance had closed after the marshal had left, the guides and ordinary people in the group had encircled around Feng Jing after squealing once.

KYYYYAAAAA!!!

Chapter 290: 8.17 First Blue Star - Spy

KYAAAHHHHHH!!!

The squealing echoed inside the training hall as soon as the marshal had taken his leave. With Bai Yuyan in lead, the rest were surrounding Feng Jing with eyes glowing with the curiosity of gossip.

Bai Yuyan asked, "Jing, it's only been days since when did you get all that mushy-mushy with him?" with a mischievous grin on his face.

"What do you mean days? I just woke up yesterday okay. I got introduced formally the same day." said Feng Jing while lowering his head with red cheeks.

[Ugh~ this kind of host is... Creepy ba~]

"Tsk! Get used to it. I'm a bit bored and I want to play this role." said Feng Jing in his mind.

[But Host... The innocent demeanor really doesn't fit you at all!]

"Shut up!"

The others who were surrounding him had started teasing him the same way Bai Yuyan did. In the first place, the way the original Feng Jing treats the commoners is unlike how other noble sons and daughters do. He treats them kindly and is quite friendly as long they don't overstep their line.

"Lord Jing. Lord Jing, who is that masked man?"

"Someone, you know?"

"He looks so strong!"

"Is he your fiancé, Lord Jing?"

"What is his name?"

"Why is his face covered?"

"Is he a Sentinel?"

"What is his quantum beast?"

"How did you meet?"

"Lord Jing!"

"Lord Jin..."

"Lord..."

Feng Jing, "Ei! He is my fiancé. His face is covered and I cannot tell you his name as he is on a mission. You can call him Lord Si. He is a Sentinel and his quantum beast is... It's a huge snake!"

Choke!? Cough! Cough. Cough...

[Host. It really isn't a snake.]

"Shut up! Why did you leave with my husband!?" said Feng Jing in his mind. Their conversation remains in Feng Jing's thoughts as always.

[That... the Lord God says he doesn't need me there as he was only going to clarify things with the dean. He told me to watch over the host and inform him right away if there's a problem. I've left him a subsystem connected to mine though. He should be able to contact me any time.]

"I guess that is also fine. We aren't separated by long distances anyway. But during the competition, you are to stay around him even if he doesn't agree."

[I understand, host.]

"By the way, is there something wrong with this team while I am not here?"

[Well I've checked this world's database, there doesn't seem to be anything weird going on. Well except for that Navi Nash and this spy, Xue Ran.]

"That brat is a spy? From whose side?"

[Let me check... EH? Host, you won't believe this. This Xue Ran works for the Zerg Faction!]

"If it's the zergs then... He's under that person. According to the original's memories, that one is a humanoid Zerg. But it seems that the Zerg race also has factions in this world. Interesting!"

The moment Feng Jing mentioned Marshal Sirius's quantum beast as Snake, Feng Wu and Bai Yuyan choke on their own saliva in shock. I mean only their Lord Jing would dare to call the Marshal's Dragon King a snake.

Vega Solaris asked Bai Yuyan and Feng Wu worriedly after seeing them cough like that.

"A'Yu. A'Wu, are guys okay?" he asked.

Bai Yuyan, "Cough. No problem."

"I am... also fine," replied Feng Wu.

'For real!? To call Marshal Altair's King of all Dragons a snake. Only Jing had that guts.' Thoughts of Bai Yuyan.

[Master, that's normal. The Marshal won't get angry. They are a pair after all. Asking the master to look for a partner for this poor beast. That black phoenix from the Feng Family called Hoku doesn't look bad~]

"You... We've only met. It has only been two weeks at least. Stop playing around. That's the Feng Family we are talking about!"

[Master already knew what kind of family the Phoenix Clan is. As long as there is a love they wouldn't care whatever background you have. Master Jiayou!]

"Hmp! For now... Let's do our best to get an opportunity to join his brigade first."

Hoku is the name of Feng Yang's quantum beast. A black phoenix with fire and darkness attributes. Stella asking himself to become Hoku's partner is telling his master, Bai Yuyan to choose Feng Yang as his paired Sentinel. It's been a few weeks since Bai Yuyan visited the Feng Mansion with Feng Wu.

Bai Yuyan always came over almost every day to visit Feng Jing with Feng Wu. Feng Yang would always be there to welcome him. Tease him and spend time with him. Of course, the general didn't push him to the corner. He respected him and didn't force him in any way.

Clap. Clap!

Feng Jing spoke, "Okay. The break is over. Let's restart training. For now, split into two groups. The lead is Feng Wu and the other is Bai Yuyan. Xue Ran your stay. I need to talk with you. Go, let's begin. This time you may use the third mode. Fight while seeing each other's weakness."

"Yes!"

Everyone had entered the mecha except for Feng Jing and Xue Ran. The two of them stood by the observation room watching the group fight within the training hall. Feng Jing's friendly smile faded as soon as only the two of them were alone.

Xue Ran instantly noticed the change of atmosphere around Feng Jing. His thoughts were in chaos thinking that things had gone wrong somewhere. He was tracing his hidden weapon with his uniform as he took a safe distance away from Feng Jing.

'Something isn't right? His demeanor had completely changed. As if he wasn't that smiling person from before.' Thoughts of Xue Ran while staring at Feng Jing with vigilant eyes. He could only feel detachment and iciness coming from the Young lord in front of him.

A cold tone of voice came from Feng Jing. It is a tone that wasn't heard from a supposedly innocent young man like Feng Jing.

"If you pulled that out then... I can only eliminate you on the spot," said Feng Jing.

Xue Ran flinched as he noticed that the aura around the delicate-looking beautiful young man in front of him is a lot stronger than what he has. He was shocked as he thought Feng Jing was a failure who couldn't awaken at all.

Thoughts of Xue Ran, 'What the hell is this!? Didn't they say he is a failure!? He is an unawakened one but... Where the fuck is this pressure coming from?'

Xue Ran spoke, "Y-Young Lord Feng. I am Xue Ran, a descendant from the Xue Family."

"Is that really so? I really don't care much what you do as there are too many of your kind around me but... I wish to inform you that I also know the identity of the man you served with your other identity." said Feng Jing as he just gave him an indifferent glance.

The words Feng Jing had spoken were thoroughly scary and left Xue Ran speechless. He was stepping back looking for a way to escape while trying to talk his way out.

Feng Jing, "This training hall was gifted to me by Grandpa Astra. The whole authority within this all is under my full control. You wouldn't be able to leave as long I didn't allow you to nor you kill me. The second option seems to be taboo to you though."

Xue Ran narrowed his eyes as he suddenly appeared behind Feng Jing placing a dagger near his neck.

"How can you be so sure that I cannot kill you?" said Xue Ran with an emotionless face and cold voice.

But Feng Jing remained silent and didn't even show any hint of fear within those crimson eyes as if it was soaked in the blood itself.

Heh~

Instead, he saw those phoenix-shaped eyes squinted in amusement paired with a mischievous smile on the corner of his lips, Xue Ran saw this two-faced young lord about to grab his dagger intending to slice off his own neck.

Xue Ran was incredibly frightened by the scene he imagined where Feng Jing's blood spurted from his neck like a fountain. Before the blade of his dagger reached Feng Jing's neck, he ignored the blade and grabbed it with his other free hand, stopping the latter from pushing the blade deeper into his neck.

The palm of his other hand was wounded quite badly and almost half of the blade imbued within his flesh. His blood flows out towards the blade of the dagger, almost dripping on Feng Jing's clothes. He moves away before his blood falls on Feng Jing. He moves away fast but not fast enough as a droplet of his blood flew and landed on Feng Jing's left cheeks.

A frown appeared on Xue Ran's face as he looked at Feng Jing with dubiety in his eyes.

"Are you crazy!?" exclaimed Xue Ran.

Feng Jing moves and faces him with a smile. "As I have told you, you cannot kill me. After all, the one behind you would never forgive you if you do. Your mission after all is to protect me~"

Xue Ran felt chill in his body upon realizing that the innocent Feng Jing that the world knows is nothing but a facade and the one in front of him is the real Feng Jing and a dangerous person.

Shivers~

"Who the hell are you really?" asked Xue Ran.

Feng Jing ignored his question and said, "If you know a way to inform him of something, can you pass my message. Altair Sirius is my mate. Tell him not to be too hard on him, please.

Okay, that's a done part on my side. Treat your hands in the infirmary or something. While you're at it, grab that garbage (Navi Nash) on your way out. Join the training after you finish all that. You may go."

He once again turned around to continue watching the battle at the hall. His back is wide open as if Xue Ran wasn't the person who had threatened him just now. Meanwhile, with bewilderment painted on his face, Xue Ran silently left the observation room, grabbed the unconscious Navi Nash, and left the training hall to get his hand treated.

[Host, is it alright to let him leave? Isn't it dangerous?]

"No worries. It would be more fun that way. Anyway, something is weird about this Feng Jing's role in this world. Go check it for me. I want not the latest world plot but the ones before the current one. Report to me later at night."

[As you wish, Lord Hei!]

System Yue faded from the world's surface and returned to his form as data. He infiltrates the world's heavenly wills and looks through all the data this star possesses. It would definitely take a while before he finished his task.

Meanwhile, Feng Jing who was left behind murmured with a cold expression on his face, "I truly wanted to take a break but seriously! Those bastards are making it harder for me to stay in every world. Since they already know that I'm alive, even low and mid-tier worlds would be full of bugs. How annoying~"

Somewhere within the Empire.

At a palace-like mansion under some great family. A man with long dark blue hair woke up from his sleep. He was lying on his huge bed laying face first as his sleeping posture. The sound of the alarm can be heard from his light brain and the person had no other choice but to wake up and turn off the ringing in his head.

CRING~...Cring!!

Once he opened his eyes, a pair of golden orbs could be seen. "Urgh~ this world is really irritating. I don't even know which one the Lord God is in this world. Moreover, why do I have to become the male lead again!? I wonder who Ming'er is in this world. He would definitely be beside a character that serves Lord Hei.

But I don't even know who Lord Hei is in this world. He wouldn't be the Protagonist Shou, right? If Lord Hei's vessel happens to be Bai Yuyan. Wouldn't the Lord God kill me!? Shit! Don't do this to me. Tsk! What a pain.

With this body's standing, I couldn't even openly check on the other characters of this world. I have to wait until the competition. That's two more weeks from now."

Suddenly a holographic screen appeared in front of him, a video call request was being shown. Seeing this the man had to keep a straight face before accepting the call.

"What is it? Speak."

{Marshal Janus had told me to inform the General to meet the marshal at 3 in the afternoon in his office.}

"Order received. Anything else?"

{It is reported that Marshal Altair is said to be dead but the federation elders are not believing it. They wanted the General to check the asteroid belt where they've last traced Marshal Altair's location.}

"What happened to Feng Yang? Isn't he the one who works under Marshal Altair?"

{All members of the Phoenix Clan had requested for a vacation. This is because of the failed awakening as a guide by the youngest phoenix of their family.}

"That Clan is too family-oriented. Tell the elders I accept the task."

{Understood. Have a nice day, Major General Drake.}
