

" I never knew love like this existed, until the night I met you" ~ Unknown It's been a full week now since Izuku has moved in with Katsuki, a full week of absolute bliss that both of them are basking in to the point that are both glowing and giddy like two teenagers. Katsuki is more than happy to make breakfast and dinner every night for his medic who happily watches full of chatter about his day then eats every bite on his plate helping his boyfriend clean up before they either climb into bed or curl up on the couch, hardly ever taking hands or eyes o each other. Nights when one or the other might have to work is still spent texting or visiting the other when they can. Yes life has been absolutely amazing for both of them, especially Izuku who has been steadily healing from his ordeal and now that Raiden was in jail for assault and harassment things felt even better. 39 But scars le behind inside a mind that had been abused for so long still sometimes show themselves and as Izuku stares out the window of the taco joint Katsuki had taken him to on what he considered thier first date he is struggling with one such scar. A blonde firefighter is noticing that his nerd seems to be far away in thought tonight and it's just not sitting well. Scarlet eyes take in his boyfriend across the table who definitely isn't himself tonight. Katsuki had been in the mood to go out for dinner and the greenett happily agreed but something is stormy in those emerald eyes and it's time for him to find out what it is. The blonde finishes the taco in his hand wiping his mouth sighing as looks over at a distracted Izuku. " Oi Medic? Everything ok?" The greenett across from him snaps his attention back to scarlet eyes, a so smile appears. "Yes Kacchan, everything is great" Katsuki hears the words, but the tone isn't convincing at all. "Yeah? Then why haven't you touched your food, or hardly looked at me since we got here? I upset you or something without realizing?" Izuku goes wide eyed, still unable to believe he's in a relationship finally where the other person is actually concerned that they may have hurt you in some way. It makes him love the large firefighter across from him that much more. He reaches for Katsuki's hand, holding it tightly in his own. "Oh gosh no Kacchan, you haven't done anything wrong, I'm not upset with you at all" Katsuki let's a smile fall on sharp features. " Alright, I'm happy to hear that, but something is definitely going on in that pretty head, so why don't you tell me what's up?" Izuku smiles sheepish, emerald eyes gazing down to the large hand he's holding. He reaches across the table with both hands playing with Katsuki's fingers trying to distract himself as he speaks. He's quiet for a minute until the blonde wiggles his large fingers trying to get Izuku's attention. a " It's ok medic, tell me" Izuku glances at him then back to his hand continuing to play with it as he takes a breath. "Well, my mom called me today and she asked me if I would go home this weekend and visit her, since I haven't seen her in a really long time" Emerald eyes look back up seeing Katsuki paying attention to each word. "Ok, so... what's wrong baby? You don't wanna go or something?", the blonde questions unsure why this would be an issue. Emerald eyes are back on the fingers he's playing with. "No that's not it at all, I do want to, I really want to, I...I haven't seen her in a year" Katsuki raises a brow. " So then what's wrong?" Emerald eyes meet scarlet. "I wasn't sure you'd be ok with it, with me leaving and going away, alone, I know you can't come with me since you have to take over for the fire chief this week so I wasn't sure you would be ok with me going. I don't want to upset you", the greenett says with something close to a lip wobble that is breaking a blondes heart. Katsuki's mind starts to go into overdrive, now he gets it. "Izuku, did that fuck not allow you to go home to see your mom?", he ask tho he sure he knows the answer already feeling himself getting pissed o. å The greenett looked back at the blondes hand shaking his head no. "He didn't really let me go anywhere if he couldn't go, and even if I did go he would harass me so much that it was just easier not to go, thats why I haven't seen her in a year" Katsuki feels his temper rise even as every beat of his heart hurts for this male across from him that he loves so much it fucking aches. The blonde pulls his hand back gently sliding out of the booth making emerald eyes stare at him in question and worry. The firefighter slides into the booth with Izuku putting his arm around him pulling him to his side close. "Look at me Deku" Izuku stares up as he boyfriend waiting for whatever has to be said. "I know you have been through so much, and every time I think about what that prick put you through I want to beat the fuck out of him all over again. I know that your mind has been so twisted by abuse that you might think that shit is normal, but it's not and baby....." There's a pause and a firefighters large fingers under the greenett's chin guiding his face upward so that he's sure he's holding his gaze. "I'm not him, I'll never be him and I would never ever keep you away from seeing your mom, or having fun. Even with Icyhot who I know is your bestfriend. I mean don't get me wrong, I'm going to miss the fuck out of you and I wish I could go cause baby, I really wanna meet her but I can't right now, but no way in hell I'm going to stop you or make you feel guilty about going. I told you that night in the firehouse that being loved by me ment that you were still completely free to be you and that I'll love you anyway." Emerald eyes are hanging on every word with glassy eyes and a heart that feels like it might bust wide open because he loves this blonde so deeply. A tear sides down fair skin as Katsuki wipes it away. "I.. I love you so much Kacchan. You really are perfect. Thank you for being so understanding with me" Katsuki grins leaning over kissing his temple. "You don't have to thank me for that shit, it's easy when it comes to you. So when's my baby leavin, and when will you be back? And don't get it twisted with those questions Medic, I'm asking out of concern" The greenett smiles wide.

The greenett goes wide eyed emerald eyes shooting up to the blonde beside him a er finally taking a bite of his taco, a line of sour cream across his cheek. "Really?!", he mumbles with a mouth full of food making the blonde saved me when I had given up on being rescued, that you showed me that love doesn't hurt if it's real, that healing takes time but in the right hands with time and patience it can be done because even a disaster can be beautiful when it's rebuilt by someone who loves it no matter what condition it was in when it was found" Katsuki is completely quiet and unmoving making Izuku actually worried.

Theres tears down the blondes face and as he leans over and one falls

"No Deku, you.. you said everything right. Don't, don't dodge baby" 📑 2

In the darkness of the room Katsuki finds Izuku's mouth, kissing him

Katsuki had no idea he could ever be someone's safe place to fall

He rest his hands on the blondes built thighs as he speaks.

As he kisses and holds Izuku so close it feels like they melt onto one another it's the blonde who also thinks that this emerald eyed medic rescued him too, from being alone, from being so cocky he never thought he needed anyone else. He knows for sure now, there's one, one he can't do without. A once broken Medic who is teaching him just as much without even realizing it.
