

32. Best Gi Ever

"The holidays are great, but the true magic happens when I see you smile at me" ~ Unknown ↻

It's Christmas eve and Katsuki is staring out the window of the firehouse watching it snow.

He glances at his watch, just a couple more hours left of his shift and he can go home and curl up in bed next to a hot medic he calls his.

He can't wait honestly, today has been a shit day full of shit calls and all he wants is a soft caring voice, gorgeous green eyes and a gentle smile that always makes the darkest days fade from a tired firefighter. Plus it's Christmas eve their first one together and that's exactly where they should be, together. But they both had shifts today only difference is Izuku's had ended before Katsuki's and the blonde had a late one.

He smirks though as he takes a drink from the coffee cup in his hand thinking about the past few months with Izuku.

Ever since that medic had shown up at that call that night to look him over on a summer night his whole life changed and to make it even better he was able to change the life of that medic right back.

It's been a few weeks since Katsuki had shown up at the prison to pay a visit to that abusive asshole who needed reminding that Izuku was his and that meant any and all threats would be met with hell fire from the devil himself.

He got word that ever since that last beat down Raiden will probably never be fully right again and that is absolutely fine for a blonde firefighter who liked to call himself Karma in the flesh. ↻

Izuku had been once again recovering from that whole ordeal with the help of Katsuki who still without fail consistently reminds him that he's safe now and loved, protected and that nothing like that will ever happen again.

It's been amazing to see the changes in the greenette since Katsuki had first met him.

Izuku isn't afraid anymore to go after what he wants, or speak his mind, or be affectionate no matter where they are.

The blonde smiles to himself because one of the best fucking parts is just how affectionate that nerd is every time the blonde walks through the door and he clings to him.

Izuku has turned clingy and cuddly most all the time and Katsuki honestly can not get enough of it.

His thoughts are broken by the voice of an extra behind him.

"Hey Bakubro, whatca doing man?", a redhead firefighter asks as he drapes himself over a large lounge chair flipping through a magazine.

The blonde turns around and eyes him.

"Thinking about how shitty it is that I'm stuck here with you extras and not home with my Medic", the blonde smirks though he's definitely serious.

Kirishima rolls his eyes.

"Mean man, just mean. But yeah, it does suck since this is your first Christmas together and stuff, at least he was able to swing by here before he went home to see you for awhile"

Katsuki clicks his tongue.

"Yeah, for a whole 20 fucking minutes before we got sent out on a call because some fuck should have stayed home instead of driving in the snow when they don't know how. Wasn't even a fire. That shit pisses me off"

The redhead chuckles at his always annoyed friend.

"Yeah I get ya. Hey, you get Mido's Christmas present?"

Katsuki turns from the window again with furrowed brows crossing his arms.

"Oi, hair for brains, it's Christmas eve, do you really think I wouldn't have my gift for him by now?? What kind of shit boyfriend do you think I am?? I've had it for a couple weeks now"

Kiri looks up from the magazine to see ticked off crimson eyes.

He laughs putting his hands up.

"Sorry, sorry geeze bro so cranky. Anyways what did you get him?"

"Tch. I'm not telling you. He hasn't even seen it yet"

Kirishima rolls his eyes again.

"Fine. But man you are cranky tonight"

Katsuki sighs slamming himself down on the couch.

"Because I'm here and not home with him, and yeah yeah I know this is part of the job and shit but still, it's his first one away from that fuck, he should be curled up with me showing him how different shit is this year"

The redhead looks over at his friend, rose red eyes so en.

"Bro, I get it and yeah it totally blows, but you show him that every day is different now, and man have you changed?"

Crimson eyes look in that direction.

"What's that mean?"

Kirishima grins.

"You use to be all 'doesn't fucking matter what day of the year it is, this is my job 24 fucking 7, this is why I'm the best firefighter there is' blah blah blah. This year you're all 'I just wanna be with my Medic, fuck this job'" ↻

Katsuki can't help but laugh hard flipping his friend off at the taunt.

"Shut up fucker. Maybe I finally learned that there's more to life than this job, and me"

The redhead smiles.

"I know man, that's what I'm saying, it's great"

Katsuki's phone suddenly rings and when Kirishima sees a smile on a cranky firefighter he knows exactly who the caller is.

The blonde stands up moving to the window on the far side of the room before he answers.

"Hi Medic. Everything ok baby?"

The greenette on the phone smiles.

"Hi Mr Perfect, and yes, everything is fine. I just thought I'd call to see how your shift was going"

The blonde sighs looking outside at a wintry city.

"Would be going better if I was home with you. I'm sorry I got stuck on the late shift on Christmas eve Deku, this isn't what I wanted"

The greenette feels his heart ache at the sweetness of the words.

"Kacchan, I know that. You don't have to be sorry, besides you'll be home soon, we can still have some Christmas eve together", Izuku says as he fixes a bright red light on the Christmas tree they had put up.

The blonde smiles slightly.

"Yeah that's true. Fuck I can't wait to get home to you. Whatca doing?"

He hears a soft laugh on the line.

"Ok, promise you won't laugh?"

Katsuki smirks.

"Oh I can't promise that shit yet and you know it. What are you doing? Are you dancing around in your underwear?"

"Kacchan no! What the heck!?", the greenette laughs

"Are you dancing around in mine? Because if so I want a picture of that, damn", the blonde teases.

The greenette laughs rolling his eyes.

"No and now I don't even think I wanna tell you."

"What?! Come on Deku, you have to now, or I'll be over here all crying and shit because my boyfriend is keeping secrets from me. You really want that on your mind Medic?", the blonde says with a grin leaning back on the wall.

The greenette laughs again.

"Wow, way to guilt me into it. Ok fine.. I'm in Christmas pajama pants, sitting on the couch with a million blankets and that huge mug you have filled to the top with hot chocolate which is actually more mini marshmallows than cocoa, binge watching any Christmas show I can find, and Kacchan, I mean all of them, black and white ones, old ones, new ones, cartoons. It's like Christmas central over here"

Katsuki listens closely with his heart aching with love so strong it makes crimson eyes go fucking glassy, because he knows this is the first Christmas this nerd has had in three years where he feels comfortable enough to do this.

He's quiet for a minute before he hears his boyfriend.

"Kacchan? You still there, or are you laughing so hard you can't talk?"

Katsuki chuckles quickly wiping his eyes looking outside.

"I'm here baby. Christmas pajamas huh? What do they have on them?"

The greenette grins on the phone.

"Reindeer. Cheezy ones with red noses and Christmas lights around their necks. I got you a pair too, but I think yours are snowmen"

The blonde smiles.

"What the fuck Deku, maybe I wanted cheezy Reindeer ones too, now how am I supposed to sleep, snowmen ones don't even sound comfortable"

Izuku giggles lightening him up inside and it's the only reason he says stupid shit like he just did, just so he can hear that laugh.

"Fine, wanna trade?"

"You just wanna see me in tight pants Medic, you know your shirt doesn't fit me", the blonde teases.

Izuku smirks looking at the Christmas tree.

"Well, I mean I'm not gonna deny that one"

Katsuki chuckles.

"I knew it."

The greenette laughs again, green eyes now watching the snow.

"So.. you don't think my Christmas show watching extravaganza is lame?"

The blonde smiles.

"Well, I mean.. yes but the only reason I think so is because I'm not home. I love that cheezy shit, and oh my God, your using my favorite fucking mug and everything? And all I'm saying is you are missing out on the absolute best, and I'm talking fucking best Medic, white chocolate hot cocoa you have never tasted, so yeah it's lame because your hot as fuck boyfriend isn't home but that's the only reason"

The greenette smiles wide at his teasing boyfriend.

"That actually does make it lame. You not being here with me, and um Mr Perfect, you been holding out on me with that hot cocoa? You know how much I love it"

The blonde grins.

"I do, more than me I think"

"Impossible, pretty close but impossible"

Katsuki chuckles.

There's a few beats of silence before a soft voice breaks in.

"I miss you. I was never allowed to watch or do any of this stuff when I was with Raiden. I couldn't wait to share all this stuff with you."

Katsuki feels his chest ache.

"I miss you too and he's an asshole baby, you won't ever have to feel like that again. I'm down as fuck tonight because I wanted to be there with you just as bad. I still do"

Izuku smiles feeling butterflies.

"I know Kacchan, it's ok. We'll have all day tomorrow because trust me I'm rewatching all of this, and I'll be staying in my room with your Christmas cooking, AND there will be presents! Oh yeah, tomorrow is gonna be even better"

Katsuki can't help the grin on his face.

"Yeah it definitely will"

There's another beat of silence before the blonde asks a question

"Medic? You happy baby?"

Green eyes immediately get teary at the gentle question just asked.

He plays with a gingerbread man blanket in his lap as he answers.

"Kacchan, I'm more happy than I have ever been in my life. More happy than I ever thought I could be. I'm not even sure happy really describes how I feel. You have made sure of it and I will never be able to thank you enough for that"

The blonde swallows hard, trying to get an emotional lump down.

"I hope you didn't get me anything for Christmas Deku, because what you just said is better than anything under that damn tree and that's all I need"

There's happy tears down fair skin on the other end.

"Kacchan, you gotta stop making me cry. I can't see Frosty coming to life with the stupid hat"

Katsuki breaks into a loud laugh.

"Sorry, just for that I'll wear the snowman pajama pants. But only if you promise to be not wearing Reindeer ones when I get home"

Izuku blushes as he bites his lip.

"I can manage that. Better hurry though, it's getting hot under these blankets. I might have to take them off now"

Katsuki raises a brow at his teasing boyfriend.

"Fuck. Next 30 minutes is gonna take forever. But tell me Medic, how do you feel about Christmas lights?"

The greenette scrunches his face.

"Huh? Well, I mean I like them"

A devilish smirk takes hold, one Izuku can actually hear.

"Yeah? How do you feel about being tied to my bed with them?" ↻

Butterflies burst to life on the other end of the call.

Izuku clears his throat.

"I think you better cut your shift short by 30 minutes before I start without you"

There's a playful growl, a giggle and a firefighter racing home 30 minutes early to give that emerald eyed medic an early Christmas present. ↻
