My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1471– I'll Fully Cooperate

Due to Nox's injury, Rosalie decided to just ask for leave of absence for all three kids, while she stayed at home temporarily to take care of them.

Fortunately, the ointment she developed before was very effective. After she applied it to the little boy, his wound healed quickly.

These two days, Byron often came to accompany the little ones.

While Rosalie was taking care of Nox at home, she also worried about the research institute's projects.

In the end, she learned that all the projects were progressing smoothly, except for the project with the Lancer family.

Due to the accident last time, Rosalie was hands-on with all the projects she cooperated with the Lancer family, and no one else was allowed to intervene.

As a result, the project stalled as soon as she left.

Realizing this, Rosalie belatedly remembered that she was only concerned about Nox's injury these days and forgot to explain the situation to Xander.

She was about to call Xander to apologize, but Xander called first.

Seeing the caller ID, Rosalie did not delay, and picked up the call immediately. Her voice was apologetic. 'Hello, Young Master Xander.'

Xander's voice sounded a little cold.

"Miss Jiang, it's been so long, I wonder how your drug research is going? Normally, as a partner, shouldn't you take the initiative to report this matter to me?"

His tone was condescending, as if he was ordering Rosalie around.

Rosalie felt a little uncomfortable in her heart, but remembered that she was at fault first, and focused on making amends.

"Young Master Xander, I'm really sorry, I have some things to deal with at home, so the research has been temporarily delayed."

Hearing this, Xander's complexion suddenly sank, and his tone became increasingly unhappy. "It's the same as last time, and now it's the same reason, how much more will the research progress be delayed because of Miss Jacobs' private affairs?"

He habitually thought that Rosalie was spending time with Byron, which delayed the research.

Rosalie frowned, "Nox's hand got injured, I have to take care of him at home for a few days, that's why I couldn't be at the research institute."

She bit the bullet and continued, "I also know that I have delayed the progress of the research. It is my problem. If Young Master Xander is still willing to trust me, when Nox almost recovers, I will definitely catch up with the progress when I get back. If Young Master Xander doesn't want to wait any longer and wants to change partners, I have no complaints, and I am willing to compensate according to the Lancer's request for the delayed progress before."

The Lancer project was important, but in her heart, her children were more important!

When Xander heard that her so-called private matter was only her child's injury, the anger in his heart gradually dissipated.

In addition, Rosalie actually proposed to cancel the cooperation, Xander could not help becoming nervous again, and his tone eased.

"Sorry, I had just disciplined my staff, and didn't adjust my emotions. I was rude just now. Please forgive me, Miss Jacobs."

Rosalie was serious. "So what is your decision now, Young Master Xander?"

I will fully cooperate."

Xander said, "Of course I still want to cooperate with your research institute. I consider you the best traditional medicine practitioner in the country."

After finishing speaking, he complained. "Dear heavens, you! Why didn't you tell me about Nox's injury earlier? If I had known earlier, I would have given you a few days off, and I wouldn't have made such a mess. How is Twilight? I'll go see him another day."

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1472–Eviction Order

Rosalie kept feeling that Xander's tone seemed a little strange.

She knew that the little ones don't like him, so she immediately refused. ' It's okay, Nox's injury is almost healed, sorry to make you worried.'

Xander said, "Got to always be careful when children are injured. I have some bruise medication handed down from the Lancer family. I will bring some over to see him in a while."

Rosalie could not refuse his insistence anymore, so she could only agree.

After hanging up the phone, Rosalie called the little ones over and explained to them that Xander was coming.

"Mommy, can't you tell him not to come?" Nox was a little reluctant.

Rosalie was a little helpless from what the little boy said.

"Mommy tried to, but Uncle Xander still insisted on seeing you. He also has good intentions. Don't act too repulsive later, okay?"

After finishing speaking, she turned to look at Estie. "And you, Estie, don't do the same thing as last time! Mommy will make him leave quickly!"

The little girl nodded reluctantly.

Although Mommy made her stand as a punishment last time, the little girl did not feel that she did anything wrong at all.

Rosalie saw that these little ones were really unhappy, so she sighed helplessly. There was nothing she could do about them.

After a while, Xander appeared at the door.

Rosalie opened the door and welcomed him in.

"Hello, Uncle Xander." The three little ones greeted politely yet showing no enthusiasm.

However Xander didn't seem to notice it. He walked up to Nox. "I heard you were injured? Let Uncle Xander take a look."

As he spoke, he reached out and grabbed Twilight's wrist.

The little boy was very resistant to him. Although the injury on his wrist was almost healed, when Xander touched it, the little boy pretended to be in pain, and took his hand back aggrievedly.

"It hurts?" Xander looked at him with some scrutiny.

Twilight nodded seriously, "It hurts when you touch it!" 'Daddy is better. When he came to see me that day, he didn't even touch me!'

Xander looked at the little boy a few more times before standing up and handed the small medicine bottle in his hand to Rosalie.

"This is the bruise medicine handed down by the Lancer family. If you apply it on Nox, he will recover soon."

Rosalie took it, and thanked him politely, "Appreciate this, Young Master Xander."

Xander nodded, and vaguely glanced at the three little ones.

The little kids were already standing beside Rosalie, staring at him warily.

It's the same look again!

A touch of displeasure flashed across Xander's heart.

Whether Lucian and Nox were Byron's kids or not, he has not yet gotten a conclusion.

Though, obviously, they were also on Byron's side!

This was enough for Xander to feel displeased with them!

"I'm going to take the children out later, if Young Master Xander has nothing else..."
Rosalie euphemistically issued an eviction order.

Fortunately, Xander did not insist, he just said, "Take good care of Nox, don't worry about the research institute."

Rosalie pursed her lips and smiled. "Thank you. Don't worry, after I go back, I will definitely complete the research and new drug development within the stipulated time."

The two did not say any more, and Xander left quickly.

Watching his car disappear from sight, Rosalie felt suspicious.

Obviously, Xander came here just to confirm that Nox was really injured.

She had an inkling, compared to when they first met, Xander seemed to have changed...

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1473—Due to Nox's injury, the three little ones have not been to kindergarten for a while.

Hence, Lucille never had the chance to act.

Wendy called several times to inquire, but all the answers she received disappointed her.

Annoyed, Wendy asked Lucille out again.

"Wendy, I can't help it. Who knew that one little b*stard got hurt, and that b*tch wouldn't even let the other two little b*stards come!"

Lucille felt very helpless when she said it.

She thought about Nox being hurt and she could take care of the other two little brats.

Unexpectedly, the next day, she was told that all three b*stards had asked for leave!

Wendy tightly clenched her hands on the table, her eyes were full of hatred.

"That b*tch!"

The two were relatively speechless, and their faces were hideous.

While Lucille was annoyed, she watched Wendy's expression carefully, for fear that she would get bored with her.

After a long time, Wendy suddenly said, "You resign!"

Hearing this, Lucille frowned suddenly, and said anxiously, "Wendy, don't worry, they will always come back to school, and then I will have a chance!"

She thought that Wendy was planning to abandon her pawn.

If this was the case, then the position in Fuller Industries that Wendy promised her would be gone too!

However, Wendy glanced at her impatiently. "I suspect that they are suspicious of you. If you stay any longer, you may be discovered again. There is no need to take this risk."

Hearing this, Lucille's complexion visibly relaxed, but she was still cautious. "Then, I..."

Wendy said, "I'll handle it, you resign first, then find a place to stay, and I will contact you."

Lucille agreed.

When she returned to the kindergarten, met the principal and tendered her resignation.

The principal was caught by surprise that Lucille was about to leave the job just a few days after her arrival. "Is it because our kindergarten is not good enough? You can ask for anything. You also know how important your class is, and we can't do without you at this stage."

Lucille's face was trouble. "That's the exact reason why I wanted to resign."

The principal frowned. "Why do you say that?"

Lucille replied, "You said so yourself, the three children in our class are the young masters and misses of the Lawrence family, one of them is now injured. I feel panicked, I don't think I can take up the responsibility of taking care of them. If they get hurt again, I am also afraid that Lawrence Corporation will hold it against me."

In short, she was timid.

The principal persuaded her for a while, but Lucille did not let go.

In desperation, the director had no choice but to agree to her resignation request.

After leaving the kindergarten, Lucille took the money Wendy gave her and found a hotel to stay in, waiting for Wendy to contact her.

During the meal just now, Wendy only said that she had made her own arrangements, but she did not explain exactly what the plan was...

On the other side, Wendy returned to the villa in the suburbs.

Seeing the dilapidated appearance of the villa from a distance, Wendy's eyes were full of disgust.

'One day, I will return to my previous life! Whoever likes to live in this kind of place can live here!

'Rosalie! I will never let that b*tch go!

'Since that bitch protected those three little b*stards so well, I can only come for that b*tch now!

'I will definitely make Rosalie regret stealing what's mine!'

Thinking of the plan she had thought up, Wendy's face darkened.

"Rosalie, you just wait! The hardships I have experienced, I will definitely make you pay a thousand times more!"

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1474– What An Honored Guest

On the other hand, Andrea could not help feeling uneasy because she never heard from Wendy for several days.

Based on her understanding of Wendy, it was impossible for that woman to just accept defeat easily.

'But right now, I'm the only person she can use.

It would be fine if she came to ask me for money, but there has been no news these days.'

Andrea was afraid that Wendy would go berserk on a whim and drag her into the mud again!

There was no news of Wendy for several days, Andrea was restless.

In the afternoon, before it was time to get off work, Andrea came out of Quirke Enterprise with her bag in a hurry and drove toward the suburbs.

She had to check on Wendy's situation with her own eyes before she could rest assured!

As she reached the suburbs, Andrea stood at the door of the villa, still a little afraid to go in.

Magdalene's deranged look from last time still seemed to haunt her.

If I went in rashly and bumped into Magdalene again, I'm afraid that she would swallow me alive!'

After thinking about it, she called Wendy.

The other end quickly picked up. "Andrea, what's the matter?"

Wendy's tone sounded very normal, even a little lighthearted.

Andrea was puzzled, but she dared not show it, and just said, "Sister Wendy, I came to visit you, and now I'm downstairs at your house, I'm not sure if Auntie..."

Hearing the panic in her tone, Wendy chuckled. "Come in, they're not at home."

These days, Henry and Magdalene have not given up, they went around begging their relatives, seeking for someone to help them.

It never occurred to them that the entire Coast City knew that they had offended the Lawrence family. Who would dare to go against the Lawrence family and come to help them?

Andrea was relieved when she learned that Magdalene was not there and went all the way into the villa to Wendy's bedroom.

Even though she was down and out, Wendy still tidied up her room very well. At first glance, it was almost exactly the same as her previous bedroom.

"What an honored guest, why do you have the time to come and see me today?"

Wendy looked at the person in front of her, eyes dripped with sarcasm.

Andrea felt a little guilty when she saw her, so she took out a bank card from her bag and handed it to her. "I'm worried that you don't have enough money. There are half a million dollars in this card. Use it for now."

Apart from sending money, she had no other reason.

However, after she witnessed Wendy's state, Andrea felt a little uneasy.

Wendy looked very relaxed and happy, without any resentment from the previous period.

Andrea feared that she had already done something...

However, she did not dare to ask bluntly, for fear of offending Wendy and triggering her insanity.

After some deliberation, Andrea appeased her and said, "Recently, a new bar opened. I think you'd be very bored by yourself. Shall we go for a drink tonight?"

Wendy looked her up and down and agreed noncommittally.

It will take some time before her plan is implemented anyway, might as well have some fun now.

As it was getting late, Andrea drove Wendy into the city. The car turned around and into an alley, which was a newly opened bar.

The dispute between the Fullers and the Lawrences was huge, while this bar was opened by a young master within the circle.

In order to prevent people from finding out that she was still associated with Wendy, Andrea specially found a booth in the corner.

After being seated, she began to discreetly refill Wendy's wine glass, trying to get her drunk, and see if anything came up.
