My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1685-Where's The Item I Wanted?

Byron's warning was effective. Xander was better behaved when he interacted with Chloe.

Chloe reciprocated with a generous smile. "Mr. Lancer, I have long admired your name."

Xander got up and reached out to shake her hand politely. He then complimented her. "Miss Lincoln, you're so beautiful. You make a good match with President Lawrence. Even your family backgrounds are similar -what a match made in heaven! I probably wouldn't be invited to your wedding! Let me congratulate you both first!"

Then, he looked at Byron sarcastically. 'President Lawrence, you have such a great candidate by your side, why are you so obsessed with Miss

Jacobs? There wouldn't be so many problems if you chose Miss Lincoln earlier!"

Byron looked at him with apathy. "I already brought her here. Where's the item you promised me?"

Xander sneered. "Why rush? What I want to see isn't a person.'

Their stares collided, and there was ruthlessness in their eyes.

Byron took out the marriage certificate casually while Xander reached out to get it.

As if he did not see him, Byron went past him and placed the marriage certificate on the coffee table.

Xander's face sank when his outstretched hand fell on nothing. However, when he saw Chloe beside Byron, he felt instantly better again. His face revealed a bit of joy.

'No matter the superiority Byron put on now, he had already lost!'

Xander smiled, turned around indifferently, went to the coffee table, and picked up the marriage certificate to check.

Pride surged within him when he saw the photo and official seal on the marriage certificate.

“Tsk, look at how well these photos are! President Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence are both so photogenic!”

Then, he shook his head regretfully. “However, this is a marriage certificate. President Lawrence and the Missus, why didn’t you smile? If an outsider sees this, they will think that you both are forced to be married!”

Byron and Chloe’s faces both changed at the mention of the title ‘Mrs. Lawrence’.

Chloe turned and took a look at Byron, thinking that he would say something.

Unexpectedly, Byron had already suppressed his emotions. There was nothing on his face. He just fixated his eyes on Xander. “Mr. Lancer, isn’t this marriage certificate what you wanted? How is anything else important? No one else will see this thing except us.”

No matter how Xander tried to provoke him, Byron did not reciprocate. He just felt a little bored and returned the marriage certificate to Chloe.

Chloe took it and put it away.

“Mr. Lancer, you’ve got what you wanted. Now, it’s time to give me what I want.” Byron said plainly.

Xander turned back unhurriedly, opened a drawer, and took out a small glass bottle from it.

The body of the bottle was transparent. The liquid inside was also colorless and transparent, like a skincare serum for women.

“Here.”

Xander handed the bottle to Byron and was about to show off his medical skills again, but the bottle was snatched from his hand.

Byron frowned as he looked at the bottle in his hand solemnly.

He did not know much about medicine, so he could not tell whether the thing in his hand was the alleged antidote.

“Since you’ve done as promised, I am not a villain who does not keep his word. President Lawrence, rest assured that this is Miss Jacobs’ antidote. She will wake up soon as long as she drinks it.”

There was a brief moment of displeasure in Xander’s heart, but he quickly suppressed it.

“Miss Jacobs is my favorite partner too. There’s no need for me to harm her.’

Byron gave him a deep stare but did not respond. Then, he turned and left with Chloe.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1686-Xander felt bitter as he watched the two leave.

“Childhood sweethearts? The Lincoln family? How could there be such a coincidence?” He frowned and muttered to himself.

He had no doubts about Byron’s affection for Rosalie, otherwise, he would not have accepted his request.

However, the timing of this woman’s appearance was too good to be true.

It was the coincidence that made him a little suspicious.

“Who is that Miss Lincoln just now? Go and find out everything about her.”

Xander pondered for a long time and finally chose to call his assistant.

He had to find out for himself before he could rest assured.

The assistant agreed and launched an overnight investigation on Chloe Lincoln.

In less than half an hour, the result was out.

“Mr. Lancer, I got it. As President Lawrence said, Chloe is indeed the daughter of the Lincoln family. The Lincoln family and the Lawrence family are family friends. A few years ago, the Lincolns chose to go abroad for development. Chloe went along abroad as well. I’m not sure why she came back two days ago.” The assistant respectfully reported his findings to Xander.

Xander listened carefully but heard nothing about this marriage. He frowned with dissatisfaction. “What about the marriage between both families? Didn’t the Lincoln family say anything about such a big matter?”

If he was not mistaken, if the daughter of any family married Byron Lawrence, they would be eager to announce it to the world.

'How could the Lincoln family have no news at all?'

This was also Xander's greatest doubt.

The assistant recalled the results of his investigation cautiously. 'As for the marriage of the two families, there was no response from the Lincoln family according to my investigation, as if...they were unaware of its existence.'

After that, Xander narrowed his eyes thoughtfully. "No response? Maybe they didn't know about it."

The reason they did not know about this matter could be because Byron and Chloe have not had time to inform them, or maybe this marriage was simply a cover!

The assistant was shocked at his boss' words.

'Why wasn't the family notified of such an important event like marriage?'

Xander pondered for a long time. At first, he was annoyed, but then his irritation turned into disdain. "Keep an eye on the Lincoln family."

The assistant was unsure what he meant but respectfully agreed. Then, he immediately went back to work.

Xander was the only one left in the living room.

As he thought about the results of his assistant's investigation just now, Xander's mouth twitched into a sneer.

'How interesting. The Lincoln family was unaware of this marriage.'

'Will the dignified President Lawrence be forced into a sham marriage? Or, did he agree with Chloe that the two were just married on paper?'

'If this is the case, I don't know what kind of drug was administered to the Lincoln family's precious daughter. With such a prominent family background, why would she agree to be someone else's fake wife?'

'Or, does Byron truly have that much charm?'

'It doesn't matter anyway.'

'Whether the marriage was genuine or not depends on the reaction of the Lincoln family. Sooner or later, everything would reveal itself.'

'If Byron dared to deceive me about this...'

Xander narrowed his eyes dangerously.

What he gave Byron was indeed the antidote that could save Rosalie.

However, that small bottle of medicine was not enough to eliminate all of the toxicity in Rosalie's body.

That was only one-fifth of the prescribed dose. At best, it might keep Rosalie awake for a short while.

If Byron was truly separated from Rosalie, as he claimed, he would give Rosalie the remaining antidote when the current antidote's effect wore off.

Byron, on the other hand, would still have to come to beg him if he dared to lie to him!
