

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1881

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1881-A busy week passed in the blink of an eye.

A golf course by the sea was chosen as the wedding venue, which was owned by Lawrence Corporation. The venue was spacious, green, and grassy. One could feel the sea breeze and watch the rolling waves. It was perfect.

Byron went to the rehearsal a few times in advance without Rosalie, which made her very curious about what would happen at the wedding.

‘Still, it must be romantic.’ She was full of anticipation.

Based on user experience and feedback suggestions, the third phase of Petal Talk Group’s products carried out a series of improvements. It has also begun to enter the production stage.

Rosalie rushed to the factory immediately and took samples for testing to ensure that the ratio of ingredients was correct.

At the same time, the product efficacy test was ongoing. Many female employees in the factory were buying it themselves. For 30% or 40% off, each person was limited to two sets per month.

In the research institute office.

Chloe met with Rosalie to discuss the distribution of franchise stores. At the same time, she also mentioned that she had found a few spokespeople. The fees were not expensive, almost a token of friendly support. In return, they just hoped to be given an early-bird opportunity to purchase new products that would be released in the future.

When Rosalie heard that it did not cost much but only needed an advance purchase term, she readily agreed.

‘Chloe is indeed a master of marketing,’ she thought to herself.

‘Chloe has been sincere with this partnership. I’ll let her distribute the profits from the third phase of the product.’

However, Rosalie did not notice the coldness that flashed from the corner of Chloe’s eyes.

'Sorry, Rosalie. I was forced to do so. I don't have any choice.' Chloe had already made up her mind.

The reason why these few A-list famous actresses were asked to assist with endorsement was so that they could blow things out of proportion once the screw-up happened.

'Til go to the factory to see if anyone needs help. Don't worry, I'll keep an eye on the whole thing to make sure the employees don't get overworked!"

After that, Chloe left the office.

On the way to the factory, she picked up her mobile phone and called Kelly.

"The production has already started. The vehicles will enter the factory tonight to pull the goods, and the goods will be delivered to all parts of the country in the next three days.

So, everything will be implemented according to the plan!" Chloe calmly explained the start of a terrifying conspiracy. Kelly was immediately overjoyed. "To be able to witness this wonderful moment, I'll come back from H Land tomorrow. I've already made arrangements for manpower. You just need to execute control!"

'Witness?*' Chloe sneered in her heart. 'She just wants to get a share of the pie when she returns.'

After arriving at the factory, Chloe saw two large trucks in front, which were already loaded and ready to drive away.

She immediately contacted the factory manager and mentioned that a reinspection would be carried out, so she asked the factory manager to stop the trucks.

The factory manager, Mr. Leeds, a man in his early 30s, previously worked in the research institute. It was later discovered that he had relatively strong management ability, so he was assigned to the factory by Rosalie.

"Miss Lincoln, why is this? Why was I not informed about the reinspection? These are already qualified products. Our quality inspection team audited them according to the standards." Mr. Leeds was very puzzled.

Chairwoman Jacobs trusted him completely. The products had already passed the quality inspection, and he had never heard of a second inspection.

"Yes, the previous two launches were indeed alright. This time, the situation is a bit special. It's an official rule set by the authorities. Don't worry, it's just a spot check. It won't be too long!"

Chloe had thought of an excuse a long time ago. She had to convince Mr. Leeds that this was reasonable enough so that Rosalie would not know about it.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1882

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1882-'Since this is the case, I won't say much. However, you have to give the truck drivers some compensation. After all, they exchange time for money. Delayed transportation is our problem.'

Mr. Leeds' work ethic was somewhat influenced by Rosalie. He would always be considerate of others.

Chloe smiled and nodded. "Don't worry, I know it even without your reminder. You just have to let these two trucks follow my car now. I'll compensate each truck driver 500 bucks."

Mr. Leeds nodded and went to communicate with the drivers.

Not long after, he turned back and reported, "There's no problem! What about the follow-up? Will it be like this for every truck?"

Chloe nodded. "Yes, each vehicle has to be inspected. And I have to assign each truck to its specific area. You don't have to worry about that!"

Mr. Leeds stopped talking and returned to the factory to continue working.

Afterward, Chloe drove her car and led two trucks to a newly built factory nearby, but the machinery and equipment had not been installed yet, so the factory was very spacious. When Chloe arrived, the personnel arranged by Kelly were already in place.

There were nearly a hundred people.

Everyone wore white quality inspection lab coats, which looked no different from the uniforms of Petal Talk Group's other factories.

However, these people held a needle in one hand and a glass bottle in the other, which was filled with an unknown liquid.

Chloe exited the car, greeted the two truck drivers, and brought them to give out the money.

“Hello, gentlemen. Unfortunately, you’re the first two trucks, so it may take longer to sample. How about this? What if I increase the compensation to 1,000 dollars? In addition, I’ll arrange for your accommodation and meals, and you’ll set off tomorrow morning. Is that okay?”

The offer presented extra cash, free food, and accommodation. The two drivers nodded immediately and agreed.

In the factory, the personnel arranged by Kelly started their work.

They unloaded the goods from the truck. Then, they unpacked the layers of packaging and injected some liquid into the essence and body lotions.

These liquids did not have any strong smell, and the quantity was minute, which would not cause any changes in the product at all.

Once it was done, they repackaged the products again.

Chloe even provided them with Petal Talk Group’s unique packaging machine so that the products were the same as the ones in the factory.

When they were done, Chloe went over to check and found that there was no trace at all. A smile appeared on the corner of her mouth.

“Two trucks will take about four or five hours if you speed up. So, hurry up!” Chloe gave an order, and the personnel nodded and moved quickly.

On this day, Chloe went to Mr. Leeds’ factory, intercepted 13 trucks, and brought them to the new factory for processing in the name of spot checks.

This was the entire production amount for the third product launch in one day. There would be a lot more tomorrow.

After all, other factories had also started production.

Chloe called Kelly and told her that there were not enough people. Kelly sneered triumphantly and vowed to send 300 people there tomorrow.

“How did you manage to find all these people?” Chloe was faintly worried that there would be future troubles.

“Don’t worry. Except for a dozen who are my staff, the others were found through formal recruitment channels. They joined once they heard the name Petal Talk Group.

Plus, with the uniforms you provided and the new address of the factory building, who'd believe that this is fake?"

They could have as many temporary workers as they wanted. The inexpensive labor costs were the key.

"Okay, let's do this for the next three or four days. After this, there'll be at least 100,000 sets of tampered products!"

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1883

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1883-These few days were, Chloe was uneasy and full of torment.

Fortunately, Rosalie was busy with her wedding, so that was somewhat of a distraction.

To be more secure, Chloe had to numb her senses.

Early the next morning, she deliberately went to the research institute and dragged Rosalie to attend an official meeting.

This meeting was lengthy and cumbersome. Many precautions for production safety were mentioned. It started at nine o'clock in the morning and ended at three o'clock in the afternoon.

After the meeting, Chloe also invited Rosalie to have afternoon tea together. It only ended when Rosalie said that she was going to try on wedding gowns.

On this day, 16 trucks and about 30,000 sets of products were tampered with.

In the evening, Rosalie returned to the villa.

Benedict and Melody accompanied the children upstairs. They were playing chess and solitaire as well as creating mobile app games.

Byron was in the living room, browsing through an architectural magazine.

"Honey, I've been thinking, our current villa is too small. I saw a manor-style villa recently, which is quite good. The villa just opened on the market. Come and see if you like it?"

Rosalie took a closer look, and the number in the quotation had many zeros.

She counted the zeros. It would cost more than one billion.

"Our home now is pretty big now. Our yard is the size of several basketball courts." Rosalie could not change her habit of being frugal, even when she had become extremely wealthy now.

"That won't work. What if we have a football team in the future? That's why this manor is a good fit. The size of the yard, the pavilions, the landscape, and the flowing streams are all good. This is a contemporary concept. Don't you like it?"

Byron took one look at his wife. It was obvious that she liked it very much.

"I love it. Of course, I do. You decide. I want the kids to have more activity space. Give them a skateboarding field and add a half-sized football field."

As soon as Rosalie finished speaking, Byron immediately picked up his mobile phone and called the developer.

"Hi, I'm Byron Lawrence. I've taken a fancy to one of your developments, the biggest one. Yes, place a booking for me!"

Byron just said one thing, but the person on the other end of the phone expressed their gratitude endlessly. Byron was on the phone for a long time as the other party kept making promises and various recommendations.

Finally, Byron said casually. "Alright, I got it. It's confirmed!"

Byron's tone was flat as he hung up the phone, similar to Rosalie's when she was buying tea.

This manor development had only five units in total. They were not easy to sell. After all, the price was too expensive.

However, if Byron bought one of the units, the rest would be sold out at once. After all, many people dreamed of being Byron Lawrence's neighbor.

Half an hour later, Rosalie did not expect the real estate developer to visit and bring along many people.

Coincidentally, Byron also had some requests to make, so he let them in.

As soon as the developer came in, he immediately offered a 30% discount. The discount cost hundreds of millions, which was also the first time Rosalie had seen anything like it.

"President Lawrence, I've brought the design team here. If you and your wife have any requests, just name them and we'll record them on the spot. We'll do it for you!"

“Okay, let’s all sit down. Make yourself comfortable!”

Byron began to make various requests and encouraged Rosalie to raise her ideas. The developer’s attitude was very sincere.

After a two-hour discussion, they finally settled on the general idea.

After the developer left, the couple looked at each other and smiled.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1884

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1884-Coast City International Airport.

Kelly slowly got off the plane. She held her passport that contained the details of a brand new identity and passed the immigration inspection.

This time, she could finally return to Coast City openly.

There was no trace of Wendy Fuller on her. Her biological parents would not recognize her even if they saw her.

Chloe came to pick her up. They went straight to the new factory when they got in the car.

Kelly looked at the busy personnel, who were injecting liquid into the products. The corners of her mouth were upturned, and she was overjoyed.

It was as if they were injecting venom into Rosalie’s body.

Soon, Rosalie would ‘die’!

“On the third day, a total of 80,000 sets were sent to more than 200 franchise stores in more than 30 major cities across the country. Tomorrow, the products will be sent to more than 100 franchise stores in medium-sized cities.”

Chloe reported the results calmly with no sadness or joy.

Kelly glanced at her, knowing that she was very unwilling. However, she had no way out.

“As soon as these products start selling, it’ll only take a day for problems to occur. At that time, so many cities will report problems all at once. Hahaha! Rosalie Jacobs, let’s see how you’ll solve it then!”

Chloe nodded. This scheme was indeed ruthless.

However, her cooperation was the most important thing. Otherwise, Kelly would have had no way to complete it.

She understood why she was being targeted by Kelly.

This was only because her identity was special.

She could partner with Rosalie from the start partly because she and Byron were childhood sweethearts, and the Lincolns had always been close to the Lawrences.

"Where's Rosalie? What is she doing now? Did you arrange for someone to check on her?" Kelly walked out of the new factory slowly. The smile on her face felt unnatural under the hyaluronic acid treatment.

"Yes, but there's no way to keep a close eye on her. I can only get a general idea of what's going on. After all, there are many bodyguards around Rosalie now."

Chloe suddenly raised her eyes to look at Kelly and asked, "The last time you caused Melody to get into a car accident, was it on purpose? Did you do that to make Byron think about Rosalie's safety and overlook other dangers?"

"Haha, I'm not that great of a strategist. That time, I just wanted you to see how far I would go. However, Byron would truly never expect our plan this time."

Kelly's heart was already indifferent toward Byron.

That man was too cruel and heartless. He did not give her the slightest chance, and she was finally forced to flee Coast City in a hurry.

She was in constant darkness in H Land. Every day, she was just a walking dead!

Now, retribution had come.

Since he cared so much about Rosalie, then Kelly would obliterate Rosalie.

At this moment, Rosalie and Byron walked out of a custom bridal boutique hand in hand.

This store had famous designers locally and abroad in their arsenal. Their price point was high, and an appointment was needed. However, Byron Lawrence did not require an appointment.

Even with such high standards, Rosalie still felt that something was lacking.

"I think it's better to let Estie design it. I believe in her ability. She made a version last time. Although it wasn't perfect, I still want her to try," Rosalie suggested.

Byron thought deeply for two seconds, then frowned. "Of course, we can do that, but there are only a few days left. I'm afraid it'll be too late. I'm also worried that Estie will neglect her health. You know how she can be."

Rosalie knew that the little girl's character was very similar to hers. She would not rest or sleep to do something she loved.

"We can monitor her and let her try. At the same time, I'll choose a spare set here. Then, we'll decide based on Estie's progress. How about that?"

In the end, Rosalie proposed a compromise, and Byron nodded in agreement.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1885

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1885-There were still eight days until the wedding.

Petal Talk Group's official website, the flagship store of major e-commerce platforms, announced that the third phase of products would be on sale soon.

On the promotional poster, the words '300,000 units' were particularly eye-catching. This number completely blew up the market.

In the second phase, Petal Talk's two products had completely spread from the first-tier cities to the third-tier cities.

Many consumers were looking forward to buying and trying the products to see whether they were as effective as others had said.

300,000 was a number that gave consumers a little more hope to obtain them.

Rosalie also heeded Chloe's suggestion to launch the products earlier this time. After all, two days later, an European luxury brand would launch a new product too.

This was a battle to conquer the market.

The industry even had good predictions that 300,000 sets of products would be sold out in less than three days.

There were too many franchise stores and online platforms added this time.

As long as this phase was successful, Petal Talk Group would be able to gain a firm foothold in the cosmeceutical industry.

The future was promising. The company's market value was predicted to be more than 40 billion.

Chloe even received a call from a big investor who wanted to buy 10% of the shares for five billion.

However, Chloe dared not accept it. After all, she knew very well that in a few days, everything would be turned upside down.

In the morning, at ten o'clock sharp, Rosalie watched the countdown on the online platform in her office.

'Purchasing is on!'

In an instant, 30,000 sets on ShopEast were gone in the blink of an eye.

On TreasureTrove, the same 30,000 sets were gone in 30 seconds.

There were more than 300 franchise stores countrywide, and the volume ranged from 100 to 500 sets on the first day.

All platforms saw a large number of consumers queuing. As soon as the doors opened, the crowd rushed into the store.

In Petal Talk's flagship store in Coast City, there was a whopping 500 to 600 customers. The enthusiasm was simply staggering.

Chloe was at the scene watching this unfold and felt extremely uneasy.

She had to complete her act. She took a video of the scene and sent it to Rosalie.

At the same time, she received calls from various franchise stores trying to order more goods.

"Rosalie, I told you, 300,000 sets are not enough for sale!" Chloe sent a voice note.

Rosalie was also amazed after watching the video.

It turned out that good products would be sold out so quickly.

Indeed, 300,000 sets would not last for three days looking at the situation.

In the future, they might have to expand their production capacity!

Rosalie did not expect that everything would go so smoothly.

Linda explained from the side, “Dr. Jacobs, this is the era of social media. Many users will show off the effect after using the product. Many famous beauty influencers will give reviews, which will increase the effect of word-of-mouth thousands of times faster than before!”

Rosalie nodded in admission.

‘Of course, Miss Lincoln must have done some publicity. She’s always been a master of product management!’

Rosalie agreed with Linda’s appraisal of Chloe.

She felt rather lucky that she had agreed to Chloe’s business plan.

A total of 100,000 sets were available on the online platform, and even a few thousand sets on small platforms were sold out quickly after 15 minutes.

These small platforms never expected to experience a site visit traffic explosion close to tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands.

Originally, they just purchased a few thousand sets to test it out, but in the end, they made a profit.

On that day, the results were outstanding.

Petal Talk Group’s official website published a report, where its online and offline comprehensive sales broke through 160,000 sets!

The total sales were as high as 400 million!

That night, several foreign cosmetics companies held an emergency meeting all night to discuss countermeasures.

On this day, Petal Talk Group began to catch the attention of many international investors.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1886

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1886-Rosalie returned to the villa in the evening.

As soon as she entered the door, there were suddenly popping sounds, and colorful confetti rained down on her.

Immediately afterward, the three kids pulled open a red banner and walked toward her with smiles.

On the banner read: 'Congratulations on a 50 billion raise in market value, Mommy!'

Before Rosalie could react, Melody and Benedict walked up to her. Melody handed over a bouquet, while Benedict stepped forward and shook her hands warmly.

Byron was standing upright with a glass of champagne in both hands. He handed one to Rosalie.

"Congratulations, honey! This is our small celebration party for you! Come, let's cheer to this!"

Byron picked up the glass and clinked it with the one in Rosalie's hand, making a crisp sound.

"Hurry up, let's take a photo to commemorate. Rosalie, stand in front of the banner. Byron, stand next to Rosalie. Kids, say cheese!"

With an order, Benedict took out a professional-looking camera and hurriedly wanted to capture this warm moment.

The children were bouncing around for a while with various goofy expressions.

Rosalie took a sip of champagne. It was indeed fragrant.

After the pictures, Melody immediately claimed credit." Come into the kitchen. Today, I cooked a total of 12 dishes to celebrate Rosalie's Petal Talk Group reaching a market value of 50 billion!"

The family happily had dinner.

Not long after, Andrius and Mary arrived, presenting gifts to her.

Mary gave her an expensive pen and asked Rosalie to practice her signature more in the future. After all, she would attend many signing meetings in the future.

She was still muttering, "It took me a lot of effort to prepare your wedding gift, but I had to prepare a celebration gift too.

I hope you don't mind it. I'm at wit's end on what else I could give you!"

Rosalie nodded with a smile. "Of course not. We'll be in the same situation soon. In the future, you'll be engaged, you'll get married, you'll have a child, and you'll celebrate your child's first birthday... How could there be any less?"

"That's true! However, the catch is that I have to find a marriage partner first," Mary secretly glanced at Andrius as she said that.

Byron and Rosalie immediately whipped their heads and looked over.

Andrius was stunned for a moment and quickly took out his gift, thinking that everyone was waiting to see what he brought.

"Sister-in-law, I wasn't prepared enough this time, so I could only get this." He slowly pulled out a piece of paper from the folder.

Then, he presented it for all to see.

Everyone was stunned on the spot.

The certificate read, 'Guinness World Records.'

"Congratulations, Sister-in-law. You've won the Guinness World Record. Your Petal Talk Group is the fastest company in history to reach a market value of 50 billion dollars. It took less than 40 days!" Andrius said with a serious face.

Immediately, Byron looked at this guy with admiration.

This congratulatory gift was ingenious.

Although he clearly knew that some world records were nonsensical and they belonged to those who were willing to try anything to obtain a certificate, Andrius was somewhat capable to make a copy in such a short time.

Rosalie was pleasantly surprised. "I never expected to be number one in the world. How interesting, really interesting!"

On the side, Mary rolled her eyes. 'Only Andrius can think of such a strange gift. Sure enough, it's the idea of a straight-laced, rational man!'

Melody and Benedict immediately took the lead in clapping. "Congratulations, Rosalie! For making the Guinness Book of World Records!"

Immediately afterward, the children applauded loudly." Mommy's awesome! Mommy, you're the number one mommy in the world!"

Andrius and Mary also applauded quickly. Mary even shouted, "Women are the most beautiful when strong!"

Byron smiled, then raised his hands and clapped vigorously. Rosalie was being flattered left to right.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1887

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1887-Rosalie drank too much that night.

Byron carried her into the room like a princess.

She struggled for a bit, shouting that she had not showered yet. It was uncertain if she was conscious, but she stripped off her clothes and hobbled into the bathroom by herself.

Byron was worried that she would fall, so he went in to check.

As a result, Rosalie entangled herself around him like an octopus. Her gaze went blurry for a while, then it turned into the gaze of a hunter.

Byron was almost overwhelmed but immediately reciprocated her advances.

When Rosalie woke up the next day, she felt a throbbing in her temples, and her body seemed to be falling apart.

'Did I get blackout drunk last night?

'In the end, I managed to get back to my room. But how did I take a shower?'

She thought hard. Byron had already brought a cup of warm milk over, and he had an incomprehensible smile on the corner of his mouth.

Although Byron had already had a taste, the experience last night left him unsatisfied.

He never expected his wife to be so assertive.

When Rosalie caught his little smirk, she got up to wash up and drank the milk.

She still felt sleepy, so she had to call Linda to inform her that she would not be going to the institute today.

She slept until the afternoon before waking up.

Her brain was completely refreshed, and she checked her phone. Linda sent a lot of messages.

[One of the largest agents in Europe is ready to discuss a partnership with us to bring Petal Talk's products into Europe!]

[As of 2 pm, more than 70,000 sets have been sold today, and our production is far from sufficient!]

[A huge corporation from H Land intends to discuss strategic cooperation with us. Miss Lincoln asked for your opinion!]

All kinds of good news about Petal Talk Group emerged.

Rosalie smiled knowingly and asked Linda to convey the message to Mr. Loewe. The institute would conduct internal discussions first, then discuss with Chloe's marketing department.

When she went downstairs, it was strangely quiet because the kids had not finished school yet.

Byron asked the chef to start cooking right away and prepare something light for his wife just to line her stomach first.

Does your head still hurt? You shouldn't go to work today. Everything is going well anyway! I'll keep an eye on things for you."

Rosalie could never get enough of Byron's smile.

She would gradually relax and calm down whenever she saw him smile.

After eating, Byron ground some coffee beans and brewed a cup for Rosalie.

Rosalie's mind perked up after the coffee. Then, the two went to the kindergarten to pick up the kids.

Alas, the principal requested for them to stay for a chat.

The couple thought that their kids had gotten into trouble.

“No, no, Mr. Lawrence and Ms. Jacobs. Don’t get me wrong. The three children are very well-behaved and don’t cause any trouble,” the principal hurriedly explained.

Immediately, he paused for a few seconds as if to muster up his courage. “I’m a little embarrassed to say this, mainly because the three children are outstanding. They’re excellent in all aspects, so there’s no need for kindergartenlevel education. I suggest that they enroll directly in primary school. However, that would probably not be necessary. The knowledge they have mastered is too advanced.”

Rosalie and Byron immediately looked at each other.

Indeed, this was also a problem.

“In addition, I hope you’ll understand that your three children are so outstanding that other parents are under great pressure. They’d compare their children to yours, causing the other kids a mental imbalance. In this way, the other children’s growth will be stumped.”

The principal knew very well that this was not the three kids’ fault. However, many parents had indeed begun to cause excessive stimulation to their children.

After the principal explained the problem clearly, both Byron and Rosalie expressed their understanding.

Finally, the husband and wife discussed, nodded, and agreed to give up on their kids’ kindergarten education.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1888

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1888-After taking the kids home, the couple quickly called Benedict and Melody to discuss the children’s future education.

“In this case, there’s no need for them to attend primary school. We should just send them directly to art academies. There are also cultural courses and interest development courses.”

Benedict made the final decision and determined the kids’ development path.

There are indeed quite a few art academies. Although I do feel that the children’s horizontal knowledge is good, their vertical knowledge is not deep enough, especially regarding our country’s 5,000 years of history. So, the priority is to choose a school that focuses on cultural and historical teaching.”

Byron added some points, and the whole family agreed unanimously.

Then, the adults disclosed the decision to the three little kids, and they all agreed wholeheartedly.

“Daddy, I often play chess with Grandpa. I learned about knights and bishops, as well as the rivers and the towers. Then I found out the interesting deeds of old scholars and war generals. History is really interesting and magnificent. I’ll focus on this area of study in the future!” Lucian nodded and found another interest in his learning development.

Nox nodded fiercely. “Daddy, I like the archaeological site of King Tut very much. There are so many interesting cultural relics unearthed. It’s really hard for me to imagine that this could be done thousands of years ago. I want to learn about cultural relics!”

Estie raised her little hand high. She anxiously spoke,” Daddy, the ancient costumes of our country are really beautiful! I want to learn more about traditional clothes and all the beautiful decorations. I want to learn history well, just like my two brothers.”

The adults could not help but smile from ear to ear upon hearing the little kids’ grand speeches.

No one could determine what the future held from all the things that the kids were interested in.

Perhaps Lucian would be a historian and not a doctor.

Perhaps instead of a computer engineer, Nox would be an archaeologist.

Perhaps Estie would not only be a fashion designer but also a cultural ambassador of traditional clothes.

In hindsight, it was the principal’s dissuasion that brought the kids back on the right track in their development.

Later, Petal Talk Group announced the results as usual. The sales volume today was 110,000 sets.

The output of 300,000 sets was almost gone in the blink of an eye. There were only slightly more than 20,000 sets left on the third day.

All franchise stores were fighting over the final share.

Rosalie called Chloe, hoping that she would distribute shares according to the service quality of the franchise stores. The supply volume would be reduced if the service quality was lacking. This would ensure that the franchise stores standardized quality and established a good brand image.

In the CEO's office of the office building.

Chloe echoed Rosalie's suggestion and hung up the phone, but her expression turned silent immediately.

At this moment, she only felt a sense of emptiness.

A product with such great momentum and a company with such rapid development was 'poisoned' by her own hands.

'Tomorrow! Tomorrow is the beginning of the end!'

If nothing went awry, as the person in charge of technology development, Rosalie and the entire research institute team would be sent to jail!

This was the final ending that Kelly had planned from the start.

Rosalie could never disappear, but as long as she was sent to prison, it would be worse than death.

Burying a company worth 50 billion dollars would be considered a high achievement just to take revenge on Rosalie!

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1889

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1889-On the third day, the third phase of Petal Talk products was all sold out.

On the official website, a new product notice was released at the same time as the sales report. It was the Flower Seal Series Brightening Cream.

The product had adopted a pre-order strategy, priced at 140 dollars with a limit of 100,000 sets.

With the reputation of the previous two products established, many people registered on the official website and placed orders quickly.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Chloe was in the office conference room, listening to the executives reporting the results. However, her expression was flat.

The executives were very excited. They could not figure out why Director Lincoln was so unmoved.

She was even a little cold.

She seemed to have no interest in this unexpected result at all.

Chloe was indeed uninterested, but she was also anxious.' Why aren't there any consumer rights incidents even after so long?'

She got up early at seven o'clock in the morning. She waited for so long just for public opinion to explode and expose the issues with Petal Talk Group's products.

No matter how many times she tried to refresh the internet browser, she did not see any reports.

'Impossible! There are a total of 100,000 sets. How can there not be a single report?

'Kelly said that as long as that liquid is added, even a little bit of it would cause severe skin allergies and ulceration. Traces of poison can be discovered once the product goes through a test.

'And as long as this case is classified as poisoning, public opinion will take down Petal Talk Group. It'll be useless no matter how they try to salvage it. The key is that some consumers will start to call the police to defend their rights. The R&D team led by Rosalie will be thoroughly investigated. As the core figure, Rosalie will be detained.'

Chloe's heart was in a state of confusion. Multiple speculations crossed her mind.

"Could it be that the liquid Kelly gave didn't work? Did it not affect the products at all?"

Chloe wanted so badly to ask Kelly what went wrong.

However, she called three times today, and Kelly's mobile phone could not be reached.

She became more and more anxious.

Chloe nodded after listening to the executives' report, adjourned the meeting, and hurried back to her office.

Immediately, she called Kelly's cell phone again.

She still could not get through.

"Damn it. What's going on? 100,000 sets! How can none of it be problematic? It's impossible, absolutely impossible!

Could the plan have been intercepted by Byron? That's impossible too. Anyone can say anything, and everyone can post a video. It's impossible to be able to block all of it!"

Chloe could no longer maintain her composure. After much deliberation, she decided to test the waters with Rosalie.

She called on the pretext of reporting the company's performance.

"Chloe, I saw your new product release, and the video is great! You're really a master of operations. In the beginning, I never expected that Petal Talk Group would have today's achievements. I think the share ratio that was proposed before was a little unreasonable. Let's talk about it later. You should get more!"

To Chloe's surprise, Rosalie was willing to be lenient about the shares.

This meant that she wanted to give her a little more shares.

However, Chloe was not concerned with such issues at all right now. From Rosalie's reaction, there was nothing amiss.

After Chloe hung up the phone, she could not sit still anymore and left the office immediately. She planned to find Kelly at the hotel.

'I wonder if she's still in that hotel?

'Has Kelly been playing with me the whole time? Is her goal to destroy the Lincolns?'

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1890

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1890-Chloe was a VIP member of this five-star hotel. When the franchises came for negotiation, she always booked this hotel for them.

Therefore, the receptionist was very familiar with her. She asked if Ms. Payton was still there, and the receptionist nodded to show that she was.

The room number should still be the same. Chloe did not ask more and took the elevator directly upstairs.

When she reached the 28th floor, her footsteps were swift like the wind as she arrived at Room 2808. Chloe rang the doorbell.

The door opened slowly.

A face appeared, which made Chloe dumbfounded. Her face froze immediately.

No, to be precise, it felt as if every drop of blood in her had frozen.

She could not say anything at all to this face. There seemed to be a boulder that weighed a thousand pounds in her mouth, and she could not open it no matter what.

It was Byron!

Countless thoughts struck Chloe's head like lightning.

Her head imploded.

'What happened? How could Byron be here? Are Byron and Kelly having an affair?

'No, that's impossible!

'Byron's affection for Rosalie is so deep that even a fool can see it.

'Did he capture Kelly?

'Has Kelly leaked all the plans?'

With the astonishment on Chloe's face and the panic in her eyes, Byron saw it all.

He just nodded lightly with some doubts remaining. He squinted his eyes and said, "So, it's you!"

In an instant, Chloe's pupils dilated. She felt like she was about to collapse.

She subconsciously shook her head slightly. Her lips twitched as she tried to open her mouth to explain, but nothing came out.

"It seems that it's indeed you!"

There was incomparable disappointment in the depths of Byron's eyes. He opened the door, turned, and walked in.

"Come in, then. Explain clearly!"

At this moment, Chloe's heart was stabbed by countless knives. Endless regret and remorse poured out.

She had never seen Byron look at her like that.

Those eyes seemed like a silent declaration. Those many years as childhood sweethearts, their friendship from adolescence to their teens, and everything that the two of them had had disappeared at this moment.

Previously, she was so sure that no matter who it was, she would not waver.

Now, she instantly collapsed like a wave hitting a sandcastle.

Only then did she realize that she had always cared a lot about Byron.

Tears flowed out silently. She knew that everything was over.

For her, the worst outcome had happened.

“Don’t worry, Kelly has already escaped. Also, I figured out how all this happened.” In the room, Byron’s tone was without a trace of emotion.

Chloe felt like her soul had left her. She was just an empty shell now. She did not know how to walk in or face Byron.

Byron sat on the sofa, leaned forward slightly, and folded his hands in front of him. He was in a state of contemplation.

“So, it was you who secretly cooperated with Kelly to realize this plan. You two secretly added harmful substances to the products. What was your purpose?” He gave Chloe a sideways glance.

Chloe was crying and in tears, but he showed no reaction to it.

Chloe had no courage to answer his question.

She had predicted the worst possibility.

However, she never thought that she would have to face Byron alone in the end.

No wonder Byron would have doubts.

The development of the entire Petal Talk Group was in her own best interest. In the end, she was the one who destroyed everything.