

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1891

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1891-Upon her silence, Byron fell silent too.

In the end, Chloe stopped crying. She did not want Byron to think that she was crying for mercy.

She admitted.

She should have been aware when she came into contact with Kelly from the start.

'If I had chosen to expose Kelly as Wendy and alerted Byron to it, maybe everything would have developed in a different direction.

'Right now, it's too late.'

She was just puzzled. 'Why would Byron appear in Kelly's room?

'Or, how did Byron find out?

'How did everything change?'

After all, the potion containing harmful substances has been added to 100,000 sets of products. This process cost Chloe a lot of effort and time.

"When did you find out? I want to know, how did you do it and restore all the products?"

When death was imminent, Chloe might as well die with clarity.

"Chloe, have you thought about the consequences of doing this? Have you thought about it? So, your target is Rosalie? Did you want to destroy Rosalie? Was this project planned from the very beginning?"

Byron did not answer but asked a bunch of questions instead.

His tone was as indifferent as if he was just a stranger.

Chloe gave up. Her image in Byron's heart was ruined completely now.

So, might as well be upfront and admit everything.

"Yes, I have thought about the consequences of the matter. Rosalie is the target! I just want to destroy her. In fact, Byron, I really want to know...What do you think of me after all these years? Have you ever had any affection for me? Not at all?"

Byron frowned deeply.

A raging hostility burst out from his face.

His eyes were cold as he glanced at Chloe.

Those eyes, like thousands of arrows, pierced and ripped Chloe's heart to shreds.

The corners of her mouth were weighed down by a strong bitterness.

"Chloe, I already investigated everything about Wendy in H Land. Initially, I thought that she would be able to restart again after transforming into Kelly Payton. However, she still wanted to take revenge on Rosalie. So, from the moment she entered the country, I have sent people to watch her. I never expected that the person who assisted her was you!"

Byron directly avoided Chloe's question.

He no longer had the patience for such a question.

His former childhood sweetheart, parents were close-knit friends for 20 to 30 years. He even gave up the partnership opportunity to Chloe and did not even consider Andrius as a priority.

Did she think that Andrius could not achieve everything she had done?

Sadly, it turned out that Chloe wanted to put his wife in prison!

No matter how good a relationship is, it cannot withstand such destruction.

"You listen carefully, just give up completely. You and I have always been brothers and sisters. I have always regarded you as my closest sister since I was a child. I have no brothers or sisters, but you and Andrius are the best siblings I have. But you, you should have understood! You want to harm my wife instead. Have you never thought about those three children's future? Have you even considered what your parents might think?"

Finally, Byron could not contain the anger in his heart and cursed out through gritted teeth.

This was probably the first time in his life that he expressed his emotions so fiercely.

He suddenly stood up and walked in front of Chloe. His eyes were full of anger.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1892

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1892-Chloe's face turned ashen.

She had never seen Byron express his anger so bluntly.

For so many years, he had long been unable to express his emotions.

Even when he hurriedly took over the Lawrence Corporation's business, he always restrained his emotions no matter how many problems he faced.

Chloe felt choked in her throat, and she could hardly breathe. A heavy sense of grief hit her heart.

Immediately afterward, the tears that had stopped suddenly poured out non-stop.

Byron used to protect her well. Whenever she was harassed by other students at school, Byron would always show up.

In the past, Byron would carefully prepare gifts and give them to her.

Especially on her coming-of-age ceremony, Byron even gave her a cool little sports car.

At that time, she always felt that it was just a courteous exchange between family and friends.

In hindsight, it turned out that he looked up to her that way.

Less than love, but far more than friendship. She did not even realize that she could be his sister.

In an instant, Chloe felt that all the strength she had was gone. Her body went limp as she was about to collapse and fall.

In the end, Byron grabbed onto her right hand.

"You have to face it, don't try to escape!" He pulled her to the sofa and sat her down heavily.

The coldness in Byron's eyes did not dissipate, nor did he waver in any way.

In his heart, Rosalie was his nearest and dearest. He would never forgive those who dared to hurt her, no matter who it was.

"I knew it from the time you started to modify the goods. The reason is very simple. Although the new factory has not yet officially started operation, the transportation company where the drivers' work is under the Quirke Enterprise management! Although it is only a small company, we have always been in control for smooth logistics."

When the two trucks were delayed for no reason that night, Andrius consulted the drivers out of concern for the Petal Talk Group product layout.

They found the general process very strange.

So, after discussing with Byron the next day, he immediately chased after the truck. All products were immediately recalled.

On the second day, Kelly and Chloe still thought that everything was perfect. Byron had thoroughly started to trace the whole process.

However, the speed was too fast. In three or four days, 100,000 sets of products were added with harmful substances.

All the packaging was similar.

Byron could not differentiate the goods at all.

So, he gave the order to stop all the trucks that had been to the new factory and stored all the products tainted with harmful substances in one warehouse.

He did not want his wife to worry, so he asked for his wife's consent in the name of his intention to export.

Then, he got Mr. Leeds and other factory managers to bring the newly recruited personnel to the temporary factory that Andrius had found and continued to work overtime to produce 100,000 sets of brand-new products.

These 100,000 sets would replace the 100,000 sets that were contaminated.

His greatest fear was traitors around his wife.

Therefore, in the beginning, Byron was busy investigating the technicians in the research institute, carefully looking for suspicious targets.

He never expected that it was Chloe who cooperated with Kelly.

Byron tracked down Kelly's address last night.

He asked Luther to rush to the hotel with a few bodyguards.

He planned on keeping Kelly under control and questioning her again.

Unexpectedly, there were many professional bodyguards around Kelly. They were highly skilled. When they sensed something was wrong, they immediately escorted Kelly for transfer.

So, he could not get her.

However, Kelly fled in a hurry and left her phone behind.

Her call records were all a number without a name.

This was a new number that Chloe used to contact Kelly.

Originally, Byron wanted to call and track the person's location.

Just this morning, Chloe started calling non-stop. Byron deliberately did not answer at that time, for fear of alerting the other party.

Then, he came to the hotel and waited around three or four hours. Patiently.

He was waiting for the person who cooperated with Kelly to come to him of their own volition.

He was certain the collaborators must be anxious because Kelly's conspiracy did not come true.

In the end, the moment the doorbell rang, he had waited for a person he did not want to see at all.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1893

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1893—"Your plan had so many loopholes. Kelly even dared to recruit a temporary worker in Petal Talk Group's name.

That's just stupid!"

Byron's eyes were as cold as glaciers, but deep down he was slightly horrified.

Although this conspiracy was full of loopholes, the focus was speed.

If 100,000 sets of goods were to enter the market, it would be meaningless to find out who the culprit was later.

The collapse of public opinion was difficult to salvage. By then, even if Petal Talk Group spent a hundred times more effort on clarification, public distrust would never be eliminated.

As the person in charge of technology, Rosalie would be ruined if such a scandal occurs.

"I expected this day would come a long time ago." Chloe stopped crying again.

Nothing is more wretched than apathy.

Right now, she no longer knew how to face Byron, Rosalie, and her parents.

An eerie calmness like stagnant water appeared on her face.

She stared at Byron. 'I just want to take one more look and imprint his face in my mind.'

Byron, I hope my parents and the entire Lincoln family would not be affected by this matter. I will take responsibility!"

As soon as the words fell, Byron suddenly noticed that there was something wrong with her tone.

By the time he turned to look at Chloe, she had rushed out of the room swiftly.

'What is she going to do?'

Terrible speculation flashed through Byron's mind, and he immediately chased after her.

However, he greatly underestimated Chloe's determination.

The determination to die.

She no longer knew how to face it anymore. In Byron's mind, all the good things were gone.

'Byron must hate me, right?'

Bitterness swept through her body, reaching every pore.

At this moment, she had only one thought, to leave this impossible world.

She rushed into the elevator, quickly closed it, and went straight to the top floor.

“Chloe, stop!” Byron’s speed was already fast.

However, the timing was so coincidental. The elevator arrived and opened when Chloe reached it.

Byron just watched the elevator go up continuously.

He kept pressing the buttons, hoping that another elevator would arrive soon.

The gap between them was less than fifteen seconds.

When Byron reached the top floor, Chloe had already stood above the fence.

She was only one step away from plummeting 300 meters below.

She was sentimentally attached, hoping that Byron would catch up.

Her heart was suddenly at ease seeing that he came after her. A slight smile appeared on the corner of her mouth.

Byron, stay away! I’ve wronged you, and I’ve wronged Rosalie. She is a perfect woman, and I could never compare to her.”

‘Come down quick! Do you think this means taking responsibility? I won’t make you go to jail, but you must face your mistakes. You are just escaping like this! Did you think dying will solve everything?’

Byron narrowed his eyes, stared fiercely, and approached step by step.

He tried to think of some words that could calm Chloe down.

However, he could not get rid of the anger inside.

After five or six steps, Chloe kept shaking her head and smiled bitterly. “Byron, I understand everything you said. I...I now completely understand how you feel about me. It’s a pity, I can no longer be your sister.”

“I just hope that everything would end this way. I don’t want to be your sister. I have always been in love with you. Kelly did threaten me, and I had the opportunity to choose, but I was obsessed.”

Suddenly, Byron did not know how to respond.

He paused, with a complex expression on his face.

He more or less knew how Chloe felt.

However, his whole heart had been on Rosalie many years ago.

Yes, much earlier, way before they first got married.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1894

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1894-Byron, can I see Rosalie? I want to apologize to her! If I can't do it today, I may never have the chance!"

Chloe had already said what she wanted to express.

On the verge of death, she thought about the guilt and regret she would still have in this life.

In the end, she felt that she had to face Rosalie at least once.

'I've lost to her. In any comparison, I've lost.'

Byron frowned and finally nodded in agreement.

He called Rosalie to tell her Chloe wanted to see her for the last time. He mentioned that Chloe wanted to end her life by jumping off the building.

Rosalie was stumped. At this time, in the office of the research institute.

She even felt like her husband was joking with her.

The third phase of the product launch made a lot of money. The future of the Petal Talk Group had immense potential.

Why would CEO Chloe want to end her life at this time?

Rosalie was not heartless either. All she could think about was matters of the heart.

Indeed, her husband was with Chloe, while Chloe talked about ending her life. All of this felt strange.

She planned to drive there herself, but Byron immediately called again.

' Please ask Linda to drive you here. I have to tell you everything on the way!"

Rosalie agreed.

Linda drove. Rosalie sat in the back seat and quietly listened to Byron's explanation of Kelly's plot.

There was a shock on her face after.

During the three days filled with joyous celebration, she never expected there were treacherous plots and thrilling rescues under all that calmness.

She was terrified. Thank goodness for Byron being so careful, that he had sensed that something was wrong and responded decisively.

Otherwise, Petal Talk Group would be finished, along with the research institute as well.

She would inevitably be imprisoned too.

Obviously, in another week, it would be her most important day.

Therefore, Chloe deliberately wanted her to go to jail before the wedding.

Her heart instantly calmed down and even turned a little cold.

'She wanted to die? Is it so?

'Or is she just using such a bitter trick to win Byron's sympathy and escape this catastrophe?'

Rosalie immediately lost all sympathy for Chloe.

The other party wanted to put her in a desperate situation.

If she truly went to jail, what would happen to the three little kids?

Rosalie raised her head and looked towards the top of the building as she arrived at the office downstairs.

Her face was very calm, and her steps were not too fast or slow. She just wanted to see what else Chloe had in mind.

Chloe sat down slowly while waiting for Rosalie's arrival. Her legs were facing outwards as if determined without fear of death.

At this moment, her mind was empty. She did not know what to think.

Her mind started to wander. A strange idea suddenly popped up.

'After a person dies, is there really a River of the Underworld, a Rainbow Bridge, or Soup of Oblivion?

'Can I really forget everything after drinking the Soup of Oblivion?'

She did not want to forget about Byron. She even wished that if she could reincarnate, Byron would fall in love with her in her next life.

Chloe turned her head and took a deep look at Byron.

After he had finished speaking to Rosalie on the phone, he remained silent, just tapping away on his phone.

Finally, with a ding, the elevator that Rosalie took arrived at the highest floor.

A dozen steps more and one would reach the rooftop.

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1895

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1895-"Go ahead and jump, Chloe Lincoln! If you think you can be freed this way."

Rosalie walked up to the rooftop and saw her husband just sitting there with a calm expression on his face. She felt a lot more at ease inexplicably.

She believed that Chloe's bitter tricks could no longer trigger more of her husband's sympathy.

Chloe's eyes averted when she first saw Rosalie approaching.

Afterward, Rosalie's words made her freeze.

She thought that Rosalie would persuade her to give up suicide, but she never expected Rosalie's eyes to be just cold.

'TH jump, Rosalie, don't you worry! I just want to say sorry to you before I die. I have always been jealous of you. I have never been able to face the fact that you and Byron are together for good.'

Chloe had a wry smile on his lips.

"You can save those niceties. You could say you're sorry, but I could also choose not to forgive. Yes, I don't want to forgive you at all. During our partnership at Petal Talk Group, you have every chance to stop everything. You could even expose Kelly Payton's threat, but you didn't!"

Rosalie walked to Byron's side. Her husband did not stop her from speaking but just held her hand.

This was like a slap to Chloe's face.

A scene filled with sarcasm.

This husband and wife had to prove themselves to her even as she was dying.

She could not think of a response to Rosalie.

As Rosalie said, she originally had a chance. However, she was blinded by her obsession in the end.

"Chloe, I don't even know why you called me here. If you wanted to die, you could do it peacefully. Don't put any more pressure on me and Byron. Understand?"

Dramatic grand gestures after the misdeeds were exposed were something Rosalie never believed in.

She just did not want Byron's conscience to be held ransom. All this seemed that Byron was the reason that drove Chloe to suicide.

"Rosalie, I..."

Chloe was completely shattered looking at how calm Byron was. She could not bear Rosalie's soul-crushing confrontation at all.

"Alright then, Chloe. You've apologized and I heard it too. Now, Byron and I are leaving. If you want to jump, could you make the choice later?"

Just as Rosalie finished speaking, she turned to look at her husband.

Byron gave her an affirmative look. Immediately, the two turned around and were about to leave hand in hand.

Chloe's faith completely collapsed.

What Rosalie said was correct. She was selfish. She was not afraid of death but wanted to use her death to leave something in Byron's heart.

However, even that was not possible now.

Whether she lived or not, would not arouse any emotions from Byron.

There are mixed feelings in her heart. She kept ruminating about those times when she and Byron were childhood sweethearts.

‘Everything is ruined! Never again.

‘Even after death, there is no escape.’

Chloe was bewildered as the couple left the rooftop without turning back.

Rosalie and Byron walked into the elevator and went down quickly.

For them, their future happiness was the most important thing.

Chloe’s mistake was her choice.

Byron, thank goodness you found out in time. Otherwise, Petal Talk Group and I would have been completely destroyed! I have also learned my lesson. I must have a better judgment of character in the future. I will be more serious and take control of every process.”

After getting into Byron’s car, Rosalie could not help but sigh.

“Stop, you are already tired enough. What else do you want to control? They’ve just taken advantage of some loopholes this time. I don’t want you to be even more workaholic than me in the future.”

Byron gently stroked his little woman’s head, with a look of deep affection on his face.