

Read My Ex-Wife And Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball

Chapter 1899

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 1899-Lucas had disappeared for more than half a year. After Estie's condition improved, he was happily galivanting around the world.

He had been in touch with Byron intermittently and sent different pictures of beautiful scenery from time to time.

He was in Africa for a while, then he was in Australia. He mentioned that he was studying the objective laws of human psychological evolution.

Indeed, it was very professional research, and even took the opportunity to publish a lot of papers.

However, only Byron knew that this guy just wanted to laze around and did not want to take on the burden of the Montgomery legacy.

The Montgomery family's business in the southwest was considerable, dealing in tea, coffee, wood, dry goods and the like.

The foreign trade partnership with Lawrence Corporation has begun, especially in the past few years, and the business volume has exploded.

However, Lucas was happy just to be a carefree psychiatrist, wandering the mountains and rivers every day, and traveling all over the place.

When Rosalie heard his name, she immediately nodded in agreement.

This was almost a no-brainer. There were no mistakes as long as the candidate is her husband's recommendation.

"It just so happens that he would be back to attend our wedding. So when the time comes, we'll lock him down firmly. Let him manage the Petal Talk Group for you."

He reminisced about Andrius and Lucas. Their current lives seemed to have swapped.

A long, long time ago, when Byron went to school with them, Lucas was a meticulous machine for solving problems. He lived carefully and was a top-notch achiever in all kinds of subjects.

On the contrary, Andrius had always been very carefree. He enjoyed all kinds of sports with little interest in studying.

Then, the two made different choices when faced with family responsibilities.

As a result, their personality and life changed drastically.

“However, he doesn’t even want to take care of his own family’s business. How can you be sure that he would be willing to take over Petal Talk Group?”

After Rosalie listened to Byron’s detailed introduction to Lucas, she could not help feeling a little puzzled.

“I believe he will agree because he covets your medical skills. As long as you agree to teach him some medical principles.”

Rosalie had nothing to disagree with.

Every doctor would be happy to see their medical skills continue and flourish.

After confirming the candidate, Rosalie, and Byron went to the wedding venue to make some plans.

.....

Mary was busy in the hospital office.

The doorbell rang, and she called for a visitor to enter.

A smile appeared on her face when Andrius appeared.

“Mr. Quirke, are you having another gastric episode?” She asked in a relaxed tone.

After the last re-examination, Andrius’ stomach problems improved greatly. The erosion in the intestinal linings had healed, so it should not be a big problem.

Andrius shook his head, pointed to the position of his heart, and replied bluntly. "Mary, I feel that something is wrong here."

This startled Mary as she stood up all at once.

"Heart problem? No way. Last time I checked, your heart rate and blood pressure are fine. There was no problem including the heart and blood vessels."

Mary was very stressed about this. After all, her mother narrowly escaped from a heart problem.

Andrius shook his head again, and finally went straight to the desk and sat down.

"Mary, you should sit down. I want to have a good talk with you."

Seeing Andrius' calm expression, Mary nodded and sat down.

It quickly occurred to her that he was talking about his depression.

Her heart suddenly became heavy.

This meant that Andrius' depression was not completely resolved.

The relapse had become more serious.