My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 2065-Not long after, Lucas and Chloe also came to help.

Since Auntie Tamsine's illness was gradually recovering, Lucas' personality had also undergone many changes. He was not as dull as before but slightly carefree and nonsensical.

He punched Andrius as he walked up to him. "We made a pact to be single, but you secretly got hitched. How sneaky!"

Andrius raised his eyebrows. "If you, Master Montgomery, wanted to get married, the line of women who'd want you would stretch from one end of Coast City to the other. You said it yourself, no?"

"Really? When did I spew such arrogant nonsense? Hahaha..." Lucas laughed.

Then, he came to Byron and Rosalie's side. He immediately restrained himself and asked with concern, "Byron, Sister-in-law, is there anything I can do for you now?"

He must be talking about Rosalie's mother.

Rosalie shook her head. "Even the police haven't found a breakthrough yet, so there's no rush. Thank you for your concern, Lucas."

However, Byron squinted his eyes and shot a look at his wife. "Maybe Lucas can really help. Don't forget, he's studied psychology for many years. At least, he would know hypnosis. If he can hypnotize Violet, maybe we can pry her mouth open."

Lucas also nodded. He must have known this. Since he took the initiative to offer help, he would have considered his ability too.

Rosalie was a little surprised and admitted that her thinking was too limited. She had not considered this.

She could not help but feel a little excited. Perhaps this could really be done!

“The key is, how do we hypnotize Violet?” Rosalie pondered.

Byron and Lucas looked at each other and smiled. Sometimes, being too kind in handling matters may not be a good thing.

Extreme measures must be used when deemed necessary.

However, they did not say it.

At this time, Chloe came over after chatting with the bride and groom-to-be.

She greeted them. “Buddy, I see that my sister-in-law seems a little unwell. Is she too tired?”

As she spoke to Byron, she turned her gaze to Rosalie and said with a concerned tone, “Sister-in-law, you’re pregnant now, so don’t work too hard.”

“Alright, thank you for your concern!” Rosalie responded politely.

Suddenly, something was different. Rosalie found that Chloe was standing very close to Lucas.

The way Chloe and Lucas stood, it was as if they had some kind of intimate relationship.

‘No way. Did Chloe have a sudden change of heart and fall in love with Lucas?’ Rosalie had a strange thought.

‘However, that doesn’t seem to be a bad thing. As long as she stops thinking about my husband, anything is fine!’

After chatting for a while, Chloe suddenly took out a tub of eye cream and applied some on Rosalie, saying that it could quickly eliminate bags under the eyes.

The eye cream was indeed effective. There was an immediate warm feeling on her eye bags. This was to accelerate blood circulation like the effect of a hot compression.

She smiled and spoke to Lucas, “Make a record for me.

Petal Talk Group will develop this eye cream immediately.”

Lucas put on a serious attitude when he heard about the new product launch. He listened to the chairwoman’s important instructions.

Rosalie briefly explained the inner principle of this eye cream. It was not difficult to develop. The research institute could accomplish it within a week.

As they chatted, their conversation veered toward business again.

Mary came over and made complaints about it. She then dragged Rosalie and Chloe upstairs, where she told them that she was going to show off the wedding dress that Estie made for her.
