My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 2078-The chainsaw roared, and the iron chain was severed in less than thirty seconds, followed by two iron doors which collapsed to the ground.

Byron and Rosalie walked in through the iron gate.

The frightened Sophie rushed downstairs first. When she saw the couple, she panicked and shouted. "What are you trying to do? Breaking into a private house is illegal. I'll call the police immediately!"

With that, she took out her mobile phone and feigned intimidation.

Rage shot to the top of Rosalie's head. She rushed over, snatched Sophie's phone, and smashed it to pieces on the ground.

How refreshing to be the bad guy.

For the past twenty years or so, Rosalie had been a pro at being a good person. She always suffered losses from being kind.

The best way to deal with shameless people was to be even more shameless than them. In this way, there was nothing the opponent could do.

Sophie was stunned for a few seconds, but she could not stop Rosalie at all.

"Where is Violet? Get the hell out now!"

"Rosalie, what are you doing? Get the hell out of here!"

"Smack-"

With a loud slap, Rosalie declared that she had no intention to be reasonable with this family today.

So, what if she was violent? She witnessed her Mama's suffering and grievances, and in the end lost her life because of Violet. Rosalie had lost all patience.

Sophie was stunned by the slap in her face. She wanted to rush to intercept Rosalie when she came back to her senses, but several bodyguards had already stopped her.

With a tacit attitude, Byron supported his wife in all her actions.

Rosalie entered the main hall on the first floor. Ethan was terrified when he saw Rosalie. With his arms in plaster, he could not support himself to sit up from the sofa, and just flailed about haplessly. His movements looked extremely ridiculous.

At this moment, Violet looked terrified too. She turned around and rushed into the kitchen.

In a few seconds, she came back and had a kitchen knife in her hand, with a ferocious expression on her face.

“Rosalie, what exactly are you trying to do? I know you want revenge, but too bad, you can’t do anything about it, right? The police can’t do anything to me, so what can you do to me? You better get out! Otherwise, the kitchen knife in my hand has no eyes!”

The atmosphere suddenly seemed tense.

However, Byron walked in. The bodyguard grabbed Sophie into the room and appeared before Violet, which immediately broke the latter’s resolve.

“Violet, I advise you to be more sensible. If you don’t want Sophie and Ethan to see blood today, give up this useless resistance!” Byron’s tone was heavy, emphasizing every word.

Coupled with the murderous look on his face, no one dared to doubt the authenticity of what he said.

The kitchen knife was extremely sharp and glinted in the light. In the past, Rosalie might be intimidated by that.

Right now, driven by the overwhelming hatred, she just let out a soft snort, and continued to approach Violet.

“Violet, I have already found my mother’s heirloom! If I dare to come to you today, it means I have enough evidence to prove how you poisoned my mother to death. I just don't understand why are you relentless? You have replaced my mother, and you have gotten that piece of trash, Gordon Jacobs. Why do you still refuse to let her live?"

Rosalie asked questions through gritted teeth as she kept advancing forward.

Violet listened. Her face was completely terrified, she looked around in a panic, and denied it. "I didn't, don't talk nonsense. What about your mother's will, what evidence does your mother's note have to prove that I did it?"

"Oh, you didn't do it? Perhaps you would never admit it until you see your Maker!" The hatred in Rosalie's eyes made Violet extremely frightened.

For Rosalie to hate her so much was enough to prove that she truly knew the truth.

Violet looked at her daughter Sophie, as if waiting for a lifeline.

Sophie was also stunned immediately. 'I'm amazed. Ten years have passed, and Rosalie's mother really left evidence?'

"Violet, you are really ruthless. Using sweet nothings to make Gordon believe you. Then, you use Ethan as a breakthrough to try to make my mother accept you as a mistress, right? Gordon is a complete fool, to bring Ethan to my mother. Do you know why my mother helped you adulterers take care of that child? That's because my mother wanted to save my life!"

Rosalie walked directly in front of Violet, but the bodyguards moved even faster. They quickly removed the kitchen knife from Violet's hand, and tightly clamped down her hands.

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 2079-When Violet heard Rosalie's concrete words, her face was horrified, and her eyes darted quickly.

"Rosalie, what nonsense are you talking about? When have I ever done something like this? Don't try to slander me!" She nervously argued.

As everyone knows, she had fallen into Rosalie's verbal trap.

“You haven’t done it? Didn’t you ask Ethan to help you poison Mama? It’s mercury. Just a little bit could affect my mother slowly. Just two or three times a month is enough. The long-term accumulation of toxins was enough to shorten my mother’s life to a few years. Ethan was so young then and you are willing to use him. Aren’t you afraid that he would accidentally ingest it?”

Rosalie’s angry face and hateful eyes made Violet look away in fear. Her body trembled uncontrollably.

“Violet, you still insist on arguing until now. I really couldn’t do anything about you a few days ago. However, I can come to you now, which means that I have enough evidence to prove that you used your good son Ethan to poison my mother! The police are on the way. You just wait!”

Sentence after sentence, Rosalie was filled with hatred. However, her mind was still rational.

Byron did not stop his wife but had already pressed the recording button.

Sophie was baffled. Although she knew about her mother’s poisoning, she had never heard her mother mention the relevant details.

Ethan was even more stunned. He kept searching through his memory. ‘Have I really helped my mother with her poisoning schemes?’

The sudden silence forced Violet’s outburst.

“Yes, so what? I just don’t believe that you have enough evidence to prove that I poisoned her! I used a water dispenser back then, and I don’t know where it went! Ethan was still so young, there is no evidence at all. Even if you exhumed her remains for an autopsy, at most you would know that she is poisoned. What else can you do to me? So what, if you call the police? I am not afraid!”

Violet had never been intimidated in her life. She could not stand Rosalie’s clamoring gesture.

Accompanied by her admission of the crime, there was a sinister sneer on the corner of her mouth, and a playful look in her eyes.

Rosalie was stunned. At this moment, all the truth surfaced.

Violet probably could not persuade Gordon to let her into the house at first. So, she thought of another strategy, using Ethan as his son, and make Mama accept him into the family. That was why Gordon lied that he had adopted an orphan and settled him in another place.

After that, Mama went to take care of Ethan from time to time. At this time, Violet started her crazy plan, poisoning the water dispenser, and diluting a small amount of mercury into the water. How could Mama be on guard against a child of a few years old? Each time Ethan brought water to Mama, her poisoning would deepen and accumulate continuously.

In fact, Mama noticed everything after only one or two times.

However, due to the astronomical sum of treatment fees, Mama dared not reveal the truth or cut ties with Gordon immediately. She could only bear the poisoning again and again.

Thinking of this, Rosalie's heart almost shattered into a million pieces. Tears welled up again as her eyes became hot.

"Violet, you are such an animal! Now that you admit it, you should understand why I rushed here before the police arrived. I can kill you with my own hands!"
Between

Rosalie's fingers, six silver needles were applied on Violet's body in an instant.

In a blink of an eye, six needles were pierced in different spots on Violet's body.

Every spot only hurts a little when pierced.

However, once all the six needles were applied, Violet's whole body trembled violently. She began to feel a surge of boiling blood burst through her forehead. Her whole body seemed to be burning in a raging flame.

The scorching pain quickly traveled through all her limbs. Every bone felt broken, and the pain made her soul tremble.

This was the last trick in the Greenbloom Needling Method.

There are a total of eight needles in this move. When applied in full, this would be a shocking killing technique.

Pain could kill a person.

Rosalie only had six needles. She just wanted Violet to experience all the pain her mother had endured back then.

What Violet experienced at the moment was only a dozen seconds, yet she cried miserably in pain.

Back then, Mama spent every day in such pain until her life was over.

“Ah-Rosalie, what the hell did you do? Sophie, Sophie, Ethan, Ethan, come and save me, come and save me, it hurts so much! My whole body hurts so much! The blood in my body is on fire, this hurts so much-“
