

My Ex-Wife and Kids Came In Like A Wrecking Ball Chapter 641

"I'll send Miss Jacobs home."

Xander's voice came from beside Rosalie.

Rosalie was shocked when she heard that and subconsciously wanted to reject. "No, it's..."

She knew Xander was now her friend since she had gotten to know him for some time. However, she did not think she and Xander were close enough for her to let Xander send her home.

She turned Leon down because she felt it was inappropriate.

However, Rosalie rejected Xander's offer because she felt they were still unfamiliar with each other.

Xander could see the difference when Rosalie rejected both of them. He knew her intention, yet he still felt a little disappointed.

"Miss Jacobs, it's my pleasure to send you back. We'll be working together, and I'm sure we'll meet each other often in the future. I want to enhance the relationship between US to have better cooperation."

Xander continued persuading Rosalie as he tried hard to calm his disappointment. "Moreover, I'm heading back to my place, and your house is on the way. It's not troublesome to drop you home on my way back"

Rosalie frowned.

Although Xander was trying to stop her from rejecting him with all the excuses she had thought of using, she still felt it was inappropriate to trouble Xander. However, she had no reason to refuse him.

Leon, who was next to them, did not think much about it. He agreed with what Xander said. "Since Young Master Xander insists, you should take a ride in his car, Rosalie."

Compared to letting Rosalie take a taxi back home late at night, Leon preferred to let Xander send her home.

Since both men insisted, Rosalie had to agree. "Thank you, Mr. Lancer."

Xander was relieved to see Rosalie accept his offer. He smiled and said, "It's a small matter. Don't mention it."

Together, the three of them waited for their drivers at the hotel entrance as they talked about their future cooperation.

As they were immersed in the conversation, a sudden sound of footsteps came from behind them.

The banquet had probably ended since groups of people started coming out. A group of girls walked out of the building together.

Rosalie and the two men did not think too much about it. They made way for the group of people without even looking back

“Stacy, slowdown!”

Behind them, several girls supported the drunk Stacy while looking worried.

Just now, Stacy got more frustrated as she thought about what had happened at the banquet after she left. Hence, she numbed herself with alcohol and was now drunk.

After persuading her for a long time, the girls managed to stop her from drinking more. Then, they supported her as they walked out of the hotel.

Stacy was drunk As she leaned against her companions, she muttered, “Rosalie, right? Just you wait! I’m going to show you that Xander is mine...”

The girls were just about to dissuade her. However, when they lifted their heads, they saw Rosalie and the two men.

Stacy was still insulting Rosalie.

“Stacy, stop it!” The girls tried to calm her down.

Stacy shoved the girl’s hand away. “Don’t touch me! Are you on my side or Rosalie’s side? How dare you speak up for her?!”

The girl, whom Stacy pushed away, was startled, she subconsciously glanced at Rosalie. When Stacy scolded her, she felt wronged, and tears welled up in her eyes.

Stacy looked in the direction the girl was looking, she squinted her eyes in a daze when she saw Rosalie and the two men. After a while, she realized the person in front of her was indeed Rosalie.

“Rosalie!” Stacy stumbled toward Rosalie.

Rosalie frowned when she saw Stacy, and she was a little displeased.

She preferred to stay out of trouble and decided to pretend as though she heard nothing.

The woman, Stacy, was Xander’s acquaintance. Rosalie knew she might put Xander in a difficult situation if she had a conflict with Stacy.

However, unexpectedly, Stacy noticed her and approached her with hostility.
