

Ye Chen 2401

Chapter 2401

Meanwhile, the Yanjing Su family.

Su Shoude reported to Master Su, "Dad! Sister-in-law has taken the fish with her to the auction site!"

"What?!" The expression on Master Su Chengfeng's face became chillingly cold!

He gritted his teeth and said, "Du Haiqing has really gone too far!"

Su Shoudeh even asked, "Dad, what do we do now?"

Master Su gritted his teeth and said sternly, "Since Du Haiqing has completely disregarded the Su family's face, don't blame me for not giving her any room!"

He said, "That Princess of Europe back then was a repeat offender! Not only has she found a pagan boyfriend, but she is even rumoured to be pregnant with the child of that pagan, where does she put the royal family's honour? If she doesn't push the royal family to the limit, why would they do anything to her? In the end, it's all your own doing!"

Su Shoude lowered his voice and asked cautiously, "Dad, you're not really going to make a move on your sister-in-law, are you? The Du family is in a bit of a decline, but it is still in a high position as a whole, and if we act rashly, we will definitely offend the Du family."

Su Shoude said, adding in a low voice: "Moreover, the whole of Yanjing is watching, so if we make a move at this time, everyone will know that we must have done it."

Su Chengfeng snorted and said, "I'm not afraid that they know, on the contrary, I'm afraid that they don't know! Du Haiqing the woman

The same is always true! If we don't do anything, the outside world will think that we Su's family can let others insult us and swallow our pride!"

Immediately afterwards, Su Chengfeng threw up his hands and said with a venomous look in his eyes, "As long as we do it cleanly and don't leave any substantial clues, even if the whole world knows that we did it, what can they do to us?"

Su Shoudeh hurriedly followed up with, "Dad, who do we let do it?"

Su Chengfeng spoke up, "I've arranged this matter in advance, originally thinking that as long as Du Haiqing doesn't go to this auction, I won't be able to get along with her, but since she doesn't know what to do, don't blame me for being unforgiving!"

Sushoudeh asked again, "Dad, what about the fish?"

Su Chengfeng said indifferently, "I've explained that they won't do anything to Zhi Fei."

Saying that, Su Chengfeng asked, "By the way, did Zhi Fei go there?"

Su Shoude shook his head: "There's no mention of Zhi Fei over there, so I guess he didn't go."

Su Shouli, who was on the other side, hurriedly said, "Dad, Zhi Fei is already at Jinling Airport, flying back at ten o'clock."

Su Chengfeng was somewhat relieved to hear this and spoke up, "It seems that Zhi Fei has really lived up to the name I gave him, it's important that people can know right from wrong." [www.avracity.com]

Su Shoude hurriedly said, "Dad, if you really want to teach your sister-in-law a lesson, you must find a way to calm Zhi Fei's nerves, otherwise, I'm afraid this child can't think of"

Ah"

Su Shoudeh's words always mean something.

His greatest wish now was to do everything he could to make the old man angry with his big brother's family.

He thought to himself, "It's not enough just to make the old man feel discontent towards the big brother, Su Shou Dao!"

"Because the old man is still very strong, he is likely to pass on the throne directly from generation to generation in the future!"

"In other words, the old man is likely to skip my and my elder brother's generation directly after another 10 or eight years and pass the family's patriarchal title to our next generation!"

"In case he passes the throne to Su Zhi Fei, what is the point of bringing down my elder brother now? After the old man abdicates the throne, Su Zhi Fei will also be on top of me!"" Therefore, it is important to make the old man lose confidence in Su Zhi Fei as well!"

It was precisely because of this kind of thinking that Su Shou De deliberately used this murderous and heart-breaking way to deliberately remind the old man to pay attention to calming Su Zhi Fei's emotions.

He spoke as if he really cared about his great nephew, but in fact, he deliberately wanted to wake up the old man, to let him know that if he really did kill Su Zhifei's own mother, Su Zhifei would definitely hate him to death!

This kind of revenge for the killing of his mother could never be appeased, no matter what method was used.

Su Shou De felt that as long as the old man recognised this, then he would never give Su Zhi Fei any more chances, because that would be tantamount to raising a tiger!

As expected

Chapter 2402.

Master Su's expression became very ugly.

Su Shoude's words had indeed made him realize even more clearly that if he decided to make a move against Du Haiqing, then the family, the eldest son Su Shoude's family, would surely turn against him!

However, he also knew in his heart that if he didn't do something about Du Haiqing, the Su family's face would be gone!

No matter what, he couldn't just stand by and watch Du Haiqing act so recklessly.

Once the Su family's face can be trampled on by such a woman, how can the Su family maintain its status and dignity?

At this point, he said coldly, "When this matter is over, let Zhi Fei go to Australia to meet your big brother and never come back."

So Shoudeh was all excited at the idea!

"If Dad lets Su Zhi Fei go to Australia to meet up with his big brother, that would be tantamount to being sent into exile, and the father and son would no longer have a chance to compete for the Su family heirship, and would have to spend the rest of their lives in Australia waiting to die."

"This makes me the best candidate for the throne in my dad's eyes, which is great! Faster!"

Meanwhile.

The time was approaching ten o'clock in the morning.

The auction venue was sparsely packed with dozens of people.

These are the bidders at today's judicial auction.

Most of what they are interested in are second-hand properties and cars.

Since almost all of the commodities up for auction are involved in some kind of lawsuit or other, and the relationships are complicated, most ordinary people are not very interested in these kinds of transactions.

There have been many cases in the past where a house has been sold at judicial auction, but the original owner refuses to move out, which ends up causing the buyer a lot of anxiety and frustration.

Because of this, foreclosed properties are usually sold for a little less than the market price, so if you don't mind the hassle, you can save some money.

Since everyone is there to pick up the pieces, it is difficult for a judicial auction to have the excitement of an outside auction.

In outside auctions, sometimes there are two or more parties fighting over a commodity, hundreds of thousands of dollars of things, and finally because of each other to raise prices and fight, the final millions of cases of transaction also abound.

If you attend a judicial auction, everyone wants to save money and pick up the pieces, and if the market price of a house is one million, everyone wants to take it at a 20% discount, or at least a 10% discount.

Therefore, such auctions are generally not very interesting.

At ten o'clock sharp, the auctioneer marches in. [www.avracity.com]

As everything is kept simple and fast, there are no unnecessary overtures, and the auctioneer

Once on stage, he went straight to the point and said: "Thank you all for coming to this judicial auction, the first item we are going to auction today is an Audi A6 in the name of Jinling Bowery, the car has been registered for three years and has a mileage of 113,000 kilometres, the starting price is 150,000 and the minimum bid increase is 1,000, the auction will now begin."

Second-hand cars like this, in the same condition, are usually sold in the normal market for around 210,000.

Since the ceiling is 210,000, the bidding was very sensible.

After a few bids, the price was mentioned all the way up to 180,000 and many bidders gave up, with only two still holding out.

However, as the price approached the ceiling, the remaining two bidders were very cautious, and after a few minutes, one of them brought the price up to 195,000, while the other did not follow suit.

The auctioneer then announced the first lot, which was sold for $195,000.

In the box, Richard Chen casually looked over the information from the auction and said to Ye Chen, "Young Master, there are a total of eleven cars participating in the auction today, and after the car auction, the house auction will begin, and your parents' former home, which is the first in line for the property, has a starting price of $880,000."

"I've already greeted the driver, no matter what price is called, he will follow through to the end and will definitely help you get this mansion auctioned off!

Chapter 2403

Ye Chen lightly nodded his head.

He also had great ambitions for his parents' former residence.

After all, this former residence, which held the last time he spent with his parents, was of great significance.

As several foreclosed cars were gradually snapped away, the auction moved on to the real estate auction.

There were a total of 13 properties at the judicial auction, but the one with the cheapest starting price was the one where Ye Chen's parents had lived.

The main reason was that the old house had been classified as a protected building by Jinling, which not only prohibited demolition, but also forbade renovation.

What's more, whoever bought the old house had certain obligations to protect it.

The house is already very old and cannot be demolished for greater economic value, even if one wanted to refurbish it, so there is basically no interest in such a house.

No matter who buys the house, there is no chance of anyone realising it again.

However, both Ye Chen and Du Haiqing are waiting for the house to be auctioned.

Because the starting price of this set of houses was the lowest, as soon as they entered the property auction, the auctioneer directly cast the pictures of this set of properties on the big screen and opened his mouth to introduce them, "The 1st set of properties we are auctioning today is a set of protected old mansions located at the old street corner, the specific information about this set of old mansions you can read in the auction booklet, so here we are! Without further ado, let's get straight to the auction, with an opening bid of RMB 880,000, and start bidding now!"

As soon as the auctioneer's words fell, Du Haiqing simply held up the sign and spoke, "One million."

"Good!" The auctioneer immediately said: "Bidder number 34 has bid one million, is there anything higher than one million?"

A middle-aged, plain-looking man sitting in the corner immediately held up a sign and spoke, "One and a half million!"

This middle-aged man is Richard Chan's driver.

"One and a half million?!" The auctioneer was suddenly dumbfounded, the starting bid was 880,000 and after only two rounds of bidding it was 1.5 million, almost double!

You know, there's almost no appreciation in the value of this property!

Spending one and a half million on such a house, the only possibility was that it would fall into his hands.

Because of his surprise, he hadn't recovered before Du Haiqing held up the sign again and said seriously, "I'll bid two million."

The auctioneer was even more amazed.

He immediately looked at Du Haiqing and opened his mouth to remind him: "Bidder number 34, I need to remind you that the property is forbidden to be demolished and developed, forbidden to be refurbished, and must be kept in its original condition according to the city's requirements, as well as having certain maintenance obligations, are you sure you are aware of these peculiarities?"

Du Haiqing nodded, "I'm sure I know."

Although the auctioneer was confused, he nodded and spoke, "Bidder number 34 bid 2 million, is there any higher than 2 million?"

The middle-aged man in the corner immediately said, "I'll give you three million!"

"Three million" the auctioneer wiped his sweat and continued: "And now bidder number 22 is bidding three million, is there any higher than him?"

"Four million!" Du Haiqing raised his hand almost unthinkingly.

As soon as the auctioneer heard this, he panicked and said: "34 bids four."

Before he could finish, Richard Chan's driver said loudly, "I'll pay 5 million!"

Du Haiqing didn't even give the auctioneer any time to think this time and spoke directly, "I'll pay eight million."

Eight million?!

There was an outcry!

This old mansion was not worth anything to the other bidders.

An old, dilapidated mansion that not only had no commercial value, but was also very uncomfortable to live in.

An old house like this is either leaky or leaky, and it must be extremely cold in winter and extremely hot in summer.

So everyone thought that, at a starting price of 880,000, the house would most likely go unsold.

However, who would have thought that such an almost worthless house would be up for grabs in a short period of time, pushing the price up to 8 million.

Chapter 2404

Although Richard Chen's driver didn't have much money of his own, Richard Chen had already told him that he would take the mansion at any cost, not to mention just 8 million, even if it was 80 million, he would not hesitate.

Therefore, he was also completely unwilling to show weakness, immediately raised his hand and said: "8.8 million!"

Eight million eight hundred and eighty thousand, a full tenfold increase from the starting price of eight hundred and eighty thousand.

However, the competition between the two had only just begun.

Du Haiqing didn't seem to want to continue to raise the price a little bit like this, so she directly raised her hand and spoke up, "Ten million."

The entire auction site was once again in uproar.

Inside the box, Richard Chen said in Ye Chen's ear, "Young master, this second miss of the Du family seems to be determined to win."

Ye Chen nodded his head and sighed helplessly, "Not really understanding this aunt's thoughts, she and my father don't have any real emotional foundation after all, so why hold onto this old house?"

Richard Chen lamented: "To be honest, although I am not much older than you, I have heard about Du Haiqing's affection for your father, and it can indeed be called a deep affection".

Ye Chen hmmm, outside the auction, Richard Chen's driver had called the price up to twelve million.

At this time, Du Haiqing also followed suit and raised the price to fifteen million.

Ye Chen couldn't help but frown and opened his mouth and said to Richard Chen beside him, "Send a WeChat to your driver and tell him to call the price directly at 30 million!"

"Yes!" Richard Chen nodded, immediately pulled out his mobile phone and sent a WeChat.

Immediately afterwards, the middle-aged man at the auction outside raised his hand again, doubling it directly to 30 million, on top of Du Haiqing's 15 million.

The scene was already full of hissing and inhaling sounds.

It was simply unheard of in the history of judicial auctions for a mansion that was not even worth a million to be raised to a price of 30 million.

Du Haiqing was also very shocked at this point.

She looked back at the man in the corner who had been raising the price with her, and was amazed.

"I really can't understand why this strange man would have such a strong desire to buy the mansion I'm concerned about."

"In fact, before I came here today, I had envisaged that I would meet a competitor at the auction."

"However, the competitor I envisioned would be the young man I met that day at Changga's former residence."

"Because, that young man looked almost identical to the coma, and if I am not wrong, he should be the son of the coma."

"For the past few days, I've also been trying to find out where he is, but I haven't been able to find any clues."

"And now, that young man didn't show up at the auction either, but who else but him would be so obsessed with this old mansion? Who is this middle-aged man bidding $30 million? Or rather, who sent him?"

Just as Du Haiqing's thoughts were racing, the auctioneer spoke up: "30 million once, 30 million twice, is there any price higher than 30 million? If not, then 30 million third"

Before he finished speaking, Du Haiqing came back to his senses and hurriedly spoke, "Fifty million! I'll pay 50 million!"

"This" the auctioneer himself couldn't believe it, shivering and shouting: "50 million for the first time".

Richard Chen's driver was even a little nervous.

Although it was not his money that was spent, he also felt that it was a bit too much.

So, he quickly sent a WeChat to Richard Chen: "Boss, are you still bidding?"

Richard Chen immediately replied: "Add another five million!"

So the driver raised his hand again and spoke, "I'll give you $55 million!"

Ye Chen looked at Du Haiqing beside Su Zhiyu through the one-way glass, sighed lightly and spoke to Richard Chen, "Old Chen, if this Second Miss Du still raises the price, let your driver abandon the auction."

Richard Chen was stunned and asked, "Young Master, are you going to give up?!"

After saying that, he hastily added: "Young master! Don't say 55 million, even if it's 550 million, it's a drop in the ocean for us!"

Ye Chen gently shook his head and sighed, "Hey, forget it, it's not about the money, let's fulfill this aunt!"

Chapter 2405

Chen Zekai did not expect that Ye Chen had waited for a long time for his old house, which he was determined to win, but he just gave up.

He couldn't help but feel anxious for Ye Chen and said, "Young Master, you've been thinking about buying this house for so long, and now it's just a matter of time before you give up, please don't give up. Otherwise, if you regret it in the future, there will be no regrets."

Ye Chen sighed lightly and waved his hand, saying seriously, "No, no, now it seems that this Auntie Du needs this mansion more than I do."

Saying softly, Ye Chen lamented, "This is an old mansion that my parents and I shared, but I didn't have the courage to come out and sit in the auction hall to bid in person, on the other hand, this Auntie Du, on the other hand, was able to sit outside and bid openly and honestly, and purely from this point on, she is much stronger and more qualified than me to get this mansion."

Ye Chen admired Du Haiqing from the bottom of his heart.

Right now, most people still didn't know that they were the young master of the Ye family or that they were the bloodline of Ye Changba left in the world, so out of caution, they didn't openly participate in this auction, and even the registration was in the name of Richard Chen's driver.

From this point of view alone, he admired Du Haiqing's boldness.

As the saying goes, a gentleman should be a man of honor, so Ye Chen decided to give up the competition and give the mansion to Du Haiqing.

Although he didn't know Du Haiqing, he also knew that Du Haiqing had loved his father for many years, but he hadn't been able to get anything substantial in return.

Perhaps this house will provide her with a tangible consolation for the past 30 years of loving her father.

This is also a way of thanking her on behalf of her dead father for her friendship over the years.

At this point, the bidding outside was still going on.

Richard Chen's driver had not yet received instructions to give up, and after Du Haiqing had called for sixty million, he raised his hand again and called out a price of sixty-one million.

Ye Chen recalled the old house in his mind, sighed deeply, stood up and said to Richard Chen, "Tell your driver to stop bidding."

After saying that, he put on his mask, turned around and left the box.

At the same time, Du Haiqing did not hesitate to raise his hand again and spoke, "Sixty-two million!"

When Richard Chen saw this, he hurriedly caught up and quickly followed up while sending a voice message to the driver: "Abandon bid, no more bids!"

His driver had just put his hand up when he suddenly received a message and hurriedly clicked play, and the loudspeaker came out with what Richard Chan had just said, so he immediately put his hand back down again, having raised it.

The auctioneer, already incoherent with excitement, saw him raise his hand and put it back down, and hurriedly asked, "Bidder 22, are you bidding or not bidding?"

The driver opened his mouth and said, "I give up."

Hearing these three words, Du Haiqing's heart suddenly swelled with joy and a large stone finally fell to the ground.

Immediately afterwards, the auctioneer said loudly, "Sixty-two million at a time! Sixty-two million twice! Sixty-two million times! Deal!"

The auction gavel in his hand then struck heavily on the countertop.

With this thud, Du Haiqing instantly wept with joy.

For the past few days, she had been sleepless at night and unreflective about the mansion, thinking of buying it, but worrying that something would happen to it.

Now, the dust has finally settled.

Although the price far exceeded its original value as a house, for Du Haiqing the house was priceless.

She has been in love with Yeh Chang-纓 since the days of her youth and ignorance, and her love for Yeh Chang-纓 has never faded even a little until she married and passed away.

Chapter 2406

More than thirty years have passed, and all she has left behind is an indelible memory and some old photographs.

Even if you want to pay your respects at his grave, it is difficult to do so, let alone leave any token of your grief.

Now that she has finally bought the old house where he once lived, the emotions in her heart of more than 30 years have finally found a place to rest.

Su Zhiyu's eyes saw her mother in tears and her heart was filled with mixed emotions.

On the one hand, she ached for her mother's infatuation for so many years, and on the other hand, she sympathised with her father for his wrongdoing over the years.

But then she thought of the fact that her father had already been physically unfaithful and had an illegitimate daughter who was only one year younger than herself, and felt that he did not deserve sympathy.

Then, she thought of her grandfather.

Looking at her mother's lifelong infatuation, she couldn't help but ask herself: "Su Zhiyue, Su Zhiyue, if you can't find your grandfather, will you be trapped like your mother and never get out? If that's the case, you're not as lucky as your mum, at least she knows that Ye Changba, and grew up with him, and has a lot of shared experiences and pasts, and you don't even know the name of your beloved benefactor".

At this moment, at the back door of the Treasure Pavilion, Ye Chen, who was wearing a mask, walked out quickly from the passage.

After leaving the door, he looked up at the somewhat overcast sky, his eyes already filled with tears.

Ever since his parents died when he was eight years old, Ye Chen, like Du Haiqing, had no place to put his feelings for them over the years.

He was not even as good as Du Haiqing, because Du Haiqing at least still had some old photos, but Ye Chen hadn't been able to save even a single photo of his parents.

After his parents' accident, along with their bodies and all their belongings from the old house, they were all flown to Yanjing in a very short period of time, and Ye Chen entered the orphanage wearing only the clothes he was wearing, and from that moment on, he lost almost everything that could hold his grief.

Until the years before Gu Yanzhong took himself to Mount Ye Ling to pay homage to his parents, he didn't even know where they were buried.

So, this mansion held all his thoughts of his parents.

Just a minute ago, Ye Chen had the same ambition for this house.

He even felt that even if he spent hundreds of millions of dollars, or even several hundred million, he would definitely buy this house.

However, just at that moment, he suddenly decided to fulfill Du Haiqing's wish.

Now, he didn't regret his decision, he simply felt a little desolate and sad over the loss of the mansion.

Richard Chen chased him out and was horrified as he saw Ye Chen's eyes filled with tears!

After knowing Ye Chen for so long, this was the first time he saw Ye Chen with tears in his eyes.

He could not help but exclaim in his heart: "Is this still the same Master Ye that countless people admire? Is this the same Master Ye who buried the Eight Heavenly Kings of the Wu Family with a single thunderbolt at the foot of Changbai Mountain and emerged from the avalanche with the rising sun? At this moment, he was like a child who couldn't find his way home, suffering and helpless."

At this moment, while Chen Zhai Kai's heart ached for this young master of his family, his heart gained a little more respect for him.

Ye Chen this was no longer as simple as enduring pain, he was leaving all his regrets to himself and leaving his psychological redemption and rebirth to Du Haiqing.

Thinking of this, he couldn't help but sigh, stepping forward and asking in a low voice, "Young Master, are you alright?"

"I'm fine." Ye Chen waved his hand, stiffly holding back his tears, and spoke, "Old Chen you drive me to the old mansion to have a look, while that Auntie Du still has to stay behind to do some formalities, I want to go over and have a look a few more times, it won't be so easy to see after she's finished handing over."

Richard Chen hurriedly said, "Okay young master, wait a moment, I'll go and drive!"

Chapter 2407

Richard Chen quickly drove the car over, and as Ye Chen was about to get into the car, Bao Fugui, the owner of the Treasure Pavilion, rushed out and asked nervously, "Master Ye, why did you leave so early?"

Ye Chen said indifferently, "I suddenly have some business to attend to, so I won't stay long."

Bao Fugui hurriedly followed up, "Master Ye, are you not very satisfied with the service of Precious Treasure Pavilion?"

Ye Chen waved his hand: "No, it has nothing to do with your Precious Treasure Pavilion."

Only then did Bao Fugui let out a sigh of relief and quickly asked again, "Right Master Ye, are there any items you are more interested in participating in today's auction? If there is one you let me know and I'll take it for you!"

Ye Chen shook his head and smiled, "There's nothing I'm interested in at the auction, I'm just here today to have fun, you don't need to be too concerned."

He pointed at the Rolls Royce in front of him and said to Bao Fugui, "I have something else to do, so I'll leave first, let's meet again some other day."

Bao Fugui hurriedly nodded and bowed, saying, "Master Ye, take care, next time if the Treasure Pavilion holds another auction, I will definitely contact you in advance."

Ye Chen nodded, said goodbye to Bao Fugui and got into the car.

Richard Chen then drove Ye Chen to the old mansion that Ye Chen had shared with his parents back then.

Bao Fugui watched Ye Chen's Rolls-Royce leave the Precious Treasure Pavilion before turning around and returning to the auction venue.

At this point, Du Haiqing, who had finally auctioned off the former residence of Ye Chen's parents for an astronomical price of 62 million yuan, had arrived at the back office of the auction and started the purchase formalities with the staff.

The judicial department's staff, still unable to conceal their shock, looked at Du Haiqing and said: "Madam, are you sure you want to buy this property at a high price of 62 million? If you want to default now, we'll only deduct your bid deposit of $10,000 and blacklist you for a year, would you like to reconsider?"

This is, after all, a judicial auction and all proceeds from the sale will be used to repay the defendant the amount he or she was involved in.

So no matter how much or how little they sell, there is no real interest involved for the judiciary, so they would prefer the goods in the judicial auction to actually sell for value for money.

They are of the opinion that the price Du Haiqing has offered is so outrageous that the house is not worth that much in any sense or reason.

Once Du Haiqing has paid the money, there will be no room for regrets, and all the proceeds from the house auction will immediately be used for judicial compensation, with no room for regret.

But in case Du Haiqing really regretted paying the money, if she wanted to make a fuss, she would definitely come to the judicial department, which would more or less affect their own reputation and still be a problem for them.

So, in order to avoid trouble, they hope that Du Haiqing will not be the wronged party, it would be best if he repents on the spot, and when the next judicial auction is held, they will take the mansion out again and auction it at a normal market price, so that everyone will be happy.

However, Du Haiqing now spoke with great certainty: "I don't need to think about it, please take care of the payment for me as soon as possible, as well as the rest of the transfer process. The sooner the better, thank you."

Chapter 2408

The staff member wiped his sweat and explained seriously: "Madam, the starting price of the house you are buying now is only 880,000 RMB and the highest market price is around 1.3 million. You really don't need to reconsider?"

Du Haiqing shook his head and said firmly, "I've thought it over and don't need to think about it anymore, please help me with it as soon as possible."

Several staff members exchanged glances and one of them spoke up, "In that case, we'll handle the subsequent payment process for you, do you have enough balance in your bank account?"

Du Haiqing nodded: "Enough."

"The staff took out the POS machine with a scalp and said: "Madam, please make sure your card issuer's single-day transaction limit is OK, many users' cards have a single-day transaction limit of 1 million yuan by default. ."

Su Zhiyu, who was a bit impatient, said: "Where do you get so many questions, can't you just swipe your card? If we don't have enough cards to cover the transaction limit, how can we wait around for payment?"

The staff member said awkwardly, "I'm sorry, Miss, but we have never done a single transaction of this amount before, so I would like to check with you both, I'm really sorry".

Afterwards, the staff entered the numbers into the POS machine, confirmed it was correct, handed it to Du Haiqing and said: "Madam, please swipe your card."

After nodding her head, Du Haiqing took out her bank card and handed it to the other party, then entered her PIN, and the next thing she knew, the POS machine showed that the bank had confirmed that the transaction had been successfully deducted, so the flowing bill was automatically issued.

The staff were really impressed. It seemed that the rich people did not take money seriously at all, and spending a few dozen times more was nothing to them.

Then, the staff took out five copies of the purchase agreement and said to Du Haiqing: "Madam, please check the contract details, if there are no problems, these five purchase agreements, and every page has to be signed and confirmed."

Du Haiqing nodded his head, flipped it over to roughly read the terms and, after making sure the ownership was clear and there were no problems, he immediately began signing his name to the contract.

Meanwhile, the Yanjing Su family.

Su Shoude was furious and said to Su Chengfeng, the master of the house, "Sister-in-law, this woman is so insolent! Not only did they attend the auction, but they also auctioned off the mansion, which was worth a maximum of a million or so, for 62 million.

He said, resentfully, "How much does she fucking love that son of a bitch Ye Changya! How outrageous!"

Su Chengfeng said with a frosty face: "Don't call her sister-in-law! In our Su family, we don't have a daughter-in-law like that!"

Su Shoudeh said angrily, "Dad! If I'd known, I might as well have killed her on her way to the auction! That would at least save our Su family some face!"

Su Chengfeng said in a cold voice, "We would be risking world condemnation if we took action early on such matters! If she hadn't damaged our Su family's face and we had killed her beforehand, if word got out, our Su family would have become the object of universal spiteful disgust and the target of verbal condemnation by the entire Yanjing high society!"

Su Chengfeng asked him, "Have you forgotten that the world-famous princess of Europe was killed after she fell in love with a pagan and became pregnant with his child and was about to get married? But even so, even though there has been no definitive proof, the Royal Family has been cursed for decades! If the royal family had killed the Princess simply because she fell in love with a pagan, the royal family would have been drowned in the spittle of the common people!"

At this point, Su Chengfeng sighed, lightly slapped his own face and spoke, "People have to actually hit us in the face before we can kill them, you can't kill them just because they stare at you! That's going to be a big mistake!"

Chapter 2409

Although Su Shoudeh has the word virtue in his name, he himself has no 'virtue' at all.

Not only was he devoid of morality, he was equally devoid of martial virtue.

Su Chengfeng, on the other hand, is also an amoral person, but at least he is wise and calculating.

Such people are generally full of benevolence and morality on the surface, but inside they are full of men and women thieves and prostitutes.

But the key is that a belly full of male thieves and female prostitutes cannot be seen by others.

Master Su's stomach has been festering with bad water all his life, and he has done countless unethical things, but the only time he really messed up was that time with Su Ruoli.

For the most part, Master Su is still very good at doing superficial things.

At this point, Master Su already considered Su Shoude as his future successor to cultivate, so he said in a long-winded tone: "Shoude, you must know that the rules of living and the tips of dealing with high society, in general, is four words, the master is famous!".

"The division is famous?" Su Shoudeh hurriedly followed up with, "Dad, can you be more specific?"

Su explained: "The so-called teacher's name is anything that has a name to speak of!"

"If we don't have a name at all and we just go up there and give the other side a whack, then that's a young man who doesn't follow the rules and belongs to the martial arts, so we'll just have to make do with what we have."

"You see, in wars between countries throughout the ages, even if the aggressor wants to invade a country, he will usually find a barely plausible reason."

"Just like the Lugou Bridge Incident of 7/7, the Japanese also lied about a missing soldier and then used the opportunity to stage the Incident."

"Countries still need a reason among themselves, let alone, our families."

At this point, Su said with a cold expression, "Actually, I've wanted Du Haiqing's life for a long time! From the moment I found out that Du Haiqing was planning to go to Jinling, I hated to see Du Haiqing's plane crash and die on the way to Jinling, so that we could put an end to this once and for all."

"But I can only think about it in my mind, I can't just do it!"

"Because, Du Haiqing was just going to Jinling, and didn't do anything to degrade the Su family's reputation, if I get her private jet down because she's going to Jinling, then the whole Su family is bound to be finished once the east window goes up!"

"So, if you want her life, you have to be a teacher after she has done something substantially damaging to the reputation of the Soviet family!"

"Now, Du Haiqing, while her marriage to your big brother was still alive, went to Jinling to bid for the old home where Ye Changba lived, and at a price that exceeded the market price by dozens of times, this has indeed already had an impact on the Su family's reputation, and at this time, making a move to kill her has at least possessed some justification."

When Su Shou De heard this, he said with an educated face, "Dad, I understand what you mean! Hearing you say that today has really enlightened me! I will definitely study and polish myself by your side in the future!"

Su Shoude has grown up so much, and today is really the first time I've heard my father talk about this kind of strategy.

In fact, Su's old man was a master of deep strategy and had countless strategies in his belly, which were only very superficial and could not be considered profound.

However, because Su Shoude was the second oldest, he never had the opportunity to learn such strategies.

This kind of stratagem, like the ancient imperial art of the emperor, was often only passed on to the prince who was to inherit the unified power in the future, and other princes had no chance to learn it, and were not even qualified to listen to it.

The reason why emperors are reluctant to pass on their strategies for governing the country to other princes is that they are afraid that other princes will threaten the prince's security in the future.

Chapter 2410

This is just like those martial arts sects, where the head of the sect will always pass on the core martial arts skills to the next head's successor, but not to other apprentices, with the aim of ensuring that the successor's strength is higher, so that he or she will not be overthrown by his or her own people.

In the past, Old Master Su Chengfeng devoted himself to teaching his eldest son, Su Shou Dao, every day, and as for the other sons, he never taught any real experience or strategy.

But now, the eldest son, Su Shou Dao, has been completely abandoned by him.

After the eldest son was abolished, the ideal successor in his heart became the second son, Su Shoude.

Therefore, he planned to properly cultivate Su Shoude from now on.

At this time, he felt in his heart: "I still have at most ten or twenty years to live in the future, and Shoude's growth from now on, ten or twenty years, will just about settle down."

"That way, he won't threaten my hold on the Su Family's power for the next ten or twenty years."

"But if Shou Dao were to be the heir instead, I might not be able to hold him down for another five or eight years."

"Looking at it this way, it's not necessarily a bad thing that things have happened to this situation."

Just then, Su Shoude hurriedly pursued, "Dad, how are we going to get rid of that slut Du Haiqing now! You have already sent the best of the family to Jinling?"

"No." Su Chengfeng shook his head and spoke, "How can you use your own people for such things? Wouldn't that be getting yourself into trouble?"

Su Shoudeh was puzzled and asked: "Dad, didn't you say that we had to make a name for ourselves? Now that Du Haiqing has insulted the family name, don't we have a reason to take action?"

Su Chengfeng was disappointed and rebuked, "Shou De! It's a must, but never the only condition! If you can run around naked with your face covered so you won't be recognised, are you just going to wear a mask and no trousers when you go out in the future?!"

Su Shoudeh said in fear: "Dad, I didn't mean that."

Su Chengfeng snorted coldly and said sternly, "Listen carefully, even if the division is famous, this kind of thing that takes a person's life, we have to leave everything out of it as much as possible!"

Saying that, he added: "What we just said about the division is just to give us a fallback, the most important thing for us is that we don't get any evidence from the other side!"

"The best solution to this matter is to find a way to get rid of Du Haiqing, and while the whole world thinks it must be our Su family, no one can find any substantial evidence!"

"Like the famous Princess of Europe, everyone knows how she died, but what's the point? No one can produce direct evidence of her murder, and all they can say is that she died in a car accident or an accident!"

"To take a step back, even if the outside world had evidence that the royal family murdered her, the royal family would at least have a reason to exonerate itself or mitigate the crime."

"For example, the fact that she was pregnant with a pagan child and was planning to marry a pagan, undermines the royal authority;"

"For example, she had already given birth to a prince for the royal family, but once she marries a pagan on her second marriage, she will give birth to a pagan baby who happens to be the half-brother of the royal prince, and where does that leave the prince's face, where does that leave the face of the entire royal family, and where does that leave the face of the entire nation?"

"These are all reasons for the royal division to be famous, as well as a backstop to clear their names in the future when the East Window is revealed!"

Su Shoudeh hurriedly asked, "Dad, do you have a way to make sure Du Haiqing dies for no reason?"

Su Chengfeng sneered and said, "What I'm after is not for her to die an unexplained death, but for her to die an impeccable death!"