

Ye Chen 2651

Chapter 2651

Fifteen minutes after take-off, Ye Chen was only a few dozen kilometres from his destination in the end.

According to Vasily's calculations, Ye Chen should jump out of the cabin in five minutes and then land five kilometres from his destination through his remote guidance.

So, he opened his mouth and asked Ye Chen: "Young Master Ye, are you ready

Ye Chen nodded: "Ready."

Vasily then said to Han Guangyao, "Mr. Han, please ask the captain to open the hatch."

"Good Han Guangyao immediately walked to the cockpit and asked the captain to open the hatch at the tail end of the plane.

As the hatch slowly opened, a violent cold wind instantly poured in, instantly freezing Chen Zekai and the others.

Chen Zekai hurriedly said loudly to Ye Chen: "Young master, you must be careful and careful again. Six hours later, we will definitely be waiting for you at the place you specified.

Ye Chen smiled slightly: "Don't worry, we'll see you in six hours

Vasily accompanied Ye Chen to the open hatch at this time, everyone was watching him with bated breath, this was his first parachute jump, not only was it extremely difficult, but landing was where the real difficulties began.

No one present, except for Richard Chen, could figure out what kind of confidence Ye Chen had that would allow him to dare to go deep into a dragon's den guarded by thousands of soldiers by himself, a mission of such hellish difficulty that even a movie would not dare to make.

Therefore, every one of them was sweating over Ye Chen's safety.

Han Guangyao even felt that this matter would probably end with the Ye family paying the opposition a large amount of cash and ransoming Ye Chen back from the opposition.

However, Ye Chen was full of clouds and breeze.

When the five minutes were up, Vasily said to Ye Chen, "Young Master Ye, it's time to jump!

But Ye Chen was indifferent and said indifferently: "Wait a little longer.

Vassili said nervously, "Young Master Ye, we can't wait any longer, we are still flying very fast, if you wait any longer your landing point will be greatly shifted, if you land closer to the opposition base, then you will be in danger and the closer you are, the bigger your target will be when you open your parachute

Ye Chen smiled, "Time is of the essence, so it's better to be closer."

Vasily looked at the time and blurted out, "Young Master Ye, if you jump now, the distance may only be three kilometres, we can't wait any longer"

Han Guangyao also said with a nervous face, "Yes, Young Master, if you wait any longer, you will be jumping on top of the opposition base. Up there"

Ye Chen looked at Vasily and asked him, "If I want to land a kilometre away from them, when is the most appropriate time to jump"

Vasily swallowed hard and said, "If you really want to control it to about one kilometre, then you will have to wait another 30 seconds.

"Okay" Ye Chen nodded, "You can count down for me, after 30 seconds, I will jump out on time.

Vasily wiped his cold sweat and stammered: "That's... It's just too dangerous.

Ye Chen laughed: "It doesn't matter, don't I still have the surrender book on me? If I can't really, I'll give them the surrender book, just think of it as spending money to experience an extreme sport."

On the side, Han Guangyao sighed helplessly in secret.

He had met Ye Chen for the first time and at this moment, he only felt that Ye Chen was simply an unheard of dude.

He had seen super rich kids come out all over the world to spend money and play with women for fun, but he had never seen a super rich kid like Ye Chen who came out to spend money and play with his life.

Vasily kept his eyes on the stopwatch in his hand, and when the last 10 seconds were left on the clock, he started the countdown.

"10,9,8.

The hatch was fully open at this point, and beyond it was a thick layer of clouds.

Although Syria was also part of the Middle East, it was at a similar latitude to Jinling, and it also happened to be winter, so it was the season of the year when Syria received the most rainfall.

The thick clouds not only blocked the sunlight but also made the air very humid.

Chapter 2652

5-7 minutes

This is a good thing for Ye Chen, because if it was a cloudless day, then the chances of him trying to parachute in during the day would be almost nil.

That was why he was so sure that he would be able to parachute in closer to the other side's base.

When Vasily counted to the last three, Ye Chen took a step and came directly to the edge of the hatch, Vasily became increasingly nervous and shouted, "3, 2, 1, jump"

Ye Chen turned his head back and said to the others, "Gentlemen, see you in six hours!"

After saying that, he leapt towards the hatch without hesitation, and jumped head first into the thick cloud layer.

As soon as Ye Chen jumped out of the cabin, he felt as if he was in an ice cellar.

At an altitude of more than 5,000 metres, the temperature was 30 degrees Celsius lower than the ground surface, and the ground temperature was about 15 degrees Celsius above zero, so the temperature around Ye Chen was about 15 degrees below zero.

But this was nothing to him, as he was focused on keeping his body stable and not losing control of it in the rapid descent.

As he was in a thick cloud layer, he could not see what was going on below him, but he could hear Vasily's voice alerting him in his headset: "Young Master Ye, the speed and direction of descent is stable, about 50 metres per second, please hold on, you are expected to reach a safe opening altitude in a minute and a half."

Ye Chen shouted, "Okay, I know"

Ten seconds later, Ye Chen's body finally crossed the cloud layer.

At this moment, a small amount of rain had already started to condense below the clouds, and it looked like rainfall was about to form.

Ye Chen could see that almost all of the mountains below him stretched endlessly, and the mountains in the Middle East were really nothing scenic to speak of, almost an earthy yellow as far as the eye could see, and because it was a plateau, some of the higher altitude mountain tops still had white snow on them.

Although he was far away, he could still see that the houses in these villages were almost all low and dirt, and the poverty level was evident.

As he got closer, Ye Chen could see that this village was surrounded by two peaks on the east and west, with an entrance and exit to the village on the north and south.

The two entrances, one to the north and the other to the south, had armoured vehicles parked on them, as well as artificially constructed trenches and firing pallets.

In the middle of the village, there is a small circular square, on which four helicopter gunships are parked. Four helicopter gunships are parked in the square.

In addition, on the peaks on both sides, there were also artificial fortifications and lookouts that could be seen, and people could still be seen moving around inside the fortifications.

Ye Chen had already made a quick judgement in his mind at this time. He was alone and would have to sneak into the opponent's hinterland, so the two north and south entrances were definitely not an option.

The most suitable entry point would be the peaks on the east and west sides of the mountain.

For the opposition stationed here, they also know very well that the government forces do not have the capacity for large-scale air strikes, and if they really want to attack them, the greatest possibility is to attack by land.

The mountains to the east and west have no roads at all, and even if soldiers were to sneak in on foot from here, it would be very difficult, not to mention all the heavy equipment.

So if the government forces really want to attack, they can only enter through the two entrances, north and south.

Because of this, the opposition's defences on the east and west sides were also relatively weak, basically equipped with only a small number of soldiers, a few heavy machine guns and Stinger missiles.

From here, Ye Chen had a high degree of certainty that he would not be detected, and even if he was detected, he would not be in any danger, because the anti-aircraft capability of the heavy machine guns was very weak, and the bullets would not only fail to hit high, but would also be parabolic due to gravity.

As for the Stinger missile, although this thing is very strong in combat, it can only lock on to the aircraft itself, not the living, so in front of Ye Chen, it is equivalent to waste

At this moment, Ye Chen's voice came from Vasily's headset, he spoke: "Young Master Ye, according to your current rate of descent, you will have to open your parachute in ten seconds

Ye Chen glanced at the data on his watch, in ten seconds, the altitude to open the parachute would be around five hundred meters, in order to be cautious, he wanted to choose the eastern half of the mountain as the landing point first, so that he could directly avoid the defensive positions at the top of the mountain, so he spoke: "I want to open the parachute again at two hundred meters.

"Two hundred metres," Vasily said out of the blue, "not to mention the fact that you would land in full view of the defensive positions at the top of the mountain, but the speed of your descent would not allow for sufficient cushioning, and the force your body would have to endure on landing would be almost the same as jumping from a height of seven or eight storeys without any protection. The jump would be life threatening!

Chapter 2653

Seven or eight storeys is a height that is almost 100 percent fatal to the vast majority of ordinary people.

But to Ye Chen, it was really no big deal.

His only worry was that as he got lower and lower in height, he would first descend to a height flush with the top of the mountain first, and most critically, would he be discovered by the other side at this height.

Just to make sure, he reached his hand into his pocket and gripped the Thunderstorm Order in his pocket.

This Lightning Stunning Order, which was made from the 10,000-year Lightning Strike Wood given by Song Wanting, was considered to be the ultimate in lightning strike wood, and was the one weapon Ye Chen could use the most.

Although he had already used it quite a few times and there were already many cracks on its surface, at the moment, he could still use it at least a few more times.

Ye Chen didn't really like to use the Thunderstorm Order because it made a lot of noise every time, but this time, he still planned to use it to improve his success rate.

At this moment, the entire mountainous area was quiet, the place was sparsely populated and there were hardly any vehicles travelling on the roads, so the people below could hear nothing but the wind and the not-so-loud sound of rain.

But at this very moment, the western sky suddenly lit up with a bolt of lightning like the Whip of God!

The lightning struck the top of the hill in the west and instantly charred several soldiers in the fortifications.

This was followed by a deafening explosion of thunder

The thunderbolt rumbled like a missile explosion and rang out across the valley.

On board the plane, Han Guangyao was startled by the blast and said out of the blue, "How in the hell can there be thunderstorms in winter in a place like the Middle East?"

Parachute jumper Vasily, who is also a meteorologist by profession, was dumbfounded and muttered, "This is not scientific."

The crew was equally confused.

The crew of this aircraft are all extremely experienced pilots, but any experienced pilot must be half a meteorologist, and a meteorologist with a lot of knowledge.

They know all kinds of climates and weather formations very well, and a quick hitch of the eye basically tells them what is going on.

But no one expected how a thunderstorm could suddenly occur in such winter rainfall clouds, when even a moderate rain was unlikely to fall.

Only Chen Zekai, when he heard the loud sound, his heart immediately became much more solid, he knew that this thunder must be the work of Ye Chen

At this moment, all the opposition soldiers, as well as the local villagers and even the eight hostages, including He Zhiqiu, were also shocked by the sudden thunderstorm

To these people, the loudness of the thunderbolt just now was something they had never encountered in their lives.

Many people's ears were ringing in their ears because of this thunderbolt.

Those with slightly more fragile eardrums would feel the intense pain coming from deep within their ears.

Apart from those who were imprisoned, almost everyone else stepped out of the door or turned their heads at the first opportunity, focusing their eyes on the western hill where the lightning struck, and the few surviving soldiers at the top of the western hill, in a panic, reported the exact damage over the intercom.

When they heard that a lightning bolt had killed five soldiers, the whole opposition was horrified from top to bottom.

They had never encountered such a horrible thing before, a single bolt of lightning could kill five people, how powerful must this bolt of lightning be?

Most of the soldiers thought that this was the wrath of the gods and many of them did not hesitate to kneel down on the ground and pray for forgiveness towards the western mountains.

Unlike most of the soldiers, the leader of the opposition forces, an intellectual who had attended military school, realised the moment he heard the news that the fortifications at the top of the western hill had been struck by lightning because they were on higher ground, thus creating a lightning rod effect.

He then immediately ordered all the soldiers inside the fortifications at the top of the eastern hill to take shelter in them to avoid another lightning strike.

This further helped Ye Chen. After receiving the news, all the earth soldiers on the eastern hilltop cowered into the bunkers inside the fortifications, not daring to venture out for fear of being struck by lightning again.

While the soldiers on the eastern hilltop were hiding, and the others were staring at the west, horrified, an insignificant figure fell from the sky above the eastern part of the base at a very fast speed.

However, everyone, including the soldiers on the eastern hilltop, was focused on the west, so no one even noticed the figure passing by.

The figure was Ye Chen, who had leapt down from a height of over 5,000 metres.

Chapter 2654

At this moment, Ye Chen was descending extremely fast, descending more than fifty metres a second.

Vasily on the plane stared at the data coming back from the computer and said with a pale face, "Young Master Ye's descent speed is too fast and his remaining altitude to the ground is less than 300 meters, which is already far below the minimum limit for safe opening of the parachute, I'm afraid it's going to be fatal.

When Han Guangyao heard this, his body trembled with fear and he said, "Quickly let the young master open his parachute."

Vassili came back to his senses and shouted, "Young master Ye, open the umbrella quickly, open the umbrella!

As he spoke, Ye Chen had already swept over the top of the mountain at great speed and was falling towards the halfway point.

He didn't rush to open his umbrella because he knew that when he didn't open his umbrella, the target was very small and hard to see clearly with the naked eye.

But once he opened his parachute, he would suddenly release a huge parachute, which would then magnify the target by a factor of ten or even dozens at once.

So he had to make sure that the time it took to open the chute was as short as possible.

This meant that he wanted to be able to open his parachute at the lowest possible altitude, then use the fastest possible time to reduce his fall speed to a height that was safe enough for him, then hurry to complete his landing and put his parachute away immediately after landing, so as to avoid detection to the greatest extent possible.

Seeing that there were only two hundred metres left to the ground, Vasily realised that Ye Chen was still descending rapidly and realised that he hadn't opened his parachute yet, so he couldn't help but say: "It's over.

Han Guangyao's liver trembled at his words.

He had already prepared to inform the old man to prepare the ransom and save Ye Chen, but he never thought that Ye Chen would fall to his death from the parachute jump.

If he were to die in the fall, he would be blamed for it.

Just as the two of them were panicking, Ye Chen suddenly opened his parachute.

The huge parachute was released from the bag at once, causing Ye Chen's rapidly falling body to be suddenly pulled back with a strong force.

At such a fast speed suddenly opening the parachute to slow down, an ordinary person would at least break a few ribs, if not faint, due to the huge inertia.

However, Ye Chen filled his entire body's bones with his spiritual qi, and his shoulders were fiercely pushed, hard enough to carry this huge reaction force.

Immediately afterwards, his descent speed decreased from over fifty metres per second to around twenty metres per second in a very short period of time.

However, this speed was far from being a safe speed for parachuting.

For a normal person to parachute, the speed of descent when landing would be less than six metres per second.

But at this moment, Ye Chen was still less than fifty metres from the ground.

If he fell at this speed, it was almost the same as falling.

However, the good thing was that in the remaining fifty metres, the speed of descent was still decreasing due to the effect of the parachute.

Immediately afterwards, Ye Chen gathered all his true qi into his legs again, and his whole body slammed heavily into the ground at a speed of more than ten metres per second.

Vasily on the plane no longer dared to look at the data coming back from the computer, because he knew very well that after a second or two, Ye Chen's heart rate would drop rapidly until it dropped to zero.

However, he had never dreamed that when Ye Chen had completely stopped his descent, his heart rate was only about ten times faster per second than it had been a moment ago.

With an incredulous look on his face, he asked offhandedly, "Young Master Ye, are you still alive?"

At this moment, Ye Chen had already started to quickly collect his parachute, and while stuffing it all into his parachute bag, he said indifferently: "Don't worry, I've landed safely!"

Chapter 2655

Hearing Ye Chen's reply, the few people in the cabin were speechless with shock.

Vasily's entire outlook had been completely turned upside down and subconsciously said: "How is this possible?"

Although Han Guangyao was relieved, he was equally overwhelmed and said, "Vasily, could it be that you have miscalculated the data?"

"Impossible". I've been parachuting for years and I've never made a mistake in my calculations."

Han Guangyao frowned: "Then I really can't figure it out"

At this point, Chen Zekai, who hadn't spoken, said, "No need to ponder, the young master's true strength is far stronger than you can imagine, let's just go back in peace and prepare to meet the young master at the scheduled location"

With that, the transport plane made a big circle in the air and started to return to Beirut, the capital of Lebanon.

Ye Chen, on the other hand, hid his form and scent all the way and made his way from halfway up the mountain to the foot of the mountain in the fastest time possible.

Due to the thickening rainfall clouds, the light conditions were getting worse and worse, and although the time was only in the afternoon, the visibility was already about the same as after the sun had set.

Such light conditions further reduced Ye Chen's chances of being spotted. Coupled with the fact that the explosion of thunder just now had killed several soldiers, all the opposition soldiers were somewhat distracted, so their vigilance of the surroundings was naturally greatly diminished.

At this moment, the village where the reactionaries were stationed was no more than a step away from Ye Chen.

Ye Chen could even see the bullet holes densely lined up on top of the low walls made of yellow earth in the village.

As the whole village was situated in a narrow valley, the village buildings were divided in a crescent shape, and the outermost buildings were almost all enclosed by earthen walls nearly two metres high, leaving only two entrances to the village, one to the south and one to the north.

At the entrance to the village, there is a Middle Eastern style stone archway, guarded by soldiers on both sides.

Outside the village, a number of soldiers with loaded guns patrolled back and forth along the fence, while on top of the many earthen buildings inside the village, there were also a number of sentries standing guard with AK47s.

However, Ye Chen could tell that the soldiers patrolling and standing guard were on the whole rather loose, and most of them were just pacing back and forth with their guns and doing perfunctory work.

In fact, although this group of opposition forces had average combat strength and their weapons and equipment were not advanced, they had sufficient combat experience.

The more experienced they are, the more likely they are to make empirical mistakes.

They have fought all kinds of battles, from sieges and counter-sieges to narrow battles and battles to the death, but they have never experienced infiltration by a single soldier.

Whether it is the government forces, the opposition or the Kurdish forces, the biggest drawback is that they are not capable of fighting alone, and the capacity of one person is really limited.

Precisely because they had never experienced such a thing, they didn't even consider solo infiltration as a defensive priority when they were defending themselves.

Their energy was spent on monitoring whether the government forces had sent out mass motorised troops, whether they had sent out warplanes, whether they had set up heavy artillery at long range in advance, and other than that, they weren't that concerned about the situation.

Ye Chen found a gap in the patrol and quietly touched down outside the fence in a very short time.

The point he chose was relatively lax and fell within the blind spot of the sentries on the roofs of the buildings on both sides, making it the best breakthrough point.

As light as a swallow, Ye Chen leapt outside the fence, and he went straight over the fence, landing silently on the inside of the fence.

Chapter 2656

At this moment, he was in the middle of a small courtyard, which only had three earthen houses that looked very dilapidated. Ye Chen used his aura to sense his surroundings and found that there was no sign of anyone existing in these three earthen houses, so he prepared to start from this courtyard and move a little towards the central square of the village.

When he was parachuting, he saw that the opposition parked four helicopters in the central square, thus showing that the opposition regarded the central square as the most strongly defended place. Since the valuable helicopters were parked here, Ye Chen believed that the eight hostages, including He Zhiqiu, should also be held in the vicinity of the central square. Ye Chen crossed the abandoned and unoccupied courtyard just now and was about to cross another one when footsteps came from not far away, so he immediately took a step back and re-hid himself within the wall of the abandoned courtyard.

Immediately afterwards, two middle-aged soldiers in desert camouflage uniforms walked over side by side while talking and holding their guns.

What surprised Ye Chen was that they were not speaking Arabic, but English.

What Ye Chen did not know was that English was also the common language in Syria, and although the level of teaching here as well as the education per capita was very low, it had become their second mother tongue as it had always been encroached upon by Europe and America in recent years.

These opposition soldiers, too, had received covert funding from Europe and the US in earlier years, and they were even sent professional coaches to help them improve their fighting skills.

The coaches from Europe and the United States spoke English and the teaching materials were also in English, so over time, the English language skills of the Syrian soldiers and the opposition soldiers had improved greatly and it was not a big deal to speak English.

At that moment, one of them said to the other, "The western mountain side just said on the intercom that five people were killed and three wounded by lightning on the mountain, and two of the three wounded are still in a very urgent situation.

The other man shrugged his shoulders and spread his hands helplessly, saying: "The commander is not likely to agree, we are now very short of aviation paraffin, the remaining stock, a total of four helicopters can not meet several take-offs and landings, to save all for emergency situations, how can we waste a take-off and landing just for two wounded people!

He added, "There's not much diesel left, and it's a good thing the government forces haven't started organising an offensive yet, otherwise our helicopters and tanks would only last a day at most."

The man complained: "The world's oil is in the Middle East, but we're so short of fuel, it's ridiculous!"

Another man laughed: "We only have high crude oil production, but our refining strength is really poor. This time the commander just wants to knock the Americans for a sum of money and introduce a refining equipment, then we will have our own fuel supply in the future"

The man lamented, "I just don't know if the Americans are willing to pay or not, there don't seem to be any particularly good families among those eight people."

The other man said disdainfully, "If there's any trouble, just kill them all."

The commander said, "If the Americans don't pay today, we'll just do away with the eight Americans and record a video of the process and send it to the world's mainstream media, so that the Americans will lose face!"

The man from before couldn't help but rub his hands together and say, "Hey I like that blonde woman, I haven't tried a western woman until now I wonder if I have this chance to experience it I haven't touched a woman in three months, I miss it!"

The other guy gave a lewd laugh and nodded, "I prefer the dark haired oriental woman, very much a false sense of oriental mystery."

The previous man smiled and said, "Well, let's go back later and if we get the chance, we'll get rid of the guards and take the two women to another room and have a good time first"

"Well, let's go and have a look, maybe we'll get a chance... they'll be executed before long anyway... it's better to let us take care of them before they die"

The two said, laughing out loud together.

At that moment, a pair of large hands suddenly grabbed them from behind by the neck, making them unable to move or make any sound.

The owner of the large hands said in English: "If you don't want to die, drop the robbery!"

The one who spoke was none other than Ye Chen

Chapter 2657

The two opposition soldiers, deep down, were completely undefended when they talked earlier.

After all, this was their base, and not only were they surrounded by their own heavy troops, but even the ordinary people here were their supporters.

So, in their subconscious, as long as there is no fighting on the outside, they are absolutely safe inside.

But in this "absolutely safe" environment, a man from an unknown source suddenly appeared!

This immediately made the two of them feel extremely nervous.

This meant that if they wanted to use their guns against the enemy behind them, they had to load them and turn on the safety before they could pull the trigger.

However, this process would have taken a few seconds at the earliest.

The other man's hand around their necks was surprisingly strong, like a hydraulic clamp at the same time, making both of them firmly convinced that if the other man had any displeasure, it would most likely just snap both of their necks!

So, both of them very cooperatively dropped the guns in their hands to the ground, and then raised their hands.

One of them said nervously: "This friend, have a good talk, don't rush

Action ah!

Ye Chen said in a cold voice: "You two turn around.

The strength of the two people's necks in his hands was slightly loosened after Ye Chen finished speaking.

The two people did not dare to delay and hurriedly turned around, and when they saw Ye Chen, it was as if they had seen a ghost.

They had originally thought that this sudden appearance of this bogeyman must be an American.

The reason why they thought so was because there were two reasons.

The first reason was that they had captured eight young men from the United States in this battle with the government forces, and they had used these eight men as hostages to demand a huge ransom from the United States, so it made sense for the United States to send someone to rescue them.

The second reason was that they also knew that the combat power of the government troops was really not that bad compared to theirs, and if they were government soldiers, there was no way they could infiltrate them silently, only Schwarzenegger and Stallone in American blockbusters could do that.

But what they had never dreamed of was that the bogeyman in front of them was a yellow man with an East Asian face.

One of them asked nervously, "Who the hell are you, my friend? What do you want? !"

Ye Chen said in a cold voice: "You still

You are not qualified to ask me questions, as things stand now, it can only be me asking and you answering, and you have to answer honestly, whoever answers badly, I will finish him off, got it?

The two men hurriedly nodded their heads: "Understood, understood! If you have any questions, just ask!

Ye Chen asked: 'Where are the young Americans you captured now being held?'

One of them said, "Those eight people are being held in the cellar of Ansara's house!

The other hurriedly added: "Ansara's house, which is in the middle of the village, near the square!"

Ye Chen asked again, "What is the condition of the eight of them now? Are they all still alive?"

One man nodded and said offhandedly, "They are all alive now, but soon one will have to be chosen for execution first, the US Embassy is not willing to pay even now, our commander has decided to execute one person first to put a little pressure on the US Embassy.

Ye Chen continued: " How many entrances and exits are there in the cellar and how many people are guarding it?"

The man said, " There is only one entrance and exit to the cellar, four men are guarding the inside and almost a dozen outside, these guards usually live in Ansara's house."

Ye Chen asked him, "So if I want to go in, do you have any way to bring me in?"

Chapter 2658

"This" The man hesitated for a moment and spoke: "To be honest your others know at a glance that they are outsiders and there is nothing I can do to take you in"

Ye Chen pointed to the soldier beside him and asked him: "If I change, on his clothes, can you take me in?"

The man stammered: "If you change into his clothes and put on a mask, you should be able to enter the courtyard but, once you go down into the cellar, the guards in the cellar will definitely ask about your identity and the purpose of your visit.

He said, he hurriedly added: "Moreover, if you make a move against them, it is likely to alert the guards outside, there is only a narrow staircase to get in and out of the cellar, once the outside finds out, you can't escape at all, and if the outside just throws a grenade inside, none of the people inside will survive

Ye Chen said blandly, "You don't need to worry about that, you just need to bring me in."

The man had to nod and said nervously, "I can take you in, but but I still have to remind you that if you are not careful, you and I, as well as those eight people, may die inside

Ye Chen smiled faintly: "If you don't cooperate with me properly, you might die inside."

The man hurriedly said, "I match I will definitely cooperate"

"Good. Ye Chen nodded slightly in satisfaction, then looked at the other man and ordered in a cold voice, "Take off all your outer clothes"

The man was busy saying: "I can't take it off if you're pinching me like this"

Ye Chen smiled: "Fine, then I will let you go."

After he said that, he simply let go of his hand.

The man was delighted and pretended to take off his shirt, but his remaining light quietly surveyed Ye Chen, while his mind was racing.

He found that Ye Chen had no weapons on his hands or waist.

So, he thought to himself, "If I listen to him and take off my clothes for him, then he will probably kill me now, but if I look for a chance to escape now, he will probably not be able to catch up with me at all."

"What's more, he has my companion in his hands, which makes it even harder for him to split up."

"Plus, he's unarmed, and trying to hit me from a distance is impossible."

Even if he did have a gun and pulled it out to hit me with a shot, there was a certain probability that it wouldn't reach me, and even if it did, there was a certain probability that I wouldn't die

"And as soon as he shoots, everyone will focus their attention on this place, and by then he himself will have no way to escape"

"Because of that, I think the chances of him shooting would be even less"

"If you look at it this way, it's better to run away."

When he thought of this, he immediately made up his mind to escape while he had the chance.

So, he took off his jacket and pretended to hand it to Ye Chen. Immediately afterwards, he suddenly threw the jacket into Ye Chen's face, turned around and ran backwards.

However, just as he was about to run, he suddenly found that his feet felt like they were firmly sucked in by the ground, and he could not lift a single inch.

At this moment, he thought he had met the devil, and looked at Ye Chen in a daze, his eyes full of shock and despair.

Ye Chen smiled faintly and said with an apologetic face, "Sorry, I just blocked your nerve centre with my aura, you can't move anywhere below your neck now."

When these words came out, not only the soldier who couldn't move, but also the guy who was held by Ye Chen was scared out of his wits.

They didn't know what aura was, but the fact that this thing could make a living person suddenly unable to move, this kind of ability was far beyond their normal perception.

Ye Chen looked at the terrified expression of the guy in front of him and sneered, saying: "Oh my friend, originally I did want to leave you alive, but you are really insensitive, turning your face to overturn our friendship boat, since this is the case, then don't blame me for not showing any mercy

Chapter 2659

3-4 minutes

After hearing Ye Chen's words, the man hurriedly blurted out a plea: "Friend, friend, I really didn't mean it.

Ye Chen shook his head: "Sorry, there is only one chance. If you have an afterlife, remember never to betray someone who considers you a friend.

The man was so frightened that his face turned pale, and he opened his mouth to cry out for help in order to take one last shot.

At this point, he saw it as his last chance.

If he could attract the others' attention, there was a chance that he would survive.

Even if he didn't survive, he could at least cause some trouble for the orientalist in front of him.

If his whereabouts were revealed, the chances were that he would not be able to leave here alive either.

So, he immediately said, "Help!

However, when he opened his mouth to shout for help, he was shocked to find that the volume of his voice seemed to be limited by some strange power, so that his cry for help was almost inaudible.

He looked at Ye Chen in horror and asked, trembling, "Are you a human being or not?"

Ye Chen smiled blandly and said, "This question is no longer important to you, because you will soon become a lonely ghost"

After saying that, Ye Chen hurriedly changed his words and said, "Don't mean it, it's a mistake, I'm not going to let you become a lonely ghost, it's better to let you become a living dead person

After he said that, he stretched out his finger and lightly touched his forehead, he lost all consciousness and fell to the ground at once, his eyes wide and dead.

Just now, when Ye Chen lightly touched his forehead, a trace of aura completely destroyed his brain, causing him to be brain dead in an instant.

At this time, the man who had been strangled by Ye Chen was so frightened that he was about to faint.

He had never seen a godly man like Ye Chen in his life, who was so powerful that it was unbelievable.

A single word could make his companion immobile, a slight point made his companion die instantly and violently, this kind of person was simply more terrifying than the devil

Seeing that he was scared out of his wits, Ye Chen spoke, "You don't need to be so scared, as long as you can honestly cooperate with me, then I will leave you alive, I'll do what I say."

The man panicked to the extreme and said, "I will

I will. I will be honest.

I will cooperate with you honestly.

Ye Chen saw that he was stuttering badly, and when he looked down at his legs, he found that his legs were wobbling violently, and he was clearly scared out of his wits.

This made him feel a bit headstrong.

Because, if this guy kept panicking like this, then even if he could take himself to the place where He Zhiqiu was being held, he would still be seen to be broken.

Chapter 2660

Thinking of this, Ye Chen sighed helplessly and said: "Since your mental quality is so poor, then I'll give you a mental implication.

After saying that, he immediately gently clicked on the other party's head and spoke: "From now on, your only task is to do whatever I instruct you to do with all your might, do you understand?"

This moment, the other person's entire eyes instantly a little dull, after more than ten seconds to return to normal, respectfully said to Ye Chen: "Listen to understand

The person at this time, has completely no longer just panic, speech is no longer stuttering, legs also no longer shaking.

Only then did Ye Chen put his mind at ease, pointed at the man lying on the ground and spoke, "Take his trousers off and put him in place, just make sure he won't be found tonight."

"Good.

The other party answered and immediately went forward to take off the man's trousers, then carried his entire body and hid him in a small abandoned courtyard's dilapidated house nearby.

Ye Chen put the man's clothes and trousers straight on, and the man he had made a mental note to come running back and said respectfully: "Arrangements have been made as you ordered

Ye Chen nodded and asked him, "What is your name?"

The man said, "My name is Faisal."

Ye Chen asked him, "Faisal, do you have a mask on you?"

Faisal hurriedly took out a black mask in a plastic bag from his pocket and said, "This was just issued two days ago and I haven't used it yet."

Ye Chen nodded, took it and opened it. It was the kind of hood that completely covered the head, not only wrapping the head, but also covering most of the face, with only a slit at the eye level.

Ye Chen asked Faisal: "If I wear this, will I look a bit too different?"

He said with certainty, "In fact, many people are already used to wearing hoods, on the one hand to prevent their faces from being remembered by outsiders, and on the other hand to protect them from the wind and sand, in addition to this there is another reason, because the commander is afraid of the other side launching a decapitation operation, so he requires some people to wear hoods whenever they go out, and he himself is the same, so that this can effectively interfere with the other side's judgment."

Only then did Ye Chen put his heart down, and after putting the hood over his head, he spoke: "Alright, you can take me there now."

Faisal nodded without hesitation, then bent down and picked up the two AK47s, and handed one of them to Ye Chen, saying: "Please put the gun on your back."

Ye Chen was not worried that he would resist with the gun, so he took the AK47 himself and hung it on his body in a decent manner, then walked with Faisal towards the centre of the village.

Along the way, they met many soldiers who happened to pass by or patrol the village, and some recognised Faisal and greeted him.

As for Ye Chen, who was wearing a hood, he didn't say a word and no one took the initiative to greet him, because when a person wears a hood, only those who know him well can recognise who he is.

In fact, this was instead the safest, because their troop seemed to be one or two thousand strong, and none of them could really be very familiar with each and every one of them, so if they could not recognise Ye Chen, they would only classify him into the group of comrades they were unfamiliar with, without the slightest suspicion that Ye Chen could be an alien intruder.

When he arrived at the square in the centre of the village, Ye Chen found that many soldiers were busy in front of the four helicopters, so Ye Chen asked Faisal in a low voice: "What are those people doing?"

Faisal hurriedly replied, "They are all from the helicopter brigade, most of them are maintenance personnel, today's overcast weather and poor visibility will limit our visual observation a lot, so we will take turns to send helicopters up to patrol the area later to monitor if any government troops are quietly approaching us nearby."

Ye Chen nodded and remembered something, so he asked him, "By the way, do you know how to fly a helicopter?"

Faisal shook his head, "I can't I'm in the armoured brigade and can drive tanks and infantry vehicles.

Ye Chen nodded his head, he did not have a clear plan on how to escape with He Zhiqiu after saving her.

If he were to save He Zhiqiu alone, it would be fine, even if he carried her out quietly and walked several dozen kilometres to meet up with Chen Zekai and the others.

However, if he had to save He Zhiqiu and her seven other friends, it would be very difficult for him to do so on his own.

Thinking about this, he put the question to the back of his mind and thought, "Now is not the time to think about this, let's see the people first."