

Ye Chen 3311

Chapter 3311

Gu Yanzhong's words caused Ye Chen's heart to remain unsettled for a long time.

When he thought of his father leaving Yanjing with such resignation and loss, depressed and unmotivated, and finally dying in another country, Ye Chen's heart was as painful as a knife twisting.

In the past, he did not want to have too much involvement with the Ye family because he knew that his father's relationship with the Ye family had ended up in a stalemate, and even the Ye family had to take part of the blame for his parents' death.

It was for this reason that he had always avoided the Ye family, not getting entangled with them as much as possible.

And Gu Yanzhong's words again made him understand that his father, in the Ye family, had in fact always been resentful!

Because, back then, it was the Ye family that had wronged him! It was the Ye family that failed him! They had failed him!

As Gu Yanzhong said, his father had died of hatred, and as his only son, he should not only seek justice for him, but also carry his banner and inherit his legacy!

Only in this way can we truly console his spirit!

Otherwise, no matter how powerful and rich he was, if he was unable to carry on his legacy, he would not be able to make up for his father's great regret before he died!

With this in mind, Ye Chen silently poured himself a glass of white wine, lifted the glass with both hands and said solemnly to Gu Yanzhong, "Uncle Gu, thank you for your enlightenment! I will definitely inherit my father's legacy and become the head of the Ye family, making the Ye family stand on top of the world!"

As he said this, he said with a cold expression, "Before I achieve my ultimate goal, I want to make the entire Ye Family submit to me! I want the entire Ye Family to honestly follow my footsteps! No one, no one shall ever leave my father alone halfway up the mountain like he did twenty years ago!"

"Good!" Gu Yanzhong was overwhelmed with excitement as he bellowed and rose to his feet, "Chen'er! No matter what time it is, remember that you are Ye Chang Ying's son! You must carry your father's banner, stand at the top of this world, and make all the top families submit to you! Let the Ye family, the Su family, the Rothschilds, all kneel before you and worship you!"

At this point, he looked up to the sky and sighed, "I hope I can see this moment come in my lifetime! That way, I, Gu Yanzhong, can take this news with me to your father and mother, and then I will have no regrets in my life! I will then have no regrets in my life!"

This night in Yanjing, many people fell into insomnia.

As Ye Chen lay on the bed in the guest room of the Gu family, his mind was thinking about how to become the head of the Ye family and how to make the Ye family stand on top of the world.

At the same time, he thought of the Master of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall, Wan Bajun, who had yet to show his face.

He knew that Wan Bajun's goal was this time the Ye Family's Ancestral Ritual Ceremony.

Therefore, he surmised in his mind that tomorrow, the day after tomorrow at the latest, Wan Broken Jun would come from behind the curtain to the front of the stage.

Wan Bajun would definitely appear with the power he thought was enough to crush the Ye Family, which, for the Ye Family, would be a disaster, but for himself, it was an opportunity!

People say that if you don't break, you can't stand.

The Ye family, under the leadership of Elder Ye for so many years, had developed steadily and steadily. If he were to come back and take away his power for no reason, he would definitely be reduced to a rebellious son in the eyes of everyone.

Therefore, if you want to take away the old man's power, you must have a good reputation.

And Wan Xiaojun was the best opportunity to do so!

With this in mind, Ye Chen thought to himself, "Let Wan Bajun make his debut and put on a good show, so that the day he shakes the Ye family to its core is the day I take over the power of the Ye family!"

At the same time, Wan Bajun, who was also in Yanjing, was also unable to sleep for a long time.

It was just after twelve in the morning when he tore off yesterday's calendar with his own hands and looked at the words "April 4th", lost in thought for a long time.

Chapter 3312

The defeat of Chen Zhonglei and more than 10,000 soldiers of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall in Syria certainly made him angry and caused him heartache, but as the 5th of April drew nearer and nearer, he no longer thought about Chen Zhonglei's death and the blow that defeat had dealt to the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall.

Right now, all he could think about was avenging his parents, so that his parents could rest in peace.

In this regard, Wan Bajun and Ye Chen were both filial sons, both harbouring a deep hatred for their parents, and both having a determination to overturn everything and claim everything back.

At this moment, Wan Bajun stepped out of the room and stood in the courtyard, looking at the dozens of cheap coffins in the courtyard, his eyes full of solemnity.

At that moment, his right-hand man, Lu Haotian, walked up to him and asked, "Hall Master, why haven't you rested yet?"

"Can't sleep." Wan Bajun muttered, "If only that Ye Chang Ying were still alive, I would have chopped off his head with my own hands in front of my parents' graves, so as to console their souls!"

Lu Haotian said, "Hall Master, you don't have to think like that, if that Ye Chang Ying had lived until now, wouldn't he have lived for another 20 years? That would be a real bargain for him!"

Saying that, Lu Haotian added: "Moreover, Hall Master, according to my investigation and understanding, when Ye Chang Ying died it was very tragic, it is said that when he crashed the car, his entire internal organs, were ruptured by the steering wheel, his wife was even worse, stuck in the passenger side unable to escape and was burned alive."

"Well" Wan Bajun nodded gently and said lightly, "It makes my heart feel slightly better to think that they died so tragically."

Lu Haotian said, "Hall Master, if you feel uncomfortable in your heart, I will lead someone to carry these coffins to the Ye family now!"

Wan Bajun waved his hand and spoke, "This kind of thing is better done in broad daylight to shock everyone, tomorrow I will not only make the Ye family realise that a great calamity is coming, but also let all the families in Yanjing know that the son of that Wan Liancheng back then has returned!"

After saying that, he stared at those coffins and coldly snorted with disdain, "Tonight, let's just let the Ye family sleep one last good night, tomorrow morning at ten o'clock sharp, carry all these coffins to the Ye family!"

"As ordered, Hall Master!"

The next day, Ye Chen got up from his bed very early.

Today was the plenary session before the Ye Family's Ancestral Ritual, and all the Ye Family members, including the side branches outside, would be present.

If it was yesterday, Ye Chen would have felt that it didn't matter, as long as he arrived, it was no big deal whether he was early or late.

But today, for him, the meaning of it all had changed forever.

If he wanted to become the head of the Ye family, then today was extraordinarily important to Ye Chen.

This was because today was the first time he had officially returned after twenty years away from the Ye Family.

Therefore, today was very important to him.

The couple, Gu Yanzhong and Lin Wanqiu, had risen even earlier.

When they saw Ye Chen come out of the guest room, dressed in jeans and a T-shirt, Lin Wanqiu hurriedly said, "Chen'er, didn't you bring a suit with you this time?"

Ye Chen said, "Auntie Lin, butler Tang told me before that the clothing for the ancestral ceremony was custom-made by the Ye family, so I didn't bring it myself."

Lin Wanqiu nodded and said incomparably seriously, "You are returning to the Ye family for the first time today, it is very important what kind of first impression you leave on them, you can't dress too casually and let others underestimate you!"

As she said that, she pulled Ye Chen and smiled, "Auntie had a suit specially made for you the other day, so come and try it on!"

Chapter 3313

Ye Chen did not expect that Lin Wanqiu had prepared a suit especially for himself.

When he was wondering, Gu Yanzhong, who was at the side, said with a smile, "Your Auntie Lin was afraid that when you came to Yanjing, you didn't prepare a suit yourself, so she specially asked the best custom-made suit master in London to make one for you."

Ye Chen thanked, "Thank you, Auntie Lin!"

Lin Wanqiu smiled, "Why are you still polite with auntie? I estimated the size of the suit for the past, I don't know if it will fit you, come and try it on."

At this time, Gu Qiuyi, who was wearing a dressing gown, also came out of the room with a yawn and said with a smile, "Brother Ye Chen, the suit my mother ordered for you is particularly handsome, it is said that many prime ministers and presidents in Europe and North America are regular customers of that master! You should go and try it on!"

Ye Chen was too gracious to refuse, so he followed the mother-daughter duo to the separate cloakroom upstairs.

The Gu family's walk-in cloakroom, which was larger than a normal bedroom, was at least forty square metres in size. Lin Wanqiu led Ye Chen to a dressing mirror that covered the entire wall, and then took out a brand new black suit from the wardrobe next to it.

Gu Qiuyi then took out an ironed, wrinkle-free white shirt and a tie from the wardrobe next to her.

Lin Wanqiu handed the suit to Ye Chen and said with a smile, "Chen'er, try it on to see if it fits."

Ye Chen said, slightly embarrassed, "Auntie Lin, is there an empty room where I can try on the clothes?"

Gu Qiuyi hurriedly said, "Mum, you should go out first, otherwise brother Ye Chen will be shy, I'll just help him change here."

Ye Chen said helplessly, "Nui Nui, I can do it myself, why don't you also go back first?"

Gu Qiuyi said, "I'm already your child bride, so I have to avoid changing my clothes."

Ye Chen blurted out, "How does that make her a child bride"

Gu Qiuyi said seriously, "I've been promised to you since I was a child, what's the difference between this and a child bride?"

Lin Wanqiu then said with a smile at the side, "All right Nui Nui, don't tease Chen'er, let's go out first and let Chen'er change himself before we come in."

Gu Qiuyi looked at Ye Chen, smiled wickedly, pulled the tie off her shirt, held it in her hand and shook it, and said, "Brother Ye Chen, I'll tie it for you later."

After saying that, she went out of the cloakroom together with her mother.

Meanwhile, Helena, who was at Buckingham Palace, had also gotten up from bed.

Last night, she had not rested all night because she had been worried that she would go east.

At first, she couldn't sleep for a long time, but when she did, she kept having all kinds of nightmares and slept for less than two hours intermittently.

She was already in poor health, and the lack of rest she had received in the days she had been in China had made her health a little worse, so last night's ordeal had simply added to her misery.

When she got up, she felt that her heartbeat had been racing uncontrollably and she was almost on the verge of losing control.

She hurriedly took out a nitroglycerin tablet and put it under her tongue, which made her feel a little better.

However, she was still in a very poor state.

At the thought of being at Ye's house almost all day today and tomorrow, Helena wondered if her body would be able to hold up.

Chapter 3314

But she knew that even if she couldn't make it, she had to make it, and that her mother's future dependence on her was basically all up to her.

At that moment, she suddenly received a phone call from her mother from Scandinavia, and as soon as the call was answered, her mother said on the other end of the line, "Helena, the royal family has just informed us that your grandmother is in multiple organ failure and is already in a severe coma, she may pass away at any time"

Helena was instantly shocked, "How did it deteriorate so fast?!"

"It's not clear." Helena's mother spoke up, "I only heard that the situation has deteriorated rapidly and is out of control, the doctor said it is impossible for her to wake up, when she will pass away is just a matter of time, two or three days at the most if it is fast, if it is slow, it will not be more than a week."

Helena couldn't help but feel a little sad and lost.

Although there were times when she was more than a little upset at her grandmother's strong hand, there were many times when she could understand all the decisions that the tough old woman made.

This, naturally, included her annulment of her right to succeed to the throne.

Although Grandma had held great power for so many years, she had always served the royal family to the best of her ability, with the single-minded hope that it would continue to grow stronger.

So, too, every decision she made was not made in her own interest, but with the greater good of the royal family in mind.

For this, Helena still admired her.

Now, her grandmother was soon to pass away, but she was still in China, 10,000 miles away, which made her heart inevitably sad.

At this moment, Helena's mother added, "If your grandmother passes away in these few days, I'm afraid your engagement party will have to be postponed. According to the rules of the royal family, you will definitely have to come back for your grandmother's funeral first, and then after attending Olivia's coronation ceremony, then go to China to hold an engagement party with Ye Feng."

"Understood." Helena spoke with understanding, "As a member of the royal family, the funeral of the Queen and the coronation of the new Emperor are naturally the two most important events."

As she spoke, Helena couldn't help but ask, "Mum, can I go back to see my grandmother one last time before she dies? The engagement party will definitely have to be postponed and there's no point in me staying here, and if I go back after Grandma has passed away, then I won't have that chance."

Helena's mother sighed and said, "We can't even decide this matter, you have to ask Olivia what she thinks. "

"Yes!" Helena said hurriedly, "Then I'll call Olivia right now."

Immediately after saying goodbye to her mother, Helena called her cousin, and soon to be crowned next Queen, Olivia.

The phone rang for a long time, but was not answered, and just as Helena was about to hang up and call back later, the call was answered.

Immediately, a woman's voice rang out with a slight smile, "Helena, how are you doing in China, my sister?"

Helena said busily, "Olivia, I heard that Grandma has been critically ill?"

The other side smiled and said, "Yes sister, multiple organ failure, the doctors have prepared us mentally to lose her at any moment."

Helena found Olivia's soft laughter a little harsh, but couldn't be bothered to dwell on that at the moment and asked her urgently, "Olivia, if Grandma is that bad, then she might not be able to wait for the day I get engaged before she dies"

"I'm sure I'll have to go back for mourning and the engagement will have to be postponed, so I'd like to explain the situation to the Ye family and postpone the engagement for the time being, so I can go back to see my grandmother one last time first, is that okay?"

The other side of the phone was silent for a moment, and then, the other side lost the smile they had just had and asked in a cold voice, "If I remember correctly, you're getting engaged on the seventh, right?"

"Right." Helena blurted out, "Three more days! I'm afraid my grandmother won't make it through those three days, and then I won't see her for the last time."

The other man sneered, "Helena, Grandma is in a coma and won't wake up, so even if you come back, she won't recognise you. No matter whether she is dead or alive in three days, your engagement to the Ye family will go ahead as scheduled, no change will be allowed!"

Chapter 3315

Helena had not expected her cousin to suddenly become so desperate.

She subconsciously blurted out, "If my grandmother had died before my engagement, how could the engagement ceremony have gone ahead? If word got out that my grandmother had died and I was still holding the engagement party as usual, not only would the outside world spit on me, they would spit on the entire royal family!"

Olivia on the other end of the line said coldly, "Don't worry, I'll let her survive the three days as long as I can, and even if she does die in those three days, I won't let the news out, I'll wait until after your engagement to announce it."

Helena was furious, "How can you do that? What do you take Grandma for? A tool to be controlled by you?!"

Olivia snapped, "Helena! You remember that! It doesn't matter if she lives or dies now! Your marriage to the Ye family is the most important thing! The Ye family has promised to invest three billion euros in a joint venture with the royal family to develop tourist properties in Europe immediately after you and Ye Feng get married.

Helena was furious and shouted angrily, "Olivia! I've always treated you like my own sister and my mother has treated you like a daughter since I was a little girl, and now you're going too far!"

Olivia sneered, "Helena, Olivia is not what you should be called! Remember, you will call me Her Majesty!"

With that, Olivia added threateningly, "Helena! I know you're not well, but you mark my words! You'd better keep yourself alive for a few more years to make sure that the cooperation between the royal family and the Ye family can be landed, and never, ever let anything happen to this matter! Otherwise, I will definitely throw your mother out of the royal family and leave her on the streets!"

"How dare you!" Helena's entire body was furious to the extreme and she roared through gritted teeth, "If you dare to touch my mother, I will kill you!"

Olivia laughed coldly, "Helena, you'd better be clear about the situation now, after my grandmother dies, I will immediately ascend to the throne as the new Queen, who are you to kill me? With your congenital heart condition? I advise you to save your breath!"

At this point, Olivia laughed contemptuously and said, "Helena, don't say I won't give you a chance, as long as you complete your marriage with the Ye family, then find a way to live a few more years and stay honestly in China, I will guarantee your mother's life, otherwise, don't blame me for disregarding my relatives' feelings!"

Helena felt a shiver run down her spine. Originally, she had thought that the most threatening thing to the royal family was her mother's future retirement and livelihood.

But now she realised that with Olivia, that line had been drawn even lower, and she had even begun to threaten herself with her mother's life.

In this moment, she felt that Olivia, on the other end of the phone, had instantly become an unbearable stranger.

She really couldn't understand why this sister, whom she had known for twenty-three years, was such a snake in the heart.

But she knew very well that if she insisted on confronting Olivia, her mother's life would really be in danger, because Olivia was now in control of the entire royal family and was about to ascend to the throne as empress, and her mother was just a widow struggling to survive within the royal family, how could she be a match for Olivia.

So she immediately said, "Olivia, I can agree to all your demands, but you must also agree to one condition!"

Olivia sneered, "Good! You might as well say it."

Helena said word for word, "I can join hands with the Ye family and help you attract the Ye family's funds, but you must let my mother come to China, I want to receive her into my care!"

Olivia snorted coldly as if she had heard a big joke, "Helena, you are simply being whimsical, don't you still understand why you have to go to China alone and attend the Ye family's ancestral ritual? It's to keep you and your mother apart, so for your wedding with Ye Feng, although the royal family will send many representatives to attend, they will definitely not let your mother go there!"

Speaking of this, Olivia laughed lightly, "From now on, you will not be allowed to return to Northern Europe half a step, nor will you be allowed to leave Northern Europe half a step, until one of you dies! If you dare to return, it will not be easy for either of you!"

Chapter 3316

Helena's entire body had nearly collapsed!

Only now did she understand that the royal family had asked herself to come to China early to attend the Ye family's ancestral ritual, but it was actually this idea!

"So, Olivia had already started planning this a long time ago!"

"Separating me from my mother and using her as blackmail to force me to give in, Olivia, you are really a devil!"

Furious, she blurted out, "Olivia, you can't do this! If you don't send my mother to China, I will never marry Ye Feng!"

Olivia said disdainfully, "Whatever, anyway, your mother is now under surveillance by my people, she has no chance to leave the palace half a step, if you don't marry Ye Feng as promised, then your mother will completely disappear from this world, no one knows where she goes, no one even knows if she is dead or alive!"

Saying this, Olivia laughed harshly, "So, do you think I will kill her, or kill her?"

Helena's brain was instantly dizzy and she just felt like her heart was beating far faster than her heart could carry on its own.

She felt worse than ever at this point and all she could do was say in a trembling voice, "Olivia, if I have a heart attack and die in China, will you spare my mother?"

Olivia sneered, "Don't give me any more drama. I asked your health care doctor and he said that you should still have three to five years to live.

Olivia threatened, "Helena, my good sister, just now, your mother has been taken away by my guards and placed under house arrest, from now on, don't even think about being able to contact her, just stay alive in China and be a noblewoman, as long as you cooperate, your mother will live longer too! I have a lot of business to attend to before I ascend the throne, so that's all for now my sister!"

After Olivia had said this, she hung up straight away without waiting for Helena to say anything.

By this time, Helena's entire being had completely collapsed.

She immediately called her mother, but her mobile phone was switched off.

She immediately called the landline in her room, but it was unanswered for a long time.

At that moment, Helena's whole being was in despair.

She felt her heart beating faster and faster and more and more chaotically, and the pressure was rushing to her head and chest, making her brain more and more dizzy and making it harder and harder to breathe.

Immediately afterwards, she felt her eyes go black and her whole body instantly collapsed to the ground, completely losing consciousness.

Just then, Ye Feng, dressed in a black suit, stepped in front of the door to Helena's room.

He rang the doorbell and waited patiently for a while, but finding no movement inside, he simply tapped on the door and spoke, "Honey, I'm Ye Feng, I'm here to pick you up, are you ready?"

Chapter 3317

At this moment, there was still no response in the room.

Ye Feng was a little suspicious, so he couldn't help but increase the strength of his hand again, rapping hard on the door and shouting, "Helena, are you there?"

There was still no movement in the room.

At that moment, the door of the next room opened and two young women, one with a Nordic face and one with a Chinese face, came out.

Ye Feng recognised them, the two women, as the attendants Olivia had brought over from Northern Europe.

So he opened his mouth and asked the Chinese girl, "Where is your princess?"

The Chinese girl spoke, "In the room."

"How can that be!" Ye Feng frowned and said, "I knocked on the door for half a day, but no one attended to me, did she go out?"

"I don't think so." The girl spoke up, "If the princess is going out, she would usually tell us."

With that, she also came over and knocked hard on Helena's door, shouting, "Your Highness, Your Highness, are you there?"

There was no response from the room.

The Chinese girl's expression suddenly changed and she immediately took out the room card in her pocket and swiped it at the door, which opened in response to the sound.

Immediately afterwards, the two girls rushed in, one after the other.

Ye Feng hurriedly followed them in, but before he could enter the room, he heard a panicked shout from inside, "Your Highness, wake up, Your Highness!"

When Ye Feng rushed in, he saw that Helena was lying unconscious on the living room carpet.

The Chinese girl immediately began to apply heart compressions to Helena's heart, while urging Ye Feng, "Call an ambulance!"

"Oh oh oh" Only then did Ye Feng come back to his senses, he still hadn't figured out what was going on here, but he could only hurriedly take out his mobile phone and dial the emergency number first.

As soon as the call came through, the operator immediately asked, "Hello, emergency centre, how can I help you?"

Ye Feng said in a panic, "Uh That I've got someone fainted on my side Uh Need an ambulance!"

The operator hurriedly inquired, "Yes, please state the address?"

Ye Feng said offhandedly, "The address is the Buckingham Palace Hotel The room number is Room number Oops crap, I can't remember it all of a sudden"

The Chinese girl shouted, "8th floor! 8108!"

Ye Feng was busy saying, "Oh oh, 8th floor, 8108!"

The caller said, "Okay received, Buckingham Palace Hotel, 8th floor, 8108, also what is the condition of the patient that caused the fainting?"

"What caused it?" Ye Feng was confused and said, "This I don't know either It's just that he fainted and was unconscious"

The Chinese girl shouted, "Congenital heart disease! Severe tetralogy of Fallot! Please send emergency personnel over immediately, and please contact a hospital with emergency cardiology to prepare to receive it!"

Ye Feng was stunned, thinking to himself, "Helena has congenital heart disease? Or is it severe? Did that Ye Chen really get it right?"

While Ye Feng was in a daze, the operator on the other end of the phone had already heard the Chinese girl's voice and hurriedly said, "Yes, I'll arrange it for you! Please make sure you keep the phone open!"

At that moment, the Chinese girl said again to the Scandinavian girl in front of her, "Emily, Her Royal Highness is in a very serious condition, please go and get the defibrillator!"

"Yes!" The girl immediately ran back into the room and in ten seconds or so she came running in with a first aid kit.

As soon as she reached Helena's side, she immediately took out a portable defibrillator from the first aid kit and began to prepare the defibrillator for switching on. The Chinese girl glanced at Ye Feng and shouted, "Get out! We're going to defibrillate Her Highness!"

Chapter 3318

Ye Feng subconsciously said, "It's okay, I'll just watch here, no delay for you"

The Chinese girl shouted offhandedly, "Defibrillation is to take off your clothes! Don't you understand the principle of "Don't look at me unless I'm polite"? Hurry up and get out!"

Ye Feng had to slink out of the room.

At that moment, inside the room, one of the two girls continued to do external chest compressions on Helena, while the other prepared the defibrillator, ripped open Helena's pajamas and spoke, "The defibrillator is ready!"

"Yes!" The Chinese girl blurted out, "I'm going to count to one, two, three, and after three seconds my hands will be disengaged and you will defibrillate immediately!"

"Yes!"

The Chinese girl shouted as she continued to apply compressions to Helena, "One, two, three! Defibrillate!"

As she finished, she withdrew her hands like lightning, and the other girl skilfully took advantage of the gap to place the defibrillator against Helena's heart and, with a bang, performed the first defibrillation.

As soon as the defibrillation was over, the Chinese girl immediately continued with the compressions, while observing Helena's condition and spoke, "The princess is still awake, I'll do a few more CPRs, you keep preparing the defibrillation!"

"Okay!"

Two minutes later, when the Chinese girl saw that Helena hadn't woken up, she couldn't help but panic a little and spoke, "Energy up to 360 joules, prepare to defibrillate!"

The other girl was startled at this and was about to ask something but held it back.

She also knew that the situation was urgent and that she had to take a chance.

So, she immediately adjusted the defibrillator parameters and performed a second defibrillation.

Unfortunately, this time Helena was still unresponsive.

Both girls panicked a little at this point, and the Chinese girl gritted her teeth and said, "Prepare the adrenaline"

The other Scandinavian girl asked in a panic, "Use adrenaline now? The doctor has instructed that the princess must use adrenaline carefully with her heart and not use it until she has to, because I'm afraid she won't last long afterwards"

The Chinese girl blurted out, "If we don't use it, the princess won't even be saved! No matter what, we can't just let the princess go like this, we have to let her leave her last words no matter what, otherwise we can't go back and explain to Princess Olivia!"

Saying that, the Chinese girl added, "In her current condition, if we delay another minute, the princess won't be able to wake up again!"

"Alright!" The Scandinavian girl gritted her teeth and took out a closed packaged syringe from the first aid kit, which was already filled with a small amount of clear liquid medicine.

The Chinese girl took the syringe from her hand and, while tearing the package, instructed, "Take out your phone and prepare to record!"

"Yes!" The Scandinavian girl agreed, and then pulled out her mobile phone and turned on the video.

The Chinese girl then aimed the tip of the needle at Helena's heart, and then stabbed it without hesitation.

The most effective way to administer adrenaline at a time like this was to administer it directly intracardially.

The doctor had said long ago that Helena's body was such that no adrenaline should be used until it was absolutely necessary, because once it was, the stimulation her heart suffered would cause her other cardiovascular diseases to flare up instantly.

But there was no other way out now, and only adrenaline could bring Helena back, even if only for a few minutes, than to just die outright.

And sure enough!

After a shot of adrenaline was injected into Helena's heart, Helena's heart instantly resumed beating.

However, at this point, the heart had become a boiler on the verge of exploding, and even if it barely resumed functioning, it was only at the end of its strength.

Immediately afterwards, Helena, who was in a coma, suddenly opened her eyes!

Chapter 3319

Although she had been unconscious for only a few minutes, for Helena it had seemed like a century in the dark!

So the moment she woke up, she breathed heavily as if she had been diving under the sea and had used up all her oxygen before finally coming up at the last minute.

Immediately afterwards, her vision returned and her other senses were gradually restored.

Seeing the two men in front of her, she immediately realised that she had been saved by her two attendants, both of whom were very well trained in first aid and had followed her around this time to ensure her safety.

She then felt another sharp pain coming from her heart and looked down only to see the Chinese girl holding, surprisingly, an adrenaline syringe.

Nervously, she asked, "You You injected me with adrenaline?"

The Chinese girl said with a mortified expression, "Sorry, Princess Helena, your situation just now was so critical that I could only choose to inject adrenaline to wake you up."

With that, she pointed to the mobile phone held in the other girl's hand and spoke, "This phone is recording, if you have any last words, please hurry and say them to the camera"

Helena gave a bitter smile and said, "If I'm right, you are also sent by Olivia to spy on me, right?"

The Chinese girl did not say anything because she knew that the video was now being recorded and once Helena died, it was to be given to Princess Olivia in its original form, so she could never miss any words herself.

Seeing that she didn't say anything, Helena shook her head gently and said weakly, "Actually, I don't blame you, if I hadn't been given the adrenaline injection, I would probably have died and not had the chance to leave my last words, and in the end, I have you to thank for that."

The Chinese girl lowered her head in shame, not daring to look at Helena.

At that moment, Helena also turned to look at the camera and said word for word, "Olivia, I don't know what made you become what you are now, but I beg you to let my mother live for the sake of my imminent death, otherwise, I will turn into a fierce ghost and crawl out of hell to take your life!"

As soon as the words left her mouth, she felt her heart beating at a violent rate.

The side effects of the adrenaline were already beginning to show.

She covered her heart to death and could feel the violent beating of her heart, which not only shook her heart to the point of pain, but also shook her palms to the point of numbness.

Just then, the emergency personnel from the ambulance had arrived.

Ye Feng hurriedly slammed the door at the entrance and shouted, "The ambulance crew is here, open the door quickly!"

The Chinese girl hurriedly found a bathrobe and wrapped Helena up, while the other Scandinavian girl also stopped the video recording.

Helena then said weakly, "Please do me another favour, don't let these people in, my body will definitely produce acute heart failure after the adrenaline injection, I can't be saved, why don't you let me stay here, this last bit of time, I want to spend it alone in peace and quiet."

The Chinese girl said hurriedly, "Your Highness, when you arrive at the hospital to cooperate with the treatment, perhaps the doctor still has a way to extend your life"

Helena laughed bitterly, "Extending it would only be a day or a dozen hours, there is no point, just to live those ten hours more, with all kinds of tubes all over my body and surrounded by all kinds of instruments, I really can't accept it, I'd rather die with dignity."

The two girls looked at each other and the Chinese girl blurted out, "Your Highness, please don't give up even if there is a glimmer of hope!"

After saying this, she immediately stood up and opened the door to the room.

The ambulance crew immediately rushed in with a stretcher.

They were clearly surprised to see a defibrillator and injected adrenaline.

The Chinese girl hurriedly said to one of the paramedics, "We have given the patient CPR and defibrillation, and one milligram of epinephrine was injected intracardially, please take the patient to the most authoritative cardiovascular type hospital as soon as possible!"

Chapter 3320

The EMTs didn't expect there to be two other professionals here, but at this point they couldn't be bothered to ask too many questions and hurriedly greeted a few people to carry Helena onto a stretcher.

Ye Feng was a bit frazzled, but he felt that he could not help much, so he did not know what to do.

As soon as the phone call came through, he hurriedly reported what had happened to Ye Zhongquan.

When Ye Zhongquan heard about it, his heart thumped, fearing that Helena would die in China at this time, he hurriedly said to Ye Feng, "Tell the emergency personnel to send her directly to the hospital affiliated to the Ye Group, where there is the best cardiovascular department in the country! We'll rush there immediately too!"

Only then did Ye Feng remember that his own hospital was a great authority in this area, so he hurriedly agreed and said to the emergency personnel, "Send her to the Ye Group Hospital!"

The hospital attached to the Ye Group, like the Buckingham Palace Hotel, was a wholly-owned property of the Ye Family.

Moreover, for the sake of convenience, the Ye family had built both the affiliated hospital and the Buckingham Palace Hotel, near their own estate.

From the Buckingham Palace Hotel, the distance to either the Ye family's hospital or the Ye family's manor was very close.

The ambulance raced all the way to the emergency centre of the Ye family's hospital and had arrived in a few minutes' time.

At the same time, Ye Zhongquan also immediately postponed the time of his relatives' visit, from 9 o'clock, to 9:30.

He then took the Ye family's immediate family members and headed to the hospital in a blaze of glory.

The Northern European royal princess had suffered a heart attack at the Ye family, and once she died, it would have a huge impact on the Ye family's reputation, so Ye Zhongquan could only postpone everything for a while and rush over as fast as possible.

The Ye family, arriving at the hospital at almost the same time as Ye Feng.

Before Ye Zhongquan could ask about the situation, he directly asked all the experts in the cardiovascular department to gather in the resuscitation room to conduct a full consultation for Helena.

By this time, Helena's condition was getting worse and worse.

After ten minutes, several specialists came to a unified conclusion.

Then, the head of the department came out and said to Master Ye, "Master, this Princess Helena is suffering from severe tetralogy of Fallot and has developed irreversible heart failure after having used adrenaline, and has reached a point where she can be declared critically ill, so please feel sorry for her."

Next to him, Ye Feng was startled and blurted out, "Why are you in mourning? We haven't even gotten married yet, and she's not going to make it?"

The head of the department nodded and said seriously, "Young master, given Princess Helena's condition, it is rare for her to live to such an age; most patients with illnesses as severe as hers will not live to adulthood."

Ye Feng swallowed and asked the specialist afterwards, "Then how long will she live?"

After pondering for a moment, the department head said seriously, "In my experience, I estimate that an hour to twelve hours is the most likely, and the best outcome is twenty-four hours."

"Crap!" Ye Feng burst out a foul mouth and said angrily, "Isn't this f*cking bullsh*t? A nice living person, saying he's going to die?!"

The head of the department said helplessly, "For the time being, there is really no good solution for this disease, even a heart transplant can't solve it."

Ye Feng felt a wave of resentment and bad luck, and hurriedly looked at Ye Zhongquan and asked offhandedly, "Grandpa, what should we do now!"

Hearing this, Ye Zhongquan was also baffled and said offhandedly, "Director Zhao, organize a team of experts immediately, prepare resuscitation drugs and equipment, and send Helena to the airport with Xiao Feng!"

Saying that, Ye Zhongquan added, "I will have the Concordia airliner ready to take off and waiting at the airport, you can take off directly to Northern Europe when you arrive, we must get Helena to Northern Europe before she dies, we must not let her die in China!"

If she really dies in China, we won't be able to get rid of this black pot!"
