

Ye Chen 3451

Chapter 3451

Two of Helena's entourage were Olivia's men.

But Olivia had always thought that Helena was unaware of this, and when she saw that she hadn't brought her entourage back, and that they hadn't reported any changes to her in advance, she realised that Helena might have discovered the true identities of the two men.

Helena played dumb at this point and said casually, "I left them in China and asked them to work with the Ye family planner to prepare the engagement party and wedding details."

Helena's words sounded fine to an outsider, but Olivia knew very well that Helena was talking nonsense!

If that was really what she said, then her own two men, would have reported the situation to herself in the first place.

But now that she hadn't received any news, it was proof that these two must have been controlled by Helena.

But what depressed Olivia was that she saw Helena talking out of her ass in front of her, but she had absolutely no way to get angry.

She could only hold back her anger and said along with her words, "So that's how it is ..... Gee sister, I really didn't expect that both of us sisters would be getting married soon, time really flies."

Helena nodded and sighed with the same smile, "Yes, it seems like just yesterday we were riding together on the palace lawn and in the blink of an eye we're getting married."

Olivia hummed and laughed, looked at Ye Chen beside her and asked with a frown, "By the way, this doesn't seem to be your fiancé, Mr. Ye Feng, beside you, does it?"

Helena hurriedly introduced her, "Oh yes, I almost forgot to introduce you, this is Ye Feng's cousin, Ye Chen! Ye Feng has been rather busy and unable to leave recently, so he will accompany me back this time."

Olivia didn't know much about the structure of the Ye family, and when she heard that Ye Chen was Ye Feng's cousin, she instinctively thought that he might be the son of someone else in the Ye family, and didn't think much of it.

William didn't think much of it either.

It was because it was the Rothschild core family in the United States that had fought with Ye Changyang in the Chinese market back then.

Moreover, it was the Rothschilds who won in the end, so he, the son of a third-order family living in Europe, did not know about that feud back then, nor did he know the specifics of the Ye family.

Olivia herself had made up her mind to sell Helena to the Russian oligarch Aman Ramovich.

Therefore, she did not intend to have anything to do with the Ye family in the future, so she naturally had nothing good to say to Ye Chen.

She looked at Ye Chen and said with a sneer on her face, "Mr Ye, I heard that your Ye family had just been killed by the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple at your door? I also heard that in addition to robbing your Ye Family's ancestral tomb, the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall also demanded that the Ye Family give up half of its assets? Then your Ye Family should have suffered a great loss this time, right?"

Seeing that Olivia was somewhat targeting Ye Chen, William at the side also deliberately raised his eyebrows and said, "Olivia, why do you have to talk about other people's sore points as soon as we meet, the Ye family has lost so much this time, losing people and money, Mr. Ye must be in a lot of pain in his heart."

Ye Chen smiled and said casually, "I am not in pain at all, we have an old saying in China that a thin camel is bigger than a horse, even if the Ye family lost half of its assets, it still has trillions of RMB, it is still much better than most of the rubbish families in Europe."

Hearing the sarcasm in Ye Chen's words, William immediately questioned angrily, "Ye! Who are you calling a rubbish family?"

Ye Chen laughed coldly with an arrogant look on his face, "In my eyes, all the families in Europe whose assets are not as good as my Ye family's are trash!"

Chapter 3452

4-5 minutes

---

Hearing Ye Chen's words, William immediately became furious and blurted out, "Surnamed Ye, your words are a little too arrogant!"

Ye Chen smiled and asked, "Arrogant? I don't think so."

Saying that, Ye Chen added, "Even if our Ye family has suffered heavy losses, we still have trillions of assets, some families haven't experienced such heavy losses, they don't even have as much money as my Ye family, what can this be if it's not rubbish?"

Ye Chen looked at the two, gave a slight pause and teased, "You see, if half of the water in this ocean is gone, it's still an ocean, but a mud pit is still a mud pit even if it's filled to the brim."

Both Olivia and William's faces turned very ugly at once.

Olivia was well aware of the strength of the Nordic royal family, with cash, antiques, real estate, foreign investments and so on, all of which amounted to just a few billion euros.

Moreover, the royal family does not belong to Olivia's family, there is a large number of relatives below, all waiting for the royal family to support.

But even if the Ye family gave half of its assets to the Vanguard Palace, the remaining assets would still be in the hundreds of billions of euros, which is really much better than the royal family.

William was as annoyed as Olivia.

Although his surname was Rothschild, the family's overall economic strength, converted into euros, could barely reach ten billion, which, in his opinion, was probably not even one tenth of the current Ye family.

However, William still gritted his teeth and retorted, "Our Rothschild family has been cultivating the world for hundreds of years, and their combined assets are more than trillions of dollars, even ten trillions may not be able to stop them! In front of the Rothschild family, the mere Ye family is not even considered rubbish!"

Ye Chen asked curiously, "You're from the Rothschild family?"

Olivia was full of smugness and pride as she introduced, "I forgot to introduce to you two, this is my fiancé, the young talent of the Rothschild family, William Rothschild!"

Ye Chen smiled slightly and spoke, "You are really from the Rothschild family, no wonder you speak with such a big mouth."

William sneered, "What? Do you now realise how rubbish the Ye family is in front of our Rothschild family?"

Ye Chen shook his head and said indifferently, "Whether it's rubbish or not depends on who you compare it to. If you compare it to the core Rothschild family, the Ye family is naturally much inferior, but I heard that there are many side branches within the Rothschild family, and these side branches are divided into three ladders.

Hearing these words, William's face immediately turned ironic.

He was full of pride when he talked about the Rothschild family.

But when it came to the subject of his family being on the first rung of the ladder, he was at a loss as to what to do.

Because his family, in the Rothschild family, was only the third rung of the ladder.

Seeing his odd expression but not saying anything, Ye Chen couldn't help but ask with a smile, "What's wrong Mr. William, wasn't he quite articulate just now? Why don't you say anything now?"

William's expression was cloudy and uncertain, not knowing how to respond for a while.

When Olivia saw her fiancé being defeated, she said coldly in an irritated voice, "Mr. Ye, this is Northern Europe, not China! It's better not to speak so sharply."

Ye Chen grunted and asked in return, "That's sharp? It seems that you still lack understanding of what real sharpness is."

At this time, Helena came out to round up the situation, "I think we should stop chatting here and go back to the palace, I still want to go see how her grandmother is doing now."

Olivia smiled with a playful expression and spoke, "Helena, don't be in a hurry, William and I came to the airport this time not only to pick you two up, there is also a friend who will be arriving soon, why don't we go back to the palace together when he arrives."

Chapter 3453

4-5 minutes

---

Helena subconsciously inquired, "Who is this other friend you speak of?"

Olivia laughed, "This friend is a Russian oligarch, Amanramovich."

Helena had previously learned from the two attendants that Olivia intended to sell herself to Amanramovich, so her heart stuttered when she heard this.

However, she tried to control her emotions and asked in mock surprise, "Olivia, when did you become friends with such a vulgar person?"

Olivia narrowed her eyes at Helena and asked, somewhat surprised, "Helena, has no one ever mentioned anything about Aman Ramovich to you?"

Helena shook her head blankly, "No one has mentioned it, why?"

Today, when Helena had returned alone, leaving behind the two men Olivia had planted, Olivia had known that her people had been exposed.

Now, she didn't know if her two men, either, had told Helena about her plan.

Because, earlier, she had instructed her two men to trick Helena into going to the airport and then send her straight to St. Petersburg.

But now, looking at Helena's bewildered face, Olivia thought she might not have learned about it.

So Olivia smiled broadly and said, "This Amanramovich, he's still quite a nice guy, rich and a gentleman, just a bit older, not as crude and unsightly as they say."

Helena laughed in a casual manner, "I have the impression that the nobility of Western Europe have always seemed to be quite repulsed by him, why have you even invited him here?"

Olivia laughed, "Although Amanramovic has no background worthy of praise, he is at least a tycoon worth tens of billions of dollars, and if I want to revive the royal family in the future, of course I need to have good relations with such tycoons."

As she spoke, the sound of an aircraft engine outside grew closer, and a brand new Gulfstream G650 business jet, guided by a guidance van, slowly taxied towards the hangar.

Olivia raised an eyebrow and smiled, "Aman Ramovich is here!"

The G650 soon came to a standstill next to the Concorde and the hatch opened, and a short, thin, middle-aged man in a dark blue suit stepped out with a smile on his face.

This man is the only remaining Russian oligarch, Aman Ramovich.

Amanramovich came from a poor background, but caught the wave of the times and quickly rose to become one of the richest men in Russia at a particular stage of his life.

As soon as Amanramovich stepped off the plane, he smiled and said to Olivia, "Your Highness Princess Olivia, it's been a long time!"

After saying that, he immediately looked at Helena at the side with a kind of greedy look, and said with a smile, "This, I believe, is Her Highness Princess Helena?"

Helena was more or less uncomfortable, while Olivia, next to her, after seeing Amanramovich's infatuated look at Helena, said with a smile, "Mr. Amanramovich, this is my sister, Princess Helena."

Amanramovic immediately extended his hand to Helena, kissing her hand in anticipation while saying in a very gentlemanly manner, "It is a great pleasure to meet you, Your Royal Highness, Princess Helena!"

Helena did not want Amanramovich to kiss her hand, she had already guessed Olivia's motive for inviting him here and was disgusted, so she gave him a slight nod and said with an apologetic face, "I am sorry Mr. Amanramovich, as my fiancé is Chinese, I have to observe Chinese customs and cannot perform the kissing hand salute. "

Aman Ramovic gave an embarrassed laugh and then quietly withdrew his hand and said with a smile, "It's okay, it's okay, I understand!"

Olivia glanced at Helena and sneered in her heart, "Helena, why are you still pretending to be so reserved? It won't be long before you're Aman Ramovich's woman!"

Chapter 3454

4-4 minutes

---

When Olivia had learned that Helena was returning to her country, she had already discussed her response with her parents.

This time, since Helena was here, it would not be easy to let her go again.

According to Olivia's plan, from the moment Helena returned to the palace, she was put under surveillance and was not allowed to leave the palace grounds.

She also called Aman Ramovich in St Petersburg at the first opportunity, and agreed with him on the phone to force Helena to agree to marry him after her own wedding tomorrow.

Olivia had Helena's mother as a hostage, so she believed that Helena would never dare to disobey her arrangement.

As for Aman Ramovic, he was ridiculed all day long by the Western media for his origins, and ridiculed a little to the point of going off the rails.

Now all he can think about is marrying a European royal princess as a way to humiliate those who despise him.

So, when he received Olivia's call, he rushed over in a frenzy of joy.

The good news is that St Petersburg is only about a thousand kilometres from Northern Europe and can be reached in two hours by ordinary plane.

However, Aman Ramovic, who had flown over from St Petersburg with great enthusiasm, did not expect Helena to treat him so coldly.

He then looked at Olivia and asked, "Princess Olivia, I wonder if that thing we talked about on the phone still counts?"

Olivia smiled, "Of course it counts! I will soon be the Nordic Queen, and how can a Queen go back on her word when she has promised to do so? Don't worry, Mr. Amanramovich!"

"That's good!" Amanramovich breathed a sigh of relief.

He knew that Olivia must have a way to get Helena to agree.

As for what method, he didn't bother to worry about it.

In short, as long as he could get Helena back to St. Petersburg, he would immediately credit the Nordic royal family with half a billion euros, and all would be happy.

Olivia smiled faintly at this time and said, "You must all have had a hard time flying all this way, so why don't you go back to the palace first, there will be a grand banquet for you all at the palace in the evening."

Aman Ramovich naturally agreed with all his words, and Ye Chen did not say a word, looking as if his guest was at his disposal.

So, the group travelled in several royal convoys from the airport to the palace.

There were six cars in the royal convoy, Olivia and her fiancé William sat in the second car, Ye Chen and Helena sat in the third, and Aman Ramovic sat alone in the fourth.

In the car, Ye Chen kept his eyes closed, Helena was more or less apprehensive and wanted to talk to Ye Chen several times, but when she thought that there was a driver and a royal servant in the front row, she could only hold back for the time being.

At this moment, Olivia and William were sitting in the car, watching a special player and listening to the gasps coming from it.

William frowned at this point: "Why aren't these two saying anything? Do they realise the car is bugged?"

Olivia shook her head, "I'm not sure."

William asked her, "Olivia, have you figured out what to do with that Ye Chen?"

Olivia said casually, "What's he got to deal with, when Aman Ramovich takes Helena away, let him go back to China."

"No way." William said with a cold face, "We can't let him just go!"

Chapter 3455

4-5 minutes

---

Olivia asked in surprise, "You don't think you want to screw him over, do you? The Ye family is far away in China, but if we really kill one of their people, we'll get into trouble!"

"No." William waved his hand and spoke, "I wouldn't be stupid enough to kill him in Northern Europe, I just want to teach him a lesson, and by the way, make him leave that Concorde behind!"

"Concorde?" Olivia couldn't help but see a glint in her eye.

In the true high society, there were only two types of true top luxury, a private jet and a private yacht.

In terms of private jets alone, it may seem as if the Saudi royal family's modified A380 is the largest and most luxurious, but to really say that the top and rare private jet that can represent the highest status, it has to be the Concorde.

The reason for this is that they are so rare.

There were only about twenty of them built back then, and there are only a few digits left, making it a truly out-of-print private jet.

Moreover, it is the only private jet that can fly at supersonic speeds.

It is the only private jet that can fly at supersonic speeds. Anyone who can own one of these jets will be more dignified than the Saudi royal family's A380!

Olivia and William are both extremely vain people, with numerous luxuries in their day-to-day lives, but neither of them would dare to hope that they could own a Concorde.

So, when William suggested the idea, Olivia was immediately overwhelmed.

So, she immediately asked, "What do you have in mind, dear?"

William sneered, "After the banquet tonight, I've opened a poker game to play with some guests who have come from afar and earn some pocket money in the process, when the time comes, I'll make a game and invite that Ye Chen over to play a couple of hands, as long as he's willing to play, I'm sure I can make him fall in step by step."

Olivia asked with some doubt, "Are you really sure?"

William said confidently, "Don't worry, among the guests who are coming this time, there is one person I have planted in advance, this person had been a lottery official in Las Vegas for many years, as long as I let him deal the cards, no matter what the game is, I can make that Ye Chen lose everything!"

Olivia asked in disbelief, "How come you also planted a hustler in the palace specifically?"

William shrugged his shoulders and said indifferently, "Don't you understand the hobbies of these rich men? What they like is nothing but beautiful women and gambling, and when they come to the palace for a wedding, they definitely can't bring women to mess around in the palace, so an impromptu gambling game will definitely interest them a lot!"

William continued with a little bit of a frown, "But whenever there's a game like this, every man loves to play a few hands, and losing a few hundred million euros is nothing to them. "

Olivia stroked her chin and said with a smile, "I didn't expect you to be so bad! Even these relatives' and friends' money is counted!"

William said awkwardly, "Why not when there's a chance to make some pocket money and it's not a big loss for them? Wouldn't you say?"

Olivia grunted, "Seeing is believing! I want half the proceeds of the bet!"

William flinched slightly and then chuckled, "Haha, Olivia, I have a feeling that the two of us are going to have a very, very harmonious married life!"

Olivia raised an eyebrow and added, "If Ye Chen can really lose that Concorde to you, I'll have half of this plane too!"

"That's for sure!" William reached out and cupped Olivia's chin and kissed her hard on the lips, before raising his head a moment later and saying tenderly, "Your Majesty, Queen Olivia, everything I have belongs to you!"

Olivia nodded with a satisfied look on her face and smiled, "It seems that you have begun to adapt to the role of 'Prince William' ahead of time."

William laughed, "That's for sure! I would love to be your husband tomorrow and the Prince of Northern Europe the day after!"

With that, William added, "My father has promised me that after you succeed to the throne and make me Prince, he will give us the luxury Italian yacht parked in Copenhagen and a villa in Beverly Hills, Los Angeles!"

Chapter 3456

4-5 minutes

---

Half an hour later, the motorcade enters the Nordic Palace.

The Nordic royal family has three palaces in the Nordic countries, and this one, on the outskirts of the capital, is the largest and most luxurious of the three.

The entire palace is actually more like a large castle and manor combined.

It covers hundreds of hectares and is so large that there is also a golf course and an equestrian area inside.

It is said that the value of the palace's buildings and grounds alone is over three billion euros.

However, because it is a royal patrimony and a symbol of the royal family, the country's laws forbid the royal family from selling it to the public.

The fact that it cannot be sold means that the royal family actually only has a right to use it.

The caravan crossed a large green field and stopped in front of an old castle that was at least a hundred years old.

The guards of the Royal Guard immediately stepped forward and opened all the car doors, and Ye Chen stepped down with Helena.

Upon seeing Helena's return, the Royal Guards immediately saluted respectfully, "Your Highness Princess Helena!"

Helena nodded slightly in greeting, and immediately afterwards, Olivia walked over and said to Ye Chen as well as Aman Ramovich, "The rooms for the two guests are ready for you, I will have someone take you there first."

Amanramovich immediately bowed and said respectfully, "Thank you, Your Highness Princess Olivia!"

In contrast, Ye Chen was not so polite and only said goodbye indifferently.

When Olivia saw that Ye Chen did not bow, let alone curtsy, and did not even bother to say thank you, she could not help but feel a little irritated.

However, once Olivia thought that William was still planning to make a game for Ye Chen, she didn't get angry, instead, she said to Ye Chen with a fake smile on her face, "Mr. Ye, there will be a dinner party in the banquet hall later, please be sure to join Mr. Ye."

Ye Chen didn't know what Olivia was selling in her gourd, but to him, even if all the people in the palace were added up, they wouldn't be able to touch him, so he said with an indifferent face, "Yes, I will go there."

Hearing this, William at the side said with a smile, "That's really great, today's guests, apart from our family and relatives of the Nordic royal family, there are also some heads of the top four northern European families, so Mr. Ye can also get to know them properly then."

Ye Chen didn't expect that even this guy called William was now smiling at himself, so it was clear that this pussy and Olivia must not have been holding back any good farts in the car just now.

He then smiled and said to William, "It seems that Mr. William has already made all the arrangements for me, so I'll respectfully do as I'm told."

William immediately laughed and said, "Mr. Ye is too kind, I'll make sure you enjoy yourself tonight!"

At that moment, Helena said, "Olivia, I want to go and see my grandmother!"

"See grandma?" Olivia laughed twice and said, "Grandma is in a deep coma, the doctor says she's unlikely to wake up, so what's the point of you going to see her now?"

In Olivia's opinion, Helena must still have a glimmer of hope in her anxiety to see the Queen, to plead with her or to sue her.

But Olivia was not worried, for she knew very well that the Queen was at the end of her life and not only was she unlikely to wake up, but she did not even have long to live.

At this point, Helena spoke up, "Olivia, Grandma is the Nordic Queen, and whether I am her granddaughter or her vassal, I must go and pay my respects to her when I return, even if she is in a coma!"

Said Helena, adding, "Besides, you and I, sisters, have something to whisper about."

Olivia put away her smile, nodded slowly and said with an expressionless face, "Good! In that case, I will take you to Grandmother first."

With that, she instructed the guards, "You will first escort the two guests to their rooms."

Helena was busy asking, "Can I ask Ye Chen to come with me?"

Olivia frowned, "Didn't you say you had something to whisper to me? What's the point of letting Mr. Ye go?"

Ye Chen knew that Helena must want herself to go and save her grandmother.

Chapter 3457

---

But it's a bit boring to go straight for it now, and besides, you haven't seen Olivia and William's little plot yet.

What kind of a man goes straight in and gets right to the point right away? What kind of person would go straight to the point and give people a little foreplay and time to adapt?

So, Ye Chen said with a smile, "You two sisters are chatting, so I won't get involved."

After saying that, he gave Helena a reassuring look.

Seeing this, Helena could only nod and said, "Alright then, Olivia and I will go see Grandma first, so I'll see you at the dinner."

Ye Chen nodded, "Good."

Ye Chen was led by the guards to a guest room on the third floor of the ancient castle.

At this time, Helena, on the other hand, led by Olivia, went directly to the top floor of the ancient castle, which was the sixth floor.

This floor was the area reserved for the entire royal family.

The empress, who had basically been sentenced to death, was currently in a luxurious suite on the top floor.

Half of this suite has been converted into an intensive care unit.

Olivia brought Helena up and did not immediately enter the ward, but took her to the next room and instructed a maid, "Search her!"

The maid immediately came up and checked Helena's entire body. Finding that she only had a mobile phone, she handed it to Olivia and said respectfully, "Your Highness, only this."

Olivia nodded and instructed her, "Keep her phone for now."

After saying that, she waved at Helena and said, "Come with me."

Helena followed Olivia to the door of the ward. Olivia dismissed the guards outside the ward and sent the doctors on duty out with her before she led Helena into the ward.

Inside the ward, an old, grey-haired woman lay expressionlessly on a hospital bed.

She was very thin, with an oxygen mask fastened to her face, and her whole body did not move except for the slight rise and fall of her chest when she breathed.

Seeing this old woman, Helena's eyes reddened and she came to the hospital bed in tears, choking back sobs, "Grandma ..... Grandma can you hear my voice? It's Helena, I've come back to see you ....."

Olivia sneered, "Helena, stop dreaming, there's no way she'll wake up and do you justice!"

There was no one else here but the two of them, and the dying Queen, so Olivia immediately put away her hypocritical facade.

Helena turned her head to Olivia and questioned, "Olivia, where the hell have you been hiding my mother?"

Olivia grunted, "Don't you think you're being particularly childish asking such a question? How could I possibly tell you her whereabouts when I have to use your mother's life to force you into submission?"

Helena asked her through clenched teeth, "Olivia! I am your sister! It's your family! Why are you doing this to me! Why are you doing this to my mother?!"

Olivia sneered as she hugged her shoulders, "Come on Helena, what's the point of playing this sentimental card at this point?"

After a pause, Olivia added, "I'm telling you, you don't have any choice now, marry Aman Ramovich after my wedding and I'll spare your mother's life! Otherwise, I will not only give you to Aman Ramovic by force, but I will also make your mother look like her now!"

As she said this, Olivia pointed her finger towards, the Nordic Queen lying on the hospital bed.

Helena looked at her dumbfounded at these words and questioned, "Grandma ..... Grandma was killed by you?!"

"Of course I did!" Olivia sneered unscrupulously knowing that Helena didn't have any recording or eavesdropping devices on her, "During her medical checkup last year, her health care doctor told me that with good care, she could live for at least another ten years, maybe even another twenty ....."

"Damn, what crown prince can wait that long?! Ten years after another ten years, who knows how many more will follow? And who knows if she'll be like the one in Great Britain and give me a super long stay?"

"So, in order to succeed the throne as soon as possible, I can only use some tactics to shorten her standby time as much as possible!"

Chapter 3458

4-5 minutes

---

Helena really didn't think that Olivia was behind the fact that her grandmother was now seriously ill and unconscious!

At the same time, she could not help but feel a chill down her back .....

She had never realized before that her cousin was actually such a sinister and poisonous woman at heart!

Not only was she scheming against herself, but she was even sparing her grandmother, the reigning empress!

Furious, Helena pointed her finger at Olivia and said, "Olivia, do you know that murdering the Queen is a serious crime against the state? In the old days, you would have been hanged!"

Olivia bristled, sneering with disdain, "The gallows? To tell you the truth, the old woman's fate is in my hands, if I tell her to die today, she won't live to see tomorrow! If I tell her to die tomorrow, she will not live until the day after tomorrow! If she dies, I will immediately be crowned Nordic Queen! And when that happens, who will be able to do anything to me?"

Helena said through clenched teeth, "Don't you forget! The royal family is only a symbol to this country, even if you are the Queen, you are still a citizen of this country and have to abide by the laws of this country. If what you have done is known to the outside world, even if you have been crowned Queen, you will definitely be caught and tried in public!"

Olivia asked dismissively in return, "But who on the outside would know? You? Do you really think that if you say something, outsiders will believe it?"

With that, Olivia snickered without waiting for Helena to say anything, "Oh yes, you won't have the chance to talk to outsiders either, because from now on, you are not allowed to leave the palace half a step, nor are you allowed to have any contact with the outside world!"

Helena sneered, "What? You want to put me under house arrest? Don't you forget that everyone knows I'm back in Northern Europe, what will they think if I don't turn up at your wedding tomorrow?"

Olivia said dismissively, "You'll be making a short video tonight telling everyone that you've had a sudden bout of ill health and are in bed to recuperate and can't be my bridesmaid!"

Helena blurted out, "You're dreaming! I'm not filming that!"

Olivia laughed, "It doesn't matter, you don't have to film it, but I'll have your mother's two eyes gouged out and I'll have the whole thing on video for you to see!"

Helena was shaking with anger and rebuked, "Olivia! You're a monster!"

Olivia bristled, "I'm not the devil, I'm the future Nordic Queen!"

With that, she stared into Helena's eyes and said, word for word, "Helena! You will never be a match for me! If you want your mother to survive, you will listen to me honestly, otherwise not only will your mother not survive, but neither will you!"

Helena was furious to the core in her heart, but she also knew very well that she was no match for Olivia.

The only hope for herself was Ye Chen.

So, she could only give in to Olivia and spoke, "You let me think about it for a while ....."

Olivia sneered, "Remember, the video must be sent out before eleven o'clock at night."

"Good ....." Helena nodded in agreement.

7pm local Nordic time.

The reception dinner within the royal family was held in the banquet hall of the palace.

The Western-style banquet was very different from the East, and instead of dividing the scene into several round tables, an extra-long long table was set up, with more than ten fine dining chairs on each side of the long table.

There were not many guests at the dinner, less than twenty in total, including Olivia and William's parents.

Most of the guests are close friends and relatives of the two families, which is why they have been invited to stay at the palace a day early.

Most of the guests will arrive at the Palace early tomorrow morning for the wedding.

Chapter 3459

4-5 minutes

---

Helena had come down with Olivia.

Because she had been threatened by Olivia, Helena's mood had been somewhat apprehensive.

As soon as she arrived at the banquet hall, she immediately started to look around for Ye Chen's shadow, because at the moment, only when she saw him could she put her mind at ease.

But Ye Chen did not appear in the ballroom.

When Olivia's father, Richard, saw Helena, he immediately smiled and said, "Helena, you're back!"

Helena looked at Richard, she didn't know if her uncle was involved in putting her grandmother into a deep coma, but her heart was still very wary of this man, so she spoke, "Uncle Richard, how have you been?"

Richard sighed lightly and said, "Other than your grandmother's health, which is worrying me, I'm fine."

As he spoke, Amanramovich came over, looked at Helena with some fascination, then stepped in front of Richard and said respectfully, "Hello, Prince Richard! I am Amanramovich and I am honoured to meet you!"

Richard nodded slightly and said with a smile, "I have heard a lot about Mr. Amanramovich, but I only had the opportunity to meet him today."

Richard added, "By the way, I've always liked that Premier League team you bought, so I must go and see a live game in England if I have the chance!"

Aman Ramovic said with a surprised look on his face, "Your Royal Highness likes football too? If so, then come to London next week if you have time, it just so happens that the team has a home game next week!"

Richard nodded and said, "If there is nothing else on the royal side, I would really like to make a trip to London, just for a short break."

With that, he sighed and laughed to himself, "But the Royal Family has too much going on every day to get away, so I guess the break will have to wait for a while longer!"

Aman Ramovic smiled and said, "It doesn't matter, it's almost summer and there are a particularly large number of summer games, so when the new Champions League season starts, maybe we'll play away to northern Europe."

"Yes." Richard nodded and smiled, "I didn't think you and I had much in common, so you and Helena will sit next to me!"

After saying that, he pointed to the two empty seats to his right and said to Helena, "Helena, you sit with Mr. Amanramovich."

Helena said awkwardly, "Uncle, I have a friend who has come from far away and he is not familiar with the place, so I'd better join him."

Richard said lightly, "You are talking about the man from the Ye family, right?"

"Yes." Helena said busily, "The one from the Ye family this time is Ye Feng's cousin and the first son and grandson of the Ye family."

Richard grunted and said, "I really don't understand the Ye family, after such a big incident at home, why they don't stay home and clean up the mess, but have to come to Scandinavia to make a fool of themselves."

Helena had to explain, "Don't say that, Uncle. The Ye family is very kind, after all, I am their future daughter-in-law and they thought it would be a bit rude to let me come back alone."

Richard said casually, "I was not in favour of you marrying in China. In all our years, our royal family has never married anyone from outside Europe. "

With that, he glanced at Amanramovic and said casually, "In my opinion, a young talent like Mr. Amanramovic in Europe is not in any way inferior to the Ye family!"

Helena said with a difficult face, "Uncle ..... The marriage contract has been made, how can we change it just like that ..... If word gets out, people will say that our royal family has no credibility ....."

Richard said unconcernedly, "After such a big incident in the Ye family, it is reasonable for us to change the marriage contract."

Helena was busy saying, "But I can't explain to the Ye family either ....."

Richard waved his hand and said disdainfully, "What's not to explain? Where's the guy from the Ye family? Let him come over, I will talk to him personally!"

Richard's words just fell, Ye Chen stepped into the banquet hall, smiling as he walked and asked, "I'm here, which one wants to talk to me?"

Chapter 3460

4-5 minutes

---

Seeing the yellow-skinned, dark-eyed Ye Chen walk in, Richard immediately guessed that he was a member of the Ye family, even though he had never seen him before, and said with a leathery smile, "This gentleman, I believe he is a member of the Ye family?"

"Yes." Ye Chen nodded slightly and asked with a smile, "I heard a general idea when I came in just now, do you have something to talk to me about?"

Olivia, who was at the side, immediately said, "Ye Chen, this is my father, Prince Richard of the Nordic royal family!"

Ye Chen nodded and smiled, "Prince Richard doesn't know what you want to teach me?"

Richard adjusted the knot of his tie and said with a proud look on his face, "When we made the marriage contract with the Ye family, we did not know that your Ye family would be involved with a mercenary organisation like the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall! We, the Nordic royal family, have never been involved with such a grey organisation! Therefore, in order to maintain the royal family's reputation, we naturally cannot continue to honour our marriage contract with the Ye family. I hope that you will take my words to the Ye family head when you return."

Saying that, he glanced at Helena and added, "As for Helena, since she has already returned, she will stay directly with the royal family this time and will not return to China with you."

Ye Chen laughed: "Prince Richard, you are seeing that my Ye family has lost its power, so you want to unilaterally repent the marriage! If that's the case, you can just say so, why do you have to make such a big circle and bring the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple into this?"

As he said that, Ye Chen said with a playful expression, "If the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall knows that you are using them as a shield to withdraw from the marriage, what if you piss off Wan Bajun and he has to kill you in his head, what will you do then?"

Richard's expression changed instantly, and his heart panicked.

He had wanted to find a reason to repent the marriage with the Ye family, but if he said straight out that the Ye family had lost its power and that the royal family was no longer willing to play with you, then if word got out, everyone would see that the royal family had broken their word and gone back on their word.

Therefore, he could only blame the reason on principle.

The most reasonable way to say it was to take the principle of the royal family's cleanliness, and since the Ye family had compromised with the Vandal Palace, it was proof that the Ye family was involved with the Vandal Palace, and my royal family did not want to dirty itself with the Vandal Palace, so it was much more logical to withdraw from the Ye family.

However, how could Richard have imagined that Ye Chen was such a capable master of picking fights.

As soon as he heard what he said, he immediately said that he was using the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall as a shield, and then directly brought out the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall as a threat, immediately causing Richard to lose his composure.

Even though he was a proud prince of the royal family, he could be scared out of his wits if he faced the Palace of the Ten Thousand Dragons.

So he hurriedly waved his hand and said, "I didn't mean that! Don't talk nonsense!"

Ye Chen laughed, "What am I talking nonsense about? What you said just now, so many people are listening, am I wrong?"

Saying that, Ye Chen added, "Don't worry, I will definitely bring your words, in their original form, to Wan Breaking Jun. As for whether you deliberately stepped on him or not, let him judge for himself."

When Olivia saw that Ye Chen had even brought up Wan Breaking Army to threaten her father, she immediately said in annoyance, "Ye Chen! You don't have to talk out of your ass here! Your Ye family has a grudge against Wan Breaking Army for killing your father, and you were killed by Wan Breaking Army yourself, losing your ancestral tomb and half of your family fortune, and no one in the world knows about it, and now you dare to bring up Wan Breaking Army to threaten others.

When the others heard these words, they also instantly looked at each other with approval.
