

Ye Chen 3461

Chapter 3461

After all, the Ye family had just been taught a lesson to death by Wan Breaking Army, and to bring Wan Breaking Army out to scare others at this time was indeed very untrustworthy.

Aman Ramovich, who was sitting next to Helena, said with a smile on his face, "Mr. Ye, the marriage contract itself is a contract, one can choose to perform or not of course, if both parties have set a breach of contract clause in the first place, then the non-performing party will have to pay compensation according to the clause, if there is no breach of contract clause, it's more of a free decision! We are all civilized people, so there is no need to make such personal threats, right?"

Ye Chen frowned and asked, "Let me ask you, what kind of person are you? Do you have the right to speak here?"

Aman Ramovich didn't think that Ye Chen, who looked like a brat, would dare to publicly humiliate him on such an occasion!

Ye Chen looked like he was in his twenties, but Aman Ramovich was already in his fifties, almost twenty years older than Ye Chen, so naturally, he could not bear to be humiliated by Ye Chen in such a way.

So, he immediately stood up, slapped the table and cursed angrily, "Surnamed Ye! Do you know that this is Europe? Do you still think you are in China? Just by your rudeness to me just now, I can make you die in Europe do you believe?"

Ye Chen saw Aman Ramovich gnashing his teeth, and instead of speaking, he suddenly stepped forward, grabbed him by the collar and slapped him hard across the face, pushing him backwards afterwards, causing him to fall on his back.

Everyone at the scene was speechless with shock.

No one had expected that Ye Chen would just do it when he said he would!

Richard, who was the host, was also confused and didn't know what to do at once.

Aman Ramovic also didn't expect Ye Chen to hit him directly, and the slap was so hard that he fell backwards.

These people were all so-called aristocratic gentlemen in Europe, who believed in the dogma that I could kill his family behind their backs, but on the surface, they had to be polite and courteous, not to lose their aristocratic manners.

But who could have imagined that Ye Chen would act in such a brutal manner, and without saying a word, he just came up and did it, knocking Aman Ramovic to the ground in one go.

As everyone was dumbfounded, Ye Chen moved a new chair and sat on the seat before Amanramovich, saying in a cold voice: "A mere Nordic royal family and a Russian oligarch with only US$20 billion in assets, and you think my Ye family is a soft touch? The assets of the two of you combined are not even a tenth of my Ye family!"

After saying that, Ye Chen twisted his head to look at Aman Ramovich and said indifferently, "I know you have some background in Russia, and you can also hire some special resources, but I can tell you clearly, with that little strength of yours, you are not even a fart in front of me, so if you have the sense to move your chair and sit away, otherwise, I have ways to make your life worse than death. "

Aman Ramovich was intimidated by Ye Chen's coldness, but for a while he was unwilling to admit defeat in front of so many people.

At this time, Prince Richard, who was at the side, thought repeatedly deep inside, "Why is this fellow surnamed Ye so arrogant? Wasn't their Ye family just cleaned up by the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall? Doesn't he know how to keep a low profile at all?"

As he was wondering, he suddenly thought of something and exclaimed in his heart, "Oh no! I almost forgot! The Ye family has taken half of the Ye family's assets, so it can't be all cash, a large portion of it must be the Ye family's shares! The Ten Thousand Dragons Temple is not good at running businesses, won't they still have to rely on the Ye family to run them in the future?"

"In that case, although the Ye family has lost half of its assets, the Ye family and the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple should somehow be integrated and become a community of interest!"

Thinking of this, Richard was horrified: "No wonder this Ye Chen has no fear! The Ye Family is now substantially bound to the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall!"

Chapter 3462

5-6 minutes

The reason why Ye Chen beat up Aman Ramovic was to give the Nordic royal family an example and make them stop pretending in front of him.

He was not afraid of revealing his identity, after all, there were only a dozen to twenty people here today, so if he wanted to, he could first rub them all on the ground, then save the dying Nordic Queen, and then put Helena on the throne.

Then he could have Helena arrest them all for whatever crime she wanted.

Or, he could have just given these key people a psychological message, so that they would go crazy and no one would be able to find out what was wrong.

However, he never expected that Richard would be so good at brainstorming, directly making the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple his backer.

Only, the conjecture in Richard's mind was the opposite of the reality.

He thought that it was the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall that had integrated the Ye Family, but in fact, it was Ye Chen who had integrated the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

With this thought in mind, he hurriedly got up and took the initiative to help Aman Ramovich up.

After being beaten and losing face, Aman Ramovich was about to regain some face from his mouth, so he yelled out of anger, "Surnamed Ye, you dare to beat me, believe it or not, I will immediately call for the former KGB elite to kill Well"

Amanramovich didn't finish his words before Richard covered his mouth and could only make a little whimpering sound.

Angry, Amanramovich fought to remove Richard's hand, and Richard hastily whispered in his ear, "Amanramovich! My friend! Don't you dare mess with this Ye Chen! They've now taken out half of their family fortune and given it to the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, which is the same as half of the Ye family working for the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall! In the face of such great interests, the Vanguard Dragon Hall is definitely going to back up the Ye family! All those former KGB agents you know, even if you line them up, they wouldn't be enough for the Vanguard Dragon Palace!"

When Aman Ramovich heard this, his expression was instantly stunned, his eyes were wide open, but the anger in them was long gone, all that was left was panic!

He exclaimed in his mind, "Shit! Why the fuck didn't I think of this! Isn't this the same as the Ye family giving out hundreds of billions of euros of their family fortune to the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple as protection money? The protection fee paid by the Ye family can't even be ten times more than all my assets, for the sake of such a large amount of money, the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple will definitely have to stand up for Ye Chen, I'm really blind to mess with him at this time"

Thinking of this, Aman Ramovich could not wait to smack himself to death with his big mouth.

As far as he knew that little resource of the former KGB, he was afraid that it was not even a fart in front of the tens of thousands of generals of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

So, he hurriedly said in a panic, "I'm sorry, Mr. Ye, it's my cheap mouth! You mustn't treat me like that!"

Naturally, Ye Chen had heard what Richard and Aman Ramovich had just whispered, and seeing their misunderstanding, he didn't say much, but only asked him coldly, "Why didn't you finish your sentence? What do you want with the KGB elite? To kill me?"

"No, no!" Aman Ramovich shook his head like a rattle and said in a trembling voice, "I don't know any KGB elites at all, just bragging a bit, please forgive me Mr. Ye"

Ye Chen said expressionlessly, "Do you think I'm really that easy to fool?"

Aman Ramovich said in a panic: "Mr. Ye I I really don't mean anything else You must not think too much"

Ye Chen waved his hand, "I don't want to listen to your nonsense, slap your own mouth, when you have swollen both sides of your face, when you stop, then carry your chair and get the hell out of my way!"

Aman Ramovich was at a loss as to what to do, Richard hastened to make peace at this time and said with a smile, "Mr. Ye, such a small matter, please don't take it to heart, we might as well hurry to turn the page so that we can enter the banquet session"

Ye Chen looked at him and said coldly, "How can the face of my Ye family be insulted by a mere Russian oligarch like him? The same goes for you, the royal family of a mere bullet country is also worthy of being shady and bossy in front of me? Who the hell gave you the courage?"

Richard was also flustered.

Chapter 3463

4-4 minutes

The stronger Ye Chen was, the stronger he was in his judgment and decided that Ye Chen had the backing of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, which was why he dared to be so arrogant.

The more so, the more he was afraid that Ye Chen would really get angry, otherwise in case he really let the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall deal with him, he would not be able to stand up to it.

So he hurriedly said, "Mr. Ye, just now, it was my attitude that was wrong, I apologize to you, and I also hope that your lordship will be generous and will not see eye to eye with me"

Olivia did not expect her father to give in to Ye Chen and blurted out, "Dad! How can you apologize to him?!"

Richard scolded offhandedly, "Shut the hell up!"

Olivia didn't expect her father to change his attitude so quickly, and was about to ask what was going on when Aman Ramovic, who was beside Richard, started slapping himself on both cheeks left and right.

He was genuinely intimidated by Ye Chen and was afraid that Ye Chen would not be satisfied and just let the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons deal with him.

Olivia was frozen, really confused as to why Dad and Amanramovich were so scared of Ye Chen.

And Amanramovic, after slapping himself several dozen times and indeed swelling both cheeks, asked Ye Chen in a vague voice: "Ye Mr. Ye, are you satisfied now"

Ye Chen looked at him and waved his hand impatiently, indicating that he should get lost.

Aman Ramovich, like a pardon, hurriedly moved a chair and ran far away to the far end of the long table and sat down honestly alone.

At this moment, he did not have any thoughts of revenge in his heart, but only prayed silently that Ye Chen would not find himself in trouble again.

As for Helena, if he could not marry her, forget it, he could not offend the Ye family for Helena's sake.

Who would have thought that Aman Ramovich, the oligarch who reigned over Europe, would now be reduced to slapping himself in the face in front of a Chinese man to gain forgiveness?

Olivia, unable to understand, lowered her voice and asked her fiancé, William, "What the hell is going on here? Why can't I see it anymore?"

William shook his head, amazed, "I don't know, can't figure it out."

William's parents were both human beings and instantly thought of the same thing as Richard, so his father George Rothschild hurriedly whispered, "William, keep your mouth shut at times like this and don't mess with that Ye guy."

George knew very well in his heart that although his surname was Rothschild, he was very far from the real core family, so far that he had been trying to find ways and means to bring himself a little closer.

Under such circumstances, the energy that his own family could mobilise was naturally much inferior to Ye Chen's.

What's more, he might have the backing of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

Therefore, if you can't afford to mess with others, don't try to be a hero, otherwise it will definitely not end well.

William couldn't understand why his parents were also afraid of Ye Chen. He wanted to ask why, but was rebuked by his father's stern look, so he had to give up.

Olivia was even more confused and thought to herself, "Why are my father and William's father both a bit wary of Ye Chen? This is in Northern Europe, is there a need to be so afraid of him?"

Chapter 3464

Richard, because of his own inner mind, was already treating Ye Chen as a plague at the moment.

At the moment, he only wanted to stabilise the situation and not to have any new conflicts with Ye Chen.

So, he quietly gave Olivia a warning look before he asked Ye Chen, "Mr Ye, shall we officially begin?"

Ye Chen nodded slightly and did not say anything.

Richard breathed a sigh of relief and only then hurriedly announced that this pre-wedding banquet for friends and family had officially begun.

During the banquet, Richard put aside his previous so-called royal stance and toasted Ye Chen frequently, with respectful expressions and words.

Olivia couldn't understand, so she called her father aside and asked him in a low voice, "Dad, what's wrong with you half the time? Why are you being so humble to that Ye Chen?"

Richard warned, "I'm afraid the Ye family and the Vanguard Dragon Temple are working closely together, so you should not touch Ye Chen's brow for the time being."

Only then did Olivia think about it and hurriedly asked, "Dad, what about Helena's marriage?"

Richard said, "Hold off on this matter for now, look at that obsequious Aman Ramovich, even if you ask him to take Helena away, he may not dare to do so."

Olivia gritted her teeth and said with resignation, "If Helena marries into the Ye family, won't she have the backing of the Vanguard Palace?"

Richard reassured, "Don't think about that right now, hurry up and finish the wedding, then just hurry up and ascend the throne, there's nothing more important than that! As for Helena, you don't have to worry too much, she is seriously ill herself, even if she marries into the Ye family and has the backing of the Ten Thousand Dragons Palace, how many years will she live?"

When Olivia heard this, her expression finally eased a little.

However, her mind could not help but recall her fiancé William's previous plan to punk Ye Chen for a sum of money, and wanted to open her mouth to seek her father's advice.

However, on second thought, she thought that her father was a bit too afraid of Ye Chen nowadays and would definitely not agree if he knew about it, so she didn't say anything more.

Back at the table, William asked her in a low voice, "Olivia, do you still want to do that thing we discussed?"

"Do it!" Olivia whispered in response, "As long as that lotus officer you mentioned is a good one and doesn't get found out, it's just square and no one is afraid."

In Olivia's opinion, although the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall was powerful, it did not dare to do everything, if Ye Chen lost his money here today, then he would have to be willing to gamble. The Ten Thousand Dragons Hall was after all a mercenary organisation, not an evil organisation, if they dared to come out, then naturally it would trigger a boycott from the whole society.

Therefore, this time, no matter what was said, Ye Chen could not be let go easily, or at least, that Concorde had to be left behind.

To these two people, the Concorde, a top luxury for top players, was an unparalleled attraction, and since they had already moved on, they would definitely not be easily put off.

Sure enough, when the dinner was almost underway, a young man of about thirty years old at the table said with a smile, "Gentlemen, it's still early, would you like to play a couple of games of poker?"

Hearing this, Ye Chen raised his eyebrows gently and said, "Finally, it's coming."

As soon as they heard that they were going to play poker, several other young people at the table got excited and raised their hands one by one, and one of them said with a smile, "Sure! How about a couple of hands of Texas Hold'em?"

"I'm in!"

"That's on me too!"

In the blink of an eye, five people raised their hands.

William deliberately didn't raise his hand first, but waited until these few people were all eager to try before he spoke, "Then count me in too."

Chapter 3465

When he finished, he looked at Ye Chen and was wondering what words he should use to fool him, Ye Chen took the initiative to raise his hand and said, "I also like Texas Hold'em, so I'll be counted in."

William was so excited he almost didn't cheer.

"I was trying to find the entry point to invite Ye Chen into the pit as naturally as possible, but I didn't expect Ye Chen to jump in himself."

"Perfect!"

He then said in a polite manner, "I really didn't expect you to like playing Texas Hold'em too, Mr Ye, in that case, let's all play a couple of games and have some fun together."

Ye Chen said with a similarly friendly face, "Haha, Mr. William is right! Let's have some fun! I don't have any other hobbies, I just like to play poker, even though my poker skills stink, but I just like to play! Basically, I lose two or three billion dollars every year on poker alone."

William said with a smile on his face, "We're all the same! I'm a terrible poker player too, but I love to play! Every year, I lose a lot of money as tuition."

Ye Chen said without any concern, "We are all young people, of course we should have fun! What's a little money lost?"

Olivia, smiling, said, "Since we all want to play, I'll play a few games with you too!"

Olivia added, "Let's move to the first floor, there's a leisure centre and there just happens to be a card table."

Naturally, the crowd agreed with great joy.

Olivia's father Richard sighed with relief and thought to himself, "It seems that Olivia and I, my future son-in-law, are taking the initiative to mingle with Ye Chen, these two children are really young talents with extraordinary eyesight as they were able to put aside their previous misgivings so quickly."

Thinking of this, Richard also put his mind at ease and then smiled, "You youngsters who love to play cards, go up and play together, I'll have a few more drinks and a chat with Mr Rothschild, so I won't follow you youngsters over."

William's father, George Rothschild, was thinking the same thing as Richard at this point, and felt that his two boys had come to grips with reality, and was equally pleased with the maturity of his children, so without giving it much thought, he said with a smile, "Yes! You youngsters go and have fun, while we two old men have a few more drinks."

With that, the group stood up and prepared to head to the first floor.

Ye Chen then said to Helena beside him, "Helena, you come with me."

Helena nodded gently and went up to the first floor with Ye Chen.

The Royal Family had a leisure centre of nearly a thousand square metres on the first floor of the ancient castle, where there were not only facilities such as a gym, a pool hall as well as an audio-visual hall and a KTV, but also exclusive areas such as a Finnish bath, a spa, and even a special room for playing Texas Hold'em.

Texas Hold'em is very prevalent in Europe and America, and after the efforts of the major casinos in Las Vegas, this style of play has almost become the most popular poker game in the entire Western world, and has even begun to take the world by storm.

Although Ye Chen seldom played poker, he knew how Texas Hold'em was played. He guessed that William and Olivia wanted to play a pig-killing board for themselves today, so he planned to take the ploy and just slaughter them both as fat pigs.

The man who had organized the poker game before said, "Let's do it this way, everyone is financially strong, so it must be fair and enjoyable to play, so today you all play and I will be the dealer, and those of you who win, just give me a small cut at the end of the day."

It is very common in the West to give bonuses to the players, and it is not necessary for everyone to do so, only for those who win to give a few percentage points of their winnings, so everyone was fine with it.

The man then brought in a brand new deck of cards and said with a smile, "Come on, let's check if there are any problems with the deck, if there are no problems I'll start dealing the cards!"

Chapter 3466

Because the game was improvised, and the person who organized the game had voluntarily given up direct participation in the game and volunteered to be the dealer, several participants other than Ye Chen and Olivia did not even think about cheating.

The poker cards were unopened and new, so no one would suspect anything.

There was nothing wrong with the cards, but the real problem was with the dealer.

He is an expert gambler himself and has made his fortune from gambling. Even when playing with professionals, he can cheat unnoticed, let alone against such a group of amateurs.

This man has a very fast hand and a very good memory, with finger dexterity that is comparable to that of a close-up magician, so when he shuffles the cards, no one knows that he has already memorised the position of each card.

He then cut and inserted the cards seemingly at random, having already arranged the cards according to his predetermined rules.

At this time, Olivia also gave each person a pile of chips and said: "Gentlemen, each of us has 100 million euros in chips, we will take them first, whoever loses first will buy all 100 million euros from the others and continue to play. share according to the amount they each won, what does everyone think?"

Naturally the crowd had no problem with this.

After all, Olivia's place was not a real casino. In a casino, people would first pay to buy chips from the casino and then return the money at the end, but in a private gambling game between friends like this, they would not usually buy chips from a certain person, but would give out the chips first and the first one to lose would take the money out to buy them, so it would be easier to count.

However, just as the others were nodding their heads, Ye Chen spoke up, "Let me interject ah, the chips are only 100 million euros, isn't that a little less?"

"That's still less?" A kid whom Ye Chen didn't know said offhandedly, "It's just for fun, one hundred million is quite a lot!"

Ye Chen waved his hand and said with an expression of disdain, "One hundred million euros is not enough, if I don't have enough chips, I can't even place a bet!"

Olivia asked, "Then what does Mr. Ye mean?"

Ye Chen laughed, "Simple, just multiply the face value of all the chips by ten times."

As he said that, he picked up a 100,000 chip and spoke, "Look, this 100,000 chip represents one million euros, and this one next to it, which is one million, will be ten million euros."

The others could not help but suck in a cold breath.

One of them thought to himself, "Damn, he's really rich! A billion euros for an entertainment poker game, that's too f*cking scary."

The others mostly echoed this sentiment.

Playing too big was more than they could afford.

The most these guys could lose was a few million or a few tens of millions, and to really lose a billion on such an occasion would be absolutely devastating.

William, however, was thrilled to the core.

He knew very well in his heart that he had the secret help of the lottery officials and absolutely ate Ye Chen to death.

Not to mention a billion euros at most, what the hell is 10 billion euros? It was a good thing to have a 100% win rate, so it was done.

So he said, "Gentlemen, Mr. Ye is a guest here, so don't let Mr. Ye spoil his fun. If you really think the stakes are too high, don't force yourself to place heavy bets."

When the crowd heard this, they could only nod their heads in agreement.

After all, here, William was half the host, and was a member of the Rothschild family, so he had more face than everyone else. As for Ye Chen, the Ye family behind him was indeed worth over a hundred billion euros, and had inextricable ties with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, so everyone could only go along with the two of them.

Seeing this, the lotus said with a smile, "Good, since everyone has discussed the rules, I will now deal the cards."

Immediately afterwards, he dealt the first card to the first person on his right, and then dealt the cards in order all the way through.

After the cards were dealt, the bets began to be placed.

Chapter 3467

Ye Chen didn't pay any attention to what cards he was actually dealt, as soon as it came to him, he immediately dropped a one million euro chip, and after a few rounds, he threw in four million euro chips, but it actually represented a 70 million euro amount of money.

The others, unable to adapt to such large bets, folded and watched.

Immediately afterwards, the dealer said, "Please show your cards!"

Ye Chen casually flipped over his bottom card, and his hand only consisted of a pair and three miscellaneous cards, which was a very small hand in Texas Hold'em.

William, on the other hand, had a bomb hand on the first hand, with four jacks and a miscellaneous card, which was much bigger than Ye Chen's hand.

The dealer immediately announced, "This hand, William wins."

William was a little excited and gathered all the chips in front of him and said with a smile, "Mr. Ye, sorry about that!"

Ye Chen said unconcernedly, "Aiya, it's only a few tens of millions, why be so polite? Besides, we have a saying at the Chinese poker table: the first to win is the paper, the second is the money, and the winner is not known until the last moment."

William couldn't help but give Ye Chen a thumbs up and praised him, "Mr. Ye is really a man of extraordinary grace! Then let's continue?"

Ye Chen nodded his head and smiled, "Come on!"

William gave a quiet wink to the lottery official.

Just now, Ye Chen's hand was too small, so this time, he wanted to make Ye Chen's hand bigger, so that he could also make Ye Chen bet more.

Sure enough.

This hand, the dealer made a bomb hand for Ye Chen, and then made a flush hand for William.

Ye Chen also fell for it, and seeing that the cards were big, he threw in 20 million chips in a row, which, as agreed, was the same as betting 200 million euros.

Only he and William were left in the hand, and when it came time to open, William threw out a straight flush, and several other people in the room looked stunned, one after the other, sighing at William's sheer luck.

The dealer once again announced, "This hand, it's William's turn to win."

William sighed as he collected his chips, "Mr. Ye's hand is really big, but my hand is still bigger, so please forgive me!"

Ye Chen waved his hand unconcernedly, "Take it, take it all, it's just a little hairy, to me it's just a sprinkle, it's not even a hair."

Olivia looked at Ye Chen's carefree face and sighed in her heart, "What a money-burning dude! The way I see it, I'm sure I can win him a Concorde tonight! After I'm crowned, I'll be able to visit the world in a Concorde, the only one of its kind in the world!"

William was equally excited, and seeing that he had won over 240 million euros from Ye Chen in two hands, he spoke up, "That, Mr. Ye, according to our previous rules, you have now lost more than 100 million euros and will have to spend money to buy back this batch of chips."

Ye Chen frowned: "You're buying back at this point? Didn't you say that you would only buy them after you lost all the chips? I still have more here."

William said awkwardly: "But we just said that we would settle once after losing 100 million euros, you have more than 200 million, the actual amount is calculated by ten times the face value of the chips, this is what you just offered"

Ye Chen said disdainfully, "I have to lose 200 million in one hand, according to you, do I have to pay you twice in one hand? Don't you get tired of it?"

William said, "Mr. Ye, otherwise we can settle the bill one game at a time"

Ye Chen said disgustedly, "I thought you were a quick-witted person when I saw you look like a man, but why are you so stubborn like a woman when you play cards? How can I have fun when I have to settle the bill one game at a time? Since the 100 million chips represent one billion euros, just wait until I've lost all these chips and give you one billion euros a hand."

Saying that, Ye Chen saw that he wanted to speak again and immediately said with a disdainful face, "You don't have to bullshit with me either, or I will give you the money now and not f*cking play with you anymore!"

Chapter 3468

The moment William saw that Ye Chen was a little angry, he was nervous and hurriedly explained: "Mr. Ye you do not misunderstand, I do not mean that"

I thought the rule was still the same as when we set it just now, 100 million euros a settlement, but since you have said so, then I will not talk nonsense, when you lose enough one billion euros, when to settle once, if until the end of the card game also did not lose so much, we wait until the end of the card game, then according to the actual amount lost to pay What do you think?"

Ye Chen nodded in satisfaction and laughed, "That's right! That's what a f*cking man would say! Otherwise I thought you were one of those poor bastards who had never seen any money before, who just won a little money and couldn't wait to pocket it all."

Speaking of this, Ye Chen said seriously, "Let me tell you from the bottom of my heart, what I despise most about me, Ye Chen, is such a stupid bird!"

"Yes, yes, yes! Right, right, right!" Hearing this, William knew that Ye Chen was scolding him, but he still nodded his head like a garrotte and said with a flattering face, "Mr. Ye is right, when you come out to play, you really need to have a bigger picture!"

After saying that, he hurriedly added, "Come on, let's continue!"

Ye Chen nodded, "Come on."

In this game, William got a hand of three aces, and Ye Chen got the same three, but it was three kings.

However, William had an ace as the bottom card, and Ye Chen could only see two aces, so he deliberately threw down twenty million in chips and said with a determined look, "I bet you can't be three aces!"

William smiled slightly and also dropped 20 million chips and said with a smile, "Since Mr. Ye is so confident, why don't you raise some more bets?"

Ye Chen shrugged his shoulders, "Just raise, I'm not afraid of your excitement."

After saying that, he threw in another 20 million chips.

This time and again, Ye Chen had bet 400 million euros.

Immediately afterwards, it was time for another showdown.

William turned over an ace from the bottom card and said with a smile, "Sorry Mr. Ye, I really have an ace in here!"

Olivia was jumping up and down with excitement when she saw this.

The others, on the other hand, looked appalled one by one.

Ye Chen had now lost almost seven hundred million euros to William, and it had only been less than twenty minutes!

However, Ye Chen didn't care at all, he shook his head gently and laughed: "William, it seems that you, the groom-to-be, are having good luck tonight!"

After saying that, Ye Chen added, "I don't believe that my luck can't overpower you! Come on, let's continue!"

The others found that they were completely along for the ride.

Because the stakes were so high, they didn't dare to mess around even if they started with a good hand, so it was soon time for another straight-up duel between Ye Chen and William.

This time, Ye Chen deliberately controlled the pace of his bets, and when he had placed almost 20 million euros one after another, the face value of the chips in his hand was still 7 or 8 million, which was equal to 70 or 80 million at the table.

If Ye Chen lost this hand, he would have lost more than nine billion and would soon have to buy chips from William with real money as required.

William was also very excited at this time, it hadn't even been half an hour and he had won nearly a f*cking billion, this feeling was like a dream.

Ye Chen played steadily and threw in another five million chips, leaving only two million in his hand.

William wanted to force Ye Chen to pay up first, so he immediately threw in 10 million chips and said, "Mr. Ye, I'll bet 100 million, you seem to be out of chips."

Ye Chen shrugged his shoulders, threw a hand of big miscellaneous cards straight to the side and spoke, "I fold."

Chapter 3469

There was an uproar from the crowd.

"That's a fold?"

"Throwing a billion or two, only to fold when he says he will, does this guy know how to play or not?"

"If I'd known he was so stupid, I'd have had to take a hand from him! I can't let William make all the money!"

William was laughing at this moment, but he really couldn't control his emotions, so he could only slow down for half a day before saying, "Mr. Ye, you have no more chips for the next game, do you think you should settle the money first?"

Ye Chen frowned and spoke with an unhappy face, "This is really f*cking evil! Why is my hand so bad today"

After saying that, he looked at William and asked, "I am going to spend money to redeem the chips right?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" William's whole face was smiling like a chrysanthemum as he narrowed his eyes and said, "Mr. Ye, I'll give you my Swiss bank account number?"

"OK." Ye Chen nodded and said, "You give me the account number first, I will arrange for the finance to make the payment later."

Ye Chen said, "Right, inter-bank transfer, and it's also in Euros, it must be troublesome, it won't arrive for a while, we can't let everyone wait here for my money to arrive, how about this, I'll bet my Concorde on you first, I'll write a mortgage agreement for you and sign it, the discount is 300 million Euros, you only need to give me 30 million chips, enough for me to play another What do you think?"

William was laughing in his heart, but he pretended to be in a difficult situation on his face and said, "Mr. Ye, that Concorde of yours is really rare, but this Concorde is really an old plane, isn't a discount of 300 million euros too much?"

Ye Chen looked at William and shook his head with a look of disdain, "That's why I said you're a slowpoke, like a pussy! Not to mention the fact that my plane is an out-of-print item and I have spent a lot of money on renovating it, you have won almost one billion euros from me today, even if this Concorde is mortgaged to you at a discount of 300 million euros, it is only a hand of cards. A hand of cards you win back, the plane will be yours by then, two hundred million or three hundred million, what's the difference?"

Olivia understood this and hurriedly said, "William! Mr. Ye is right, you are too unlike a man! You're still being so calculating about such a small matter, hurry up and promise Mr. Ye, take another 30 million chips to Mr. Ye!"

Only then did William come back to his senses and said, "Damn right! No matter how much I discount the chips, it's still going to end up in my pocket.

Thinking of this, William hurriedly took out 30 million from his pile of chips, respectfully pushed it to Ye Chen with both hands and said with a smile, "Mr. Ye, 30 million chips, please accept it."

Ye Chen reached out and took the thirty million chips, nodded gently, then looked at Olivia and said seriously, "Aiya, Olivia, to be honest, you've found such a guy, it's really a waste of time for you!"

Olivia also felt that this William guy was a bit on the up and up, but after all, the two of them were playing as a couple today, and whatever William won over Ye Chen today would be half of her Olivia's.

Ye Chen piled up the chips in front of him, offered to ask for a pen and paper, wrote a simple mortgage agreement, then signed and put his handprint on it.

After it was done, he handed the mortgage agreement to William, and glanced at the dealer, saying with a smile, "I say, buddy, you have to deal me well this game, you see I've lost so much, it's time for me to win a game, right?"

That lotus officer was about to make a few polite remarks when he suddenly felt an invisible energy surge into his brain, and immediately afterwards, he nodded respectfully.

However, this change in him was not noticed by anyone except Ye Chen

Chapter 3470

The hand that immediately followed took on a little new meaning.

When dealt four cards, Ye Chen quickly got three aces, two of which were on the bright side.

William, on the other hand, was bullish, as his cards were 10, J, Q, K, and a clear spade.

Seeing this card, William knew in his heart that his buddy, the dealer, should be planning to give himself a straight flush and then give Ye Chen a four aces.

A straight flush was the biggest hand in Texas Hold'em, killing all others.

And since Ye Chen had already exposed two aces at this point, the best hand type would be a four ace.

Even if he had four aces, there was no way he could win a straight flush.

Therefore, William had no doubt that Ye Chen would lose this hand, while he would win.

But Ye Chen didn't seem to believe in evil, and after a few rounds of betting, he put almost all of his chips in.

Seeing the last card being dealt, Ye Chen smiled and said, "Mr. William, if I lose this hand, the plane will be yours and one billion euros will be transferred to the treasury immediately."

William was so excited that his heart rate went haywire and he blurted out, "Sorry, Mr. Ye, looking at the shape of the cards, I've made you break the bank today!"

"Ha!" Ye Chen waved his hand unconcernedly and said in a light-hearted manner, "What's this amount of money? When the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple asked for several hundred billion euros from my Ye family, didn't we also give it painfully?"

As he said that, Ye Chen laughed and said in a tone of voice, "I am your god of wealth today, I came all the way here to give you some pocket money, how much you can win depends on your ability!"

Saying that, Ye Chen glanced at the lottery official and smiled, "Come on, deal the cards!"

The lotus officer immediately started dealing the last card.

The card that was given to Ye Chen was an Ace of Spades.

Seeing Ye Chen get the Ace of Spades, William wasn't surprised at all.

It seemed that his friend was just going to give Ye Chen a hand of four aces of spades, which was a card type second only to a straight flush.

However, William believed that the hand his friend had made for himself must be a flush of 9, 10, J, Q and K.

As long as he got a straight flush, he would definitely win against Ye Chen's four aces.

Therefore, he was very determined that his last card must be the nine of spades!

At this time, Ye Chen directly turned over his bottom card as well and said indifferently, "Mr. William, I am the four aces, it seems that the only way you can beat me is to take a straight flush, which is not so easy to take."

William smiled confidently, "Mr. Ye, I am particularly lucky today, so I am sure that my last card will be the nine of spades!"

Ye Chen brushed his lips, "Don't come with me, I don't believe you at all!"

William raised his eyebrows and asked with a smile, "Since Mr. Ye doesn't believe me, why don't you just let the dealer deal the cards and let's hurry up and decide the winner?"

"No!" Ye Chen reached out to stop him and laughed, "Since we're playing, why don't we play a little bigger?"

Everyone in the room went crazy.

One person blurted out, "An additional two billion euros each? This is going to play for keeps!"

Another chimed in, "In all my f*cking life, I've never seen such a big bet"

"Yeah it's too too f*cking exciting!"

William was also dumbfounded.

If we were to say that Ye Chen's previous performance was that of a qualified money scatterer, then now Ye Chen's performance, in his opinion, was on the verge of becoming a money scattering Jesus.

I had seen people who gave away money, but I had never really seen such a person give away money.

An additional two billion directly?

This was such a big gift of money, so big that he, William, didn't even dare to ask for it!

So, he said somewhat nervously, "Ye Mr. Ye In my opinion, we should not add more to this game two billion euros is really too big, even if you don't take money seriously anymore, you can't throw money like this"

Ye Chen laughed: "You haven't even opened this card yet, how do you know that it must be me throwing money around?"
